TO THE READER.

The cauſes of undertaking the work.

Foraſmuch as divers Learned Men have complained, That the Statutes at large of this Flouriſhing Realm of England under ſo gracious a King, were worn out of Print; That the laſt Impreſſions thereof had many defects and imperfections both in their Tranſlation and Print; That thoſe ſundry Acts, which are expired, repealed, altered, and worn out of uſe, and the General Pardons, Subſidies, and Fifteenths, with others concerning private Perſons, Places and Things, and not the whole Common-wealth, do make the Volume ſo profuſe, as many men (which otherwiſe deſire to know the Lawes in force and uſe) are diſcouraged to have the ſame, but rather do read and truſt unto Abridgements, Collections, and Abſtracts of Statutes, which wanting their Preambles, and ſome other parts, do oftentimes breed errors in the Readers, and perils in Legal and Judicial proceedings. And alſo, becauſe very many diſcreet men have oftentimes wiſhed and deſired, That the Statutes, which be now in life, force, and general uſe, might be ſelected and ſet forth in one Book by themſelves from the reſidue: to the end that they might with more facility confirm their knowledge, and be better inſtructed therein.

Therefore, being alwayes willing and ready to further ſuch good motions of importance to my power, as well for the common benefit of all men, as to ſatisfie the requeſt of ſome of my friends, partly by mine own Labour, and partly by the help and aſſiſtance of a Man, that in his life-time had moſt diligently employed himſelf in this method; I have undertaken to Compoſe this Work accordingly, adorned and bordered with many References to the Common-Law, and repreſenting a connection of both, by entendment, as the Reader may eaſily diſcern in peruſing the ſame.

Seven Properties remarkable.

Now inſtead of a Preface or Argument of the Book it ſelf, the Contents whereof toucheth our Life, Liberty, Lands and Goods, to be ſaved or loſt; the Scope and Intent of theſe ſeven Points following, are eſpecially to be obſerved.

Firſt, with as great means, care and induſtry, as poſſibly I could uſe, ſo many of the Old Statutes heretofore printed in the Engliſh Tongue, made and publiſhed in the Reigns of the firſt Ten Kings, (accounting from 9 of H 3. unto 1 of R. 3. incluſive) as be chiefly in uſe and practice, and which are the Foundation of Proceedings both Legal and Judicial; have been by me truly and ſincerely examined by the Original Records thereof remaining in the Tower of London; and the reſidue with the Regiſter of Writs, being the moſt ancient Book of the Law, the old and new Natura Brevium, the Books of Entries, the Books of Years and Termes of the Law, the beſt approved Printed and Written Books, and by all ſuch other Circumſtances, as might beſt give probability of truth unto the Learned.

By reaſon whereof, the aforeſaid defects, imperfections, and emblemiſhments, being reformed in this Edition; as it is a Collection, of the moſt uſual Laws, gathered from out of the Grand Codex of all the Statutes; ſo it may ſerve as a Correction to the former Impreſſions.

Secondly, To the intent that the Reader may eaſily find the matter which he ſeeketh for; Marginal Notes to be ſet upon every material part of every of the ſaid Statutes.

Thirdly, At the end of every Act, or upon the Margent of every Statute or ſpecial Branch thereof; Referments be made upon every of the ſaid Statutes of ſuch other Statutes, as do explain or confirm, alter or change, repeal or revive, augment or diminiſh, or by any means relate unto the ſame.

Fourthly, To the end that it may readily be found, what Writ is to be uſed upon any Statute, Quotations are cited of ſuch Statutes, as do give any life or eſſence unto any Original or Judicial Writ, mentioned in the Regiſter, or in the Old or New Natura Brevium.

Fifthly, That a Preſident of any Caſe upon the Statutes might be had, as occaſion may ſerve, and that it may appear which of our Legal proceedings do receive their life from the Statutes, Annotations be impoſed upon thoſe Statutes, which are the ground and foundation of any Count, Declaration, Barre, Replication, or other Legal or Judicial proceedings, collected out of the Books of Entries of Sir Edward Coke Knight, late Chief Juſtice of the Pleas before his Majeſty to be holden, and of Juſtice Raſtall.

Sixthly, That Students may the ſooner apprehend the ſenſe and meaning of every Statute, as they have been from Age to Age Expounded and Reſolved by the Learned Judges and Reverend Sages of the Law; Book authorities are expreſſed of all ſuch Caſes as have been in queſtion, and adjudged in any of the Kings Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, upon any part or point of any Statute.

And ſeventhly, Leſt the Reader ſhould be ignorant of thoſe Eſtabliſhments, which do concern private Perſons, Places or Things, and not the whole Common-wealth; or unmindful of the Acts which have been in effect, and are now to be read Chronically, as matters done and paſſed, but not as Laws now to be obſerved: The effect and meaning of all ſuch private Statutes, together with thoſe Ordinances of this Realm which were in force, but ſince have been repealed, altered, expired, or worn out of uſe, are here epitomized and abridged; Noted and marked at their end with ſeveral Characters, thus, PR. REP. EXP. ALT. OB.

The Title.]

For which Cauſes, this Book thus compacted, is ſtyled, A Collection of ſundry Statutes frequent in uſe, with Notes in the Margent, and References to the Book Caſes, and Books of Entries, and Regiſters, where they be treated of more at large, containing alſo an Abridgement of the reſidue of the Statutes of this Realm; whereunto be added other material Statutes, which before this time have not been printed in Engliſh, viz. Ordinatio pro ſtatu Hiberniæ, made at Nottingham anno decimo ſeptimo Edwardi primi, and anno Domini, 1288. Ordinatio Forreſtæ, made at Weſtminſter, anno triceſſimo quarto Edwardi primi, and anno Domini, 1306. Statutum de Aſportatis Religioſorum, made at Weſtminſter anno triceſimo quinto Edwardi primi, and anno Domini, 1307. Statutum, ne Rectores proſternant Arbores in Cœmiterio, made anno triceſimo quinto Edwardi primi. Statutum de terris Templariorum, made anno decimo ſeptimo Edwardi primi, and anno Domini, 1323. An Act, declaring what Suits ſhall be diſcuſſed before the Conſtable and Marſhal of England, made anno octavo Richardi ſecundi, Cap. 5. And a Preamble to an Act made anno primo Richardi tertii, Cap. 6. perpetuallizing the Statute made decimo ſeptimo Edwardi quarti concerning the Court of Piepowders.

Additions.

Kalender.

And where time and leiſure will not permit the full reading of any Statute, An exact Kalender or Table is annexed to this Work, declaring in Alphabetical Titles, the effect of the moſt material Branches of thoſe Acts in force, and relating to the Collection precedent, wherein they be at large ſet down and expreſſed.

Digeſt.

After which Kalender, enſueth a Digeſt of the ſeveral Seſſions of Parliament holden from the beginning of Magna Charta, until this preſent time, according to the order of thoſe Statutes which are printed in Engliſh, and mentioned in this Book. And alſo a Catalogue of certain Ordinances, which, amongſt other old Statutes in Magna Charta, are extant in the Latine and French Language, but not as yet Tranſlated and Printed in Engliſh, as in their fit places more fully may appear.

Note, That ſince Mr. Pulton firſt publiſhed this Work, there have been four other Seſſions of Parliament, viz. 18 & 21 Jacobi, & 1 & 3 Caroli, as appears hereafter in the Catalogue of the publiſhed Statutes.

Summarily, to ſpeak ſomewhat concerning the Statutes themſelves; You may underſtand, that the Kings Records, our Printed Books and Manuſcripts, do make mention of two hundred fifty and four Seſſions of Parliament, holden ſithence King William the Conquerour, beginning with the Statutes of Magna Charta, made Anno nono of King Henry the third, and ending anno ſeptimo Regis Jacobi; Of which, from anno primo Henrici ſeptimi, until anno ſeptimo Jacobi, there have been 56. Seſſions of Parliament; the Statutes wherein made, were all publiſhed in the Engliſh Tongue. And beginning again with anno nono Henrici tertii, and ending with Anno primo Richardi tertii, all the other Seſſions of Parliament were publiſhed in the Latine or French Tongues: whereof the Records, our printed Books and Manuſcripts, do make mention.

To conclude, Conſidering that our Laws do far ſurpaſſe the Conſtitutions, not onely of the Roman Emperours, but alſo of all other Nations, and that the knowledge of the Laws, Cuſtoms, and Statutes of this Realm, is a mean to direct every Subject, the better how to govern himſelf without offending of the Law, and the better to keep, ſave, and defend his heritage and poſſeſſions in tranquility; and teacheth all people how to eſchue the many perillous miſchiefs and detriments which may happen by occaſion of the Breaches, Penalties, and Forfeitures incurred for not obſerving the Law: and further, becauſe every perſon ought to take notice of the Statutes of this Realm; I do exhort every one to read and meditate this work. Which as it hath been painfully laboured by me, ſo I wiſh it may be diligently ſtudied by you, to the high pleaſure of Almighty God, the profit and quiet of the Common-wealth, and the increaſe of the glory of our moſt dread Soveraign Lord the King, whom God preſerve long to Reign proſperouſly over us.

Exhortation.

Thus, briefly, have you the Summe of this Work, my Labours, and Good-will, deſiring that it may be favourably accepted by you, and my ſelf eſteemed Amicus Curiæ & Republicæ. Now, if peradventure amongſt ſuch a multitude of Notes and Caſes of moment, you find in ſome points a miſtaking or error, then I beſeech you of courteſie lovingly to pardon and amend the ſame, and to conſider, that he was a man that did, Cujus proprium eſt errare: but ever did endeavour to avoid the imputation of Belluino more in Errore preſeverare. Peroration.

VALE.

CAP. VII.

In what only caſes gathering ſhall be in Foreſts.

No extortion ſhall be made by Foreſters.

Co. Inſt. 4 par. 292.

NO Foreſter or Bedil from henceforth ſhall make Scotal, or gather Garbe, or Oats, or any Corn, Lamb, or Pig, nor ſhall make any gathering, but by the ſight and upon the oath of the twelve Rangers, when they ſhall make their range. So many Foreſters ſhall be aſſigned to the keeping of the Foreſt, as reaſonably ſhall ſeem ſufficient for the keeping of the ſame. St. 25 Ed. 3. 7.

CAP. VIII.

When Swanimotes ſhall be kept, and who ſhall repair to them.

How many Swanimotes ſhall be holden, and where.

NO Swanimote from henceforth ſhall be kept within this our realm but thrice in the year, viz. in the beginning of fifteen days afore Michaelmas, when that our Geſt-takers or Walkers of our woods come together to take ageſtment in our demeſne woods; and about the feaſt of S. Martin in the winter, when that our Geſt-takers ſhall receive our pawnage. And to theſe two Swanimotes ſhall come together our Foreſters, Verders, Geſt-takers, and none other by diſtreſs. And the third Swanimote ſhall be kept in the beginning of fifteen days before the feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, when that our Geſt-takers do meet to hunt our Deer. And at this Swanimote ſhall meet our Foreſters, Verders, and none other by diſtreſs. Moreover, every fourty days through the year, our Foreſters and Verders ſhall meet to ſee the attachments of the Foreſt, as well for greenhue, as for hunting, by the preſentment of the ſame Foreſters, and before them attached. And the ſaid Swanimotes ſhall not be kept but within the Counties in which they have uſed to be kept. Co. Inſt. 4. par. 289, and 313. 316.

CAP. IX.

Who may take Ageſtment and Pawnage in Foreſts.

Ageſtment. Pawnage.

EVery Freeman may ageſt his own wood within our Foreſt at his pleaſure, and ſhall take his pawnage. Alſo we do grant, that every Freeman may drive his Swine freely without impediment through our demeſne Woods, for to ageſt them in their own woods or elſe where they will. And if they happened to be within age, we have alway had the Ward and marriage of every of them. And if he be tenant unto another Lord, and not to us (the ſiſters being within age) the Lord ſhall have the Ward and Marriage of them all, and the eldeſt only ſhall do homage for her ſelf and all her ſiſters. And when the other ſiſters come to full age, they ſhall do their ſervice to the Lords of the Fee by the hands of the eldeſt ſiſter: yet ſhall not the eldeſt by this occaſion exact of her younger ſiſters, homage, ward, or any other ſubjection, for they be all ſiſters, and in manner as one heir to one inheritance. If the eldeſt ſhould have homage of the other ſiſters, and demand wardſhip, then the inheritance ſhould be divided, ſo that the eldeſt ſiſter ſhould be ſeignioreſs and tenant of inheritance (ſimul & ſemel) that is to ſay, heir of her own part, and ſeignioreſs to her ſiſters, which could not ſtand well together in this caſe, for the eldeſt can demand no more than her ſiſters, but the chief meaſe by reaſon of her ancienty. Moreover, if the elder ſiſter ſhould take homage of the younger, ſhe ſhould be as a ſeignioreſs to them all, and ſhould have the Ward of them and their heirs; which ſhould be none other but to caſt the Lamb to the Wolf to be devoured. And therefore we command you that you cauſe the foreſaid Cuſtoms that be uſed within our Realm of England in this caſe, to be proclaimed throughout our Dominion of Ireland, and to be ſtraitly kept and obſerved. In teſtimony whereof, &c. I witneſs my ſelf at Weſtminſter, the ix. day of February, the xiiii. year of our Reign.

Statutes made at Merton, in Craſtino Sancti Vincentii (ſc. 23. Januarii) Anno 20 H. 3. and Anno Dom. 1235.

IT was provided in the Court of our Lord the King, holden at Merton on Wedneſday, the morrow after the Feaſt of Saint Vincent, the twentieth year of the Reign of King HENRY the Son of King JOHN, before WILLIAM Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and other his Biſhops and Suffragans, and before the greater part of the Earls and Barons of England, there being Aſſembled for the Coronation of the ſaid King, and Hellionor the Queen, about which they were all called: where it was treated for the Common Wealth of the Realm upon the Articles under-written. Thus it was provided and granted as well of the foreſaid Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Earls and Barons, as of the King himſelf and others.

Enquiry and puniſhment of Rediſſeiſin. St. 52 H. 3. 8. St. 13 Ed. 1. 26.

ALſo if any be diſſeiſed of their free-hold, and before the Juſtices in Eyre, have recovered ſeiſin by aſſiſe of novel diſſeiſin, or by confeſſion of them which did the diſſeiſin, and the diſſeiſie hath had ſeiſin delivered by the Sheriff, if the ſame diſſeiſors after the circuit of the Juſtices, or in the mean time have diſſeiſed the ſame Plaintiff of the ſame free-hold, and thereof be convict, they ſhall be forthwith taken and committed, and kept in the Kings priſon, until the King hath diſcharged them by fine, or by ſome other mean. And this is the form how ſuch convict perſons ſhall be puniſhed: When the plaintiffs come into the Court of our Lord the King, they ſhall have the Kings Writ directed to the Sheriff, in which muſt be contained the plaint of diſſeiſin framed upon the diſſeiſin. And then it ſhall be commanded to the Sheriff, that he, taking with him the keepers of the Pleas of the Kings Crown, and other lawful Knights, in his proper perſon, ſhall go unto the land or paſture, whereof the plaint hath been made. And that he make before them by the firſt Jurors and other neighbours and lawful men, diligent inquiſition thereof. And if they find him diſſeiſed again (as before is ſaid) then let him do according to the proviſion afore-mentioned. But if it be found otherwiſe, the plaintiff ſhall be amerced, and the other ſhall go quit: Neither ſhall the Sheriff execute any ſuch plaint without ſpecial commandment of the King. In the ſame manner ſhall be done to them that have recovered their ſeiſin by aſſiſe of Mortdanceſtor, And ſo ſhall it be of all lands and tenements recovered in the Kings Court by enqueſts, if they be diſſeiſed after by the firſt deforceors, againſt whom they have recovered any wiſe by enqueſt. The penalties for raviſhment of a Ward, forfeiture of Marriage, or diſparagement of a Ward.

Raſt.pla. fo.356. Regiſt.Jud. f.58.

OF Heirs that be led away and with-holden or married by their parents, or by other with force againſt our Peace, thus it is provided, That whatſoever lay-man be convict thereof, that he hath ſo with-holden any child, led away or married, he ſhall yield to the loſer the value of the marriage. And for the offence, his body ſhall be taken and impriſoned, until he hath recompenced the loſer, if the child be married: and further until he hath ſatisfied the King for the treſpaſs. And this muſt be done, of an heir being within the age of fourteen years. And touching an heir being fourteen years old, or above unto his full age, if he marry without licence of his Lord to defraud him of the marriage, and his Lord offer him reaſonable and convenient marriage (without diſparagement) then his Lord ſhall hold his land beyond the term of his age, that is to ſay, of one and twenty years, ſo long that he may receive the double value of the marriage after the eſtimation of lawful men, or after as it hath been offered him before without fraud or colluſion, and after as it may be proved in the Kings Court. And as touching Lords, which marry thoſe that they have in ward to villains or other, as Burgeſſes, where they be diſparaged, if any ſuch an heir be within the age of fourteen years, and of ſuch age that he cannot conſent to marriage: then if his friends complain of the ſame Lord, the Lord ſhall loſe the wardſhip, unto the age of the heir; and all the profit that thereof ſhall be taken, ſhall be converted to the uſe of the heir being within age, after the diſpoſition and proviſion of his friends, for the ſhame done to him: But if he be fourteen years and above, ſo that he may conſent, and do conſent to ſuch marriage, no pain ſhall follow. The Statute de Anno Biſſextili, made at Weſtminſter, Anno 21 H.3. and Anno Dom. 1236.

The day of the Leap-year, and the day before, ſhall be holden for one day.

THe King unto his Juſtices of the Bench, greeting. Know ye, That where within our Realm of England, it was doubted of the year and day that were wont to be aſſigned unto ſick perſons being impleaded, when and from what day of the year going before unto another day of the year following, the year and day in a Leap-year ought to be taken and reckoned how long it was:

The day of the Leap-year.

We therefore willing that a conformity be obſerved in this behalf every where within our Realm, and to avoid all danger from ſuch as be in plea, have provided, and by the counſel of our faithful ſubjects, have ordained, That to take away from henceforth all doubt and ambiguity that might ariſe hereupon, the day increaſing in the Leap-year ſhall be accounted for one year, ſo that becauſe of that day none ſhall be prejudiced that is impleaded, but it ſhall be taken and reckoned of the ſame moneth wherein it groweth, and that day, and the day next going before, ſhall be accounted for one day. And therefore we do command you, that from henceforth you do cauſe this to be publiſhed afore you, and be obſerved. Witneſs my ſelf at Weſtminſter, &c.

The prices of Bread and Ale, ſhall be according to the prices of Corn.

The weight of bread according to the price of corn.

THe King to all to whom theſe preſents ſhall come, greeting. We have ſeen certain Ordinances of the Aſſiſe of Bread and Ale, and of the making of Money and Meaſures, made in the times of our Progenitors, ſometimes Kings of England, in theſe words: When a quarter of Wheat is ſold for xii.d. then waſtel bread of a farthing ſhall weigh vi.l. and xvi.s. But bread Cocket of a farthing of the ſame corn and bultel, ſhall weigh more then Waſtel by ii.s. and Cocket bread made of corn of lower price, ſhall weigh more then Waſtel by v.s. Bread made into a Simnel, ſhall weigh ii.s. leſs then Waſtel. Bread made of the whole wheat ſhall weigh a Cocket and an half, ſo that a Cocket ſhall weigh more then a waſtel by v.s. Bread of Treet ſhall weigh ii.waſtels. And bread of common wheat ſhall weigh two great Cockets. When a quarter of wheat is ſold for xviii.d. then waſtel bread of a farthing white and well baked, ſhall weigh iiii.li.xs.viii.d. when for ii.s. iii.li.viii.s.

When for ii.s.vi.d.	liiii.s.iiii.d.ob.q.	When for vii.s.vi.d.	xviii.s.i.d.ob.
When for iii.s.	xlviii.s.	When for viii.s.	xvii.s.
When for iii.s.vi.d	xlii.s.	When for viii.s.vi.d.	xvi.s.
When for iiii.s.	xxxvi.s.	When for ix.s.	xv.s.q;
When for iw.s.vi.d	xxx.s.	When for ix.s.vi.d.	xiiii.s.iiii.d.ob.q;
When for v.s.	xxviii.s.ii.d.ob.	When for x.s.	xiii.s.vii.d.q.
When for v.s.vi.d.	xxiiii.s.viii.d.q.	When for x.s.vi.d.	xii.s.xi.d.q.
When for vi.s.	xxii.s.viii.d.	When for xi.s.	xii.s:iiii.d.q;

When for vii.s.	xix.s.i.d.	When for xii.s.	xi.s.iiii.d.

Bakers.

And it is to be known, that when a Baker in every quarter of Wheat (as it is proved by the Kings Bakers) may gain iiii.d. and the bran, and two loaves for advantage, for three ſervants i.d.ob. for two lads ob. in ſalt, ob. for kneading, ob. for candle, q. for wood, ii.d. for his bultel, ob. When a quarter of Wheat is ſold for iii.s. or iii.s.iiii.d. and a quarter of Brewers.

Barley for xx.d. or ii.s. and a quarter of Oats for xvi.d. then Brewers in Cities ought and may well afford to ſell two gallons of Beer or Ale for a peny, and out of Cities to ſell three or four gallons for a peny. And when in a Town three gallons is ſold for a peny, out of a Town they ought and may ſell four. And this Aſſiſe ought to be holden throughout all England. The Aſſiſe of bread (as it is contained in a writing of the Marſhalſey of our Lord the King delivered unto them) may be holden according to the price of wheat, that is to ſay, as well waſtel, as other bread of the better, ſecond or third ſort, ſhall be weighed as is aforeſaid by the middle price of wheat; and the aſſiſe or weight of bread ſhall not be changed but by ſix pence increaſing or decreaſing in the ſale of a quarter.

By the conſent of the whole Realm of England, the Meaſure of our Lord the King was made, That is to ſay, that an Engliſh peny called a ſterling, round and without any clipping ſhall weigh xxxii. wheat corns in the mids of the ear, and xx.d. do make an ounce, and xii. ounces one pound, and eight pound to make a gallon of wine, and eight gallons of wine do make a London-buſhel, which is the eighth part of a quarter. Foraſmuch as in our Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of our Reign, we have granted that all good Statutes and Ordinances made in the times of our Progenitors aforeſaid, and not revoked, ſhall be ſtill held, we have cauſed, at the requeſt of the Bakers of our Town of Coventry, that the Ordinances aforeſaid by tenor of theſe preſents, ſhall be exemplified. In witneſs whereof, &c. Witneſs the King at Weſtminſter the xxii. day of March. St.11.H.7.4.

Yet it is provided, that no man of Religion, nor other, ſhall be diſtrained by his beaſts that gain his land, nor by his ſheep, for the Kings debt, nor the debt of any other man, nor for any other cauſe, by the Kings or other Bailiffs, but until they can find another diſtreſs, or chattels ſufficient whereof they may levy the debt, or that is ſufficient for the demand, (except impounding of beaſts that a man findeth in his ground, damage feſant, after the uſe and cuſtom of the Realm.) And that ſuch diſtreſſes be reaſonable, after the value of the debt or demand, and by the eſtimation of neighbours, and not by ſtrangers, and not outragious. Howbeit the King willeth and commandeth, that Sheriffs or their Bailiffs that have received the Kings debt of the Summons of the Eſchequer, and have not acquitted the debtors thereof, at the next accompt ſhall be puniſhed after the Statutes made thereupon: and the King willeth that all debts of Summons of the Eſchequer that the Sheriff or Bailiff have confeſſed receipt, ſhall be allowed him forthwith: ſo that whether he received all the debt or part, it ſhall never come more in demand nor ſummons, after the Sheriff hath confeſſed the receipt.

Stat. Rutland, 10 E. 1.

Statutum de Scaccario, made Anno 51 *H.*3. and Anno Dom. 1266.

When the Kings Fermors, Sheriffs and Bayliffs ſhall make their accompts and payments.
Who ſhall be Eſcheators in ſeveral Shires.

When the Kings Bayliffs and Officers ſhall accompt.

The King commandeth, that all manner of Bayliffs, Sheriffs and other Officers, as well the Juſtices of Cheſter, and other Bayliffs of theſe Counties, as other that be receivers of Wards, of Eſcheats, and other Bayliwicks, ſhall be anſwerable in the Eſchequer, and there ſhall make account to the Treaſurer, and Barons of the ſame place. And that all Sheriffs, Fermors, Bayliffs of Franchiſes, and all other, ſhall come to the profer in the Eſchequer, the Munday after the feaſt of S. Michael, and the Munday after the utas of Eaſter, for to pay their Ferms, Rents, and Iſſues belonging to the King, and ſhall bring at the foreſaid terms, the foreſaid Ferms, Rents & Iſſues due wholly into the Eſchequer, as before is mentioned. And if they make default, their bodies ſhall remain without departing from thence, until they have paid or made agreement; and he that will not come at the terms aforeſaid, ſhall be amerced after the cuſtom of the Eſchequer; and the Sheriffs and Bayliffs at the ſame terms ſhall bring and pay ſuch money as they have received of the Summons of the Eſchequer, and other the Kings debts, and ſhall be prepared and ready to make full account of the things aforeſaid.

Bayliffs of Franchiſes accompt.

And that all Bayliffs of Franchiſes, which ought to levy the Kings debts, and be anſwerable to the Sheriffs thereof, ſhall come and accompt ſufficiently according to the extreats of the Summons of the Eſchequer: and ſuch as do not, their bodies ſhall remain in ward of the Sheriffs: and for default in them, the Sheriff ſhall cauſe the debts to be levied by their own Bayliffs, where they have power, as they have uſed to do in time paſſed. And if the Bayliffs do not come in at the day that the Sheriff ſhall give them knowledge, the Sheriff ſhall enter into the ſame Franchiſes, and levy the debts with his own hand.

The Juſtices and Bayliffs of Cheſters accompt.

Concerning Juſtices of Cheſter, and Bayliffs thereof, the King willeth, that they or one of them ſhall come at the profer of S. Michael every year when they ought to give account unto the King; and at the profer of the utas of Eaſter they ſhall come likewiſe, and bring in that which they owe to the King for that term; and the Juſtices of Cheſter ſhall have day to accompt from year to year in quindena Paſche. And the Bayliffs thereof the Munday of Eaſter utas. And that all Sheriffs of England, except the Sheriffs of Weſtmerland, Lancaſter, Worceſter, Rutland and Cornwal, ſhall from henceforth keep all ſuch Wards & Eſchetes, that are not in other fees, as belong to the King, which be within their Shires; and of the iſſues thereof they ſhall be anſwerable in the Exchequer at the terms aforeſaid. And at their Turns that they make in their Shires, they ſhall find office of other things which the Kings Eſcheators have not uſed to find of that which belongeth unto the King once or twice in the year, to as little grievance of the people as they can. And the Sheriffs ſhall ſeize the Eſchetes that fall to remain unto the King in Fee, and ſhall certifie the King of them without delay.

Sheriffs ſhall keep the Kings Wards and Eſchetes.
St. 32 H. 8. 46.

Eſchetes.

Three Surveyors.
Wards and Eſchetes let to Ferm.

And the King ſhall aſſign three able perſons that ſhall go throughout the Realm, to ſurvey and find the Wards and Eſcheats aforeſaid, from year to year, when they ſhall think requiſite. And the Sheriffs by their Counſel ſhall approve and let to ferm, or otherwiſe, ſuch Wards and Eſchetes as they ſhall think moſt for the Kings advantage.

Sheriffs Eſcheators in other Shires.

Touching the five Shires before named, the King wills, That the Sheriff of Cumberland ſhall execute the Office of Eſcheator in the Shires of Weſtmerland and Lancaſter. And the Sheriff of Nottingham in Rutland. And the Sheriff of Glouceſter in Worceſter. And the Sheriff of Devonſhire in Cornwal: and ſhall ſafely keep the King his Wards and Eſchetes in the ſame Shires, and ſhall be anſwerable in the Eſchequer for the Iſſues of them as well as for their own Shires. And the three able perſons aforeſaid ſhall ſurvey and extend ſuch Wards and Eſchetes as well there as in other places, and thoſe ſhall be approved by their Counſel. And when the Sheriffs do accompt for their Counties, they ſhall accompt for ſuch Wards and Eſchetes. And in like manner ſhall the Juſtices of Cheſter do, and their Bayliffs alſo every one for his Bayliwick. And the ſaid three able perſons ſhall keep the Kings demeans, and ſhall approve them as they ſhall think beſt for the Kings advantage, and ſhall be anſwerable for the Iſſues: And they ſhall have power to let forth ſmall Manors and Demeans to folk of the ſame places, or to other according to their diſcretion, and ſhall let them to ferm from year to year, as they ſhall think moſt to the Kings profit. And the Fermors ſhall be chargeable for their Ferms unto the principal approvers, and they unto the Eſchequer the Munday next after the Aſcention, from year to year.

Collectors of the Cuſtom of Wooll.

And the principal Collectors of the Cuſtom of Wolls, at the two terms before mentioned, ſhall pay all ſuch money as they have received of the ſaid Cuſtom, and ſhall make accompt from year to year clearly of all parcels receiued in any of the Ports or other places of the Realm, ſo that they ſhall anſwer for every ſhip where it was charged, and how much it carried, and whoſe the Wolls were, and for every other charge in the Ship, whereof Cuſtom is due, and for the whole receipt.

The accompt of the Keeper of the Kings Wardrobe. The Kings debt ſhall firſt be heard.

And the Warden of the Kings Wardrobe ſhall make accompt yearly in the Eſchequer in the Feaſt of S. Margaret; and the Treaſurer and Barons ſhall be charged by Oath, that they ſhall not attend to hear the pleas or matters of other men, while they have to do with the Kings buſines, if it be not a matter that concerneth the Kings own debt. And when a Sheriff or Bailiff hath begun his accompt, none other ſhall be received to accompt, until he that was firſt appointed hath clearly accompted, and his money received. And that the Conſtable, Marſhal, Chamberlain, and other that are of Fee in the Eſchequer, from henceforth ſhall preſent unto the King ſuch as they have put in their places to do their Offices, which muſt be of good fame, and ſufficient, for whoſe acts themſelves will anſwer.

Deputy Officers in the Eſchequer.

And the King commandeth the Treaſurer, and Barons of the Eſchequer, upon their Allegiance, and by the Oath that they have made to him, that they ſhall not aſſign any in their rooms, but ſuch as this Act meaneth of, and that the Eſchequer be not charged with moe perſons then is neceſſary. And that none of them that be ſworn to the King, ſhall put in his room any other Clerk or Lay-perſon, except he be ſworn, without ſpecial Licenſe of the Treaſurer; and if any be, he ſhall be forthwith removed from his Office, and none other ſhall be received in his ſtead without the Kings licenſe. And if any that is received without the Treaſurers licenſe do treſpaſs after, puniſhment ſhall be done as well to the aſſignor, as to him that is aſſigned, according to the treſpaſs. And if both be unſufficient, the Superiour ſhall be puniſhed, whether he be Officer of Fee, or other. And the Treaſurer ſhall put no other in his room, until he hath commandment from the King. And if he that keepeth the room of another by licenſe of the Treaſurer, doth any thing that he ought not to do, he ſhall be puniſhed according to the treſpaſs, if he have whereof; and if he have not, he that put him in Office ſhall be charged for his treſpaſs: and if he that put him in Office be not ſufficient, his Superiour ſhall be charged, whether he be of Fee, or otherwiſe.

Officers in the Woolſtaple ſhall be preſented. The Kings Officers that ought to accompt.

And they of the Woolſtaple ſhall make Oath, that if any of them may perceive that another doth commit any default, offence, or other thing diſhoneſt in the Office of the Woolſtaple, or that he hath done before, that they ſhall certifie it to the Treaſurer, or to the Barons, or to ſome of them; or to the King himſelf, if need require. And that about the feaſt of S. Margaret, before that the Eſchequer be cloſed, they ſhall cauſe a ſearch to be made, whether any Sheriff, or Bayliff, that ought to have accounted the ſame year, have not, & thereupon a remembrance in a roll ſhall be made by it ſelf. And if it be a Sheriff, his accompt ſhall be firſt heard after Michaelmaſs, before that any other be received to accompt: And if he be a Bayliff, he ſhall be ſummoned or diſtrained to come at a certain day for to accompt: ſo that no accompt ſhall be ſuffered to ſleep. And foraſmuch as Sheriffs, Conſtables, and other, obtain many times outragious allowances, by pretence of the Kings works, and other things done and provided by his commandment: It is provided, that all Surveyors of the Kings works ſhall be choſen by the oath of twelve men, and of ſuch as will and may attend beſt to that office, and that they be ſufficient to anſwer the King, if need be, and ſhall ſwear that they bear lawful witneſs. And if the Treaſurer or Barons of the Eſchequer have any ſuſpicion of ſale, allowances of charges, or other things, the truth muſt be inquired; and he that is attainted, ſhall anſwer to the King for as much as the allowance amounteth unto, and ſhall be impriſoned one year and forty days, and ſhall be puniſhed at the Kings pleaſure. And the Surveyors ſhall be puniſhed for their conſent. And likewiſe he, that upon the accompt did conceal and keep ſecret ſuch things, whereof he ought to have charged himſelf, ſhall be puniſhed in likewiſe as he that admitted ſuch falſe allowances.

Surveyors of the Kings works.

Eſtreats of fines and amerciaments ſhall be delivered in the Eſchequer.

And that all the Juſticers, Commiſſioners, and other ſhall from henceforth deliver into the Eſchequer at the Feaſt of S. Michael, from year to year, the extreats of fines and amerciaments made and taxed before them, and of all things wherefore the extreates are wont to be delivered there. And they of the Eſchequer ſhall make extreats of the ſummons through all Shires, ſaving that the extreates in Eyre of all pleas ſhall be delivered immediately after the Eyre made.

A Statute of the Pillory and Tumbrel, and of the Aſſize of Bread and Ale, made Anno 51 H.3. and Anno Dom. 1266.

The puniſhment of a Baker or Brewer offending.

IF a Baker or a Brewer be convict, becauſe he hath not obſerved the aſſiſe of Bread and Ale, the firſt, ſecond, and third time he ſhall be amerced according to his offence, if it be not overgrievous; but if the offence be grievous and often, and will not be corrected, then he ſhall ſuffer puniſhment of the body, that is to wit, a Baker to the Pillory, and a Brewer to the Tumbrel, or ſome other correction. Firſt, ſix lawful men ſhall be ſworn truly to gather all meaſures of the Town, that is to wit, buſhels, half and quarter buſhels, gallons, pottles, and quarts, as well of Taverns as of other places. Meaſures and weights, that is to wit, pounds, half pounds, and other little weights, wherewith bread of the Town or of the Court is weighed, that is to ſay, one loaf of every ſort of bread. And upon every meaſure, buſhel, weight, and alſo upon every loaf, the name of the owner diſtinctly written. And likewiſe they ſhall gather the meaſures of mills. After which thing done, twelve lawful men ſhall ſwear to make true anſwer to all ſuch things as ſhall be demanded of them in the Kings behalf upon articles here following; and ſuch things as be ſecret, they ſhall utter ſecretly, and anſwer privately. And the Bailiff ſhall be commanded to bring in all the Bakers & Brewers with their meaſures, and all things under-written. Firſt, they ſhall inquire the price of wheat; that is to wit, how a quarter of the beſt wheat was ſold the laſt Market-day, and how the ſecond wheat, and how the third: and how a quarter of barley and oats. After, how the Bakers bread in the Court doth agree, that is to wit, waſtel and other bread after wheat of the beſt, or of the ſecond, or of the third price. Alſo upon how much increaſe or decreaſe in the price of wheat a Baker ought to change the aſſiſe and weight of his bread. Alſo how much the waſtel of a farthing ought to weigh, and all other manner of bread after the price of a quarter of wheat that they preſent. Alſo for default in the weight of the bread a Baker ought to be amerced, or to be judged unto the Pillory, according to the law and cuſtom of the Court. Alſo if any Steward or Bailiff for any bribe doth releaſe puniſhment of the Pillory and Tumbrel, being already judged, or to be judged of right.

A Pillory. The Aſſiſe and price of Wine.

The Aſſiſe of Ale.

Alſo if they have in the Town a Pillory of convenient ſtrength, as appertaineth to the liberty of their market, which they may uſe (if need be) without bodily peril either of man or woman. After, they ſhall inquire of the aſſiſe and price of wine, after the departure of the Juſtices in Eyre, or of them that were laſt in Office of the market of the Town, that is to ſay, of the Vinteners names, and how they ſell a gallon of Wine. And if any corrupted wine be in the Town, or ſuch as is not wholſom for mans body. Alſo of the aſſiſe of Ale in the Court of the Town how it is, and whether it be obſerved; and if not, how much Brewers have ſold contrary to the aſſiſe; and they ſhall preſent their names diſtinctly and openly, and that they be amerced for every default, or to be judged to yͤ tumbrel, if they ſell contrary to yͤ aſſiſe.

Falſe weights or meaſures. Butchers. Cooks.

Foreſtallers.

Ale ſhall be ſold according to the price of Barley.

Alſo if there be any that ſell by one meaſure, and buy by another. Alſo if any do uſe falſe ells, weights or meaſures. And if any Butcher do ſell contagious fleſh, or that died of the murren. Alſo they ſhall enquire of Cooks that ſeethe fleſh or fiſh with bread or water, or any otherwiſe, that is not wholſom for mans body, or after that they have kept it ſo long that it loſeth his natural wholſomneſs, and then ſeethe it again and ſell it; or if any do buy fleſh of Jews, and then ſell it to Chriſtians. And alſo foreſtallers, that buy any thing afore the due and accuſtomed hour, againſt the good ſtate and weal of the Town and market, or that paſs out of the Town to meet ſuch things as come to the market, being out of the Town, to the intent they may ſell the ſame in the Town more dear unto regrators, that utter it more dear than they would that brought it, in caſe they had come to the Town or market. When a quarter of Barley is ſold for two ſhillings, then four quarts of Ale ſhall be ſold for a peny: when for two ſhillings ſix pence, then ſeven quarts of Ale ſhall be ſold for two pence: when for three ſhillings, then three quarts for one peny: when for three ſhillings ſix pence, then five quarts for two pence: when it is ſold for four ſhillings, then two quarts at one peny. And ſo from henceforth the prices ſhall increaſe and decreaſe after the rate of ſix pence.

Statutes made at Marleborough alias Marlebridge, 18. Novemb. An. 52. Hen. 3. and Anno Dom. 1267.

IN the year of Grace, One thouſand two hundred ſixty ſeven, the two and fiftieth year of the Reign of King HENRY, Son of King JOHN, in the utas of Saint Martine, the ſaid King our Lord providing for the better eſtate of this Realm of England, and for the more ſpeedy miniſtration of Juſtice, as belongeth to the Office of a King, the more diſcreet men of the Realm being called together, as well of the higher at of the lower eſtate: It was provided, agreed, and ordained, that whereas the Realm of England of late had been diſquieted with manifold troubles and diſſentions; for reformation whereof Statutes and Laws be right neceſſary, whereby the peace and tranquility of the people muſt be obſerved: wherein the King intending to deviſe convenient remedy, hath made theſe Acts, Ordinances and Statutes under-written, which he willeth to be obſerved for ever, firmly and inviolably of all his Subjects, as well high as low.

Fitz.Avowry 9.15.42. 48.51,50.65. 68,89.99.

For doing Suits unto Courts of great Lords, or of meaner perſons, from henceforth this order ſhall be obſerved, that none ye is infeoffed by deed, from henceforth ſhall be diſtrained to do ſuch Suit to the Court of his Lord, without he be ſpecially bound thereto by the form of his deed: Theſe onely except, whoſe Anceſtors or they themſelves have uſed to do ſuch Suit before the firſt voyage of the ſaid King Henry into Britain, ſithence which, nine and thirty years and an half are paſſed, unto the time that theſe Statutes were Enacted. Likewiſe from henceforth none that is infeoffed without Deed, from the time of the Conqueſt, or any other ancient Feoffment, ſhall be diſtrained to do ſuch Suits, unleſs that he or his Anceſtors uſed to do it before the ſaid voyage. And they that are infeoffed by Deed to do a certain ſervice, as, for ſervice of ſo many ſhillings by year, to be acquitted of all ſervice, from henceforth ſhall not be bounden to ſuch Suits, or other like, contrary unto the form of their feoffment. And if any inheritance (whereof but one Suit is due) deſcend unto many Heirs, as unto Parceners, whoſo hath the eldeſt part of the inheritance, ſhall do that one Suit for himſelf and his Fellows, and the other Coheirs ſhall be Contributaries, according to their Portion, for doing ſuch Suit. And if many Feoffees be ſeiſed of an Inheritance (whereof but one Suit is due) the Lord of the Fee ſhall have but that one Suit, and ſhall not exact of the ſaid Inheritance but that one Suit, as hath been uſed to be done before. And if thoſe Feoffees have no Warrant, or mean, which ought to acquit them, then all the Feoffees, according to their portion, ſhall be contributaries for doing the Suit for them. And if it chance, that the Lords of the Fee do diſtrain their Tenants for ſuch Suits, contrary to this Act, then at the complaint of the Tenants, the Lords ſhall be attached, to appear in the Kings Court at a ſhort day, to make anſwer thereto, and ſhall have but one Eſſoin therein (if they be within the Realm:) And immediately the beaſts, or other diſtreſſes taken by this occaſion, ſhall be delivered to the Plaintiff, and ſo ſhall remain, until the Plea betwixt them be determined. And if the Lords of the Courts, which took diſtreſſes, come not at the day that they were attached, or do not keep the day given to them by Eſſoin, then the Sheriffs ſhall be commanded to cauſe them to come at another day; at which day if they come not, then he ſhall be commanded to diſtrain them by all their Goods and Chattels, that they have in the Shire, ſo that the Sheriff ſhall anſwer to the King of the Iſſues of the ſaid Inheritance. And that he have their bodies before our Juſtices at a certain day limited. So that if they come not at that day, the party Plaintiff ſhall go without day, and his Beaſts or other diſtreſſes taken by that colour, ſhall remain delivered, until the ſame Lords have recovered the ſame Suit by Award of the Kings Court; and in the mean time ſuch diſtreſſes ſhall ceaſe, ſaving to the Lords of the Court their Right to recover thoſe Suits in form of Law, when they will ſue therefore. And when the Lords of the Courts come in to anſwer the Plaintiffs of ſuch Treſpaſſes, and be convict thereupon, then by award of the Kings Court, the Plaintiffs ſhall recover againſt them the Damages that they have ſuſtained by occaſion of the ſaid Diſtreſs.

Tenants withholding from their Lords their due ſuits.

Fitz.Avowry 86.92.99.

Likewiſe, if the Tenants after this Act withdraw from their Lords ſuch Suits as they were wont to do, and which they did before the time of the ſaid Voyage, and hitherto uſed to do, then by like ſpeedineſs of Juſtice, as be to limiting of days, and awarding of Diſtreſſes, the Lords of the Court ſhall obtain Juſtice to recover their Suits, with their damages, in like manner as the Tenants ſhould recover theirs: And this recovering of damages muſt be underſtood of withdrawing from themſelves, and not of withdrawing from their Anceſtors: Nevertheleſs, the Lords of the Courts ſhall not recover Seiſin of ſuch Suits againſt their Tenants by default, as they were wont to do. And touching Suits withdrawn before the time aforementioned, let the Common Law run as it was wont before-time.

The Statute of Weſtminſter, the firſt, made at Weſtminſter 25. die Aprilis, Anno 3 Edw. 1. and Anno Dom. 1275.

THeſe be the Acts of King Edward, Son to King Henry, made at Weſtminſter at his firſt Parliament general after his Coronation, on the Munday of Eaſter utas, the 3^{d} year of his Reign, by his Councel, and by the aſſent of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors, Earls, Barons, and all the Communalty of the Realm being thither ſummoned, becauſe our Lord the King had great zeal and deſire to redreſs the ſtate of the Realm in ſuch things as required amendment, for the common profit of holy Church and of the Realm. And becauſe the ſtate of holy Church had been evil kept, and the Prelates and Religious perſons of the land grieved many ways, and the people otherwiſe intreated then they ought to be, and the peace leſs kept, and the Laws leſs uſed, and the offenders leſs puniſhed than they ought to be, by reaſon whereof, the people of the land feared the leſs to offend: the King hath ordained and eſtabliſhed theſe Acts under-written, which he intendeth to be neceſſary and profitable unto the whole Realm.

they have been accuſtomed to do: It is provided, that none ſhall come to eat or lodge in any houſe of religion of any others foundation then of his own, at the coſts of the houſe, unleſs he be required by the Governour of the houſe before his coming thither. And that none, at his own coſts, ſhall enter and come to lie there againſt the will of them that be of the houſe. And by this ſtatute the King intendeth not, that the grace of hoſpitality ſhould be withdrawn from ſuch as need, nor that the founders of ſuch Monaſteries ſhould over-charge, or grieve them by their often coming. It is provided alſo, that none high nor low, by colour of kindred, affinity or alliance, or by any other occaſion, ſhall courſe in any Park, nor fiſh in any Pond, nor come to eat, or lodge in the houſe or mannor of a Prelate, or any other religious perſon, againſt the will or leave of the Lord or his Bayliff, neither at the coſt of the Lord, nor at his own. And if he come in, or enter with the good-will, or againſt the will of the Lord or his Bayliff, he ſhall cauſe no door, lock, nor window, nor nothing that is ſhut to be opened or broken by himſelf nor any other, nor no manner of victual nor other thing ſhall take by colour of buying nor otherwiſe; and that none ſhall threſh Corn, nor take Corn, nor any manner of victual, nor other goods of a Prelate, man of religion, nor any other Clerk, or lay-perſon by colour of buying or otherwiſe, againſt the will and licenſe of him to whom the thing belongeth, or of the Keeper, be it within Market-town or without. And that none ſhall take Horſes, Oxen, Ploughs, Carts, Ships, nor Barges, to make carriage, without the aſſent of him to whom ſuch things belong. And if he do it by the aſſent of the party, then incontinent he ſhall pay according to the covenant made between them. And they that offend againſt theſe Acts, and thereof be attainted, ſhall be committed to the Kings Priſon, and after ſhall make fine, and be puniſhed according to the quantity and manner of the treſpaſs: and after, as the King in his Court ſhall think convenient. And it is to be known, that if they, to whom ſuch treſpaſs was done, will ſue for damages, they ſhall be thereto received, and the ſame ſhall be awarded and reſtored to the double. And they that have done the treſpaſs, ſhall be likewiſe puniſhed in the manner aboveſaid. And if none will ſue, the King ſhall have the ſuit, as for a thing committed againſt his commandment, and againſt his Peace. And the King ſhall make enquiry from year to year, what perſons do ſuch treſpaſſes, after as he ſhall think neceſſary and convenient. And they that be indicted by ſuch Inqueſts, ſhall be attached and diſtrained by that great diſtreſs, to come at a certain day containing the ſpace of a month into the Kings Court, or where it ſhall pleaſe the King. And if they come not at that day, they ſhall be diſtrained again of new by the ſame diſtreſs, for to come at another day, containing the ſpace of ſix weeks at the leaſt; and if they come not then, they ſhall be judged as attainted, and ſhall yeeld double damages (at the Kings ſuit) to ſuch as have taken hurt or damage, and ſhall make grievous fine after the manner of the treſpaſs. And the King forbiddeth and commandeth, that none from henceforth do hurt, damage, or grievance to any religious man or perſon of the Church, or any other, becauſe they have denied meat or lodging unto them, or becauſe that any complaineth in the Kings Court that he hath been grieved in any of the things above mentioned. And if any do, and hereof be attainted, he ſhall incurre the pain aforeſaid. And it is further provided, that the points aforeſaid ſhall as well bind our Counſellors, Juſticers of Foreſts, and other our Juſtices, as any other perſons, and that the foreſaid points be maintained, obſerved, and kept. Likewiſe the King forbiddeth upon grievous forfeitures, that no Prelate, Abbot, man of religion, or Bayliff of any of them, or of other, receive any man contrary to the form aforeſaid. And that none ſhall ſend to the Houſe or Mannor of a man of religion, or of any other perſon, his Men, Horſe, or Dogs, to ſojourn, nor none ſhall them receive; and he that doth (ſeeing the King hath commanded the contrary) ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed: yet it is further provided, that the Sheriff from henceforth ſhall not lodge with any perſon, with any more than five or ſix Horſes. The penalty of a Ward refuſing a marriage tendred.

Of Heirs married within age, without the conſent of their Guardians, afore that they be paſt the age of fourteen years, it ſhall be done according as it is contained in the Statute of Merton. And of them that ſhall be married without the conſent of their Guardians, after they be paſt the age of xiiii. years, the Guardian ſhall have the double value of their marriage, after the tenour of the ſame Act. Moreover, ſuch as have with-drawn their marriage, ſhall pay the full value thereof unto their Guardian for the treſpaſs, and nevertheleſs the King ſhall have like amends according to the ſame Act, of him that hath ſo with-drawn. And of Heirs females, after they have accompliſhed the age of fourteen years, and the Lord (to whom the marriage belongeth) will not marry them, but for covetiſe of the Land will keep them unmarried: It is provided, that the Lord ſhall not have nor keep by reaſon of marriage, the Lands of ſuch Heirs females more then two years after the term of the ſaid xiiii. years. And if the Lord within the ſaid two years do not marry them, then ſhall they have an action to recover their inheritance, quite without giving any thing for their Wardſhip, or their Marriage. And if they of malice, or by evil counſel will not be married by their chief Lords (where they ſhall not be diſparaged) then their Lords may hold their Land and Inheritance, until they have accompliſhed the age of an Heir male, that is to wit, of one and twenty years, and further until they have taken the value of the Marriage. ¶ A Statute intituled, Extenta Manerii, made Anno 4. Ed. 1. and Anno Dom. 1276. Expreſſing a Survey of the Buildings, Lands, Commons, Parks, Woods, Tenants, &c.

The Buildings.

FIrſt, It is to be inquired of the Caſtels, and alſo of other Buildings, compaſſed about with ditches, what the walls, Buildings, Timber, Stone, Lead, and other manner of covering is worth, and how they may be prized according to the very value of the ſame walls and building. And for how much the buildings without the ditch may be prized, and what they be worth, with the Gardens, Curtilages, Dove-houſes, and all other Iſſues of the Court by the year.

The Demeſns.

It is to be inquired alſo, how many fields are of the Demeſns, and how many acres of Land are in every field, and what every acre is worth by the year, and how many acres of meadow are of the Demeſns, and how many be in a field, and how much every acre by it ſelf is worth by the year to be let. Alſo how many acres of Paſture there be, and for what beaſts or cattel the ſame Paſture is moſt neceſſary, and how many it will find, and of what manner, and what the paſture of every beaſt is worth to be let by the year.

The Foraign Paſture.

Alſo it is to be inquired of Foraign Paſture, that is common, how many and what beaſts and Cattel the Lord may have in the ſame, and how much the Paſture of every beaſt is worth by the year to be let.

The Parks and Demeſn Woods.

Alſo it is to be inquired of Parks, and demean Woods, which the Lord may aſſert and improve at his pleaſure, and how many acres they contain, and how much the veſture of an acre is worth, and how much the land is worth after the wood is felled, and how many acres it containeth, and how much every acre is worth by the year.

Foraign Woods.

Alſo it is to be inquired of Foraign Woods, where other men have common, and how much the Lord may improve to himſelf of the ſame Woods, and how many acres, and for how much the veſture of every acre may be valued at, and how much the ground is worth yearly after that the Wood is felled, and how many acres it containeth, and what every acre is worth by the year. And it is to be inquired, whether the Lord may give or ſell any thing of the reſidue of the foreſaid Woods, and what ſuch gifts and ſales are worth by the year.

Pawnage. Herbage.

Alſo it is to be inquired of Pawnage, Herbage of the Town, Hony, and all other profits of Forreſts, Woods, Rivers, Moors, Mariſhes, Heaths, Turbary, and Waſte, and how much it is worth by the year.

Mills, Fiſhings.

Alſo of Mills, Fiſhings ſeveral and common, what they be worth by the year.

Freeholders.

Alſo it is to be inquired of Freeholders, the which dwell without as well as within, that is to ſay, how many Freeholders there be, and what Mannor, Lands and Tenements, and what Fees they hold, and by what Services, whether it be by Socage, or Knights ſervice, or otherwiſe, and what they are worth, and pay yearly of Rent of Aſſiſe, and who hold by Charter, and who not, and who by old Tenure, and who by new Feoffment. Alſo it is to inquired of the ſaid free Tenants, which do follow the Court of the County, and which not, and what, and how much falleth to the Lord after the death of ſuch free Tenants.

Cok. l. 4. 21. Cuſtomary Tenants.

It is to be inquired alſo of cuſtomary Tenants, that is to wit, how many there be, and how much land every of them holdeth, what works and cuſtoms he doth, and what the works and cuſtoms of every Tenant be worth yearly, and how much Rent of Aſſiſe he paid yearly beſides the works and cuſtoms, and which of them may be taxed at the will of the Lord, and which not.

Cottages and Curtelages.

It is alſo to be inquired of Cottages, that is to ſay, what Cottages, and Curtelages they hold, and by what ſervice, and how much they do pay by the year for all their Cottages and Curtelages.

Perquiſites of Courts.

It is alſo to be inquired of Pleas and Perquiſites of the Counties of the Courts of the Foreſts, with lawing of dogs, and how much they be worth by the year in all Iſſues.

Patronages.

It is alſo to be inquired of Churches, that belong to the Lords gift, how many there be, and what, and where, and how much every Church is worth by the year after the true eſtimation of the ſame.

Liberties, Cuſtoms, and Services.

It is alſo to be inquired, what be the value of Herriots, Fairs, Markets, Eſcheats, Cuſtoms, Services, and Foraign Works and Cuſtoms, and what the Pleas and Perquiſites of Courts, Fines, and Reliefs, and all other Caſualties, are worth by the year, that may fall in any of theſe things.

A Statute De Officio Coronatoris, made Anno 4 Edw. 1. and Anno Domini 1276.

Of what things a Coroner ſhall inquire.

Of what things a Coroner ſhall inquire.

A Coroner of our Lord the King ought to inquire of theſe things, if he be certified by the Kings Bailiffs, or other honeſt men of the Country. Firſt, he ſhall go to the places where any be ſlain, or ſuddenly dead, or wounded, or where houſes are broken, or where treaſure is ſaid to be found, and ſhall forthwith command four of the next Towns, or five, or ſix, to appear before him in ſuch a place; and when they are come thither, the Coroner upon the oath of them ſhall inquire in this manner; that is to wit, If they know where the perſon was ſlain, whether it were in any houſe, field, bed, tavern, or company, & who were there. Likewiſe it is to be inquired who were culpable, either of the act, or of the force, and who were preſent, either men or women, and of what age ſoever they be (if they can ſpeak or have any diſcretion.) And how many ſoever be found culpable by inquiſition in any of the manners aforeſaid, they ſhall be taken and delivered to the Sheriff, and ſhall be committed to the Gaol: and ſuch as be founden, and be not culpable, ſhall be attached until the coming of the Juſtices, and their names ſhall be written in Rolls. If it fortune any ſuch man be ſlain, which is found in the fields, or in the woods, firſt it is to be inquired whether he were ſlain in the ſame place or not. And if he were brought and laid there, they ſhall do ſo much as they can, to follow their ſteps that brought the body thither, whether he were brought upon a horſe, or in a cart. It ſhall be inquired alſo, if the dead perſon were known, or elſe a ſtranger, and where he lay the night before. And if any be found culpable of the murder, the Coroner ſhall immediately go unto his houſe, and ſhall enquire what goods he hath, and what corn he hath in his graunge: and if he be a free-man, they ſhall enquire how much land he hath, and what it is worth yearly, and further what corn he hath upon the ground. And when they have thus enquired upon every thing, they ſhall cauſe all the land, corn, and goods to be valued, in like manner as if they ſhould be ſold incontinently, and thereupon they ſhall be delivered to the whole Townſhip, which ſhall be anſwerable before the Juſtices for all. And likewiſe of his freehold how much it is worth yearly over and above the ſervice due to the Lords of the fee; and the land ſhall remain in the Kings hands, until the Lords of the fee have made fine for it. And immediately upon theſe things being inquired, the bodies of ſuch perſons being dead or ſlain ſhall be buried.

Bro. Coron. 175. Fitz. Coron. 241. 265. 436. 446.

In like manner it is to be inquired of them that be drowned, or ſuddenly dead, and after ſuch bodies are to be ſeen, whether they were ſo drowned or ſlain, or ſtrangled by the ſign of a cord tyed ſtrait about their necks, or about any of their members, or upon any other hurt found upon their bodies, whereupon they ſhall proceed in the form above-ſaid: and if they were not ſlain, then ought the Coroner to attach the finders, and all other in the company. A Coroner alſo ought to enquire of treaſure that is found, who were the finders, and likewiſe who is ſuſpected thereof: and that may be well perceived where one liveth riotouſly, haunting taverns, and hath done ſo of long time; hereupon he may be attached for this ſuſpition by four, or ſix, or mo pledges, if he may be found. Further, if any be appealed of Rape, he muſt be attached, if the appeal be freſh, and they muſt ſee apparent ſign of truth by effuſion of bloud, or an open cry made; and ſuch ſhall be attached by four or ſix pledges, if they may be found. If the appeal were without cry, or without any manifeſt ſign or token, two pledges ſhall be ſufficient: upon appeal of wounds and ſuch like, ſpecially if the wounds be mortal, the parties appealed ſhall be taken immediately, and kept until it be known perfectly, whether he that is hurt ſhall recover or not. And if he die, the defendant ſhall be kept: and if he recover health, they ſhall be attached by four or ſix pledges, after as the wound is great or ſmall. If it be for a maim, he ſhall find no leſs then four pledges; if it be for a ſmall wound, two pledges ſhall ſuffice. Alſo all wounds ought to be viewed, the length, breadth, and deepneſs, and with what weapons, and in what part of the body the wound or hurt is, and how many be culpable, and how many wounds there be, and who gave the wound; all which things muſt be inrolled in the Roll of the Coroners. Moreover, if any be appealed of any act done, as principal, they that be appealed of the force ſhall be attached alſo, and ſurely kept in ward, until the principals be attainted or delivered. Concerning horſes, boats, carts, &c. whereby any are ſlain, that properly are called Deodands, they ſhall be valued and delivered unto the Towns, as before is ſaid. Concerning Wreck of the Sea, whereſoever it be found, if any lay hands on it, he ſhall be attached by ſufficient pledges, and the price of the Wreck ſhall be valued and delivered to the Towns. If any be ſuſpected of the death of any man being in danger of life, he ſhall be taken and impriſoned, as before is ſaid. In like manner Huy ſhall be levied for all murders, burglaries, and for men ſlain, or in peril to be ſlain, as otherwhere is uſed in England, and all ſhall follow the Huy and ſteps, as near as can be. And he that doth not, and is convict thereupon, ſhall be attached to be afore the Juſtices of the Gaol, &c. St. 3 H. 7. 1.

Where of late it was provided, that religious men ſhould not enter into the fees of any without licence and will of the chief Lords of whom ſuch fees be holden immediately: And notwithſtanding ſuch religious men have entred as well into their own fees, as in the fees of other men, appropriying and buying them, and ſometime receiving them of the gift of others, whereby the ſervices that are due of ſuch fees, and which at the beginning were provided for defence of the Realm, are wrongfully withdrawn, and the chief Lords do leeſe their Eſcheates of the ſame: We therefore to the profit of our Realm intending to provide convenient remedy, by the advice of our Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other our ſubjects, being of our Councel, have provided, made and ordained, That no perſon, religious or other, whatſoever he be, that will buy or ſell any Lands or Tenements, or under the colour of gift or leaſe, or that will receive by reaſon of any other title, whatſoever it be, Lands or tenements, or by any other Craft or Engine will preſume to appropre to himſelf, under pain of forfeiture of the ſame, whereby ſuch Lands or tenements may any wiſe come into Mortmain. We have provided alſo, that if any perſon, religious or other, do preſume either by Craft or Engine to offend againſt this Statute, it ſhall be lawful to us and other chief Lords of the Fee immediate to enter the Land ſo aliened, within a year from the time of the alienation, and to hold it in fee, and as inheritance. And if the chief Lord immediate be negligent, and will not enter into ſuch fee within the year, then it ſhall be lawful to the next chief Lord immediate of the ſame fee, to enter in the ſame Land within half a year next following, and to hold it as before is ſaid; and ſo every Lord immediate may enter into ſuch Land, if the next Lord be negligent in entring into the ſame fee, as is aforeſaid. And if all the chief Lords of ſuch Fees being of full age, within the four Seas, and out of priſon, be negligent or ſlack in this behalf, we immediately after the year accompliſhed from the time that ſuch purchaſes, gifts, or appropriations hap to be made, ſhall take ſuch lands and tenements into our hand, and ſhall infeoff other therein by certain ſervices to be done to us for the defence of our Realm, ſaving to the chief Lords of the ſame Fees, their Wards and Eſcheates, and other ſervices thereunto due and accuſtomed. A Statute made 2 Maii, Anno 9 Ed. 1. and Anno Dom. 1281. A Correction of the twelfth Chapter of the Statute of Glouceſter, touching calling Forreigns to Warranty in London.

The manner of proceeding, when forreigns be avouched to warranty in London.

Stat. 6 E. 1. c. 12.

It is provided alſo, That if none being impleaded in the City of London, do vouch a Forreign to warranty, the Maior and the Bayliffs ſhall adjourn the parties before the Juſtices of the Bench at a certain day, and ſhall ſend their record thither. And the Juſtices ſhall cauſe the warrantor to be ſummoned before them, and ſhall try the Warranty. And the Maior and the Bayliffs in the mean time ſhall ſurceaſe in the matter that dependeth afore them by a Writ, until ſuch time as the warranty be determined before the Juſtices of the Bench. And when the matter ſhall be determined, commandment ſhall be given to the Vouchee, to depart into the City and to anſwer to the firſt Plea. And the demandant at his Suit, ſhall have a Writ from the Juſtices of the Bench, unto the Maior and Bayliffs, that they ſhall proceed in the Plea. And if the Demandant recover, the Tenant ſhall come to the Juſtices of the Bench, and have a Writ to the Maior and Bayliffs, that in caſe the Tenant have loſt his land, they ſhall cauſe it to be extended, and return the ſame Extent unto the Bench at a certain day. And after, it ſhall be commanded to the Sheriff of the Shire, where the Warranty was ſummoned, that he ſhall cauſe the Tenant to have of the lands of the Warrantor to like value. And if it fortune that the Tenant make default at the day that is aſſigned him in the Bench, then ſhall there go forth a Writ from the Juſtices of the Bench to the Maior and Bayliffs, to ſeiſe the land demanded, into the Kings hands by a Petie Cape, and to ſummon the Tenant, that he be at the Huſtings at a certain day, whereat the Juſtices ſhall be adviſed to give judgment upon the ſame default, if he cannot ſave it; and in caſe he can ſave it, then the Juſtices ſhall be certified thereof by their Record, and by the ſame Record they ſhall plead the warranty. A new

A new Stat. of the Exchequer, called the Statute of Rutland, made 24. Maii, Anno 10 Edw. 1. and Anno Dom. 1282. Touching the recovery of the Kings Debts.

The Bodies of Shires.

Annual Rolls.

The King to his Treaſurer and Barons of the Exchequer, greeting. To the intent that proviſion may be had for the indempnity of us and our people, in certain things touching us and our people aforeſaid, in our ſaid Court of Exchequer: We will and provide, That from henceforth the bodies of Shires ſhall not be written in ſeveral Rolls, but ſhall be written in a certain annual Roll by themſelves, and ſhall be read every year upon the Accompts of Sheriffs, that is to wit, of ſeveral Counties, that it may be known, if ought may accrue unto us by any mean. The remanents of the ferms of the ſame Shires ſhall be written by latter dates in the Annual Rolls, and the Sheriffs ſhall be charged therewith: In which Remanents, the Liberties and Alms aſſigned ſhall be allowed, and other allowances (if Sheriffs have had any) of the Iſſues of their Baliwicks by our Writs. And becauſe of the ſuggeſtion of our Bayliffs, our Writs are made of divers allowances, unto our grievous damage: We will and provide, That of ſuch manner allowances ſo to be made, from henceforth view ſhall be made in our Exchequer, and the ſame view being faithfully made, the ſame Treaſurer and Barons ſhall certifie our Chancellor of the due allowances ſo to be made, and that Writs of allowances ſhall be made according to the ſame Certificate. Moreover, there ſhall be written in the ſame Annual Rolls the ferms of the Sheriffs, the profits of Counties, the ferms of Sergeanties and Aſſerts, the ferms of Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and other Ferms, whereof there is anſwer made yearly in the Exchequer. And in them alſo ſhall be written all Debts determined, all groſs debts, whereof there is hope that ſomewhat ſhall be paid, and all other debts that ſeem to be clear. But when it is come unto accompt to the title of new Duties, nothing ſhall be written in the Annual Roll, but thoſe debts, whereof there is hope of payment, and whereof the Sheriff is anſwerable, and debts found in the Originals.

A Roll of deſperate Debts.

Of deed ferms, and debts deſperate, whereof there is no hope, one Roll ſhall be made, and ſhall be intituled Comitatus, and read every year upon the accompt of Sheriffs; and the debts whereof the Sheriffs are anſwerable, ſhall be written in the Annual Roll, and there ſhall be acquitted.

Tallies for Debts.

Moreover, we will and provide, That it ſhall be proclaimed in every county, That all they that have Tallies of the Exchequer, for the Debts of themſelves, or their Anceſtors, hitherto paid uſually there, and not yet allowed, which yet do come in the Summons of the Exchequer, they do deliver to the Sheriffs ſuch Tallies, to be allowed at the Exchequer upon their Accompts. And the Sheriffs ſhall make to them (of whom they ſhall ſo receive Tallies) their writings, witneſſing the receit of thoſe Tallies, and occaſion of the Debts.

Two Knights.

Two faithful Knights, deputed thereunto, ſhall be preſent at the receit of the Tallies aforeſaid, between whom and the ſaid Sheriffs, Indentures ſhall be made of ſuch Receits, with the Seals of them both interchangeably.

The foreſaid Knights deputed thereunto, ſhall ſend the parts of their Indentures, at the term appointed, unto the Exchequer, in form aforeſaid, to the end, that by the view and witneſs of them, the ſaid Tallies ſo received by the Sheriffs, may be ſhewed, and allowed upon their accounts.

Having Tallies and not delivering them.

Moreover, it ſhall be proclaimed, That except thoſe that have ſuch Tallies, do deliver them to the Sheriffs, and knights, as afore is ſaid, that then they ſhall be diſtrained for the whole Debt, and that the foreſaid Tallies ſhall be reputed for unpaid.

Moreover, the debts which yet are to come in the ſummons of the Exchequer, whereof the debtors do proffer Tallies againſt divers Sheriffs, ſhall be defalked and acquitted.

Commiſſions to enquire of the Kings Debts.

Moreover we provide, that certain perſons aſſigned thereunto on our behalf ſhall be ſent into every Shire, which ſhall have full power to enquire of ſuch manner of debts, and alſo to call afore them ſolemnly, as well the Sheriffs, as their heirs and aſſigns, and the Tenants of their lands, in caſe they be dead that have received the debts, and alſo if need be to proceed to the taking of ſuch manner Inqueſts, whether the parties (againſt whom the foreſaid Tallies were ſhewed) do come or not. So that the Sheriff do return a reaſonable ſummons made to them therefore, and ſo the truth being inquired and diſcuſſed in preſence of the parties (if they will be there) the inquiſitors ſhall make rolls of them that ſhall be convict afore them, ſo that the foreſaid debts being confeſſed and inrolled, the Tallies of the ſame ſhall be forthwith broken. And the Sheriffs ſhall have in their cuſtody the tranſcripts of the ſame Rolls, under the Seals of the Inquiſitor, and ſhall ſurceaſe in making Diſtreſſes for the debts contained in the ſame, until they ſhall have otherwiſe im commandment from us therefore. And the foreſaid Inquiſitors ſhall ſend unto the Exchequer the foreſaid Rolls, under their Seals, that it may be examined there, by a ſearch to be made therefore, what debts be paid in the whole, and what are paid in part, and what debts there be, whereof the debtors be not acquitted, according as ſhall be convenient to be done.

Tallies of Dividends.

Moreover, we will and provide, that the Chamberlains from henceforth ſhall not make to the Sheriffs or any of their Bayliffs, Tallies of dividendis, unleſs they firſt receive of them writings containing the particular ſums of the Actions of debts, and the names of them that paid them, unto the which particulars he may part the names of ſuch manner dividendis; which being ſo received under their Seals, it ſhall not be lawful to number them into other particulars.

Moreover,

The Sheriff returneth that the Debtor is not found, or hath nothing.

Moreover, we provide, that all debts, whereunto the Sheriffs make return, that the debtors have nothing in their Bailiwicks, ne had not at ſuch time as they were charged with the ſame debts, or that the debtors be not found, that the ſame debts ſhall be eſtreated in Rolls, and the ſame Rolls to be delivered unto faithful and circumſpect men, which ſhall make inquiry thereof after ſuch form as ſhall be provided by the Treaſurer and Barons.

No ſuit ſhall be proſecuted in the Exchequer unleſs it concern the King, or his Officers there. Regiſt. f. 187.

But for ſo much as certain Pleas were heretofore holden in the Exchequer, which did not concern us, nor our Miniſters of the Exchequer, whereby as well our Pleas, as the Cauſes of our people are unduly prorogued, and letted: We will and ordain, That no Plea ſhall be holden or pleaded in the Exchequer aforeſaid, unleſs it do ſpecially concern us and our Miniſters aforeſaid. And therefore we command, that ye cauſe the premiſes to be diſtinctly and openly read afore you, and to inroll it, cauſing the ſame to be ſtraitly obſerved in our Court of Exchequer aforeſaid. In witneſs of which, &c. Yeven at Rutland the four and twentieth day of the moneth of May, in the tenth year of our Reign.

Foraſmuch as Merchants, which heretofore have lent their goods to divers perſons, be greatly impoveriſhed, becauſe there is no ſpeedy Law provided for them, to have recovery of their debts at the day of payment aſſigned; And by reaſon hereof, many Merchants have withdrawn to come into this Realm with their Merchandiſes, to the damage as well of the Merchants, as of the whole Realm: The King by himſelf, and by his Council, hath Ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Merchant which will be ſure of his debt, ſhall cauſe his Debtor to come before the Mayor of London, or of York, or Briſtow, or before the Mayor and a Clerk (which the King ſhall appoint for the ſame) for to knowledge the debt & the day of payment, and the Recogniſance ſhall be entred into a Roll with the hand of the ſaid Clerk which ſhall be known. Moreover, the ſaid Clerk ſhall make with his own hand a Bill Obligatory, whereunto the Seal of the Debtor ſhall be put, with the Kings Seal, that ſhall be provided for the ſame purpoſe: the which Seal ſhall remain in the keeping of the Mayor and Clerk aforeſaid. And if the Debtor doth not pay at the day to him limited, the Creditor may come before the ſaid Mayor & Clerk with his Bill Obligatory: and if it be found by the Roll and by the Bill, that the Debt was knowledged, and that ye day of payment is expired, ye Mayor ſhall incontinent cauſe the moveables of the Debtor to be ſold, as far as the Debt doth amount, by the praiſing of honeſt men, as Chattels Burgages deviſable, unto the whole ſum of the Debt, and the money without delay ſhall be paid to the Creditor. And if the Mayor can find no buyer, he ſhall cauſe the moveables to be delivered to the Creditor at a reaſonable price, as much as doth amount to the ſum of the debt, in allowance of his Debt. And the Kings Seal ſhall be put unto the ſale and deliverance of the Burgages deviſable, for a perpetual witneſs. And if the Debtor have no moveables within the Juriſdiction of the Mayor, whereupon the Debt may be levied, but hath ſome otherwhere within the Realm, then ſhall the Mayor ſend the Recogniſance, made before him and the Clerk aforeſaid, unto the Chancellor, under the Kings Seal. And the Chancellor ſhall direct a Writ unto the Sheriff, in whoſe Bailiwick the moveables of the Debtor be, and the Sheriff ſhall cauſe him to agree with his Creditor, in ſuch form as the Mayor ſhould have done in caſe that the moveables of the Debtor had been within his power. And let them that ſhall praiſe the moveable goods to be delivered unto the Creditor, take good heed, that they do ſet a reaſonable price upon them: for if they do ſet an over-high price for favour born to the debtor, and to the damage of the Creditor, then ſhall the thing ſo praiſed be delivered unto themſelves at ſuch price as they have limited, and they ſhall be forthwith anſwerable to the Creditor for his debt. And if the Debtor will ſay, that his moveable goods were delivered or ſold for leſs then they were worth, yet ſhall he have no remedy thereby. For when the Mayor or the Sheriff hath ſold the moveable goods lawfully to him that offered moſt, he may account it his own folly, that he did not ſell his own moveable goods himſelf before the day of his ſuit (when he might and would not) and have levied the money with his own hands. And if the debtor have no moveables, whereupon the debt may be levied, then ſhall his body be taken, where it may be found, and kept in priſon, until that he have made agreement, or his friends for him. And if he have not wherewith he may ſuſtain himſelf in priſon, the Creditor ſhall find him bread and water, to the end that he die not in priſon for default of ſuſtenance; the which coſts the debtor ſhall recompence him with his debt, before that he be let out of priſon. And if the Creditor be a Merchant-ſtranger, he ſhall remain at the coſts of the Debtor for ſo long time as he tarrieth about the ſuit of his debt, and until the moveable goods of the Debtor be ſold or delivered unto him. And if the Creditor do not take the Debtor alone for the ſurety of his payment, by reaſon whereof, Pledges or Mainpernors be founden, then thoſe Pledges or Mainpernors ſhall come before the Mayor and Clerk aboveſaid, and ſhall bind themſelves by Writings and Recogniſances, as afore is ſaid of the Debtor. And in like manner, if the debt be not paid at the day limited, ſuch execution ſhall be awarded againſt the Pledges or Mainpernors, as before is ſaid of the Debtor.

Provided nevertheleſs, that ſo long as the Debt may be fully taken and levied of the goods moveable of the Debtor, the Mainpernors or pledges ſhall be without damage: Notwithſtanding, for default of moveable goods of the Debtor, the Creditor ſhall have execution of his Recogniſance upon the Mainpernors or pledges, in ſuch manner and form as before is limited, againſt the principal Debtor. The Statute of Weſtminſter 2. made Anno 13 Ed. 1. and Anno Dom. 1285.

WHere of late our Lord the King, in the Quinzime of St. John Baptiſt, the ſixth year of his Reign, calling together the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and his Council at Glouceſter, and conſidering that divers of this Realm were diſherited, by reaſon that in many caſes, where remedy ſhould have been had, there was none provided by him nor his predeceſſors, ordained certain Statutes right neceſſary and profitable for his Realm, whereby the people of England and Ireland, being ſubjects unto his power, have obtained more ſpeedy juſtice in their oppreſſions, then they had before, and certain caſes (wherein the Law failed) did remain undetermined, and ſome remained to be Enacted, that were for the reformation of the oppreſſions of the people: Our Lord the King in his Parliament, after the feaſt of Eaſter, holden the thirteenth year of his Reign at Weſtminſter, cauſed many oppreſſions of the people, and defaults of the Laws, for the accompliſhment of the ſaid Statutes of Glouceſter, to be rehearſed, and thereupon did provide certain Acts, as ſhall appear here following.

FIrſt concerning Lands that many times are given upon condition, that is to wit, where any giveth his land to any man and his wife, and to the heirs begotten of the bodies of the ſame man and his wife, with ſuch condition expreſſed, that if the ſame man and his wife die without heirs of their bodies between them begotten, the Land ſo given ſhall revert to the giver or his heir. In caſe alſo where one giveth lands in free marriage, which gift hath a condition annexed, though it be not expreſſed in the deed of gift, which is this: That if the huſband and wife die without heir of their bodies begotten, the land ſo given ſhall revert to the giver or his heir. In caſe alſo where one giveth land to another, and the heirs of his body iſſuing: it ſeemed very hard, and yet ſeemeth to the givers and their heirs, that their Will being expreſſed in the gift, was not heretofore, nor yet is obſerved. In all the caſes aforeſaid, after iſſue begotten and born between them (to whom the lands were given under ſuch condition) heretofore ſuch Feoffees had power to alien the land ſo given, and to diſherit their iſſue of the land, contrary to the minds of the givers, and contrary to the form expreſſed in the gift. And further, when the iſſue of ſuch Feoffee is failing, the Land ſo given, ought to return to the giver, or his heir, by form of the Gift expreſſed in the Deed, though the iſſue (if any were) had died: yet by the Deed and Feoffment of them (to whom Land was ſo given upon condition) the Donors have heretofore been barred of their reverſion, which was directly repugnant to the form of the gift.

CAP. II.

The miſchiefs which Lords diſtraining their Tenants did ſuffer. V.N,B.f.162.

Co.Inſt.2 par. 337.

FOraſmuch as Lords of Fees diſtraining their Tenants for ſervices and cuſtoms due unto them, are many times grieved, becauſe their Tenants do replevy the diſtreſs by Writ or without Writ. And when that Lords at the complaint of their Tenants, do come by Attachment into the County, or unto another Court, having power to hold Pleas of Withernam, and do avow the taking good and lawful, by reaſon that the Tenants diſavow to hold ought, nor do claim to hold any thing of him (which took the diſtreſs, and avowed it) he that diſtrained is amerced, and the Tenants go quit, to whom puniſhment cannot be aſſigned for ſuch diſavowing by Record of the County, or of other Courts having no Record.

13 H.7.f.1.

It is provided and ordained from henceforth, That where ſuch Lords cannot obtain Juſtice in Counties, and ſuch manner of Courts againſt their Tenants, as ſoon as they ſhall be attached at the ſuit of their Tenants, a Writ ſhall be granted to them to remove the Plea before the Juſtices, afore whom, and none otherwhere, Juſtice may be miniſtred unto ſuch Lords. And the cauſe ſhall be put in the Writ, becauſe ſuch a man diſtrained in his Fee for Services and Cuſtoms to him due. Neither is this Act prejudicial to the Law commonly uſed, which did not permit that any Plea ſhould be moved before Juſtices at the ſuit of the defendant: For though it appear at the firſt ſhew that the Tenant is plaintiff, and the Lord defendant, nevertheleſs having reſpect to that, that the Lord hath diſtrained and ſueth for Services and Cuſtoms being behind, he appeareth indeed to be rather actor or plaintiff then defendant. And to the intent the Juſtices may know upon what freſh ſeiſin the Lords may avow the diſtreſs reaſonably upon their Tenants: From henceforth it is agreed and Enacted, That a reaſonable diſtreſs may be avowed upon the ſeiſin, of any anceſtor or predeceſſor ſince the time that a Writ of novel diſſeiſin hath run. And becauſe it chanceth ſometimes that the Tenant after that he hath replevied his beaſts, doth ſell or alien them, whereby return cannot be made unto the Lord that diſtrained, if it be adjudged:

It is provided, That Sheriffs or Bailiffs from henceforth ſhall not only receive of the plaintiffs pledges for the purſuing of the ſuit, before they make deliverance of the diſtreſs, but alſo for the return of the beaſts, if return be awarded. And if any take pledges otherwiſe, he ſhall anſwer for the price of the beaſts, and the Lord that diſtraineth, ſhall have his recovery by Writ that he ſhall reſtore unto him ſo many beaſts or cattel: And if the Bailiff be not able to reſtore, his Superiour ſhall reſtore. And foraſmuch as it hapneth ſometime, that after the return of the beaſts is awarded unto the diſtrainor, and the party ſo diſtrained, after that the beaſts be returned, doth replevy them again, and when he ſeeth the diſtrainor appearing in the Court ready to anſwer him, doth make default, whereby return of the beaſts ought to be awarded again unto the diſtrainor, and ſo the beaſts be replevied twice or thrice, and infinitely, and the judgments given in the Kings Court take no effect in this caſe, whereupon no remedy hath been yet provided: In this caſe ſuch proceſs ſhall be awarded, that ſo ſoon as return of the beaſts ſhall be awarded to the diſtrainor, the Sheriff ſhall be commanded by a judicial Writ, to make return of the beaſts unto the diſtrainor; in which Writ it ſhall be expreſſed that the Sheriff ſhall not deliver them without Writ, making mention of the judgment given by the Juſtices, which cannot be without a Writ, iſſuing out of the Rolls of the ſaid Juſtices, before whom the matter was moved. Therefore when he cometh unto the Juſtices, and deſireth replevin of the beaſts, he ſhall have a judicial Writ that the Sheriff taking ſurety for the ſuit, and alſo of the beaſts or cattel to be returned, or the price of them (if return be awarded) ſhall deliver unto him the beaſts or cattel before returned, and the diſtrainor ſhall be attached, to come at a certain day before the Juſtices, afore whom the Plea was moved in preſence of the parties. And if he that replevied make default again, or for another cauſe return of the diſtreſs be awarded, being now twice replevied, the diſtreſs ſhall remain irreplevіable. But if a diſtreſs be taken of new, and for a new cauſe, the proceſs aboveſaid ſhall be obſerved in the ſame new diſtreſs.

In caſe when a man doth loſe by default the Land which was the right of his wife, it was very hard, that the wife after the death of her husband had none other recovery but by a Writ of Right: Wherefore our Lord the King hath ordained that a woman after the death of her husband ſhall recover by a Writ of Entre, (whereto ſhe could not diſagree during his life) which ſhall be pleaded in form under-written. If the Tenant do except againſt the demand of the wife, that he entred by judgment; and if it be found that his Entre was by default, whereto the Tenant of neceſſity muſt make anſwer, if it be demanded of him, then he ſhall be compelled to make further anſwer, and to ſhew his right according to the form of the Writ that he purchaſed before againſt the husband and the wife. And if he can verifie that he hath or had right in the land demanded, the woman ſhall gain nothing by her Writ; which thing if he cannot ſhew, the woman ſhall recover the land in demand: This being obſerved, That if the husband abſent himſelf, and will not defend his wives right, or againſt his wives conſent will render the land, if the wife do come before judgment, ready to anſwer the demandant, and to defend her right, the wife ſhall be admitted. Likewiſe if Tenant in dower, Tenant by the Law of the Land, or otherwiſe for term of life, or by gift, whereas the reverſion is reſerved, do make default, or will give up: the heirs and they to whom the reverſion belongeth, ſhall be admitted to their anſwer if they come before judgment. And if upon ſuch default or ſurrender, judgment hap to be given: then the heirs, or they unto whom the reverſion belongeth, after the death of ſuch Tenants, ſhall have their recovery by a Writ of Entre, in which like Proceſs ſhall be obſerved, as is aforeſaid in caſe where the husband loſeth his wives land by default. And ſo in the caſes aforeſaid two actions to concur, one between the Demandant and Tenant, and another between the Tenant, ſhewing his right, and the Demandant. Where the wife ſhall be endowable of Lands recovered againſt her husband. Where the heir may avoid a Dower recovered. A remedy for particular Tenants loſing by default.

11 H.4.f.21. Fitz.Faux de recon.27.31.

In caſe where the husband being impleaded for land, giveth up ẏ land demanded unto his adverſary by covin: after the death of the husband, the Juſtices ſhall award the wife her dower, if it be demanded by Writ. But in caſe where the huſband loſeth the land in demand by default, if the wife after the death of her huſband, demandeth her dower, it hath been proved that ſome Juſtices have awarded unto the woman her dower notwithſtanding the default which her huſband made, other Juſtices being of the contrary opinion, and judging otherwiſe: To the intent that from henceforth ſuch ambiguity ſhall be taken away, it is thus ordained in certain, That in both caſes the woman demanding her dower, ſhall be heard. And if it be alledged againſt her, that her huſband loſt the land, whereof the dower is demanded by judgment, whereby ſhe ought not to have dower, and then it be enquired by what judgment, and it be found that it was by default, whereunto the Tenant muſt anſwer: then it behoveth the Tenant to anſwer further, and to ſhew that he had right, and hath in the foreſaid land according to the form of the Writ, that the Tenant before purchaſed againſt the huſband: And if he can ſhew that the huſband of ſuch wife had no right in the lands, nor any other but he that holdeth them, the Tenant ſhall go quit, and the wife ſhall recover nothing of her dower; which thing if he cannot ſhew, the wife ſhall recover her dower. And ſo in theſe caſes, and in certain other following, That is to ſay, when the wife being endowed loſeth her dower by default, and Tenants in free marriage, by the Law of England, or for term of life, or in fee-tail, divers actions do concur for ſuch Tenants, when they muſt demand their land loſt by default: And when it is come to that point, that the Tenants muſt be compelled to ſhew their right, they cannot make anſwer without them, to whom the reverſion of right belongeth: therefore it is granted unto them to vouch to warranty, as if they were Tenants, if they have a warranty: And when the warrantor hath warranted, the plea ſhall paſs between him that is ſeiſed and the warrantor, according to the tenor of the Writ that the Tenant purchaſed before, and by which he recovered by default: and ſo from many Actions at length they ſhall reſort to one Judgment, which is this, That the demandants ſhall recover their demand, or the Tenants ſhall go quit. And if the action of ſuch a Tenant, which is compelled to ſhew his right, be moved by a Writ of right, though that the great Aſſiſe or Battail cannot be joyned by the words accuſtomed, yet it ſhal be joyned by words convenient: for when the Tenant, in that he ſheweth his right, which belongeth to him by the Writ that he before purchaſed, in ſtead of a demandant, the warrantor may well defend the right of the Tenant, which is accounted in place of the demandant, as before is ſaid, and offer to defend the ſeiſin of his anceſtors by the body of his freeman, or put himſelf in the great Aſſiſe, and pray recogniſance to be made, whether he hath more right to the land in demand, or elſe the party before named: or otherwiſe the great Aſſiſe may be joyned thus: Talis defendit jus, &c. and ſo the warrantor may defend the right, and knowledge the ſeiſin of his anceſtor, and put himſelf in the great Aſſiſe, &c. and pray recogniſance to be made, whether he hath more right in the foreſaid lands, as in that whereof he infeoffed ſuch a man, or that ſuch a one releaſed and quite claimed, &c. or elſe the foreſaid party, &c. And where ſometime it chanceth that a woman not having right to demand dower, the heir being within age, doth purchaſe a Writ of Dower againſt a Gardian, and the Gardian endoweth the woman by favour, or maketh default, or by colluſion defendeth the plea ſo faintly, whereby the woman is awarded her dower in prejudice of the heir: It is provided that the heir, when he cometh to full age, ſhall have an action to demand the ſeiſin of his anceſtor againſt ſuch a woman, like as he ſhould have againſt any other deforceor. Yet ſo, that the woman ſhall have her exception ſaved againſt the demandant, to ſhew that ſhe had right to her dower; which if ſhe can ſhew, ſhe ſhall go quit and retain her dower, and the heir ſhall be grievouſly amerced, according to the diſcretion of Juſtices: And if not, the heir ſhall recover his demand, &c. In like manner the woman ſhall be aided, if the heir or any other do implead her for her dower, or if ſhe loſe her dower by default, in which caſe the default ſhall not be ſo prejudicial to her, but that ſhe ſhall recover her dower, if ſhe have right thereto, and ſhe ſhall have this Writ:

The wife ſhall be endowable though ẏ land be recovered againſt her husband by covin or by default.

CAP. V.

Remedies to redreſs Uſurpations of Advowſons of Churches, &c.

Whereas of Advowſons of Churches there be but three original Writs, that is to ſay, one Writ of Right, and two of Poſſeſſion, which be Darrain preſentment, and Quare Impedit: and hitherto it hath been uſed in the Realm, that when any having no right to preſent, had preſented to any Church whoſe Clerk was admitted; he that was very Patron could not recover his Advowſon, but only by a Writ of Right, which ſhould be tryed by battail,

The ſame ſhall be obſerved in Preſentment made unto Churches, being of the inheritance of wives what time they ſhall be under the power of their husbands, which muſt be aided by this eſtatute by the remedy aforeſaid. Neither ſhall this act be ſo largely underſtanden, that ſuch perſons, for whoſe remedy this Statute was ordained, ſhall have the recovery aforeſaid, ſurmiſing that Guardians of heirs, Tenants in tail, by the courteſie, Tenants in Dower, for term of life or for years, or husbands, which faintly have defended pleas moved by them or againſt them: becauſe the Judgments given in the Kings Courts ſhall not be adnulled by this Statute, the Judgment ſhall ſtand in his force, until it be reverſed in the Court of the King as erroneous, if errour be found, or by aſſiſe of Darrain preſentment, or by Enqueſt by a Writ of Quare impedit, if it be paſſed, or be adnulled by attaint or certification, which ſhall be freely granted. And from henceforth one form of pleading ſhall be obſerved among Juſtices in Writs of Darrain preſentment, and Quare impedit, in this reſpect, if the defendant alledgeth plenarty of the Church of his own preſentation, the plea ſhall not fail by reaſon of the plenarty: ſo that the Writ be purchaſed within ſix months, though he cannot recover his Preſentation within the ſix months. And ſometimes where an agreement is made between many claiming one Advowſon, and inrolled before the Juſtices in the Roll, or by fine, in this form, That one ſhall preſent the firſt time, and at the next avoidance another, and the third time another; and ſo of many, in caſe there be many. And when one hath preſented, and had his preſentation, which he ought to have according to the form of their agreement and fine, and at the next avoidance he to whom the ſecond preſentation belongeth, is diſturbed by any that was party to the ſaid fine, or by ſome other in his ſtead: It is provided, That from henceforth they that be ſo diſturbed, ſhall have no need to ſue a Quare impedit, but ſhall reſort to the Roll or Fine. And if the ſaid concord or agreement be found in the Roll or Fine, then the Sheriff ſhall be commanded, that he give knowledge unto the diſturber, that he be ready at ſome ſhort day containing the ſpace of fifteen days, or three weeks (as the place happeneth to be near or far) for to ſhew if he can alledge any thing, wherefore the party that is diſturbed, ought not to preſent. And if he come not, or peradventure doth come, and can alledge nothing to bar the party of his preſentation, by reaſon of any deed made or written ſince the Fine was made or inrolled, he ſhall recover his preſentation with his damages. And where it chanceth that after the death of the anceſtor of him that preſented his Clerk unto a Church, the ſame advowſon is aſſigned in dower to any woman, or to tenant by the courteſie, which do preſent, and after the death of ſuch tenants, the very heir is diſturbed to preſent when the Church is void: It is provided, That from henceforth it ſhall be in the election of the party diſturbed, whether he ſhall ſue a Writ of Quare impedit, or of Darrain preſentment: the ſame ſhall be obſerved in advowſons demiſed for term of life, or years, or in fee-tail.

When any demandeth land againſt another, and the party that is impleaded, voucheth to warranty, and the warrantor denieth his warranty, and the plea hangeth long between the tenant and the warrantor: and at length, when it is tried, that the vouchee is bound to warranty, by the law and cuſtom of the Realm hitherto uſed, there was none other puniſhment aſſigned for the vouchee, that denieth his warranty, but onely that he ſhould warrantiſe, and ſhould be amerced, becauſe he did not warrant before, which was prejudicial unto the demandant, becauſe he ſuffered oftentimes great delays by colluſion between the tenant and the warrantor. Wherefore our Lord the King hath ordained, that like as the tenant ſhould leeſe the land being in demand, in caſe where he vouched, and the vouchee could diſcharge himſelf of the warranty, in the ſame wiſe ſhall the warrantor leeſe, in caſe where he denieth his warranty, and it be tried againſt him that he is bounden to warranty. Whereas by a plea moved upon a writ of Admeaſurement of paſture, the paſture was ſometime admeaſured before the Juſtices, ſometime before the Sheriff in the County; and it chanced many times, after ſuch admeaſurement made, the paſture to be overcharged again by him that firſt did it, with moe beaſts then he ought to keep, whereupon no remedy hath been yet provided: It is ordained, that upon the ſecond over-charge, the plaintiff ſhall have remedy in this manner: If the admeaſurement were before the Juſtices, the plaintiff ſhall have a writ judicial, that the Sheriff in preſence of the parties being ſummoned (if they will come) ſhall inquire upon the ſecond over-charge: which if it be found, it ſhall be returned before the Juſtices, under the ſeals of the Sheriff, and the ſeals of the Jurors: And the Juſtices ſhall award the plaintiff damages, and ſhall put in the extreats the value of the beaſts, which were put into the paſture after ſuch admeaſurement more then he ought, and ſhall deliver the extreats unto the Barons of the Exchequer, whereof they ſhall anſwer unto the King. If ſuch admeaſurement were made in the County, then at the requeſt of the plaintiff, a Writ ſhall go out of the Chancery, that the Sheriff ſhall inquire of ſuch over-charge, and of the beaſts put in the paſture above the due number, or for the value of them, and he ſhall anſwer to the King at the Exchequer. In what caſe the Writ of Meſne is to be purſued.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 370.

When chief Lords diſtrain in their fee for cuſtoms and ſervices to them due, and there is a mean which ought to acquit the tenant, ſithence it lieth not in the mouth of the tenant, after that he hath replevied the diſtreſs, to deny the demand of the chief Lord, which avoweth in the Kings Court, that the diſtreſs is lawfully taken upon his tenant, which is upon the Mean, and many have been heretofore ſore grieved by ſuch diſtreſſes, in ſo much as the Mean (notwithſtanding that he hath whereby he may be diſtrained) doth make long delays before he will come into the Court to anſwer for his Tenant unto the Writ of Mean, and further the caſe was moſt hard when the Mean had nothing: In caſe alſo when the tenant was ready to do his ſervices and cuſtoms unto his Lord, and the chief Lord would refuſe to take ſuch ſervices and cuſtoms by the hands of any other then of his next tenant, and ſo ſuch tenants in demean loſt ſomewhiles the profits of their lands for a time, and ſomewhiles for their whole time, and hitherto no remedy hath been provided in this caſe: A remedy is provided and ordained hereafter in this form, That ſo ſoon as ſuch tenant in demean (having a Mean between him and the chief Lord) is diſtrained, incontinent the tenant ſhall purchaſe his Writ of Mean. And if the Mean having land in the ſame County, abſent himſelf until the great diſtreſs awarded, the plaintiff ſhall have ſuch day given him in his Writ of Great diſtreſs, afore the coming whereof two Counties may be holden, and the Sheriff ſhall be commanded to diſtrain the Mean by the great diſtreſs, like as it is contained in the Writ, and nevertheleſs the Sheriff in two full Counties ſhall cauſe to be proclaimed ſolemnly, that the mean do come at a day contained in the Writ, to anſwer his tenant; at which day if he come, the plea ſhall paſs between them after the common uſage; and if he do not come, then ſuch Meſne ſhall loſe the ſervices of his tenant; and from henceforth the tenant ſhall not anſwer him in any thing, but the ſame Mean being excluded, he ſhall anſwer unto the chief Lord for ſuch ſervices and cuſtoms, as before he ought to have done to the ſame Mean. Neither ſhall the chief Lord have power to diſtrain, ſo long as the foreſaid tenant doth offer him the ſervices and cuſtoms due. And if the chief Lord exact more then the Mean ought to do, the tenant in ſuch caſe ſhall have ſuch exceptions as the Mean ſhould. And if the Mean have nothing within the Kings Dominion, the tenant ſhall nevertheleſs purchaſe his Writ of Mean, to the Sheriff of the ſame Shire wherein he is diſtrained. And if the Sheriff return, that he hath nothing whereby he may be ſummoned, then ſhall the tenant ſue his Writ of Attachment. And if the Sheriff return, that he hath nothing to be attached by, he ſhall nevertheleſs ſue his Writ of Great diſtreſs, and Proclamation ſhall be made in form above ſaid. And if the Mean have no land in the Shire, where the diſtreſs is taken, but hath land in ſome other Shire, then a Writ Original ſhall iſſue to ſummon the Mean, unto the Sheriff of the ſame Shire (where the diſtreſs is taken) and when it is returned by the Sheriff, that he hath nothing in his Shire, a Writ Judicial ſhall iſſue to ſummon the Mean unto the Sheriff of the ſame Shire, in which it ſhall be teſtified that he hath land, and ſuit ſhall be made in the ſame Shire until they have paſſed unto the great diſtreſs and Proclamation, as above is ſaid, of the Mean having land in the ſame Shire in which the diſtreſs is taken. And nevertheleſs ſuit ſhall be made in the ſame Shire, where he hath nothing, as above is ſaid of the Mean that hath nothing, until the Proceſs come to the great diſtreſs and Proclamation; and ſo after Proclamation made in both Counties, the Mean ſhall be forejudged of his fee and ſervice. And where it happeneth ſometimes, that the tenant in demean is infeoffed to hold by leſs ſervice then the Mean ought to do unto the chief Lord, when after ſuch Proclamation the tenant hath atturned to the chief Lord, and the Mean being excluded, the tenant muſt of neceſſity anſwer unto the chief Lord, for all ſuch ſervices and cuſtoms as the Mean was wont to do to him. And after that the Mean is come into the Court, and hath confeſſed that he ought to acquit his tenant, or be compelled by judgment to acquit, if after ſuch confeſſion or judgment it is complained, that the Mean doth not acquit his tenant, then ſhall iſſue a Writ Judicial, that the Sheriff ſhall diſtrain the Mean to acquit the tenant, and to be at a certain day before the Juſticers, for to ſhew why he hath not acquitted him before; and when they have proceeded unto the great diſtreſs, the plaintiff ſhall be heard. And if the plaintiff can prove that he hath not acquitted him, he ſhall yield damages, and by award of the Court the tenant ſhall go quit from the Mean, and ſhall atturn unto the chief Lord. And if he come not at the firſt diſtreſs, a Writ ſhall go forth to diſtrain him again, and proclamation ſhall be made, and as ſoon as it is returned, they ſhall proceed in judgment, as afore is ſaid. And it is to be underſtanden, that by this Statute tenants are not excluded, but they ſhall have a warranty of the Means and their heirs, if they be impleaded of their lands, as they have had before, nor the tenants ſhall be excluded, but that they may ſue againſt their Means, as they uſed heretofore, if they ſee that their Proceſs may be more available by the old cuſtom, then by this Statute. And it is to wit, that by this Statute no remedy is provided to any Means, but onely in caſe where there is but one onely Mean between the Lord that diſtraineth, and the tenant, and in caſe where that Mean is full of age, and in caſe where the tenant may atturn unto the chief Lord without prejudice of any other then of the Mean, which is ſpoken for women, tenants in dower, and tenants by the courteſie, or otherwiſe for term of life, or in fee-tail, unto whom for certain cauſes remedy is not yet provided, but (God willing) there ſhall be at another time. Foraſmuch as many through malice intending to grieve other, do procure falſe appeals to be made of Homicides and other felonies by Appellors, having nothing to ſatisfie the King for their falſe appeal, nor to the parties appealed for their damages: it is ordained, that when any being appealed of felony ſurmiſed upon him, doth acquit himſelf in the Kings Court in due manner, either at the ſuit of the Appellor, or of our Lord the King; the Juſtices before whom the appeal ſhall be heard and determined, ſhall puniſh the appellor by a years impriſonment, and the appellors ſhall nevertheleſs reſtore to the parties appealed their damages, according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices, having reſpect to the impriſonment or arreſtment that the party appealed hath ſuſtained by reaſon of ſuch appeals, and to the infamy that they have incurred by the impriſonment or otherwiſe, and ſhall nevertheleſs make a grievous fine unto the King. And if peradventure ſuch appellor be not able to recompence the damages, it ſhall be inquired by whoſe abetment or malice the appeal was commenced, if the party appealed deſire it. And if it be found by the ſame inqueſt, that any man is abettor through malice, at the ſuit of the party appealed, he ſhall be diſtrained by a judicial Writ to come before the Juſtices. And in all the caſes afore rehearſed, according to the cuſtomed manner, the Writ ſhall be De libero tenemento. And as beforetimes it hath lien and holden place in common of paſture, ſo ſhall it from henceforth hold place in common of Turf-land, Fiſhing, and ſuch like commons, which any man hath appendant to freehold, or without freehold by ſpecial deed, at the leaſt for term of life. In caſe alſo when any holding for term of years, or in ward, alieneth the ſame in fee, and by ſuch alienation the freehold is transferred to the Feoffee, the remedy ſhall be by a writ of novel diſſeiſin, and as well the Feoffors as the Feoffee ſhall be had for diſſeiſors, ſo that during the life of any of them the ſaid writ ſhall hold place. And if by the death of the parties remedy happen to fail, by that writ, then remedy ſhall be obtained by a Writ of Entre. And albeit that above mention is made of ſome caſes wherein a Writ of novel diſſeiſin held no place before, let no man think therefore that this writ lieth not now where it hath lien before. And though ſome have doubted whether a remedy be had by this Writ in caſe where one feedeth in the ſeveral of another, let it be had for certain, that a good and a ſure remedy is given in that caſe by the ſaid writ. And let them which be named diſſeiſors beware from henceforth that they alledge not falſe Exceptions, whereby the taking of the Aſſiſe may be deferred, ſaying that another time an Aſſiſe of the ſame land paſſed between the ſame parties, or ſaying and falſely, that a writ of more high nature hangeth between the ſame parties for the ſame land, and upon theſe and like matters do vouch Rolls or Records to warranty, to the end that by the ſame vouching they may take away the veſture, and receive the rents and other profits, to the great damage of the plaintiff. And where before none other pain was limited againſt him that falſly had alledged ſuch untrue Exceptions, but only that after ſuch falſe ſurmiſes diſproved, the Aſſiſe ſhould paſs: Our Lord the King, to whom ſuch falſe Exceptions be odious, hath ordained, that if any being named diſſeiſor do perſonally alledge the Exception at the day to him given (if he fail of the warranty that he hath vouched) he ſhall be adjudged for a diſſeiſor without taking of the Aſſiſe, and ſhall reſtore the damages before inquired of, or to be inquired after to the double, and ſhall nevertheleſs have a years impriſonment for his falſhood. And if that Exception be alledged by a Bailiff, the taking of the Aſſiſe ſhall not be delayed therefore, nor the judgment upon the reſtitution of the lands and damages. Yet nevertheleſs, that if the Maſter of ſuch a Bailiff that was abſent, come after before the ſame Juſtices that took the Aſſiſe, and offer to prove by Record or Rolls, that another time an Aſſiſe paſſed between the ſame parties of the ſame land, or that the plaintiff at another time did withdraw his ſuit in a like Writ, or that a plea hangeth by a writ of more high nature: a Writ of Venire facias ſhall be granted unto him to cauſe the ſame Record to be brought; and when he hath the ſame, and the Juſtices do perceive that the Record ſo ſhewed by him would have been ſo available before the judgment, that the plaintiff by force of the ſame ſhould have been barred of his Action; the Juſtices ſhall preſently cauſe the party to be warned that firſt recovered, that he appear at a certain day, at the which the defendant ſhall have again his ſeiſin and damages (if he before paid any by the firſt judgment given) which ſhall be reſtored him to the double, as before is ſaid, and alſo he that firſt recovered ſhall be puniſhed by impriſonment according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices. In the ſame manner, if the defendant againſt whom the Aſſiſe paſſed in his abſence, ſhew any deeds or releaſes, upon the making whereof, the Jury were not examined, nor could be examined, becauſe there was no mention made of them in pleading, and by probability might be ignorant of the making of thoſe writings, The Juſtices upon the ſight of thoſe writings ſhall cauſe the party to be warned that recovered, that he appear at a certain day, and ſhall cauſe the Jurors of the ſame Aſſiſe to come. And if he ſhall verifie thoſe writings to be true by the verdict of the Jurors, or by inrolment, he that purchaſed the Aſſiſe contrary to his own deed ſhall be puniſhed by the pain aforeſaid. And the Sheriff from henceforth ſhall not take an Ox of the diſſeiſee, but of the diſſeiſor only; and if there be many diſſeiſors named in one writ, yet ſhall he be contented with one Ox: nor ſhall receive any Ox but of v. s. price, or the value.

From henceforth two Juſtices ſworn ſhall be aſſigned, before whom and none other, aſſiſes of Novel diſſeiſin, Mortdaunceſtor and Attaints ſhall be taken, and they ſhall aſſociate unto them one or two of the diſcreeteſt Knights of the Shire into which they ſhall come, and ſhall take the foreſaid Aſſiſes and attaints but thrice in the year at the moſt, that is to ſay: Firſt, between the quinzime of St. John Baptiſt, and the gule of Auguſt; and the ſecond time, between the feaſt of the Exaltation of the holy Croſs, and the utas of S. Michael; and the third time between the Feaſt of the Epiphany, and the feaſt of the purification of the bleſſed Mary. And in every Shire at every taking of Aſſiſes before their departure, they ſhall appoint the day of their return, ſo that every one of the Shire may know of their coming, and ſhall adjourn the Aſſiſes from term to term, if the taking of them be deferred at any day by vouching to warranty, by eſſoin or by default of Jurors. And if they ſee that it be profitable for any cauſe that Aſſiſes of Mortdaunceſtor, being reſpited by eſſoin, or voucher, ought to be adjourned into the Bench: it ſhall be lawful for them to do it, and then they ſhall ſend the Record with the original Writ before the Juſtices of the Bench. And when the matter is come to the taking of the aſſiſe, the Juſtices of the Bench ſhall remit the matter to the former Juſtices before whom the Aſſiſe ſhall be taken. Inquiſition of Treſpaſs ſhall be determined before the Juſtices of both Benches, except the Treſpaſs be ſo heinous that it ſhall require great examination. Inquiſitions alſo of other Pleas pleaded in either of the Benches, ſhall be determined before them, wherein ſmall examination is required, as when the entry or ſeiſin of any is denied, or in caſe when one article is to be inquired. But inquiſitions of many and great articles, the which require great examination, ſhall be taken before Juſtices of the Bench, except that both parties deſire that the Inquiſition may be taken afore ſome of the aſſociates, when they do come into thoſe parts; ſo that from henceforth it ſhall not be done but by two Juſtices, or one with ſome Knight of the Shire, upon whom the parties can agree. CAP. XXXIX.

The manner to deliver Writs to the Sheriff to be executed. The Sheriff returneth a Liberty where none is. Returning of Iſſues. Reſiſtance of execution of Proceſs.

FOraſmuch as Juſtices, to whoſe Office it belongeth to miniſter Juſtice to all that ſue before them, are many times diſturbed in due execution of their Office, for that Sheriffs do not return Writs original and judicial, and alſo for that they make falſe returns unto the Kings Writs: Our Lord the King hath provided and ordained, That ſuch as do fear the malice of Sheriffs, ſhall deliver their Writs original and judicial in the open County, or in the County where the collection of the Kings money is; and may take of the Sheriff or Underſheriff being preſent, a Bill, wherein the names of the demandants and tenants mentioned in the Writ ſhall be contained; and at the requeſt of him that delivered the Writ, the ſeal of the Sheriff or Underſheriff ſhall be put to the Bill for a teſtimony, and mention ſhall be made of the day of the deliverance of the Writ. And if the Sheriff or Underſheriff will not put his ſeal to the Bill, the witneſs of Knights and other credible perſons being in preſence ſhall be taken, that put their ſeals to ſuch Bill. And if the Sheriff will not return Writs delivered unto him, and complaint thereof be made to the Juſtices, a Writ judicial ſhall go unto the Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes, that they ſhall inquire by ſuch as were preſent at the deliverance of the Writ to the Sheriff, if they knew of the deliverance, and an inqueſt ſhall be returned. And if it be found by the inqueſt, that the Writ was delivered to him, damages ſhall be awarded to the plaintiff or demandant: having reſpect to the quality and quantity of the Action, and to the peril that might have come to him by reaſon of the delay that he ſuſtained: and by this mean there ſhall be remedy when the Sheriff returneth that he came too late, whereby he could not execute the Kings commandment. Oftentimes alſo pleas be delayed by reaſon that the Sheriff returneth that he hath commanded the Bailiffs of ſome Liberty which did nothing therein, and nameth Liberties that never had the return of Writs; whereupon our Lord the King hath ordained, That the Treaſurer and Barons of the Exchequer ſhall deliver to the Juſtices in a roll all the Liberties in all Shires that have return of Writs. And if the Sheriff anſwer that he hath made return to a Bailiff of another Liberty, then is contained in the ſaid roll, the Sheriff ſhall be forthwith puniſhed as a diſheritor of our Lord the King and his Crown. And if peradventure he return that he hath delivered the Writ to a Bailiff of ſome Liberty, that indeed hath return, the Sheriff ſhall be commanded, that he will not ſpare for the foreſaid Liberty, but ſhall execute the Kings precept: and that he do the Bailiffs to wit, to whom he returned the Writ, that they be ready at a day contained in the Writ, to anſwer why they did not execute the Kings precept. And if they come at the day, and acquit themſelves, that no return was made to them, the Sheriff ſhall be forthwith condemned to the Lord of the ſame Liberty, and likewiſe to the party grieved by the delay, for to render damage. And if the Bailiffs come not in at the day, or do come, and do not acquit themſelves in manner aforeſaid in every judicial Writ, ſo long as the plea hangeth, the Sheriff ſhall be commanded that he ſhall not ſpare the Liberty, &c. Many times alſo Sheriffs make falſe returns as touching theſe articles, Quod de exitibus, &c. returning ſometime, and lying, that there be no iſſues, ſometime that there are ſmall iſſues, when they may return great, and ſometime do make mention of no iſſues: wherefore it is ordained and agreed, That if the plaintiff demand hearing of the Sheriffs return, it ſhall be granted him: And if he offer to aver that the Sheriff might have returned greater iſſues unto the King, he ſhall have a Writ judicial unto the Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes, that they ſhall inquire in preſence of the Sheriff (if he will be there) of what and how great iſſues the Sheriff might have made return from the day of the Writ purchaſed unto the day contained in the Writ. And when the Inqueſt is returned, if he have not afore anſwered for the whole, he ſhall be charged with overplus by extreats of the Juſtices delivered at the Eſchequer, and nevertheleſs ſhall be grievouſly amerced for the concealment. And let the Sheriff know, that rents, corn in the grange, and all moveables (except horſe, harneſs, and huſholdſtuff) be contained within the name of Iſſues. And the King hath commanded, That Sheriffs ſhall be puniſhed by the Juſtices once or twice (if need be) for ſuch falſe returns. And if they offend the third time, none ſhall have to do therewith but the King. They make alſo many times falſe anſwers, returning that they could not execute the Kings precept, for the reſiſtance of ſome great men: wherefore let the Sheriffs beware from henceforth; for ſuch manner of anſwers redound much to the diſhonour of the King. And aſſoon as the Bailiffs do teſtifie that they found ſuch reſiſtance, forthwith all things ſet apart (taking with him the power of the Shire) he ſhall go in proper perſon to do execution: and if he find his Under-Bailiffs falſe, he ſhall puniſh them by impriſonment, ſo that other by their example may be reformed. And if he do find them true, he ſhall puniſh the reſiſters by impriſonment, from whence they ſhall not be delivered without the Kings ſpecial commandment. And if percaſe the Sheriff when he cometh do find reſiſtance, he ſhall certifie to the Court the names of the reſiſters, aidors, conſentors, commanders, and favourers, and by a Writ judicial they ſhall be attached by their bodies to appear at the Kings Court: and if they be convict of ſuch reſiſtance, they ſhall be puniſhed at the Kings pleaſure: neither ſhall any Officer of the Kings meddle in aſſigning the puniſhment, for our Lord the King hath reſerved it ſpecially to himſelf, becauſe that reſiſters have been reputed diſturbers of his peace, and of his Realm. The ſeveral Fees of Marſhals, Chamberlains, Porters of Juſtices in Eyre, &c.

The ſeveral fees of Marſhals, Chamberlains, &c. which have the office in fee.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 461.

COncerning the Kings Marſhals of Fee, Chamberlains, Porters, in the Circuit of Juſtices and Sergeants; bearing vierge before Juſtices at Weſtminſter, which have the ſame Office in Fee, and that ask more by reaſon of their Fee, then they have uſed to ask, whereupon many do complain on them, that have known and ſeen the order of the Court of long time. Our Lord the King hath cauſed to be enquired by an Inqueſt what the ſaid Officers of Fee have uſed to have in times paſſed, and hath ordained and commanded, That a Marſhal of Fee, which of new asketh a palfray of Earls, Barons, and other holding by a part of a Barony when they have done homage, and neverthleſs, another palfray when they are made Knights, and of ſome that ought not to give any, ask a palfray: It is in like manner ordained, That the ſaid Marſhal of every Earl and Baron holding by an entire Barony, ſhall be contented with one palfray, or with the price of it, ſuch as he hath uſed to have of old: ſo that if he took a palfray, or the price of one, at the doing of his homage, in form aforeſaid, he ſhall take nothing when he is made Knight: and if he take nothing at the doing of his homage, when he is made Knight he ſhall take. Of Abbots and Priors, holding an whole Barony, when they do homage or fealty for their Baronies, he ſhall take one palfray, or the price, as afore is ſaid, and this ſhall alſo be obſerved amongſt Archbiſhops and Biſhops, of ſuch as hold but part of a Barony, whether they be religious or ſecular, he ſhall take according to the portion of the part of the Barony that they hold. Of Religious men that hold in free Alms and not by a Barony, nor part of a Barony, the Marſhal from henceforth ſhall demand nothing. And our Lord the King hath granted, That by this Statute a Marſhal of Fee ſhall not be barred hereafter to demand more, if he can ſhew that he hath right unto more. The Kings Chamberlains from henceforth ſhall have of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots and Priors, and other perſons Spiritual, of Earls and Barons holding an entire Barony, a reaſonable Fine, when they do their homage, or fealty. And if they hold by a part of a Barony, they ſhall take a reaſonable fine, according to the portion to them belonging. Other Abbots, Priors, and other perſons Spiritual and Temporal that hold no entire Barony, nor part of a Barony, ſhall not be diſtrained to make Fine, as it is ſaid by them that hold by a Barony, or part of a Barony: but the Chamberlain ſhall be contented with his upper garment, or with the price thereof; which is done in favour of perſons Religious more then of lay perſons, for it is more convenient that Religious men ſhould Fine for their upper garment, then to be ſtripped.

And foraſmuch as ſuch perſons priviledged, depute Keepers, Subpriors, Chantors, Sextons, which be religious men, & which have nothing to ſatisfie the parties grieved, nor the King, which be more bold to offend the Kings dignity then their ſuperiours, to whom puniſhment may be aſſigned by their temporalities: Let the Prelates of ſuch obedients therefore beware from henceforth, that they do not ſuffer their obedients to uſurp any juriſdiction in prejudice of the King and his Crown: And if they do, their ſuperiours ſhall be charged for their fact, as much as if they had been convict upon their proper Act.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 467.

The fees of Porters carrying Verges before the Juſtices.

Concerning Porters, bearing Verge before Juſtices of the Bench in the Circuit: It is provided that of every Aſſiſe and Jury that they keep, they ſhall take x d. onely, and for the Bills nothing. Of ſuch as recover their demands by default, confeſſion, or otherwiſe by judgment without Aſſiſe and Jury, they ſhall take nothing. Of ſuch as go without day by default of the demandant or plaintiff, they ſhall take nothing. And if any recover his demand againſt many by one Writ, and by Recogniſance of Aſſiſe or Jury, they ſhall be content with iiii d. And likewiſe of thoſe which be named in one Writ by Recogniſance of Aſſiſe or Jury, they ſhall be content with iiii d. Of ſuch as do homage in the Bench, they ſhall be content with their upper garment. Of great Aſſiſes, Attaints, Juries, and Battel waged, they ſhall take xii d. onely. Of ſuch as be called before Juſtices to ſue or to defend their pleas, they ſhall take nothing for their coming in or forth. At the pleas of the Crown for every doſen xii d. onely ſhall be taken. Of every priſoner delivered iiii d. ſhall be taken. Of every one whoſe peace is proclaimed xii d. onely ſhall be taken. Of the finders of men ſlain, and others of a Town attached, iiii d. Of Tithing-men nothing ſhall be taken. Of Chirographers for making of a Chirography, it is ordained, that they ſhall be contented with iiii s. Of Clerks writing Writs original and judicial, it is ordained that for one Writ they ſhall take but i d. And the King chargeth all his Juſtices upon their faith and oath that they owe him, that if ſuch manner of Officers offend in any article againſt this Statute, and complaint come to them thereof, they ſhall execute on them reaſonable puniſhment: and if they offend the ſecond time, they ſhall award greater puniſhment, that they may be duely corrected: and if they offend the third time, and be thereupon convicted, if they be Officers of the fee, they ſhall leeſe their fee; and if they be other, they ſhall avoid the Kings Court, and ſhall not be received again without the ſpecial grace and licenſe of the King himſelf. Whereas in a Statute made at Merton, it was granted that Lords of Waſtes, Woods, and Paſtures, might approve the ſaid waſtes, woods, and paſtures, notwithſtanding the contradiction of their tenants, ſo that the tenants had ſufficient paſture to their tenements with free egreſs and regreſs to the ſame. And foraſmuch as no mention was made between neighbours and neighbours, many Lords of waſtes, woods, and paſtures have been hindred heretofore by the contradiction of neighbours having ſufficient paſture. And becauſe forrain tenants have no more right to Common in the waſtes, woods, or paſtures of any Lord then the Lords own tenants: It is ordained, That the Statute of Merton, provided between the Lord and his tenants, from henceforth, ſhall hold place between Lords of waſtes, woods, and paſtures, and their neighbours, ſaving ſufficient paſture to their tenants and neighbours, ſo that the Lords of ſuch waſtes, woods, and paſtures may make approvement of the reſidue: and this ſhall be obſerved for ſuch as claim paſture as appurtenant

High-ways in Market-towns ſhall be inlarged.

AND further it is commanded, That high-ways leading from one Market-town to another, ſhall be enlarged, whereas Buſhes, Woods, or Dykes be, ſo that there be neither Dyke, Tree, nor Buſh, whereby a man may lurk to do hurt, within two hundred foot of the one ſide, and two hundred foot of the other ſide of the way: ſo that this Statute ſhall not extend unto Aſhes nor unto great Trees, for which it ſhall be clearly out of this. And if by default of the Lord that will not avoid the Dike, Underwood, or Buſhes in the manner aforeſaid, any robberies be done therein, the Lord ſhall be anſwerable for the felony; and if murder be done, the Lord ſhall make a fine at the Kings pleaſure. And if the Lord be not able to fell the underwoods, the Countrey ſhall aid him therein. And the King willeth, that in his Demean Lands and Woods within his Foreſt and without, the way ſhall be enlarged, (as before is ſaid.) And if percaſe a Park be taken from the high-way, it is requiſite that the Lord ſhall ſet his Park the ſpace of two hundred foot from the high-ways, as before is ſaid, or that he make ſuch a Wall, Dike, or Hedge, that offendors may not paſs ne return to do evil. The Statute of Merchants made at Weſtminſter 13 Ed. 1. & Anno Dom. 1258.

CAP. I.

The form of knowledging a Statute Merchant. The Creditors remedy if his debt be not paid. The Kings Seals ſhall be ſent to Keepers of Fairs. Taking of a Recogniſance.

St. Acton-Burnel, An. 11 Ed. 1.

FOraſmuch as Merchants, which heretofore have lent their goods to divers perſons, be fallen in poverty, becauſe there is no ſpeedy remedy provided, whereby they may ſhortly recover their debt at the day of payment: and for this cauſe many Merchants do refrain to come into the Realm with their merchandiſe, to the damage of Merchants, and of all the Realm: The King and his Council at his Parliament holden at Acton-Burnel, after the Feaſt of St. Michael, the eleventh year of his reign, hath ordained theſe eſtabliſhments thereupon for the remedy of ſuch Merchants: which ordinances and eſtabliſhments, the King commandeth that they ſhall be firmly kept and obſerved throughout his Realm, whereby Merchants may have remedy, and leſs trouble and buſineſs to recover their debts, then they have had heretofore. But foraſmuch as Merchants after complained unto the King, that Sheriffs miſinterpreted his Statutes, and ſometimes by malice and falſe interpretation delayed the execution of the Statute, to the great damage of Merchants: The King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter after Eaſter, the thirteenth year of his Reign, cauſed the ſaid Statute made at Acton-Burnel, to be rehearſed. And for the declaration of certain articles in the Statute aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That a Merchant who will be ſure of his debt, ſhall cauſe his debtor to come before the Mayor of London, or before ſome chief Warden of a City, or of another good Town, where the King ſhall appoint, and before the Maſter or chief Warden, or other ſufficient men choſen and ſworn thereto, when the Mayor or chief Warden cannot attend, and before one of the Clerks that the King ſhall thereto aſſign, when both cannot attend, he ſhall knowledge the debt, and the day of payment: And the Recogniſance ſhall be inrolled by one of the Clerks hands being known; and the Roll ſhall be double, whereof one part ſhall remain with the Mayor, or chief Warden, and the other with the Clerks that thereto ſhall be firſt named: And further, one of the ſaid Clerks with his own hand ſhall write an Obligation, to which writing the Seal of the debtor ſhall be put with the Kings Seal, provided for the ſame intent: which Seal ſhall be of two pieces, whereof the greater piece ſhall remain in the cuſtody of the Mayor, or the chief Warden, and the other piece in the keeping of the fore-ſaid Clerk. And if the debtor do not pay at the day limited unto him, then ſhall the Merchant come to the Mayor and Clerk with his Obligation: And if it be found by the Roll or Writing, that the debt was knowledged, and the day of payment expired, the Mayor, or chief Warden, ſhall cauſe the body of the debtor to be taken (if he be Lay) whenſoever he happeneth to come in their power, and ſhall commit him to the priſon of the Town, if there be any, and he ſhall remain there at his own coſts, until he hath agreed for the debt. And it is commanded, that the Keeper of the Town-priſon ſhall retain him upon the delivery of the Mayor or Warden. And if the Keeper will not receive him, he ſhall be anſwerable for the debt, if he have whereof; and if he have not whereof, he that committeth the priſoner to his keeping ſhall anſwer. And if the debtor cannot be found in the power of

of the Mayor, or chief Warden, then ſhall the Mayor, or chief Warden ſend into the Chancery under the Kings Seal, the recogniſance of the debt: and the Chancellor ſhall direct a Writ unto the Sheriff, in whoſe Shire the debtor ſhall be found, for to take his body (if he be Lay) and ſafely to keep him in priſon until he hath agreed for the debt. And within a quarter of a year after that he is taken, his chattels and lands ſhall be delivered him, ſo that by his own he may levy and pay the debt. And it ſhall be lawful unto him, during the ſame quarter, to ſell his lands and tenements for the diſcharge of his debts, and his ſale ſhall be good and effectual. And if he do not agree within the quarter, next after the quarter expired all the lands and goods of the debtor ſhall be delivered unto the Merchant by a reaſonable extent, to hold them until ſuch time as the debt is wholly levied. And nevertheleſs the body ſhall remain in priſon, as before is ſaid. And the Merchant ſhall find him bread and water, and the Merchant ſhall have ſuch ſeiſon in the lands and tenements delivered unto him or his aſſignee, that he may maintain a writ of Novel diſſeiſin, if he be put out, and rediſſeiſin alſo, as of freehold, to hold to him and his aſſignes until the debt be paid. And as ſoon as the debt is levied, the body of the debtor ſhall be delivered with his lands. And in ſuch writs as the Chancellor doth award, mention ſhall be made, that the Sheriff ſhall certifie the Juſtices of the one Bench or of the other, how he hath performed the Kings commandment at a certain day, at which day the Merchant ſhall ſue before the Juſtices, if agreement be not made: and if the Sheriffs do not return the writ, or do return that the writ came too late, or that he hath directed it to the Bailiffs of ſome Franchiſe, the Juſtices ſhall do as it is contained in the latter Statute of Weſtminſter. And if in caſe the Sheriff return, that the debtor cannot be found, or that he is Clerk, the Merchant ſhall have writs to all the Sheriffs, where he ſhall have land, and that they ſhall deliver unto him all the goods and lands of the debtor by a reaſonable extent, to hold unto him and his aſſignes in the form aforeſaid: and at the leaſt he ſhall have a writ to what Sheriff he will, to take his body (if he be Lay) and to retain it in manner aforeſaid. And let the keeper of the priſon take heed, that he muſt anſwer for the body, or for the debt. And after that the debtors lands be delivered to the Merchant, the debtor may lawfully ſell his land, ſo that the Merchant have no damage of the approvements: and the Merchants ſhall always be allowed for their damages, and all coſts, labours, ſuits, delaies, and expences reaſonable. And if the debtor find ſureties, which do acknowledge themſelves to be principal debtors after the day paſſed, the ſureties ſhall be ordered in all things as is ſaid of the principal debtor, as to the arreſt of body, delivery of lands, and other things. And when the lands of the debtors be delivered unto the Merchant, he ſhall have ſeiſin of all the lands that were in the hand of the debtor, the day of the recogniſance made, in whoſe hands ſoever that they come after, either by feoffment, or otherwiſe. And after the debt paid, the debtors lands, and the iſſues of lands of debtors by feoffment ſhall return again, as well to the feoffee, as the other lands unto the debtors. And if the debtor or his ſureties die, that Merchant ſhall have no authority to take the body of his heir, but he ſhall have his lands as before is ſaid, if he be of age, or when he ſhall be of full age, until he hath levied of the lands the amountment and value of the debt. And a Seal ſhall be provided, that ſhall ſerve for Fairs, and the ſame ſhall be ſent unto every Fair under the Kings Seal by a Clerk ſworn, or by the keeper of the Fair. And of the comminalty of the Merchants of the City of London, two Merchants ſhall be choſen, that ſhall ſwear, and the Seal ſhall be opened before them, and the one piece ſhall be delivered unto the foreſaid Merchants, and the other ſhall remain with the Clerk. And before them or one of the Merchants (if both cannot attend) the Recogniſances ſhall be taken, as before is ſaid; and before that any recogniſance be inrolled, the pain of the Statute ſhall be openly read before the debtor, ſo that after he cannot ſay that any did put another penalty then that whereto he bound himſelf: And to maintain the coſts of the ſaid Clerk, the King ſhall take of every pound a peny, in every Town where the Seal is, except Fairs, where he ſhall take one peny half peny, of the pound. This ordinance and act the King willeth to be obſerved from henceforth throughout his Realm of England and Ireland, amongſt the which people they that will, may make ſuch Recogniſances (except Jews, to whom this ordinance ſhall not extend:) And by this Statute a writ of debt ſhall not be abated; and the Chancellor, Juſtices of either Bench, and Juſtices errants, ſhall not be eſtopped to take recogniſance of debts before them knowledged and made, but the execution of recogniſances made before them, ſhall not be done in the form aforeſaid, but by the law and manner before uſed, and otherwiſe provided in other Statutes.

The Statute of Fines, made Anno 18 of Edw. the firſt, and Anno Dom. 1290.

The manner of levying of Fines: what things be requiſite to make them good, and who are bound by them.

Co.Inſt. 2 par. 510.

WHen the Writ Original is delivered in preſence of the parties before Juſtices, a Pleader ſhall ſay this: Sir Juſtice Conge de accorder. And the Juſtice ſhall ſay to him, What ſaith Sir R. and ſhall name one of the parties. Then when they be agreed of the ſum of money, that muſt be given to the King, then the Juſtice ſhall ſay, Cry the peace. And after the Pleader ſhall ſay: In ſo much as peace is licenſed, thus unto you W. S. & A. his wife, that here be, do acknowledge the Mannor of B. with the appurtenances, contained in the Writ, to be the right of our Lord the King: which he hath of their gift. To have and to hold to him and his heirs, of the ſaid W. & A. and the heirs of A. as in Demeans, Rents, Seigniories, Courts, Pleas, Purchaſes, Wards, Marriages, Reliefs, Eſcheats, Mills, Advowſons of Churches, and all other Fhanchiſes and free cuſtoms to the ſaid Mannor belonging, paying yearly to R. and his heirs as chief Lords of the Fee, the ſervices and cuſtoms due for all ſervices. And it is to be noted, that the order of the Law will not ſuffer a final accord to be levied in the Kings Court without a Writ original, and that muſt be at the leaſt before four Juſtices in the Bench, or in Eyre, and not otherwiſe, and in preſence of the parties named in the Writ, which muſt be of full age, of good memory, and out of priſon. And if a woman covert be one of the parties, then they muſt be firſt examined by four of the ſaid Juſtices. And if ſhe doth not aſſent thereunto, the fine ſhall not be levied. And the cauſe wherefore ſuch ſolemnity ought to be done in a fine, is, becauſe a fine is ſo high a bar, of ſo great force, and of ſo ſtrong nature in himſelf, that it concludeth not only ſuch as be parties, and privies thereto and their heirs, but all other people of the world, being of full age, out of priſon, of good memory, and within the four Seas, the day of the fine levied, if they make not their claim of their action within a year and a day by the Countrey. Tenant for life committeth Waſte, he in the Reverſion brought an Action of Waſte, and dieth before Judgment, his heir brought an Action for the ſame Waſte.

William Butler, which is within age, and in Ward of our Lord the King, hath ſhewed unto his Highneſs, that where Gawin Butler his brother (whoſe heir he is) had impleaded one Walter de Hapeton, by the Kings Writ, for waſte and deſtruction made by him the ſaid Walter, in certain his lands and tenements which the ſame Walter held for term of his life, of the inheritance of the foreſaid Gawin in Wimme and Thirke: And the foreſaid Gawin before he had obtained judgment, died. After whoſe death the foreſaid William by like Writ impleaded the foreſaid Walter, for the waſte and deſtruction made by him of long time. The ſame Walter before Gilbert Thornton, and his companions aſſigned to hear the Kings Pleas, came in and ſaid that he ought not to anſwer to the ſame William for the waſte and deſtruction made in the time of another, before the right of the ſaid inheritance deſcended unto him, and thereupon demanded judgment. And for as much as certain Juſtices did not agree in giving of the ſaid judgment, becauſe it ſeemeth to ſome that it ſhould not be agreeable to the Law, that any perſon ſhould obtain advantage and recompence by the foreſaid Writ, which is a Writ of treſpaſs done to a perſon certain, but only the ſame perſon to whom and in whoſe time the treſpaſs was done. Other Juſtices with the more part of the Kings Council, were in the contrary opinion, alleadging by divers reaſons that the ſaid William ought to be heard and anſwered unto, and all other whatſoever they be, in like caſes or in like treſpaſſes. And becauſe like matters have remained not amended, and treſpaſſes unpuniſhed which was convenient:

Tenant for life committeth waſte, and he in the reverſion hangeth an action of waſte, and dieth before judgment, and his heir bringeth an action of the ſame waſte, and recovereth. St.13 Ed.1.14.

Wherefore our Lord the King in his full Parliament holden the day after the Feaſt of the Purification, in the twentieth year of his reign, by a general Council hath ordained, and from henceforth hath commanded to be ſtraightly obſerved, that every heir (in whoſe ward ſoever he be, and as well within age as of full age) ſhall have his recovery by a Writ of Waſte in the foreſaid caſe, and alſo in other where the ſame Writ ought to hold place: and it ſhall hold place as well for waſte and deſtruction made in lands and tenements of his own inheritance, and as well in the times of his anceſtors, as at any other time that the Fee and inheritance deſcended unto him, and ſhall be anſwered unto therefore. And that he ſhall recover the tenements waſted, and damages, as it is ordained in the ſecond Statute of Weſtminſter, of damages to be recovered in a Writ of Waſte, if the tenant be convict of Waſte. And it is commanded by the King himſelf unto the ſame Gilbert Thornton and his companions, that they do proceed in the foreſaid matter, and in other like from henceforth, and judgment ſhall be given according as the matter is found. And likewiſe it is commanded unto the Juſtices, that they ſhall cauſe all the foreſaid things to be ſtraightly obſerved before them from henceforth. Regiſt.fo.73.

What Freehold-Lands Jurors muſt have, which ſhall paſs in Trial within the ſame County, or without.

FOꝛaſmuch as our Loꝛd the King by continual and grievous complaint of his inferioꝛ people, doth perceive that divers perſons being of leaſt ability of his Realm, are many times intolerably troubled by Sheriffs and their Bailiffs, Bailiffs of Liberties which impanel them to the Recogniſances of Aſſiſes, Juries, Inqueſts, and Attaints tryable out of the Shires where they be dwelling: And to ſpare the rich people, and ſuch as be moꝛe able, by whom the truth of the matter might be better known, whereby greater expences and trouble doth daily manifeſtly enſue, to the impoveriſhment and utter diſheriting of many: Our ſaid Loꝛd the King, pꝛoviding foꝛ the indempnity of his people, and deſiring to ſet convenient remedy in the pꝛemiſſes foꝛ the publick weal of his Realm, in his Parliament holden in the term of Saint Michael, the one and twentieth year of his Reign, hath oꝛdained in this behalf: That no Sheriff, Under-ſheriff, oꝛ their Bailiffs, Stewards, oꝛ Bailiffs of Liberties, ſhall from henceforth put in any Recogniſance abovesaid, that ſhall paſs out of their pꝛoper Counties, oꝛ Bailiwicks, any except he have Lands and Tenements to the yearly value of a C. s. at the leaſt. CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt.

A confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt.

Edward by the grace of God, King of England, Lord of Ireland, and Duke of Guian, to all thoſe that theſe preſent Letters ſhall hear or ſee, greeting. Know ye that we to the honour of God, and of holy Church, and to the profit of our Realm, have granted for us and our heirs, That the Charter of Liberties, and the Charter of the Foreſt, which were made by common aſſent of all the Realm, in the time of King Henry our father, ſhall be kept in every point without breach. And we will that the ſame Charters ſhall be ſent under our Seal, as well to our Juſtices of the Foreſt, as to others, and to all Sheriffs of Shires, and to all our other Officers, and to all our Cities throughout the Realm, together with our Writs, in the which it ſhall be contained, That they cauſe the foreſaid Charters to be publiſhed, and to declare to the people, that we have confirmed them in all points, and that our Juſtices, Sheriffs, Mayors, and other Miniſters, which under us have the Laws of our Land to guide, ſhall allow the ſame Charters pleaded before them in judgment in all their points, that is to wit, the great Charter as the Common-law, and the Charter of the Foreſt, for the wealth of our Realm. Co. Inſt. 2 par. 527.

The great Charter, the common Law.

CAP. II.

Judgments given againſt the ſaid Charters, ſhall be void.

Judgments given againſt the great Charter, ſhall be void.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 526.

And we will that if any judgment be given from henceforth contrary to the points of the Charters aforeſaid by the Juſtices, or by any other our Miniſters that hold Plea before them againſt the points of the Charters, it ſhall be undone, and holden for nought. Stat. 42 E. 3. ca. 1.

CAP. III.

The ſaid Charters ſhall be read in Cathedral Churches twice in the year.

The Charters ſent to Cathedral Churches.

And we will that the ſame Charters ſhall be ſent under our Seal, to Cathedral Churches throughout our Realm, there to remain, and ſhall be read before the people two times by the year. Co. Inſt. 2 par. 527.

CAP. IV.

Excommuication ſhall be pronounced againſt the breakers of the ſaid Charters.

Co.Inſt.2.par. 527.

AND that all Archbiſhops & Biſhops, ſhall pronounce the ſentence of Excommunication againſt all thoſe that by word, deed, or counſel, do contrary to the foreſaid Charters, or that in any point break or undo them. And that the ſaid curſes be twice a year denounced and publiſhed by the Prelates aforeſaid. And if the ſame Prelates or any of them, be remiſs in the denunciation of the ſaid ſentences, the Archbiſhops of Canterbury and York for the time being, ſhall compel and diſtrain them to the execution of their duties in form aforeſaid.

The Biſhops excommunication againſt the breakers of the Charters.

CAP. V.

Aids, Tasks, and Prices granted to the King, ſhall not be taken for a Cuſtom.

Co.Inſt.2 par. 527.

AND for ſo much as divers people of our Realm are in fear, that the aids and tasks which they have given to us before-time towards our wars, and other buſineſs, of their own grant and good will (howſoever they were made) might turn to a bondage to them and their heirs, becauſe they might be at another time found in the Rolls, and likewiſe for the prices taken throughout the Realm by our Miniſters: We have granted for us and our heirs, that we ſhall not draw ſuch aids, tasks, nor prices into a cuſtom, for any thing that hath been done heretofore, be it by Roll, or any other preſident that may be founden.

Aids and tasks granted to the King, ſhall not be taken for a cuſtom.

CAP. VI.

The King or his heirs will take no aids or prices but by the conſent of the Realm, and for the common profit thereof.

Co.Inſt.2 par. 529.

MOreover we have granted for us and our heirs, as well to Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors, and other folk of holy Church, as alſo to Earls, Barons, and to all the communalty of the land, that for no buſineſs from henceforth we ſhall take ſuch manner of aids, tasks, nor prices, but by the common aſſent of the Realm, and for the common profit thereof, Saving the ancient aids and prices due and accuſtomed. 34 E.1.ca.1.

The King will take no aids, &c. but by the common conſent of the Realm, and for the profit thereof.

CAP. VII.

A Releaſe of Toll taken by the King for Wooll. And a grant that he will not take the like without common conſent and good will.

AND for ſo much as the more part of the comminalty of the Realm find themſelves ſore grieved with the maletent of wolls, that is to wit, a toll of forty ſhillings for every ſack of wooll; and have made petition to us to releaſe the ſame: We at their requeſt have clearly releaſed it, and have granted for us and our heirs that we ſhall not take ſuch things without their common aſſent and good will. Saving to us and our heirs the cuſtom of wolls, skins, and Leather, granted before by the comminalty aforeſaid. In witneſs of which things we have cauſed theſe our Letters to be made Patents. Witneſs Edward our ſon at London, the tenth day of October, the five and twentieth year of our Reign. Co. Inſt. 2 par. 76.

A releaſe of toll of wooll.

Anno 25 Ed. 1. A ſentence of Excommunication pronounced by the Clergy againſt the breakers of the Articles aforeſaid. Specified in the Statutes at large.

Stat. de Finibus levatis, made Anno 27 Ed. 1. and Anno 1299.

No exception to a Fine that the demandant was ſeiſed. Fines ſhall be openly read.

Co.Inſt.2 par. 521.

FOraſmuch as Fines levied in our Court, ought, and do make an end of all matters, and therefore are called Fines principally, where after waging of battail or the great Aſſiſe in their caſes ever they hold the laſt and final place. And now by a certain time paſſed, as well in the time of King Henry of famous memory our grandfather, as in our time, the parties of ſuch Fines and their heirs contrary to the Laws of our Realm, of ancient time uſed, were admitted to adnul and defeat ſuch Fine, alledging that before the Fine levied, and at the levying thereof, and ſince, the demandants or plaintiffs or their anceſtors were alway ſeiſed of the lands contained in the fine, or of ſome parcel thereof: and ſo fines lawfully levied, were many times unjuſtly defeated and adnulled by Jurors of the Countrey falſly and maliciouſly procured: We therefore intending to provide a remedy in the premiſſes, in our Parliament at Weſtminſter, have ordained that ſuch exceptions, anſwers, or inquiſitions of the Countrey ſhall from henceforth in no wiſe be admitted contrary to ſuch recogniſances or fines. And further we will that this ſtatute ſhall as well extend unto fines heretofore levied, as to them that ſhall be levied hereafter. And let the Juſtices ſee that ſuch notes and fines as hereafter ſhall be levied in our Court be read openly and ſolemnly, and that in the mean time all pleas ſhall ceaſe. A Sheriff ſhall levie no more iſſues then he hath Warrant for. His Tallies.

WE have alſo ordained by the advice of our Councel, That from henceforth Sheriffs ſhall not be charged of any iſſues to be levied, nor ſhall levie any before they paſs out of the Exchequer, there to be delivered by the extreats of the Juſtices. And that in the extreats of Juſtices, every head ſhall be charged for iſſues forfeited, like as of amerciaments. And if peradventure any Sheriff will anſwer for the iſſues of any Recogniſor, pledge, or Mainpernor by him undertaken and returned into our Court, which at the time of the return is not able to pay ſuch iſſues or amerciaments, the Sheriff ſhall be charged, & ſhall anſwer therefore in our Exchequer. And let the Sheriffs beware under pain of great forfeiture, that from henceforth they do make Tallies of all ſuch money as they or their Officers have received by our commandment. And that they do not return any where, the names of any mainpernors, jurors, or any other, except ſuch mainpernors, jurors or others, according to the tenour of our Writs being directed to the Sheriffs for the ſame cauſe, be lawfully and manifeſtly impanelled thereupon. And they ſhall not return the names of any freemen as pledges, without that they will plainly conſent and agree to the ſame. And hereupon we have Enacted, That at one time certain every year, one Baron, and one Clerk of our ſaid Eſchequer ſhall be ſent through every Shire of England, to inroll the names of all ſuch as have paid that years debts exacted on them by green wax. And the ſame Baron and Clerk ſhall view all ſuch Tallies and inroll them, and ſhall hear and determine complaints made againſt Sheriffs and their Clerks, and Bailiffs that have done contrary to the premiſes, and the offenders ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed.

A Sheriff ſhall execute his warrant in levying of iſſues, and no more.

What tallies a Sheriff ſhall make.
The Sheriffs return of mainpernors, Jurors, &c.

A Baron and Clerk of the Eſchequer ſent into every County.

CAP. III.

Juſtices of Aſſiſe ſhall be of Gaol-delivery: Who ſhall puniſh Officers bailing ſuch as are not bailable.

St. 3 Ed. 1. 15.

FOraſmuch as Sheriffs and others heretofore, have let out by replevin common felons and openly defamed, being taken and impriſoned for murder and felony, and ſuch as be not repleviſable, contrary to the form of our Statute of perſons repleviſable and not repleviſable, lately made, whereby ſuch tranſgreſſors not repleviſable be let out: and to deliver them deceitfully before the coming of the Juſtices errant, or other aſſigned for their deliverance, they procure by themſelves and by their friends Jurors of the Country, and ſome they threat, whereby as well for fear of the Sheriff, and other that let them at large by plevin, as for fear of the thieves being ſo delivered before the Juſtices aſſigned for Gaol-deliveries, ſuch felonies and murders are concealed, and ſo being concealed, remain ſtill unpuniſhed: We for the utility of our Realm, and for the more aſſured conſervation of our peace, having provided and ordained, That Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes in every County where they do take Aſſiſes, as they be appointed, incontinent after the Aſſiſes taken in the Shires, ſhall remain both together if they be lay. And if one of them be a Clerk, then one of the moſt diſcreet Knights of the Shire being aſſociate to him that is a lay-man, by our Writ ſhall deliver the Gaols of the Shires, as well within Liberties as without, of all manner of priſoners, after the form of the Gaol-deliveries of thoſe Shires, beforetimes uſed. And the ſame Juſtices ſhall inquire then, if Sheriffs or any other have let out by replevin Priſoners not repleviable, or have offended in any thing contrary to the form of the foreſaid ſtatute lately made at Weſtminſter; and whom they ſhall find guilty they ſhall chaſten and puniſh in all things according to the form of the Statute aforeſaid. CAP. IV.

St. 21 Ed. 1.

ALſo where we have provided, That none ſhall be impanelled any where out of the Shire where he is dwelling, in Recogniſances, Enqueſts, and Juries, that have leſs then an hundred ſhillings of Land or Rent, whereby they that have more Lands, by too often appearing as well in our Eſchequer, as before our Juſtices of either Bench, are much impoveriſhed. We therefore conſidering the intolerable damage of our people, not only for the diſcharge of ſuch Jurors, but alſo for the more ſpeedy miniſtration of Juſtice to all parties ſuing in our Court, have provided and ordained, That Enqueſts and Recogniſances determinable before Juſtices of either Bench, from henceforth ſhall be taken in time of vacation before any of the Juſtices before whom the plea is brought, being aſſociate with one Knight of the ſame Shire where ſuch Enqueſts ſhall paſs, unleſs it be an Enqueſt that requireth great examination. And ſo from henceforth in taking ſuch Enqueſts, the Juſtices ſhall do as to them ſhall ſeem moſt expedient for the common utility of our Realm, notwithſtanding the Statute lately made at Weſtminſter, upon the taking of ſuch Enqueſts, containing, That if any Enqueſts be taken contrary to the form of the ſaid Statute, they ſhould be of none effect. 13 Ed. 1. 30.

A Writ de Communi cuſtodia. V. N. B. fo. 88.

Fit. Gard. 137. Fit. Bar. 257. Plo. fo. 293.

IT is to wit, that where any relief is given, there Wardſhip is incident, and contrariwiſe. And ſuch as hold by Serjeanty, to go with the King in his Hoſt, there Ward and Relief are incident. And ſuch as hold by Petty Serjeanty, as to bear Shield or Spear in the Kings Hoſt, or to bear or to carry, there is neither Ward, Marriage, or Relief. Alſo a free Sokeman ſhall not give Ward, nor Relief, but he ſhall double his Rent after the death of his Anceſtor, according as he hath uſed to pay to his Lord, and ſhall not be unmeaſurably grieved. Now ſomewhat is to be ſaid of the nature of having Wards. There be two manner of Writs to have Wards; one is, where lands be holden in Knights ſervice; the other is, where lands be holden in Socage. The Ward of land that is holden in Knights ſervice, belongeth to the chief Lord, and the marriage, which ought to be without diſparagement, as the great Charter limiteth, until he cometh to the age of one and twenty years. The Ward of an heir that holdeth in Socage, if the land or inheritance deſcend of his mothers ſide, then it belongeth to the next friend of the fathers ſide, and contrariwiſe. And a Writ to recover Ward, may be brought in three manners: One is, when a man demandeth Ward of the land and of the heir, and that is in caſe, when a man holdeth land of another by Knights ſervice, and the tenant dieth, then may the chief Lord (if he be deforced) demand the Ward of his land and heir, and ſhall have both Ward and Marriage. Another manner is, when a man is infeoffed of a Verge of land by one man, and by another of a Carve land, the ſecond Lord may not bring a Writ of Ward to recover either the land or the heir, for the Ward belongeth to him, of whom he was firſt infeoffed. The third manner is, where a man hath land in his hands by reaſon of a Ward, and hath not the heir, then he may bring a Writ to demand the heir, and not the land. St. 52 H. 3. 7. St. 13. Ed. 1. 35. WHereas certain Juſtices of late were aſſigned to take Aſſiſes in all Shires of the Realm, and alſo to deliver the Gaols of the ſame Shires at every of their comings after the taking of ſuch Aſſiſes, as more plainly is contained in a Statute made by the King thereupon: Our Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the eight and twentieth year of his reign, for more ſure obſervation of his peace, and Felonies to be more quickly puniſhed, and priſoners to be ſooner delivered, hath granted, ordained, and provided, That whoſoever be appealed by Provors, being in priſons, which the ſame Juſtices do deliver (and whereſoever in our Realm that ſuch Appealees be dwelling) that immediately it ſhall be commanded to the Sheriff, in whoſe Bailiwick the parties ſo appealed be commorant, or may be found, by the Kings Writ, under the teſtimony of the ſame Juſtices, that he do take ſuch perſons appealed, and cauſe them to be brought unto the Gaols where the Appealors be kept that appealed them, and they ſhall anſwer there before the ſame Juſtices. And if they that be appealed, will put themſelves upon the Countrey, it ſhall be commanded in like manner by a Judicial Writ, from the ſame Juſtices to a Sheriff, in whoſe liberty the Felonies were done, of which they were appealed, that he ſhall cauſe an Enqueſt of the Countrey to come before the ſame Juſtices, unto the ſame place where the Appealors be kept, at a certain day. Articuli ſuper Chartas, made at Weſtminſter, Anno 28 Ed. 1. and Anno Domini 1300.

FOraſmuch as the Articles of the Great Charter of Liberties, and of the Charter of the Foreſt, the which, King Henry, father of the King that now is, granted to his people, for the Weal of his Realm, have not been heretofore obſerved ne kept, becauſe there was no puniſhment executed upon them which offended againſt the points of the Charters before mentioned: Our Lord the King hath again granted, renewed, and confirmed them, at the requeſt of his Prelates, Earls and Barons aſſembled in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the eight and twentieth year of his Reign, and hath ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed certain Articles againſt all them that offend contrary to the points of the ſaid Charters, or any part of them, or that in any wiſe tranſgreſs them; in the form that enſueth.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt.

A confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 537.

Commiſſioners to enquire of offences done contrary to the Charters.

Other Officers ſhall be attendant upon the Commiſſioners.

That is to ſay, That from henceforth the Great Charter of the Liberties of England granted to all the Comminalty of the Realm, and the Charter of the Foreſt, in like manner granted, ſhall be obſerved, kept, and maintained in every point, in as ample wiſe as the King hath granted, renewed, and confirmed them by his Charter. And that the Charters be delivered to every Sheriff of England, under the Kings Seal, to be read four times in the year before the people in the full County, that is to wit, the next County day after the Feaſt of St. Michael, and the next County day after Chriſtmas, and at the next County after Eaſter, and at the next County after the Feaſt of St. John. And for theſe two Charters to be firmly obſerved in every point and article (where before no remedy was at the Common Law) there ſhall be choſen in every Shire-Court by the comminalty of the ſame Shire, three ſubſtantial men, Knights, or other lawful, wiſe, and well-diſpoſed perſons, which ſhall be Juſtices ſworn and aſſigned by the Kings Letters Patents under the great Seal, to hear and determine (without any other Writ, but onely their Commiſſion) ſuch plaints as ſhall be made upon all thoſe that commit or offend againſt any point contained in the foreſaid Charters, in the Shires where they be aſſigned, as well within Franchiſes as without: And as well for the Kings Officers out of their places, as for other: and to hear the plaints from day to day without any delay, and to determine them, without allowing the delays which be allowed by the Common Law. And the ſame Knights ſhall have power to puniſh all ſuch as ſhall be attainted of any treſpaſs done, contrary to any point of the ſaid Charters (where no remedy was before by the common Law) as before is ſaid, by impriſonment, or by ranſome, or by amerciament, according to the treſpaſs. Nevertheleſs, the King, nor none of thoſe that made this Ordinance, intend, that by vertue hereof any of the foreſaid Knights ſhall hold any plea, by the power which ſhall be given them in ſuch caſe, where there hath been remedy provided in times paſſed, after the courſe of the common Law by Writ, nor alſo that any prejudice ſhould be done to the common Law, nor to the Charters aforeſaid in any point. And the King willeth, that if all three be not preſent, or cannot at all times attend to do their office in form aforeſaid, that two of them ſhall do it. And it is ordained, that the Kings Sheriffs and Bailiffs ſhall be attendant to do the commandments of the foreſaid Juſtices, as far forth as appertaineth unto their Offices. And beſides theſe things granted upon the articles of the Charters aforeſaid, the King of his ſpecial grace, for redreſs of the grievances that his people hath ſuſtained by reaſon of his Wars, and for the amendment of their eſtate, and to the intent that they may be the more ready to do him ſervice, and the more willing to aſſiſt and aid him in time of need, hath granted certain articles, the which he ſuppoſeth ſhall not onely be obſerved of his liege people, but alſo ſhall be as much profitable, or more, then the Articles heretofore granted.

CAP. II.

None ſhall take Prices, but the Kings Purveyors, and their Deputies.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 541.

Secondarily, Foraſmuch as there is a great grievance in this Realm, and damage without meaſure, for that the King and the Miniſters of his houſe, as well of Aliens as Denizens, do make great prices where they paſs through the Realm, and take the goods as well of Clerks as of Lay-people, without paying therefore any thing, or elſe much leſs then the value:

No Purveyors ſhall take any prices but the Kings, and they onely for his Houſe.
St. 4 Ed. 3. 4.
St. 5 Ed. 3. 2.
St. 10. Ed. 3. 1. 5 Seſſ.

It is ordained, That from henceforth none do take any ſuch prices within the Realm, but onely the Kings Takers, and the Purveyors for his Houſe; and that the Kings Takers and Purveyors of his Houſe ſhall take nothing, but onely for his Houſe. And touching ſuch things as they ſhall take in the Country, of meat and drink, and ſuch other mean things, neceſſary for the Houſe, they ſhall pay or make agreement with them of whom the things ſhall be taken.

St. 25 Ed. 3. 1.
Purveyors ſhall have their Warrant and ſhew it.

And that all the Kings Takers, Purveyors, or Catours from henceforth ſhall have their Warrant with them, under the Kings Great or Petty Seal, declaring their authority, and the things whereof they have power to make price, or purveyance; the which Warrant they ſhall ſhew unto them whoſe goods they take, before that they take any thing.

St. 36 Ed. 3. 2.
Purveyors ſhall take no more then is needful.

And that thoſe Takers, Purveyors, or Catours for the King, ſhall take no more then is needful and meet to be uſed for the King, his Houſhold, and his Children.

St. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.
All purveyance taken away.

And that they ſhall not take any thing for them that be in wages, nor for any other.

And that they ſhall make full anſwer in the Kings Houſe, or in the Wardrobe, for all things taken by them, without making their larges any other where, or Liveries of ſuch things, as they have taken for the King.

And if any Taker for the Kings Houſe, by reaſon of his Warrant, make any price or Livery, otherwiſe then before is mentioned, upon complaint made to the Steward and to the Treaſurer of the Kings Houſe, the truth ſhall be enquired. And if he be attainted thereof, he ſhall forthwith make agreement with the party, and ſhall be put out of the Kings ſervice for ever, and ſhall remain in priſon at the Kings pleaſure.

Taking without Warrant felony.

And if any make price without Warrant, and carry it away againſt the Will of the Owner, he ſhall immediately be arreſted by the Town where the price was made, and ſhall be committed to the next Gaol; and if he be attainted thereupon, it ſhall be done to him as unto a Felon, if the quantity of the goods do ſo require.

Purveyances made for the Kings Wardrobe.

And concerning Prices made in Fairs, and good Towns, and in Ports, for the Kings great Wardrobe, the Takers ſhall have their common Warrant under the Great Seal.

And for the things that they ſhall take, it ſhall be teſtified under the Seal of the Keeper of the Wardrobe, and of thoſe things that they have taken, the number of the things, the quantity and the value, ſhall be ſpecified in a Divident, made between the Takers and the Keepers of Fairs, Mayors or chief Bailiffs of Towns and Ports, by the view of Merchants, whoſe goods ſhall be ſo taken; and they ſhall not be ſuffered to take any more then is contained in their Divident; and the ſaid Divident ſhall be taken into the Wardrobe, under the Seal of the Warden, Mayor, or chief Bailiff aforeſaid, and there ſhall remain until the accompt of the Keeper of the Kings Wardrobe. And if it be found, that any hath taken otherwiſe then he ought to do, upon his accompt he ſhall be puniſhed by the Keeper of the Kings Wardrobe after his deſert: and if any make ſuch Prices without warrant, and be attainted thereupon, he ſhall incur the ſame pain, as they which take Prices for the Kings Houſe without warrant, as before is ſaid.

Rep. St. 12. Car. 2. cap.

The Kings Prerogative reſerved.

Nevertheleſs the King and his Councel do not intend, by reaſon of this Eſtatute, to diminiſh the Kings Right, for the ancient Prices due and accuſtomed, as of Wines, and other Goods, but that his Right ſhall be ſaved unto him whole, in all points.

CONcerning the authority of Stewards and Marſhals, and of ſuch pleas as they may hold, and in what manner, it is ordained, that from henceforth they ſhall not hold plea of free-hold, neither of debt, nor of covenant, nor of any contract made between the Kings people, but onely of treſpaſs done within the Houſe, and of other treſpaſſes done within the Verge, and of contracts and covenants that one of the Kings Houſe ſhall have made with another of the ſame Houſe, and in the ſame Houſe, and none otherwhere. And they ſhall plead no plea of treſpaſs, other then that which ſhall be attached by them before the King depart from the Verge where the treſpaſs ſhall be committed; and ſhall plead them ſpeedily from day to day, ſo that they may be pleaded and determined before that the King depart out of the limits of the ſame Verge where the treſpaſs was done. And if ſo be that they cannot be determined within the limits of the ſame Verge, then ſhall the ſame pleas ceaſe before the Steward, and the plaintiffs ſhall have recourſe to the common Law. And from henceforth the Steward ſhall not take conyſance of debts nor of other things, but of people of the ſame Houſe, nor ſhall hold none other plea by obligation made at the diſtreſs of the Steward and of the Marſhals. And if the Steward or Marſhals do any thing contrary to this Ordinance, it ſhall be holden as void. And foraſmuch as heretofore many felonies committed within the Verge have been unpuniſhed, becauſe the Coroners of the Country have not been authoriſed to enquire of ſuch manner of felonies done within the Verge, but the Coroner of the Kings Houſe, which never continueth in one place, by reaſon whereof, there can be no trial made in due manner, nor the felons put in Exigent, nor out-lawed, nor any thing preſented in the circuit, the which hath been to the great damage of the King, and nothing to the good preſervation of his peace: It is ordained, that from henceforth in caſes of the death of men, whereof the Coroners office is to make view and enqueſt, it ſhall be commanded to the Coroner of the Country, that he with the Coroner of the Kings Houſe ſhall do as belongeth to his Office, and enrol it. And that thing that cannot be determined before the Steward, where the felons cannot be attached, or for other like cauſe, ſhall be remitted to the common Law. So that exigents, outlawries, and preſentments ſhall be made thereupon in Eyre by the Coroner of the countrey, as well as of other felonies done out of the Verge: nevertheleſs they ſhall not omit by reaſon hereof to make attachments freſhly upon the felonies done. AT the Parliament of our Lord the King, at Lincoln in the utas of St.Hillary, the xxix. year of his reign, by his Councel it was agreed, and alſo commanded by the King himſelf, that from thence it ſhould be obſerved and done according to the advice of the reverend Father W. Langton, the Biſhop of Coventree and Litchfield, and Treaſurer to the King, John Langton, then being Chancellor, and other of the Councel there preſent before the King: that where Inqueſts taken by his Eſcheators by any of the kings Writs purchaſed out of the Chancery being returned, and it be found by ſuch Inqueſt, that nothing is holden of the King whereby the King ought to have the cuſtody of ſuch Lands and Tenements by reaſon of the Inqueſts taken by his Eſcheators, that immediately and without any delay the Eſcheators ſhall be commanded by the Kings Writ had out of the Chancery, to put from their hands all the Lands and Tenements ſo taken into the Kings poſſeſſion: And if they have taken any profits of ſuch Lands and Tenements ſo taken into the K. hands by them, from the time that ſuch Lands and Tenements fell into the Kings hands, they ſhall make full reſtitution to him or them, for whom it was found by Inqueſts taken by the ſame Eſcheators, that ſuch Lands ought to remain: ſaving alway to the King (in caſe that after ſuch time as his Eſcheators have diſcharged their hands by force of the Kings Writ, as before is ſaid) if any thing happen to be found in the Chancery or the Eſchequer, or in any other of the Kings Courts whereby the cuſtody of ſuch lands, whereof the Eſcheators have diſcharged their hands, in form aforeſaid, ſhould belong unto the King, that immediately he in whoſe poſſeſſion ſuch Lands happen to be, ſhall be ſummoned by a Writ out of the Chancery to be before the King at a certain day whereſoever, &c. to ſhew if he can ſay any thing, wherefore the King ought not to have the cuſtody of ſuch lands, according to the form of the evidences or remembrancers found for the King. And if he come in and ſhew why the cuſtody of ſuch lands do not belong or ought not to belong unto the King, bnt that it ought to remain to himſelf, he ſhall go quit, and retain the cuſtody. But if the party warned doth not come, or if that he come and can ſhew nothing to put the King from the cuſtody, the lands and tenements ſhall be forthwith reſeiſed into the Kings hands, to be kept in the name of wardſhip until the lawful age of ſuch heirs, as before is ſaid. And as it is ſaid before, if it be found by Inqueſts taken by the Eſcheators and returned, that the cuſtody of the ſame lands and tenements contained in the Inqueſt, and ſeiſed into the Kings hands, ought not remain unto the King, then the Eſcheator ſhall be commanded forthwith to diſcharge his hands thereof, and to reſtore the Iſſues wholly. In like manner if it be found afterward by evidences and remembrances in the Chancery, Eſchequer, or otherwhere, as before is ſaid, that our Lord the King ought to have the Wardſhip thereof, the King ſhall be anſwered for the whole iſſues and profits, by the hands of ſuch as held the ſame Lands and Tenements, from the time they were firſt taken into the Kings hands by his Eſcheators by the Writs aboveſaid. And this order ſhall be held from henceforth in the Chancery, notwithſtanding a certain Ordinance lately made by our Lord the King, concerning Lands and Tenements taken into his hands by his Officers, and not to be delivered but by the King himſelf, and as it is contained in a certain dividenda, or Indenture made between the King himſelf and his Chancellor, whereof one part remaineth in the cuſtody of the Chancellor. A new Statute of Quo warranto, made at Glouceſter, Anno 30 Ed. 1. and Anno Domini 1301.

Claiming and uſing of Liberties, and cauſes to ſeiſe them into the Kings hands. Complaint of Officers.

THe year of our Lord M.CC.LXX.VIII. the ſixth year of the reign of King Edward, at Glouceſter, in the moneth of Auguſt, the King himſelf providing for the Wealth of his Realm, and the more full miniſtration of Juſtice, as to the Office of a King belongeth (the more diſcreet men of the Realm, as well of high as of low degree, being called thither:) It is provided and ordained, That whereas the Realm of England in divers caſes, as well upon liberties as otherwiſe, wherein the Law failed, to avoid the grievous damages and innumerable diſheriſons that the default of Law did bring in, had need of divers helps of new Laws and certain new proviſions, Theſe Proviſions, Statutes and Ordinances under-written, ſhall from henceforth be ſtraitly and inviolably obſerved of all the Inhabitants of his Realm. And whereas Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other of our Realm, that claim to have divers liberties, which to examine and judge, the King hath prefixed a day to ſuch Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other: It is provided and likewiſe agreed, that the ſaid Prelates, Earls, Barons, aud other, ſhall uſe ſuch manner of liberties, after the form of the Writ here following:

A Writ to the Sheriff to permit all men to enjoy thoſe liberties which they had before

Rex vic. ſalutem. Cum nuper in Parliamento noſtro apud Weſtmonaſterium, per nos et conſilium noſtrum proviſum ſit et proclamatum, quod Prelati, Comites, Barones, et alii de regno noſtro, qui diverſas libertates per chartas progenitorum noſtrorum regum Angliæ habere clamant, ad quas examinandas, et judicandas diem prefixerimus in eodem Parliamento, libertatibus illis taliter uterentur, quod nihil ſibi per uſurpationem ſeu occupationem accreſceret, nec aliquid ſuper nos occuparent. Tibi precipimus quod omnes illos de Comitat. tuo libertatibus ſuis quibus hucuſque rationabiliter uſi ſunt, uti & gaudere permittas in forma predicta, uſque ad proximum adventum noſtrum per Comitatum predictum, vel uſq; ad proximum adventum juſticiariorum itinerantium ad omnia placita in Comitatu, vel donec aliud inde preceperimus: Salvo ſemper jure noſtro cum inde loqui voluerimus. Teſte, &c.

In like manner and in the ſame form Writs ſhall be directed to Sheriffs and other Bailiffs for every demandant, and the form ſhall be changed after the diverſity of the liberty which any man claimeth to have, in this wiſe:

Rex vic. ſalutem. Precipimus tibi quod per totam ballivam tuam, videlicet tam in civitatibus quam in burgis & aliis villis mercatoriis & alibi publice proclamari facias quod omnes illi qui aliquas libertates per chartas progenitorum noſtrorum regum Angliæ vel alio modo habere clamant ſint coram juſticiariis noſtris ad primam aſſiſam cum in partes illas venerint ad oſtendendum quomodo hujuſmodi libertates habere clamant, & quo warranto, & tu ipſe ſis ibidem perſonaliter una cum ballivis & miniſtris, ad certificandum ipſos juſticiarios ſuper his & aliis negotiis illud tangentibus.

A Proclamation that they which claim liberties ſhall ſhew to the Juſtices by what they hold them.

This clauſe of liberties that beginneth in this wiſe, Precipimus tibi quod publice proclamari facias, &c. is put in the writ of common ſummons of the Juſtices in Eyre, and ſhall have a premonition by the ſpace of fourty days, as the common ſummons hath; So that if any party that claimeth to have a liberty, be before the king, it ſhall not be in default before any Juſtices in their circuits: for the King of his ſpecial grace hath granted, that he will ſave that party harmleſs as concerning that ordinance. And if the ſame party be impleaded upon ſuch manner of liberties before one or two of the foreſaid Juſtices, the ſame Juſtices before whom the party is impleaded, ſhall ſave him harmleſs before the other Juſtices: And ſo ſhall the King alſo before him, when it ſhall appear by the Juſtices that ſo it was in plea before them, as is aforeſaid. And if the foreſaid party be afore the King, ſo that he cannot be the ſame day afore the ſaid Juſtices in their circuits, the King ſhall ſave that party harmleſs before the foreſaid Juſtices in their circuits for the day, whereas he was before the King. And if he do not come in at the ſame day, then thoſe liberties ſhall be taken into the Kings hands in name of diſtreſs, by the Sheriff of the place, ſo that they ſhall not uſe them until they come to anſwer before the Juſtices. And when they do come in by diſtreſs, their liberties ſhall be replevised (if they demand them) in the which replevins they ſhall anſwer immediately after the form of the Writ aforeſaid: And if percaſe they will challenge and ſay that they are not bounden to anſwer thereunto without an original Writ, then if it may appear by any mean, that they have uſurped or occupied any liberties upon the King or his predeceſſors, of their own head or preſumption, they ſhall be commanded to anſwer incontinent without writ. And moreover, they ſhall have ſuch judgment as the Court of our Lord the King will award. And if they will ſay further, that their anceſtors died ſeiſed thereof, they ſhall be heard: And the truth ſhall be inquired incontinent, and according to that, Judgment ſhall be given. And if it appear, that their anceſtors died ſeiſed thereof, then the King ſhall award an original out of the Chancery in this form: Rex vic. ſalutem. Sum. per bonos ſummon. talem, quod ſit coram nobis apud talem locum in proximo adventu noſtro in Com. predict. vel coram juſticiariis noſtris ad proximam aſſiſam, cum in partes illas venerint, oſtenſurus quo warranto tenet viſum francipledg. in manerio ſuo de N. Vel ſic: quo warranto tenet hundredum de S. in Com. predict. vel quo warranto clamet habere tholonium pro ſe & heredibus ſuis per totum regnum noſtrum. Et habeas ibi hoc breve. Teſte, &c. And if they come in at the ſame day, they ſhall anſwer, and replication and rejoynder ſhall be made; and if they do not come nor be eſſoined before the King, and the King do tarry longer in the ſame ſhire, the Sheriff ſhall be commanded to cauſe them to appear the fourth day; at which day if they come not, and the King be in the ſame Shire, ſuch order ſhall be taken as in the circuit of Juſtices. And if the King depart from the ſame Shire, they ſhall be adjourned unto ſhort days, and ſhall have reaſonable delays according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices, as it is uſed in perſonal actions. Alſo the Juſtices in Eyre in their circuits ſhall do according to the foreſaid ordinance, and according as ſuch manner of pleas ought to to be ordered in the circuit. Concerning complaints made and to be made of the Kings Bailiffs, and of other, it ſhall be done accordiug to the ordinance made before thereupon, and according to the inqueſts taken thereupon heretofore, and the clauſe ſubſcribed ſhall be put in a Writ of common ſummons in the ciruit of the Juſtices aſſigned to common pleas directed to the Sheriff, &c. and that ſhall be ſuch. Rex vic. ſalutem. Precipimus tibi, quod publice proclamari facias, quod omnes conquerentes ſeu conqueri volentes, tam de miniſtris & aliis ballivis noſtris quibuſcunque, quam de miniſtris & ballivis aliorum quorumcunque & aliis, veniant coram juſticiariis noſtris ad primam aſſiſam, ad quaſcunque querimonias ſuas ibidem oſtendendas, & competentes emendas inde recipiendas ſecundum legem et conſuetudinem regni noſtri, et juxta ordinationem per nos inde factum, et juxta tenorem ſtatutorum noſtrorum, et juxta articulos iiſdem juſticiariis noſtris inde traditos, prout predicti juſticiarii tibi ſcire faciant ex parte noſtra. Edward by the grace of God, &c. To all his true and faithful ſubjects, greeting. Foraſmuch as many do purchaſe the protection of our Lord the King, affirming that they were out of the Realm in the Kings ſervice: It is provided, that if their adverſary will challenge the protection, and immediately when it is ſhewed in the court, will averre that they were within the four Seas, & out of the Kings ſervice in a place certain, ſo that they might have well come, their challenge ſhall be entred, and the matter ſhall remain without day according to the nature of the protection. And when it ſhall be reſummoned, and he cometh into the Court, he ſhall demand judgment and hearing of the proceſs, and offer to aver his challenge if his adverſary will attend. And if the Country do paſs againſt him that caſt the protection, it ſhall return to a default if he be tenant; and if he be demandant, he ſhall leeſe his Writ, and ſhall be amerced unto the King. Of Inqueſts to be taken before any of the Juſtices, and wherein our Lord the King is party howſoever it be: It is agreed and ordained by the King and all his Councel, That from henceforth, notwithſtanding it be alledged by them that ſue for the King, that the Jurors of thoſe Inqueſts, or ſome of them be not indifferent for the King, yet ſuch Inqueſts ſhall remain untaken for that cauſe; but if they that ſue for the King, will challenge any of thoſe Jurors, they ſhall aſſign of their challenge a cauſe certain, and the truth of the ſame challenge ſhall be inquired of according to the cuſtom of the Court; and let it be recovered to the takers of the ſame Inquiſitions, as it ſhall be found if the challenges be true or not, after the Juſtices diſcretion.

This Ordinance precedent, and the Ordinance following of the Foreſt, were made in the Parliament at Weſtminſter, the Sunday next before the Feaſt of S. Matthew the Apoſtle, the three and thirtieth year of the Reign of King Edward ſon of King Henry.

Ordinatio Foreſtæ, made 33 Edw. 1. and Anno Dom. 1305.

They whoſe Woods are diſaforeſted ſhall not have common or other eaſement in the Foreſt.

Whereas certain people that be put out of the Foreſt for the purliew, and by the great men have made requeſt to our Lord the King at this Parliament that they might be acquitted of their charge, and of things that the Foreſters demand of them, as they were wont to be: Our Lord the King anſwered, Firſt, That where he had granted purliew, that he was pleaſed that it ſhould ſtand, in like manner as it was granted, albeit that the thing was ſued and demanded in an evil point. Nevertheleſs he willeth and intendeth, That all his demean lands whereſoever they be, that have been of the Crown, being returned by way of Eſcheat or otherwiſe, ſhall have eſtate of Free-chaſe and Free-warren, and in ſuch manner ſhall be ſaved and kept to his uſe for all manner of eſcheats, and for all manner of things that pleaſeth him. And in right of them that have lands and tenements diſaforeſted for the ſaid purliew, and ſuch as demand to have common within the bounds of Foreſts, the intent and will of our L. the King is, that from henceforth (where purliew is) they may claim to be quit of charge of the Foreſts. And whereas the Kings beaſts cannot have their haunt and repair upon the Foreſt ground, as they had ſo long as they were within the Foreſts, that ſuch folk ſhall not have common, nor other eaſement within the bounds of the woods, nor of the lands, the which remain in Foreſt: but if any of them that be diſaforeſted by the purliew, would rather be within the Foreſt as they were before, then to be out of the Foreſt as they be now; It pleaſeth the King very well, that they ſhall be received thereunto, ſo that they may remain in their ancient eſtate, and ſhall have common and other eaſement as well as they had before. Whereupon our Lord the King willeth and commandeth, That his Juſtices of the Foreſt on this ſide Trent and beyond Trent, in like manner ſhall keep and hold, and cauſe to be kept and holden ſtraitly the foreſaid points within their liberties in the form above mentioned.

They whoſe Woods are diſforeſted ſhall not have common within the Foreſt. They which will return their Woods into the Foreſt, ſhall have common as they had before.

And let the Juſtices be well adviſed, that from henceforth they do not allow an exception alledged by the Bailiffs of any ſuch Tenants: and if he that alledgeth the exception abſent himſelf at his day, and the other that is named Jointenant do appear, although he that doth appear doth diſavow the ſame Deed, and ſay that he hath nothing in the foreſaid Tenements; nevertheleſs yͤ Aſſiſe ſhall paſs againſt yͤ Tenant that is abſent by his default. And if it be found by Aſſiſe, that they were not joyntly Enfeoffed the day of the Writ purchaſed, and likewiſe that the Tenant againſt whom the Writ was purchaſed, or another named in the Writ did diſſeiſe the plaintiff, then having regard to the exception that was falſly and maliciouſly alledged to the hurt of the party, and to the diſſeiſin that they made, yͤ party plaintiff ſhall recover his ſeiſin and double damages, and they that alledge the falſe exception ſhall have the puniſhment aforeſaid. But if neither of the Tenants do come at the day, then upon their default the Aſſiſe ſhall paſs againſt them. And if it be found thereby that the ſame exception was lawfully and truly alledged, and that they which alledge it were joyntly ſeiſed before the plaintiff purchaſed his Writ againſt them, the aſſiſe ſhall paſs no further, but the Writ ſhall be abated.

Jointenancy pleaded in Mortdaunceſtor and Juris utrum. Jointenancy pleaded in other real actions.

Fit. Brief 762.

The ſame ſhall be obſerved, if both or one onely do appear, if it be found by aſſiſe, that the exception aforeſaid was truly alledged, as before is ſaid. In the ſame order it is eſtabliſhed and agreed, that in aſſiſes of Mortdaunceſtor, and Juris utrum, at the firſt day that the parties appear in Court, if the Tenant alledge the foreſaid exception againſt the demandant, ſhewing a deed thereupon, and the demandant will offer to aver by the Aſſiſe or Jury, that at the day of his Writ purchaſed, he that alledged the exception was ſole Tenant, from thence the ſame proceſs and manner of proceeding ſhall be uſed in Aſſiſes of Mortdaunceſtor, and Writs of Juris utrum, as before is ordained in Aſſiſes of novel diſſeiſin, and like puniſhment ſhall be inflicted upon the offendors, and thoſe that be convict. In other Writs whereby Tenements are demanded, ſuch proceſs ſhall be made, that if at the firſt day that the parties appear in Court, the Tenant doth alledge the foreſaid exception of a joynt Feoffment, and the demandant will offer to aver by the Countrey, that the day of the Writ purchaſed, he that alledged the exception was ſole Tenant, then the ſame proceſs and manner of proceeding ſhall be obſerved betwixt the parties until a Jury have paſſed between them thereupon. And if it be found by the Jury, that the ſame exception was truly alledged, then the Writ of the demandant ſhall abate: And if it be founden by the Jury, that the ſame exception was falſly alledged, and to the hindrance of the party, then the demandant ſhall recover his ſeiſin of the Tenements in demand, and the Tenant ſhall be puniſhed by the pain above limited in Aſſiſes of novel diſſeiſin, as to the impriſonment, and as to the damages according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices. And we will and grant, that this Statute ſhall take his effect the morrow after the Feaſt of S. Peter ad vincula next coming.

Foraſmuch alſo as Pleas in Court Spiritual heretofore had many times unmeet delays, for that our Writ that is called Indicavit, was many times brought before the Judges of ſuch matters when they were begun: and thereupon our chief Juſtices could not proceed lawfully, nor in due manner to award a Writ of Conſultation upon ſuch manner of proceſs: It is agreed that ſuch a Writ of Indicavit, ſhall not be granted from henceforth to any before the matter hanging in the Spiritual Court between the parties be recorded, and that our Chancellor ſhall be certified thereof by the ſight and inſpection of the libel. CAP. I.

How offences done in the Foreſt ſhall be preſented.

FIrſt, We have ordained for our ſelves and our Heirs, that all treſpaſſes hereafter to be done in our Foreſts of Green-hugh, and of Hunting: the Foreſters within whoſe Bailiwicks ſuch treſpaſſes ſhall happen to be committed, ſhall preſent the ſame at the next Swanimote, before the Foreſters, Verdors, Regardors, Agiſtors, & other miniſters of the ſame Foreſt; and upon ſuch preſentations there before the Foreſters, Verdors, & all other miniſters aforeſaid, by the oath as well of Knights as of other lawful and honeſt men of the neareſt parts where the treſpaſs ſo preſented ſhall be done, not ſuſpected, the truth of the matter ſhall be lawfully enquired of; and the truth ſo enquired of, the ſame preſentations by the common accord and aſſent of all the miniſters aforeſaid, ſhall be ſolemnly confirmed and ſealed with their Seals. And if an Indictment be in any other manner, it ſhall be adjudged void.

Preſentment of offences done in the Foreſts. V. N. B. fo. 41.

CAP. II.

An Officer dying or being abſent, another ſhall be put in his place.

ANd if it happen any of the ſaid Foreſters, Regarders, or other Miniſters of the ſame Foreſts do die, or by ſickneſs or other means to be hindred, whereby he cannot be preſent at the ſame Swanimote, preſently the Juſtice of the ſame Foreſt, or his Lieutenant, ſhall put another in his place: ſo that the indictment may be made by all in form aforeſaid. And that the Officers which are to be placed, ſhall be put in as heretofore it hath been uſed to be: Except the Verderors, who ſhall be ordained by Election and by our Writ.

An Officer dying or being abſent.

CAP. III.

No Foreſter ſhall be put in any Aſſiſes or Juries.

ANd we will that none of the foreſaid Miniſters ſhall hereafter be put in any Aſſiſes, Juries, or Enqueſts to be taken without the Foreſt. Regiſt. fo. 183. Fitz. N. B.

No Foreſter ſhall be put in a Jury.

CAP. IV.

The puniſhment of Officers ſurcharging the Foreſt.

ANd if there be any ſurcharge found of the Foreſters, or by ſuch other as take upon them to be Officers of the Foreſt, ſuch ſurchargers ſhall be removed and impriſoned according to the diſcretion of the Juſtice of the Foreſt, or his Lieutenant: And they by whom they were placed ſhall be alſo puniſhed at our pleaſure. And at every Swanimote inquiſition ſhall be made of Surchargers, of Foreſters, and other miniſters of the Foreſt, and of their oppreſſions done to our people; and reformation and puniſhment ſhall be done, as it is ordained before.

Surcharge of the Foreſt by Officers.

CAP. V.

Grounds diſaforeſted.

AS touching them that commit treſpaſſes of green-hugh or hunting, at ſuch time as the Foreſt was diſaforeſted: we will that thoſe offences ſhall be pardoned, ſaving ſuch treſpaſſes which were committed in that part which doth remain Foreſt: yet ſo, as that the hedges and ditches made in the mean time ſhall be wholly caſt down, removed, and avoided: ſaving our Arrentations, which we will have remain according to the aſſiſe of the Foreſt. The wood which is felled and cut down ſhall be removed, and the wood which is ſtanding ſhall remain in the Foreſt. And if any ſuch wood yet ſtanding be ſold, it ſhall remain in the Foreſt, and the ſeller ſhall ſatisfie the buyer according to the quantity of the wood ſtanding in the Foreſt, and ſo ſold in the mean time as he received of him.

Grounds diſaforeſted.

CAP. VI.

Commons in the Foreſt.

WE will alſo that our Juſtice of the Foreſt, or his Lieutenant, in the preſence of our Treaſurer, and by his aſſent, ſhall have authority to take fines and amerciaments of thoſe which be indicted for treſpaſſes committed in our Foreſts, and not tarry for the Eyre of the Juſtice. And moreover we will, that they which had common of paſture in the Foreſt before the perambulation was made, and which were hereafter returned into the Foreſt, and that were reſtrained of common by the ſaid perambulation, ſhall have their common of paſture hereafter in the Foreſt, as freely and largely as they were wont to have before the perambulation made. Saving our Arrentations in form aforeſaid. In witneſs whereof, &c. at Weſtminſter, 28 die Maii, Anno 34 Edwardi primi, Regiſt. fo. 80.

CAP. I.

The cauſes of Erection of Abbies. Impoſitions ſet by Priors Aliens.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 580.

The cauſe of foundation of Religious Houſes.

Impoſitions ſet by certain Religious Houſes upon their inferiours.

Cok.l.11. f.73.

Of late it came to the knowledge of our Lord the King, by the grievous complaint of the Honourable perſons, Lords, and other Noble-men of his Realm, that whereas Monaſteries, Priories, and other Religious houſes were founded to the honour and glory of God, and the advancement of the holy Church, by the King and his Progenitors, and by the ſaid Noble-men and their Anceſtors, and a very great portion of Lands and Tenements have been given by them to the ſaid Monaſteries, Priories and houſes, and the Religious men ſerving God in them, To the intent that Clerks and Lay-men might be admitted in ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and Religious houſes, according to their ſufficient ability, and that ſick and feeble men might be maintained, hoſpitality, alms-giving, and other charitable deeds might be done, and that in them prayers might be ſaid for the ſouls of the ſaid founders and their heirs: The Abbots, Priors, and Governours of the ſaid houſes, and certain Aliens their ſuperiours, as the Abbots and Priors of Ciſtercienſes, and Promonſtratenſes, and of the order of St. Auguſtine, and St. Benedict, and many more of other Religion and Order, have at their own pleaſures, ſet divers unwonted, heavy, and importable tallages, payments, and impoſitions upon every of the ſaid Monaſteries, and Houſes in ſubjection unto them in England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales, without the privity of our Lord the King and his Nobility, contrary to the Laws and Cuſtoms of the ſaid Realm. And thereby the number of Religious perſons, and other ſervants in the ſaid Houſes and Religious places being oppreſſed by ſuch tallages, payments, and impoſitions, the ſervice of God is diminiſhed, alms be not given to the poor, the ſick and feeble, the healths of the living, and the ſouls of the dead be miſerably defrauded, hoſpitality, alms-giving, and other godly deeds do ceaſe. And ſo that which in times paſt was charitably given to godly uſes, and to the increaſe of the ſervice of God, is now converted to an evil end. By permiſſion whereof there groweth great ſcandal to the people, and infinite loſſes and diſheritances are like to enſue to the Founders of the ſaid Houſes, and their heirs, unleſs ſpeedy and ſufficient remedy be provided to redreſs ſo many and grievous detriments.

Wherefore our foreſaid Lord the King, conſidering that it would be very prejudicial to him and his people, if he ſhould any longer ſuffer ſo great loſſes and injuries to be winked at, and therefore being willing to maintain and defend the Monaſteries, Priories, and other Religious Houſes erected in his Kingdom, and in all lands ſubject to his Dominion, and from henceforth to provide ſufficient remedy to reform ſuch oppreſſions as he is bound: By the counſel of his Earls, Barons, great men, and other Nobles of his Kingdom in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the five and thirtieth year of his Reign, hath ordained and enacted,

CAP. II.

Religious perſons ſhall ſend nothing to their ſuperiours beyond the Sea.

Religious perſons ſhall ſend nothing to their ſuperiours beyond Sea.

That no Abbot, Prior, Maſter, Warden, or any other Religious perſon, of whatſoever condition, ſtate, or Religion he be, being under the Kings power or juriſdicton, ſhall by himſelf, or by Merchants, or others, ſecretly or openly, by any device or means, carry or ſend, or by any means cauſe to be ſent any tax impoſed by the Abbots, Priors, Maſters, or Wardens of Religious houſes their Superiours, or aſſeſſed amongſt themſelves, out of his Kingdom and his Dominion, under the name of a Rent, Tallage, or any kind of impoſition, or otherwiſe by the way of exchange, mutual ſale, or other contract howſoever it may be termed. Neither ſhall depart into any other Countrey for viſitation, or upon any other colour, by that means to carry the goods of their Monaſteries and Houſes out of the Kingdom and Dominion aforeſaid. And if any will preſume to offend this preſent Statute, he ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed according to the quality of his offence, and according to his contempt of the Kings prohibition.

CAP. III.

No impoſitions ſhall be taxed by Priors aliens.

Impoſitions taxed by Aliens.

Moreover, our foreſaid Lord the King doth inhibit all and ſingular Abbots, Priors, Maſters and Governours of Religious Houſes and places, being Aliens, to whoſe authority, ſubjection, and obedience, the Houſes of the ſame Orders in his Kingdom and Dominion be ſubject, that they do not at any time hereafter impoſe, or by any means aſſeſs any tallages, payments, charges, or other burdens whatſoever, upon the Monaſteries, Priories, or other Religious Houſes in ſubjection unto them (as is aforeſaid) and that upon pain of all that they have, or may forfeit.

CAP. IV.

By whom the common Seal of an Abbey ſhall be kept, and how uſed.

The common Seals of Abbeys.

Cok.l.8. f.118. Fitz.Abbe.14. 38 H. 6. f.27.

And further, our Lord the King hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Abbots of the Orders of Ciſtercienſes and Promonſtratenſes, and other Religious Orders, whoſe Seal hath heretofore been uſed to remain onely in the cuſtody of the Abbot, and not of the Covent, ſhall hereafter have a common Seal, and that ſhall remain in the cuſtody of the Prior of the Monaſtery or Houſe, and four of the moſt worthy and diſcreet men of the Covent of the ſame Houſe, to be laid up in ſafe keeping under the private Seal of the Abbot of the ſame Houſe: So that the Abbot or Prior which doth govern the Houſe, ſhall be able of himſelf to eſtabliſh nothing, though heretofore it hath been otherwiſe uſed. And if it fortune hereafter, that writings of Obligations, Donations, Purchaſes, Sales, Alienations, or of any other Contracts be ſealed with any other Seal then ſuch a common Seal, kept as is aforeſaid, they ſhall be adjudged void, and of no force in Law. But it is not the meaning of our Lord the King to exclude the Abbots, Priors, and the other Religious Aliens by the Ordinances and Statutes aforeſaid, from executing their office of Viſitation in his Kingdom and Dominion. But they may viſit at their pleaſures, by themſelves or others, the Monaſteries and other places in his Kingdom and Dominion in ſubjection unto them, according to the duty of their office, in thoſe things onely that belong to regular obſervation, and the diſcipline of their Order.

Abbots aliens may viſit their inferiours in England.

Provided, that they which ſhall execute this office of viſitation, ſhall carry, or cauſe to be carried out of his Kingdom and Dominion, none of the goods or things of ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and Houſes, ſaving onely their reaſonable and competent charges.

AND though the publication and open notice of the Ordinances and Statutes aforeſaid was ſtayed in ſuſpence for certain cauſes ſithence the laſt Parliament until this preſent Parliament, holden at Carliſle in the Octaves of St. Hillary, in the five and thirtieth year of the reign of the ſame King Edward, to the intent they might proceed with greater deliberation and advice: Our Lord the King, after full conference and debate had with his Earls, Barons, Nobles, and other great men of his Kingdom touching the premiſſes, by their whole conſent and agreement hath ordained and enacted, That the Ordinances and Statutes aforeſaid, under the manner, form, and conditions aforeſaid, from the firſt day of May next enſuing, ſhall be inviolably obſerved for ever, and the offendors of them ſhall be puniſhed as is aforeſaid. Stat. ne Rector poſternat arbores in Cœmiterio, made Anno 35 Ed. 1. and Anno Dom. 1307.

In what caſes, and by whom Trees may be felled in Church-yards.

BEcauſe we do underſtand, that controverſies do oft-times grow between Parſons of Churches and their Pariſhioners, touching Trees growing in the Church-yard, both of them pretending that they do belong unto themſelves: We have thought it good rather to decide this controverſie by writing then by ſtatute, Foraſmuch as a Church-yard, that is dedicated, is the ſoil of a Church, and whatſoever is planted belongeth to the ſoil, it muſt needs follow, that thoſe Trees which be growing in the Church-yard, are to be reckoned amongſt the goods of the Church, the which Lay-men have no authority to diſpoſe; But as the holy Scripture doth teſtifie, the charge of them is committed onely to Prieſts to be diſpoſed of.

In what caſes Trees may be felled in Church-yards.

Coke lib. 11. fol. 49.

And yet ſeeing thoſe Trees be often planted to defend the force of the wind from hurting of the Church: We do prohibit the parſons of the Church, that they do not preſume to fell them down unadviſedly, but when the Chancel of the Church doth want neceſſary reparations. Neither ſhall they be converted to any other uſe, except the body of the Church doth need like repair: In which caſe the Parſons of their charity ſhall do well to relieve the Pariſhioners with beſtowing upon them the ſame Trees: which we will not command to be done, but we will commend it when it is done.

A Statute for Knights, made Anno 1 Regis Edwardi 2. and Anno Domini 1307.

Cauſes to excuſe a man from undertaking of Knighthood.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 593.

7 H. 6 f. 15. Fitz. Averment. 37.

Cauſes to excuſe a man for undertaking of Knighthood.

OUr Lord the King hath granted, That all ſuch as ought to be Knights, and be not, and have been diſtrained to take upon them the Order of a Knight, within the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord, ſhall have reſpite to take the foreſaid Arms of a Knight, until the utas of Saint Hillary, without occaſion; and after that, they ſhall be diſtrained, except they make ſome other mean. Alſo he hath granted, that if any will complain in the Chancery, becauſe he was diſtrained, &c. and hath not twenty pound yearly in fee, or for term of life, and will prove that by the Countrey, then it ſhall be written unto the more diſcreet and ſage Knights of the Shire to take the ſaid Inquiſition; and if it be tried ſo by the ſame Inqueſt, he ſhall have remedy, and the diſtreſs ſhall ceaſe.

Alſo if any be impleaded for all his land, or for part of the ſame, ſo that the reſidue be not ſufficient to the value of twenty pound, and can prove the ſame, then the diſtreſs ſhall ceaſe, until the ſame plea be determined. And where it is contained in a ſtatute made at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of April in the xxvii. year of the reign of the Kings father that now is, that inqueſts and recogniſances taken before Juſtices of the one bench and of the other, ſhould be taken before any Juſtice of the places, accompanied with ſome Knight, of the Shire where ſuch inqueſts hap to be taken, if they have not need of great examination. And yͭ in ſuch inqueſts the Juſtices ſhall do as they think moſt expedient for the wealth of the Realm, the which ſtatute needeth to be better declared: It is agreed, that inqueſts and juries, that be and ſhall be taken in pleas of land, that require not great examination, ſhall be taken in the Countrey before a Juſtice of the place where the plea is, accompanied with a ſubſtantial man of the country, Knight or other, ſo that a certain day be given in the Bench, and a certain day and place in the countrey in the preſence of the parties, if the Demandant requeſt it. And alſo the inqueſts and juries in pleas of land that require great examination, ſhall be taken in the countrey (in the manner aboveſaid) before two Juſtices of the Bench.

St. 14 Ed.3.16. St.13 Ed.1.30.

And the Juſtices or Juſtice, ſhall have power to record nonſuits and defaults in the country at the days and places aſſigned as afore is ſaid. And that which they ſhall have done in the things above mentioned, ſhall be reported in the Bench at a day certain, there to be inrolled, and thereupon judgment ſhall be given. And the King intendeth not, that the ſaid inqueſts and juries ſhould not be taken in the Bench if they come, nor that this Statute ſhould extend unto great aſſiſes. And alſo one Juſtice of the one place and of the other being aſſociate with a diſcreet man of the Countrey, Knight, or other, at the requeſt of the plaintiff, ſhall take inqueſts upon pleas pleaded and to be pleaded, that be moved by attachment and diſtreſs, and ſhall have power to record Nonſuit as above is ſaid, & to take inqueſts upon defaults there made. And as to the inqueſts to be taken upon writs of Quare impedit, it ſhall be done as is contained in the ſtatute of Weſtminſter the ſecond; and the Juſtices ſhall have power to record Nonſuits, and defaults in the country, and to give judgment thereupon, as they do in the Bench, and there to report that which they have done, and there to be inrolled. And if it happen that the Juſtice or Juſtices that ſhall be aſſigned to take ſuch inqueſts in the Countrey, do not come, or if they come into the Countrey at the day aſſigned, yet the parties and perſons of ſuch inqueſts ſhall keep their day in the Bench.

And if any Sheriff change the return ſo delivered to him by Indenture, and be thereof convict at the ſuit of the Lord of the Franchiſe, of whom he received the Return, if the Lord have had any damage, or if his Franchiſe be imblemiſhed, and at the ſuit of the party that hath ſuſtained loſs through that occaſion, he ſhall be puniſhed by the King for his falſe return, and ſhall yield unto the Lord and to the party double damages. Alſo it is agreed, that from henceforth Sheriffs, and other Bailiffs that receive the Kings Writs returnable in his Court, ſhall put their own names with the returns, ſo that the Court may know of whom they took ſuch returns, if need be. And if any Sheriff, or other Bailiff leave out his name in his returns, he ſhall be grievouſly amerced to the Kings uſe.

Articles againſt the Kings Prohibitions.

In what caſes the Kings Prohibition will lie, and in what not.

In which caſes the King prohibition will lie, and in which not.

Under what form ſhall Lay-men purchaſe Prohibitions generally upon Tythes, Oblations, Obventions, redeeming of Penance, Mortuaries, violent hands laying on a Clerk or Lay-brother, and in cauſes of defamation, in which caſes, ſpiritual penance muſt be enjoyned. The King anſwered to theſe Articles, That in Tythes, Oblations, Obventions, and Mortuaries when they be pleaded as before is ſaid, the Kings prohibition doth not lie.

And if a Clerk or a perſon Religious, do ſell his Corn being in his Barn, or other where to any man for mony, if the price thereof be demanded before a Spiritual Judge, the Kings prohibition doth lie, for by the ſale the Spiritual are become Temporal, and ſo Tythes paſs into Chattels.

And if debate hang in a Spiritual Court for the right of Tythes, having his original from the right of the Patronage, and the quantity of the ſame Tythes do paſs the fourth part of the value of the Benefice, a prohibition ſhall lie.

Alſo if a Prelate enjoyn penance pecuniary to any man for his ſin, if the money be demanded before Prelates, a prohibition ſhall lie.

Alſo if any lay violent hands on a Clerk or Lay-brother, for the peace broken, amends ſhall be made before the King, and for the excommunication before a Biſhop or Prelate.

And if a corporal penance be enjoyned, which the offender will redeem by giving money to the Prelate, or to the party grieved, a prohibition ſhall not lie.

In cauſes of defamation, Prelates may freely correct, the Kings prohibition notwithſtanding, firſt enjoyning a corporal penance, which if the party will redeem, the Prelate may lawfully receive the money, though the prohibition be ſhewed. St. 9 E. 2. 1. &c.

An Ordinance for Bakers, Brewers, and other Victuallers, and for Ells, Buſhels, and foreſtallers.

CAP. I.

Upon what onely cauſe Aſſiſe of Bread ſhall be taken.

The Aſſiſe of Bread.

The Aſſiſe of Bread ſhall be kept according as it is contained in the writing of the Marſhalſey of our Lord the King delivered unto them after the ſale of Wheat, that is to wit, the better, the worſe, and the worſt. And as well Waſtel-bread as other of what ſort ſoever they be, ſhall be weighed according as it is ſaid of the ſale of the meaner Wheat: Neither ſhall the aſſiſe or weight of Wheat be changed, more then ſix-pence increaſing or decreaſing as it is in the ſale of the quarter.

CAP. II.

For what offence a Baker ſhall be amerced, and for what ſet on the Pillory.

A Bakers puniſhment.

A Baker if his bread be founden a farthing weight lacking in two ſhillings ſix-pence or under, ſhall be amerced; and if it paſs the ſame number, he ſhall ſuffer puniſhment of the Pillory, which ſhall not be remitted to the offender either for gold or ſilver. And every Baker ſhall have a mark of his own for his bread.

A Bakers mark.

CAP. III.

Every Pillory ſhall be of convenient ſtrength.

A Pillory.

Every Pillory or Stretch-neck muſt be made of convenient ſtrength, ſo that execution may be done upon offenders without peril of their bodies. Regiſt. orig. 109.

CAP. IV.

How Toll at a Mill ſhall be taken.

The Toll of a Mill.

THe Toll of a Mill ſhall be taken according to the cuſtom of the land, and according to the ſtrength of the water-courſe, either to the twentieth or four and twentieth corn. And the meaſure whereby the toll muſt be taken, ſhall be agreeable to the Kings meaſure, and toll ſhall be taken by the raſe, and not by the heap or cantel. And in caſe that the Fermors find the Millers their neceſſaries, they ſhall take nothing beſides their due toll; and if they do otherwiſe, they ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed.

CAP. V.

St. 7 Ed. 6. 9.

THe aſſiſe of wine ſhall be kept, that is, a ſextertium at twelve pence. And if the Taverners exceed the ſame aſſiſes, their doors ſhall be ſhut up. REP. 21 Jac. 28. St. 4 Ed. 3. 12.

CAP. VI.

The aſſiſe of Ale ſhall be according to the price of Corn.

The price of Ale.
St. 23 H. 8. 4.
The puniſhment of Brewers offending.

THe aſſiſe of Ale ſhall be aſſeſſed, proclaimed, and kept according to the price of the Corn whereof the Malt is made. And the Brewer ſhall not increaſe more in a galon, but according to the rate of ſix-pence riſing in a quarter of Malt. And if he break the aſſiſe, the firſt, ſecond, and third time, he ſhall be amerced, but the fourth time he ſhall ſuffer judgment of the Pillory without redemption.

CAP. VII.

The puniſhment of a Butcher ſelling unwholeſom fleſh.

The puniſhment of a Butcher ſelling unwholeſome meat.
Pillory.

A Butcher that ſelleth ſwines fleſh mezled, or fleſh dead of the murrain, or that buyeth fleſh of Jews, and ſelleth the ſame unto Chriſtians, after he ſhall be convict thereof, for the firſt time he ſhall be grievouſly amerced, the ſecond time he ſhall ſuffer judgment of the Pillory, and the third time he ſhall be impriſoned and make fine, and the fourth time he ſhall forſwear the town. And in this manner ſhall it be done of all that offend in like caſe.

CAP. VIII.

Buſhels, Gallons, and Ells ſhall be ſigned with the Kings Seal, and he that buyeth or ſelleth with other ſhall be amerced.

The ſealing of Buſhels, Gallons, and Ells.
Buying or ſelling by unſealed meaſures.

THe ſtandard of Buſhels, Gallons, and Ells, ſhall be ſealed with an iron ſeal of our Lord the King, and ſafe kept under the pain of an hundred pound. And no meaſure ſhall be in any Town, unleſs it do agree with the Kings meaſure, and marked with the Seal of the Shire-town. If any do ſell or buy by meaſures unſealed, and not examined by the Mayor or Bailiffs, he ſhall be grievouſly amerced. And all the meaſures of every Town, both great and ſmall, ſhall be viewed and examined twice in the year. If any be convict for a double meaſure, that is to wit, a greater for to buy with, and a ſmall to ſell with, he ſhall be impriſoned for his falſhood, and ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed. St. 7 H. 7. 4. St. 11 H. 7. 4. St. 12 H. 7. 5.

CAP. IX.

The Buſhel, Standard, and Ells ſhall be kept by Mayors, Bailiffs, &c. No grain ſhall be ſold by the heap or cantel, but Oats, Malt, and Meal.

Who ſhall have the keeping of meaſures.

THe Standard, Buſhel, and Els ſhall be in the cuſtody of the Mayor & Bailiffs, and of ſix lawful perſons of the ſame town being ſworn, before whom all meaſures ſhall be ſealed. No manner of grain ſhall be ſold by the heap or cantel, except it be Oats, Malt, and Meal.

CAP. X.

No Foreſtaller ſhall be ſuffered to dwell in any Town.

Who is a Foreſtaller, and his puniſhment.
St. 5 Ed. 141.
St. 5 El. 5.

BUt eſpecially be it commanded on the behalf of our Lord the King, that no foreſtaller be ſuffered to dwell in any Town which is an open oppreſſour of poor people, and of all the Comminalty, and an enemy of the whole Shire and Countrey, which for greedineſs of his private gain, doth prevent others in buying grain, fiſh, herring, or any other thing to be ſold coming by land or water, oppreſſing the poor, & deceiving the rich, which carrieth away ſuch things, intending to ſell them more dear. The which come to Merchants ſtrangers that bring Merchandiſe, offering them to buy, and informing them that their goods might be dearer ſold then they intended to ſell, and an whole Town or a Countrey is deceived by ſuch craft and ſubtilty. He that is convict thereof, the firſt time ſhall be amerced, and ſhall loſe the thing ſo bought, and that according to the cuſtome and ordinance of the Town: he that is convict the ſecond time ſhall have judgment of the Pillory: and the third time he ſhall be impriſoned, and make fine: and the fourth time he ſhall abjure the Town. And this judgment ſhall be given upon all manner of Foreſtallers, and likewiſe upon them that have given them counſel, help, or favour.

Statutum de terris Templariorum, made Anno 17 Edw. 2. and Anno Dom. 1323.

Cok. Il. 11. f. 21.

FOr that the military Order of Templers ceaſing and being diſſolved, the lands and tenements, in demeaſns, fees, and ſervices of the Brethren of the ſame Order which they held in their Fraternity in the Realm of England in the time of the ſame ceaſing and diſſolution of the foreſaid Order, which were holden of our Lord the King, and divers other Lords in this Kingdom, were ſeiſed into the hands of our Sovereign Lord the King, and of divers other Lords of the fees of them, who challenged the ſame lands for the conſideration aforeſaid, that the ſame lands ought to revert to them as their Eſcheats. Whereupon after in a Parliament of the moſt noble Prince King Edward Son of King Edward, ſummoned and aſſembled at Weſtminſter, three weeks after the day of the Purification of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, in the ſeventeenth year of the reign of the ſame King, great conference was had before the King himſelf, in the preſence of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, Nobles, and great men of the Realm, and others there preſent, whether the foreſaid Lords of the fees, or others which hold thoſe lands that were the foreſaid Templers, as is aforeſaid, might retain them by the Law of the Realm, and with ſafe conſcience. Whereupon the greater part of the Kings Council, as well the Juſtices as other lay-perſons being aſſembled together: The ſaid Juſtices affirmed preciſely, that our Lord the King, and other Lords of the fees aforeſaid, might well and lawfully by the Laws of the Realm retain the foreſaid lands as their Eſcheats, in regard of the ceaſing and diſſolution of the Order aforeſaid.

Whether the Order of Templers being diſſolved, the Lords of the Fees might enjoy their lands.

But becauſe the lands and tenements aforeſaid were given to the Brethren of the ſaid Order for the defence of Chriſtians, and the holy Land, againſt Pagans and Sarazens, and other enemies of Chriſt and Chriſtians, & the univerſal holy Church: It ſeemed good to our Lord the King, the Noblemen, and others aſſembled in the ſame Parliament, for the health of their ſouls, and diſcharge of their conſciences, That whereas the ſaid Military Order of Templers were originally inſtituted for the defence of Chriſtians and the univerſal holy Church, ſubverſion of the enemies of Chriſt and Chriſtians, and canonized to the augmentation of the honour of God, and liberal alms-giving, That the foreſaid lands and tenements in demeaſns, Lordſhips, Services, Liberties, Cuſtoms, and all other things pertaining thereunto, and by any thing depending thereupon, according to the wills of the givers, ſhall be aſſigned and delivered to other men of moſt holy Religion, to the intent the fruits, obventions, and profits of the ſame lands, tenements, and other things, may be converted and charitably diſpoſed to godly uſes. And thereupon in the ſame Parliament it is agreed, ordained, and eſtabliſhed for Law to continue for ever, That neither our Lord the King, nor any other Lords of the fees aforeſaid, or any other perſon, hath title or right to retain the foreſaid lands and tenements, with the appurtenances or any part thereof, in regard of Eſcheat, or by any other means, or hereafter to challenge the ſame lands in reſpect of the ceaſing or diſſolution of the foreſaid Military Order of Templers, whereof the Brethren of the ſame Order were ſeiſed in their Demeſns as of fee at the time of the ceaſing and diſſolution aforeſaid: Notwithſtanding that the foreſaid lands and tenements after the ſaid ceaſing and diſſolution, came to the hands of divers perſons by diſcent of inheritance, gift, or purchaſe, or by any other means: And notwithſtanding any Law or Cuſtome of the Realm of England, whereby this Law, Ordinance and Statute touching the aſſignment and conveyance of the foreſaid lands and tenements might be hindred, impugned, or counter-pleaded.

The chief Lords ſhall not have Templers lands by Eſcheat.

Seeing the Order of the Brethren of the Hoſpital of St. John of Hieruſalem was likewiſe ordained, inſtituted, and canoniſed for the defence of Chriſtians and the holy Church: It is agreed and enacted in the ſaid Parliament by our foreſaid Lord the King, the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men of the Realm there being, That inſomuch as the foreſaid Order of the Templers is ceaſed and diſſolved, and the foreſaid Order of the Hoſpital is provided, inſtituted, and canoniſed, for the defence of Chriſtians, as is aforeſaid, That all yͤ Lands, Tenements, Lordſhips, Fees, Churches, Advowſons of Churches, and liberties, with all things to them belonging, which were the ſaid Templers at the time of their ceaſing and diſſolution, ſhall be aſſigned and delivered to the foreſaid Order of the Hoſpital, and to the Prior and Brethren of the ſame Hoſpital, to remain to them and their ſucceſſours for ever. Wherefore our ſaid Lord the King, by the mutual aſſent of the Earls, Barons, and Noble-men aforeſaid, of his Regal Authority in the ſame Parliament, hath aſſigned to determine and deliver all the foreſaid Lands, Tenements, Lordſhips, Fees, Churches, Advowſons, and Liberties, with their appurtenances, to the foreſaid Order of the Hoſpital, and to the ſaid Prior and Brethren of the ſaid Order, To have and hold to the ſame Prior and his Brethren and Succeſſours for ever of our Lord the King, and other Lords of the fees aforeſaid, by the ſame ſervices, by which the Brethren of the Military Order of Templers held the ſame, at the time of their ceaſing and diſſolution: As in relieving of the poor, in hoſpitalities, in celebrating divine Service, defence of the holy Land, and in all other offices and ſervices before-time due, by whatſoever names they be called. So always, that the godly and worthy will of the foreſaid givers be obſerved, performed, and always religiouſly executed, as is aforeſaid; Saving to every perſon his action, if he had any, the time of the ceaſing and diſſolution aforeſaid, againſt the ſame Templers in the foreſaid Lands and Tenements, Rents, Services, Cuſtoms, Penſions, Corodies, Liberties, celebrating of Maſſes, Alms, & other things whatſoever, and liberty to proſecute his right againſt the ſaid Prior and Brethren of the Hoſpital aforeſaid and their Brethren, and their Succeſſours, according to the Law and cuſtom of the Realm, as he might have had againſt the foreſaid Templers, if the Order aforeſaid had not been diſſolved: And if it fortune that the ſaid Prior and Brethren of the Hoſpital aforeſaid, or their Succeſſours, ſhall be put out of the foreſaid lands and tenements, or of any parcel thereof, after they ſhall be ſeiſed of the ſame, they ſhall have power to recover their own according to the Law of the Realm.

All the Templers lands given to the Prior of the Hoſpital of S. John of Hieruſalem.
Cok. l. 11. f. 22.

And to the intent that the aſſignment before ſpecified may be publiſhed and made known to all men to whom it behoveth: It is ordained and agreed in the ſame Parliament, that it ſhall be openly proclaimed in every County of this Kingdom, that all and every perſon holding the lands and tenements aforeſaid, and all others to whom it doth appertain, ſhall be at Weſtminſter one moneth after Eaſter-day next, if they will, to hear the concord, proviſion, and aſſignment aforeſaid, in form aforeſaid.

How he ſhal be uſed which is taken in the Foreſt for any offence of Vert or Veniſon. St. 3 Ed. 1. 20. St. 9 H. 3. 10. & 16.

Item, Whereas divers people be diſinherited, ranſomed, and undone, by the chief Keepers of the Foreſts on this ſide Trent and beyond, and by other miniſters, againſt the form of the great Charter of the Foreſt, and againſt the Declaration made by King Edward, ſon of King Henry, in form following: that is to ſay, We will and grant for us and our heirs, that for any treſpſas done in our Foreſt of Vert and Veniſon, that the Foreſters in whoſe Bailiwick ſuch treſpaſs ſhall be committed, ſhall preſent the ſame treſpaſſes at the next Swanimote before the Foreſters, Verders, Regarders, Agiſters, and other Miniſters of the ſame Foreſt: And upon ſuch preſentment made before the ſaid Foreſters, Verders, Regarders, and Agiſters, and other Miniſters aforeſaid, as well by the oaths of Knights, as by other diſcreet and lawful men, and not ſuſpitious of the parties adjoyning or near, where ſuch offences ſhall be ſo preſented, and where the truth may beſt and moſt fully be enquired, and the truth perfectly known, then ſuch preſentments by the common aſſent and conſent of all the ſaid Miniſters ſhall be ſolemnly written, and with their ſeals enſealed. And if any endictment be in any other manner made, the ſame ſhall be void. And therefore becauſe the chief Wardens of the Foreſts have not obſerved the ſame form hitherto, it is agreed and ordained, that from henceforth no man ſhall be taken nor impriſoned for Vert or Veniſon, unleſs he be taken with the manner, or elſe indicted after the form before ſpecified. And then the chief Warden of the Foreſt ſhall let him to mainpriſe, till the Eyre of the Foreſt, without any thing taken for his deliverance. And if the ſaid Warden will not ſo do, he ſhall have a Writ out of the Chancery, which hath been in old time ordained for ſuch perſons endicted, to be at mainpriſe till the Eyre. And if ſuch Warden after he hath received the Writ, do not incontinently deliver ſuch perſons indicted to mainpriſe, without taking any thing: then the Plaintiff ſhall have a Writ out of the Chancery to the Sheriff, to attach the ſaid Warden to be before the King at a certain day to anſwer, wherefore he hath not replevied him that is ſo taken. And the Sheriff (the Verders being called to him) ſhall deliver him that is ſo taken, by good mainpriſe, in the preſence of the Verders, and ſhall deliver the names of the Mainpernors to the ſame Verders, to anſwer in the Eyre before the Juſtices. And if the chief Warden be thereof attainted, the Plaintiffs ſhall have their treble damages awarded them, and the ſaid Warden ſhall be committed to priſon, and ranſomed at the Kings will. And from henceforth it ſhall be written to them as to the chief Wardens of the Foreſt, becauſe they may not be Juſtices, nor have any record but in the Eyre. ITem, Where in the Statutes made at Weſtminſter, at the Parliament there ſummoned after the Feaſt of Saint Katherine, in the Fourth year of the Reign of the King that now is, amongſt other things there Enacted, it is contained, upon the grievances which the Purveyors for the Kings houſe, the Queens, and of their children, did to the people in outragious meaſures of corn, and voluntary taking of hay, litter, and other things provided by the ſaid Purveyors, that the takers and Purveyors of corn for the ſaid houſes, ſhould take them by meaſure ſtricken according as hath been uſed through the Realm: And that all the corn, hay, litter, beſtail, and all other victuals and things to be taken for the ſame houſes, ſhould be praiſed at the true value by the Conſtables and other good people of Towns where ſuch priſes be, and that the priſors be not enforced by threats and dureſs, to aſſeſs any other price then their Oath will. And in the ſame Statute is one Article rehearſed, which was made in the time of King Edward, grandfather to the King that now is, where certain pains be limited againſt thoſe that late made Purveyance for the ſaid houſes; which pains not regarded, the ſaid Purveyors have not let to make outragious and unlawful priſes againſt the tenor of the ſaid Statutes. To the honour and profit of our ſaid Lord the King, and for the peace and quietneſs of his people, and to refrain and puniſh the enormities of thoſe that have committed ſuch outrages, to the Kings, the Queens, and their childrens great ſlander: It is accorded and Enacted, That the taking and purveyance for the ſaid houſes ſhall be made by the Conſtables, and four diſcreet men of the Towns where ſhall be ſuch priſes and purveyances, thereto ſworn, and without menace, as in the ſaid Statutes is contained. And that alſo betwixt the Purveyors and them, whoſe goods ſhall be taken in the preſence of the Conſtables and Praiſors, tallies ſhall be made and ſealed with the Purveyors ſeals, of the things ſo taken; By which tallies ſatisfaction ſhall be made to them from whom ſuch goods be taken. And if any taker or purveyor for the ſaid houſes, do take in any other manner, he ſhall be incontinently arreſted by the Town where ſuch taking was made, and brought to the next Gaol. And if he be thereof attainted, it ſhall be done of him as of a thief, if the quantity of the goods the ſame require. And from henceforth it ſhall be contained in the Commiſſions of ſuch takers and purveyors, be they under the ſmall ſeal or the great, the form and the pain contained in this Statute. And that in every caſe where ſuch Inqueſts be to be taken before the Steward and the Marſhal of the Kings houſe, that Inqueſts be made by men of the Countrey thereabout, and not by men of the Kings houſe, except it be of contracts, covenants or treſpaſſes made by men of the Kings houſe of the one part and of the other, and that in the ſame houſe, according to another Statute thereof made in the time of the ſaid Edw. the Grandfather. And in caſe where any will complain of errour made in the time of the ſaid King before the ſaid Steward and Marſhal, the Plaintiff ſhall have a Writ to remove the record and the proceſs before the King in his place, and there the errour ſhall be redreſſed. And likewiſe ſhall it be done in every other caſe where any man will complain him of errour done before the ſame Steward and Marſhal of the Kings houſe. Regiſt. f. 17. Raſt. pla. f. 297.

Statutes made at York Craſtino Aſcenſionis, Anno 9 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1335.

Whereas before this time in many Parliaments, and now at this preſent Parliament ſummoned at York, on the morrow after the Aſcenſion, in the ninth year of the reign of King Edward the Third after the Conqueſt, it was ſhewed to our ſaid Lord the King, by the Knights of the Shires, Citizens of the Cities, and Burgeſſes of the Boroughs, which come for the Commons of the ſaid Shires, Cities, and Boroughs, that in divers Cities, Boroughs, and other places of his Realm, great dureſs and grievous damage have been done to him and his people, by ſome people of Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, and other places of the ſaid Realm, which in long time paſt have not ſuffered, nor yet will ſuffer Merchant-Strangers, nor other which do carry and bring in by Sea or Land, Wines, Avoir de pois, and other livings and victuals, with divers other things to be ſold, neceſſary and profitable for the King, his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Noble-men, and the Commons of this Realm, to ſell or deliver ſuch Wines, Livings, Victuals, nor other things to any other then to themſelves, of the Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, or other places where ſuch Wines, Livings, Victuals, and other things to be ſold, ſhall be brought or carried. By reaſon whereof, ſuch ſtuff aforeſaid is ſold to the King and to his people, in the hands of the ſaid Citizens, Burgeſſes, and other people, Denizens, more dear then they ſhould be, if ſuch Merchant-Strangers, and others which bring ſuch things into the Realm, might freely ſell them to whom they would, to the great damage of our Lord the King, and of his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of this Realm, and grievous oppreſſion of his Commons: whereupon the ſaid Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes, for them and the Commons, deſired our ſaid Lord the King, in his ſaid Parliament, by their Petition, that for the profit and commodity of his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of this Realm, it may pleaſe him without further delay, upon the ſaid grievances and outrage, to provide remedy.

CAP. I.

Merchant-Strangers may buy and ſell within this Realm without diſturbance.

Our Lord the King, deſiring the profit of his people, by the aſſent of his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of this Realm, ſummoned at his Parliament, and by the advice of his Council being there, upon the ſaid things diſcloſed to him, and found true, to the great hurt of the ſaid Prelates, Earls, and Barons, and other Nobles of his Realm, and oppreſſion of his Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all Merchant-Strangers and Denizens, and all other and every of them, of what eſtate or condition ſoever they be, that will buy or ſell Corn, Wines, Avoir de pois, Fleſh, Fiſh, and all other Livings and Victuals, Wools, Cloths, Wares, Merchandiſes, and all other things vendible, from whence ſoever they come by Foreigners or Denizens, at what place ſoever it be, City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, Fair, Market, or elſe-where within the Realm, within Franchiſe or without, may freely without interruption ſell them to what perſons it ſhall pleaſe them, as well to Foreigners as Denizens. Except always the enemies of our Lord the King, and of his Realm. And if haply any diſturbance be done to any Merchant-Stranger or Denizen, or any other for the ſale of ſuch things in any City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, or other place which hath Franchiſe, and the Mayors and Bailiffs, or other which hath the rule of ſuch Franchiſe, being required by the ſaid Merchants, or other, thereof to provide remedy, and do not, and be thereof attainted, the Franchiſe ſhall be ſeiſed into the Kings hands. And nevertheleſs he and the other which hath done this diſturbance againſt this Statute, ſhall be bound to yield and reſtore to the ſaid Merchant his double damages which he hath thereby ſuſtained. And if ſuch diſturbance or interruption be done to ſuch Merchants, or to other in ſuch Towns or places where no Franchiſe is: And the Lord if he be preſent, or his Bailiff, Conſtable, or other Ruler of the ſaid Towns and places, in the abſence of the Lords, being therein required to do right, and do not, and thereof be attainted, they ſhall yield to the party plaintiff his double damages, as afore is ſaid. And the diſturbers in the one caſe and in the other, as well within Franchiſes as without, if they be attainted, ſhall have one years impriſonment, and nevertheleſs be ranſomed at the Kings will. Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no Alien or Denizen upon the ſame pain ſhall be troubled, but that he may freely buy ſuch things aforeſaid, in the ſaid places, and carry them where it pleaſeth him, to his own uſe, or to the profit of the King, or of the great men, or the Commons of the Realm. Saving that ſuch Merchants Aliens ſhall carry no Wine out of the ſame Realm, as is contained in their Charter. And it is enacted and eſtabliſhed, that the things aforeſaid ſhall be obſerved, performed, and kept in every City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, and other places within the Realm, notwithſtanding Charters of Franchiſe granted to them to the contrary, nor uſage, nor cuſtom, nor judgment given upon their Charters, Uſages, or Cuſtoms that they can alledge. Which Charters, Uſages, and Cuſtoms (if any be) our Lord the King and the Prelates, Earls, Barons, Great men, and the Commons aforeſaid hold them of no force, as things granted, uſed, or accuſtomed, to the damage of the King, and his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and Great men of his Realm, and to the oppreſſion of the Commons. Saving alway to the King and to the other, the cuſtoms due of the ſaid Merchandiſes. It is alſo ordained and provided, That the Chancellor, Treaſurer, and the Juſtices aſſigned to hold the Kings Pleas, in places where they come, ſhall enquire of ſuch diſturbances and grievances, and the ſame ſhall puniſh, according as is before ordained. And nevertheleſs

ITem, At the requeſt of the ſaid Commons made to our Lord the King in his ſaid Parliament: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed by our Lord the King, by the aſſent of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men, and the Commons aforeſaid, that in Writ of debt brought againſt divers Executors, the ſame Executors, nor any of them ſhall have but one Eſſoin before appearance, that is to ſay, at the ſummons or attachment, nor after appearance they ſhall have but one Eſſoin, as the Teſtator ſhould have had, ſo that all the Executors do preſent the perſon of the Teſtator as one perſon: It is alſo enacted, that though the Sheriff do anſwer at the ſummons, that ſome of them have nothing whereby he may be ſummoned, yet there ſhall an attachment be awarded upon him. And if the Sheriff anſwer, that he had nothing whereby he may be attached, the great diſtreſs ſhall be awarded, ſo that at the great diſtreſs returned upon them, he or they that do firſt appear in the Court ſhall anſwer to the plaintiff. And although ſome of them have appeared in the Court, and make default at the day that the great diſtreſs is returned upon the other: yet nevertheleſs he or they ſhall be put to anſwer, that firſt appeared at the great diſtreſs returned. And in caſe the judgment paſs for the plaintiff, he ſhall have his judgment and execution againſt them that have pleaded, according to the Law heretofore uſed, and againſt all other named in the Writ, of the goods of the Teſtator, as well as if they had all pleaded. And it is to be underſtood, that if in any ſuch caſe, he will ſue according to the Law that hath been uſed heretofore, he may freely do it notwithſtanding this Statute.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 10 Edwardi 3. and Anno Domini 1336.

BEcauſe our Lord the King Edward the third after the Conqueſt (which Soveraignly deſireth the maintenance of the peace and ſafeguard of his people) hath perceived at the complaint of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and alſo at the ſhewing of the Knights of the Shires, and his Commons by their petition put in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next after Lent, in the tenth year of his reign, divers oppreſſions and grievances done to his ſaid people, and namely, by Murderers, Robbers, Theeves, Raviſhers of women, and other felons: Coveting to obvent the malice of ſuch felons, and to ſee a conveniable remedy, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed by the aſſent of the ſaid Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of this Realm, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Knights and Commons, for the quietneſs and peace of his people, that the Articles underneath written be kept and maintained in all points.

CAP. I.

A confirmation of former Statutes.

FIrſt it is accorded and eſtabliſhed that the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt, and alſo the ſtatutes made in the time of the Kings Progenitors, and alſo in his own time, be kept, holden, and firmly maintained, as well by great men, as by the ſmall, and the rich man as the poor.

Former Statutes confirmed.

CAP. II.

Pardon ſhall not be granted contrary to the Statute of 2 Ed. 3. 2.

ITem, Whereas Murderers, Robbers, and other felons be greatly encouraged to offend by reaſon that Charters of pardon of Manſlaughter, robbery, felonies, and other treſpaſſes againſt the Peace, have been ſo lightly granted before this time: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed by our Lord the King, by the aſſent of his Prelates, Earls, Barons, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Knights and Commons, that no ſuch Charters from henceforth ſhall be granted by our Lord the King, againſt the form of a ſtatute late made at Northampton, the ſecond year of his Reign. CAP. III.

He that hath a Pardon of Felony ſhall find ſureties for his good abearing.

AND as to Charters granted in times paſt: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed by our Lord the King, by the ſame aſſent, and at the requeſt aforeſaid, that all ſuch which have Charters, ſhall come before the Sheriffs and Coroners of the Counties where the felonies be done, between this and the Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt next coming, and every of them ſhall find before the ſaid Sheriffs and Coroners of the Counties where the felonies be done, ſix good and ſufficient Mainpernors, for whom the ſaid Sheriffs and Coroners will anſwer, that they from henceforth ſhall bear themſelves well and lawfully. And the Mainpriſes ſhall be ſealed with their Seals, and returned into the Chancery at the fifteenth of the ſaid feaſt of S. John. And they that will aid themſelves by ſuch Charters, and have not found mainpriſe, as above is ſaid, or after the mainpriſe found, bear themſelves otherwiſe againſt the peace then they ought, their Charters ſhall be holden for none. And in caſe that our Lord the King grant any ſuch Charters in time to come, that within three months after the making of the ſame, they that ſhall have the ſaid Charters, ſhall come and find before the Sheriffs and Coroners of the Counties where the felonies be done, ſuch like mainpriſe, and alſo as before is ſaid of their good abearing. And the ſaid mainpriſes ſhall be ſealed and returned into the Chancery within three Weeks after the end of the ſaid three Months. And if they that ſhall have ſuch Charters will in time to come aid themſelves thereby, and have not found ſuch mainpriſes, or after ſuch mainpriſe found, do bear them otherwiſe againſt the Peace then they ought, their Charters ſhall be holden for none, as is aforeſaid. Statutes of Purveyors made at Weſtminſter Anno 10. Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1336.

THeſe be the Articles accorded in the Parliament of our Lord King Edward the third after the Conqueſt, holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next after the half of Lent, in the tenth year of his reign, by our ſaid Lord the King, with the aſſent of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and alſo at the requeſt of the Knights of the Shires, and the Commons by their petitions put in the ſaid Parliament.

CAP. I.

Things purveyed for the Kings houſe ſhall be praiſed, and Tallies made thereof.

FIrſt, it is accorded that to repreſs the malice of the Purveyors of the Kings, Queens, and their childrens houſes, and other injuries by them done to the ſaid people, by their outragious takings for the ſame houſes, and otherwiſe then is contained in an article of a Statute made at Weſtminſter, in the fifth year of the Kings reign that now is, in form that enſueth: It ſhall be from henceforth publiſhed, holden and kept in all parts, as in the ſecond Chapter of the ſaid ſtatute is more fully contained, and alſo as in the ſtatute made at Weſtminſter, at the Parliament ſummoned there after the feaſt of S. Katherin, in the fourth year of the Kings reign that now is, amongſt other things there accorded and eſtabliſhed, it is contained: viz. That upon grievances which the purveyors of the Kings, Queens, and their childrens houſes did to the people, in outragious meaſure of Corn, and alſo in wilful taking of Hay, litter, &c. provided by the ſame purveyors, It be eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid purveyors and takers of corn for the ſaid houſe of King, and Queen, ſhall take the ſame by meaſure ſtriked, according as is uſed throughout the Realm. And that all the corn, hay, litter and beſtail, and all other victail and things whatſoever they be, to be taken for the ſame houſes, ſhall be praiſed at the true value by the Conſtables and other good people of the towns, where ſuch takings ſhall be made, without that by menace or dureſs the praiſors ſhall be driven to ſet other price then their oath will. And whereas in the ſame ſtatute an article was rehearſed, which was made in the time of King Edward of good memory, grandfather to the King that now is, where certain pains be contained againſt thoſe, which do unduly make purveyance for ſuch houſes, for which pains the purveyors of the ſaid houſes have not let to make outragious and undue taking, againſt the tenor of the ſaid ſtatnte: To the honour and profit of our ſaid Lord the King, and for the quietneſs and tranquillity of his people, and to refrain, and alſo to puniſh the miſdemeanor of them that have made ſuch outrages, in ſlander of the King, the Queen his companion, and their children: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that the takings and purveyances ſhall be made for the ſaid houſes, by appreiſment made by the Conſtables, & four diſcreet men of the towns, where ſuch takings and purveyances ſhall be made, ſworn, and without menace, as in the ſaid ſtatute is contained. And that betwixt the purveyors, and thoſe whoſe goods ſhall be taken in the preſence of the Conſtables, and preiſors, tallies ſhall be made, ſealed with the ſeals of the takers of the things ſo taken, by which tallies contentation ſhall be made to them of whom the thing ſhall be ſo taken. And if any purveyor or taker for the ſaid houſes do otherwiſe, he ſhall be incontinently arreſted by the town, where the taking ſhall be made, and brought to the next gaol; and if he be thereof attainted, be it done there to him as to a thief, if the quantity of the goods the ſame require. And from henceforth be it contained in the Commiſſions of ſuch takers and purveyors, be they under the great ſeal or the ſmall, the form and the pain contained in this ſtatute. CAP. II.

Of what people Enqueſts in the Marſhals Court of the Kings houſe ſhall be taken.

Co.l.ro.f.69.

ITem, in every caſe where Inqueſts be to be taken before the Steward or Marſhal of the Kings houſe, the ſame inqueſts ſhall be taken by the people of the Country thereabout, and not by the people of the Kings houſe, except it be of the contracts, covenants or treſpaſſes made by the people of the ſame houſe, of the one part and of the other, according to another ſtatute thereof made, in the time of the ſame King the grandfather. St.28 Ed.1.3. St.5 E.3.2.

Of what people enqueſt ſhall be taken in the Marſhals court.

CAP. III.

Error in the Marſhals Court, ſhall be reverſed in the Kings Bench.

ITem, in caſe where a man will complain of errors, made before the ſaid Steward and Marſhal, the plaintiff ſhall have a Writ, to make the Record and the proceſs to come before the King in his place, and there the error ſhall be redreſſed, and ſo it ſhall be done in every caſe, where a man will complain of error made before the ſaid Steward and Marſhal of the Kings houſe. St.5 Ed.3.2. Regiſt.fo.17. Raſt.pla.fo.297.

Error in the Marſhals court ſhall be reverſed in the Kings Bench.

CAP. IV.

The Sheriff ſhall make purveyance for the Kings horſes.

ITem, it is accorded, that for the great grievances that the keepers of the Kings great horſes have done to his people, as our L. the K. hath perceived by the ſhewing of the ſaid Commons, that purveyances from henceforth to be made for the ſaid horſes, as long as they do ſojourn in any parties, ſhall be made by the Sheriffs of the Counties, where the ſaid horſes ought to ſojourn, and not by other. And that the Commiſſions made afore this time to ſuch keepers, ſhall be from henceforth of none effect, and utterly repealed. And that the purveyances to be made by the ſaid Sheriffs in this caſe, ſhall be delivered to the ſaid keepers by Indentures. St.14 Ed.3.19.

Purveyance for the Kings great Horſes ſhall be made by the Sheriffs.

CAP. V.

Certain perſons ſhall be appointed to hear the offences of the Keepers of the Kings horſes.

ITem, it is accorded, that certain people ſhall be aſſigned to hear and determine all the offences done by the ſaid keepers, as well at the ſuit of the King, as of the party. But this is holden for no ſtatute, as appeareth by the roll.

22 Ed.3.1.3.

ITem, becauſe divers miſchiefs have happened, for that in divers places, as well in the Chancery, as in the Kings Bench, the common Bench, and in the Eſchequer before the Juſtices aſſigned, and other Juſtices to hear and determine deputed, the judgments have been delayed, ſometime by difficulty, and ſometime by divers opinions of the Judges, and ſometime for ſome other cauſe: It is aſſented, eſtabliſhed, and accorded, that from henceforth at every Parliament ſhall be choſen a Prelate, two Earls, and two Barons, which ſhall have commiſſion and power of the King to hear by petition delivered to them, the complaints of all thoſe that will complain them of ſuch delays or grievances done to them; and they ſhall have power to cauſe to come before them at Weſtminſter, or elſe where the places of any of them ſhall be, the tenor of records, and proceſſes of ſuch judgments ſo delayed, and to cauſe the ſame Juſtices to come before them, which ſhall be then preſent to hear their cauſe and reaſons of ſuch delays. Which cauſe and reaſon ſo heard, by good advice of themſelves, the Chancellor, Treaſurer, the Juſtices of the one Bench and of the other, and other of the Kings Councel, as many, and ſuch as they ſhall think convenient, ſhall proceed to take a good accord, and make a good judgment. And according to the ſame accord ſo taken, the tenor of the ſaid record, together with the judgment which ſhall be accorded, ſhall be remanded before the Juſtices, before whom the plea did depend. And that they haſtily go to give judgment according to the ſame record. And in caſe it ſeemeth to them, that the difficulty be ſo great, that it may not well be determined, without aſſent of the Parliament, that the ſaid tenor or tenors ſhall be brought by the ſaid Prelate, Earls and Barons unto the next Parliament, and there ſhall be a final accord taken what judgment ought to be given in this caſe. And according to this accord, it ſhall be commanded to the Judges, before whom the plea did depend, that they ſhall proceed to to give judgment without delay. And to begin to do remedy upon this ordinance: It is aſſented, that a commiſſion and a power ſhall be granted to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the Earls of Arundel and Huntington, the Lord of Wake, and the Lord Ralfe Baſſet, to endure till the next Parliament. And though the miniſters have made an oath before this time, yet neverthele ſs to remember them of the ſame oath: It is aſſented, that as well the Chancellor, Treaſurer, Keeper of the Privie ſeal, the Juſtices of the one Bench, and of the other, the Chancellor, Barons of the Eſchequer, as the Juſtices aſſigned: and all they that do meddle in the ſaid places under them, by the advice of the ſame Archbiſhop, Earls and Barons, ſhall make an oath well and lawfully to ſerve the King and his people. And by the advice of the ſaid Prelate, Earls and Barons, be it ordained to increaſe the number of the miniſters when need ſhall be, and then to diminiſh in the ſame manner. Sheriffs ſhall keep Hundreds in their own hands, or let them upon the old rent.
There ſhall be but one Bailiff Errant in one County.

ITem, whereas many miſchiefs be hapned through the Realm, for that the Sheriffs have let the Hundreds and wapentakes to an higher ferm then they yield to the King, and the fermors do let the ſame to other at more higher and greater ſums, in ſuch manner that by the high letting and enhanſing of the ferms, and by the great number of Bailiffs errants, outriders, and other whom the Sheriffs, Bailiffs and Hundreders do put in, the people be in divers manners charged and grieved: It is aſſented and accorded, that from henceforth all the Wapentakes and Hundreds which be ſevered from the counties, ſhall be rejoyned to the ſame counties, as before this time hath been eſtabliſhed by another ſtatute. And that the Sheriffs hold the ſame in their own hands, and put in ſuch Bailiffs and Hundreders, having lands within the Biliwicks and Hundreds, for whom they will anſwer. And if they will let any Hundreds, Bailiwicks or wapentakes to ferm, they ſhall let the ſame at the ancient ferm without any thing encreaſing. And that the King and his people be ſerved by ſuch Bailiffs and Hundreders and their Under-bailiffs, in avoiding for ever the outriders, and other which in divers Counties before-time have notoriouſly grieved the people. And that no Bailiff errant be put in the Counties, where Bailiffs errants have been in times paſt, in the time of the Kings grandfather that now is. And that there be no more but one Bailiff errant in one county. And in the ſame manner it is aſſented, that all other, of what eſtate or condition they be, which have Bailiwicks or Hundreds in fee, if they the ſame will hold in their own hands, then they ſhall put in ſuch Bailiffs for whom they will anſwer. And if they will let the ſame in ferm to other, then they ſhall let the ſame at the ancient ferm, without any thing encreaſing, as afore is ſaid. And the Juſtices of the one Bench and the other, the Barons of the Eſchequer, and the Juſtices aſſigned ſhall have power to enquire of all thoſe that offend againſt this ordinance, at all times that they come into the country, and to execute ſuch puniſhment, as to them ſhall ſeem convenient to be done according to the law and reaſon. And if the Sheriffs or their fermors be found in default in any point againſt this ordinance, and thereof be attained, the Hundreds and Wapentakes where ſuch default ſhall be found, ſhall be taken into the Kings hands, and let to other by the ſame Juſtices, and to commit them to priſon, there to remain till they have made fine and ranſome to the King according to the quantity of the treſpaſs. And nevertheleſs they ſhall anſwer to the King of the whole ferm. And that the Lords which hold Hundreds or Wapentakes in fees, ſhall ſet ſuch Bailiffs which be ſufficient to anſwer the King and his people. And if their Bailiffs do againſt this ordinance, they ſhall be called to anſwer. The Kings grant that the foreſaid Subſidie of the ninth Lamb, &c. ſhall be no example, nor prejudicial to his Subjects. All ſhall be ſpent in his Wars.

EDward by the grace of God, &c. to all them, &c. greeting. Know ye that whereas the Prelates, Earls, Barons, & Commons of our Realm of England, in our preſent Parliament, holden at Weſtminſter, the Wedneſday next after the Sunday of middle Lent, the xiv. year of our Reign of England, and the firſt of France, have granted to us of their good gree and good will in aid of the ſpeed of our great buſineſs, which we have to do, as well on this ſide the Sea as beyond, the ix. ſheaf, the ix. fleece, and the ix. lamb, to be taken by two years next coming, after the making of the ſame, and the Citizens and the Burgeſſes of Boroughs the very ix. part of all their goods, and the foreign Merchants and other, which have not of gain nor of ſtore of ſheep, the xv. of their goods lawfully to the value: We willing to provide for the indemnity of the ſaid Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other of the Communalty, and alſo of Citizens, Burgeſſes, and Merchants aforeſaid, will and grant for us and our heirs, to the ſame Prelates, Earls, Barons and Commons, Citizens, Burgeſſes and Merchants, that the ſame grant, which is ſo chargeable, ſhall not another time be had in example, nor fall to their prejudice in time to come, nor that they be from henceforth charged nor grieved to make any aid, or to ſuſtain charge, if it be not by the common aſſent of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men, and Commons of our ſaid Realm of England, and that in the Parliament: And that all the profits riſing of the ſaid aid, and of Wards and Marriages, Cuſtoms and Eſcheats, and other profits riſing of the ſaid Realm of England, ſhall be put and ſpent upon the maintenance and the ſafeguard of our ſaid Realm of England, and of our Wars in Scotland, France, and Gaſcoin, and in no places elſewhere during the ſaid Wars.

A former grant of a Subſidy to the King ſhall be no example in time to come.

How the Subſidy granted to the King ſhall be ſpent.

CAP. II.

All Merchants being no enemies, ſhall come in the Realm and depart quietly.

ITem, Where it is contained in the great Charter, that all Merchants ſhall have ſafe and ſure conduct, to go out of the Realm of England, and to come and abide, and go through the Realm of England, as well by water as by land, and to buy and ſell, paying their rights and cuſtoms, but in the time of War: We at the requeſt of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and Commons, will and grant for us and for our heirs and ſucceſſors, That all Merchants, Denizens, and Foreiners (except thoſe which be of our enmity) may without let, ſafely come into the ſaid Realm of England, with their goods and merchandizes, and ſafely tarry, and ſafely return, paying the Cuſtoms, Subſidies, and other profits reaſonably thereof due. So always that Franchiſes and free Cuſtoms, reaſonably granted by us and our Anceſtors, to the City of London and other Cities, Boroughs, and good Towns of our Realm of England, be to them ſaved. St. 9 H. 3. 9.

St. 9 H. 3. 30.

Merchants may come into the Realm and return in ſafety.

Franchiſes granted to cities and boroughs reſerved.

A Statute for the Clergy, made at Weſtminſter the 16 of April, Anno 14 Ed. 3. Anno 1340.

EDward by the grace of God, &c. greeting, &c. Know ye, that whereas in the firſt Article of the great Charter it is contained, that the Church of England be free, and have all her Rights entirely, and Franchiſes not blemiſhed: and alſo in all the whole eſtabliſhments made as well in times of our Progenitors, as in our own time, the ſame Article often ratified and confirmed. Nevertheleſs in our Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Wedneſday next after the Sunday of middle Lent, it is ſhewed unto us by the Reverend Father in God, John Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Primate of England, and the other Prelates of the Clergy of our Realm, how ſome oppreſſions and grievances be done in divers manners by ſome of our ſervants to people of holy Church, againſt the Franchiſe of the great Charter, and the eſtabliſhments aforeſaid, which oppreſſions they ſhew in petition, praying upon the ſame remedy: Wherefore we, their petition ſeen and regarded, and thereupon deliberation had with the Peers of our Realm, and other of our Council, and of the Realm ſummoned to our ſaid Parliament, and having regard to the great Charter, and to our Statutes aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Prelates and Clergy, which have much aided us, and daily do, by the aſſent and accord of the ſaid Peers, and of all other ſummoned and being in our ſaid Parliament, have granted and do grant for us and our heirs and ſucceſſours to the ſaid Prelates and Clergy, the things under-written perpetually to endure.

St. 9 H. 3. 1.

CAP. I.

Spiritual perſons goods ſhall not be taken by Purveyances without the owners conſent.

FIrſt, That none by us, nor by other Commiſſion of the Great Seal, nor of the Small, nor without Commiſſion, ſhall take any Corn, Hay, Beaſts, Carriage, nor other goods of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, Parſons, Vicars, or of other people of holy Church, within their houſes, mannors, granges, nor other places within the fees of holy Church nor without, againſt the agreement and will of the owners of the ſame goods. And we do defend, that from henceforth no ſuch Commiſſions under the Great Seal, nor the Small, ſhall in any wiſe go forth to make any ſuch prices. For we do take the ſaid Prelates and Clergy, their poſſeſſions, goods, and cattels, into ſpecial protection and defence of us and our heirs. Alſo we grant for us and our heirs, that we ſhall not from henceforth charge any of the ſaid Prelates or Clergy, nor their houſes, to receive gueſts, nor ſojourners of Scotland, nor of other Countries, nor our horſes, nor dogs, Fawcons, nor other hawks of ours, nor others againſt their gree and will. Saving always to us the ſervices which be due to us of right from them which owe to us the ſame ſervices, to ſuſtain and receive dogs, horſes, or hawks. St. 9 Ed. 1. 1. St. 18 Ed. 3. 4. St. 1 R. 2. 3. Regiſt. fo. 289.

No ſpiritual perſons goods ſhall be purveyed for the King without the owners conſent.

CAP. II.

Preſentment to Churches made by the King in anothers right.

The King ſhall not preſent in anothers right but within three yeares after the avoidance.
Rep. 25 Ed. 3. 2.

ITem, Because of the Temporalties being in our hands, or in the hands of our Anceſtors, by reaſon of Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, or other Prelacies void, and alſo becauſe of other lands, tenements, fees, and advowſons being in our hands, and in the hands of our Anceſtors, by nonage of heirs, it hath been uſed before this time, the exception of plenarty ſhould hold no place againſt us, nor againſt any of our Anceſtors, no more in caſe where ſuch preſentments ſhould be devolute to us in anothers right, then if they had been in our own right, or in the right of our Crown, whereby many Parſons and Prebendaries were put out of their Churches, Prebends, and Benefices, which they had long time holden, to their great miſchief and impoveriſhment: We will and grant for us and for our heirs, to avoid ſuch miſchiefs, that from henceforth we nor our heirs ſhall not make collation or preſentment to any Church, Prebend, Chappel, or other Benefice, by the occaſion of ſuch avoidances of Prelacies, or of the lands of Infants within age, or of others come or to come into our hands, or in the hands of our heirs, if we or our heirs do not make our collations or preſentments within three years after that ſuch Benefices do ſo indeed become void. And that of ſuch Churches and other Benefices, of which Clerks be in poſſeſſion, and have had poſſeſſion by a year before the making of this Statute, we nor our heirs ſhall have none action nor reaſon to preſent to ſuch Benefices ſo full. And we will not that any man be holden to anſwer to any Writ of Quare impedit taken in our name in ſuch caſe, if the collation or preſentment be not made within three years after the voidance, as afore is ſaid. And of ſuch voidance taken in the time of our Anceſtors, no collation nor preſentment ſhall be from henceforth made by us nor by our heirs, but to take any ſuch action of ſuch voidances we will be wholly and quietly forecloſed.

11 H. 4. f. 8. Fitz. Q. imp. 53. 112.

CAP. III.

No Biſhops temporalties ſhall be ſeiſed without good cauſe.

Temporalties of Biſhops ſhall not be ſeiſed without good cauſe.
St. 1 Ed. 3. 2. 2. Seſſ.

ITem, We will and grant for us and for our heirs, that from henceforth we nor our heirs ſhall not take, nor cauſe to be taken into our hands the temporalties of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors, or other people of the holy Church, of what eſtate or condition they be, without a true and juſt cauſe, according to the Law of the Land, and judgment thereupon given. St. 25 Ed. 3. 6. Regiſt. fo. 32.

CAP. IV.

How the temporalties of Biſhops ſhall be uſed in time of vacation.

How the temporalties of Biſhops ſhall be uſed in the time of vacation.
Fitz. N. B. f. 59. B.

ITem, Becauſe that in the petition of the ſaid Prelates and Clergy it is contained, that Eſcheators and other keepers, in the time of vacation of Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, & other Prelacies, have done great waſte and deſtruction in the ſame in time paſt: We will and grant for us and for our heirs, that at all times from henceforth, when ſuch voidances ſhall happen, that our Eſcheators and the Eſcheators of our heirs, which for the time ſhall be, ſhall enter and cauſe to be well kept the ſaid voidances, without doing waſte or deſtruction in the Mannors, Warrens, Parks, Ponds, or Woods. And that they ſell no underwood, nor hunt in the Parks or Warrens, nor fiſh in Ponds, nor free fiſhings, nor ſhall rack nor take fines of the tenants free nor bond: but ſhall keep and ſave as much as pertaineth to the ſaid voidances, without doing harm, or any manner of oppreſſion. And if the Dean and Chapter of Churches Cathedral, Priors, Subpriors, Prioreſſes, Subprioreſſes, and Covents of Prelacies, Abbies, or Priories, whoſe voidance pertaineth to us and our heirs, will render to us and our heirs the value of the ſaid voidance, as other will reaſonably yield, then the Chancellor and Treaſurer ſhall have power to let the Dean and Chapter, Prior or Subprior, Prioreſs or Subprioreſs, and Covent, the ſaid voidances by good and ſufficient ſurety, ſo that they ſhall have the ſame before all other, yielding to us the value of them, according as ſhall be found by remembrances of the Eſchequer, or by enqueſt to be taken upon the ſame if need be, without making fine. And in caſe they will not accord to yield to the value, nor find ſuch ſurety, then the Chancellor and Treaſurer ſhall cauſe to be ordained the good preſervation of ſuch voidances, by Eſcheators or other ſufficient keepers, to anſwer the King of that to him pertaineth reaſonably, without doing waſte or deſtruction, or other thing which may turn in diheriſon of the Churches whereof ſuch voidances ſhall happen.

The Dean and Chapter may take them in farm if they will.

CAP. V.

Who ſhall demiſe Biſhops Temporalties during the time of vacation.

Who ſhall let to farm the temporalties of Biſhops to the Kings uſe.

ITem, Wholly to ſhew the affection and good will which we have, that that pertaineth to God and the holy Church be ſafely kept without waſte or deſtruction, or impeachment to be made thereof by us or our miniſters, We will, and by theſe preſent Letters do grant full power to our ſaid Chancellor and Treaſurer, which taking to them other of our Council, ſuch as to them ſhall ſeem beſt to be taken, by good information of remembrances of the Eſchequer, and other informations as to them ſhall ſeem beſt, ſhall let the vacations of Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, Abbacies, Priories, and other Houſes, whoſe voidances pertaineth to us, to the Dean and Chapter, Prior or Subprior, Prioreſs or Subprioreſs, and Covent, to yield a certain of every voidance by the year, quarter, or moneth, during the vacations, according as to them ſhall ſeem beſt, without making any fine. So that no Eſcheator nor other Miniſter in the time of vacations ſhall have cauſe to enter, or meddle to do any thing which ſhall be in prejudice of the Churches, whereof ſuch voidances ſhall happen. Saving to us and to our heirs the Knights fees, advowſons of Churches, Eſcheats, Wards, Marriages, Relieves and Services of the ſaid Fees. In witneſs whereof, we have made theſe our Letters patents, dated at Weſtminſter the xvi. of April, the xiiii. year of our reign of England, and the firſt of France.

Anno 14 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1340. By a Statute it was ordained, That the Realm of England and the People thereof ſhall not be ſubject to the King or Kingdom of France.

EDward by the grace of God King of England and France, & Lord of Ireland, to all thoſe which theſe Letters ſhall hear or ſee, Greeting. Know ye, that whereas ſome people do think, that by reaſon that the Realm of France is devolved to us as right Heir of the ſame, and foraſmuch as we be King of France, our Realm of England ſhould be put in ſubjection of the King, and of the Realm of France in time to come: we having regard to the eſtate of our Realm of England; and namely, that it never was nor ought to be in ſubjection nor in obeiſante of the Kings of France, which for the time have been, nor of the Realm of France; And willing to provide for the ſurety and defence of the Realm of England, and of our liege people of the ſame, will and grant and ſtabliſh for us and for our heirs and ſucceſſors, by aſſent of Prelates, Earls, Barons, and Commons of our Realm of England, in this our preſent Parliament ſummoned at Weſtminſter, the Wedneſday next after the Sunday in Middle-Lent, the xiv. year of our ſaid reign of our Realm of England, and the firſt of France, that by the cauſe or colour of that that we be King of France, & that the ſaid Realm to us pertaineth, as afore is ſaid, or that we cauſe us to be named King of France in our Style, or that we have changed our Seal or our Arms, nor for ỷ commandments which we have made, or from henceforth ſhall make as King of France, our ſaid Realm of England, nor the people of the ſame, of what eſtate or condition they be, ſhall not in any time to come be put in ſubjection nor in obeiſance of us nor of our heirs nor ſucceſſors as Kings of France, as afore is ſaid, nor be ſubject nor obedient, but ſhall be free and quit of all manner of ſubjection and obeiſance aforeſaid, as they were wont to be in the time of our Progenitors Kings of England for ever. In witneſs of which things, &c. Dated at Weſtminſter, &c. the xiiii. year of our reign of England, and the firſt of France.

The Realm of England and the people thereof ſhall not be ſubject or obedient to the King or Kingdom of France.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 15 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1341.

OUr Lord King Edward the Third after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter at the xv. of Eaſter, deſiring that the peace of the Land, and the Laws and Statutes before this time ordained, be maintained and kept in all points, to the honour of God and of holy Church, and the common profit of his people, by aſſent of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men, and of all the Commonalty of the Realm of England ſummoned to the ſaid Parliament: hath ordained and ſtabliſhed in the ſame Parliament the Articles under-written, which he will and grant for him and his heirs, that they be firmly kept and holden for ever.

By another Statute made alſo Anno 15 Ed. 3. the laſt mentioned Statute of Anno 15 Ed. 3. was repealed, becauſe it was made without the Kings conſent.

EDward by the grace of God, &c. to the Sheriff of Lincoln, Greeting. Whereas at our Parliament ſummoned at Weſtminſter in the xv. of Eaſter laſt paſt, certain Articles expreſſy contrary to the Laws and Cuſtoms of our Realm of England, and to our Prerogatives and Rights Royal were pretended to be granted by us by the manner of a Statute; we conſidering how that by the bond of our Oath we be tied to the obſervance and defence of ſuch Laws, Cuſtoms, Rights, and Prerogatives, and providently willing to revoke ſuch things to their own ſtate, which be ſo improvidently done; upon conference and treatiſe thereupon had with the Earls, Barons, and other wiſe men of our ſaid Realm; and becauſe we never conſented to the making of the Statute, but as then it behoved us, we diſſimuled in the premiſſes by proteſtations of revocation of the ſaid Statute, if indeed it ſhould proceed, to eſchew the dangers which by the denying of the ſame we feared to come, foraſmuch much as the ſaid Parliament otherwiſe had been without diſpatching any thing in diſcord diſſolved, and ſo our earneſt buſineſs had likely been ruinated, which God prohibit. And the ſaid pretended Statute we promiſed then to be ſealed. It ſeemed to the ſaid Earls, Barons, and other wiſe men, that ſithence the Statute did not of our free will proceed, the ſame be void, and ought not to have the name nor ſtrength of a Statute: And therefore by their counſel and aſſent we have decreed the ſaid Statute to be void, and the ſame in as much as it proceeded of deed, we have agreed to be adnulled; willing nevertheleſs that the Articles contained in the ſaid pretended Statute, which by other of our Statutes, or of our Progenitors Kings of England, have been approved, ſhall according to the form of the ſaid Statute in every point as convenient is, be obſerved. And the ſame we do onely to the conſervation and reintegration of the rights of our Crown, as we be bound, and not that we ſhould in any wiſe grieve or oppreſs our Subjects, whom we deſire to rule by lenity and gentleneſs. And therefore we do command thee, that all theſe things thou cauſe to be openly proclaimed in ſuch places within thy Bailiwick, where thou ſhalt ſee expedient. Witneſs my ſelf at Weſtminſter, the firſt day of October, the fifteenth year of our Reign.

Bigamy ſhall be tryed by the Ordinary, and not by Inqueſt.

Item, if any Clerk be arraigned before our Juſtices, at our ſuit, or at the ſuit of the party, and the Clerk holdeth him to his Clergy, alleadging that he ought not before them thereupon anſwer; and if any man for us, or for the ſame party, will ſuggeſt, that he hath married two wives, or one widow, that upon the ſame the Juſtices ſhall not have the cogniſance or power to try the Bigamy by Inqueſt, or in other manner: but it ſhall be ſent to the ſpiritual Court, as hath been done in times paſt, in caſe of baſtardy; and till the certificate be made by the Ordinary, the party in whom the Bigamy is alleadged, by the words aforeſaid, or in other manner, ſhall abide in priſon if he be not mainpernable.

Bigamy ſhall be tryed by the Ordinary, and not by a Jury. St. 1 Ed. 6, 12.

CAP. III.

Prelates impeached for purchaſing Lands in Mortmain.

Item, if Prelates, Clerks beneficed, or religious people which have purchaſed Lands, and the ſame have put to Mortmain, be impeached upon the ſame before our Juſtices, and they ſhew our Charter of licence, and proceſs thereupon made by an Inqueſt of Ad quod damnum, or of our grace, or by fine, they ſhall be freely let in peace, without being further impeached for the ſame purchaſe. And in caſe they cannot ſufficiently ſhew, that they have entred by due proceſs after licence to them granted in general or in ſpecial, that they ſhall be well received to make a convenient fine for the ſame, and that the enquiry of this Article ſhall wholly ceaſe, according to the accord compriſed in this Parliament. CAP. VI.

Temporal Juſtices ſhall not inquire of Proceſs awarded by Spiritual Judges.

Item, whereas Commiſſions be newly made to divers Juſtices, that they ſhall make inquiries upon Judges of holy Church, whether they made juſt proceſs or exceſſive in cauſes teſtamentory and other, which notoriouſly pertaineth to the Cogniſance of holy Church, the ſaid Juſtices have inquired and cauſed to be indicted Judges of holy Church, in blemiſhing of the Franchiſe of holy Church: that ſuch Commiſſions be repealed, and from henceforth defended. Saving the Article in Eyre, ſuch as ought to be.

There ſhall be no more Commiſſions granted to Juſtices to enquire of Spiritual Judges.

CAP. VII.

No Scire facias ſhall be awarded againſt a Clerk for Tythes.

Ca.laſt.2 par. 639.

Item, whereas writs of Scire facias have been granted to warn Prelates, religious and other Clerks to anſwer diſmes in our Chancery, and to ſhew if they have any thing, or can any thing ſay, wherefore ſuch diſmes ought not to be reſtored to the ſaid Demandnants, and to anſwer as well to us as to the party to ſuch diſmes: that ſuch writs from henceforth be not granted, and that the proceſs hanging upon ſuch writs be adnulled and repealed, and that the parties be diſmiſſed from the Secular Judges of ſuch manner of pleas. Saving to us our right ſuch as we and our anceſtors have had, and were wont to have of reaſon. In witneſs whereof, at the requeſt of the ſaid Prelates, to theſe preſent Letters we have ſet our ſeal. YE ſhall ſwear that well and lawfully ye ſhall ſerve our Lord the King and his people in the office of Juſtice, and that lawfully ye ſhall counſel the King in his buſineſs, and that ye ſhall not counſel nor aſſent to any thing which may turn him in damage or diſheriſon by any manner, way or colour. And that ye ſhall not know the damage or diſheriſon of him, whereof ye ſhall not cauſe him to be warned by your ſelf, or by other; and that ye ſhall do equal law, and execution of right to all his ſubjects, rich and poor, without having regard to any perſon. And that ye take not by your ſelf or by other, privily nor apertly, gift nor reward of gold nor ſilver, nor of any other thing, which may turn to your profit, unleſs it be meat or drink, and that of ſmall value, of any man that ſhall have any plea or proceſs hanging before you, as long as the ſame proceſs ſhall ſo be hanging, nor after for the ſame cauſe. And that ye take no fee, as long as ye ſhall be Juſtice, nor robes of any man great or ſmall, but of the King himſelf. And that ye give none advice nor counſel to no man great nor ſmall, in no caſe where the King is party. And in caſe that any of what eſtate or condition they be, come before you in your Seſſions with force and arms, or otherwiſe againſt the peace, or againſt the form of the Statute thereof made, to diſturb execution of the common Law, or to menace the people, that they may not purſue the Law, that ye ſhall cauſe their bodies to be arreſted and put in priſon. And in caſe they be ſuch, that ye cannot arreſt them, that ye certifie the King of their names, and of their miſpriſion haſtily, ſo that he may thereof ordain a convenable remedy. And that ye by your ſelf nor by other, privily nor apertly, maintain any plea or quarrel hanging in the Kings Court, or elſewhere in the Country. And that ye deny to no man common right, by the Kings Letters, nor none other mans, nor for none other cauſe; and in caſe any Letters come to you, contrary to the Law, that ye do nothing by ſuch Letters, but certifie the King thereof, and proceed to execute the Law, notwithſtanding the ſame Letters. And that ye ſhall do and procure the profit of the King and of his Crown, with all things where ye may reaſonably do the ſame. And in caſe ye be from henceforth found in default in any of the points aforeſaid, ye ſhall be at the Kings will of body, lands and goods, thereof to be done as ſhall pleaſe him, as God you help and all Saints.

The Oaths of the Clerks of the Chancery, and of the Clerks of Courſe, made Anno 18 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1344.

Oath. Clerks of the Chancery.

Clerks of Courſe.

YE ſhall ſwear that well and lawfully ye ſhall ſerve our Lord the King, and his people, in the Office of Clerk of the Chancery, to which ye be attitled: And ye ſhall not aſſent nor procure the Kings diſheriſon, nor perpetual damage to your power: Nor ye ſhall do nor procure to be done, any fraud to any mans wrong, nor thing that toucheth the keeping of the Seal; and ye ſhall lawfully give counſel in the things that toucheth the King, when ye ſhall be thereto required; and the counſel which you know touching him, ye ſhall conceal. And if you know the Kings diſheriſon, or perpetual damage or fraud to be done upon the things which touch the keeping of the Seal, ye ſhall put your lawful power to repreſs and amend it: And if ye cannot do it, then ye ſhall certifie the Chancellour, or other, which may do the ſame to be amended to your intent. And for the Clerks of courſe ſhall be added. And ye ſhall not bring, nor to your knowledge ſuffer to be brought any writs which ye make out of the Court not ſealed, thereof to do execution: nor ſhall record any Attorney by writs nor without writs without eſpecial licence, if ye have not lawfully examined the party, and the Attorney in proper perſon, or at the leaſt, him that ſhall make Attorney in proper perſon; nor ye ſhall deliver any writ which ſhal be of commandment to the Examinors, nor to the Seal, before that the ſame writ be ſent to you by the commander, which thereof hath power, unleſs it be to the Chancellor, or to one of the Maſters, which commandeth you to make the writs. And all the writs that ye ſhall make, ye ſhall deliver to the Examinors by your own hand, or by one companion which is ſworn to the King, if ye your ſelf be out of the Court, becauſe of ſickneſs, or other cauſe neceſſary, ſo that ye cannot do it. And no writ written of another mans hand ſhall be delivered to the Examinors, under your name, as yours, nor no name ſhall ye put under your writs, but your own, as God you help and all Saints.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter 7 Maii, Anno 20 Edw. 3.

EDWARD by the grace of God, &c. to the Sheriff of Stafford, Greeting. Becauſe that by divers complaints made to us, we have perceived that the Law of the Land, which we by our Oath are bound to maintain, is the leſs well kept, and the execution of the ſame diſturbed many times by maintenance and procurement, as well in the Court as in the Country: We greatly moved of conſcience in this matter, and for this cauſe deſiring as much for the pleaſure of God, and eaſe and quietneſs of our Subjects, as to ſave our conſcience, and for to ſave and keep our ſaid Oath, by the aſſent of the great men, and other wiſe men of our Council: We have ordained theſe things following.

CAP.

CAP. I.

The Juſtices of both Benches, Aſſiſe, &c. ſhall do right to all men, take no fee but of the King, nor give counſel where the King is party.

Co.Inſt.3 par. 145.

The Juſtices ſhall do right to all perſons without regard of Letters.

FIrſt, we have commanded all our Juſtices, that they ſhall from henceforth do equal Law and execution of right to all our ſubjects rich and poor, without having regard to any perſon, and without omitting to do right for any letters or commandment, which may come to them from us, or from any other, or by any other cauſe. And if that any Letters, Writs or Commandments come to the Juſtices, or to other deputed to do Law and right, according to the uſage of the Realm, in diſturbance of the Law, or of the execution of the ſame, or of right to the parties, the Juſtices and other aforeſaid ſhall proceed and hold their Courts and proceſſes where the pleas and matters be depending before them, as if no ſuch Letters, Writs or Commandments were come to them: and they ſhall certifie us and our Council of ſuch Commandments which be contrary to the Law, as afore is ſaid. And to the intent that our Juſtices ſhould do even right to all people in manner aforeſaid, without more favour ſhewing to one then to another, we have ordained and cauſed our ſaid Juſtices to be ſworn, that they ſhall not from henceforth, as long as they ſhall be in Office of Juſtice, take fee nor robe of any man, but of our ſelf, and that they ſhall take no gift nor reward by themſelves, nor by other, privily nor apertly, of any man that hath to do before them by any way, except meat and drink, and that of ſmall value; and that they ſhall give no counſel to great men or ſmall, in caſe where we be party, or which do or may touch us in any point, upon pain to be at our will, body, lands and goods, to do thereof as ſhall pleaſe us, in caſe they do contrary. And for this cauſe we have increaſed the fees of the ſame our Juſtices, in ſuch manner as it ought reaſonably to ſuffice them. Stat. 2 Ed. 3. 8. St. 11 R. 2. 10. Regiſt. fo. 186.

Juſtices to certifie all illegal Commandments.

Juſtices ſhall take no fee of any but of the King.

Juſtices ſhall give no counſel where the King is party.

Their Fees increaſed for that cauſe.

CAP. II.

Barons of the Eſchequer ſhall do right to all men without delay.

Barons of Eſchequer.

IN the ſame manner we have ordained in the right of the Barons of the Eſchequer, and we have expreſly charged them in our preſence, that they ſhall do right and reaſon to all our ſubjects great and ſmall. And that they ſhall deliver the people reaſonably and without delay of the buſineſs which they have to do before them, without undue tarrying, as hath been done in times paſt. Co. Inſt. 4 par. 115.

CAP. III.

Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, &c. and their aſſociates, ſhall take an Oath.

Juſtices aſſigned.

ITem, We have ordained, that all they which ſhall be Juſtices aſſigned by Commiſſion, to hear and determine, and ſuch as ſhall be aſſociated to them, and alſo Juſtices of Aſſiſes to be taken in the Country, and of Gaol-delivery, and ſuch as ſhall be aſſigned and aſſociated to them, ſhall make firſt an Oath in certain points, according as to them ſhall be enjoyned by our Council, in our Chancery, before that any Commiſſion be to them delivered.

CAP. IV.

None ſhall maintain any quarrels but their own.

8 H.7.f.18. 15 H.7.f.2. 3 H.6.f.53. 3 H.6.f.8.

None ſhall maintain any quarrels but their own. Stat.28 E.1.11. Stat. 1 E.3.14. Stat. 1 R.2.4. Regiſt.f.182. 183.189. V.N.B.f.180. Fitz.N.B.f.172.

ITem, we have commanded and utterly defended, That none of our houſe, nor of them that be about us, nor other, which be towards our dear beloved Companion the Queen, or our Son Prince of Wales, or towards our Courts, nor Prelates, Earls, Barons, nor other great nor ſmall of the land, of what eſtate or condition they be, ſhall not take in hand quarrels other then their own, nor the ſame maintain by them nor by other, privily nor apertly, for gift, promiſe, amity, favour, doubt nor fear, nor for none other cauſe, in diſturbance of Law, & hindrance of right, upon the pains aforeſaid; but that every man may be free to ſue for, & defend his right in our Courts and elſewhere, according to the Law. And we have ſtraightly commanded our ſaid Son, and divers Earls, and other great men, being before us, that they on their behalf ſhall do to keep this Ordinance without default, and that they ſuffer none which be towards them to attempt againſt this Ordinance by any way. Raſt.pl.fo.119.427.&c.

CAP. V.

Lords and great men ſhall put thoſe out of their ſervices which be maintainors of Quarrels. Exp.

CAP. VI.

Juſtices of Aſſiſe ſhall enquire of, and puniſh the miſdemeanor of Officers, and other Offendors.

Juſtices of aſſiſe ſhall enquire of the demeanor of ſheriffs, eſcheators, bailiffs, and other officers, and puniſh the offendors.

ITem, We will and have ordained, that the Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes, ſhall have commiſſions ſufficient to enquire in their Seſſions of Sheriffs, Eſcheators, Bailiffs of Franchiſes, and their under-miniſters, and alſo of maintainors, common imbraceors, and Jurors in the County, and of the gifts, rewards, and other profits, which the ſaid miniſters do take of the people to execute their office, and that which pertaineth to their office, and for making the array of pannels, putting in the ſame ſuſpect Jurors, and of evil fame, and of that maintainors, imbraceors, and Jurors do take gifts and rewards of the parties, whereby loſſes and damages do very grievouſly come daily to the people, in ſubverſion of the Law, and diſturbance of common right: And to puniſh all them which thereof ſhall be found guilty, according as Law and reaſon requireth, as well at our ſuit as at the parties. And thereupon we have charged our Chancellor and Treaſurer to hear the complaints of all them which will complain, and to ordain that ſpeedy remedy be thereof made. Wherefore we do command, that thou do cauſe the ſaid points and Ordinances aforeſaid, openly to be publiſhed & ſhewed at ſuch places within thy Bailiwick, as thou ſhalt think good; to the end that they which feel them grieved in the form aforeſaid, may pruſue for remedy according to the ſaid Ordinance, and that our people may perceive our intent and will in this behalf, and the deſire that we have, that even right may be done to all our ſubjects, as well poor as rich, and that the offendors be reſtrained and puniſhed. CAP. II.

If a workman or ſervant depart from ſervice before the time agreed upon, he ſhall be impriſoned. Rep. 5 Eliz. 4.

CAP. III.

The old wages and no more ſhall be given to ſervants. Rep. 5 Eliz. 4.

CAP. IV.

If the Lord of a Town or Mannor do offend againſt this Statute in any point, he ſhall forfeit the treble value. Rep. 5 Eliz. 4.

CAP. V.

If any Artificer or Workman take more wages then were want to be paid, he ſhall be committed to the Gaol. Rep. 5 Eliz. 4.

CAP. VI.

Victuals ſhall be ſold at reaſonable prices.

Victuals ſhall be ſold at reaſonable price, and Victailers ſhall be content with a moderate gain.

Mayors and Bailiffs of Cities and Boroughs ſhall inquire of offendors, and puniſh them.

ITem, that Butchers, Fiſhmongers, Regrators, Hoſtlers, Brewers, Bakers, Pulters, and all other Sellers of all manner victual, ſhall be bound to ſell the ſame victual for a reaſonable price, having reſpect to the price that ſuch victual be ſold at in the places adjoyning. So that the ſame Sellers have moderate gains, and not exceſſive, reaſonably to be required according to the diſtance of the place from whence the ſaid victuals be carried. And if any ſell ſuch victuals in any other manner, and thereof he convict in the manner and form aforeſaid, he ſhall pay the double of the ſame that he ſo received, to the party damnified, or in default of him, to any other that will purſue in this behalf. And the Mayors and Bailiffs of Cities, Boroughs, Merchant-towns and others, and of the Ports of the Sea, and other places, ſhall have power, to enquire of all and ſingular which ſhall in any thing offend the ſame, and to levy the ſaid pain to the uſe of them at whoſe ſuit ſuch offendors ſhall be convict. And in caſe that the ſame Mayors and Bailiffs be negligent in doing execution of the premiſes, and thereof be convict before our Juſtices, by us to be aſſigned, then the ſame Mayors and Bailiffs ſhall be compelled by the ſame Juſtices to pay the treble of the thing ſo ſold to the party damnified, or to any other in default of him that will purſue. A Statute of Labourers, made Anno 25 Ed. 3. and Anno Dom. 1350.

WHereas late againſt the malice of ſervants, which were idle, and not willing to ſerve after the peſtilence, without taking exceſſive wages, It was ordained by our Lord the King, and by aſſent of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other of his Council, that ſuch manner of ſervants, as well men as women, ſhould be bound to ſerve, receiving ſalary and wages accuſtomed in the places where they ought to ſerve, in the xx. year of the reign of the King that now is, or v. or vi. years before; and that the ſame ſervants refuſing to ſerve in ſuch manner ſhould be puniſhed by impriſonment of their bodies, as in the ſaid Statute is more plainly contained: whereupon commiſſions were made to divers people in every County to enquire and puniſh all them which offend againſt the ſame. And now for as much as it is given the King to underſtand in this preſent Parliament, by the Petition of the Commonalty, that the ſaid ſervants, having no regard to the ſaid Ordinance, but to their eaſe and ſingular covetiſe, do withdraw themſelves to ſerve great men and other, unleſs they have livery and wages to the double or treble of that they were wont to take, the ſaid xx. year and before, to the great damage of the great men, and impoveriſhing of all the ſaid Commonalty, whereof the ſaid Commonalty prayeth remedy: Wherefore in the ſame Parliament, by the aſſent of the ſaid Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men of the ſame Commonalty there aſſembled, to refrain the malice of the ſaid ſervants, be ordained and eſtabliſhed the things under-written.

A Statute made Anno 25 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1350. of thoſe that be born beyond Sea.

In what place Baſtardy pleaded againſt him that is born out of the Realm ſhall be tryed.

OUr Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, at the utas of the Purification of our Lady, the year of his Reign of England the five and twentieth, and of France the twelfth, conſidering the great miſchiefs and damages which have happened to the people of his Realm of England, as well becauſe that the Statutes ordained before this time have not been holden and kept as they ought to be, as becauſe of the mortal peſtilence that late reigned: and willing to provide for the quietneſs and common profit of his ſaid people convenient remedy therefore, by the aſſent of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men, and all the Commons of his ſaid Realm, ſummoned to the Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed the things under-written, videlicet, Becauſe that ſome people be in doubt, if the children born in the parts beyond the Sea, out of the ligeance of England, ſhould be able to demand any inheritance within the ſame ligeance or not, whereof a Petition was put in the Parliament late holden at Weſtminſter, the ſeventeenth year of the Reign of our Lord the King that now is, and was not at the ſame time wholly aſſented: Our Lord the King, willing that all doubts and ambiguities ſhould be put away, and the Law in this caſe declared and put in a certainty, hath charged the ſaid Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other wiſe men of his Councel, aſſembled in this Parliament, to deliberate upon this point: all which of one aſſent have ſaid, That the Law of the Crown of England is, and always hath been ſuch, that the children of the King of England, in whatſoever parts they be born, in England or elſewhere, be able and ought to bear the inheritance after the death of their anceſtors: which Law our ſaid Lord the King, the ſaid Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men, and all the Commons aſſembled in this Parliament, do approve and affirm for ever. And in the right of other children born out of the ligeance of England, in the time of our Lord the King, they be of one mind accorded, that Henry ſon of Iohn de Beaumond, Elizabeth daughter of Guy de Bryan, and Gyles ſon of Ralph Dawbeny, and other which the King will name, which were born beyond the Sea, out of the ligeance of England, ſhall be from henceforth able to have and enjoy their inheritance after the death of their anceſtors, in all parts, within the ligeance of England, as well as thoſe that ſhould be born within the ſame ligeance. And that all children inheritors, which from henceforth ſhall be born without the ligeance of the King, whoſe fathers and mothers at the time of their birth be and ſhall be at the faith and ligeance of the King of England, ſhall have and enjoy the ſame benefits and advantages, to have and bear the inheritance within the ſame ligeance, as the other inheritors aforeſaid in time to come: ſo always that the mothers of ſuch children do paſs the Sea by the licence and wills of their husbands. And if it be alledged againſt any ſuch born beyond the Sea, that he is a baſtard, in caſe where the Biſhop ought to have coniſance of baſtardy, it ſhall be commanded to the Biſhop of the place, where the demand is, to certifie the Kings Court, where the plea thereof hangeth, as of old times hath been uſed in the caſe of baſtardy, alledged againſt them which were born in England. A Statute for the Clergy, made Anno 25 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1350.

OUr Lord the King, ſeeing and examining by good deliberation, the Petitions and Articles delivered to him in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the Feaſt of St. Hillary, the year of his Reign of England the five and twentieth, and of France the twelfth, by the honourable Father in God, Simon Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and other Biſhops of his Province, upon and for certain grievances which they alledged to be done to holy Church, and to the Clergy, againſt the priviledges of holy Church; and then they prayed, that a conveniable remedy might be thereof ordained, to the reverence of God and of holy Church: by the aſſent of his Parliament, for him and his heirs, willeth and granteth the points under-written.

CAP. I.

All Priviledges granted to the Clergy confirmed. The King nor his heirs ſhall preſent to a Benefice of anothers right of any time of his Progenitors.

The King nor his heirs ſhall not preſent to a benefice of anothers right of any time of his progenitors.

FIrſt, That all the priviledges and franchiſes granted heretofore to the ſaid Clergy be confirmed and holden in all points. And as touching preſentments to be made by our Lord the King, or any of his heirs, to a benefice of holy Church, in anothers right by old title: our ſaid Lord the King, to the honour of God and holy Church, willeth and granteth, of the aſſent of the ſaid Parliament, That from henceforth he nor any of his heirs ſhall not take title to preſent to any Benefice in any others right of any time of his Progenitors. Nor that any Prelate of his Realm be bound to receive any ſuch preſentment to be made, nor to do thereof any execution; nor that any Juſtice of the one place, or the other, may not nor ought not to hold plea, or give judgment upon any ſuch preſentment to be made: But that the ſaid King and his heirs be for ever hereafter clearly barred of all ſuch preſentments. Saving always to him and his heirs all ſuch preſentments in anothers right, fallen or to fall of all his time, and of the time to come. Vide Paſc. 8 Car. in Scac. int. Dom. Regem & Pruſt.

11 H. 4. f. 8.

CAP. II.

A repeal of the Statute of Anno 14 of Ed. 3. 2. touching the Kings preſentment to a Church of anothers right.

A repeal of the St. 14 Ed. 3. 2 touching the Kings preſentment to a Church in anothers right.

ANd becauſe in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the fourteenth year of the Reign of our Lord the King that now is, amongſt other things then granted to the Prelates of holy Church, it was ordained that the King ſhould not take title to preſent to any benefice in anothers right, but of the voidances which ſhall happen of ſuch benefices within three years next before his preſentment, which thing ſeemeth very prejudicial to the King and his heirs: It is accorded in this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Ordinances as to this point, ſhall be holden for none. But neverthelefs, that all the other Articles contained in the ſaid Ordinance and grant then made to holy Church, ſhall ſtand in their force.

CAP. III.

When the King preſenteth to a Benefice in anothers right, his title ſhall be examined.

When the King maketh collation to preſent to a Church in anothers right, his title ſhall be examined.

ITem, Whereas before this time our Lord the King hath taken title to preſent to benefices at the ſuggeſtion of many Clerks, where the title hath not been true, & by ſuch preſentments and judgments thereupon given, the Clerks have been received by the Ordinaries of the places, againſt God and good faith, and in depreſſion of them which had good and true title to the ſaid benefices: now the King will and granteth, that at what time he ſhall make collation or preſentment from henceforth to any benefice in anothers right, that the title whereupon he groundeth himſelf ſhall be well examined, that it be true. And at what time before judgment the title be found by good information untrue or unjuſt, the collation or preſentment thereof made, ſhall be repealed. And the Patron or the poſſeſſor which ſhall ſhew and prove the falſe title, ſhall have thereupon writs out of the Chancery as many as to him ſhall be needful. St. 13 R. 2. 1. St. 4 H. 5. 22.

CAP. IV.

All Clerks convicted of Felony or Treaſon, ſhall be delivered to their Ordinaries.

A Clerk which ſhall be convict of any treaſon or felonies not touching the King, ſhall be delivered to the Ordinary. St. 11 El. 7.

ITem, Whereas the ſaid Prelates have grievouſly complained, praying thereof remedy, for that ſecular Clerks, as well Chaplains as other Monks, and other people of Religion, have been drawn and hanged by award of the ſecular Juſtices, in prejudice of the Franchiſes of holy Church, and in oppreſſion of the juriſdiction thereof: It is accorded and granted by the ſaid King in his Parliament, That all manner of Clerks, as well ſecular as religious, which ſhall be from henceforth convict before the ſecular Juſtices aforeſaid, for any treaſons or felonies touching other perſons then the King himſelf, or his royal Majeſty, ſhall from henceforth freely have and enjoy the priviledge of holy Church, and ſhall be without any impeachment or delay, delivered to the Ordinaries demanding them. And for this grant the ſaid Archbiſhop promiſeth to our Lord the King, that upon the puniſhment and ſafe keeping of ſuch Clerks offenders, which ſo ſhall be delivered to the Ordinaries, he ſhall thereof make a convenient Ordinance, whereby they ſhall be ſafely kept and duely puniſhed, ſo that no Clerk ſhall take courage to offend for default of correction.

Bro. Clerg. 25.

CAP. V.

A Clerk ſhall be arraigned of all his offences at once.

A Clerk ſhall be arraigned of all his offences at once. St. 8 El. 4. St. 18 El. 7.

ITem, Although that Clerks arraigned of felony before ſecular Juſtices, which challenged their Clergy, and were demanded by the Ordinary of the place, have been often before this time remanded to the Gaol by the ſaid Juſtices, ſurmiſing to them, that other things be to be ſaid againſt them; nevertheleſs becauſe the common Law is, That a Clerk, in ſuch caſe ought not to be remanded to the Gaol, but ought to be preſently arraigned of all, or otherwiſe delivered to the Ordinary: it is accorded, that this point be kept by all manner of Juſtices and Judges ſecular throughout our Realm.

Dyer f. 214. Bro. Clerg. 24. 30.

CAP. VI.

A Biſhops Temporalties ſhall not be ſeiſed for a contempt.

Item, Becauſe the Temporalties of Archbiſhops and Biſhops have been oftentimes taken into the Kings hands for contempts done to him upon Writs of Quare non admiſit, and likewiſe for divers other cauſes, whereof the ſaid Prelates have prayed the King that no ſuch taking ſhall from henceforth be made, ſith they be Peers of the land: the King will and granteth in the ſame Parliament, that all the Juſtices which from henceforth ſhall give judgment againſt any Prelate of the land in ſuch caſe or the like, that they in ſuch caſe may freely receive, and from henceforth ſhall receive for the contempt ſo judged, a reaſonable fine of the party ſo condemned, according to the quantity of the treſpaſs, and after the quality of the contempt, incontinently at the time of the judgment, if the party offer the ſame, or otherwiſe after the judgment, at what time the party will offer himſelf. And if it need, the Chancellour and the Treaſurer ſhall be called to the receit of the ſaid fines. Regiſt. f.32.

CAP. VII.

The Ordinary may counterplead the Kings title for a benefice fallen by lapſe.

Item, Becauſe that many preſentments to divers benefices of holy Church, as well of the patronage of lay-people, as of people of holy Church, which were void by ſix moneths, whereof the collation of ſuch benefices by lapſe of time was devolute, and of right pertaining to the Ordinaries of the places, were recovered by the King by judgments thereof given of the aſſent of the ſaid patrons, in deceit of the ſaid collations ſo made reaſonably by the ſaid Ordinaries; in which pleas the Ordinaries nor their Clerks to whom they did give ſuch benefices, were not received to ſhew nor defend their right in this behalf, nor to counterplead the Kings right ſo claimed, which is not reaſonable: wherefore the King, by the aſſent of the ſaid Parliament, will and granteth for him and his heirs, that when Archbiſhops, Biſhops, or other Ordinaries have given a benefice of right devolute to him by lapſe of time, and after the King preſenteth and taketh the ſuit againſt the patron, which percaſe will ſuffer that the King ſhall recover without action tryed in deceit of the Ordinary, or the poſſeſſor of the ſaid benefices, That in ſuch caſe, and all other caſes like, where the Kings right is not tryed, the Archbiſhop or Biſhop, Ordinary or Poſſeſſor, ſhall be received to counterplead the title taken for the King, and to have his anſwer, and to ſhew and defend his right upon the matter, although that he claim nothing in the Patronage in the caſe aforeſaid.

CAP. VIII.

Cogniſance of avoidance of Benefices appertaineth to the Eccleſiaſtical Judge.

Item, Whereas the ſaid Prelates have ſhewed and prayed remedy, for that the ſecular Juſtices do accroch to them cogniſance of voidance of Benefices of right, which cogniſance and the diſcuſſing thereof pertaineth to the Judges of holy Church, and not to the Lay-Judge: The King will and granteth, That the ſaid Juſtices ſhall from henceforth receive ſuch challenges made or to be made by any Prelate of holy Church in this behalf, and moreover thereof ſhall do right and reaſon.

Cogniſance of voidance of benefices belongs to the Eccleſiaſtical Judge.

CAP. IX.

Indictments of Ordinaries for extortion ſhall be put in certainty.

Item, Becauſe that the Kings Juſtices do take Indictments of Ordinaries of their Miniſters of extortions and oppreſſions, and impeach them without putting in certain, wherein or whereof, or in what manner they have done extortion: The King will, that his Juſtices ſhall not from henceforth impeach the Ordinaries, nor their Miniſters, becauſe of ſuch Indictments of general extortions or oppreſſions, unleſs they ſay and put in certain in what thing, and of what, and in what manner the ſaid Ordinaries or their Miniſters have done extortions or oppreſſions. Raſt. pl. f. 318.

Indictments of Ordinaries or their Miniſters of extortion, muſt be put in certainty.

A Statute of Clothes, made Anno 25 Ed. 3. and Anno Dòm. 1350.

CAP. I.

The Aulneger ſhall be ſworn to do his duty: the penalty if he offend.

Item, It is accorded and aſſented in the ſame Parliament, That all manner of Clothes vendible which ſhall be ſold for whole Clothes in England, in whoſe hands of the Merchants of the Realm of England, or other of the ſame Realm they be found, ſhall be meaſured by the Kings Aulneger and his deputies, in all Cities, Boroughs, and other Towns within Franchiſes and without, as well in the City of London as elſewhere. And that all the Clothes which ſhall be found of leſs meaſure by a yard then of the Aſſiſe contained in the Statute of Northampton, by which it is Ordained, That the length of every Cloth of ray, ſhall be meaſured by a line of ſeven yards, four times meaſured by the liſt, and the breadth of every Cloth of ray, ſix quarters of the meaſure by the yard; and of coloured Clothes the length ſhall be meaſured by the back by a line of ſix yards and a half, four times meaſured, and the breadth ſix quarters and a half meaſured by the yard, without defoiling the Clothes, ſhall be forfeited and arreſted to the King. And that the Aulneger deliver the ſame to the Kings Wardrobe by Indenture, notwithſtanding any Franchiſe, Uſage, or priviledge made to the Cities, Boroughs, or to any perſon of the Realm of England to the contrary. And the Kings Aulneger ſhall be ſworn to do his office well and lawfully. And in caſe he thereof be found in default, and thereof be attainted before the Keepers of the Fairs, and Mayors and Bailiffs of the places where the cloth ſhall be bought, or before any other Judge whom our Lord the King ſhall thereto aſſign, he ſhall have priſon of one year, and ranſomed at the Kings will, and put out of his office for ever. And the Aulneger ſhall anſwer as well for his Deputies as for himſelf. And alſo it is accorded and ſtabliſhed, That every buyer of ſuch cloth, or other will ſue, that the ſaid Aulneger hath done any fraud or deceit in his office, and the falſity be notoriouſly proved, at his ſuit ſhall have the one half of that which ſhall be ſo forfeited, or the price of the Kings gift, and the King the other half. And that every buyer of ſuch Cloth, after that he hath agreed of the price with the ſeller, may freely meaſure the Cloth at his will, to aſſay if it be of the aſſiſe or not, before that he hath paid his money, although the Aulnegers ſeal be put to the ſame. And if the buyer find any default after the buying, and ſhew the ſame default to the Mayors and Bailiffs of the place, or to the keepers of the Fair or Market; and if default be found notoriouſly before them, the Cloth ſhall be forfeit to the King, and ſeiſed into the Kings hands by the ſaid Mayors and Bailiffs, or keepers of the Fairs and Markets, and ſhall remain in their cuſtody, and the ſaid Mayors and Bailiffs, or Keepers, ſhall certifie the Chancellor of the ſame forfeiture at the ſuit of the buyer, or of other which will ſue, without any thing taking of him. And the Chancellor in this Certificate ſhall ſend a Writ to the ſaid Mayor and Bailiffs, or Keepers, to deliver him which ſo hath ſued, the one half of the forfeiture, and to ſave the other half to the Kings uſe. And if the Mayor, Bailiffs or Keepers refuſe to do execution of this accord in the manner aforeſaid, they ſhall be puniſhed by fine and ranſom when they ſhall be thereof attainted, as well at the Kings ſuit as the parties. And that this Article begin to hold place the firſt day of September next coming, ſo that the Merchants and other which have Clothes to ſell, may freely deliver them of the Clothes that they have in their hands in the ſame time.

A buyer may meaſure the cloth before he hath paid for it.

The forfeiture of defective cloth, and to what uſe it ſhall be imployed.

CAP. II.

Merchant-ſtrangers may buy and ſell without diſturbance.

St. 9 E. 3. 1. Merchants-ſtrangers may buy and ſell within this Realm without diſturbance. St. 9 H. 3. 30.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in a Statute made at York, the ninth year of the Reign of our Lord the King that now is, That all Merchants, Aliens and Denizens, and all other and every of them, of what eſtate or condition they were, which would buy or ſell Wine, Corn, Avoir de pois, Fleſh, Fiſh, and all other livings and victual, Clothes, Chaffer, Wools, Merchandiſes, or any other things vendible, from what party they come, by Foreiners or by Denizens, to what place ſoever it be, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, Fair, Market, or other place within this Realm, within Franchiſes or without, may freely and without diſturbance ſell the ſame to whom pleaſe them, as well to Foreigners as to Denizens, except the Kings enemies: It is accorded by our Lord the King, the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and other great men, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Statute in all points and Articles contained in the ſame, be holden, kept and maintained. And if that any Statute, Charter, Letters Patents, Proclamation or Commandment, uſage, allowance or judgment be made to the contrary, the ſame ſhall be openly repealed, void, and holden for none. And moreover that every Merchant or other, of what condition he be, as well Alien as Denizen, that bring Wines, Fleſh, Fiſh, or other Victuals, Clothes, Woolfels, Avoir de pois, or any other manner of Merchandiſes or Chaffer to the City of London, or other Cities, Boroughs, and good Towns of England, or Port of the Sea, may freely and without challenge or impeachment of any, ſell in groſs or at retail, or by parcels at his will, to all manner of people that will buy the ſame, notwithſtanding any Franchiſes, grants or cuſtom uſed, or any other thing done to the contrary: ſithence that ſuch Uſages and Franchiſes be to the common prejudice of the King and his people. And that no Mayor, Bailiff, Catchpole, Miniſter, nor other, ſhall meddle with the ſale of any manner of Victual vendible, brought to Cities, Boroughs, or other Towns, nor Fair nor Market, but only he to whom the Victuals be; and Proclamation be thereof made of new in all Counties of England, and in the City of London, and in all other Cities, Boroughs, good Towns, Ports of the Sea, and other places within the Realm of England, where need ſhall be, and that the King thereupon cauſe to be aſſigned his Juſtices at all times that ſhall pleaſe him; and if need be, to enquire of all thoſe that ſhall offend againſt this Ordinance, or do any thing againſt the ſame, and to puniſh them according to the pain contained in the ſame Statute made the ſaid ninth year. And that every perſon that will ſue againſt any ſuch, ſhall have a Writ in the Chancery to attach him by his body, as a diſturber of the common profit, to cauſe him to come, thereof to make anſwer in the Kings Court. St. 2 R. 2. 1. St. 11 R. 2. 7. St. 16 R. 2. 1.

No officer ſhal meddle with the ſale of a ſtrangers goods.

CAP. III.

The penalty of him that doth foreſtall Wares, Merchandiſe or Victual.

The penalties of foreſtallers of wares, merchandiſes or victuals. St. 2 R. 2. 2.

ITem, It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, That Foreſtallers of Wines, and all other Victuals, Wares and Merchandiſes that come to the good Towns of England by Land or by Water, in damage of our Lord the King and of his people, if they be thereof attainted at the ſuit of the King, or of the party, before Mayor, Bailiff or Juſtices thereto aſſigned, or elſewhere in the Kings Court; and if they be attainted at the Kings ſuit by indictment, or in other manner, the things foreſtalled ſhall be forfeited to the King, if the buyer thereof hath made gree to the ſeller. And if he have not made gree of all, but by earneſt, the buyer ſhall incur the forfeiture of as much as the foreſtalled goods forfeited do amount to, after the value as he bought them, if he have whereof; and if he have not whereof, then he ſhall have two years impriſonment and more at the Kings will, without being let to mainpriſe, or delivered in other manner. And if he be attainted at the ſuit of the party, the party ſhall have the one half of ſuch things foreſtalled and forfeit, or the price of the Kings gift, and the King the other half. St. 5 Ed. 6. 14.

CAP. IV.

New Wears ſhall be pulled down, and not repaired.

New Wears ſhall be pulled down, and not repaired.

Cok. l. 10. f. 138

Item, Whereas the common paſſage of Boats and Ships in the great Rivers of England be oftentimes annoyed by the inhanſing of Gorces, Mills, Wears, Stanks, Stakes, and Kiddles, in great damage of the people: It is accorded and ſtabliſhed, that all ſuch Gorces, Mills, Wears, Stanks, Stakes, and Kiddles, which be levied and ſet up in the time of King Edward the Kings grandfather, and after, whereby the Kings Ships and Boats be diſturbed, that they cannot paſs in ſuch River as they were wont, ſhall be out and utterly pulled down, without being renewed. And thereupon Writs ſhall be ſent to the Sheriffs of the places where need ſhall be, to ſurvey and enquire, and to do thereof execution. And alſo the Juſtices ſhall be thereupon aſſigned at all times that ſhall be needful. St. 45 Ed. 3. 2. 1 H. 4. 12. 12 E. 4. 7.

A Statute of Purveyors, made Anno 25 Ed. 3. and Anno Dom. 1350.

AT the Parliament ſummoned at Weſtminſter, in the Feaſt of St. Hillary, the year of the reign of our Lord King Edward the Third after the Conqueſt of England the five and twentieth, and of France the twelfth; our ſaid Lord the King by the aſſent of the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and of all the Comminalty of his Realm of England, ſummoned to the Parliament, to the honour of God, and holy Church, and in amendment of his ſaid Realm, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed the things underwritten.

CAP. I.

By what meaſure the Kings Purveyors ſhall take Corn. Things purveyed ſhall be praiſed, and Tallies made thereof.

Corn ſhall be taken by meaſure ſtriken. 23 H. 6. 1.

Things taken for the Kings houſe ſhall be praiſed at the very value.

Tallies ſhall be made between the Purveyors and the owner of the goods taken. 1 St. 2 & 3 P. & M.

St. 5 Ed. 3. 2. 28 Ed. 1. 2.

The Purveyors Commiſſions ſhall be under the Great or Privy Seal.

FIrſt, Foraſmuch as great and outragious damage and grievance hath been done to the people by the takers or purveyors of victuals, for the houſes of our Lord the King, the Queen, and their Children: It is accorded and aſſented in the ſaid Parliament, That the takers of corn for the ſaid houſes, ſhall take the ſame by meaſure ſtriked according as is uſed throughout the land. And that ſuch corn, hey, litter, beſtail, and all other victuals and things, which ſhall be taken for the ſaid houſes, ſhall be praiſed at the very value, by the Conſtable and other good people of the Towns where ſuch taking ſhall be made, without that the praiſers by menace or dureſs ſhall be driven to ſet any other price then their oath will, and as commonly runneth in the next Markets. And that betwixt the Purveyors and them whoſe goods ſhall be taken in the preſence of the Conſtables and Praiſers, Tallies be made incontinently, without that that the people whoſe goods ſhall be taken, ſhall be drawn or travelled elſewhere, and the ſame Tallies ſealed with the ſeals of Takers of the things ſo taken, by which Tallies gree ſhall be made to them whoſe goods ſhall be ſo taken. And if any Purveyor or Taker for the ſaid Houſes, do in any other manner, he ſhall be preſently arreſted by the Town where the taking ſhall be made, and brought to the next Gaol: and if he be thereof attainted, it ſhall be done to him as of a thief, if the quantity of the goods the ſame require, according as in a Statute made in the time of our Lord the King that now is, the fifth year of his reign, and in another made in the time of the Kings Grandfather upon ſuch taking, is contained at the full. And that from henceforth in the Commiſſions of ſuch Takers and Purveyors, the intent and pain limited in this Statute ſhall be contained. And that no Commiſſion be made, but onely under the Kings great Seal, or privy Seal. Nor no man be bound to obey any ſuch Commiſſions, in other manner then is aforeſaid. And that the ſame Statute take place in all points againſt every Taker and Purveyor of every manner of victual in every part of the Realm, of what condition ſoever he be.

ITem, Whereas divers opinions have been before this time in what caſe Treaſon ſhall be ſaid, and in what not: The King at the requeſt of the Lords and of the Commons, hath made a declaration in the manner as hereafter followeth: That is to ſay, When a man doth compaſs or imagine the death of our Lord the King, or of our Lady his Queen, or of their eldeſt Son and Heir: or if a man do violate the Kings company, or the Kings eldeſt Daughter unmarried, or the Wife of the Kings eldeſt Son and Heir: or if a man do levie war againſt our Lord the King in his Realm, or be adherent to the Kings enemies in his Realm, giving to them aid and comfort in the Realm or elſewhere, and thereof be * probably attainted of open deed by the people of their condition. And if a man counterfeit the Kings Great or Privy Seal, or his Money: and if a man bring falſe money into this Realm, counterfeit to the money of England, as the money called Luſhburgh, or other like to the ſaid money of England, knowing the money to be falſe, to merchandiſe or make paiment, in deceit of our ſaid Lord the King, and of his people: and if a man ſlea the Chancellor, Treaſurer, or the Kings Juſtices of the one Bench or the other, Juſtices in Eyre, or Juſtices of Aſſiſes, and all other Juſtices aſſigned to hear and determine, being in their places doing their offices. And it is to be underſtood, that in the caſes above re-ing gave the ture of he offenders lands in high treaſon.

New queſtions of treaſons ſhall firſt be decided in Parliament.

rehearſed that ought to be judged Treaſon, which extends to our Lord the King and his Royal Majeſty. And of ſuch treaſon the forfeiture of the Eſcheats pertaineth to our Lord, as well of the Lands and Tenements holden of other, as of himſelf. And moreover, there is another manner of Treaſon, that is to ſay, when a ſervant ſlayeth his maſter, or a wife her husband, or when a man ſecular or religious ſlayeth his Prelate, to whom he oweth faith and obedience. And of ſuch treaſon, the Eſcheats ought to pertain to every Lord of his own fee. And becauſe that many other like caſes of Treaſon may happen in time to come, which a man cannot think nor declare at this preſent time, it is accorded, That if any other caſe, ſuppoſed Treaſon, which is not above ſpecified, doth happen before any Juſtices, the Juſtices ſhall tarry without any going to judgment of the Treaſon, till the cauſe be ſhewed and declared before the King, and his Parliament, whether it ought to be judged Treaſon or other Felony. And if percaſe any man of this Realm ride armed * covertly or ſecretly with men of arms againſt any other, to ſlay him, or rob him, or take him, or retain him till he hath made fine or ranſom for to have his deliverance, it is not the mind of the King nor his Council, that in ſuch caſe it ſhall be judged Treaſon, but ſhall be judged Felony or Treſpaſs, according to the Laws of the Land of old time uſed, and according as the caſe requireth. And if in ſuch caſe or other like, before this time any Juſtices have judged Treaſon, and for this cauſe the Lands and Tenements have comen into the Kings hands as forfeit, the chief Lords of the fee ſhall have the Eſcheats of the Tenements holden of them, whether that the ſame Tenements be in the Kings hands, or in others, by gift, or in other manner. Saving always to our Lord the King the year, and the waſte, and the forfeitures of chattels, which pertain to him in the caſes above named. And that the Writs of Scire facias be granted in ſuch caſe againſt the land-tenants without other original, and without allowing any protection in the ſaid ſuit. And that of the lands which be in the Kings hands, Writs be granted to the Sheriffs of the Counties where the lands be, to deliver them out of the Kings hands without delay. St. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 1 M. ITem, It is accorded, That no Indictor ſhall be put in Enqueſts upon deliverance of the Indictees of felonies or treſpaſs, if he be challenged for that ſame cauſe by him which is ſo indicted.

CAP. IV.

None ſhall be condemned upon ſuggeſtion without lawful preſentment.

St. 9 H. 3. 29. None ſhall be condemned by ſuggeſtion without lawful preſentment.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in the great Charter of the Franchiſes of England, that none ſhall be impriſoned nor put out of his freehold, nor of his franchiſes nor free cuſtom, unleſs it be by the Law of the Land: It is accorded, aſſented, and ſtabliſhed, that from henceforth none ſhall be taken by petition or ſuggeſtion made to our Lord the King, or to his Council, unleſs it be by indictment or preſentment of his good and lawful people of the ſame neighbourhood, where ſuch deeds be done in due manner, or by proceſs made by Writ original at the common Law. Nor that none be out of his franchiſes, nor of his freeholds, unleſs he be duly brought in anſwer, and forejudged of the ſame by the courſe of the Law. And if any thing be done againſt the ſame, it ſhall be redreſſed and holden for none. St. 5 Ed. 3. 9. St. 28 Ed. 3. 3. St. 42 Ed. 3. 3. 17 Car. 1. ca. 10.

CAP. IX.

Auncel weight ſhall be put out, and weighing ſhall be by equal balance.

ITem, Whereas great damage and deceit is done to the people, for that divers Merchants uſe to buy and weigh woolls and other merchandiſes, by a weight, which is called Auncel: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that this weight called Auncel, betwixt buyers and ſellers, ſhall be wholly put out. And that every perſon do ſell and buy by the balance, ſo that the balance be even, and the woolls and other merchandiſes evenly weighed by right weight, ſo that the ſack of wooll weigh no more but xxvi. ſtones, and every ſtone to weigh xiiii l. And that the beam of the balance do not bow more to the one part then to the other. And that the weight be according to the ſtandard of the Eſchequer. And if any buyer do the contrary, he ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed, as well at the ſuit of the party, as at ſuit of our Lord the King. St. 11 H. 7. 4. St. 8. H. 6. 5.

CAP. X.

Every meaſure ſhall be according to the Kings Standard, and ſhall be ſtriked without heap. Saving the Rents of Lords.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in the great Charter, that one meaſure ſhall be throughout England, which Charter hath not been well kept and holden in this point in times paſt: It is accorded and aſſented, that all the meaſures, that is to ſay, Buſhels, half-buſhels, peck, gallon, pottle, and quart, throughout England, within franchiſes and without, ſhall be according to the Kings Standard. And the quarter ſhall contain viii. buſhels by the ſtandard, and no more. And every meaſure of corn ſhall be ſtriken without heap, ſaving the rents and ferms of Lords, which ſhall be meaſured by ſuch meaſures as they were wont in times paſt. And the purveyors of the King, of the Queen, and all other, ſhall make their purveyances by the ſame meaſure ſtriked in the ſame manner, and at all times that ſhall be needful. And our Lord the King ſhall aſſign certain Juſtices in every County to enquire, hear, and determine, upon the points aforeſaid, and upon the ſame to do puniſhment according to the treſpaſs, as well at the parties ſuit, as at the Kings. So always, that all manner of franchiſes be ſaved to the Lords in all points, without blemiſh to be made in any manner. St. 34 Ed. 3. 6.

The debt of a Lombard unpaid, ſhall be ſatisfied by his company. O B.

The Statute of Proviſors of Benefices, made Anno 25 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1350.

The King and other Lords ſhall preſent unto Benefices of their own, or their anceſtors foundation, and not the Biſhop of Rome.

Whereas late in the Parliament of good memory of Edward King of England, grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, the xxv. year of his reign, holden at Carlile, the petition heard, put before the ſaid grandfather and his Council in his ſaid Parliament by the Communalty of the ſaid Realm, containing, That whereas the holy Church of England was founded in the eſtate of Prelacy within the Realm of England by the ſaid grandfather and his progenitors, and the Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of his ſaid Realm and their anceſtors, to inform them and the people of the Law of God, and to make hoſpitalities, alms, and other works of charity in the places where the Churches were founded, for the ſouls of the founders, their heirs, and all Chriſtians; and certain poſſeſſions as well in fees, lands, rents, as in advowſons, which do extend to a great value, were aſſigned by the ſaid founders to the Prelates and other people of the holy Church of the ſaid Realm, to ſuſtain the ſame charge, And eſpecially of the poſſeſſions which were aſſigned to Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors, religious and all other people of holy Church, by the Kings of the ſaid Realm, Earls, Barons, and other great men of his Realm: the ſame Kings, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles, as Lords and Advowees, have had and ought to have the cuſtody of ſuch voidances, and the preſentments and the collations of the Benefices being of ſuch Prelacies.

St. Carlile anno 35 Ed. 1.

The cauſes why the Kings and Noblemen of the Realm did give lands to Biſhops and other Prelates.

And the ſaid Kings in times paſt were wont to have the greateſt part of their Council, for the ſafeguard of the Realm when they had need, of ſuch Prelates and Clerks, ſo advanced: The Biſhop of Rome, accroching to him the Seigniorities of ſuch poſſeſſions and Benefices, doth give and grant the ſame Benefices to Aliens, which did never dwell in England, and to Cardinals, wich might not dwell here, and to other as well Aliens as Denizens, as if he had been Patron, or Advowee of the ſaid dignities and Benefices, as he was not of right by the Law of England; whereby if they ſhould be ſuffered, there ſhould ſcarcely be any Benefice within a ſhort time in the ſaid Realm, but that it ſhould be in the hands of Aliens and Denizens by vertue of ſuch proviſions, againſt the good will and diſpoſition of the Founders of the ſame Benefices. And ſo the elections of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other religious ſhould fail, and the alms, hoſpitalities, and other works of charity, which ſhould be done in the the ſaid places, ſhould be withdrawn, the ſaid grandfather, and other lay-patrons, in the time of ſuch voidances, ſhould loſe their preſentment, the ſaid Council ſhould periſh, and goods without number ſhould be carried out of the Realm, in adnullation of the eſtate of the holy Church of England, and diſheriſon of the ſaid grandfather, and the Earls, Barons, and other Nobles of the ſaid Realm, and in offence and deſtruction of the laws and rights of his Realm, and to the great damage of his people, and in ſubverſion of all the eſtate of his ſaid Realm, and againſt the good diſpoſition and will of the firſt Founders: By the aſſent of Earls, Barons, and other Nobles, and of all the ſaid Communalty, at their inſtances & requeſts, the damage & grievances afore conſidered, in the ſaid full Parliament it was ordained, provided, eſtabliſhed, agreed, adjudged, and conſidered, that the ſaid oppreſſions, grievances, and damages in the ſame Realm from henceforth ſhould not be ſuffered in any manner. And now it is ſhewed to our Lord the King in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, at the utas of the Purification of our Lady, the five and twentieth year of his reign of England, and of France the twelfth, by the grievous complaints of all the Commons of his Realm, that the grievances and miſchiefs aforeſaid do daily abound, to the greater damage and deſtruction of all his Realm of England, more then ever were before: viz. that now of late the Biſhop of Rome by procurement of Clerks and otherwiſe, hath reſerved, and doth daily reſerve to his collation generally and eſpecially, as well Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, Abbyes, and Priories, as all other dignities, & other Benefices of England, which be of the advowry of people of holy Church, and give the ſame as well to Aliens as to Denizens, and taketh of all ſuch Benefices the firſt fruits, and many other profits, and a great part of the treaſure of the ſaid Realm is carried away and diſpended out of the Realm, by the purchaſers of ſuch Benefices and graces aforeſaid: and alſo by ſuch privy reſervations many Clerks advanced in this Realm by their true Patrons, which have peaceably holden their advancements by long time, be ſuddainly put out: whereupon the ſaid Commons have prayed our ſaid Lord the King, that ſith the right of the Crown of England, and the Law of the ſaid Realm is ſuch, that upon the miſchiefs and damages which happen to his Realm, he ought and is bound by his oath, with the accord of his people in his Parliament thereof to make remedy and law, and in removing the miſchiefs and damages which thereof enſue, that it may pleaſe him thereupon to ordain remedy.

The cauſe and reaſons of making the Statute.

Our Lord the King ſeeing the miſchiefs and damage before mentioned, and having regard to the ſaid Statute, made in the time of his ſaid grandfather, and to the cauſes contained in the ſame; which Statute holdeth always his force, and was never defeated, repealed, nor adnulled in any point, and by ſo much he is bounden by his oath to cauſe the ſame to be kept as the law of his Realm, though that by ſufferance and negligence it hath been ſithence attempted to the contrary; alſo having regard to the grievous complaints made to him by his people in divers his Parliaments holden heretofore, willing to ordain remedy for the great damages and miſchiefs which have happened and daily do happen to the Church of England by the ſaid cauſe: By the aſſent of all the great men and the Communalty of the ſaid Realm, to the honor of God and profit of the ſaid Church of England, and of all his Realm, hath ordered and ſtabliſhed, that the free elections of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and all other dignities and benefices elective in England, ſhall hold from henceforth in the manner as they were granted by the Kings progenitors, and the anceſtors of other Lords founders of the ſaid dignities and other benefices. And that all Prelates and other people of holy Church, which have advouſons of any benefices of the Kings gift, or of any of his progenitors, or of other Lords and donors to do divine ſervices and other charges thereof ordained, ſhall have their collations and preſentments freely to the ſame, in the manner as they were enfeoffed by their donors. And in caſe that reſervation, collation, or proviſion, be made by the court of Rome of any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, dignity, or other benefice, in diſturbance of the free elections, collations, or preſentations afore named, which at the ſame time of the voidance, that ſuch reſervations, collations, and proviſions ought to take effect, our Lord the King and his heirs ſhall have and enjoy for the ſame time the collations to the Archbiſhopricks and other dignities elective, which be of his advowry, ſuch as his progenitors had before that free election was granted, ſince that the election was firſt granted by the Kings progenitors upon a certain form and condition, as to demand licence of the King to chuſe, and after the election to have his royal aſſent, and not in other manner. Which conditions not kept, the thing ought by reaſon to reſort to his firſt nature.

Elections of the dignities of the Church ſhall be free as they were founded.

Patrons and founders of the Church and their heirs ſhall have the collation or preſentation to them being void.

St. 9 H.3.33. Where the Pope maketh proviſion to a dignity of the Church, the King ſhall preſent. Fitz N.B.f.37. c.169.f.

And if any ſuch reſervation, proviſion, or collation be made of any houſe of Religion of the Kings advowry, in diſturbance of free election, our Soveraign Lord the King, and his heirs, ſhall have for that time the collation to give this dignity to a convenient perſon. And in caſe that collation, reſervation or proviſion be made by the court of Rome of any Church, prebend or other benefices, which be of the advowry of people of holy Church, whereof the King is advowee paramont immediate, that at the ſame time of the voidance, at which time the collation, reſervation, or proviſion ought to take effect as afore is ſaid, the King and his heirs thereof ſhall have the preſentment or collation for the time. And ſo from time to time, whenſoever ſuch people of holy Church ſhall be diſturbed of their preſentments, or collations, by ſuch reſervations, collations, or proviſions, as afore is ſaid: ſaving to them the right of their advowſons and their preſentments, when no collation or proviſion of the court of Rome is thereof made, where that the ſaid people of holy Church ſhall or will to the ſame benifices preſent or make collation. And that their Preſentees may enjoy the effect of their collations or preſentments. And in the ſame manner every other Lord, of what condition that he be, ſhall have the collations or preſentments to the houſes of religion, which be of his advowry, and other benefices of holy Church, which be pertaining to the ſame houſes. And if ſuch advowees do not preſent to ſuch benefices within the half year after ſuch voidances, nor the Biſhop of the place do not give the ſame by lapſe of time within a month after half a year: that then the King ſhall have thereof the preſentments and collations, as he hath of other of his own advowry. And in caſe that the Preſentees of the King, or the preſentees of other Patrons of holy Church, or of their advowees, or they to whom the King or ſuch Patrons or advowees aforeſaid have given benefices, pertaining to their preſentments or collations, be diſturbed by ſuch proviſors, ſo that they may not have poſſeſſion of ſuch benefices, by vertue of the preſentments or collations to them made, or that they which be in poſſeſſion of ſuch benefices, be impeached upon their ſaid poſſeſſions, by ſuch proviſors; then the ſaid proviſors, their procurators, executors, and notaries, ſhall be attached by their body, and brought in to anſwer. And if they be convict, they ſhall abide in priſon without being let to mainpriſe or bail, or otherwiſe delivered, till that they have made fine and ranſome to the King at his will, and gree to the party that ſhall feel himſelf grieved. And neverthеleſs before that they be delivered, they ſhall make full renunciation, and find ſufficient ſurety, that they ſhall not attempt ſuch things in time to come, nor ſue any Proceſs by them, nor by other againſt any man in the Court of Rome, nor in any part elſewhere, for any ſuch impriſonments, or renunciations, nor any other thing depending of them.

And in ſuch houſes the colledges and covents ſhall have the profits. Saving always to our Lord the King, and to all other Lords, their old right. CAP. I.

Premunire for ſuing in a forrein Realm, or impeaching of Judgment given.

Co.Inſt.2 par. 119. 4 par.86.

FIrſt, becauſe it is ſhewed to our Lord the King, by the grievous and clamorous complaints of the great men and Commons aforeſaid, how that divers of the people be, and have been drawn out of the Realm to anſwer of things, whereof the Cogniſance pertaineth to the Kings Court: and alſo that the judgments given in the ſame Court be impeached in another Court, in prejudice and diſheriſon of our Lord the King, & of his Crown, and of all the people of his ſaid Realm, and to the undoing and deſtruction of the common Law of the ſame Realm at all times uſed. Where upon good deliberation had with the great men and other of his ſaid Council, it is aſſented and accorded by our Lord the King, and the great men and Commons aforeſaid, that all the people of the Kings ligeance, of what condition that they be, which ſhall draw any out of the Realm in plea, whereof the conſiſance pertaineth to the Kings Court, or of things whereof judgments be given in the Kings Court: or which do ſue in any other Court to defeat or impeach the judgments given in the Kings Court, ſhall have day, containing the ſpace of two months, by warning to be made to them in the place where the poſſeſſions be, which be in debate, or otherwiſe, where they have lands, or other poſſeſſions, by the Sheriffs, or other the Kings Miniſters, to appear before the King and his Council, or in his Chancery, or before the Kings Juſtices in his places of the one Bench or the other, or before other the Kings Juſtices, which to the ſame ſhall be deputed, to anſwer in their proper perſons to the King of the contempt done in this behalf. And if they come not at the ſaid day in their proper perſon to be at the Law, they, their Procurators, Attornies, Executors, Notaries, and Maintainors, ſhall from that day forth be put out of the Kings protection, and their lands, goods, and chattels forfeit to the King, and their bodies whereſoever they may be found, ſhall be taken and impriſoned, and ranſomed at the Kings will. And upon the ſame a writ ſhall be made to take them by their bodies, and to ſeiſe their lands, goods, and poſſeſſions, into the Kings hands. And if it be returned, that they be not found, they ſhall be put in exigent and outlawed.

CAP. II.

In a pardon of Felony the ſuggeſtions and ſuggeſtors name ſhall be compriſed.

ITem, becauſe our Lord the King hath often granted charters of pardon of felonies, upon feined and untrue ſuggeſtions of divers people, whereof much evil hath chanced in times paſt: and for to eſchue ſuch evil, it is accorded and aſſented by our ſaid Lord the King, and all the ſaid Council, that from henceforth in every Charter of Pardon of felony, which ſhall be granted at any mans ſuggeſtion, the ſaid ſuggeſtion, and the name of him that maketh the ſuggeſtion, ſhall be compriſed in the ſame Charter. And if after the ſame ſuggeſtion be found untrue, the Charter ſhall be diſallowed and holden for none. And the Juſtices before whom ſuch Charters ſhall be alledged, ſhall enquire of the ſame ſuggeſtion, and that as well of Charters granted before this time, as of Charters which ſhall be granted in time to come. And if they find them untrue, then they ſhall diſallow the Charters ſo alledged, and ſhall moreover do as the Law demandeth.

In every pardon of felony, the ſuggeſtion and the ſuggeſtors name ſhall be compriſed.
A pardon granted upon a falſe ſuggeſtion, ſhall be diſallowed. Raſt.pl.f.455.

CAP. III.

Commiſſions ſhall be granted to enquire of offenders contrary to the Statute of 23 Ed. 3. 6. Exp.

CAP. IV.

The Aulnegers fees for every Cloth ſold. Clothes ſhall be ſealed before they be put to ſale. A Subſidy granted to the King of every Cloth ſold.

The length and breadth of coloured cloth, and Cloth of ray.

The Kings releaſe of the forfeiture of clothes.

The Aulnegers fee for every cloth and half cloth ſold.

A Subſidy granted to the King of every cloth.

Cloth put to ſale before they be ſealed ſhall be forfeit.

ITem, whereas the great men and Commons have ſhewed to our Lord the King, how divers Merchants as well Foreiners as Denizens, have withdrawn them, and yet do withdraw them to come with Clothes into England, to the great damage of the King and of all his people, becauſe that the Kings Aulneger ſurmiſeth to Merchant-ſtrangers, that their Clothes be not of Aſſiſe, that is to ſay, the coloured Cloth of the length of ſix and twenty yards meaſured by the creſt, and of the breadth of ſix quarters and an half: And the Cloth of ray, of the length of eight and twenty yards meaſured by the liſt, and of the breadth of ſix quarters; and whereas the ſame have been arreſted as forfeit to our Lord the King, they have prayed our ſaid Lord the King, that it may pleaſe him to releaſe & put out ſuch forfeitures in eaſe of his people, for a convenient recompence to be made to him, of the other party: our Lord the King, upon ſuch condition hearing their ſupplication, hath releaſed and excluded him of all the ſaid forfeitures, and he willeth and granteth for him and for his heirs, that there ſhall be no Clothes forfeit, although they be not of the ſame Aſſiſe, but the Kings Aulneger ſhall meaſure the Cloth and mark the ſame, by which mark a man may know how much the Cloth containeth. And of as much as the Cloth, which is bought for Cloth of Aſſiſe, ſhall be found leſs then the Aſſiſe, allowance or abatement ſhall be made to the buyer in the paiment, which he ſhall make for the ſame Cloth, after the quantity of the price for which the Cloth was bought. And the Aulneger ſhall take for every Cloth ſo meaſured, which is of Aſſiſe, that is to ſay, of the ſeller an half-peny, and of half a Cloth a farthing for his office, and no more, nor they ſhall take nothing of the Clothes which be leſs then of the half Cloth. And that he nothing meddle of the Aulnage of any Cloth, but only of Clothes which are to be ſold. And for ſo much as the ſaid Lords and Commons have granted to the King a Subſidy of every Cloth, which is to be ſold, to take of the ſeller over the cuſtoms thereof due, that is to ſay, of every Cloth of the ſaid Aſſiſe, wherein there is no grain, iiii. d. and of every half ſuch Cloth ii. d. and of every Cloth of Aſſiſe of Scarlet vi. d. and of every half ſuch Cloth iii. d. and of every Cloth half grain of Aſſiſe v. d. and of every half ſuch Cloth ii. d. ob. And that every Cloth paſſing the half Cloth of Aſſiſe by iii. yards and more, which is no Cloth whole of Aſſiſe, and alſo of every Cloth paſſing the whole Cloth by three yards and more, ſhall be taken after the rate of the Subſidy which is to be paid for the whole Cloth of the ſame ſort. So always that of no Cloth, which containeth not half a Cloth, nor of Clothes which a man maketh for his own uſe to clothe him and his meiny, nor of Cloth ſealed with the Seal of the Collectour of the ſaid Subſidy, of which the ſame Subſidy was once paid by the ſeller, to whoſe hands that ſuch Clothes ſhall come after to ſell, or in any manner, nothing of the ſaid Subſidy ſhall be paid and demanded. And that ſuch manner of Clothes which be put to ſale before that they be ſealed with the ſaid Seal ſhall be forfeit to the King, and taken into his hands by the ſaid Collectour or Aulneger, or by the deputy of one of them, or elſe by the Bailiffs of the Town where ſuch vendible Clothes not ſealed ſhall be found. St. 5 Ed. 6. 6.

CAP. V.

It ſhall be fellony to foreſtal or ingroſs Gaſcoin Wine.

It ſhall be felony foreſtalling or ingroſſing of Gaſcoin wines

ITem, it is aſſented and accorded that defence and Proclamation ſhall be made, that no Engliſh Merchants ſhall engroſs nor foreſtal Wines in Gaſcoin, nor take them by way of buying of any Gaſcoin, nor of other, for to pay in England, for any greater ſum then Wines be commonly ſold in Gaſcoin, becauſe of the preſt, in peril of the Sea, or by any other colour, upon pain of life and member, and of forfeiture of the Wines and of all their other goods and chattels to the King, and forfeiture of all their lands and tenements to the chief Lords. And the chief Lords ſhall have a Writ of Eſcheat in ſuch caſe. Rep. For the Felony and for the forfeiture of lands, by 37 Ed. 3. 16.

CAP. VI.

Merchants may bring their Wines to what Ports they will.

Merchants may bring their wines to what ports they will.

ITem, that all Merchants Gaſcoines, and other Strangers, may ſafely bring their Wines into England, to what port that ſhall pleaſe them, and make thereof their profits. So always that the Kings Butler may make Purveyance of Wines of Aliens when need ſhall be, making paiment for the ſame Wines within forty days, in the manner as hath been uſed in old time. O B. St. 43 Ed. 3. 3.

CAP. VII.

When and where Gaſcoin Wines may be bought.

It ſhall be felony for any Engliſh merchant to lie in Gaſcoign to buy wines but in vintage-time.

ITem, that no Engliſh Merchant, nor any of his ſervants, nor other for them, ſhall go into Gaſcoin, there to abide, nor ſhall have any other there dwelling, to make bargain or buying of Wines by any colour, before the time of the Vintage, that is to ſay, before that common paſſage be made to ſeek Wines there. And that none buy nor bargain by himſelf nor by other, any Wines but only in the ports of Burdeux and Bayon, upon the pains and forfeitures next aforeſaid. And if any be there found doing againſt the ſame, he ſhall be taken and arreſted by the Steward of Gaſcoin, or the Conſtable of Burdeux, and his body ſent into England to the Tower of London. And that the ſame Steward or Conſtable certifie the King in his Chancery of the names of ſuch arreſted, and of their maſters and fellows alſo, with all the deed. O B. Rep. 37 Ed. 3. 16. for the felony, and for the forfeiture of Lands.

CAP.

CAP. VIII.

Red and white Wine ſhall be gaged: and the puniſhment of him that hindreth it.

Red and white Wine ſhall be gaged, and the puniſhment of him that doth hinder it.

Item, It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, That all Wines red and white, which ſhall come into the ſaid Realm, and into the Land of Wales and Ireland, to ſell, ſhall be well and lawfully gaged by the Kings Gagers, or their Deputies. And if any do ſet diſturbance or debate, and will not ſuffer the ſame to be gaged, he ſhall forfeit the ſaid Wines, and ſhall be puniſhed by impriſonment, and ranſomed at the Kings will. And if default be found in the Gager, that he or his Deputy be not ready to do his Office, when he ſhall be required, or that he do fraud or deceit, in doing his Office, to the damage of the buyer or of the ſeller: he ſhall pay to the party grieved his treble damages, and loſe his Office, and be puniſhed by impriſonment, and ranſomed at the Kings will. And in caſe that leſs be found in the Tun or Pipe, then ought to be of right, after the aſſiſe of the Tun, the value of as much as ſhall lack of ſuch Tun or Pipe, ſhall be allowed and deducted in the paiment. A Statute of the Staple made Anno 27 Ed. 3. and Anno Dom. 1353.

Edward by the Grace of God, &c. to our Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, Miniſters, and other our faithful people, to whom theſe preſent letters ſhall come, greeting. Whereas good deliberation had with the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and great men of the Counties, that is to ſay, of every County one for all the County, and of the Commons of Cities and Boroughs of our Realm of England, ſummoned to our great Council holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next after the Feaſt of S. Matthew the Apoſtle, the ſeven and twentieth year of our Reign of England, and of France the fourteenth, for the damage which hath notoriouſly come as well to us and to the great men, as to our people of our Realm of England, and of our Lands of Wales and Ireland, becauſe that the Staple of Wools, Leather, and Woolfels, of our ſaid Realm and Lands, have been holden out of our ſaid Realm and Lands, and alſo for the great profits which ſhould come to the ſaid Realm and Lands if the Staple were holden within the ſame and not elſewhere: to the honour of God, and in relief of our Realm and Lands aforeſaid, and for to eſchue the perils that may happen of the contrary in time to come, by the Counſel, and common aſſent of the ſaid Prelates, Dukes, Earls and Barons, Knights and Commons aforeſaid, we have ordained and ſtabliſhed the things under-written.

CAP. I.

Where the Staple for England, Wales and Ireland ſhall be kept: Whither Merchandiſes of the Staple ſhall be carried, and what Cuſtom ſhall be paid for them.

Co Inſt. 3. par. 95.

At which Towns the Staple of wool, leather, fells, and lead for England, Wales and Ireland ſhall be holden. St. 43 Ed. 3. 1. 14 R. 2. 1.

Merchandiſe of the Staple carried from Staple-towns to Port-towns

An Indenture ſhall be made between the Mayor of the ſtaple and the cuſtomer, of all the wool and lead weighed.

The ſeveral cuſtoms of Merchandiſes of the Staple to be paid by Denizens and Aliens.

Merchants Aliens, and not the Kings ſubjects, ſhall tranſport beyond the ſea wool, &c.

First, That the Staple of Wools, Leather, Woolfels, and Lead, growing or coming forth within our ſaid Realm and Lands, ſhall be perpetually holden at the places under-written, that is to ſay, for England at Newcaſtle upon Tine, York, Lincoln, Norwich, Weſtminſter, Canterbury, Ciceſter, Wincheſter, Exeter, and Briſtow. For Wales at Kaermerdyn, and for Ireland at Devylin, Waterford, Cork and Droghda, and not elſewhere. And that all the ſaid Wools, as well old as new, Woolfels, Leather and Lead, which ſhall be carried out of the ſaid Realm and Lands, ſhall be firſt brought to the ſaid Staples, and there the ſaid Wool and Lead betwixt Merchant and Merchant, or Merchant and others, ſhall be lawfully weighed by the Standard. And that every ſack and ſarpler of the ſame Wools ſo weighed, be ſealed under the ſeal of yͤ Mayor of the Staple. And that all the Wools ſo weighed and ſealed at the Staple of York, Lincoln, Norwich, Weſtminſter, Canterbury and Wincheſter: and alſo Leather, Woolfels, and Lead which ſhall come there, (the cuſtoms of the Staple thereof paid) ſhall be witneſſed by bill, ſealed with the ſeal of the Mayor of the Staple, and brought to the Ports under-written, that is to ſay, from York to Hull, from Lincoln to Saint Botolf, from Norwich to great Yarmouth, from Weſtminſter to London, from Canterbury to Sandwich, and from Wincheſter to Southampton. And there the ſaid Wools and Lead ſhall be another time weighed by our Cuſtomers aſſigned in the ſame Ports. And all the Wools and Lead brought to the ſaid Ports of Newcaſtle, Chicheſter, Exeter, Briſtow, Kaermardyn, Devylin, Waterford, Cork and Droghda, where the other Staples be holden, ſhall be but once weighed by the Standard betwixt Merchant and Merchant, or Merchants and other, in preſence of our Cuſtomers. And an Indenture ſhall be made betwixt the Mayor of the Staple being in the Port of the Sea, and our Cuſtomers there, of all the Wools and Lead ſo weighed, and alſo of all the Leather and Woolfels, which ſhall come to the ſaid Staples to paſs there, and the ſame Wools and Lead, and alſo the Leather and Woolfels cuſtomed and cocketed, and the cuſtoms thereof duely paid to our ſaid Cuſtomers in all the ſaid Ports, that is to ſay, of Denizens for the time that they have paſſed, half a mark of a ſack of Wool, half a mark of three hundred Woolfels, a mark of a Laſt of Leather; and of Aliens ten ſhillings of a ſack of Wool, ten ſhillings of a three hundred Woolfels, and twenty ſhillings of a Laſt of Leather, and three pence of every ſow of Lead: Then the ſaid Merchandiſes ſhall be carried by Merchants-ſtrangers, which have bought the ſame, and not by Engliſhmen, Welſhmen, nor Iriſhmen, to the parts beyond the Sea out of the ſaid Realm, and Lands, to what parts it ſhall pleaſe the ſaid Merchants-ſtrangers. And that the ſaid Mayor and Cuſtomers ſhall delay no man willingly for gain, nor for ſuch cauſe, nor in other manner ſhall any thing take of any perſon to do that which pertaineth to their office, upon pain of impriſonment, and to pay to the party the double of that which they have ſo taken, and alſo of that which the party ſhall be indamaged becauſe of ſuch taking or delay, and moreover be ranſomed at our will, but ſhall hold them content of that which they did take in certain to do their office. And that the Mayor of the Staple and Cuſtomers take an Oath of all the Merchants which ſo ſhall paſs with Wools, Leather, Woolfels and Lead, that they ſhall hold no Staple beyond the ſea, of the ſame Merchandiſes.

Every Merchant-ſtranger ſhall be ſworn to hold no Staple beyond the ſea.

CAP. II.

Merchants-ſtrangers may come into, and depart forth of the Realm with their goods, and none of them ſhall be taken by the Kings Purveyors.

A ſafe conduct granted to Merchants-ſtrangers to come & dwell in this Realm, and to return when they will, and none of their goods ſhall be taken by the Kings purveyors without their conſent.

ITem, To repleniſh the ſaid Realm and Lands with money, and plate, gold and ſilver, and Merchandiſes of other Lands, and to give courage to Merchant-ſtrangers, to come with their Wares and Merchandiſes into the Realm and Lands aforeſaid, We have ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all Merchants-ſtrangers, which be not of our enmity, of what Land or Nation that they be, may ſafely and ſurely under our protection and ſafe conduct come and dwell in our ſaid Realm and Lands where they will, and from thence return with their Ships, Wares, and all manner of Merchandiſes, and freely ſell their Merchandiſes at the Staple and elſewhere within the ſame Realm and Lands, to any that will buy them, paying the cuſtoms thereof due. And more to aſſure the Merchants-ſtrangers and others bringing Goods and Merchandiſes within the ſaid Realm and Land, we will and grant for us and, for our heirs and ſubjects, That nothing ſhall be taken over the Cuſtoms aforeſaid, nor taken of them to our uſe by colour of ſale, nor in other manner againſt their will, nor by the Miniſters of us or of our heirs: nor by the Miniſters of any of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, Lords nor Ladies, nor of any other great nor ſmall. And if any Miniſter, or other by colour of his office, or in other manner take any thing of them againſt their agreement, he ſhall be incontinently arreſted by the Mayors and Baylifs of the place, if it be out of the Staple, or by the Mayor or Miniſters of the Staple, if it be within the Staple. And ſpeedy and ready proceſs ſhall be againſt him from day to day, and from hour to hour, according to the Law of the Staple, and not at the common Law, as well out of the Staple as within, at every mans complaint that ſo ſhall be grieved. And if he be thereof attainted, he ſhall pay to the Merchant the double of that which he hath taken, and as much to us. And that no Commiſſion be made to take ſuch prices of the ſaid Merchants; and if any Commiſſion be made, it ſhall be holden for none.

CAP. III.

All perſons may buy Wools, Fells, &c. ſo that they bring them to the Staple. It ſhall be felony for an Engliſh, Welſh, or Iriſh Merchant to Tranſport Wool, &c.

All Merchants may buy merchandiſes of the Staple, ſo that they bring them to the Staple. It ſhall be Felony for an Engliſh, Welſh, or Iriſhman to tranſport Wool, Fells, Leather, or Lead. St. 36 Ed. 3.11. 37 Ed. 3.16. 38 Ed. 3.6. 43 Ed. 3.1. 14 R. 2.5. No Engliſh, &c. man ſhall tranſport wool, &c. in a ſtrangers name, nor keep a ſervant beyond the ſea to ſurvey the ſale of wool, &c. There ſhall be no exchange of wares for Merchandiſes of the ſtaple, but payment in ſilver, &c. Every man may carry his own wool, &c. to the Staple to ſel. Warranty of packing of wool. St. 28 Ed. 3.13.

ITem, We will and grant, That all Merchants, as well Aliens as Denizens, may buy Wools, Leather, Woolfels, and Lead, through our Realm and Lands, without covin or colluſion to abate the price of the ſaid Merchandiſes. So always that they bring the ſame to the Staples. And that no Merchant, Engliſh, Welſh nor Iriſh, ſhall carry any manner of Wools, Leather, Woolfels or Lead out of the ſaid Realm and Lands, upon the pain of life and member, and of forfeiture of the ſaid Merchandiſes, and of all their other goods and chattels to us; and of forfeiture of all their Lands and Tenements to the chief Lords. And the chief Lords ſhall have a Writ of Eſcheat in the caſe. And that no ſtrange Merchants by covin betwixt them and Engliſh, Iriſh or Welſh Merchants, ſhall carry out of the Realm and Lands aforeſaid, the ſaid Wares and Merchandiſes to the profit of Engliſh, Iriſh or Welſh Merchants, in part or in all. Nor that any Merchant, Engliſh, Iriſh or Welſh, nor other, make covin or colluſion with Merchants-ſtrangers, to carry their Wools, Leather, Woolfels or Lead, to the parts beyond the ſea, out of the Realm and Lands aforeſaid, under the name of Merchant-ſtrangers, nor ſhall ſend nor hold their ſervants, or other their Atturneys in the parts beyond the ſea, out of our ſaid Realm and Lands, to ſell, or to ſurvey the ſale of their ſaid Wools, Leather, Woolfels and Lead there, or to receive the money coming of the ſale of the ſaid Wools, Leather, Woolfels and Lead. Nor that any Engliſhman, Iriſhman, or Welſhman, by himſelf nor by other, take payment of gold nor of ſilver, nor of other thing in recompence or commutation, or in the name of payment in the parts beyond the Sea out of the Realm and Lands aforeſaid, of Merchandiſes ſold in England, Ireland or Wales, touching the Staple, but all ſuch payment ſhall be made in gold or in ſilver, or Merchandiſe in England, Ireland or Wales, where the Contract was made, upon the forfeitures and pains next aforeſaid. Nor that the Merchant-ſtrangers nor Denizens, make betwixt them privily nor apertly any company or confederacy in fraud or deceit of this ordinance, nor that any maintain the ſame for gain, nor in other manner to do any ſuch fraud or deceit upon the ſame pains and forfeitures. And always it is to be underſtood, that every Engliſhman, Iriſhman, or Welſhman, may freely bring their own Wools, Leather, Woolfels and Lead, to the Staple to ſell there, without being compelled to ſell them in the Countrey. And that every Merchant that ſhall ſell his Wools at the Staple, be bound to warrant the packing of the ſame Wools. See the Stat. of 38 Ed. 3. 6. this Stat. part repealed for the puniſhment.

CAP. IV.

None going unto or returning from the Staple, ſhall be diſturbed by Purveyors.

None going or coming from the Staple ſhall be diſturbed by the K. purveyors.

ITem, Foraſmuch as no Staple may be profitable for us and for our ſaid Realm and Lands, unleſs it be free: we will and grant for us and for our heirs, for the maintenance of the ſaid Staple, that all manner of people may come with their carriage and goods to the Staple, and from the ſame return freely, without being diſturbed by prices of us or of any other. Saving to us and to our heirs all manner of prices Royal, of all manner of carriages and victuals through all our ſaid Realm and Lands of old times due and uſed of right, as have been made by us and by our anceſtors in times paſt. And every Carrier returning from the Staple, ſhall have a bill under the ſeal of the Mayor of the Staple, whereby it may be known, that he ſerveth the Staple, containing the journeys which he needeth for his return to the houſe; which bill ſhall be freely granted to him. And the ſame Mayor ſhall be ſworn that he ſhall make no ſuch bill for any other then which ſerveth the Staple. And if any ſuch Carrier, Carts, Ships, Beaſts, or other thing, which ſerveth for carriage of that which pertaineth to the Staple, be taken, and be within the vierge out of the Staple, Huy and Cry ſhall be levied upon the Takers, and the Takers ſhall be preſently apprehended by the people of the Town where the price was made, or by people of another Town, if they be lacking, and brought before the Steward and Marſhal of our houſe: And there ready puniſhment ſhall be made of them, according as the deed requireth. And if any ſuch price be made out of the vierge, Huy and Cry ſhall be levied, and the Takers ſhall be taken and arreſted by the Town, where ſuch prices ſhall be made, or by other Towns near, if they be lacking, and brought to the next Gaol, and there to be done of them as of Felons, if the deed the ſame require. And in caſe that the people of ſuch Towns be negligent, and will not purſue and arreſt ſuch Takers, as before is ſaid, the four Towns next ſhall anſwer of the damages that may be found before them whom we ſhall thereto aſſign, that the plaintiffs have incurred by their default, if they cannot reaſonably excuſe themſelves thereof. And if ſuch prices be made in a place where the Staple is, the Takers ſhall be arreſted by the Mayors and Miniſters of the Staple, and right done to the plaintiffs by the ſaid Mayors and Miniſters. So always, that if ſuch price be made at the Staple, and the Staple be within the vierge, and the Takers arreſted be of our houſe, then right ſhall be done of them by the Mayor and Miniſters of the Staple. And the Steward and Marſhal of our houſe, or the Stewards Lieutenant ſhall be thereto called, if they will be there, to ſee that right be done of the ſaid Takers according to the Law of the Staple. And in caſe they come not, the Mayor and Miniſters of the Staple ſhall proceed in the proceſs, and do Juſtice according to the Law of the Staple, notwithſtanding the not coming of the Steward or Marſhal, or Lieutenant aforeſaid.

What penalty ſhall be inflicted, and by whom, upon thoſe that take the goods of the Staple.

CAP. V.

None of the Kings Juſtices ſhall take cogniſance of things belonging to the Staple.

ITem, In caſe that our Bench or common Bench, or Juſtices in Eyre, or Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or the places of the Marſhalſey, or any other Juſtices come to the places where the ſaid Staples be, the ſaid Juſtices nor Stewards, nor Marſhals, nor of other the ſaid place, ſhall have any cogniſance there, of that thing which pertaineth to the cogniſance of the Mayor and miniſters of the Staple.

None of the K. Juſt. ſhall take cogniſance of thoſe things that do belong to the Staple.

CAP. VI.

None of the Kings Officers ſhall meddle where the Staples be.

ITem, We will and defend, That no marſhal nor other miniſter of our houſe, or of others, ſhall make liberty, nor meddle in the places where the Staples be holden and kept, nor with the houſes where the ſaid merchants or their people, or wools, or other merchandiſes of the Staple be lodged, nor enter into the ſame to execute their office there, nor take any thing thereof to ſpare any, upon pain to make gree to the party at whoſe ſuit he ſhall be attainted, of the quatreble of that which the plaintiff ſhall be endamaged, and further ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed by us.

None of the Kings officers ſhall meddle in the places where the Staples be holden.

CAP. VII.

Licences granted to carry Merchandiſes forth of the Realm ſhall be void.

ITem, We will and grant, That no licence or priviledge to make paſſage by Engliſhmen, Iriſhmen, or Welſhmen, of Wools, Leather, Woolfels or Lead, out of the ſame Realm and Lands, ſhall be granted by us or our heirs againſt this ordinance. And if any be granted to the contrary, they ſhall be holden for none. And they ſhall give no Warranty, nor excuſe to them, which ſhall cauſe to be paſſed the ſaid merchandiſes, that they ſhall not incur the pains and forfeitures contained in the ſaid Article.

If any Licence ſhall be granted to tranſport, &c. contrary to this Statute, it ſhall be void.

CAP. VIII.

The Juriſdiction of the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple. All people of the Staple ſhall be ruled by the Law-Merchant, and not by the common Law.

ITem, We have ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Mayors and Conſtables of the Staple ſhall have juriſdiction and cogniſance within the Towns where the Staples ſhall be, of people, and of all manner of things touching the Staple. And that all merchants coming to the Staple, their ſervants and meiny in the Staple, ſhall be ruled by the Law-merchant, of all things touching the Staple, and not by the common Law of the Land, nor by the uſage of Cities, Boroughs, or other Towns; and that they ſhall not implead nor be impleaded before the Juſtices of the ſaid places in plea of debt, covenant, and treſpaſs touching the Staple, but ſhall implead all perſons, of whom they will complain, as well ſuch as be not of the Staple, as thoſe that be of the Staple, which ſhall be there found. And in the ſame manner they ſhall be impleaded onely before the Mayor and Juſtices of the Staple, which ſhall be thereto deputed of all manner of Pleas and of Actions, whereof the cogniſance pertaineth to the Miniſters of the Staple. So always that all manner of contracts and covenants made betwixt merchant and merchant, or other, whereof the one party is a Merchant or Miniſter of the Staple, whether the contract or covenant made be within the Staple or without, and alſo of treſpaſſes done within the Staple to Merchants or to Miniſters of the Staple by other, or by any of them to other: the party plaintiff ſhall chuſe whether he will ſue his action or quarrel before the Juſtices of the Staple by the Law of the Staple, or in other place of the common Law: And he ſhall be thereto received. So always that in the pleas touching any of our houſe, the Steward or his Lieutenant, and the Marſhals of our houſe ſhall be with the Mayor of the Staple, to ſee that right be done to the parties as before is ſaid, if they will be there. But pleas of Land and of Freehold ſhall be at the common Law. And if Merchants or their people being in the Staple, becauſe of the ſame do commit Felony or be ſlain, robbed or maimed by any perſons, the Mayor of the Staple and other meet perſons ſhall be aſſigned Juſtices, to hear and determine the ſaid felonies and maims within the Staple without delay, according to the common Law. And if any ſuch felon or treſpaſſer be taken or detained within any franchiſe to whomſoever the ſame be, becauſe of ſuch felony or maim done within the Staple, it ſhall be preſently commanded by writ, to cauſe the ſaid felon, or him that did the maim, to come before the ſaid Juſtices, to do right of him in form aforeſaid. And if they that have ſuch priſoners in Ward, will not deliver them, they ſhall incur the pain of an C. l. to us. And nevertheleſs they ſhall deliver the body in the form aforeſaid. And in caſe that any indictment be made out of the Staple of felonies or treſpaſſes done by people of the Staple, or by other to them within the Staple, the ſame indictment ſhall be ſent before the ſaid Mayor, and them which ſhall be aſſigned Juſtices with him, to do right in this party. And if the plea or debate be made before the Mayor of the Staple, betwixt the Merchants or Miniſters of the ſame, and thereupon to try thereof the truth an enqueſt or proof is to be taken: we will that if the one party and the other be a ſtranger, it ſhall be tryed by ſtrangers: And if the one party and the other be Denizens, it ſhall be tryed by Denizens: And if the one party be Denizen, and the other an Alien, the one half of the Inqueſt or of the proof ſhall be of Denizens, and the other half of Aliens.

ITem, To the intent that the contracts made within the ſame Staple ſhall be the better holden, and the payments readily made: we have ordained and eſtabliſhed, That every Mayor of the ſaid Staples ſhall have power to take recogniſances of debts, which a man will make before him, in the preſence of the Conſtables of the Staple, or one of them. And that in every of the ſaid Staples be a ſeal ordained, remaining in the cuſtody of the Mayor of the Staple, under the ſeals of the Conſtables, and that all obligations which ſhall be made upon ſuch recogniſances, be ſealed with the ſaid ſeal, paying for every obligation of an C. l. and within of every li. a ob. and of every obligation above a C. li. a q. And that the Mayor of the Staple by vertue of the ſame letters ſo ſealed, may take and hold in priſon the bodies of the debtors after the term incurred, if they be found within the Staple, till they have made gree to the creditor of the debt and damages. And alſo arreſt the goods of the ſaid debtors found within the ſaid Staple, and deliver the ſaid goods to the ſaid creditors, by true eſtimation, or to ſell them at the beſt that a man may, and deliver the money to the creditors until the ſum due. And in caſe that the debtors be not found within the Staple, nor their goods to the value of the debt, the ſame ſhall be certified in the Chancery under the ſaid ſeal, by which certification a writ ſhall be ſent to take the bodies of the ſaid debtors, without letting them to mainpriſe, and to ſeiſe their lands and tenements, goods and chattels. And the writ ſhall be returned in the Chancery, with the certificate of the value of the ſaid lands and tenements, goods and chattels. And thereupon due execution ſhall be made from day to day, in manner as it is contained in the Statute-merchant: ſo that he to whom the debt is due, ſhall have eſtate of freehold in the lands and tenements, which ſhall be delivered to him by vertue of the ſame proceſs, and recovery by writ of Novel diſſeiſin, in caſe if he be outed. And the debtor have no advantage of the quarter of a year which is contained in the ſaid Statute-merchant. And in caſe that no creditor will have letters of the ſaid ſeal, but will ſtand to the faith of the debtor, if after the term incurred he demand the debt, the debtor ſhall be believed upon that faith. CAP. X.

There ſhall be but one Weight, Meaſure and Yard through the Realm.

There ſhall be one weight, one meaſure, and one yard through all the Land. The penalty of him which doth not weigh by equal balance.

ITem, Becauſe we have perceived, that ſome Merchants do buy Avoir de pois, Wools and other merchandiſes by one weight, and ſell by another, and make alſo deceitful draughts upon the weight, and alſo uſe falſe meaſures and yards, in great deceit of us and all the Commons, and of lawful Merchants: We will and eſtabliſh, that one weight, one meaſure, and one yard, be through all the Land, as well out of the Staple as within. And that wools, and all manner Avoir de pois, be weighed by the balance, ſo that the tongue of the balance be even, without bowing to the one ſide or the other, or without putting hand or foot, or other touch making of the ſame. And that he which doth againſt the ſame, to the damage of the ſeller, ſhall forfeit to us the value of the merchandiſe ſo weighed and meaſured. And the party that will complain him, ſhall have the quatreble of that which he ſhall be indamaged. And the treſpaſſer ſhall have one years impriſonment, and be ranſomed at the Kings will. And thereupon Juſtices ſhall be aſſigned to enquire of ſuch treſpaſſes at all times that ſhall be needful, and to do right as well at our ſuit as at the ſuit of other that thereof will complain. CAP. XI.

The penalty for foreſtalling of Merchandiſe before they come to the Staple.

ITem, We have ordained and ſtabliſhed, that all Merchants, aliens and denizens, & other that do bring Wines and other wares or merchandiſes whatſoever they be to the Staples, Cities, Boroughs, and good Towns, or to Ports of the Sea within our ſaid Realm and lands, may ſafely and without challenge and impeachment of any, ſell them in groſs or at retail, or by parcels at their will to all manner of people that will buy the ſame. And that no Merchant, privy nor ſtranger, nor other of what condition that he be, go by land nor by water toward ſuch wines, wares, or merchandiſes, coming into our ſaid Realm and Lands, in the Sea, nor elſewhere, to foreſtall or buy them, or in other manner to give earneſt upon them before that they come to the Staple, or to the Port where they ſhall be diſcharged, nor enter into the Ships for ſuch cauſe till the merchandiſes be ſet to land to be ſold, upon the pains and forfeitures contained in the ſame third Article aforeſaid.

It ſhall be felony to foreſtal, buy, or give earneſt for any merchandiſes before they come to the Staple or Port, or to go into the ſhip for that cauſe.
St. 28 Ed. 3. 13.

CAP. XII.

The penalty of ſelling Wooll, &c. to a Scottiſh man to be carried into Scotland.

ITem, That no Merchant, privy nor ſtranger, nor other, ſhall carry out of our Realm of England, Wools, Leather, or Woolfells to Barwick upon Tweed, nor elſewhere, nor into Scotland, nor that any man, Merchant nor other, of what condition that he be, ſell his Woolls, Woolfells, or Leather to any man of Scotland, nor to any other to carry into Scotland, upon the pains and forfeitures contained in the ſaid third Article.

Felony to carry any Wooll, &c. into Scotland, or to ſell them to a Scottiſh-man.

CAP. XIII.

A remedy where a Merchants goods be robbed or periſhed on the Sea.

ITem, We will and grant, that if any Merchant, privy or ſtranger, be robbed of his goods upon the Sea, and the goods ſo robbed come into any parts within our Realm & Lands, and he will ſue for to recover the ſaid goods, he ſhall be received to prove the ſaid goods to be his own by his marks, or by his Cart or Cocket, or by good and lawful Merchants, privy or ſtrangers. And by ſuch proofs the ſame goods ſhall be delivered to the Merchants, without making other ſuit at the common Law. And in caſe that any Ships going out of the ſaid Realm and Lands, or coming to the ſame, by tempeſt or other miſfortune, break upon the Sea-banks, and the goods come to the land, which may not be ſaid wreck, they ſhall be preſently without fraud or evil deviſe delivered to the Merchants to whom the goods be, or to their ſervants, by ſuch proof as before is ſaid, paying to them that have ſaved and kept the ſame, convenient for their travel; that is to ſay, by the diſcretion of the Sheriffs and Bailiffs, or other our Miniſters in places guildable, where other Lords have no Franchiſe, and by the advice and aſſent of four or ſix of the beſt or moſt ſufficient diſcreet men of the country. And if that be within the Franchiſe of other Lords, then it ſhall be done by the Stewards and Bailiff, or Wardens of the ſame Franchiſes, and by the advice of four or ſix diſcreet men of the Country, as afore is ſaid, without any delay.

How Merchants robbed on the Sea, whoſe goods be brought into this Realm, ſhall be relieved.

Ships periſhed on the Sea.

CAP. XIV.

Merchants may bring in gold or ſilver to the Kings Exchanges, and carry out as much.

ITem, We have ordained, that all Merchants, privy and ſtrangers, may ſafely carry and bring within our ſaid Realm and Lands, plate of ſilver, and billets of gold, and all other manner of gold, and all money of gold & ſilver to our Bullion, or to our Exchanges, which we ſhall cauſe to be ordained at our ſaid Staples, and elſewhere, taking there money of our coin of gold and ſilver conveniable to the value. And if any will take good money of gold and ſilver of other coin then of ours in payment, he ſhall take the ſame without impeachment, ſo that none be thereunto compelled if he will not take it of his good will.

Provided always, that no money have common courſe within our ſaid Realm and Lands, but the money of gold and ſilver of our coin. And that none carry out of our ſaid Realm and Lands the old Sterling, nor other money but our new money of gold and ſilver, except the Merchants-ſtrangers that bring to our ſaid Realm and Lands any manner of money, and there will employ this money within our Realm and Lands: whom we will that they may re-carry into their Country all this money, or as much as ſhall remain thereof not imployed, without impeachment. So always that good and lawful ſearch be thereof made in the Ports and other places where any arrival is. And that all the money that every Merchant-ſtranger ſhall bring within our ſaid Realm and Lands, ſhall be put in writing by the Searchers, to the intent that no Merchant ſhall carry more beyond the Sea then he brought into the ſame Realm and Lands.

Merchants may bring in gold or ſilver in money or bullion to the Kings Exchanges, and carry forth as much new money, but not old Sterling.

Provided always, that no Miniſter nor other by colour of ſuch ſearch, ſhall make impeachment or diſturbance to any Merchant-ſtranger to grieve him unduly. And that all the falſe money that may be found by ſearch, or in other manner eſpied within the ſame our Realm and Lands, in deceit of our good money, ſhall be forfeited to us, according to the Ordinances another time thereof made.

All falſe money ſhall be forfeited to the King.

CAP. XV.

Indentures ſhall be made between Carriers of Wool by the water, and the Bailiffs of Towns where they load them: which Carriers ſhall be ſworn and bound to carry them to the Staple.

ITem, We will and eſtabliſh, that they that have Wolls, Leather, Fells, and Lead in the Country betwixt the places where the Staples be and the Sea, and the ſame will cauſe to be carried to the Staples by freſh waters, or by arms of the Sea, ſhall make Indenture betwixt them and the Bailiffs of the Towns where they put them in Ship, teſtifying how much Wools, Leather, Fells, and Lead is ſo put in Ship. And the Bailiffs of the places ſhall take an oath and ſufficient ſurety, or which they will anſwer, of them and the Mariners, that they ſhall go with the ſame Wools, Leather, Fells, and Lead to the Staple, and no part elſewhere, and there ſhall diſcharge before they do enter the Sea. And that the Bailiffs ſend preſently the one part of the Indenture containing the ſurety and the quantity of the Wools, Leather, Woolfels and Lead, to the Mayor of the Staple, at their coſts that owe the goods, by ſome man for whom they will anſwer. And if any Mayor, Bailiff, or other Miniſter of the places where ſuch merchandiſes ſhall be charged, ſuffer the ſaid merchandiſes to paſs in other manner, as well the Mayors and Bailiffs and Miniſters aforeſaid, as the Merchants which the ſame ſhall charge, ſhall incur the pains and forfeitures contained in the ſaid third Article.

CAP. XVI.

Houſes ſhall be let for reaſonable rents in Staple-towns impoſed by the Mayor, &c.

Reaſonable rents ſhall be impoſed upon houſes provided for the Staple by the Mayor, &c.

ITem, That in every Town where the Staple ſhall be holden, ſhall be ordained certain rews and places, where the wools and other merchandiſes ſhall be put; and becauſe that the Lords or Guardians of the houſes and places (ſeeing the neceſſity of Merchants) do ſet percaſe their houſes at too high ferm: We have ordained, That the houſes which be to be leaſed in ſuch manner, ſhall be ſet at a reaſonable ferm, according to the Ordinance of the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple, and of four diſcreet men of the beſt of the Town where the Staple is, which ſhall be ſworn in the preſence of the ſaid Mayor and Conſtable, to make a lawful Tax; ſo that for default of houſes, the Staple ſhall not be impeached. And that no man that bringeth his Woolls or other merchandiſes there, be diſturbed to lodge the ſame Woolls or other merchandiſes in the houſes which they have ſo hired.

CAP. XVII.

A Merchant-ſtranger ſhall not be impeached for anothers debt but upon good cauſe. Merchants of enemies Countries ſhall ſell their goods in convenient time, and depart.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 205.
One Merchants goods ſhall not be ſeiſed for anothers debt, but upon cauſe.
Law of marq.
Merchants of enemies countries ſhall have convenient time by Proclamation to ſell their goods, and to depart.

ITem, That no Merchant-ſtranger be impeached for anothers treſpaſs, or for anothers debt, whereof he is not debtor, pledge, nor mainpernour: provided always, that if our liege people, merchants or other, be indamaged by any Lords of ſtrange lands or their ſubjects, and the ſaid Lords (duly required) fail of right to our ſaid ſubjects, we ſhall have the Law of Marque, and of taking them again, as hath been uſed in times paſt, without fraud or deceit. And in caſe that debate do riſe (which God defend) betwixt us and any Lords of ſtrange lands, we will not that the people and merchants of the ſaid lands be ſuddenly ſubdued in our ſaid Realm and lands becauſe of ſuch debate, but that they be warned, and Proclamation thereof publiſhed, that they ſhall void the ſaid Realm and Lands with their goods freely, within fourty days after the warning and proclamation ſo made. And that in the mean time they be not impeached nor let of their paſſage, or of making their profit of the ſame merchandiſes if they will ſell them. And in caſe that for default of wind, or of ſhip, or for ſickneſs, or for other evident cauſe, they cannot avoid our ſaid Realm and Lands within ſo ſhort a time, then they ſhall have other fourty days, or more if need be, within which they may paſs conveniently, with ſelling their merchandiſe, as afore is ſaid.

CAP. XVIII.

Merchants of Ireland or Wales may bring their merchandiſes to the Staples of England.

Merchants of Ireland and Wales which cannot ſell their Wooll, &c. there, may bring the ſame to any of the Staples of England.

ITem, Becauſe we do well perceive, that Merchants-ſtrangers do not come ſo commonly into Ireland nor into Wales for to merchandiſe as they do into England, we will of our ſpecial grace, that it ſhall be lawful to the people of Ireland and Wales, which cannot utter their Woolls, Leather, Woolfels, and Lead in Ireland and in Wales, to all Merchants-ſtrangers to come with their ſaid Merchandiſes, after that they be cuſtomed and cocketed in Ireland and in Wales, to any of our Staples in England, which them ſhall pleaſe, bringing their cockets, witneſſing their merchandiſes, which they ſhall diſcharge at the Staples in England: ſo that they when they ſhall come to the Staples in England, or they that bought their ſaid merchandiſes of them, ſhall not pay another time cuſtome nor ſubſidy for the ſaid merchandiſes ſo cuſtomed in our ſaid lands of Ireland and Wales. And our Treaſurer, and the Barons of our Eſchequer of England, ſhall be certified two times by the year at the leaſt; that is to ſay, at Eaſter and Michaelmas, how much Wools, Leather, Woolfels, and Lead ſhall paſs out of the ſaid land of Ireland, and of the cuſtom thereof paid. And in caſe that the Merchants or other people of Ireland or of Wales, after that they be in the Sea with their ſaid merchandiſes, do paſs to any place other then to the Staples in England, they ſhall incur the pains and forfeitures in the ſaid third Article.

It ſhall be felony for any Welſh or Iriſhman to carry their Wooll, &c. to any other place ſaving to the Staple.

CAP. XIX.

None ſhall loſe his goods by his ſervants offence. Speedy Iuſtice ſhall be done from day to day, and from hour to hour.

No Merchant ſhall loſe his goods for the offence of his ſervant.

ITem, That no Merchant nor other, of what condition that he be, ſhall loſe or forfeit his goods nor merchandiſe for the treſpaſs and forfeiture of his ſervant, unleſs he do it by the commandment or procurement of his maſter, or that he hath offended in the office in which his maſter hath ſet him, or in other manner, that the maſter be holden to anſwer for the deed of his ſervant by the Law-Merchant, as elſewhere is uſed. And becauſe that Merchants may not often long tarry in one place for levying of their merchandiſe, we will and grant, that ſpeedy right be to them done from day to day, and from hour to hour, according to the Laws uſed in ſuch Staples before this time holden elſewhere at all times, when they will them complain of any, or that any will complain of them, ſo that the Merchants be not by malice delayed for default of ſpeedy remedy.

Speedy juſtice ſhall be done to Merchants from day to day, and from hour to hour.

CAP. XX.

Merchants-ſtrangers taken in the Kings protection. And fot their wrongs ſhall recover double damages.

ITem, Becauſe we have taken all the Merchants-ſtrangers in our ſaid Realm and lands, into our ſpecial protection, and moreover granted to do to them ſpeedy remedy of their grievances, if any be to them done: We have ordained and eſtabliſhed, that if any outrage or grievance be done to them in the Countrey out of the Staple, the Juſtices of the place where ſuch outrages ſhall be done, ſhall do ſpeedy Juſtice to them after the Law-Merchant from day to day, and from hour to hour, without ſparing any man, or to drive them to ſue at the Common Law. And if any be convict, that he hath grieved the Merchants ſo taken in our protection, he ſhall be puniſhed by us for the contempt done to us, in as much as ſhall be judged to the Merchants for their damages. And to the ſaid Merchants-ſtrangers their double damages ſhall be judged.

Merchants-ſtrangers ſhall have preſent remedy for any grievances done to them.

CAP. XXI.

A Mayor and two Conſtables ſhall be choſen yearly in every Staple-town. And their authority.

ITem, Becauſe the Staples cannot long continue, nor the Ordinances thereof made and to be made be kept, if good Executors and Juſtices be not eſtabliſhed to make thereof good and ready execution: We have ordained & eſtabliſhed, that in every Town where the Staple is ordained, a Mayor good, lawful, and ſufficient, ſhall be made and ſtabliſhed, having knowledge of the Law-Merchant, to govern the Staple, & to do right to every man after the Laws aforeſaid, without favour, ſparing, or grief doing to any. And in every place where the Staple is, ſhall be two conveniable Conſtables now at his beginning placed by us, to do that pertaineth to their office as in other Staples is accuſtomed; and when they ſhall be dead, or changed, then other ſhall be choſen by the Communalty of the Merchants of the ſaid places. And that no Mayor hold the office over one year, unleſs he be newly choſen by the Communalty of the Merchants, as well of ſtrangers as of denizens. And that the ſaid Mayor or Conſtables have power to keep the peace, and to arreſt offendors in the Staples for debt, treſpaſs, or other contract, and them to put in priſon, and puniſh after the Law of the Staple. And a priſon ſhall be ordained for the ſafe keeping of them that ſo ſhall be impriſoned. And the Mayors, Sheriffs, and Bailiffs of the Towns where the Staple is, or adjoyning to the Staple, ſhall be attending to the Mayor and Miniſters of the Staple, to do execution of their commandments, upon pain of grievous forfeiture: and one Lord or other of the moſt ſufficiency in the Country where the Staple is, ſhall be aſſigned to be aidant to the Mayor & Miniſters of the Staple, to juſtifie diſobedient perſons, which by the ſaid Mayor & Miniſters cannot be juſtified, and to maintain and counſel them when need ſhall be to the good governance of the Staple, and to redreſs at every mans complaint that which ſhall be miſtaken by the ſaid Mayor or Miniſters, or other, and to do right to the complainants in this behalf.

There ſhall be a Mayor and two Conſtables in every Staple-town, and what by their office they may do.

And if any Merchant will complain of the Mayor or of the Conſtables, that they have failed of right, or ſhewed favour againſt reaſon to either of the parties, it ſhall be ſpeedily redreſſed by the Chancellor and our Council without delay. Regiſt. fo. 18.

And that the ſame Mayor and Conſtables do not, nor ordain any thing contrary to theſe Ordinances, nor make interpretation nor exception to them, otherwiſe then the words do purport; but if there be any thing that is doubted, it ſhall be ſhewed to our Council, and there declared by good advice.

CAP. XXII.

Correctors ſhall be appointed in the Staple-towns to make and record bargains.

ITem, We have ordained, that in every place where the Staple ſhall be holden, there ſhall be a certain number of Correctors, as well of ſtrangers as of privies, good people, ſufficient, and having knowledge of ſuch myſtery, lawfully to make and record the bargains betwixt the buyers and the ſellers, as hath been uſed in other Staples holden in other places, and that they find ſufficient mainpernors before the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple, lawfully to do that pertaineth to their office: and if they be found in default, they ſhall pay to him that is indamaged as much as his loſs ſhall amount to. So that they meddle them not with any manner of merchandiſe for the time that they ſhall abide in the office. And that no man be conſtrained to have a Corrector unleſs he will of his own good will, nor to pay any thing to any Corrector unleſs he meddle of his bargain at his requeſt.

Correctors ſhall be appointed to make and record bargains between buyers and ſellers.

CAP. XXIII.

The Officers of the Staple, and Merchants repairing to it, ſhall be ſworn to maintain the Staple, and the Laws and Cuſtoms of it.

ITem, That a certain number of porters, packers, winders, workers, and other labourers of wools, and all other merchandiſes, be ſufficiently ordained for the place where the Staple is; and they and the Correctors, and all manner of Officers of the Staple, beſides the Conſtables, ſhall be ſworn before the Mayor of the Staple, that they lawfully ſhall execute their Office, without fraud or deceit. Alſo all Merchants aliens and denizens, coming to the ſaid Staples becauſe of merchandiſe, ſhall be ſworn before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables, that they ſhall be juſtified by the ſame Mayor and Conſtables, according to the law and uſage of the Staple, and ſhall maintain as much as in them is the Staple, and the laws and uſages of the ſame, without fraud or deceit. And the Mayor and Conſtables ſhall be ſworn in the Chancery to do lawfully that which pertaineth to them. St. 14 R. 2, 3.

Officers of the Staple and Merchants coming thither, ſhall be ſworn to be ordered and to maintain the laws of the Staple.

CAP.

CAP. XXIV.

Two Merchants-aliens ſhall be choſen to be aſſociate in judgment to the Mayor and Conſtables. And ſix Mediators of queſtions between buyers and ſellers ſhall be choſen.

Two Merchants-aliens ſhall be choſen to be aſſociate in judgment to the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple.

Matters in queſtion in the Staple ſhall be decided by the Chancellor and the Kings Council.

There ſhall be ſix Mediators of the queſtion choſen.

ITem, We will and ordain, that the Merchants-ſtrangers ſhall chuſe two Merchants-ſtrangers, whereof the one towards the South, and the other towards the North, ſhall be aſſigned to ſit with the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staples, where ſome of thoſe perſons choſen ſhall come, to hear the plaints touching Merchants-aliens that ſhall be moved before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables at all times that any of the ſaid perſons choſen will be there, and to ſee that plain right be done to the ſaid Merchants-aliens, ſo that the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables ſhall not ceaſe to proceed in their proceſs, in caſe that thoſe perſons choſen come not thither. And in caſe that debate riſe betwixt them, upon the diſcuſſing of any plea or quarrel: the tenour of the ſame plea or quarrel ſhall be ſent before the Chancellour, and and other of our Council, to be determined there without delay. And alſo ſix perſons ſhall be choſen, that is to ſay, four aliens, whereof two ſhall be of Almaigne, and two of Lombardy, and two of England, which ſhall be diſcreet men, and worthy of faith, and ſhall ſwear, that they ſhall well and lawfully execute their office, that is to ſay, that when and at what time any queſtion or debate ſhall riſe or come amongſt Merchants of any unreaſonable Wooll, or undue packing according to the covenants made betwixt the ſellers and the buyers, that the ſaid perſons, or four of them, may before the Mayor of the Staple and the Officers, by their Oath ſay and amend as reaſon will, and thereupon credence ſhall be given to them without any contradiction.

CAP. XXV.

It ſhall be felony to make any conſpiracy which may return to the diſturbance of the Staple.

It ſhall be felony to make any confederacy or conſpiracy which may turn to the diſturbance or the defeating of the Staple.

ITem, We have ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no Merchant or other ſhall make confederacy, conſpiracy, covin, imagination, or murmur, or evil device in any point, that may turn to the impeachment, diſturbance, defeating, or decay of the ſaid Staples, or of any thing that to them pertaineth or may pertain: and if any do, and thereof be attainted before the Mayor and Miniſters of the Staple, or other whom we ſhall thereto aſſign, he ſhall incur the pains and forfeitures contained in the ſaid third Article.

CAP. XXVI.

Credit ſhall be given to letters, or the Merchants oaths, of the value of their goods.

Credit ſhall be given to Letters brought by Merchants-aliens, or to their oaths, of the value of their goods.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in the Charter of our Grandfather, granted to the Merchants-ſtrangers, and by us confirmed, that of merchandiſes which they ſhall bring into our ſaid Realm and land, and whereof three-pence of the pound ought to be paid by the ſaid Merchants-ſtrangers, according to the ſame grant, faith and credence ſhall be given to them upon the value of the ſaid merchandiſes by letters, which they may ſhew of the ſame goods of their Lords and companions. And if they have no letters, they ſhall be believed by their oath in this behalf. And now of late it is done us and our Council to underſtand by the complaint of the ſaid Merchants, that albeit they have letters teſtifying the value of their merchandiſes, the Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, and Miniſters of many places do conſtrain them to ſwear for the ſaid merchandiſes, againſt the form of their ſaid Charter, and nevertheleſs after the oath made, unſeal their Barrels, Fardels, and Bales, for which they have taken their oath, and the ſame let lie four or ſix days ſo unſealed before they will ſee the ſame, and ſo they take away from the ſaid Merchants the ſale of their goods, to their great damage: We not willing that the Merchants-ſtrangers that come with their merchandiſes into our ſaid Realm and lands, for the common profit of the ſame, ſhall be in ſuch manner grieved, will, grant, and eſtabliſh, that the ſaid Charter be holden, and that the Barrels, Fardels, and Bales, and the other goods of the ſaid Merchants, for which they have ſhewed their letters that be not ſuſpitious, or taken the oath as it is contained in the ſame Charter, preſently after the oath taken, or ſuch letters ſhewed, their goods ſhall be delivered to them without delay, thereof to make their profit, without any thing taking of them over the cuſtom of three-pence of the pound, ſo that the Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, or other Miniſters, ſhall meddle no more of the ſame goods, upon pain of impriſonment, and to pay to the party grieved by this cauſe his quatreble damages, and as much to us; and upon the ſame, right ſhall be done in our Chancery at every mans complaint.

CAP. XXVII.

The forfeiture of thoſe which before this Statute have tranſported their Wools, &c.

The forfeiture of thoſe which before this Statute did tranſport Wool, &c.

ITem, We have ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all thoſe that ſhall be convict that they have carried Wools, Leather, and Woolfels to the parts beyond the Sea, againſt the defence and proclamation thereof made before the making of this Ordinance, ſhall be judged to priſon, and incur the forfeiture of the ſame Wools, Leather, and Woolfels ſo paſſed, and of all their other goods and chattels, and moreover be ranſomed at our will.

CAP. XXVIII.

The Liberties of the Staple confirmed, notwithſtanding the Franchiſes of others: But in Fairs, Markets, Hundreds, Leets, &c.

The Liberties of the Staple confirmed notwithſtanding Franchiſes granted to corporate Cities or Towns.

ITem, We will, grant, and ordain, that all the ſaid things be firmly kept and holden in all points, notwithſtanding franchiſe, cuſtom, priviledge, exemption, judgments, or other grants made to Cities, Boroughs, Towns, Commonalties, people of the five Ports, and other Ports, or any other ſingular perſons whatſoever. And in caſe that any thing be to be amended, added, changed, or withdrawn of any of the ſaid points in time to come, for a true cauſe, we will, that the ſame be done by deliberation and advice of the great men and other of our Council in the Parliament. Saving in other things to the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and other Lords, their Fairs, Markets, Hundreds, Wapentakes, Leets, Juriſdictions, Courts, Franchiſes, and priviledges, and all other things to them pertaining in the places where the Staples be, and ſhall be, and elſewhere, as far forth as they had them before that the Staples were ordained.

Other mens liberties being in the Staple ſaved.

OUr Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Munday next after the Feaſt of Saint Mark the Evangeliſt, the year of his reign of England the eight and twentieth, and of France the fifteenth, to the honour of God and of holy Church, and for the common profit of him and his people, by the aſſent of the Prelates, the Prince, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and the Commons of his Realm there aſſembled, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed the points under-written.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of all Statutes before made and uſed.

FIrſt, That the great Charter and the Charter of the Foreſt, and all other Statutes this time made and uſed, be kept and maintained in all points.

A confirmation of former Stat.

CAP. II.

Lords of the Marches of Wales ſhall be attendant to the Crown of England, and not to the Principality of Wales.

ITem, it is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that all the Lords of the Marches of Wales, ſhall be perpetually attending and annexed to the Crown of England, as they and their anceſtors have been all times paſt, and not to the Principality of Wales, in whoſe hands ſoever the ſame Principality be, or hereafter ſhall come.

Lords of the Marches ſhall be attendant on the Crown of England, and not to the Principality of Wales.

CAP. III.

No perſon ſhall be condemned without his anſwer.

ITem, that no man, of what eſtate or condition that he be, ſhall be put out of land or tenement, nor taken, nor impriſoned, nor diſinherited, nor put to death, without being brought in anſwer by due proceſs of the Law. Stat. 9 H. 3. 29. St. 5 Ed. 3. 9. 25 Ed. 3. 4. 17 Car. 1. ca. 10.

No man ſhall be condemned without his anſwer.

CAP. IV.

How the King ſhall be anſwered the meſne rates of lands coming to him by his tenants death.

ITem, becauſe that Eſcheators and other the Kings miniſters, which have made Livery by the Kings commandment from his Chancery, of the lands and tenements that were taken into the Kings hands by the death of the tenants which held of him, and the heirs, and other to whom the ſaid lands and tenements ought to deſcend, revert or remain, have been charged in the Eſchequer of the ferms and the rents whereof the terms of payments were to come after ſuch livery made, for the rate and portion of the time that the ſame lands and tenements were in the Kings hands: it is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that of Mannors, Cities, Boroughs, Towns, Hundreds, Franchiſes, and all other lands and tenements, whereof profit doth ariſe from time to time through the year, as of Mills, Herbage, Toll, pleas and profits of Courts, and all ſuch iſſues and profits, every Eſcheator and other miniſter, which hath ſeiſed ſuch lands and tenements to the Kings uſe, ſhall be bound to anſwer to the King for the rate and portion of the time, according to the old courſe of the Eſchequer. And that of ancient ferms and rents, which be to be paid at certain terms, as rent-ſeck and rent-ſervice, whereof no profit riſeth till the day of payment, ſuch ferms and rents ſhall be paid to them which have livery out of the kings hand, at the terms of payments of the ſaid ferms and rents, which followeth after ſuch livery made, as well of the time paſt, as of the time to come.

How the King ſhall be ſatisfied of the mean rates of thoſe lands which come to his hands by the death of his tenants.

CAP. V.

No Iron ſhall be carried forth of the Realm.

ITem, it is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that Iron made in England, and Iron brought into England and there ſold, ſhall not be carried out of the ſaid Realm of England, upon pain of forfeiture the double to the King: and the Juſtices aſſigned ſhall have power to enquire of Labourers. And the other Juſtices whom the King will thereto aſſign, ſhall have power to enquire of them that ſell the Iron at too dear a price, and to puniſh them after the quantity of the treſpaſs.

The penalty for tranſporting of Iron.

CAP. VI.

Who ſhall be Coroners, and by whom and where they ſhall be choſen.

ITem, it is ordained and accorded, that all Coroners of the Counties ſhall be choſen in the full Counties, by the Commons of the ſame Counties, of the moſt meet and moſt lawful people that ſhall be found in the ſaid Counties, to execute the ſaid office: ſaved always to the King and other Lords which ought to make ſuch Coroners, their Seigniories and Franchiſes. CAP. IX.

No writ ſhall be directed to a Sheriff to charge an Enqueſt to indict any.

No writ ſhall be directed to the Sheriff to charge a Jury to indict any. Cro.El.371.

ITem, becauſe that the people of the Realm have ſuffered many evils and miſchiefs, for that Sheriffs of divers Counties, by vertue of commiſſions and general writs granted to them at their own ſuit, for their ſingular profit to gain of the people, have made and taken divers enqueſts to cauſe to endict the people at their will, and have taken fine and ranſom of them to their own uſe, and have delivered them, whereas ſuch perſons endicted were not brought before the Kings Juſtices to have their deliverance: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, for to eſchew all ſuch evils and miſchiefs, that all ſuch commiſſions and writs before this time made, ſhall be utterly repealed, and that from henceforth no ſuch commiſſions nor writs ſhall be granted. Fitz.N.B.f.92.c.144.i.250.

CAP. X.

The penalty of the Mayor, Sheriff, &c. of London, if they do not redreſs Errours and Miſpriſion there. And in what Counties the trial thereof ſhall be.

The penalty of the Mayor, Sheriffs, &c. of London which do not redreſs errours and miſpriſions there.

ITem, becauſe that the errours, defaults and miſpriſions which be notoriouſly uſed in the City of London for default of good governance of the Mayor, of the Sheriffs and the Aldermen, cannot be enquired nor found by people of the ſame City: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen which have the governance of the ſame City, ſhall cauſe to be redreſſed and corrected the defaults, errours and miſpriſions above named, and the ſame duly puniſh from time to time upon a certain pain: that is to ſay, at the firſt default a thouſand marks to the King, and at the ſecond default two thouſand marks; and at the third default that the Franchiſe and liberty of the City be taken into the Kings hand. And be it begun to enquire upon them at Saint Michael next coming, ſo that if they do not cauſe to be made due redreſs as afore is ſaid, it ſhall be enquired of their defaults by enqueſts of people of forraign Counties; that is to ſay, of Kent, Eſſex, Suſſex, Hertford, Buckingham and Berk, as well at the Kings ſuit as others that will complain.

Co.Inſt.4 pa. 248.

The trial of the defaults of the Mayor, &c. of London touching government, ſhall be by enqueſt of forreign Counties.

The Conſtable or Lieutenant of the Tower ſhall receive and execute the Kings Writs.

What proceſs ſhall be awarded in this ſuit.

And if the Mayors, Sheriffs and Aldermen be by ſuch enqueſts thereto aſſigned, indicted, they ſhall be cauſed to come by due proceſs before the Kings Juſtices, which ſhall be to the ſame aſſigned out of the ſaid City, before whom they ſhall have their anſwer as well to the King as to the party. And if they put them in enqueſts, the ſame enqueſts ſhall be taken by forraign people, as afore is ſaid. And if they be attainted, the ſaid pain ſhall incur and be levied of the ſaid Mayors, Sheriffs and Aldermen, for default of their governance. And nevertheleſs the plaintiffs ſhall recover the treble damages againſt the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen. And becauſe that the Sheriffs of London be parties to this buſineſs, the Conſtable of the Tower, or his Lieutenant, ſhall ſerve in the place of the Sheriffs, to receive the writs, as well Originals of the Chancery as Judicials, under the Seal of the Juſtices, to do thereof execution in the ſaid City. And proceſs ſhall be made by attachment and Diſtreſs, and by Exigent, if need be: ſo that at the Kings ſuit the Exigent ſhall be awarded after the firſt Capias returned, and at the third Capias returned, at the ſuit of the party. And if the Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen have lands or tenements out of the City, proceſs ſhall be made againſt them by attachments and diſtreſſes in the ſame Counties where the lands or tenements be. And that every of the ſaid Mayors, Sheriffs and Aldermen which do appear before the ſaid Juſtices, ſhall anſwer particularly for himſelf, as well at the peril of other which be abſent, as of himſelf. And this Ordinance ſhall be holden firm and ſtable, notwithſtanding any manner Franchiſe, Priviledges or Cuſtoms. And this Ordinance ſhall extend to all Cities and Boroughs of the Realm where ſuch defaults or miſpriſions be uſed, and not duely corrected nor redreſſed. Saving that the enqueſts ſhall be taken by forreign people of the ſame County where ſuch Cities or Boroughs be. And that the pain of thoſe of the ſaid Boroughs and Towns, which ſhall be thereof attainted, ſhall be judged by the diſcretion of the Juſtices, which ſhall be thereto aſſigned. St. 1 H. 4. 15. This ordinance provided for London, ſhall extend to all Cities and Boroughs.

CAP. XI.

Freſh ſuit and Huy and Cry ſhall be made after Robbers from Country to Country.

ITem, becauſe that great clamour and grievous complaints be made as well by Aliens as by Denizens, that Merchants and other paſſing through the Realm of England with their merchandiſes and other goods, be ſlain & robbed, and namely now more then they were wont, whereof remedy hath not been made to the complainants: Our Lord the King, conſidering the profit which may come to the ſaid Realm by coming and abiding of the ſaid Merchants Aliens in the ſame Realm, and the damage and miſchief which to them and other is done daily by ſuch manſlaughters and robberies, and willing to provide for the ſurety and indempnity of Merchants and other aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, by the aſſent of all his Parliament, to the intent that Merchants aliens ſhall have the greater will and courage to come into the ſaid Realm of England, and that remedy from henceforth be ſpeedily made to ſuch Merchants and other robbed, according to the form contained in the Statute late made at Wincheſter; that is to ſay, That ſolemn Cry be made in all Counties, Hundreds, Markets, Fairs, and all other places where ſolemn aſſembly of the people ſhall be, ſo that none by ignorance ſhall excuſe him, that every Country from henceforth be ſo kept, that immediately after felonies and robberies done, freſh ſuit be made from Town to Town, and from Country to Country, and Enqueſts, if need be, ſhall be alſo taken in the Towns by him which is Soveraign of the Town, and after in Hundreds, Franchiſes, and in the County, and ſometime in two, three or four Counties, in caſe when felonies ſhall be done in the Marches of the Counties, ſo that the offendors may be attainted. And if the Country do not anſwer of ſuch offendors, the pain ſhall be ſuch, that every Country, that is to ſay, the people dwelling in the Country, ſhall anſwer of the robberies done, and of the damages, ſo that all the Hundred where the robbery ſhall be done, or the Franchiſes which be within the precinct of the ſame Hundred, ſhall anſwer of the robbery done. And if the robbery be done in the diviſion of two Hundreds, both Hundreds ſhall anſwer together with the Franchiſes. And longer term ſhall not the Country have after the robbery or felony done then fourty days, within which them behoveth to make gree of the robbery, or of the offence, or that they anſwer of the bodies of the offendors. St. 27 El. 13. Stat. 18 Ed. 2.

St. 13 Ed. 1. 1. 2. Hue and Cry ſhall be levied, and freſh ſuit ſhall be made after robbers from town to town, and from country to country.

The penalty of the country, if robbers offending therein be not taken within xl. days.

CAP. XII.

Within what time purveiances made for the Kings houſe ſhall be paid for.

Item, for that the mean people of the Realm, and divers others have complained of the grievances done to them, becauſe the Purveyors of our Lord the King, the Queen, and of the Prince, and other, have taken of them their goods, livings and victuals and thereof have delivered them tallies, aſſigning to them a day and place to receive their payment at forraign places and far off, where they diſpended the value of the thing ſo taken of them, or the double, before that they have received their payment, and oftentimes have failed of all: The King willing to provide a remedy againſt ſuch grievances, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, for the quietneſs and eaſe of his people, that of all purveiances, which be or ſhall be made to his uſe, or to any others uſe, within the ſum of twenty ſhillings, payment ſhall be thereof made incontinently upon the purveiance made, without delivering any tally for any day or place elſewhere to be thereof aſſigned. And that of other purveiances made to the ſum of twenty ſhillings and above, payment ſhall be made within a quarter of a year then next following after ſuch purveiances made, at certain days and places, according as it may be moſt for eaſe and leſs travel of the people.

Purveiances made to the Kings uſe under xx. s. ſhall be preſently paid for, and all above within a quarter of a year. St. 2 H. 4. 14. St. 20 H. 6. 8.

CAP. XIII.

The warranty of packing of Wool ſhall be put out. An Enqueſt ſhall be de medietate linguæ, where an Alien is party.

Item, it is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that all the Ordinances made in the great Council holden at Weſtminſter, the Munday next after the feaſt of S. Matthew the Apoſtle laſt paſt, together with certain Declarations and Additions made in this preſent Parliament, be firmly kept and holden for a Statute to endure for ever, which Declarations and Additions do follow in this manner: Whereas it is contained in the ſaid Ordinances, that every Merchant that ſelleth his wools at the Staple, ſhall be bound to warrant the packing of the ſame wools: and if a plea of debate be moved before the Mayor of the Staple, betwixt the Merchants or Miniſters of the ſame, and thereupon to try the truth thereof an enqueſt or proof ſhall be taken, then if both parties be Aliens, it ſhall be tryed by Aliens; and if both parties be Denizens, it ſhall be tryed by Denizens; but if the one party be Denizen, and the other Alien, half of the enqueſt or of the proof ſhall be of Denizens, and the other half of Aliens. And alſo that no Merchant privy nor ſtranger, nor other of what condition that he be, ſhall go by land nor by water to meet ſuch ſhips charged with wines, wares, or other merchandiſes coming into the Realm of England, nor other lands of the Kings, in the Sea or elſewhere, for to foreſtal, buy, or in other manner giving them earneſt before that they come to the Staple or to the Port where they ſhall be diſcharged, nor enter the ſhips for ſuch cauſe till the merchandiſes be ſet to land for to ſell: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that the warranty of packing of wools, for divers miſchiefs which the Commons have thereof perceived, ſhall wholly be out. And that no man be holden to make ſuch warranty unleſs it be by covenant made by deed enſealed. Alſo that no man, other then a Merchant-Denizen or Alien, that knoweth the laws and uſages of the Staple, uſed before that the ſaid Ordinances of the Staple were made, ſhall be charged by the ſame laws and uſages till they be declared in Parliament.

The warranty of packing of wools ſhall be wholly put out. St. 27 Ed. 3. 3. St. 27 Ed. 3. 8. St. 8 H. 6. 29.

None ſhall foreſtal merchandiſes coming towards this Realm. St. 27 Ed. 3. 3.

And that no manner of Ship which is fraught towards England or elſewhere, be compelled to come to any Port of England, nor here to abide againſt the will of the Maſters and Mariners of the ſame, or of the Merchants whoſe the goods be. And if ſuch Ships come of their own good will, or be driven by tempeſts or other miſfortune or miſchief to any Port in England, and the Maſters, Mariners or Merchants of the ſame Ships will ſell or deliver part of their merchandiſes with their good will, it ſhall be lawful for every man to buy ſuch merchandiſes freely without impeachment in the Port where ſuch Ships ſhall come, albeit the ſaid merchandiſes be not put to land to ſell: ſo always that no Merchant nor other ſhall go by land nor by water to meet ſuch Ships charged with merchandiſes, to foreſtal the ſame merchandiſes, or to give them earneſt by way of foreſtalling, upon the pains contained in the third Article of the ſaid Ordinances, ſo that the Maſters, Mariners and Merchants, after that they have ſold that which pleaſeth them of their ſaid goods, and paid thereof the cuſtom, may freely depart and go with their Ships and all the remnant of their goods whither it ſhall pleaſe them, without cuſtom thereof to be paid. And that none, of what condition that he be, by art or engine, ſhall diſturb any Ship charged with merchandiſes to come to any Port of England, but to the Port where the Maſters, Mariners and Merchants will firſt of their free will arrive; nor after they have arrived, ſhall meddle with the ſale of the ſame merchandiſes, nor diſturb the Merchants nor their ſervants, that they may not themſelves by their own hands, according as to them beſt ſhall ſeem for their profit, ſell and deliver their merchandiſes at what time and to whom it ſhall them beſt pleaſe. And if any ſet diſturbance, he ſhall iucur a grievous forfeiture to the King according to the quantity of the treſpaſs.

No foraigners ſhips ſhall be compelled to arrive in England, or to tarry there. St. 20 R. 2. 4.

The Statute of Herrings, made Anno 31 Ed. 3. and Anno Dom. 1357.

FOraſmuch as the Commons of the Realm of England, at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next after the week of Eaſter, the year of the Reign of our Lord the King, Edward the third of England xxxi. and of France xviii. have complained them to our Lord the King, becauſe that the people of great Yarmouth do encounter the Fiſhers bringing Herring to the ſaid Town in the time of the Fair, and do buy and foreſtall the Herring before they do come to the Town. And alſo the Hoſtelers of the ſame Town that lodge the Fiſhers coming thither with their Herring, will not ſuffer the ſaid Fiſhers to ſell their Herring, nor meddle with the ſale thereof, but ſell them at their own will, as dear as they will, and give to the Fiſhers that pleaſeth them, whereby the Fiſhers do withdraw themſelves to come thither. And ſo is the Herring ſet at much greater price then ever it was, to the great damage of our Lord the King, of the Lords, and of all the people: Wherefore our Lord the King, ſeeing the miſchiefs in this behalf, by the aſſent of the great men and all the Commons, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed remedy upon the ſaid miſchiefs, in the form as followeth.

CAP. I.

Herrings ſhall not be bought or ſold on the Sea. At what time they ſhall be ſold.

No Herring ſhall be ſold on the Sea.

FIrſt, That no Herring be bought or ſold in the Sea, till the Fiſhers be come into the Haven with their Herring, and that the Cable of the Ship be drawn to the Land. St. 5 El. 5.

CAP. II.

The price of a Laſt of Herring.
There ſhall be no foreſtalling of herring.
St. 5 El. 5.

ITem, That the Fiſhers be free to ſell their Herring to all that come to the Fair of great Yarmouth, without any diſturbance of their Hoſtelers, or any other. And when the Fiſhers will ſell their merchandiſes in the Port, they ſhall have their Hoſtelers with them, if they there will be, and in their preſence, and the preſence of other Merchants openly ſhall ſell their Merchandiſes. And that every man claim his part for the taking, after the rate of the ſame Merchandiſes ſo ſold. And the ſaid ſale ſhall be made from the Sun-riſing till the Sun going down, and not before nor after, upon forfeiture of the ſame Merchandiſes. And that the ſaid Fiſhers be free to buy their victuals, and that which they need, where ſhall pleaſe them. And that no Hoſtelers nor other, buy any for to hang in their houſes by covin, nor in other manner, at a higher price the Laſt then forty ſhillings, but leſs in as much as he may, according as he may agree with the ſeller. And that no Hoſtelers nor any of their ſervants, nor any other whatſoever he be, coming to the ſaid Fair, ſhall go by Land nor by Sea to foreſtall Herring privily nor openly, but the Herring ſhall come freely unſold unto the Haven. Nor that any Pyker make buying of freſh Herring in the Haven of Yarmouth betwixt the Feaſts of Saint Michael and Saint Martin, upon pain of impriſonment at the Kings will, and to forfeit all the Herring ſo bought. And that no veſſel called Pyker of London, nor of none other place, ſhall enter into the ſaid Haven to abate the Fair in damage of the people, upon the pain of forfeiture of their veſſel, and all their chattels found within. And that all the Hoſtelers be ſworn before the Wardens of the ſaid Fair, and enjoyned upon a great forfeiture to the King, to receive their gueſts well and conveniently, and to aid and eaſe them reaſonably, taking of every Laſt that ſhall be ſold to other Merchants then to the ſaid Hoſtelers, xl d. And that of Herring ſold to the ſame Hoſtelers to take in their houſes, the ſame Hoſtelers ſhall take nothing, and that becauſe of the profits which they ſhall have of victuals ſold to their ſaid gueſts, and of the advantage that they have more then other of carriage of Herring ſo by them bought, and hanging in their houſes. And that the Hoſtelers becauſe of this Ordinance do not refuſe their gueſts, but receive them and intreat them in good and friendly manner, as they have done before-time. And that they for the advantage of xl. d. the Laſt, take upon them for the payment of all the Herring that ſhall be ſold by their aſſent to any perſons. And the hundred of Herring ſhall be accompted by ſix-ſcore, and the Laſt by ten thouſand. And that the Merchants of Yarmouth, of London, or elſewhere, ſell the thouſand of Herring to the people after the rate of the price of the Laſt. And that the people of Yarmouth ſell the Laſt of red Herring bought for xl. s. freſh within xl. days, for half a mark of gain, and not above. And that the people of London at ſuch Fair ſhall bring the Laſt from Yarmouth to London for one mark of gain, and not above. And alſo two Laſts of ſhotten Herring freſh ſhall be ſold for the price aſſeſſed of the buying of a Laſt of full Herring: and ſo of more and leſs after the ſame rate; and of ſhotten Herring red, the two Laſts ſhall be ſold dearer of a mark then the Laſt of Herring full red, and that becauſe the carriage of a Laſt of ſhotten Herring draweth to as much as the Laſt of full Herring; and ſo of more and leſs, according to the ſame rate. And that the ſhips called the Pykers, ſhall freely buy freſh Herring, and all other merchandiſes of Fiſhes in Kyrkly, and elſewhere upon the coaſts of the Sea, without impeachment or diſturbance of the Hoſtelers of Yarmouth, or of any other. So always that no more Herring be diſcharged in the Road of Kyrkly out of the Fiſhers Ships, but as much as may reaſonably ſuffice to the charge of the Pykers that thither ſhall come for the ſame cauſe. And that the Fiſhers be compelled to bring all the remnant of their Herring to the ſaid Fair to ſell there. So that none ſell Herring in any place about the Haven of Yarmouth by ſeven miles, except in three Towns of Yarmouth; that is to ſay, Eſton, Weſton, and Southon, unleſs it be Herring of their own fiſhing. And our Lord the King doth will, That the Barons of the five Ports ſhall cauſe to be kept and governed the ſaid Fair according to the compoſition late made between them and the people of the Town of Yarmouth confirmed by the Kings grandfather. And that the ſame Barons and Bailiffs of great Yarmouth cauſe to be kept theſe preſent Ordinances in all points, and to be cryed in every Sunday between S. Michael and S. Martin, upon pain to loſe their Franchiſe, and to be puniſhed at the Kings will. And that the people of Yarmouth ſuffer the ſaid Barons of the five Ports to govern and rule the ſaid Fair after the purport of the ſaid compoſition, and due execution to be made of this Ordinance, upon the pain laſt aforeſaid: And theſe Ordinances in the right of buying and ſelling of Herring, ſhall be holden in all the Towns of England, where Herring is taken and ſearched, upon the pains aforeſaid.

What great Officers ſhall take order for ſelling and buying of Fiſh.

Item, It is accorded by our Lord the King, the great men, and all the Commons in this preſent Parliament, That the Chancellor and Treaſurer taking to them Juſtices and other the Kings Council, ſuch as to them ſhall ſeem, ſhall have power to ordain remedy touching the buing and ſelling of Stockfiſh of Saint Botulf, and Salmon of Barwick, and of Wines, and Fiſh of Briſtrute, and elſewhere; to the intent that the King and the people may the better be ſerved, and have better market then they have had before this time, and that the Ordinances by them made in this party be firmly holden.

The Chancellor and Treaſurer may take order for the buying and ſelling of certain fiſh and wine.

Another Statute for Fiſh, made Anno 31 Ed. 3.

CAP. I.

Doggers and Land-Ships of Blackney-Haven ſhall diſcharge their Fiſh there.

Firſt, It is Ordained, That all the Ships called Doggers and Land-Ships, pertaining to the Haven of Blackney, and coaſts thereunto adjoyning, that is to ſay, the Suytor, the Wyneton, Clay, Salthouſe, Shiringham, and Crowmer, ſhall deliver or diſcharge their Fiſh within the Haven of Blackney only, betwixt Benord and Hogfleet, and in none other place, upon pain of impriſonment at the Kings will, and forfeiture of the ſame Fiſh. And no Fiſh be delivered nor carried out of the Ship to any houſe nor elſewhere, before that the Owner of the Ship, wherein the ſaid Fiſh is charged, and the Merchant that ſhall buy the fiſh, be agreed of the price of the ſame by clear day.

Doggers and land-ſhips of the Haven of Blackney ſhall diſcharge their fiſh within the ſame haven.

CAP. II.

The price of Doggerfiſh ſhall be aſſeſſed at the beginning of the Fair. Who may buy Nets and hooks in Norfolk.

Loychfiſh tryed but in three parts, Lob, Ling, and Cod.

Who ſhal have the Orgeys.

The price of Dogger-fiſh ſhall be aſſeſſed at the beginning of Blackney fair. Fiſh ſhall not be kept ſecret to be ſold by retail. Who may buy nets and hooks in Norfolk to fiſh with.

The puniſhment of the offenders of this ſtature.

ITem, That no Fiſher, nor owner of any Ship, nor any other, ſet hand upon any fiſh within the ſhip, for to try, chuſe, or impair the fiſh, but only the buyer or his Atturney, upon the ſaid pain. And that no fiſh called Loychfiſh, be choſen or tried but only in three parts, that is to ſay, Lob, Ling and Cod. And that every of the ſame three ſorts of Lob, Ling and Cod, be good and covenable, as in old time hath been uſed. And in caſe that no Orgeys, that is to ſay, fiſh greater then Lob, be found in a ſhip called a Lode-ſhip, in the hundred of Lob, Ling, and Cod, the Maſter and Mariners ſhall have of every hundred of Lob, Ling and Cod, (the hundred accompted to ſix-ſcore) twenty Orgeys, if there be ſo many; and if there be leſs, the Maſters and Mariners ſhall have all the Orgeys. And if there be more, the overplus above the ſcores to every hundred, ſhall be put to the fiſh bought in amendment of the price of the ſame to the profit of the buyer. And alſo by the advice of the Merchants and buyers, of the owners coming to the Fair of Blackney, and of the owners of the ſhips, a price ſhall be ſet at the beginning, and aſſeſſed upon the Dogger-fiſh, and Loychfiſh, before that any ſale be made;. which price ſhall be holden during the Fair. And that the ſaid fiſh be ſold at ſuch a price openly, and not by covin privily. And that no owner of ſhips, Mariners, nor other, lodge nor cauſe to be lodged in their houſes privily nor openly fiſh in the mud, nor fiſh ſearched, for to ſell again another time at retail, but all ſuch fiſh ſhall be ſold reaſonably within the ſaid bounds at the Fair and price aforeſaid, upon the ſame pain. And that no man buy nets, hooks, nor other inſtruments pertaining to fiſhing in the County of Norfolk, but Owners, Maſters, and Mariners of ſhips, that uſe the myſtery of fiſhing, and which have to do with ſuch things, upon pain of impriſonment, and to be ranſomed at the Kings will, and to forfeit the things ſo bought. And that no owner of a ſhip, Mariner nor other, make impeachment, nor be reſiſtant in any point againſt this preſent Ordinance. Nor that no Mariner nor Fiſher, becauſe of this Ordtnance, leave or refuſe to go in fiſhing, as beforetimes they were wont to do, nor diſturb any covenant made between a Merchant and Owner of a ſhip, upon pain of impriſonment, and to be ranſomed at the Kings will. And that upon the ſame a Writ be ſent to the Sheriff of Norfolk, that at every mans complaint, that will ſue for the King, or for himſelf againſt thoſe that in any point offend againſt this Ordinance, he ſhall cauſe the ſame reſiſtors and treſpaſſors to be attached, and them detain in priſon till the King and his Council have ordained of them that right requireth, after the quantity of their treſpaſs.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 34 Ed. tertii, & Anno Dom. 1360.

THeſe be the things which our Lord the King, the Prelates, Lords, and the Commons have ordained in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Sunday next before the Feaſt of the Converſion of S. Paul, to be holden and publiſhed openly through the Realm.

Juſtices of peace may hear and determine felonies and treſpaſſes.
Commiſſions of general inquiries ſhall ceaſe.

Fines for treſpaſſes ſhall be reaſonable.

FIrſt, That in every County of England ſhall be aſſigned for the keeping of the peace, one Lord, and with him three or four of the moſt worthy in the County, with ſome learned in the Law: and they ſhall have power to reſtrain the offenders, riotors, and all other Barators, and to purſue, arreſt, take and chaſtiſe them according to their treſpaſs of offence. And to cauſe them to be impriſoned and duly puniſhed according to the Law and Cuſtoms of the Realm, and according to that which to them ſhall ſeem beſt to do by their diſcretions and good adviſement, and alſo to inform them, and to enquire of all thoſe that have been pillors, and robbers in the parts beyond the ſea, and be now come again, and go wandring, and will not labour as they were wont in times paſt, and to take and arreſt all thoſe, that they may find by indictment, or by ſuſpicion, and to put them in priſon, and to take of all them that be not of good fame, where they ſhall be found, ſufficient ſurety and mainpriſe of their good behaviour towards the King and his people, and the other duly to puniſh, to the intent that the people be not by ſuch riotors or rebels troubled nor endamaged, nor the peace blemiſhed, nor Merchants nor other paſſing by the high-ways of the Realm diſturbed, nor put in the peril which may happen of ſuch offenders. And alſo to hear and determine at the Kings ſuit all manner of felonies and treſpaſſes done in the ſame County according to the Laws and Cuſtoms aforeſaid. And that Writs of Oyer and determiner be granted according to the Statutes thereof made, and that the Juſtices which ſhall be thereto aſſigned, be named by the Court, and not by the party. And the King will that all general inquiries before this time granted within any ſeigniories for the miſchiefs and oppreſſions which have been done to the people, by ſuch inquiries, ſhall ceaſe utterly, and be repealed. And that Fines which are to be made before Juſtices for a treſpaſs done by any perſon, be reaſonable and juſt, having regard to the quantity of the treſpaſs, and the cauſes for which they be made.

CAP. II.

There ſhall be no purveyance made but for the King, the Queen, and the Kings eldeſt ſon.

ITem, It is accorded, That taking ſhall not be from henceforth made by other then the purveyors of the King, of the Queen, and of the Prince their eldeſt ſon; and that if any other mans purveyors make ſuch takings, it ſhall be done to them as of people which do without warrant, and their deed judged as a thing done againſt the Peace & the Law of the Land. And ſuch as do make themſelves purveyors in ſuch manner ſhall be duly puniſhed.

There ſhall be no purveyance made but for the King, the Queen, and the Kings eldeſt Son, &c. St. 36 Ed. 3. 2.

CAP. III.

When things purveyed for the Queen and Prince ſhall be paid for.

ITem, Of purveyances made to the uſe of the Queen, and of the Prince, of Poultry and of other ſmall things, payment ſhall be made in hand upon the taking, and of other great purveyances, within the moneth or ſix weeks, in the Countries where they ſhall be taken. And that the number of ſuch purveyors be abridged in as much as conveniently may, for the aid and quietneſs of the common people.

When Purveyances made for the Queen and Prince ſhall be paid for.

CAP. IV.

What ſort of people ſhall be returned upon every Jury.

ITem, Becauſe that Sheriffs and other Miniſters often do array their panels in manner of Inqueſts of people procured, and moſt far off from the Counties, which have no knowledge of the deed whereof the Inqueſt ſhall be taken; it is accorded, that ſuch panels ſhall be made of the next people, which ſhall not be ſuſpect nor procured. And that the Sheriffs, Coroners, and other Miniſters, which do againſt the ſame, ſhall be puniſhed before the Juſtices that take the ſaid Inqueſt, according to the quantity of their treſpaſs, as well againſt the King as againſt the party, for the quantity of the damage which he hath ſuffered in ſuch manner. CAP. V.

Auncel weight ſhall be put out. Buying and ſelling ſhall be by equal balance.

ITem, It is accorded, that they which ſhall be aſſigned to keep the peace, ſhall have power to enquire of meaſures and alſo of weights, according to the Statute thereof made the five and twentieth year of the reign of our Lord the King, wherein is contained the form that followeth. Whereas very great damage and deceit is done to the people, by ſo much that divers Merchants uſe to buy and weigh wools and other merchandiſes by a weight that is called Auncel: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that this weight called Auncel, betwixt the buyer and the ſeller ſhall be wholly put out. And that every buying and ſelling ſhall be by the balance, ſo that the balances be even, and the wools and other merchandiſes evenly weighed by the right weight. And that the ſack of wool weigh no more but ſix and twenty ſtones, and every ſtone ſhall weigh fourteen pound, and that the beam of the balance ſhall not bow neither to the one part nor to the other. And that the weight be according to the ſtandard of the Eſchequer. And if any buyer do againſt the ſame, he ſhall be grievouſly puniſhed, as well at the ſuit of the party, as at the Kings ſuit.

An Ordinance of Herring, made Anno 35 Ed. 3. and Anno Domini 1360.

All perſons may buy Herring in the Fair of Yarmouth openly, and not privily. No man ſhall enter into a bargain of Herring until the firſt Chapman have done with it.

THough that late at the procurement of ſome, doing Us and our Council to underſtand, that becauſe that the Hoſts of our Town of great Yarmouth, which lodge the Fiſhers coming there with their Herring, in the time of the Fair, will not ſuffer the ſaid Fiſhers to ſell their Herrings, nor to meddle with the ſale of the ſame, but ſell them at their own will as dear as they will, and give the Fiſhers that pleaſeth them, ſo that the Fiſhers do withdraw themſelves to come there, and the Herring was ſet at a greater dearth then it was before: Amongſt other things it was ordained by Us and our Council, that the ſaid Fiſhers of Herring ſhould be free to ſell their Herring to all people that will come to the ſaid Fair at Yarmouth without any diſturbance of their Hoſt or any other. And when the ſaid Fiſhers would ſell their merchandiſes in the Port, they ſhould have their Hoſts with them, if they would be there, and in their preſence, and in the preſence of other Merchants openly ſhould ſell their merchandiſes to whom they pleaſed. And if other Merchants preſent would have part of the ſaid merchandiſes, every of them ſhould have for his part upon the taking, after the rate of the ſame merchandiſes ſo ſold. And the ſaid ſale ſhall be made from the Sun-riſing till the Sun going down, and not before nor after. And that no Hoſtellers nor other, buy Herring to hang in his houſe by covin nor in other manner at an higher price the Laſt then fourty ſhillings: Nevertheleſs becauſe it is ſhewed to us, and to our Council by petition in this preſent Parliament, that the ſale of Herring is much decayed, and the people greatly indamaged by the points aforeſaid, that is to ſay, that many Merchants coming to the Fair, as well labourers and ſervants, as other, do bargain for Herring, and every of them by malice and envy encreaſe upon other, and if one profer xl s. another will profer x s. more, and the third lx s. and ſo every one ſurmounteth other in the bargain, and ſuch profers extend to more then the price of the Herring upon which the Fiſhers profered it to ſell at the beginning: and when every man claimeth his part of the Herring for the price accorded, he ſhall have his part, and the Herring ſhall be ſo divided amongſt them, that the Fiſher is ſo much grieved and delayed in the gathering of his money, that he ſhould demand of ſo many perſons, that he leeſeth his Mart and the advantage of his Fiſhing. And alſo herein, that no freſh Herring is put to ſale, but from the Sun-riſing till the Sun going down, and not before nor after, which is to the great loſs of Fiſhers, and appairing of the Herring, and damage of the people that ſhall buy the ſame; for the Fiſhing is more by night then by day, and often it chanceth, that the Fiſhers be ſo long and ſo charged, that they come to the Town after Sun going down, or little before, ſo that they cannot ſell their Herring in the time for the ſale limited, ſo that they muſt abide all the night and the day after upon the ſale of their Herring, and loſe many marts and profits of their Fiſhing: We perceiving the miſchiefs and grievances aforeſaid, by the advice and aſſent of our Parliament, will and grant that it ſhall be lawful to every man, of what condition that he be, Merchant or other, to buy Herring openly, and not privily, at ſuch price as may be agreed betwixt him and the ſeller of the ſame Herring. And that no man enter in bargain upon the buying of the ſame, till he that firſt cometh to bargain ſhall have an end of his bargain greeable to the ſeller; and that none increaſe upon other during the firſt bargain, upon pain of forfeiture to us the double of his profer, but every man ſhall have the Herring ſo bought, according to the bargain thereof made. And that every Fiſher may deliver and ſell his Herring and Fiſh at every Mart, when he cometh to the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, without any diſturbance or impeachment: Notwithſtanding any Ordinance made to the contrary before this time. CAP. II.

No purveyance but for the King and Queen. The name of Purveyor changed into Buyer. Ready payment ſhall be made for things purveyed, and they ſhall be appraiſed.

No purveyance ſhall be made but for the King and the Queen. St. 34 Ed. 3. 2.
The heinous name of Purveyors ſhall be changed, and named Buyers.
By whom and in what manner appraiſement ſhall be made of things purveyed for the Kings houſe.
No purveyance ſhall be by menace.
No purveyance but where there is plenty.
The purveyors ſhall be men ſufficient of eſtate.
Commiſſions of purveyors ſhall be renewed every half year.
None ſhall need to obey purveyors without ready payment.
Corn purveyed ſhall be ſtriked, and not heaped in meaſuring.
Preſent payment ſhall be made for carriage.
Felony to take otherwiſe then is compriſed in the Commiſſion.

ITem, For the grievous complaint which hath been made of Purveyors of victuals of the houſes of the King, the Queen, their eldeſt Son, and of other Lords and Ladies of the Realm, the King of his own will, without motion of the great men or Commons, hath granted and ordained in eaſe of his people, that from henceforth no man of the ſaid Realm ſhall have any taking but onely himſelf and the Queen his Companion. And moreover of the aſſent aforeſaid it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that upon ſuch purveyances from henceforth to be made for the houſes of the King and the Queen, ready payment ſhall be made in hand, that is to ſay, the price for which ſuch victuals be ſold commonly in the Markets about. And that the heinous name of Purveyor be changed, and named Buyer. And if the Buyer cannot well agree with the ſeller of that which he ſhall need, then the takings which ſhall be made for the ſaid two houſes, ſhall be made by the view, teſtimony, and appraiſement of the Lords, or their Bailiffs, Conſtables, and four good men of every Town, and that by Indenture to be made betwixt the buyers and the ſaid Lords or Bailiffs, Conſtables, and four men, containing the quantity of their takings, and of the price, and of what perſons. And that the takings be made in convenient and eaſie manner, without dureſs, compulſion, menace, or other villany. And that the takings and buyings be made in ſuch caſes where greateſt plenty is, and that in a meet time. And that no more be taken then ſhall be needful in the ſeaſon for the ſaid two houſes. And that the number of the buyers be diminiſhed in as much as well may. And that ſuch be buyers which be ſufficient to anſwer to the King and his people, and that none of them have deputy, and that the Commiſſions be ſealed with the great ſeal, and every half year redelivered into the Chancery, and other newly made: And that in the ſaid Commiſſions be compriſed all the matter and manner of their takings and buyings. And that the ſaid Commiſſions be made upon the end of the ſaid Parliament, and then all the other Commiſſions of Purveyors heretofore made, be wholly repealed. And that no man be bound to obey to the buyers of other Lords againſt their agreement and will, nor to the buyers of the ſaid houſes, unleſs they make ready payment in hand, as before is ſaid: and that no man be put in contempt becauſe of diſobedience made in this behalf: And that the takings of all manner of Corn and Malt for the ſaid two houſes, be meaſured by meaſure according to the Standard, ſtriked, and not by heap: and for the carriages of the ſame Corn and Malt, and for all manner of takings and buyings to be made for the ſaid two houſes, ready payment be made in hand in the ſame manner as for the takings and buyings aforeſaid. And that there be no more carriage taken then needeth, and ſhall be neceſſary in this behalf: and if any buyer after the new Commiſſions made, make any takings or buying, or taking of carriage in other manner then is compriſed in their ſaid Commiſſions, he ſhall have puniſhment of life and member, as in other Statutes is ordained of Purveyors. CAP. III.

The penalty of a Purveyor which ſhall receive a reward to ſpare or charge one.

The penalty of a purveyor which ſhall take a reward to ſpare one and charge another.

ITem, That no buyer of Victuals, nor takers of carriages, take nor receive of any a gift or any other thing for ſparing to be made, nor ſhall not charge nor grieve any man by occaſion of ſuch takings, buyings and carriages, for hatred, evil will, or procuring: if he do, and be thereof attainted at the ſuit of the party, he ſhall yield to the party his treble damage, and ſhall have impriſonment of two years, and alſo be ranſomed at the Kings will, and after forſwear the Court. And if the party will not ſue, he that will ſue for the King ſhall have the third peny of that which ſhall be recovered for his labour; and nevertheleſs the buyer and taker ſhall have the pain as before is ſaid in the ſame article; and that every buyer upon his accompt ſhall declare and divide ſeverally all the takings and buyings of every County, Town, Village, and perſon.

CAP. IV.

Commiſſions ſhall be awarded to enquire of Purveyors behaviour.

ITem, to reſtrain the malice and falſhood of buyers of victuals and takers of carriages, commiſſions ſhall be made to two good men and lawful, of every county, and the third ſhall be of the Kings houſe, named in the ſaid commiſſions, ſo that if any of the three come not, the two ſhall proceed to enquire of the behaviour and acts of the ſaid buyers and takers, And how much the ſame buyers have taken and bought, and how much carriage the ſaid takers have taken ſeverally of every Town or ſingular perſons, And to hear and determine the contempts, outrages, and treſpaſſes done in this behalf, as well at the Kings ſuit, as at the ſuit of every man that will complain of them. And for information to be made to the ſaid Juſtices of the things aforeſaid, the Steward, Treaſurer, and Controller of every of the ſaid two houſes, ſhall aſſemble and call before them all the Clerks and other Officers whatſoever they be, of every office of the ſaid two houſes, and ſhall ſee the receipts of the parcels provided in the Country and diſpended in the ſame two houſes. And at every quarter or half year, they ſhall certifie in the Chancery the parcels taken in every Town, and of every perſon, and the Chancellor ſhall ſend this certificate to the Juſtices which ſhall be ſo aſſigned. And if it be found in the Country by evidence of their indictors, or in other manner, that they have taken more then they have delivered into the ſaid two houſes, and that they have not paid for that which they have taken, at the ſuit of the party, or at the Kings ſuit, he ſhall have pain of life and member, as afore is ſaid. And that this ordinance extend and hold place as well againſt the Purveyors for the great horſes of the ſaid two houſes, as againſt the buyers and takers before named.

CAP. V.

None ſhall keep any more Horſes for the King then be aſſigned unto him.

ITem, that no man of the ſaid two houſes, hold more of the ſaid horſes in the livery, where theſe houſes ſhall be, then is ordained by a Statute of the Kings houſe. And if any do otherwiſe, it ſhall be done to him for the horſes found over the number limited to him by the ſaid Statute, as the Statute will. And that no man of the ſaid two houſes, of what eſtate or condition that he be, have Purveyor or foregoer, to make any Purveiance or taking for any man of the ſaid two houſes, but that they or their people buy that which they need, of them that will ſell the ſame of their good will, and pay readily in hand, according as they may agree with the ſellers: and if they do otherwiſe, ſuch puniſhment ſhall be made upon them, as afore is ſaid of the buyers. And that hunters, fawkners, Serjeant at arms, and all other which be at wages or pertaining to the ſaid two houſes, ſhall have the ſame penance if they offend againſt the ſame.

None ſhall keep more horſes of the Kings than be committed to him.

The Kings hunters, fawkners, and Serjeant at Arms.

CAP. VI.

No Subjects Chator ſhall buy any thing againſt the owners conſent.

ITem, that no Lord of England, nor none other of the ſaid Realm, of what eſtate or condition that he be, except the King and the Queen his wife, ſhall make any taking by him, or any of his ſervants, of any manner of Victuals, but ſhall buy the ſame that they need, of ſuch as will ſell the ſame of their good will, and for the ſame ſhall make ready payment in hand, according as they may agree with the ſeller. And if the people of Lords, or of other, do in other manner, and thereof be attainted, ſuch puniſhment of life and of member ſhall be done of them, as is ordained of the buyers. 2. St. 7 R. 28. 23 H. 6. 14.

It is felony for any Subjects Chator to buy any thing but by the conſent of the owner.

CAP. VII.

Of what things the Maior and Conſtables of the Staple ſhall take cogniſance,

ITem, though it be ordained by the ſtatute of the Staple, that the Maiors and Conſtables of the ſaid Staples ſhall have juriſdiction and cogniſance within the Towns, where the Staples be, of the people and of all manner of things touching the Staple, and of felonies, mayhems, and treſpaſs done within the Staple: It is accorded and aſſented, that the ſaid Maiors and Conſtables ſhall have cogniſance only of debts, covenants, and contracts and all other pleas, touching Merchandiſe and ſurety of Merchandiſe betwixt Merchants which be for Merchants known; and proceſs of felonies, and all other pleas, as well within the Staple as without, ſhall be at the common Law, as they were before the ſtatute of the Staple, notwithſtanding the ſaid ſtatute. Saving always, that the Merchants Aliens (be they plaintiffs or the defendants) may ſue their plaints and quarrels, as well of treſpaſs as of other what they will will, before the Maior of the Staple, by the law of the Staple, or elſewhere at the common law, as is conteined in the ſaid Staple. And that the King and all other Lords, within their Seigniories, have and enjoy their franchiſes, juriſdictions, and priviledges, as they had before the ſame ſtatute made, ſo always that the Maior of the Staple have power to take Recogniſances of debts of every perſon, be he Merchant or other, in the ſame manner as is contained in the ſame ſtatute of the Staple.

And alſo that no Sheriff, Underſheriff, nor Sheriffs Clerk abide in his office above one year, as it is ordained by the ſame Statute. St. 6 H. 8. 18.

CAP. X.

Children born beyond the Sea in the Kings Dominions, ſhall be inheritable in England.

Infants born in Calis ſhall be inheritable in England.

ITem, Upon the Petition put in the Parliament by the Commons, deſiring that Infants born beyond the Sea, within the Seigniories of Calice, and elſewhere, within the Lands and Seigniories that pertain to our Lord the King beyond the Sea, be as able and inheritable of their heritage in England, as other infants born within the Realm of England: It is accorded, That the common Law, and the Statute upon the ſame point another time made, be holden. St. 25 Ed. 3.

CAP. XI.

Copies of Panels ſhall be delivered to the parties ſix days before the Seſſions.

ITem, Foraſmuch as divers miſchiefs have happened, becauſe that the Panels of Inqueſts which have been taken before Juſtices by Writ of Scire facias, and other Writs, have not been returned before the Seſſions of the Juſtices at the Niſi prius and otherwiſe, ſo that the parties could not have knowledge of the names of the perſons, which ſhould paſs in the Inqueſt, whereby divers of the people have been diſherited and oppreſſed: It is ordained, That no Juqueſt, but Aſſiſes and deliverances of Gaols, be taken by Writ of Niſi prius, nor in other manner, at the ſuit of the great or ſmall, before that the names of all them that paſs in the Inqueſts, be returned in the Court. And that the Sheriffs array the Panels in Aſſiſes four days at the leaſt before the Seſſions of the Juſtices, upon pain of twenty pound, ſo that the parties may have the view of the Panels, if they the ſame demand. And as to the return or anſwer of the Bailiffs of Franchiſes, they ſhall make their anſwer to the Sheriffs ſix days before their Seſſions, upon the ſame pain. And in all manner of Panels arrayed by the Sheriffs or Bailiffs within Franchiſe, ſhall be put the moſt ſubſtantial people and worthy of credit, and not ſuſpect, which have beſt knowledge of the truth, and be neareſt. The damage which might enſue by keeping the Staple at Calis.

EDward, by the grace of God, &c. To the Sheriff of Stafford, greeting, &c. whereas of late it was ordained for the profit of the Realm, and eaſe of Merchants of England, That the Staple of Wools, Woolfels, and Leather ſhould be holden at Calice, and there it hath been ſithence the firſt day of March, the ſeven and thirtieth year of our Lord the King that now is: and now becauſe the peace another time taken between the Realms of England and France is by the Frenchmen broken, and great peril might come to the goods of the Realm there being, and coming by the Sea to the ſame Staple out of England, if the ſame Staple were continued: And thereupon the Prelates, great men, and Commons ſeeing the miſchiefs and perils which may happen to the goods and merchandiſes in this behalf, pray the King in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, at the Utas of the holy Trinity, the three and fourtieth year of his Reign, thereupon to ordain remedy.

CAP. I.

Whereas the Staple of Wools, &c. hath been holden at Calice ſithence the firſt day of March, Anno 37 Ed. 3. Now the Staple of Calice ſhall be wholly put out, and the Staple holden in theſe places following: viz. At Newcaſtle, Kingſton upon Hull, Saint Butolph, Yarmouth, Quinsbrough, Weſtminſter, Chicheſter, Wincheſter, Exeter, and Briſtow. And the Staples of Ireland and Wales ſhall be kept at the places where they were firſt ordained. OB. Stat. 27 Ed. 3. 1.

CAP. II.

Engliſh, Iriſh, and Welſhmen, being not Artificers, may fetch Wine in Gaſcoin, ſo that they find ſureties to buy a hundred tun of their own goods, and to bring the ſame into England, Ireland or Wales, notwithſtanding the Stat. of 42 Ed. 3. 8.

CAP. III.

The Kings Butler, or his Lieutenant ſhall take no more Wines then is commanded.

Co. Inſt. 4. par. 30.

ITem, Foraſmuch as the great men and Commons of the Realm before this time, and now in this preſent Parliament have grievouſly complained, for that the Kings Butler and his Lieutenants in divers places and Ports of the Realm, have ingroſſed, and taken by colour of their office for the houſe and expenſes of the King, and by ſuch colour have arreſted the Wines which Merchants brought into the ſaid Realm, and holden them ſo long in arreſt, That the great men and Commons, and other of the Realm cannot thereof make their Purveyance, nor Merchants their Profit, and oftentimes by ſuch colour have ingroſſed and taken of them ſo many Tuns of Wine above that was needful for the King, that they have commonly ſold the ſame, and thereof made their ſingular profit, and as much as other Merchants and Vintners in the Realm, to the great damage of the ſaid Merchants and other: whereupon the King deſiring to ordain remedy, of the aſſent of the great men and Commons in this preſent Parliament hath ordained, that the Butler nor any of his Lieutenants ſhal not buy, ingroſs, nor take by colour of their office,

The Kings Butler ſhall take no more wine then he is commanded, and he ſhall take that within ten days.

nor in other manner to their proper uſe nor of others, more wines for the houſe and expence of the King then they have in commandment, upon pain of impriſonment of their bodies, and to be ranſomed at the Kings will; and as much as they ſhall take by force of the ſaid Warrant, ſhall be taken within ten days, and (that done) the Merchants of the ſaid Wines may, and it ſhall be lawful to them of the remnant of the ſaid Wines another time to make their profit, notwithſtanding any arreſt made upon ſuch Wines by the Butler or any of his Lieutenants aforeſaid. A Confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Forreſt in all points.

AT the Parliament ſummoned at Weſtminſter, the Munday in the firſt week of Lent, the five and fortieth year of the reign of King Edward the Third: It is ordained, That the great Charter, and the Charter of the Forreſt be holden and kept in all points.

A confirmation of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Forreſt.

CAP. II.

The penalty of him that ſetteth up, or enhaunſeth Wears.

ITem, Whereas in the Statute made at Weſtminſter, in the five and twentieth year, amongſt other things it was ordained, that becauſe the common paſſage of ſhips and boats in the great Rivers of England, were often diſturbed by the levying of Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, and Kiddles, which were levied and ſet up in the time of the Kings Grandfather, in great damage of the people: It was accorded and eſtabliſhed, that all the Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, and Kiddles, which were levied and ſet up in the time aforeſaid, and after in ſuch Rivers, whereby the ſhips and boats were diſturbed, that they might not paſs as they were wont, ſhould be cut, and wholly pulled down without repairing; and thereupon Writs ſhould be made and ſent to the Sheriffs of places where ſhould be needful, to ſurvey, enquire, and to make thereof Execution, and alſo that the Juſtices be thereupon aſſigned at all times when need ſhall require. And now at the grievous complaint of the great men and the Commons made in this preſent Parliament, complaining by their petition, that the Statute is not duly executed nor kept, according to the effect of the ſame: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Statute in this point be holden and kept, according to the effect of the ſame: Joyning thereto, that if any ſuch annoyance be done, it ſhall be pulled down by due proceſs contained in the ſaid Statute. And he that ſhall repair the ſame annoyance, and thereof be duly attainted, ſhall incur the pain of an hundred marks to the King, to be levied by Eſtreats of the Eſchequer. And the like Law ſhall hold of annoiance made by enhaunſing of ſuch Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, and Kiddles, as by the new levying. St. 1 H. 4. 12.

A confirmation of the Statute of 25 Ed. 3. 4. concerning the pulling down of Wears.

Cloth called Friſe ware. St. 47 Ed. 3. 1.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no Subſidy nor Aulnage ſhall be paid, levied, nor demanded of Clothes called Friſe ware, which be made in Ireland or otherwiſe in England of Iriſh wool, brought within the Realm of England, becauſe that thoſe clothes do not contain the length and breadth ordained by the Statute, and for ſo much they ought not to be compriſed in the Statutes late made of ray clothes and coloured clothes. St. 2 Ed. 3. 14. 25 Ed. 3. 1.

Thus endeth the Statutes made in the time of the Noble King EDWARD the Third.

Anno

Anno primo RICHARDI Secundi.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter the firſt year of the Reign of King RICHARD the Second after the Conqueſt of England, in the year of our Lord God, 1377.

RICHARD by the Grace of God King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, to the Sheriff of Northampton, Greeting. Know thou, That to the honour of God and reverence of holy Church, for to nouriſh Peace, Unity, and Concord in all the parts within our Realm of England, (which we do much deſire) by the whole aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, and Barons of this our Realm, at the inſtance and eſpecial requeſt of the Commons of our Realm aſſembled at our Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the fifteenth day of S. Hillary, in the firſt year of our Reign, we have ordained and ſtabliſhed certain Statutes in amendment and relief of this our ſaid Realm, in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all Statutes not repealed.

FIrſt, It is accorded and ſtabliſhed, that holy Church ſhall have and enjoy all her rights, liberties, and franchiſes wholly and without blemiſh. And that the great Charter, which at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons was read in the ſaid Parliament, and alſo the Charter of the Foreſt, and all other good Statutes and proviſions made in the time of the Progenitors of our Lord the King that now is, and not repealed, ſhall be obſerved and firmly kept in all points.

A confirmation of the liberties of the Church. The great Charter read in Parliament

CAP. II.

The Peace ſhall be kept, and juſtice ſhall be done to all perſons.

ITem, Our ſaid Lord the King, greatly deſiring the tranquillity and quietneſs of his people, willeth and ſtraitly commandeth, that the peace within this Realm of England be ſurely obſerved and kept, ſo that all his lawful ſubjects may from henceforth ſafely and peaceably go, come, and dwell according to the Law and uſage of the Realm. And that juſtice and right be indifferently miniſtred to every perſon.

Peace ſhall be maintained, and juſtice ſhall be done.

CAP. III.

Prelates ſhall have their action of treſpaſs againſt Purveyors offending.

ITem, That the Statutes late made in the time of the Noble King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, for Purveyors and Buyers, ſhall be firmly obſerved and kept in all points; adding thereunto, becauſe that Prelates and Clerks may not thereof commence their ſuits againſt any by way of crime, (as the ſaid Statutes required) all Prelates and Clerks ſhall from henceforth have their actions againſt all ſuch Purveyors and Buyers, by actions of treſpaſs, and recover their treble damages. Regiſt. fo. 281.

Prelates ſhall have their actions of treſpaſs againſt purveyors offending, and recover treble damages. St. 3 Ed. 1. 1. 14 Ed. 3 1. St. 18. Ed. 3. 4

CAP. IV.

The ſeveral penalties of ſeveral perſons that do maintain quarrels.

ITem, It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, and the King our Lord ſtraitly commandeth, that none of his Counſellors, Officers, or Servants, nor any other perſon within the Realm of England, of whatſoever eſtate or condition they be, ſhall from henceforth take nor ſuſtain any quarrel by maintenance in the Countrey, nor elſewhere, upon a grievous pain; that is to ſay, the ſaid Counſellors and the Kings great Officers, upon a pain which ſhall be ordained by the King himſelf, by the advice of the Lords of his Realm: and other leſs officers and ſervants of the King, as well in the Eſchequer and all his other Courts and places, as of his own meiny, upon pain to loſe their offices and ſervices, and to be impriſoned, and then to be ranſomed at the Kings will every of them according to their degree, eſtate, and deſert. And all other perſons through the Realm, upon pain of impriſonment, and to be ranſomed as other aforeſaid. Regiſt. fo. 182. &c. V. N. B. fo. 180. Fitz. N. B. fo. 172.

The ſeveral penalties of ſeveral perſons which do maintain quarrels.

CAP. V.

The puniſhment of a Clerk of the Exchequer making proceſs for a debt paid.

Co. Inſt. 4 par. 199.

ITem, It is ordained, That all Statutes and Ordinances made before this time of Officers of the Exchequer, be holden and firmly kept in all points. And moreover it is ordained and ſtabliſhed, that at what time any debts be once paid, and the tallies thereof made, rejoyned and allowed in the ſaid Exchequer, that this debt ſhall never come in demand: and if it ſo happen, that after ſuch allowance made there, any Clark of the Exchequer make any Writ or Proceſs to levy the ſame debt of new, and that duly proved, the ſame Clerk ſhall loſe his Office, and have impriſonment till he hath made gree to the party by ſo much as he is endamaged, if any will ſue, by the diſcretion of the Treaſurer and the Barons of the Exchequer. St. 51 H. 3. St. 10 Ed. 1. St. 37 Ed. 3. 4.

The puniſhment of a Clerk of the Exchequer making proceſs for a debt that is paid.

CAP. VI.

Commiſſions ſhall be awarded to enquire of the misbehaviour of Villains and Land-tenants in villenage to their Lords, and to puniſh the offendors, their counſellers, procurers, maintainers and abettors by impriſonment. OB. V. N. B. fo. 11. 46.

CAP.

CAP. VII.

There ſhall be no giving of Liveries for maintenance.

Statutes ordained againſt maintenance. 3 Ed. 1. 28. 13 Ed. 1. 49. 28 Ed. 1. 11. 33 Ed. 1.

The puniſhment of them which give Liveries for maintenance. The Juſtices of Aſſiſe ſhall enquire of, and puniſh this offence.

5 H. 7. f. 17. 2 Ed. 4. f. 22. 11 H. 4. f. 63.

ITem, Becauſe that divers people of ſmall revenue of land, rent, or other poſſeſſions, do make great retinue of people, as well of Eſquires as of other, in many parts of the Realm, giving to them Hats and other Liveries, of one ſute by year, taking of them the value of the ſame Livery, or percaſe the double value, by ſuch covenant and aſſurance, that every of them ſhall maintain other in all quarrels, be they reaſonable or unreaſonable, to the great miſchief and oppreſſion of the people: It is ordained and aſſented, that the Statutes and Ordinances made in ſuch caſe before this time, be kept and duly executed. And moreover the King doth ſtraitly defend, that from henceforth no ſuch Livery be given to any man for maintenance of quarrels, nor other confederacies, upon pain of impriſonment and grievous forfeiture to the King. And the Juſtices of Aſſiſes ſhall diligently enquire of all them that gather them together in fraternities by ſuch Livery to do maintenance; and they which thereof ſhall be found guilty, ſhall be duly puniſhed, every man after the quantity of his deſert. St. 20 R. 2. 1.

CAP. VIII.

In what caſe a protection cum clauſula volumus is not allowable.

In what caſe a protection cum clauſula volumus is not allowable. St. 13 R. 2. 16.

ITem, It is aſſented, that from henceforth no protection with the clauſe of Volumus be allowed before any Judge for victuals, taken or bought upon the voyage or ſervice whereof the protection maketh mention, nor alſo in pleas of treſpaſs, or of other contract made or perpetrate after the date of the ſame protection. Reg. fo. 22. V.N.B. fo. 21. Fitz. N. B. fo. 28. Raſt. pl. fo. 492. St. 33 Ed. 1.

CAP. IX.

A feoffment of lands or gift of goods for maintenance ſhall be void. An Aſſiſe is maintainable againſt the Pernor of the profits of Lands.

ITem, Becauſe it is complained to the King, that many people of the ſaid Realm as well great as ſmall, having right and true title as well to lands, tenements, and rents, as in other perſonal actions, be wrongfully delayed of their right and actions, by means that the occupiers or defendants to be maintained and ſuſtained in their wrong, do commonly make gifts and feoffments of their lands and tenements which be in debate, and of their other goods and chattels to Lords and other great men of the Realm, againſt whom the ſaid Purſuants for great menace that is made to them, cannot nor dare not make their purſuits: and alſo on the other part, complaint is made to the King, that oftentimes many people do diſſeiſe other of their tenements, and anon after the diſſeiſin done, they make divers alienations and feoffments, ſometime to Lords and great men of the Realm to have maintenance, and ſometime to many perſons of whoſe names the diſſeiſees can have no knowledge, to the intent to defer and delay by ſuch frauds the ſaid diſſeiſees, and the other demandants and their heirs of their recovery, to the great hinderance and oppreſſion of the people: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, that from henceforth no gift or feoffment of lands, tenements, or goods be made by ſuch fraud or maintenance. And if any be in ſuch wiſe made, they ſhall be holden for none, and for no value. And the ſaid diſſeiſees ſhall from henceforth have their recovery againſt the firſt diſſeiſors, as well of the lands and tenements, as of their double damages, without having regard to ſuch alienations, ſo that the diſſeiſees commence their ſuits within the year next after the diſſeiſin done. And it is ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſame Statute ſhall hold place in every other action in plea of land where ſuch feoffments be made by fraud or colluſion, to have their recovery againſt the firſt Feoffor. And it is to wit, that this Statute ought to be underſtood where ſuch Feoffors thereof take the profits. St. 4. H. 4. 7. 4 H. 7. 24. Raſt. pla. fo. 80. 258. 341. &c.

CAP. X.

ITem, Whereas divers people, at the ſuit of the party commanded to the priſon of ye Fleet, by judgments given in Courts of our Lord the King, be oftentimes ſuffered to go at large by the Warden of the priſon, ſometime by mainpriſe or by bail, and ſometimes without any mainpriſe with a baſton of the Fleet, and to go from thence into the Country about their merchandiſes, and other their buſineſs, and be there long out of priſon nights and days, without their aſſent at whoſe ſuit they be judged, and without their gree thereof made: Whereby a man cannot come to his right and recovery againſt ſuch priſoners, to the great miſchief and undoing of many people: It is ordained and aſſented, that from henceforth no Warden of the Fleet ſhall ſuffer any priſoner there being by judgment at the ſuit of the party, to go out of priſon by mainpriſe, bail, nor by baſton, without making gree to the ſaid parties of that whereof they were judged, unleſs it be by writ or other commandment of the King, upon pain to loſe his office, and the keeping of the ſaid priſon. And moreover, if any ſuch Warden from henceforth be attainted by due proceſs, that he hath ſuffered or let ſuch priſoner to go at large againſt this Ordinance, then the plaintiffs ſhall have their recovery againſt the ſame Warden, by writ of debt. And alſo it is ordained, that if any at the ſuit of the party judged to another priſon for debt, treſpaſs, or other quarrel, will confeſs himſelf voluntarily, and by a fained cauſe, debtor to the King, and by that means to be judged to the ſaid priſon of the Fleet, there to have greater liberty of priſon then elſewhere, and ſo to delay the party of his recovery, the ſame recogniſance ſhall be there received; and if he be not debtor to the King of record, his body ſhall incontinently be remanded to the priſon where he was before, there to remain till he hath made gree to the ſaid party, and the ſame gree made, he ſhall be immediately ſent again to the Fleet, there to abide, till he hath made gree to the King of his recogniſance aforeſaid. CAP. XIII.

Eccleſiaſtical Judges ſhall not be vexed for ſuits for Tithes in a ſpiritual Court.

Co.Inſt.2 par. 489.

ITem, The Prelates and Clergy of this Realm do greatly complain them for that the people of holy Church, purſuing in the ſpiritual Court for their tithes, and their other things, which of right ought and of old times were wont to pertain to the ſame ſpiritual Court, and that the Judges of holy Church, having cogniſance in ſuch cauſes, and other perſons thereof medling according to the Law, be maliciouſly and unduly for this cauſe indicted, impriſoned, and by ſecular power horribly oppreſſed, and alſo enforced with violence by oaths and grievous obligations, and many other means unduly compelled to deſiſt and ceaſe utterly of the things aforeſaid, againſt the liberties and franchiſes of holy Church: Wherefore it is aſſented, that all ſuch obligations made or to be made by dureſs or violence, ſhall be of no value. And as to thoſe that by malice do procure ſuch indictments, and to be the ſame enditors, after the ſame inditees be ſo acquit, ſuch procurers ſhall have and iucur the ſame pain that is contained in the Statute of Weſtminſter the ſecond, of thoſe which procure falſe appeals to be made. And the Juſtices of Aſſiſes or other Juſtices before whom ſuch inditees ſhall be acquit, ſhall have power to enquire of ſuch procurers and evditors, and duly to puniſh them according to their deſert.

Eccleſiaſtical Judges nor other ſhall be indicted or impriſoned for ſuits in any Spiritual Court for tithes, &c.

St.13 Ed.1.22.
The penalty of thoſe which do procure ſuch Indictments.

CAP. XIV.

In an action of goods taken away, the defendant maketh title for tithes due to the Church.

ITem, It is accorded, that at what time that any perſon of the holy Church be drawn in plea in the ſecular Court for his own Tithes taken by the name of goods taken away, and he which is ſo drawn in plea, maketh an exception, or alledgeth that the ſubſtance and ſuit of the buſineſs is only upon Tithes due of right and of poſſeſſion to his Church, or to another his Benefice: that in ſuch caſe the general averment ſhall not be taken without ſhewing ſpecially how the ſame was his lay-chattel.

In an action of goods carried away, the def. maketh his title for Tithes due to his Church.

CAP. XV.

The penalty for arreſting of Prieſts, doing Divine Service.

ITem, Becauſe that Prelates do complain themſelves, that as well beneficed people of holy Church, as other, be arreſted, and drawn out as well of Cathedral Churches as of other Churches and their Church-yards, and ſometime whiles they be intended to Divine ſervices, and alſo in other places, although they be bearing the body of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt to ſick perſons, and ſo arreſted and drawn out, be bound and brought to priſon againſt the liberty of holy Church: It is ordained, that if any Miniſter of the King or other, do arreſt any perſon of holy Church by ſuch manner, and thereof be duly convict, he ſhall have impriſonment, and then be ranſomed at the Kings will, and make gree to the parties ſo arreſted. Provided always that the ſaid people of holy Church, ſhall not hold them within the Churchces or Sanctuaries by fraud or colluſion in any manner. And therefore we command, that thou cauſe all the ſaid Statutes to be cryed and publiſhed, and firmly kept through thy bailiwick, according to the form and tenour thereof; and that do not omit in any wiſe. Given under the witneſs of our great Seal the firſt day of February in the firſt year of our Reign.

Statutes made at Glouceſter Anno 2 Ric.2. and Anno Dom. 1378.

OUr Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Glouceſter, the Wedenſday next after the Feaſt of S. Luke, the ſecond year of his Reign, amongſt other things there aſſented and accorded, hath made certain Statutes and ordinances, as well for the common profit of the Realm, as for the maintenance of the peace of his ſaid Realm, in the form following.

CAP. I.

All Merchants may buy and ſell within the Realm, without diſturbance.

FIrſt, Becauſe that before this time in time of the Noble King Ed. Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, in his Parliaments holden at York and Weſtminſter, and alſo in this preſent Parliament, great complaint hath been made to our ſaid Lord, for that in many Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, and other places within the Realm of England, great damages and outragious grievances have been, and yet be done to the King, and to all his Realm, by the Citizens, Burgeſſes and other people of the Cities, Boroughs, and other Towns and places aforeſaid, which have not ſuffered, nor yet will ſuffer Merchants-ſtrangers, nor other that do bring, carry or convey by ſea or by land, wines avoir de pois, ſuſtenance, victuals, or other things vendible, profitable and neceſſary, as well for the the King, the Prelates and Lords, as for all the communalty of his land, to ſell or deliver the ſaid wines, ſuſtenance, victuals, nor other things vendible to any other then to them of the ſame Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the ſea, and other places, to which ſuch wines, ſuſtenance, victuals or other things vendible were and be brought, carried and conveyed: and by ſo much thoſe things have been and yet be ſold and ſet to the King, to his Lords, and to all his people, by the hands of the Citizens, Burgeſſes, and other people Denizens, to a great and exceſſive dearth over that they ſhould have been, if the Merchants-ſtrangers and other which bring ſuch things into the Realm, might freely have ſold them to whom they would: nor alſo would not, nor yet will ſuffer the Merchants-ſtrangers, that do come or would come within the Realm, to buy Wools and other merchandiſes growing within the Realm, to go, travel, and merchandiſe, or abide freely as they were wont to do, to the great damage of the King, of the Prelates, of the Lords, and of all the Realm, and againſt the common profit, and againſt the Statutes and Ordinances thereof made in times paſt in the ſaid two Parliaments: our Lord the King conſidering clearly the coming of Merchants-ſtrangers within the Realm to be very profitable for many cauſes to all the Realm, by the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and of the Commons of the Realm, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that all Merchants Aliens, of what Realms, Countries, or Seigniories that they come, which be of the amity of the King, and of his Realm, may from henceforth ſafely and ſurely come within the Realm of England, and in all Cities Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, Fairs, Markets, or other places within the Realm, within franchiſe and without, and abide with their goods and all merchandiſes, under the ſafeguard and protection of the King as long as ſhall pleaſe them, without diſturbance or denying of any perſon. And that as well thoſe Merchants Aliens and Denizens and every of them that will buy and ſell Corn, Fleſh, Fiſh, and all manner other victuals and ſuſtenance, and alſo all manner of ſpiceries, Fruits, Fur, and all manner of ſmall Wares, as ſilk, goldwyre, or ſilverwyre, coverchiefs, and other ſuch ſmall Ware, may from henceforth freely and without denying or any manner of diſturbance, as well in the City of London, as in all Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, Fayrs, Markets, and other places within the Realm, ſell and buy in groſs, and by parcels, to whom and of whom them pleaſe, denizens or foreign, except the Kings enemies, and except that all manner of wines, as well ſweet as other ſhall be ſold by the ſaid Strangers in groſs and by whole veſſels, as they be brought into the Realm, and not at retail by any in the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and other Towns franchiſed, but only by the inhabitants and freemen in the ſame. And as to all other great Wares, as Cloth of gold and ſilver, ſilk, Sendal, Napery, Linnen-cloth, Canvas and other ſuch great Wares, and alſo all manner of other great Merchandiſes not above expreſſed, whatſoever they be, from henceforth as well Aliens as Denizens, as well in the City of London, as in other Cities, Boroughs, Ports of the Sea, Towns, Fairs, Markets, and elſewhere through the ſaid Realm, within franchiſe and without, may ſell the ſame in groſs to every perſon foreign or denizen that will buy the ſame freely and without denying (except to the Kings enemies and the Realms) as well by the bale, cloth, or by whole pieces at their pleaſure, and not at retail, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Merchandiſes, but only the Citizens and Burgeſſes in their own Cities and Boroughs and other good towns franchiſed, to whom (and to none other ſtrange Merchant of their franchiſe,) they may, and it ſhall be lawful to them without impeachment, to unfold, undo, and cut in their ſame their proper Cities, and Boroughs, the great Merchandiſes, and other great Wares aforeſaid, and as well the ſame as wines and other Merchandiſes whatſoever, there to ſell in groſs & by retail at their pleaſure, paying all the Cuſtoms & Subſidies due: notwithſtanding any Statutes, Ordinances, Charters, Judgments, Allowances, Cuſtoms, and Uſages made or ſuffered to the contrary: which Charters and Franchiſes, if any there be, they ſhall be utterly repealed and adnulled, as a thing made, uſed or granted againſt the common profit, or oppreſſion of the people. Saving always to Prelates and Lords of the Realm wholly their liberties and franchiſes, that they may make their purveyances and buyings of victuals, and of other their neceſſaries as they were wont to do in old time, and ſaving that the Ordinances made before this time of the ſtaple of Calis be holden in their force and vertue. And it is not the Kings mind, that Merchants-ſtrangers, or Denizens, that ſhall buy and ſell their Wools, woolfels, wares, Cloths, Yron, and other Merchandiſes, at Fairs and Markets in the Country, ſhould be reſtrained or diſturbed by this Statute, to ſell or buy freely in groſs or at retail, as they were wont to do heretofore. And if it ſo happen, that from henceforth diſturbance be made to any Merchant Alien, or Denizen, or other, upon the ſale of ſuch things, in City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, or other place that hath franchiſe, againſt the form of this Ordinance: and the Mayor, Bailiffs, or other that have the keeping of ſuch franchiſe, required by the ſaid Merchants or other in their name thereof to make remedy, do not the ſame, and thereof be attainted, the franchiſe ſhall be ſeiſed into the Kings hand. And neverthelefs, they that have done ſuch diſturbance againſt this Statute, ſhall be bound to render and reſtore to the plaintiff his double damages that he hath ſuffered by this occaſion. And if ſuch diſturbance be made to ſuch Merchants, or to other in towns, and places where no franchiſe is, and the Lord if he be preſent, or his Bailiff, Conſtables or other Warden of the Towns, and places, in abſence of the Lords thereof, required to do right, and do not, and thereof be duly attainted, they ſhall yield to the plaintiff his double damages, as afore is ſaid, and the diſturbors in the one caſe and the other, as well within franchiſes as without, if they be attainted, ſhall have one years impriſonment, and be ranſomed at the Kings will. And it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Chancellor, Treaſurer, and Juſtices aſſigned to hold pleas of the King in the places where they come, ſhall diligently inquire of ſuch diſturbances and grievances, and do puniſhment according as afore is ordained. And neverthelefs the King ſhall aſſign by commiſſion certain people, where and when ſhall pleaſe him, to enquire of ſuch diſturbances and grievances, and to puniſh the offendors in this party, as before is ſaid. 9 H.3.30.

Other Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 2 R.2. and Anno Dom. 1379.

TO the honour of God and of holy Church, and for the common profit of the Realm of England, our Lord the King Richard, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the fifteenth of Eaſter, the ſecond year of His reign, of the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and other great men, and of the Commons of this Realm ſummoned to the ſaid Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed in the ſame Parliament, for the quietneſs of his ſaid people, the Statutes and Ordinances following, perpetually to endure in his ſaid Realm.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Liberties of the Church.

FIrſt, that holy Church have and enjoy her Franchiſes and Liberties in all points, in as ample manner, as ſhe them had in the time of his Noble Progenitors, Kings of England; and that the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt, and the good Laws of the land be firmly holden and kept, and put in due execution.

A confirmation of the liberties of the Church, and the laws of the Realm.

CAP. II.

A repeal of the Statute of 2 R.2.7. touching riots.

CAP. III.

Fraudulent Deeds made by debtors to avoid their creditors, ſhall be void the principal for their default. And out of the ſame judgment execution ſhall be made of their goods and lands, being out of the place priviledged, that is to ſay, as well of thoſe lands and goods ſo given by colluſion, as of any other out of the ſame Franchiſe, after that ſuch colluſion or fraud be duly found, in the ſame manner as that ought to have been, if no deviſe had been thereof made, notwithſtanding the ſame deviſe. But it is not the Kings mind that by vertue of this Statute any man be barred out of his ſuit againſt ſuch debtors by the common courſe of the Law before this preſent Statute uſed. Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 3 Rich. 2. and Anno Dom. 1379.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Munday next after the Feaſt of Saint Hillary, the third year of King Richard the ſecond, of the aſſent of the Lords and other in the ſaid Parliament, our ſaid Lord hath cauſed to be made certain Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Laws of the Church, and of the Laws and Statutes of the Realm.

A confirmation of the liberties of the Church, and of the Laws of the Realm.

FIrſt, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That holy Church have and wholly enjoy her Franchiſes and Liberties, by the manner as ſhe hath had and enjoyed them in the time of the Kings noble Progenitors, and that the good Laws and Cuſtoms of the Realm, and the Statutes made before this time, and not repealed, be holden and firmly kept and put in due execution.

CAP. II.

The penalty of the Aulneger that ſetteth his ſeal to faulty Clothes.

St. 2 Ed. 3. 14. 27 Ed. 3. 1. 47 Ed. 3. 1.

The penalty of the Aulneger that ſetteth his ſeal to Clothes tacked together faulty, or lacking Aſſiſe.

ITem, Becauſe that the Commons do greatly complain them to be grieved, in that, that whereas in the time of the Kings noble grandfather, it was ordained for the common profit of the Realm, That all the Woollen Clothes from henceforth to be made in England, which ſhould be ſet to ſale, ſhould contain a certain meaſure in length and breadth, upon a certain pain compriſed in the ſaid Statute; nevertheleſs divers people through the Realm, not having regard to the ſaid Statute, make now divers Woolven Clothes vendible, which do not contain the meaſure nor the Aſſiſe ordained by the ſame Statute, and which worſe is, cauſe ſubtilly to be tacked and ſet together with threed divers pieces of ſuch Clothes, and after by covin betwixt them and the Kings Aulnegers, to hide and colour the falſity, do procure the ſaid Aulneger to put the ſeal ordained upon the ſame Clothes, to the intent, and that the buyers might believe, that ſuch Clothes ſo ſealed be ſufficient Clothes, and whole, containing the ſame Aſſiſe, for otherwiſe they had not been ſealed, as they ſay, in great deceit of the people, and miſchief to the ſaid buyers, as well denizens as ſtrangers: It is accorded and aſſented, That the Statutes made of the ſaid Clothes before this time, and not repealed, be kept and duly put in execution. And moreover it is aſſented, That if any the ſaid Aulnegers or of the Collectors of the Subſidy of the ſaid Clothes, do from henceforth ſet his ſeal to any ſuch Cloth ſo ſowed in deceit, the ſame Cloth ſhall be forfeit to the King, in whoſe hands ſoever it be found, and alſo the Aulneger or Collector thereof found guilty, ſhall forfeit his Office. And if he have put the ſame ſeal to any other Cloth vendible, that is not of the ſaid Aſſiſe, the ſame Aulneger or Collector ſhall forfeit to the King the value of the ſame Cloth ſo ſealed in deceit of the people, together with his ſaid Office. And nevertheleſs, for the ſaid falſity he ſhall have one years impriſonment, and then be ranſomed at the Kings will. And this Statute ſhall begin to hold place at the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, and not before. St. 11 H. 4. 6.

CAP. III.

None ſhall take any Benefice of an Alien, or convey money to him.

The cauſes why advowſons of Benefices were given to ſpiritual perſons.

The inconveniences which have enſued by giving of Benefices to Aliens.

ITem, Becauſe that our Lord the King hath perceived, as well by the complaints of his faithful liege-people, and by their clamour by divers petitions thereof delivered in divers Parliaments before this time, as otherwiſe by the perfect knowledge and experience of the deed, how the Churches Cathedral and Collegial, Abbeys and Priories, and other Benefices of his Realm, which were late founden, and richly endowed by his noble Progenitors, in which divers dignities, offices, perſonages, Chanonries, Prebends, and other Benefices were ſolemnly and devoutly ordained and eſtabliſhed, of the aſſent of the foreſaid Progenitors of the King and of other their noble Founders, which did give to the ſaid Paſtours of the ſame Churches, Abbeys, Priories, of other great places, the advowſons of the ſame Benefices, to the intent that the ſame Benefices ſhould be given to honeſt and meet perſons of the Realm, to ſerve and honour God diligently, and alſo to keep hoſpitality, and to inform and teach the people, and to do other worthy things pertaining to the cure of ſouls, after the eſtate and quality of the ſaid Benefices: and ſo was it done in all times paſt after the foundation of the ſame, till now of late, that by the informations, inſtigations, and procurements of ſome of the Kings liege-people, the ſame Benefices have been given againſt the will of the Founders to divers people of another Language, and of ſtrange Lands and Nations, and ſometimes to the utter enemies of the King and of his Realm, which never made reſidence in the ſame, nor cannot, may not, nor will not in ſuch wiſe bear and perform the charges of the ſame Benefices, as in hearing Confeſſions, Preaching, nor Teaching the people, keeping hoſpitality, nor accompliſhing the other things neceſſary to the governance of the ſame Benefices, but onely thereof have and take the emoluments and temporal profits, not having regard to the ſpiritual Cure, nor to other charges to the ſame Benefices pertaining or belonging, but manifeſtly ſuffer the noble buildings in old times there made, when the ſame Benefices were occupied by Engliſhmen, wholly to fall to decay, whereby the Divine ſervice is greatly miniſhed, the cure of ſouls neglected and left, the Clergy enfeebled, the Treaſure of the ſaid Realm carried to the hands of Aliens, and all the Eſtate of holy Church brought to leſs reverence then before it was wont to be: and though that in the time of the ſaid Grandfather certain Ordinances, Statutes and Compoſitions were made and affirmed, wholly to put out, or at the leaſt to reſtrain the ſaid miſchiefs in this behalf, nevertheleſs the ſaid Aliens not having regard to the ſame, do not refrain to take and receive ſuch Benefices within the ſaid Realm, but by the comfort, aid and great ſuccour which they have had of the Kings liege-people, that be their Fermors, Procurators and Atturneys in this behalf, and in every part of the ſaid Realm, do enforce themſelves from day to day more and more, to accept the greateſt Dignities and Benefices within the ſaid Realm, and by divers cautelous manners, much prejudicial to the ſame Realm if that were ſuffered, whereby the ſaid miſchiefs do daily increaſe, and much more will increaſe, if due remedy be not the ſooner provided.

Stat. 25 Ed. 3.

Our Lord the King, by the advice and common aſſent of all the Lords Temporal, being in this Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That none of the Kings liege-people, nor other perſon, of whatſoever eſtate or condition that he be, ſhall not take nor receive within the ſame Realm of England, Procuracy, Letters of Atturney, nor Ferm, nor other Adminiſtration by Indenture, nor in other manner whatſoever, of any perſon of the world, of any Benefice within the ſaid Realm, but onely of the Kings liege-people of the ſame Realm, without the ſpecial grace and expreſs licence of our Lord the King, by the advice of his Council. And if any before this time have accepted of any Aliens ſuch Procuracies, Ferms, or adminiſtration, that they ſhall utterly leave them within fourty days after publication of this Ordinance. And that none of the ſaid liege-people, nor other that may be found in the ſaid Realm, ſhall convey by vertue of ſuch Procuracy, Ferm, or adminiſtration, gold, ſilver, nor other Treaſure nor Commodity out of the ſaid Realm by Letter of Exchange, by Merchandiſe, nor in other manner to the profit of the ſaid Aliens, without like licence of the King by the advice of his ſaid Council. And if any do the contrary in any point contained in this Ordinance, he ſhall incur the pain and puniſhment contained in this Statute of Proviſors, made in the time of the Kings Grandfather, the ſeven and twentieth year of his Reign, by the ſame proceſs compriſed in the ſaid Statute, and by warning to be made to them in their Benefices, or other their Poſſeſſions within the Realm. And if they be out of the ſaid Realm, and not Beneficed, nor having Poſſeſſion within the ſame Realm where they may be warned, then a Writ ſhall be made in the Chancery grounded upon this Ordinance to the Sheriff of London, or to the Sheriff of the County in which they were or ſhall be born, at the Kings ſuit, returnable in the one Bench or the other, by which Writ it ſhall be commanded, That Proclamation be made openly, that they appear before the Juſtices in the Bench where the Writ is retnrnable at a certain day compriſed in the ſame Writ, containing the ſpace of half a year, to anſwer upon the matters compriſed in the ſaid Writ: and after this Writ returned, the Juſtices ſhall proceed againſt them, according to the form above ordained. And it is aſſented by the King in the ſame Parliament, by the aſſent aforeſaid, That no Biſhop nor other perſon of holy Church through the Realm, ſhall meddle by way of Sequeſtration, nor in any other manner with the fruits of ſuch Benefices given or to be given to the ſaid Aliens, to the profit of the ſame Aliens, upon the peril that belongeth. Dated, &c. Stat. 7 R. 2. 12. 1 H. 5. 7.

None ſhall take in ferm any Benefices of the Church of an Alien without the Kings Licence.

None ſhall convey money out of the Realm to an Alien for ſuch ferm.

St. an. 27 Ed. 3. de proviſoribus.

Proceſs awarded againſt offenders that be out of the Realm.

None ſhall meddle by ſequeſtration nor in other manner with a benifice given to an alien.

CAP. I.

All veſſels of Wine, Honey, and Oyl brought into this Realm, ſhall be gauged.

St. 27 Ed. 3. 8.

RICHARD by the grace of God, &c. to the Sheriff of Nottingham, greeting. The Commons of our Realm of England have prayed us by their Petition delivered to us at our preſent Parliament holden at Northampton, containing how many Wines of divers manners oftentimes brought within the Land, which do often paſs without gauging, becauſe that the Statutes thereupon made in the time of our Grandfather, (whom God aſſoil) do not make expreſs mention of all manner Wines, and of other licours, to the great damage of the Lords and Commons of the ſame Realm, which be oftentimes deceived in their buying, becauſe they cannot without gauge, have rightful knowledge how much the ſame veſſel will contain, That it may pleaſe us, for the profit of us and our Realm more plainly to declare the ſame Statutes, in ſuch manner, that all manner of Wines, and other licours gaugeable brought within this Realm, may be compriſed in the ſame Statutes: We conſidering the ſaid Supplication to be profitable for us, the Lords and Commons of the ſame Realm, will and grant by the aſſent of the Prelates, and Lords aforeſaid, That the Statutes thereupon made (as is ſaid) be holden, kept, and put in due execution. And moreover we declare, and of the aſſent aforeſaid, will and grant, That as well all manner veſſels of ſweet Wines of the Rine, and of other Wines, as other veſſels of Vineger, Oyl, Honey, and all other licours gaugeable, which from henceforth ſhall come within this Realm of England, or within our Lands of Wales and Ireland, ſhall be well and lawfully gauged by our Gaugers thereto aſſigned, or their deputies. And if any ſet debate and diſturbance, and will not ſuffer the Wines or other licours aforeſaid to be gauged, he ſhall incur the pain ordained by the ſaid other Statutes. And in the ſame manner the gaugers ſhall incur the pain compriſed in the ſame Statutes, if default be from henceforth found in them, or in their deputies in this behalf. Stat. 18 H. 6. 17. 1 R. 3. 13. 28 H. 8. 14.

All the veſſels of wine, vineger, honey, and oyl brought into the Realm ſhall be gauged.

CAP. II.

The Kings Pardon of Eſcapes, and Felons, and Clerks Convict. EXP.

Other Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 5 Rich. 2. and Anno Dom. 1381.

RIchard by the grace, &c. To the Sheriff of Nottingham, greeting. Know thou, That to the reverence of God and of holy Church, and for to nouriſh peace, unity, and quietneſs of good accord, in all parts of our Realm of England, and eſpecially for the good governance of the ſame Realm (which we do chiefly deſire) of the aſſent of the Prelates, Lords and Commons aſſembled at our Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the morrow after All Souls laſt paſt, we have cauſed to be made certain ordinances and eſtabliſhments, as well for the amendment of the ſaid governance, as for the common profit of the Realm, in the form following.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all Statutes made and not repealed.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of the Laws of the Realm.

FIrſt, It is aſſented and accorded, That holy Church have and enjoy all her Liberties and Franchiſes wholly. And that the great Charter and the Charter of the Foreſt, and all other good Statutes and Ordinances made before this time, and not repealed, and eſpecially the Statutes of Purveyors late made in the time of the noble King Edward our Grandfather, be holden, kept, and put in due execution after the form and effect of the ſame.

CAP. II.

None ſhall Tranſport Gold or Silver. None ſhall depart out of the Realm without Licence.

None ſhall tranſport gold or ſilver without the Kings licence. St. 9 Ed. 3. 1. 2 H. 4. 3. 2 H. 6. 6. 4 H. 4. 16. 19 H. 7. 5.

In what caſes and for what cauſes gold or ſilver may be tranſported.

None ſhall depart without the Kings licence. EXP. Jac. 1. Fitz, N. B. f. 85. E. St. 12 R. 2. 8.

The penalty of the Maſter or Mariner of the Ship, offending.

The penalty of Searchers or Wardens of Ports, offending.

ITem, For the great miſchief which the Realm ſuffereth, and long hath done, for that gold and ſilver, as well in money, veſſel, plate, and jewels, as otherwiſe by exchanges made in divers manners, is carried out of the Realm, ſo that in effect there is none thereof left; which thing if it ſhould longer be ſuffered, would ſhortly be the deſtruction of the ſame Realm (which God prohibit:) It is aſſented and accorded, and the King enjoyneth all manner of people, Merchants, Clerks, and other, as well ſtrangers as denizens, of what eſtate or condition they be, upon pain of as much as they may forfeit, That none of them upon the ſaid pain privily nor openly ſend nor carry, nor cauſe to be ſent or carried out of the ſaid Realm, any gold or ſilver in money, Bullion, Plate, or Veſſel, neither by exchanges to be made, nor in other manner, but the wages of Calis, and of other the Kings Fortreſſes beyond the Sea, and eſpecially excepted the Prelates, Lords, and other of the ſame Realm, to whom ſometimes it behoveth neceſſarily to make payments beyond the Sea, that of the ſame payments onely they make Exchanges in England, by good and ſufficient Merchants to pay beyond the Sea: And firſt ſpecial leave and licence had of the King, as well for the Exchangeors as for the perſon which ought to make the payments, containing expreſly the ſum which ſhall be ſo exchanged. And it is aſſented, That the Merchants that ſhall make exchanges, ſhall be diligently examined and ſworn in their proper perſons, as often as [illegible] the ſaid [illegible], That they ſhall not ſend beyond the Sea any manner of [illegible] colour of the ſame Exchange. And if after Proclamation of this [illegible] duly attainted that he hath cauſed to [illegible] this [illegible] and Ordinance, [illegible] our Lord of his [illegible] well Clerks [illegible] upon pain [illegible] Realm, and true [illegible] other then is before [illegible] out of the ſaid Realm [illegible] and commandeth that [illegible] under-written, that is to ſay, [illegible] Dertmouth, Briſtow, Yarmouth, [illegible] Tine, and the other Ports and paſſages [illegible] the Realm of England) ſhall forfeit to the [illegible] is ſaid; and nevertheleſs the Maſter or Mariner [illegible] which he ſhall carry over beyond the Sea any perſon [illegible] without the ſaid licence, and thereof be convict duly, [illegible] to the King. And the King commandeth all Wardens and Searchers [illegible] Ports and paſſages through England, That they ſhall from henceforth [illegible] Office, and make good and ſtrait ſearch. And if any Searchers or Wardens of the Ports and paſſages through the ſaid Realm, by negligence or in other manner do, or ſuffer wittingly to be done in any point the contrary of the ſaid two Articles touching the money of gold or ſilver, and the ſaid paſſages of people, and thereof be duly convict, he ſhall forfeit to the King his ſaid Office and all his goods, and his body ſhall be committed to priſon, there to abide a whole year without redemption. And thereupon whoſoever eſpieth and proveth duly that any thing be done againſt the intent of the ſaid two laſt Articles, whereby the ſaid forfeiture ought to fall upon any perſon, he ſhall have half of the ſame forfeiture for his labour at the Kings gift.

CAP. III.

None of the Kings Subjects ſhall carry forth nor bring any Merchandiſes but onely in Ships of the Kings allowance. Stat. 1 Eliz. 13. 5 Eliz. 5. 13 Eliz. 15. 6 R. 2. 8. 23 H. 8. 7. 32 H. 8. 14.

CAP. IV.

The ſeveral prices of ſeveral ſorts of Wine to be ſold in groſs or by retail, and the forfeiture of them which do ſell them dearer. And the chief Officer of a City or Borough may ſell them at the ſame prices, if the owner will not. Rep. 7 R. 2. 11. Stat. 6 R. 2. 7. 28 H. 8. 14.

CAP. V.

The Kings pardon to thoſe that repreſſed or took revenge of his Rebels. EXP.

CAP. VI.

Manumiſſions, Releaſes, and other Bands made in the laſt tumult by compulſion, ſhall be void. It ſhall be Treaſon to begin a Riot, Rout, or Rumor. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12.

CAP. VII.

The penalty where any doth enter into Lands where it is not lawful, or with force.

AND alſo the King defendeth, That none from henceforth make any Entry into any Lands and Tenements, but in caſe where Entry is given by the Law; and in ſuch caſe not with ſtrong hand, nor with multitude of people, but only in peaceable and eaſie manner. And if any man from henceforth do to the contrary, and thereof be duly convict, he ſhall be puniſhed by impriſonment of his body, and thereof ranſomed at the Kings will. Reg. f. 182. Fitz. The penalty where any doth enter into lands but where his entry is given by the Law, and then with ſtrong hand.

CAP. VIII.

A remedy for them whoſe writings were deſtroyed in the late inſurrection.

ITem, Touching the Charters, Releaſes, Obligations, and other Deeds and Miniments, burnt, deſtroyed, or otherwiſe eloined in the ſame rumour, it is aſſented, That they which thereof feel them grieved, ſhall put their Petitions diſtinctly made upon their matters ſpecially before the King and his Council, betwixt this and the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming at the furtheſt, and there make ſufficient proof of the ſaid Miniments ſo loſt, and of the form and tenor of the ſame; and that done, ſuch remedy ſhall thereof be provided for them at every mans complaint, as beſt ſhall ſeem in the caſe, ſaving the Law. St. 6 R. 2. 4.

A remedy for them whoſe writings were burned in the late inſurrection.

CAP. IX.

Every perſon that is impeached in the Eſchequer, may plead in his own diſcharge.

ITem, Becauſe that grievous complaint hath oftentimes been made of the Officers of the Eſchequer, for that the Heirs, Executors, Occupiers of Goods, and Land-Tenants of divers perſons which have heen impeached in the ſaid Eſchequer, of debts, accompts, and other demands, and which although they have offered them there to ſhew, or plead for their diſcharge of thoſe impeachments according to the Law, they have not been always thereunto received heretofore, without having expreſs commandment by Writ, or Letter of the great Seal or privy Seal, to the great diſquietneſs, miſchief and delay of the ſaid perſons impeached, and no advantage to the King: It is ordained and aſſented, That the Barons of the ſaid Eſchequer ſhall from hence[illegible] power to hear every anſwer of every demand made in the ſaid Eſchequer, [illegible] perſon that is impeached or impeachable of any cauſe [illegible] henceforth received [illegible] ſame Eſchequer to [illegible] in this behalf, without [illegible] of ſuing any [illegible] Co. Inſt. 4. par. 110.

Every perſon that is impleaded in the Eſchequer, may plead in his own diſcharge.

CAP. [illegible]

[illegible] Covenants of [illegible] ſhall be put in [illegible]

I[illegible] divers perſons, as well [illegible] to ſerve our Lord the King [illegible] his Meſſages, or in other manner, [illegible] at the receit of the ſaid Eſchequer, [illegible] upon them in the Rolls of the ſaid [illegible], and for that cauſe the ſame ſums ſhould run [illegible] as a clear debt, although the ſaid perſons ſo retained, their Heirs, [illegible] Occupiers of their Goods, or Land-Tenants, after their death [illegible] to accompt of the ſums received, which hath not been granted to them [illegible] have been conſtrained to purſue their grant by the great or privy Seal directed to the Treaſurer and Barons there, whereby it was commanded to the Treaſurer and Barons to accompt with them in this behalf: which Warrants oftentimes have been denied, becauſe that the Kings Officers, newly made, percaſe had no knowledge of ſuch retaining made before their time: and ſometime have been granted, but not ſo fully as reaſon and the caſe required: and for as much as the ſame Warrant would that accompt ſhould not be received but only of the ſum ſo received by lone, whereas a greater ſum percaſe was due to them of reaſon, to the great miſchief and hindrance of the ſaid perſons: It is ordained and aſſented, That of all people, which from henceforth ſhall be retained or aſſigned to ſerve the King, their Covenants ſhall be put in writing and ſent to the Eſchequer, there to remain of Record: ſo that at what time that any perſon ſo retained, his heirs or executors, occupiers of the goods, or Land-tenants come to accompt thereof at the Eſchequer, they ſhall be thereto received, and have due allowance in their accompt, according to the content of their covenant: if percaſe any repeal or countermand be made of ſuch retinue of any perſon after that his covenants be put in writing, and ſent to the ſaid Eſchequer, as is aforeſaid, the ſame repeal likewiſe ſhall be put in writing, and ſent to the ſaid Eſchequer, ſo that by the ſight of the ſame repeal, and of the covenants before there ſent, the Barons of the ſaid Eſchequer ſhall do right to the party according as the Law and reaſon demandeth. And if any thing be due unto them by the ſame accompt, that thereof by certificate of the ſame Eſchequer, the Treaſurer and the Chamberlains ſhall make payment or aſſignment to them without tarying or ſuing other Warrant, or commandment of the great or privy Seal in this behalf.

The covenants of thoſe which ſhall be retained to ſerve the King in his Wars or Embaſſies ſhall be ſent into the Eſchequer.

CAP. XI.

The Accompts in the Eſchequer ſhall be more ſpeedily heard then they were wont.

The Accompts of the Eſchequer ſhall be more ſpeedily heard then before they were ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, That the accompts in the Eſchequer ſhall be more ſhortly heard, made, and ingroſſed, then they were wont heretofore. Saving always, that the parcels of the ſame accompts be made as fully as they were wont in times paſt, and that by ordinance to be made by the Barons of the ſaid Eſchequer, there to endure of Record for ever.

Co. Inſt.4. par. 113.

CAP. XII.

Two Clerks ſhall be aſſigned to make parcels of Accompts in the Eſchequer.

Two Clerks ſhall be aſſigned to make parcels of Accompts in the Eſchequer.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, That two Clerks ſhall be aſſigned to make parcels of accompts in the ſame Eſchequer to them that will demand the ſame; and they ſhall be ſworn that they ſhall commit no falſhood in their office, and ſhall take for their labour of them to whom they ſerve reaſonably, according to the ordinance of the Barons of the ſaid Eſchequer.

CAP. XIII.

Accompts of Nihil ſhall be put out of the Eſchequer. An Accomptant diſcharged upon his Oath.

Accompts of Nihil ſhall be put out of the Eſchequer.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, That the accompts of Nihil in the Eſchequer, ſhall be wholly put out; or if any ſuch accompts ought there to remain, the accomptants preſently after their oath made in the ſaid Eſchequer ſhall be examined by the Barons there, if they ſhould or ought to anſwer the King of any thing in this behalf: And if it be found by their ſaid oath that they ought not, then by the ſame their oath they ſhall be diſcharged to yield other accompt before any Auditor. The Kings right always ſaved. Co. Inſt.4. par. 106.

CAP. XIV.

The Clerk of the Pipe, &c. ſworn for the entry of Writs of the great and privy Seal.

The Clerk of the Pipe and the two Remembrancers ſhall be ſworn for the entry of Writs of the great or privy Seal, &c.

ITem, It is accorded and aſſented, That the Clerk of the Pipe, and the Remembrancers of the Eſchequer ſhall be ſworn, that from Term to Term they ſhall ſee (whiles the ſaid Eſchequer ſhall be open) all the Writs of the great Seal, or of the privy Seal, which ſhall be ſent to the ſaid Eſchequer the ſame Term for the final diſcharge of any perſon of the Realm of any demand in the ſaid Eſchequer, and that every of them to whom it pertaineth, ſhall make due execution of the ſaid commandment. And alſo it is ordained and aſſented, That the ſaid two Remembrancers ſhall be ſworn of their part, that every Term from henceforth they ſhall make a ſcedule of all the perſons that ſhall be diſcharged in their Offices by Judgment, or in other manner in the ſame Term, of any demands in the ſame Eſchequer, containing the manner of the ſame diſcharges, and to deliver the ſame ſcedule to the ſaid Clerk of the Pipe the ſame Term, to the intent that the ſame Clerk of the Pipe ſhall thereof diſcharge the ſaid parties in the great Roll. Alſo the ſaid Clerk of the Pipe ſhall be ſworn, that he from Term to Term ſhall require the ſame ſcedules, and the ſame ſcedules by him ſo received, he ſhall diſcharge the ſaid parties in the manner aforeſaid. And in the ſame manner the ſaid Clerk of the Pipe for his part ſhall cauſe to be certified in writing to the ſaid Rembrancers of all ſuch diſcharges which ſhall be made in his Office, to the intent that a man diſcharged in one place be diſcharged in all other places of the ſaid Eſchequer.

CAP. XV.

Upon a Judgment of Livery, the Remembrancer ſhall cauſe the ſuit to ceaſe.

ITem, Though that many times heretofore divers perſons have had livery of their Lands and Tenements out of the Kings hands, by judgment given for them in the Kings Bench, or elſewhere, and of the ſame judgments after have procured to ſend the tenor of the Records and Proceſſes thereof made by Writ of Mittimus, into the ſaid Eſchequer, to the intent for to diſcharge them of the accompts demanded of them upon the ſame Tenements; nevertheleſs the Officers of the ſame Eſchequer would not in times paſt diſcharge the ſaid perſons thereof, before that the ſame Records and Proceſſes were word by word newly entred into the Eſchequer, and thereupon new proceſs made, and new judgments there another time given, to the great damage and delay of the parties, without profit to the King: It is ordained and aſſented, That from henceforth after that ſuch Record or the tenor of the ſame, ſhall come into the ſame Eſchequer by the Kings commandment (as it is ſaid) that the Remembrancer, in whoſe Office ſuch accompts ſhall be demanded, ſhall preſently cauſe the ſuit to ceaſe in that behalf, by words to be entred upon the indorſment of the Writ, touching the tenor of the Record of the ſaid Judgment, without new Judgment or making of proceſs further in this behalf.

How the Remembrancer ſhall uſe a Judgment of Livery coming out of any Court into the Eſchequer

CAP. XVI.

The fees of the Clerks of the Eſchequer for making Commiſſions, or Records of Niſi prius.

ITem, It is aſſented, and the King ſtraitly defendeth, that from henceforth nothing ſhall be given for making a Commiſſion in the ſaid Eſchequer for the fee of a Clerk which ſhall make the ſame, above two ſhillings onely, nor for the record of Niſi prius with the Writ, but two ſhillings onely, as afore this time was wont to be done and uſed.

The Clerks fee for making of a Commiſſion or Record of Niſi prius in the Eſchequer.

Other Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 5 R. 2. and Anno Domini 1382.

FOr the common profit of the Realm of England, divers Ordinances and eſtabliſhments have been made by our Lord the King, the Prelates, Lords and Commons of the ſaid Realm, being in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Tueſday next after the Feaſt of St. John Portlatine, the fifth year of the Reign of our Lord King Richard the ſecond, in the form following.

CAP. I.

Merchants-ſtrangers may come unto, continue, and depart forth of the Realm.

FIrſt, It is accorded and aſſented in the Parliament, that all manner of Merchants-ſtrangers, of whatſoever Nation or Country they be, being of the amity of the King and of his Realm, ſhall be welcome, and freely may come within the Realm of England, and elſewhere within the Kings power, as well within Franchiſe as without, and there to be converſant, to merchandiſe and tarry as long as them liketh, as thoſe whom our ſaid Lord the King by the tenour hereof taketh into his protection and ſafeguard, with their goods, merchandiſes, and all manner familiars. And for ſo much the King willeth and commandeth, that they and every of them be well, friendly, and Merchant-like intreated, and demeaned in all parts within his ſaid Realm and Power, with their merchandiſes and all manner goods, and ſuffered to go and come, and into their proper Country peaceably to return without diſturbance or impeachment of any. St. 9 H. 3. 30. 9 Ed. 3. 1. 25 Ed. 3. 2.

Merchants-ſtrangers may come into this Realm, continue here, and depart at their pleaſures.

CAP. II.

CAP. III.

In which Court Writs of Nuſance, called Vicountiels, ſhall be purſued.

In what courts writs of Nuſance, called Vicountiels, ſhall be purſued. Regiſt. fo. 199. V. N. B. fo. 110. Fit. N. B. fo. 184.

Item, It is accorded and ordained, that all Writs of Nuſances, commonly called Vicountiels, ſhall be from henceforth made at the election of the Plaintiff in the nature of old times uſed, or elſe in the nature of Aſſiſes determinable before the Kings Juſtices of the one Bench or the other, or before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe to be taken in the County of the place aſſigned or to be aſſigned. St. 13 Ed. 1. 24.

CAP. IV.

Deeds inrolled that were deſtroyed in the late inſurrection, exemplified, ſhall be of force.

Deeds that were inrolled and late imbezled by Rebels in an inſurrection, being exemplified, ſhall be of the ſame force as the Deeds.

Item, It is accorded, that all the inrolments of Deeds, and other miniments in the Rolls of the Chancery, of either Bench and the Eſchequer of our Lord the King, before this time enrolled, and after by Traitors to the King and his Realm, in the inſurrection late made within the ſame Realm ſeditiouſly removed, torn, and rent, or otherwiſe imbezled, ſhall be in a due form exemplified under the Kings great Seal, without fee of the Seal thereof to be paid; and that the ſame exemplifications ſo had, ſhall be of the ſame effect and ſtrength in all things, as the ſame deeds and miniments ſhould have been, if they were had whole and unhurt. St. 5 R. 2. 8.

CAP. V.

Juſtices of Aſſiſe, &c. ſhall hold their Seſſions in principal Towns.

Juſtices of Aſſiſe and Gaol-delivery ſhall hold their Seſſions in the principal Towns. St. 11 R. 2. 11.

Item, It is ordained and accorded, that the Juſtices aſſigned and to be aſſigned, to take Aſſiſe and deliver the Gaols, ſhall from henceforth hold their Seſſions in the principal and chief Towns of every of the Counties, where the Shire-Courts of the ſame Counties be holden, and hereafter ſhall be holden. St. 14. H. 6. 3.

CAP. VI.

The penalties of the man and woman, where a woman raviſhed doth conſent. In an appeal of Rape, the defendant ſhall not wage battel.

The penalties both of the man and the woman, where a woman raviſhed doth conſent.

Item, Againſt the offendors and raviſhers of Ladies, and the daughters of Noble-men, and other women in every part of the ſaid Realm, in theſe days offending more violently, and much more then they were wont: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, that whereſoever, and whenſoever ſuch Ladies, daughters, and other women aforeſaid be raviſhed, and after ſuch rape do conſent to ſuch raviſhers, that as well the raviſhers, as they that be raviſhed, and every of them, be from thenceforth diſabled, and by the ſame deed be unable to have or challenge all inheritance, dower, or joynt-feoffment after the death of their husbands and anceſtors. And that incontinently in this caſe the next of the bloud of thoſe raviſhers, or of them that be raviſhed, to whom ſuch inheritance, dower, or joynt-feoffment ought to revert, remain, or fall after the death of the raviſher, or of her that is ſo raviſhed, ſhall have title immediately, that is to ſay, after the rape to enter upon the raviſher, or her that is raviſhed, and their aſſigns, and land-tenants, in the ſame inheritance, dower, or joynt-feoffment, and the ſame to hold in ſtate of inheritance. And that the husbands of ſuch women, if they have husbands, or if they have no husbands in life, that then the fathers, or other next of their bloud, have from henceforth the ſuit to purſue, and may ſue againſt the ſame offendors and raviſhers in this behalf, and to have them thereof convict of life, and of member, although the ſame woman after ſuch rape do conſent to the ſaid raviſhers. And further it is accorded, that the defendant in this caſe ſhall not be received to wage battel, but that the truth of the matter be thereof tried by inquiſition of the Country. Saving always to our Lord the King, and to other Lords of the ſaid Realm, all their Eſcheats of the ſaid raviſhers, if peradventure they be thereof convict. St. 3 Ed. 1. 13. 13 Ed. 1. 34.

St. 5 R. 2. 3.

Where no Engliſh ſhips are to be had, men may bring in or carry forth their merchandiſes in ſtrangers ſhips. St. 4 H. 7. 10.

CAP. IX.

No Victualler ſhall execute a Judicial place in a City, or Town Corporate.

ITem, It is ordained and enacted, that neither in the City of London, nor in other Cities, Boroughs, Towns, or Ports of the Sea, through the Realm, any Victualler ſhall have, exerciſe, nor in no wiſe occupy any Judicial office, but in ſuch Town where none other perſon ſufficient may be found to have the ſame office. In which caſe yet the ſame Judge for the time that he ſhall continue in the ſaid office, ſhall utterly omit and abſtain himſelf and his from the exerciſe of Victualling, upon pain of forfeiture of his victuals ſo ſold. St. 12 Ed. 2. 6. 3 H. 8. 8.

No Victualler ſhall exerciſe a judicial place in any City or Town corporate.

CAP. X.

Aliens being in amity with the King and the Realm, may bring in victuals, and ſell them.

ITem, It is ordained and accorded, that all manner of Foreiners and Aliens being of the amity of the King, and of his Realm, and coming within the ſaid City of London, and other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns within the ſaid Realm, as well within Liberties as without, with fiſh and all manner of other Victuals, there tarrying and going again to their own Countries, ſhall from henceforth be under the ſafeguard and the ſpecial protection of our ſaid Lord the King. And there it ſhall be lawful to them and every of them, and by force of theſe preſents, they may from henceforth cut their fiſhes and victuals aforeſaid, without impeachment or denying of any man, in pieces, and in part, or in all, at retail, or in groſs, as to them beſt ſhall ſeem, to ſell and make their profit: Any Charters, Statutes, Ordinances, Priviledges, or Cuſtoms made or had to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Aliens being in amity with the King and the Realm, may bring in victuals and ſell them in groſs. St. 14 H. 6. 6.

CAP. XI.

Hoſts in Cities, Towns, and places upon the Sea-coaſts, ſhall not foreſtall fiſh, or other victuals. Fiſhmongers of London may not buy freſh fiſh to ſell again, except Eels, Luces, and Pikes. Rep. 7. R. 2. 11.

CAP. XII.

All chief Officers of Towns Corporate ſhall be ſworn to obſerve the foreſaid Ordinance touching Fiſhmongers. Rep. 7 R. 2. 11.

CAP. XIII.

The Kings pardon to his ſubjects after the late Inſurrection. Except, &c.

Other Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 6 R. 2. and Anno Domini 1383.

RICHARD by the Grace of God, &c. Know ye that in the Parliament laſt holden at Weſtminſter, We cauſed to be made certain Statutes, Ordinances, and Pardons to ſuch effect as followeth, rehearſing the beginning of the laſt Parliament, with the confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, of the great Charter, and the Charter of the Forreſt, and the Statute of Purveyors for the Kings houſe.

CAP. I.

A more large pardon granted by the King to the offendors in the late Inſurrection, with few Exceptions. Exp.

CAP. II.

Whoſoever will attempt any ſuit for any treſpaſs done him in the late Inſurrection, ſhall begin it before xv. of St. John. Exp.

CAP. III.

They which can bring witneſs that they came to the Inſurrection compelled, ſhall be acquitted of treſpaſſes. Exp.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 7 R. 2. and Anno Domini 1383.

RICHARD by the Grace of God, &c. To the Sheriff of York, greeting. Know thou, that at our Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next before the Feaſt of All Saints laſt paſt, to the honour of God, and of holy Church, and for the common profit of the Realm, of the aſſent of the Prelates, Lords and Commons being at the ſaid Parliament, We have cauſed to be made certain Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church.

A confirmation of the liberties of the Church.

Firſt, It is aſſented and accorded, that holy Church have and enjoy all her Liberties and Franchiſes, as wholly as ſhe hath had and enjoyed them in the time of the Kings Noble Progenitors.

CAP. II.

A confirmation of all former Statutes in force.

A confirmation of all other Statutes in force.

ITem, That the great Charter, and the Charter of the Forreſt, and all other good Statutes and Ordinances made before this time and not repealed, ſhall be holden and kept, and put in due execution according to the effect of the ſame.

CAP. III.

A Jury for a treſpaſs within the Forreſt, ſhall give their Verdict where they received their Charge.

A Jury for a treſpaſs within a Forreſt ſhall give their Verdict where they receive their charge.

ITem, At the grievous complaint which is now made of the Officers of the Forreſt, it is aſſented and accorded, that no manner of Jury ſhall be from henceforth compelled by any Officer of the Forreſt, or other perſon whatſoever, to travel from place to place out of the places where their charge is given to them, againſt their gree, nor by malice, nor by menace, or other dureſs, conſtrained to give their verdict of a treſpaſs done in the Forreſt, otherwiſe then their conſcience will clearly inform them: but they ſhall give their verdicts upon their charge, in the places where their charge is given them, as above is ſaid. St. 9 H. 3. 16.

CAP. IV.

None ſhall be taken or impriſoned by the Officers of the Forreſt without indictment.

None ſhall be taken or impriſoned by the Officers of the Forreſt without indictment, or, &c. Regiſt. fo. 80.

ITem, It is aſſented, That no man be taken nor impriſoned by any Officer of the Forreſt without due Indictment, or being taken with the manner, or treſpaſſing in the Forreſt; nor ſhall be conſtrained to make any obligation or ranſom to any Officer of the Forreſt, in any ſort, againſt their agreement, and the aſſiſe of the Forreſt. And if any do againſt this Ordinance in any point, and thereof be attainted, he ſhall pay to the party damnified their double damages, and fine and ranſome to the King for his offence. St. 9 H. 3. 16. 1 Ed. 3. 8.

45 Ed. 3. c. 7.

CAP. V.

Juſtices, &c. ſhall examine Vagabonds, bind them to their good abearing, or commit them to priſon. Rep. 39 Eliz. 4. & 21 Jac. 28.

CAP. VI.

The Statute of Wincheſter confirmed. And every Sheriff ſhall proclaim it.

13 Ed. 1. The Statute of Wincheſter confirmed, and every Sheriff ſhall proclaim it four times in a year in every Hundred or Market.

ITem, For the grievous miſchiefs and complaints that do daily happen of robberies, thefts, manſlaughters, burning of houſes, and ridings in routs and great companies in every part of the Realm: It is ordained and aſſented, that the Statute of Wincheſter (the tenour whereof is ſent by our Lord the King this year laſt paſt into every County of England to be proclaimed) be holden and kept in all points, and put in good and haſty execution, at the complaint and purſuit of every man that feeleth himſelf grieved againſt the tenour of the ſame. And to the intent that no man ſhall excuſe himſelf by ignorance of the ſame Statute, it is alſo aſſented, that every Sheriff of England ſhall be bound from henceforth in proper perſon to make proclamation of the ſame Statute four times in a year in every Hundred of his Bailiwick, and by his Bailiffs in every Market-town, as well within Liberties as without.

CAP. VII.

In what caſe a Niſi prius ſhall be granted at the ſuit of any of the Jurors.

In what caſe a Niſi prius may be granted at the requeſt of any of the Jurors, to avoid delay.

ITem, Againſt the miſchief that happeneth to divers people of the Realm, which be impanelled and returned before the Juſtices and Barons of the Eſchequer, in which caſe, becauſe that the enqueſt is not purſued to the end by thoſe that be parties, but continued in delay from year to year, the Jurors do greatly loſe, and ſome much more then the value of their land is by year, to their great impoveriſhing and hinderance: It is accorded, that from henceforth in all manner of pleas where a Niſi prius is grantable of Office, after the great diſtreſs returned, and three times ſerved before the Juſtices againſt the Jurors, and thereupon the parties demanded, if none of the ſaid parties will purſue, or if the parties refuſe to have a Writ of Niſi prius in the caſe, then at the ſuit of any of the Jurors that be preſent, a Writ of Niſi prius ſhall be made and granted unto him, and that as well in the Eſchequer, as elſewhere, and thereupon the quarrel ſhall be ſet at an end without delay, according as the caſe requireth and the Law demandeth.

CAP. VIII.

No Subjects Chator ſhall take any victual or carriage without the owners good will.

ITem, It is accorded and aſſented, that the ſtatutes of Purveyors made before this time, be firmly holden and kept, and put in good and due execution, joyning to the ſame, That if the ſervants of other Lords and Ladies, which be not compriſed in the ſaid ſtatutes, do from henceforth take in any part within the Realm, victuals or carriages to the uſe of their Lords and Ladies otherwiſe then they thereof may agree with the owners and ſellers of the ſame by payment thereof to be made readily in hand, that the ſame ſervants ſhall incur the pain compriſed in the ſaid ſtatutes of Purveyors, and nevertheleſs the party endamaged by ſuch ſervants, if he will, ſhall have the ſuit at the common Law. St. 23 H.6.14.

No ſubjects Chators ſhall take any victuals or carriage without the conſent of the owners, and preſent payment. St. 36 Ed.3.6.

A Confirmation of all Statutes made againſt all deceits in Clothes, Aulnegers, &c.

ITem, For the miſchief which daily happeneth upon the falſhood and deceit which is found in Clothes vendible, as well coloured, as Ray Clothes, againſt the aſſiſe thereof ordained before this time, It is ordained and aſſented, that all the ſtatutes thereof made in times paſt, with the ſtatutes made of Aulnegers and Collectors of the Subſidy of the ſaid Clothes, be holden, kept, and put in due and good execution. Joyning to the ſame, that he which from henceforth ſhall eſpie and prove default in any ſuch Cloth ſet to ſale, againſt the aſſiſe thereof ordained of the ſaid Clothes, and againſt the form of the ſaid ſtatutes, ſhall have the third part of every ſuch Cloth defective, for his labor, by the delivery of the Sheriffs, if they be preſent, or of the Lords of the Fairs and Markets, and other places where ſuch Clothes ſhall be found defective, or of their Stewards or Bailiffs, or of the Conſtables of the Towns and places aforeſaid, by Indenture betwixt them duly to be made, which Indentures ſhall be every year at the Feaſt of S. Michael delivered into the Eſchequer, by them which ſo ſhall make the ſaid delivery, to the intent there to charge the Aulnegers and Collectors aforeſaid, by whom ſuch defaults ought to have been ſearched, corrected and mended, and be not, but commonly maintained and concealed in all parts. For which third part that pertaineth to the King as his forfeiture by force of the ſtatutes made in times paſt, the Aulnegers and Collectors aforeſaid in every County and place, where ſuch Clothes defective ſhall be found, for the pain againſt the ſaid offences and concealment ſhall make gree of their own money to our Lord the King in his Eſchequer, of the value of the ſame third part. So that as well of the ſame third part as of the remnant of the ſaid Cloth, the King ſhall be wholly anſwered at his ſaid Eſchequer. St. 5. Ed. 6. 6.

A confirmation of all St. made againſt deceit in clothes to be ſold, & againſt Aulnegers and Collectors of the ſubſidy of clothes.

He that findeth defects in any clothes contrary to former St. ſhall have the third part for his labour.

Aulnegers and Collectors of ſubſidies, ſhall ſatiſfie the King of that third part which the finder ſhall have.

CAP. X.

Where an Aſſiſe ſhall be taken of Rents iſſuing forth of lands in divers Counties.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, that an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin ſhall be from henceforth granted and made of rent behind due of tenements in divers Counties, to be holden in the confine of the Counties within which the tenements be. And thereupon the Aſſiſe ſhall be taken and tried by people of the ſaid Counties in the ſame manner as is done of a common of paſture being in one County, and appendant to tenements in another County. And that as well of diſſeiſins done in times paſt, as of diſſeiſins yet to be done, and that writs thereupon at the ſuit of the plaintiffs be made from henceforth in the Chancery without any manner of contradiction, in a due form. Regiſt. f. 196. &c. Fitz. N. B. f. 180. a. Raſt. pl. f. 249.

Fitz. Aſſiſe 26. Rel. f. 58. Co. Inſt. 154. 2.

Aſſiſe of rents iſſuing forth of lands in divers counties, ſhall be taken in Confinio comitatus.

CAP. XI.

A repeal of the Statutes 5 Rich. 2. 4. & 6 R. 2. 11. & 12. touching Victuallers of London.

ITem, Whereas in divers Parliaments holden at Weſtminſter, the fifth and ſixth year of our ſaid Lord the King, divers Ordinances and Statutes of Fiſhers of London, and other Victuallers were made, and alſo of Vintners, and of the ſale of Wines, and thereupon the ſame Ordinances and Statutes with the pains in them contained were publiſhed and proclaimed throughout the Realm, as in the ſaid ſtatutes and ordinances more plainly may appear: nevertheleſs for certain cauſes, at the requeſt of the commons of England thereupon ſpecially made, It is aſſented and agreed, that the ſame ordinances and ſtatutes of Fiſhers, Vintners, and Victuallers, made in the years aforeſaid, ſhall be wholly adnulled and repealed, and ſhall loſe their effect and ſtrength: nevertheleſs ſaving to the King all the forfeitures of wines for the time paſt that to him pertaineth by vertue of the ſame ordinances and ſtatutes. Provided always, that all the Vintners and Victuallers, as well Fiſhers as other coming with their victuals to the City of London, ſhall be from henceforth under the governance and rule of the Mayor and Aldermen of the ſaid City for the time being, as in time paſt it hath been uſed.

A repeal of the St. of 5 R. 2. 4. & 6 R. 2. 11. & 12. touching Fiſhers of London.

Fiſhers and Victuallers of London ſhall be under the rule of the Mayor and Aldermen. St. 31 Ed. 3. 10.

CAP. XII.

No Alien ſhall purchaſe any Benefice of the Church within this Realm, or occupie the ſame.

ITem, Whereas late in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the third year of the reign of our ſaid Lord the King, at the requeſt of the Commons, and by the aſſent of the Lords Temporal, it was ordained and aſſented, and upon a grievous pain prohibited, that no ſubject of the King, nor other perſon, of what eſtate or condition he were, ſhould take, neither receive from thenceforth within the Realm of England, Procuracy, Letter of Atturney, ne ferm nor any other adminiſtration by Indenture, or in any other manner, of any perſon concerning any Benefice of holy Church within the Realm, but only of the Kings Subjects of the ſame Realm, without the eſpecial grace and expreſs licence of our ſaid Lord the King, upon a certain pain contained in the ſaid ſtatute: It is aſſented and agreed by the ſame Lords, that the ſame ſtatute ſhall keep his force and effect in all points. And moreover, it is aſſented, that if any alien have purchaſed, or from henceforth ſhall purchaſe any Benefice of holy Church, Dignity, or other thing, and in his proper perſon take poſſeſſion of the ſame, or occupy it himſelf within the Realm, whether it be to his own proper uſe, or to the uſe of another, without eſpecial licence of the King, he ſhall be compriſed within the ſame ſtatute, and moreover ſhall incur all pains and forfeitures in all points as is before ordained by another ſtatute made the five and twentieth year of the Noble King Edward the third, grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, againſt them that purchaſe proviſions of Abbeys or Priories. And to the intent that ſuch licences ſhall not be from henceforth made, the King willeth and commandeth to all his ſubjects and other, that they ſhall abſtain them from henceforth to pray him for any ſuch Licence to be given. And alſo the King himſelf will refrain to give any ſuch Licence during the wars, except to the Cardinal of Naples, or to ſome other ſpiritual Perſon to whom the King is beholden for a ſpecial cauſe.

CAP. XIII.

No man ſhall ride in harneis within this Realm, nor with Launcegaies.

No man ſhall ride in harneis within the Realm, nor with Launcegays.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, and alſo the King doth prohibit, that from henceforth no man ſhall ride in harneis within the Realm, contrary to the form of the ſtatute of Northampton thereupon made, neither with Launcegay within the Realm, the which Launcegays be clearly put out within the ſaid Realm, as a thing prohibited by our Lord the King upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid Launcegays, Armours, and other harneis, in whoſe hands or poſſeſſions they be found, that bear them within the Realm, contrary to the Statutes and Ordinances aforeſaid, without the Kings ſpecial licence. St 2 Ed.3.3. 20 R.2.1.

CAP. XIV.

They which ſhall depart the Realm with the Kings licence, may make general Atturnies.

They which ſhall depart the Realm by the Kings licence may make general Atturnies.

ITem, In Writs of Præmunire facias, it is aſſented and agreed, that they againſt whom ſuch Writs be ſued, and who at this time be out of the Realm, and be of good fame, and have made their general Atturnies before their departing, that the Chancellor of England for the time being, by the advice of the Juſtices may grant, that the ſame perſons may appear to anſwer, to do, and to receive that thing which the Law demandeth, by their general Atturnies aforeſaid, as well as in other cauſes and quarrels. And thoſe perſons which from henceforth ſhall paſs by the Kings licence, and be of good fame, that at their requeſt the Chancellor, by the advice of the Juſtices, may grant to them to make their general Atturnies in the Chancery, by the Kings Patent before their paſſage, to anſwer as well in the ſaid writs of Præmunire facias as in other Writs and Plaints, in which caſe expreſs mention ſhall be made at all times of the Writs and Plaints of Præmunire facias. And this Patent ſo made, the ſaid Atturnies from henceforth in abſence of their Maſter, may anſwer for them, and make other Atturnies under them before any Judge of the Realm, to do, and receive in the ſaid caſe as much as in any other caſe or matter, notwithſtanding any ſtatute made to the contrary heretofore.

The Mainpernors ſhall ſatisfie the plaintiff for his delay, where the defendant keepeth not his day. Exp. Fitz. Exigent 9.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 8 Rich. 2. and Anno Dom. 1384.

TO the honour of God, and at the requeſt of the Communalty of the Realm of England made to our Lord the King in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the morrow of S. Martin, the eighth year of his reign: the ſame our Lord the King of the aſſent of the Prelates, Great men and Commons aforeſaid, hath cauſed to be made in the ſame Parliament a certain Statute for the common profit of the ſaid Realm, and eſpecially for the good and juſt governance, and due execution of the common Law, in the form following.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all Statutes not repealed.

The liberties of the Church, and all Statutes not repealed confirmed.

FIrſt, It is ordained and enacted, that holy Church have all her Liberties. And that the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt, the ſtatutes of Purveyors and Labourers, and all other ſtatutes and ordinances heretofore made and not repealed, ſhall be holden and obſerved, and put in due execution according to the form and effect of the ſame.

CAP.

CAP. II.

No man of Law ſhall be Juſtice of Aſſiſe, or Gaol-delivery, in his own Country.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, That no man of Law ſhall be from henceforth Juſtice of Aſſiſes, or of the common deliverance of Gaols in his own Country. And that the chief Juſtice of the common Bench be aſſigned amongſt other to take ſuch Aſſiſes, and deliver gaols; but as to the chief Juſtice of the Kings Bench, it ſhall be as for the moſt part of an hundred years laſt paſt was wont to be done. St. 13 H. 4. 2. 33 H. 8. 24.

No man of law ſhall be Juſtice of Aſſiſe, or, &c. in his own Country.

CAP. III.

None of the Juſtices or Barons ſhall take any fee or reward but of the King, nor ſhall give counſel where the King is party, or in any ſuit depending before them. Rep. 9 R. 2. 1.

CAP. IV.

The penalty if a Judge or Clerk make any falſe Entry, raze a Roll, or change a Verdict.

ITem, At the complaint of the ſaid Communalty made to our Lord the King in the Parliament, for that great diſheriſon in times paſt was done of the people, and may be done by the falſe entring of Pleas, razing of Rolles, and changing of Verdicts: It is accorded and aſſented, that if any Judge or Clerk be of ſuch default (ſo that by the ſame default there enſueth diſheriſon of any of the parties,) ſufficiently convict before the King and his Councel by the manner and form, which to the ſame our Lord the King and his Councel ſhall ſeem reaſonable, and within two years after ſuch default made, if the party grieved be of full age, and if he be within age, then within two years after that he ſhall come to his full age, he ſhall be puniſhed by fine and ranſom at the Kings will, and ſatisfie the party. And as to the reſtitution of the inheritance deſired by the ſaid Commons, the party grieved ſhall ſue by Writ or otherwiſe, according to the Law, if he ſee it expedient for him. St. 8 H. 6. 12.

The penalty if a Judge or Clerk make a falſe entry of a plea, raſe a roll, or change a verdict.

CAP. V.

What ſuit ſhall be diſcuſſed before the Conſtable and Marſhal of England.

AND becauſe divers Pleas concerning the Common Law, and which by the Common Law ought to be examined and diſcuſſed, are of late drawn before the Conſtable and Marſhal of England, to the great damage and diſquietneſs of the people: it is agreed and ordained, that all Pleas and ſuits touching the common Law, and which ought to be examined & diſcuſſed at the common Law, ſhall not hereafter be drawn or holden by any means before the foreſaid Conſtable and Marſhal, but that the Court of the ſame Conſtable and Marſhal ſhall have that which belongeth to the ſame Court, and that the common Law ſhall be executed and uſed, and have that which to it belongeth, and the ſame ſhall be executed and uſed, as it was accuſtomed to be uſed in the time of King Edward. 13 R. 2. 2.

What ſuit ſhall be diſcuſſed before the Conſtable and Marſhal of England.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 9 R. 2. and Anno Dom. 1385.

OUr Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next after the Feaſt of Saint Luke, the ninth year of his Reign, of the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Marqueſſes, Earls, Barons, and Commons at the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed the things underwritten.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of all Statutes not repealed, ſaving of the Statute of 8 R. 2. 3.

FIrſt, It is accorded and aſſented, that all the ſtatutes made by the Parliaments in the times of the Kings noble Progenitors, and in his own time, as well of Sheriffs, Underſheriffs, Eſcheators and Clerks of Sheriffs, as of Purveyors, and all other good Statutes and Ordinances not repealed by Parliament, ſhall be firmly holden and kept, and due execution thereof done, according to the effect of the ſame, (except the ſtatute of the Juſtices & Barons of the Exchequer made at the laſt Parliament, which becauſe it is very hard and needeth declaration, the King will that it be of no force till it be declared by Parliament.)

All former ſtatutes not repealed ſhall be put in execution. A repeal of the ſtatute of 8 R. 2. 3.

CAP. II.

Villains flying into places enfranchiſed, and ſuing their Lords, ſhall not bar thereby.

Co. Inſt. 1 par. 124 b. 125. a.

ITem, Whereas divers Villains, and Neiffs, as well of great Lords as of other people, as well Spiritual as Temporal, do fly within cities, towns & places enfranchiſed, as the City of London, and other like, & fain divers ſuits againſt their Lords, to the intent to make them free by the anſwer of their Lords: It is accorded and aſſented, that the Lords, nor other, ſhall not be forebarred of their villains, becauſe of their anſwer in ẏ Law. Raſt. pl. f. 581. 685.

ITem, It is accorded and aſſented, that if the tenant for term of life, tenant in dower, tenant by the courteſie of England, or tenant in tail after poſſibility of iſſue extinct, be impleaded and plead to an Enqueſt, and loſe by the oath of twelve, or by default, or in other manner, that he to whom the reverſion of the tenements ſo loſt doth appertain at the time of ſuch judgment given, his heirs or ſucceſſors ſhall have an action by Writ of Attaint, to attaint the ſame oath, if they will aſſign the ſame oath to be falſe, and alſo by Writ of Error, if error be found in the record of ſuch judgment, as well in the life of ſuch tenants, that do loſe, as after their death. And if ſuch judgment erroneous be reverſed, or ſuch falſe oath be found, that the tenant which did loſe by the firſt judgment, if he be in life, ſhall be reſtored to his poſſeſſion of the tenements ſo loſt, with the iſſues in the mean time, and the party purſuing Regiſt. 4. 122. V.N.B. f. 55. 112. Fitz. N.B. f. 108. a. He in the reverſion ſhall have an attaint or writ of Error upon a falſe verdict found, or an erroneous judgment given againſt the particular tenant.

to the arrearages of the rent, if any be due to the ſame tenements. And if ſuch tenants be dead at the time of the judgment given upon ſuch writs of Attaint, and of error, that reſtitution of the ſaid tenements be made to the party purſuing, with the iſſues after the death of the ſaid tenant, together with the arrearages of the rent, if any to him were due in the life of the ſaid tenant.

He in the reverſion alledgeth that the particular tenant was of covin with the demandant.

The particular tenants remedy to traverſe the covin.

Provided nevertheleſs, that although the tenant which ſo did loſe by the firſt judgment be in life, and the party purſuing will alledge that the ſame tenant was of covin, and of aſſent of the demandant, which recovered, that ſuch ought to be loſt, that reſtitution of the ſame tenements be made to the ſame party purſuing, with the iſſues and arrearages, as afore is ſaid, Saving to ſuch Tenant his action by Writ of Scire facias, out of the ſame judgment ſo reverſed or given, or Writ of Attaint, if he will traverſe the covin and aſſent aforeſaid, and otherwiſe not. And that this Statute hold place of judgments to be given in time to come. And alſo of two judgments late given in the Kings bench in two pleas of error, the one betwixt Edmund Frances and Idein his wife demandants, and Robert Weſtby, and other tenants of certain tenements in Oxenford, and in the ſuburbs of the ſame town: and the other betwixt the ſaid Edmund and Idein demandants, and Richard Cornwall, and Iſabel his wife, and other tenants of tenements in the ſame town, of which tenements the reverſion at the time of the ſaid two judgments given, did pertain to the Maſter and Scholars of the Colledge of the Univerſity Hall in Oxenford, as it is ſaid, ſo that the Maſter and Scholars may have and do their ſuit by Writ of Attaint or of errour of the ſame judgments, as to them beſt ſhall ſeem, according to the form of this Statute. 23 H.8.3.

The fees of Prieſts taken in the Marſhalſie of the Kings houſe.

The fees of Prieſts taken in the Marſhalſie of the Kings houſe.

ITem, For the reverence of God and of holy Church, it is accorded and eſtabliſhed, that Prieſts and other people of holy Church, taken in the Marſhalſie of the Kings houſe, ſhall pay ſuch fees as lay people pay, reaſonably and no more.

A Statute made Anno 10 R. 2. and Anno Dom. 1386.

KNow ye, that for the reverence of God, and to nouriſh peace, unity, and good accord in all parties within the Realm of England, and eſpecially for the common profit and eaſe of our people, and good governance of the ſame our Realm of England, which we chiefly deſire, of the aſſent of the Lords and Commons aſſembled in our Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the firſt day of October laſt paſt, we have cauſed to be made a Statute, as well for the amendment of the ſaid governance, as for the common profit of the ſaid Realm, in the form following.

CAP. I.

The King granteth a Commiſſion to his Chancellor, Treaſurer and Keeper of his privy Seal, and to certain Biſhops and temporal Lords and others to be of his Councel for one year, to ſurvey and examine the eſtate of his houſe, Courts, and places of all his Realm, and all his Officers and Miniſters, and his Rents, Revenues, and profits, and all his Gifts, Grants, Alienations, and Confirmations, his Money and Bullion, his Priſoners and Towns taken in War, Benefices of Aliens, carrying money out of the Realm, his Cuſtoms and Subſidies of all merchandiſes, his Diſms and Quinzimes granted to him, the profits of his Hanaper, and all other his receits, the fees and wages of his Officers, Annuities and rewards, Gifts and Grants made by his Grandfather, Father, or him, to any perſon, his lands, his rents, &c. ſold to the prejudice of him and his Crown, of Bargains and Sales, of Tallies and Patents for ſingular profit, and all other offences inquirable prejudicial to him and his Crown, and to correct and amend the ſame defaults and offences. Exp. and Rep. 21 R.2.2.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 37 R. 2. and Anno Domini 1387.

OUr Lord the King heartily deſiring, that the peace of his land be well holden and kept, and his faithful Subjects nouriſhed and governed in quietneſs and tranquility in all parts within his Realm of England, to the honour of God, and for the cauſes aforeſaid, by the aſſent of the Lords and Commons of his Realm of England aſſembled at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the morrow of the purification of our Lady, the eleventh year of his reign, doth make and ſtabliſh certain Statutes, and alſo doth grant certain graces and pardons in the form underwritten.

CAP. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, & 6.

Certain Peers of the Realm do appeal of high Treaſon, and of conſpiracy, five Traitors for aſſembling by force, and for conſpiring to deſtroy the King, the Realm, and the Lords, and Commiſſioners by him authorized: Whereupon the ſaid five Traitors be attainted of high treaſon by Parliament, and the King ſhall have the forfeiture of their lands and goods. And fraudulent conveyances of their goods to deceive the King, ſhall be void: and alſo a fraudulent Rent-charge granted by a Traitor. The eſtate of the Iſſue in tail of him in the reverſion, and of women for their inheritance and jointure ſaved; And alſo the eſtate of him is ſaved to whoſe uſe a Traitor is ſeiſed. Rep. 21 R.2. 12. CAP. VII.

All Merchants Aliens and Denizens may buy and ſell within this Realm without interruption.

ITem, Whereas by a Statute made at York, the ninth year of K. Edward 3. grandfather of the King that now is, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all Merchants aliens & denizens, and all other and every of them, of what eſtate and condition they be, which will buy or ſel corn, wine, avoir de pois, fleſh, fiſh, and all other victuals, wool, clothes, wares, merchandiſes, and all other things vendible, from whenceſoever they come, by foreigners or by denizens, to what place that it be, be it City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, Fair, Market, or other place within the ſame Realm, within Franchiſe or without, may freely & without diſturbance ſell the ſame to whom pleaſe them, as well to foreiners as denizens, except to the enemies of the King and of his Realm: And if percaſe diſturbance be done to any Merchant alien or denizen, or other, upon the ſale of ſuch things in City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, or other place whish hath a Franchiſe, and the Mayor, Bailiffs, or other, that have the keeping of the ſaid Franchiſe be required by the ſaid Merchants or other, thereof to make remedy, and do not, and thereof be attainted, the Franchiſe ſhall be takeu into the Kings hand: And nevertheleſs he and other which have done this diſturbance againſt this ſtatute, ſhall be bound to yield and reſtore to the ſaid Merchant his double damages, which he hath ſuſtained by this occaſion. And if ſuch diſturbance be done to ſuch Merchant, or to other, in Towns and places where no Franchiſe is, and the Lord if he be preſent, or his Bailiff, Conſtable, or other Warden of the ſaid Towns and places, in abſence of the Lords thereof, required to do right, do not, and thereof be attainted, they ſhall yield to the Plaintiff his double damages as afore is ſaid; and the diſturbers in the one caſe and the other, as well within Franchiſe as without, if they be attainted, ſhall have impriſonment of one year, and nevertheleſs be ranſomed at the Kings will. And that no alien nor denizen upon the ſame pains be diſturbed, but that he may freely buy the things above named in the places aforeſaid, and carry the ſame where pleaſeth him to his own uſe, or to the profit of the King, the great men and the people of the Realm, except that the Merchants aliens ſhall carry no Wines out of the Realm (as it is contained in their Charter) and that the ſaid things be holden, kept and performed in every City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, and other places within the ſaid Realm: notwithſtanding any Charters of Franchiſe to them granted to the contrary, nor uſage, cuſtom nor judgment given upon their Charters, uſages, nor cuſtoms which they can alledge: which Charters, uſages and cuſtoms (if any there were) the ſaid King, the Grandfather, the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and great men and commons aforeſaid do hold of no force, as things granted, uſed and accuſtomed to the damage of the King, the Prelates, Earls, Barons, and great men of this Realm, and oppreſſion of the Commons.

St 9 Ed. 3. 1. Merchants may buy and ſell wares, victuals, and all other commodities within the Realm, without diſturbance. 9 H. 3. 30.

What penalty ſhall be inflicted upon them which do diſturb merchants to ſell their commodities.

Merchants aliens ſhall carry no wine out of the Realm.

Saving always to the King, and to other, the cuſtoms due of the ſaid Merchandiſes. And alſo that the Chancellor, Treaſurer, and Juſtices aſſigned to hold the pleas of the King in places where they come, ſhall inquire of ſuch diſturbances and grievances, and puniſh according as is before ordained. And nevertheleſs the King ſhall cauſe to be aſſigned by Commiſſion under the great Seal, certain people, where and when it ſhall pleaſe him, to inquire of ſuch diſturbances and grievances, and to execute puniſhment, as aforeſaid. And after by a Statute made at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xxv. year of King Edward the third, it was ordained by the ſame Edward the grandfather, Prelates, Earls, Barons, and all other great men and Commons, that the ſaid Statute made the ſaid ix. year, in all points and articles contained in the ſame, ſhould be holden, kept, and maintained. And if any Charter, Letters Patents, Proclamation or commandment, uſage, allowance or judgment were made to the contrary, the ſame ſhould be utterly repealed, avoided and holden for none. And moreover that every Merchant or other, of what condition that he be, as well alien as denizen, which ſhall bring wines, fleſh, and fiſh, or victuals, clothes, fels, or avoir de pois, or any other wares or merchandiſes to the City of London, or to other Cities, Boroughs, or good Towns of England, or Port of the Sea, may freely and without challenge or impeachment of any, ſell them in groſs or at retail, or by parcels, at his will, to all manner people that will buy the ſame, notwithſtanding any grant, franchiſe or cuſtom uſed, or any other manner thing done to the contrary, ſince that ſuch franchiſes and uſages be in common prejudice of the King, and of all his people. And that no Mayor, Bailiff, Catchpole, Miniſter or other ſhall meddle with the ſale of any manner of victuals vendible carried or brought to Cities, Boroughs, nor other Towns, nor Fair, nor Market, but only he to whom the victuals ſhall be. And alſo that Proclamation be thereof made of new in all the Counties of England, and in the City of London, and in all other Cities, Boroughs, and good Towns and Ports of the Sea, and elſewhere within the Realm of England, where it ſhall be needful. And that the ſaid King the grandfather ſhall thereupon cauſe to be aſſigned his Juſtices at all times that ſhall pleaſe him, and ſhall be neceſſary, to inquire of all them that ſhall ſell or any thing do to the contrary, and to puniſh them according to the pain contained in the ſame Statute, made the ſaid ninth year. And that every man that will ſue againſt any, ſhall have a writ out of the Chancery to attach him by his body, as a diſturber of the common profit, and to make him come to the anſwer thereof in the Kings Court, as by the ſame Statutes plainly doth appear: Our Lord the King ſeeing clearly that the ſaid Statutes if they were holden and fully executed, ſhould much extend to the profit and wealth of all the Realm, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed by the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, great men, Nobles and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That the ſaid Statutes ſhall from henceforth be firmly holden, kept, maintained, and fully executed in all points and articles of the ſame, notwithſtanding any Ordinance, Statute, Charter, Letters Patents, Franchiſe, Proclamation, Commandment, Uſage, Allowance, or

A reſervation of Cuſtoms. Who may inquire of and puniſh the foreſaid offences.

Ann. 25 Ed. 3. 2.

Merchants may ſell their wares in groſs or by retail, or by parcels, notwithſtanding any grant or cuſtom to the contrary. 2 R. 2. 1.

The St. of 9 Ed. 3. 1. & 25 Ed. 3. 2. ſhall be executed in all points notwithſtanding any Charter, &c.

Judgment made or uſed to the contrary. And that if any Statute, Ordinance, Charter, Letters Patents, Franchiſe, Proclamation, Commandment, Uſage, Allowance or Judgment be made or uſed to the contrary, it ſhall be utterly repealed, avoided, and holden for none. St. 16 R. 2. 1. 1 H. 4. 17.

CAP. VIII.

Certain Annuities granted by the King, his Father and Grandfather, made void.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all the Annuities and other things given or granted by our Lord the King, or by his Father or Grandfather, to any manner of perſons with the clauſe, Quouſq; pro ſtatu ſuo aliter duxerimus ordinandum, ſhall be wholly void and of no force, if the ſame perſons have accepted afterward any other things of the King and of his ſaid Father or Grandfather.

CAP. IX.

No new Impoſition ſhall be put upon Merchandiſes.

ITem, That no Impoſition or charge be put upon Wools, Leather, or Woolfels, other then the Cuſtom and Subſidy granted to the King in this preſent Parliament; and if any be, the ſame ſhall be repealed and annulled, as it was another time ordained by Statute, ſaving always unto the King his ancient right. St. 45 E. 3. 4.

CAP. X.

The Kings Signet or privy Seal ſhall not be ſent in diſturbance of the Law.

No ſeal of the Kings ſhall be ſent to prejudice the common Law.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That neither letters of the Signet, nor of the Kings privy Seal, ſhall be from henceforth ſent in damage or prejudice of the Realm, nor in diſturbance of the Law. St. 9 H. 3. 29. 2 Ed. 3. 8. Co. 41.

CAP. XI.

The keeping of Aſſiſes in good Towns, referred to the conſideration of Juſtices, &c.

St. 6 R. 2. 5. The keeping of Aſſiſes in good Towns referred to the conſideration of the Chancellor and Juſtices.

ITem, Whereas late in a Statute made at Weſtminſter in the ſixth year of the Kings Reign that now is, amongſt other things it was ordained and accorded, That the Juſtices aſſigned and to be aſſigned to take Aſſiſes, and deliver Gaols, ſhould hold their Seſſions in the chief and principal Towns of every County, that is to ſay, where the Shire-Courts of the ſame Counties be or hereafter ſhall be holden: our Lord the King conſidering how the ſaid Statute is in part prejudicial and grievous to the people of divers Counties of England, doth will and grant of the aſſent aforeſaid, at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, that the Chancellor of England for the time being, ſhall have power thereof to make and provide remedy by advice of the Juſtices from time to time when need ſhall be, notwithſtanding the ſaid Statute.

Statutes made at Canterbury, Anno 12 R. 2. & An. Dom. 1388.

FOr the common profit and univerſal wealth of all the Realm of England, our Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Canterbury the morrow after the Nativity of our Lady, the twelfth year of his Reign, by the aſſent of the Lords and Commons there aſſembled, hath made certain Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all former Statutes not repealed.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of former Statutes.

FIrſt it is accorded and aſſented, That holy Church have all her liberties and franchiſes. And that the great Charter and the Charter of the Foreſt, and all other Statutes and Ordinances made in times paſt, and not repealed, ſhall be duly holden, and firmly kept.

CAP. II.

None ſhall obtain Offices by ſuit, or for reward, but upon deſert.

None ſhall obtain offices by ſuit, or for reward, but by deſert.

ITem, It is accorded that the Chancellor, Treaſurer, Keeper of the privy Seal, Steward of the Kings houſe, the Kings Chamberlain, Clerk of the Rolls, the Juſtices of the one Bench and of the other, Barons of the Eſchequer, and all other that ſhall be called to ordain, name, or make Juſtices of the Peace, Sheriffs, Eſcheators, Cuſtomers, Comptrollers, or any other Officer or Miniſter of the King, ſhall be firmly ſworn, that they ſhall not ordain, name or make Juſtices of Peace, Sheriff, Eſcheator, Cuſtomer, Comptroller nor other Officer nor Miniſter of the King for any gift or brocage, favour or affection; nor that none which purſueth by him, or by other, privily or openly to be in any manner Office, ſhall be put in the ſame Office, or in any other: but that they make all ſuch Officers and Miniſters of the beſt, and moſt lawful men, and ſufficient to their eſtimation and knowledge. St. 5 E. 6. cap. 16. Co. Inſt. 2. part 234. 2.

CAP. III.

No ſervant ſhall depart from one Hundred to another, without a teſtimonial under the Kings ſeal: A ſervant wandring without a teſtimonial ſhall be ſet in the Stocks. Rep. 5 El. 4. and 21 Jac. 28.

CAP. X.

How many Juſtices of Peace there ſhall be in every County: and how often they ſhall keep their Seſſions.

ITem, It is ordained and agreed, That in every Commiſſion of the Juſtices of Peace, there ſhall be aſſigned but ſix Juſtices, with the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, and that the ſaid ſix Juſtices ſhall keep their Seſſions in every quarter of the year at the leaſt, and by three days if need be, upon pain to be puniſhed according to the diſcretion of the Kings Council, at the ſuit of every man that will complain: and they ſhall inquire diligently among other things touching their Offices, if the ſaid Mayors, Bailiffs, Stewards, Conſtables and Gaolers have duely done execution of the ſaid Ordinances of ſervants and labourers, beggars and vagabonds, and ſhall puniſh them that be puniſhable by the ſaid pain of an hundred ſhillings, by the ſame pain; and they that be found in default, and which be not puniſhable by the ſame pain, ſhall be puniſhed by their diſcretion. And every of the ſaid Juſtices ſhall take for their wages four ſhillings the day for the time of their ſaid Seſſions, and their Clerk two ſhillings, of the fines and amerciaments riſing and coming of the ſame Seſſions, by the hands of the Sheriffs. And that the Lords of Franchiſes ſhall be contributory to the ſaid wages, after the rate of their part of fines and amerciaments aforeſaid. And that no Steward of any Lord be aſſigned in any of the ſaid Commiſſions. And that no aſſociation ſhall be made to the Juſtices of the Peace after their firſt Commiſſion. And it is not the intent of this Statute, that the Juſtices of the one Bench, or of the other, nor the Serjeants of the Law, in caſe that they ſhall be named in the ſaid Commiſſions, ſhall be bound by force of this Statute, to hold the ſaid Seſſions four times in the year as the other Commiſſioners, the which be continually dwelling in the Countrey, but that they ſhall do it when they may beſt attend it.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 13 R. 2. & Anno Dom. 1389.

IN the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next after the Feaſt of St. Hillary, the thirteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond after the Conqueſt, our Lord the King, to the honour of God and holy Church, and for the common profit of his liege people of his Realm, of the aſſent of the Prelates and Lords temporal, and Commons being in the ſame Parliament, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed the things under-written.

CAP. I.

The Kings preſentee ſhall not be received to a Church full of an Incumbent, until he hath recovered it by Law.

The Statute of Ed.3.3. confirmed, touching the examination of the Kings title to a Benefice when he preſenteth in anothers right. When the King preſenteth to a Benefice full of an incumbent his preſentee ſhall not be received until he hath recovered by Law.

FIrſt, Whereas it is ordained by a Statute made the xxv. year of the Reign of King Edward the Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, that at what time the King ſhall make collation or preſentment to any benefice in anothers right, that the title upon which he groundeth himſelf ſhall be well examined that it be true; and at what time before judgment given, the title be found by good information untrue and not juſt, the collation or preſentment thereupon made ſhall be repealed: and notwithſtanding the ſame Statute, ſome of the Kings preſentees by favour of the Ordinaries be inſtituted and inducted in benefices of holy Church without due proceſs, the parties not warned nor called, and ſometime taken by falſe Inqueſts favourably, and the incumbents in ſuch manner put out. It is ordained and aſſented, That the ſaid Statute be firmly holden and kept. And moreover our Lord the King, for the reverence of God and holy Church, doth will and grant, That if he preſent to any benefice that is full of any incumbent, that the preſentee of the King ſhall not be received by the Ordinary to the benefice, till the King hath recovered his preſentment by proceſs of the Law in his own Court: And if any preſentee of the King be otherwiſe received, and the incumbent put out without due proceſs, as afore is ſaid, the ſaid incumbent ſhall begin his ſuit within a year after the induction of the Kings preſentee at the leaſt. The authority of the Conſtable of England, and the remedy where it is abuſed.

The authority of the Conſtable of England, and wherein it conſiſteth.

ITem, Becauſe that the Commons do make a grievous complaint, that the Court of the Conſtable and the Marſhal hath incroached to him, and daily doth incroach contracts, covenants, treſpaſſes, debts and detinues, and many other actions pleadable at the common law, in great prejudice of the King, and of his Courts, and to the great grievance and oppreſſion of the people: Our Lord the King willing to ordain a remedy againſt the prejudices and grievances aforeſaid, hath declared in this Parliament by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, the power and juriſdiction of the ſaid Conſtable, in the form that followeth. To the Conſtable it pertaineth to have cogniſance of contracts touching deeds of Arms and of War out of the Realm, and alſo of things that touch War within the Realm, which cannot be determined nor diſcuſſed by the common Law, with other uſages and cuſtoms to the ſame matters pertaining, which other Conſtables heretofore have duly and reaſonably uſed in their time. Joyning to the ſame, that every Plaintiff ſhall declare plainly his matter in his Petition, before that any man be ſent for to anſwer thereunto. And if any will complain that any plea be commenced before the Conſtable and Marſhal, that might be tryed by the common Law of the Land, the ſame Plaintiff ſhall have a privy Seal of the King without difficulty, directed to the ſaid Conſtable and Marſhal, to ſurceaſe in that plea, until it be diſcuſſed by the Kings Council, if that matter ought of right to pertain to that Court, or otherwiſe to be tryed by the common law of the Realm of England, and alſo that they ſurceaſe in the mean time. In which Courts an Attaint may be brought upon a falſe Verdict given in Lincoln.

ITem, Becauſe that upon the grievous complaint of the reverend Father in God, the Biſhop of Lincoln, and the Dean and the Chapiter of the Church of our Lady in Lincoln, made by their petition to our Lord the King, and the Lords in this preſent Parliament: the Mayor and the Bailiffs of the City of Lincoln by the commandment of the King, and the aſſent of the Lords, were enjoyned and charged by Writ, to be before the King and his Council in the ſame Parliament at a certain day, with ſufficient inſtruction and information of all the matter compriſed in the ſame petition, with full power and authority under the common Seal of the ſaid City, to anſwer for them, and the Commonalty of the ſaid City, upon all things contained in the ſame petition, and further to do and receive that which ſhall be ordained by the King and his Council in that behalf, upon a certain pain limited in the ſame Writ; the tenour of which petition, containing the grievances done to the ſaid Biſhop and Chapiter by the people of the City of Lincoln, by colour of their Franchiſe, was ſent to the ſaid Mayor and Bailiffs cloſed within the ſaid Writ. And though the ſaid Mayor and Bailiffs at the day contained in the ſame Writ came before the King and his Council in the Parliament aforeſaid, yet they did not bring any ſufficient warrant from the Commonalty of the ſaid City, as they had in commandment by the ſaid Writ; and upon that our ſaid Lord the King, by the aſſent of the Prelates and other Lords in the ſame Parliament being, by default of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commons aforeſaid in that behalf, hath proceeded and examined the ſaid petition, and the grievances therein contained. And alſo becauſe that a common clamour hath been, that many of the Kings lieges often have ſuffered divers injuries in the ſaid City, becauſe in reſpect of freeholds within the ſame City, treſpaſſes, contracts, and other things riſing within the ſame City, triable by Aſſiſe, Jury, or Enqueſt, have been tried by people of the ſame City, which be ſo favourable one to another, that they doubt not to make falſe oaths, and that becauſe they be encouraged, for as much as they have not been before this time convict by foreigners, by colour of their Franchiſe: Our Lord the King, willing for the cauſes aforeſaid, to provide for the quietneſs of the ſaid Church, and full right to be done as well to the ſaid Biſhop, Dean and Chapiter, and their ſucceſſors, as to all other in time coming, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed in that behalf, that in Aſſiſes, Juries, and all other Enqueſts that ſhall be taken between party and party, before the Mayor and Bailiffs of the ſame City for the time being, if any of the parties feel himſelf grieved of a falſe oath made by ſuch Aſſiſe, Jury, or Enqueſt, the Attaint ſhall be granted to him, and the Record ſent by Writ into the Kings Bench, or into the Common place. And that the Sheriff empanel the Jury of ſuch Attaint, of Foreigners of the County, without ſending to the Franchiſe of the ſaid City, and that the Juſtices ſhall take the ſame Jury of the ſame Forreigners, notwithſtanding any Franchiſe granted to the ſame City, or other uſage to the contrary. A confirmation of the Statute of 13 Ed. 1. 47. touching the taking of Salmons.

A confirmation of the Statute of 13 Ed. 1. 47. touching the prohibiting of Salmons to be taken certain times of the year.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in the Statute of Weſtminſter the ſecond, that young Salmons ſhall not be taken nor deſtroyed by Nets, nor by other Engines, at Mill-dams, from the midſt of April till the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt, upon a certain pain limited in the ſame Statute: It is accorded and aſſented, that the ſaid Statute be firmly holden and kept, joyning to the ſame, That young Salmons ſhall not be taken during the ſaid time, at Mill-dams nor in other places, upon the ſame pain. And that no Fiſher, or Garthmen, nor any other, of what eſtate or condition that he be, ſhall from henceforth put in the waters of Thamiſe, Humber, Ouſe, Trent, nor any other waters of the Realm by the ſame time, nor in any other time of the year, any Nets called Stalkers, nor other Nets nor Engines whatſoever they be, by the which the frie or the breed of the Salmons, Lamprays, or any other fiſh, may in any wiſe be taken or deſtroyed, upon the pain aforeſaid. And alſo where it is contained in the ſame Statute, that all the waters, in which Salmons be taken within the Realm, ſhall be put in defence as to the taking of Salmons, from the day of the Nativity of our Lady until St. Martins day: It is ordained and aſſented, that the waters of Lonwyre, Merſee, Rybbyl, and all other waters in the County of Lancaſter, be put in defence, as to the taking of Salmons, from Michaelmas day to the Purification of our Lady, and in no other time of the year, becauſe that Salmons be not ſeaſonable in the ſaid waters in the time aforeſaid. And in the parties where ſuch Rivers be, there ſhall be aſſigned and ſworn good and ſufficient conſervators of this Statute, as it is ordained in the ſaid Statute of Weſtminſter, and that they ſhall puniſh the offendors after the pain contained in the ſame Statute, without any favour thereof to be ſhewed. CAP. I.

In a pardon of Murder, Treaſon, or Rape, the offence committed ſhall be ſpecified. The forfeiture of him at whoſe ſuit ſuch a Pardon is obtained.

OUr Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Munday next after the Feaſt of St. Hillary, the thirteenth year of his Reign, hearing the grievous complaint of his ſaid Commons in the ſame Parliament, of the outragious miſchiefs and damages which have happened to his ſaid Realm, for that treaſons, murders, and rapes of women be commonly done and committed, and the more becauſe Charters of pardon have been eaſily granted in ſuch caſes: the ſaid Commons requeſted our Lord the King, that ſuch Charters might not be granted: to whom the King anſwered, That he will ſave his Liberty and Regality, as his Progenitors have done heretofore: but to nouriſh the more quietneſs and peace within his Realm, by the aſſent of the great men and Nobles, being in the ſame Parliament, he hath granted, That no Charter of pardon from henceforth ſhall be allowed before any Juſtice for murder, or for the death of a man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, treaſon, or rape of a woman, unleſs the ſame murder, death of the man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, treaſon, or rape of a woman, be ſpecified in the ſame Charter. And if the Charter of the death of a man be alledged before any Juſtices, in which Charter it is not ſpecified, that he of whoſe death any ſuch is arraigned, was murdered or ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, the ſame Juſtices ſhall enquire by a good enqueſt, of the viſne where the dead was ſlain, if he were murdered or ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, the Charter ſhall be diſallowed, and further it ſhall be done as the Law commandeth. And if any be a ſuiter to the King for a Charter of pardon for murder, death of a man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, treaſon, or rape of a woman, if the Chamberlain indorſe, or cauſe to be indorſed ſuch Bill, he ſhall ſet the name of him that maketh ſuit for ſuch Charter upon the ſame Bill, upon pain of one thouſand marks, and if the Under-chamberlain indorſe ſuch Bill, he ſhall do likewiſe, upon pain of five hundred marks; and that none other then the Chamberlain or Under-chamberlain endorſe nor cauſe to be endorſed any ſuch Bill, upon pain of one thouſand marks: and that ſuch Bill be ſent and directed to the Keeper of the Privy Seal. And that no warrant of the Privy Seal be made to have ſuch Charter, unleſs the Keeper of the Privy Seal have ſuch Bill endorſed or ſigned by the Chamberlain or Under-chamberlain, as afore is ſaid. And that no Charter of Pardon, of treaſon, nor of other felony, paſs the Chancery without warrant of the Privy Seal, but in caſe where the Chancellor may grant it of his Office, without ſpeaking thereof to the King. And if he, at whoſe ſuit any Charter of Pardon for murder, death of a man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, treaſon, or rape of a woman, be granted, be an Archbiſhop or Duke, he ſhall pay to the King one thouſand pound; and if he be a Biſhop or Earl, he ſhall pay to the King one thouſand marks; and if he be an Abbot or Prior, Baron or Baronet, he ſhall pay five hundred marks; and if he be a Clerk, Batchelor, or other of leſs eſtate, of whatſoever condition that he be, he ſhall pay to the King two hundred marks, and have one years impriſonment.

In a pardon for murder, treaſon, rape, &c. the offence committed ſhall be ſpecified.

Provided nevertheleſs, that all they to whom the Pope of Rome, or his predeceſſors, have provided any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, or other dignity, or other benefices of holy Church, of the patronage of people of holy Church, in reſpect of any voidance before the ſaid 29. day of January, and thereof were in actual poſſeſſion before the ſame 29. day, ſhall have, and enjoy the ſaid Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, dignities, and other benefices peaceably for their lives, notwithſtanding the ſtatutes and ordinances aforeſaid. And if the King ſend by Letter or in other manner to the Court of Rome, at the intreaty of any perſon, or if any other ſend or ſue to the ſame Court, whereby any thing is done contrary to this ſtatute, touching any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, dignity or other benefice of holy Church, within the ſaid Realm, if he that maketh ſuch motion or ſuit be a Prelate of holy Church, he ſhall pay to the King the value of his temporalties of one year; and if he be a temporal Lord, he ſhall pay to the King the value of his lands and poſſeſſions not moveable of one year. And if he be another perſon of a more mean eſtate, he ſhall pay to the King the value of the benefice for which ſuit is made, and ſhall be impriſoned one year. And it is the intent of this ſtatute, that of all dignities and benefices of holy Church, which were void indeed the ſaid xxix. day of Jannury, which be given, or to whom it is provided by the Pope of Rome before the ſame xxix. day, that they to whom ſuch gifts or proviſions be made, may freely of ſuch gifts and proviſions, ſue execution without offence of this ſtatute. Provided always that of no dignity or benefice, which was full the ſaid xxix. day of January, no man becauſe of any collation, gift, reſervation and proviſion, or other grace Papal, not executed before the ſaid xxix. day, ſhall not ſue thereof execution, upon the pains and forfeitures contained in this preſent Statute. CAP. IV.

There ſhall be but eight Buſhels of Corn ſtriked to the quarter.

ITem, Whereas it is ordained by divers Statutes, that one meaſure of Corn, Wine, and Ale ſhould be throughout the Realm, and that eight buſhels ſtriked make the quarter of Corn; Nevertheleſs becauſe that no pain is thereupon ordained in the ſaid ſtatutes, divers people of divers Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and Markets, will not take, neither buy in the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns, Markets, ne in none other place, but nine buſhels for the quarter: and if they cannot buy in that manner, they arreſt it as forfeit, to the great damages and oppreſſion of all the people, and manifeſtly againſt the Statutes aforeſaid: It is ordained and aſſented, that the ſaid Statutes ſhall be firmly kept and holden, as well in the City of London, as in every other place throughout the Realm, and that as well by water, as by land, notwithſtanding any uſage in times paſt to the contrary. And that none from henceforth do buy in the City of London, nor in other place, any manner Corn or Mault, but after eight buſhels the quarter according to the purport of the ſaid Statutes, upon pain of forfeiture of all the Corn or Mault ſo bought; ſaving to the King the ſaid forfeiture: except Franchiſes royal, to whom the King at this time of his ſpecial grace hath granted the ſame forfeiture; and that as well the Mayor and Sheriff of London, as the Mayors and Bailiffs of other Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and Markets (if they do

CAP. V.

Aſſurance of Lands to certain places, perſons, and uſes, ſhall be adjudged Mortmain.

St. de religioſis, Anno 7 Ed. 1.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in the Statute De religioſis, that no religious, nor other whatſoever he be, do buy or ſell, or under colour of gift, or term, or any other manner of title whatſoever, receive of any man, or in any manner by gift or engine, cauſe to be appropriated unto him any Lands or Tenements, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame, whereby the ſaid Lands and Tenements in any manner might come to Mortmain. And if any Religious, or any other, do againſt the ſaid Statute by act or engine in any manner, that it be lawful to the King, and to other Lords upon the ſaid Lands and Tenements to enter, as in the ſaid Statute doth more fully appear. And now of late by ſubtile imagination, and by art, and engine, ſome religious perſons, Vicars and other ſpiritual perſons, have entred in divers Lands and Tenements, which be adjoyning to their Churches, and of the ſame by ſufferance and aſſent of the Tenants have made Churchyards, and by Bulls of the Biſhop of Rome, have dedicated and hallowed the ſame, and in them do make continually Parochial burying without licence of the King and of the chief Lords: therefore it is declared in this Parliament, That it is manifeſtly within the compaſs of the ſaid Statute. And moreover it is agreed and aſſented, that all they that be poſſeſſed by feoffment, or by other manner, to the uſe of religious people, or other ſpiritual perſons, of Lands and Tenements, Fees, Advowſons, or any manner other poſſeſſions whatſoever, to amortiſe them, and whereof the ſaid religious and ſpiritual perſons take the profits, that betwixt this and the Feaſt of St. Michael next coming, they ſhall cauſe them to be amortiſed by the licence of the King and of the Lords, or elſe that they ſhall ſell and alien them to ſome other uſe between this and the ſaid Feaſt, upon pain to be forfeited to the King, and to the Lords, according to the form of the ſaid Statute of religious, as Lands purchaſed by religious people. And that from henceforth no ſuch purchaſe be made, ſo that ſuch religious or other ſpiritual perſons take thereof the profits, as afore is ſaid, upon pain aforeſaid. And that the ſame Statute extend and be obſerved of all Lands, Tenements, Fees, Advowſons, and other poſſeſſions, purchaſed, or to be purchaſed to the uſe of Guilds or Fraternities. And moreover it is aſſented, becauſe Mayors, Bailiffs, and Commons of Cities, Boroughs, and other Towns which have a perpetual Communalty, and others, which have Offices perpetual, be as perpetual as people of religion, that from henceforth they ſhall not purchaſe to them and to their commons or Office, upon pain contained in the ſaid Statute De religioſis. And whereas others be poſſeſſed, or hereafter ſhall purchaſe to their uſe, and they thereof take the profits, it ſhall be done in like manner as is aforeſaid, of people of religion. St. 9 H. 3. 36. CAP. VII.

Armour, Corn, or Victual may be carried to Berwick.

ITem, Whereas it is ordained by the Statute made the ſeventh year of our Lord the King, that from henceforth no perſon, alien or denizen, of what eſtate or condition that he be, ſhall take or carry, or cauſe to be taken or carried by land, or by ſea, out of the Realm of England, to any parts of Scotland, privily or openly, any manner of armour, corn, mault, or other victual, or any other refreſhing whatſoever, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame victual, or armour, and other things aforeſaid, together with the ſhips, veſſels, carts or horſes that bear or carry them, or elſe the very value of them: whereupon our Lord the King, at the requeſt of the Commons, and by the advice and aſſent of the Lords, hath declared in this Parliament, the ſaid Statute in ſuch manner, that it was not his intent at the making the ſaid Statute, ne yet is, that they that have carried or taken, or from henceforth ſhall take or carry victuals or merchandiſes to the Town of Berwick upon Tweed, which is the Kings Town, and of his liegeance, ſhall incur the pain of the ſaid Statute, ne ſhall not be bound to pay cuſtoms and ſubſidies granted to our Lord the King, of merchandiſes that be or ſhall be carried out of the Realm.

Provided alway, That they which carry any cloth, victuals, or other merchandiſes out of the ſaid Town of Berwick, to any places being in amity with the King, ſhall pay the ſubſidies, cuſtoms, and other duties thereof to our Lord the King; and if they do carry to any parts of the Kings enemies, they ſhall incur the pain of the ſaid Statute.

Armor, corn, or victuals may be carried to Berwick, notwithſtanding the Statute of 7 R. 2. 16.

The Mayor of the Staple ſhall take Recogniſances for debts according to Statute of 27 Ed. 3.9.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in the Statute of the Staple, to the intent that the Contracts made within the Staple ſhould be the better performed, and the payments readily made, that every Mayor of the Staple ſhall have power to take Recogniſances of Debts, that any man will make before him in the preſence of the Conſtables of the Staple, or one of them. And that in every of the ſaid Staples be one ſeal ordained to remain in the cuſtody of the ſaid Mayor, under the ſeals of the ſaid Conſtables: it is agreed and aſſented, that the ſaid Statute be firmly kept and holden. And that no Mayor of the Staple take or receive any recogniſance of debt contrary to the form of the ſaid Statute, upon pain to pay to the King the moyety of the ſum recogniſed before him.

No man ſhall be compelled to anſwer for his freehold before the Counſel of any Lord.

No man ſhall be compelled to anſwer for his freehold before the counſel of any Lord.

ITem, At the grievous complaint of the Commons made in full Parliament, for that divers the Kings ſubjects be cauſed to come before the Counſel of divers Lords, and Ladies, to anſwer for their freehold, and ſo for divers other things, real and perſonal, that ought to be ordered by the Law of the land, againſt the eſtate and right of our Lord the King, and of his Crown, and in defeating of the common Law: It is agreed and aſſented, that from henceforth none of the Kings ſubjects be compelled, neither by any mean conſtrained to come, nor to appear before the counſel of any Lord or Lady, to anſwer for his freehold, nor for any thing touching his freehold, nor for any other thing real or perſonal, that belongeth to the Law of the land in any manner. And if any find himſelf grieved in time to come, contrary to this ordinance and agreement, he may complain to the Chancellor for the time being, and he ſhall give him remedy. Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 16 R. 2. & Anno Dom. 1392.

OUr Lord the King Richard the ſecond after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Wincheſter in the utas of Saint Hillary, the ſixteenth year of his Reign, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by the aſſent of his ſaid Parliament, certain things in the form following.

CAP. I.

No Merchant ſtranger ſhall buy or ſell with another Merchant ſtranger to ſell again.

St. 9 Ed. 3.1. Co. Inſt. 4. p. 265. All Merchants aliens and denizens may freely buy and ſell within the Realm.

FIrſt, Whereas by the Statute made at York the ninth year of the Reign of King Edward Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that all Merchants aliens and denizens, and all other, and every of them, of what eſtate or condition that they be, which will buy or ſell corn, wines, avoir de pois, fleſh, fiſh, and all other livings and victuals, clothes, wools, wares, merchandiſes, and all other things vendible, from whenceſoever they come, by foreins or by denizens, to what place that it be, be it in City, Borough, Town, Port of the Sea, Fair, Market, or other place within the ſame Realm, within Franchiſe and without, may freely and without diſturbance ſell the ſame to whom them pleaſe, as well to foreins as to denizens, except the enemies of the King and of his Realm: And after by another Statute made the five and twentieth year of the ſaid grandfather, it was ordained and accorded, that the ſaid Statute made the ninth year ſhould be holden, kept, and maintained in all points. And moreover, that every Merchant and other, of what condition that he be, as well alien as denizen, that bringeth wines, fleſh, fiſh, or other manner of victuals, clothes, fels, or avoir de pois, or other wares or merchandiſes, to the City of London or other Cities, Boroughs, and good Towns of England, or Ports of the Sea, may freely and without challenge or impeachment of any, ſell them in groſs or at retail, or by parcels at his pleaſure, to any people that will buy them, notwithſtanding any Franchiſe, Grant or Cuſtom uſed, or any other manner of thing made to the contrary, and that without diſturbance or impediment of any, upon certain parts contained in the aforeſaid Statutes. And after in the eleventh year of the Reign of our ſaid Lord the King, it was alſo ordained and ſtabliſhed by the Statute made in the ſame year, that thoſe two Statutes aforeſaid ſhould be holden, kept, maintained, and fully executed in all points and articles of the ſame, notwithſtanding any Statute, Ordinance, Charter, Letters Patents, Franchiſe, Proclamation, Commandment, Uſage, Allowance or Judgment made or uſed to the contrary, as in the ſaid Statute more fully is contained. Nevertheleſs for as much as it ſeemeth to our Lord the King, that the ſaid Statutes, if they ſhall be fully holden and executed, ſhall extend to the great hinderance and damage, as well of the City of London, as of other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns of the Realm: it is ordained and aſſented, that no Merchant ſtranger alien ſhall ſell, nor buy, nor merchandiſe within the Realm with another ſtrange Merchant alien, to ſell again, nor that no ſtrange Merchant alien ſhall ſell to retail within the ſame Realm, nor ſhall put to ſale any manner of wares or merchandiſes, except livings and victuals, and alſo that aliens ſhall ſell wines by whole veſſels, and ſpicery by whole veſſels and bales, and in no other manner.

St. 25 Ed. 3.2.

Merchants may ſell their Wares in groſs or by retail, or by parcels.

St. 1 R. 2.7.

No Merchant ſtranger ſhall ſell any Merchandiſes by retail, but victuals.

No wines ſhall be carried forth of the Realm.

Neither yet any manner of ſpicery.

Rep. 3 Car. 4.

manner. And that no manner of ſpicery, after that it be brought in the Realm, ſhall be carried out of the ſame Realm by alien or denizen, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame. And moreover the King will that the ſaid Statutes in all articles and points ſhall be firmly holden and kept.

CAP. II.

The forfeiture of him that compelleth any perſon to anſwer for his Freehold.

ITem, Whereas at the laſt Parliament it was accorded and aſſented, That none of the Kings liege people from thenceforth ſhould be bound, compelled, nor conſtrained by any means, to come nor to appear before any Lords or Ladies counſel, there to anſwer of his Freehold, nor of things which touch Freehold, nor of any other thing real nor perſonal, which belongeth to the law of the land in any wiſe, as by the Statute thereof made more fully appeareth: It is accorded and aſſented that the ſaid Statute ſhall be firmly holden and kept; and if any Lord or Lady, or other of the Kings liege people, do to the contrary, they ſhall incur the pain of xx. li. to the King. St. 52 H. 3. 22. Regiſt. f. 171.

A confirmation of the St. 15 of R. 2. 12. with a penalty to the offenders thereof.

CAP. III.

The Clerk of the Market ſhall carry with him all his weights and meaſures ſigned.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, that all the weights & meaſures through the Realm ſhall be according to the Standard of the Eſchequer, after the purport of the Statutes thereof made. And the K. willeth, that the Clerk of the Market ſhall have all his meaſures and weights ready according to the ſtandard of the Eſchequer, and ſigns and marks of the ſign of the Eſchequer thereunto ordained; and the ſame weights and meaſures ſo ſigned and marked, to carry & bring with him at all times when he ſhall make the aſſay of weights and meaſures in any part within the Realm; and that he nor any other of the Kings liege people ſhal uſe any other meaſure nor weight, upon the pains contained in the Statutes thereof made before this time. CAP. V.

Præmunire for purchaſing of Bulls from Rome. The Crown of England ſubject to none.

ITem, Whereas the Commons of the Realm in this preſent Parliament have ſhewed to our redoubted Lord the King, grievouſly complaining, that whereas the ſaid our Lord the King and all his liege people ought of right, and of old time were wont to ſue in the Kings Court, to recover their preſentments to Churches, Prebends, and other benefices of holy Church, to the which they had right to preſent, the Coniſance of plea of which preſentment belongeth only to the Kings Court of the old right of his Crown uſed and approved in the time of all his Progenitors Kings of England; And when Judgment ſhall be given in the ſame Court upon ſuch a plea and preſentment, the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other ſpiritual perſons which have inſtitution of ſuch Benefices within their juriſdiction, be bound, and have made execution of ſuch judgments by the Kings commandments of all the time aforeſaid, without interruption, (for another Ley perſon cannot make ſuch execution,) and alſo be bound of right to make execution of many other of the Kings commandments, of which right the Crown of England hath been peaceably ſeiſed, as well in the time of our ſaid Lord the King that now is, as in the time of all his Progenitors till this day. But now of late divers proceſſes be made by the Biſhop of Rome, and cenſures of Excommunication upon certain Biſhops of England, becauſe they have made execution of ſuch commandments, to the open diſheriſon of the ſaid Crown, and deſtruction of our ſaid Lord the King, his Law, and all his Realm, [illegible] remedy be not provided. And alſo it is ſaid, and a common clamour is made, that the ſaid Biſhop of Rome hath ordained and purpoſed to tranſlate ſome Prelates of the ſame Realm, ſome out of the Realm, and ſome from one Biſhoprick into another within the ſame Realm, without the Kings aſſent and knowledge, and without the aſſent of the Prelates, which ſo ſhall be tranſlated, which Prelates be much profitable and neceſſary to our ſaid Lord the King and to all his Realm: by which tranſlations (if they ſhould be ſuffered) the Statutes of the Realm ſhould be defeated and made void; and his ſaid liege ſages of his Council, without his aſſent, and againſt his will, carried away, and gotten out of his Realm, and the ſubſtance and treaſure of the Realm ſhall be carried away, and ſo the Realm deſtitute as well of Counſel as of ſubſtance, to the final ſtruction of the ſame Realm. And ſo the Crown of England, which hath been ſo free at all times, that it hath been in no earthly ſubjection, but immediately ſubject to God in all things touching the Regalty of the ſame Crown, and to none other, ſhould be ſubmitted to the Pope, and the Laws and Statutes of the Realm by him defeated and avoided at his will, in perpetual deſtruction of the Soveraignty of the King our Lord, his Crown, his Regalty, and of all his Realm, which God defend.

And moreover the commons aforeſaid ſay, that the ſaid things ſo attempted be clearly againſt the Kings Crown and his Regalty, uſed and approved of the time of all his Progenitors: Wherefore they and all the liege commons of the ſame Realm will ſtand with our ſaid Lord the King, and his ſaid Crown, and his Regalty in the caſes aforeſaid, and in all other caſes attempted againſt him, his Crown, and his Regalty in all points, to live and to die. And moreover they pray the King, and him require by way of Juſtice, that he would examine all the Lords in the Parliament, as well ſpiritual as temporal ſeverally, and all the States of the Parliament, how they think of the caſes aforeſaid which be ſo openly againſt the Kings Crown, and in derogation of his Regalty, and how they will ſtand in the ſame caſes with our Lord the King, in upholding the rights of the ſaid Crown and Regalty. Whereupon the Lords temporal ſo demanded, have anſwered every one by himſelf, that the caſes aforeſaid be clearly in derogation of the Kings Crown, and of his Regalty, as it is well known, and hath been of a long time known, and that they will be with the ſame Crown and Regalty in theſe caſes ſpecially, and in all other caſes which ſhall be attempted againſt the ſame Crown and Regalty in all points with all their power. And moreover it was demanded of the Lords ſpiritual there being, and the procurators of others being abſent, their advice and will in all theſe caſes: which Lords, that is to ſay, the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Prelates being in the ſaid Parliament ſeverally examined, making proteſtations, that it is not their mind to deny nor affirm that the Biſhop of Rome may not excommunicate Biſhops, nor that he may make tranſlation of Prelates after the Law of holy Church, anſwered and ſaid, That if any executions of proceſſes made in the Kings Court (as before) be made by any, and cenſures of excommunication to be made againſt any Biſhops of England, or any other of the Kings liege people, for that they have made execution of ſuch commandments. And that if any executions of ſuch tranſlations be made of any Prelates of the ſame Realm, which Prelates be very profitable and neceſſary to our ſaid Lord the King, and to his ſaid Realm, or that the ſage people of his Counſel, without his aſſent and againſt his will, be removed and carried out of the Realm, ſo that the ſubſtance and treaſure of the Realm may be conſumed, that the ſame is againſt the King and his Crown, as it is contained in the Petition before named. And likewiſe the ſame Procurators every one by himſelf examined upon the ſaid matters, have anſwered and ſaid in the name, and for their Lords, as the ſaid Biſhops have ſaid and anſwered, and that the ſaid Lords ſpiritual will and ought to be with the King in theſe caſes in lawfully maintaining of his Crown, and in all other caſes touching his Crown and Regalty, as they be bound by their liegeance. Whereupon our ſaid Lord the King, by the aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of his ſaid Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that if any purchaſe or purſue, or cauſe to be purchaſed or purſued in the Court of Rome or elſewhere, any ſuch tranſlations, proceſſes, and ſentences of excommunications, bulls, inſtruments, or any other things whatſoever which touch the King, againſt him, his Crown, and his Regalty, or his Realm, as is aforeſaid, and they which bring within the Realm, or them receive, or make thereof notification, or any other execution whatſoever within the ſame Realm or without, that they, their notaries, procurators, maintainors, abettors, fautors, and counſellors, ſhall be put out of the Kings protection, and their lands and tenements, goods and chattels, forfeit to our Lord the King: and that they be attached by their bodies, if they may be found, and brought before the King and his Counſel, there to anſwer to the caſes aforeſaid, or that proceſs be made againſt them by Præmunire facias, in manner as it is ordained in other Statutes of proviſors: and other which do ſue in any other Court in derogation of the Regalty of our Lord the King. CAP. VI.

A Repeal of part of the Statute of 13 R. 2. 1. touching his forfeiture that obtaineth a pardon.

Stat. 13 R. 2. 1.

In a pardon of murder, treaſon or rape, the offence ſhall be compriſed.

A confirmation of the firſt part of the St. of 13 R. 2. 1. and a repeal of the latter part thereof.

The forfeiture of him at whoſe ſuit the pardon aforeſaid is obtained.

ITem, Whereas in an article of a ſtatute made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Munday next after the Feaſt of St. Hillary, the thirteenth year of the King that now is, it was ordained and granted, that no Charter of pardon from thence ſhould be allowed before any Juſtices for murder, death of a man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, treaſon or rape of woman, if it were not ſpecified in the ſame Charter: And if any Charter of the death of man were alledged before any Juſtices, in which Charter was not ſpecified, that he of whoſe death any ſuch was arraigned, was murthered or ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, the Juſtices ſhould inquire by a good inqueſt of the viſne where the dead perſon was ſlain, if he were murdered or ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed: and if they ſhould find that he was murdered or ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, the Charter ſhould be diſallowed, and moreover done as the Law ſhould require. Which things our Lord the King doth will and grant, that they ſhall be firmly holden and kept. And moreover by the aſſent of the Lords in this preſent Parliament, and at the prayer of the commons he hath ordained and granted, that the reſidue of the ſaid Article ſhall be wholly out, repealed, and adnulled: that is to ſay, if any ſue to the King for a Charter of Pardon for murder, death of man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, or rape of a woman, if the Chamberlain indorſe, or cauſe to be indorſed ſuch Bill, he ſhall put the name of him that maketh ſuit for ſuch a Charter upon the ſame Bill, upon pain of a thouſand marks; and if the under-chamberlain indorſe ſuch Bill, he ſhall do likewiſe, upon pain of five hundred marks. And that none other but the chamberlain or under-chamberlain ſhall indorſe, or cauſe to be indorſed any ſuch Bill, upon pain of a thouſand marks. And ẏ no warrant of the privy ſeal ſhall be made to have a charter, except the keeper of the privy ſeal have ſuch Bill indorſed or ſigned by the chamberlain or under-chamberlain as afore. And that no charter of pardon of Treaſon, or of other felony, ſhall paſs the Chancery without Warrant of the privy Seal, but in caſe where the Chancellor may grant it by his Office without ſpeaking thereof to the King. And that he at whoſe ſuit any charter of Pardon for murder, death of man ſlain by await, aſſault, or malice prepenſed, treaſon, or rape of a woman, ſhall be granted, if he were an Archbiſhop or a Duke, he ſhall pay to the King a M. li. if he were a Biſhop or an Earl, he ſhall pay to the King a M. marks; and if he were an Abbot, Prior, Baron, or Baronet, he ſhall pay to the King 500. marks; and if he were a Clerk, Batchelour, or other of leſs eſtate, of what condition that he be, he ſhall pay to the King two hundred marks, and ſhall have a years impriſonment: becauſe that the ſaid commons of the Realm ſithence have perceived great grievance of this Ordinance aforeſaid, for that many people for malice have indicted divers perſons of Murder, death of a man ſlain by await, aſſault, and malice prepenſed, and treaſon, where in truth there was no ſuch cauſe, to the intent that no man ſhould be bold to ſue to the King our Lord for ſuch Charter.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 17 R. 2. and Anno Domini 1393.

THere be things ordained and eſtabliſhed by our Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the fifteenth day of St. Hillary, the ſeventeenth year of his Reign, by the aſſent of the ſaid Parliament, which he doth will and command, that they ſhall be firmly holden and kept after the purport of the ſame.

CAP. I.

There ſhall be no melting of money to make any thing thereof. Forreign money ſhall not be currant.

FIrſt, Where it was ordained by the noble King Edward, grandfather to our Lord the King, the ninth year of his Reign, that no ſterling, half-peny, nor farthing, ſhall be molten for veſſel, nor other thing thereof to be made by the Goldſmith, nor other, upon pain of forfeiture of the money ſo molten, and impriſonment of the Founder, till he have yielded to the King the half of that which he hath ſo molten, notwithſtanding any Charter or Franchiſe granted or uſed to the contrary: It is accorded and aſſented, that the ſaid Ordinance ſhall be firmly holden and kept. And moreover it is ordained and aſſented, that no groat nor half groat ſhall be molten by any man to make veſſel, or other thing thereof, upon the ſame pain. And that no gold nor ſilver of Scotland, nor of other lands beyond the Sea, ſhall run in any manner of payment within the Realm of England, but ſhall be brought to the Bullion there to be molten in the Coin of England, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame, and of impriſonment, fine, and ranſome of him which doth contrary. And that no man ſhall ſend any Engliſh money into Scotland to change the ſame in money, or for Scotiſh money, upon the pain next aforeſaid. 19 H. 7. 5. 14 Car. 2. cap. 31.

St. 9 Ed. 3. 3. No ſterling money ſhall be melted for veſſel.

The groat and half groat ſhall not be melted for veſſel.

17 Ed. 4. 1. No foreign coin ſhall be currant in England.

There ſhall be no exchange of Engliſh money with Scotiſh money.

CAP. II.

Every perſon may make cloth of what length and breadth he will.

ITem, That every man of the Realm may make, and put to ſale and ſell Clothes, as well Kerſeys as other, of ſuch length and breadth as him pleaſe, paying the aulnage, ſubſidy, and other duties, that is to ſay, of every piece of Cloth after the rate, notwithſtanding any Statute, Ordinance, Proclamation, reſtraint, or defence made to the contrary. And that none ſhall ſell or put to ſale any clothes before that they be meaſured by the Kings Aulneger, and ſealed with the Seal to that ordained, upon the pains contained in the Statutes thereof made: and that no man ſhall put, mingle, cauſe nor make other deceit in the Clothes of Kerſeis, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame. St. 47 Ed. 3. 1. 11 H. 6. 9.

Every man may make cloth of what length and breadth he will.

No cloth ſhall be ſold before it be meaſured and ſealed by the Aulneger.

There ſhall be no deceit in cloth.

CAP. III.

What ſort of Worſteds may be carried forth of the Realm, and what not.

ITem, That the Merchants and workers of Clothes, called ſingle Worſteds, may carry Bolts of ſingle Worſted to what parts they will, (except to the Kings enemies) paying the cuſtoms and ſubſidies thereof due, without paying the duties of Caleis, notwithſtanding any ſtatute, ordinance, proclamation, inhibition, commandments or charters, liberties, uſages or privileges, granted or to be granted to the Burgeſſes of Caleis, or to the Merchants of the Staple of Caleis, or to any other made or to be made to the contrary. And that the obligations and ſureties taken before this time for the duties of Caleis, ſhall be reſtored and delivered. Provided always, that under the colour of the ſaid Bolts of ſingle Worſted, they ſhall carry no double Worſteds nor half double, nor Worſteds ray, nor motley, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame.

What ſort of Worſteds may be carried forth of the Realm, and what not.

CAP. IV.

Mault ſold to London ſhall be cleanſed from the duſt.

ITem, That the Mault which ſhall be made in the County of Huntington, Cantabrige, Northampton, and Bedford, that ſhall be ſold and brought to the City of London, to victual the Kings houſhold, and other Lords houſholds, and Gentlemens there dwelling and repairing, ane alſo for ſuſtenance of all the people of the ſaid City, ſhall be well and ſufficiently ſifted, cleanſed and purified before the ſale of the ſame, from duſt and all other filth, ſo that the buyers may have eight buſhels of clean Mault for the Quarter. And that the Mayors, Bailiffs, and Wardens of Towns and places where ſuch Mault ſhall be ſold, ſhall have power at every mans ſuit that will complain, to ſee and ſearch the ſaid Mault, and if default be found thereof, to make due redreſs. Stat. 2 Ed. 6. 10.

Mault ſold to London ſhall be cleanſed from the duſt.

CAP. V.

A Searcher, Gauger, Aulneger, Cuſtomer, ſhall have no aſſured eſtate in his Office.

Dyer fo. 303.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no Searcher, Gaugeor of Wines, Aulneger, Finder, nor Weyer of Wools, or any other Merchandiſes, Collector of cuſtoms and ſubſidies whatſoever, or Comptroller, ſhall have eſtate in his office for term of life, or of years: but that the ſaid Offices ſhall remain in the Kings hands under the governance of the Treaſurer for the time being, with the aſſent of the Council, when need is. And if any Charters or Letters Patents be made to the contrary, they ſhall be clearly adnulled, void, and of none effect. St 14 R. 2. 10. 1 H. 4. 13. 4 H. 4. 24. 31 H. 6. 5.

Officers removable at the Kings pleaſure.

CAP. VI.

Upon an untrue ſuggeſtion in the Chancery, damages may be awarded.

Upon an untrue ſuggeſtion made in the Chancery againſt any man, the Chancellor may award damages.

7 Ed. 4. 14.

Item, Foraſmuch as people be compelled to come before the Kings Council, or in the Chancery, by Writs grounded upon untrue ſuggeſtions, that the Chancellor for the time being, preſently after that ſuch ſuggeſtions be duly found and proved untrue, ſhall have power to ordain and award damages according to his diſcretion, to him which is ſo troubled unduly, as afore is ſaid. St. 15 H. 6. 4. Co. Inſt. 4. p. 82.

CAP. VII.

All the Kings Subjects may carry Corn out of the Realm when they will. Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

CAP. VIII.

The Sheriffs and all other the Kings Officers ſhall ſuppreſs riotors, and impriſon them, and all other offending againſt the Peace. ALT. 13 H. 4. 7.

CAP. IX.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall be conſervators of the Statutes made touching Salmons.

St. 13 Ed. 1. 47.

St. 13 R. 2. 19.

Stalkers nor other Nets ſhall be uſed to deſtroy the fry or breed of fiſh.

Item, Where it is contained in the Statute of Weſtminſter the ſecond, that young Salmons ſhall not be taken nor deſtroyed by Nets, or by other Engines of the Stanks of Mills, from the midſt of April till the Nativity of St. John the Baptiſt, upon a certain pain limited in the ſame Statute: And whereas by a Statute made the xiij. year of the King that now is, it was ordained, that the ſaid Statute of Weſtminſter the ſecond, ſhould be firmly holden and kept: Joyning to the ſame, that young Salmons ſhould not be taken at the Mills, Stanks, or elſewhere, upon the ſame pain. And that no Fiſher nor Garthman, nor none other, of what eſtate or condition that he were, ſhould not put from henceforth in the waters of Thamiſe, Humber, Ouſe, Trent, nor none other water of the Realm, by the ſame time, nor by none other time of the year, any Nets called Stalkers, nor other Nets or Engines whatſoever, whereby the frie or breed of Salmons, Lampreys, or of any other fiſh whatſoever may in any wiſe be taken or deſtroyed, upon the pain aforeſaid: And alſo it was rehearſed in the ſaid Statute, made the ſaid thirteenth year, that where it is contained in the ſame Statute of Weſtminſter, that all the waters in which Salmons be taken in the Realm, ſhall be put in defence as to the taking of Salmons from the day of the Nativity of our Lady, till St. Martins day: It was ordained and aſſented in the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid xiij. year, that the waters of Lone, Wire, Merſee, Ribbil, and all other waters in the County of Lancaſter, ſhould be put in defence as to the taking of Salmons, from the day of St. Michael till the day of the Purification of our Lady, and in none other time of the year, becauſe that Salmons be ſeaſonable in the ſaid waters by the time aforeſaid: And that in the parts where ſuch Rivers be, good and ſufficient Conſervators of the ſaid Statute, made the ſaid thirteenth year, ſhould be aſſigned and ſworn, as it was ordained in the Statute of Weſtminſter, and that they ſhould puniſh the offendors upon the pain contained in the ſame Statute of Weſtminſter, without ſhewing any favour thereof: which Statutes have not been hitherto duly executed for default of good Conſervators, as our ſaid Lord the King hath perceived by complaint to him made in this preſent Parliament: Wherefore it is accorded and aſſented, that the Juſtices of the Peace of all the Counties of England, ſhall be Conſervators of the ſaid Statutes in the Counties where they be Juſtices: And that they and every of them at all times when they may attend, ſhall ſurvey the offences and defaults attempted againſt the Statutes aforeſaid. And alſo ſhall ſurvey and ſearch all the Wears in ſuch Rivers, that they ſhall not be very ſtrait for the deſtruction of ſuch fry and brood, but of reaſonable wideneſs after the old aſſiſe uſed or accuſtomed: And that the ſame Juſtices, or any of them which ſhall find default or abuſe againſt the Statutes aforeſaid, ſhall make due puniſhment of them which be found in default after the content of the ſame Statute. And that the ſame Juſtices ſhall put good and ſufficient Under-conſervators of the ſame Statutes under them, which ſhall be ſworn to make like ſurveying, ſearch and puniſhment, without any favour thereof to be ſhewed. And moreover that the ſame Juſtices in their Seſſions, ſhall enquire as well by their office, as at the information of the Under-conſervators aforeſaid, of all treſpaſſes, miſpriſions, and defaults made againſt any of the points aforeſaid, and ſhall cauſe them which be thereof endicted to come before them, and if they be thereof convict, they ſhall have impriſonment, and make fine after the diſcretion of the ſame Juſtices. And if the ſame be at the information of any of the Under-conſervators aforeſaid, the ſame Under-conſervator ſhall have half of the ſame fine. And foraſmuch as it is granted to the Citizens of London by the Kings Progenitors, that they may remove and take away all the wears in the waters of Thamis and Medeway, and that they ſhall have the puniſhments thereof pertaining to the King: Our ſaid Lord the King, in this preſent Parliament, by the aſſent aforeſaid hath granted, that the Mayor or Warden of London for the time being, ſhall have the conſervation of the Statutes aforeſaid: And ſhall make thereof due execution, and like puniſhment as afore is ordained of the Juſtices of the Peace, in the ſaid waters of Thamis, from the bridge of Stanes to London, and from thence over the ſame water, and in the ſaid water of Medeway, as far as it is granted to the ſaid Citizens, as afore is ſaid.

The Juſtices of Peace ſhall be Conſervators of the Statute of 13 Ed. 1. 47. and 13 R. 2. 19.

Under-conſervators appointed by the Juſtices.

The Mayor of London ſhall have the conſervation of the Statute of Thamis.

CAP. X.

Two learned men in the Law ſhall be in Commiſſion of Gaol-delivery.

Two learned men in the Law ſhall be in the Commiſſion of Gaol-delivery.

Item, Foraſmuch as thieves notoriouſly defamed, and other taken with the manner, by their long abiding in priſon, after that they be arreſted, be delivered by Charters and favourable enqueſts procured to the great hinderance of the people: It is accorded and aſſented, that in every Commiſſion of the Peace through the Realm, where need ſhall be, two men of Law of the ſame County where ſuch Commiſſion ſhall be made, ſhall be aſſigned to go and proceed to the deliverance of ſuch thieves and felons, as often as they ſhall think it expedient. St. 4 Ed. 3. 2. 13 R. 2. 7. 18 H. 6. 11.

CAP. XI.

That Aldermen of London ſhall not hereafter be elected yearly; but remain until they be put out for reaſonable cauſe. Pr. Co. Inſt. 4 p. 253.

CAP. XII.

An explanation of the Statute 28 E. 3. c. 10. That the Mayors, Aldermen, &c. of London, ſhall not incur the penalty of the ſaid Statute for erroneous Judgments given or to be given.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 20 Ric. ſecundi, and Anno Domini 1396.

THe King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Feaſt of St. Vincent, the twentieth year of his Reign, by the aſſent of the Prelates, Lords, and Commons of his Realm of England, aſſembled in the ſame preſent Parliament, for the quietneſs and tranquillity of his people, hath made certain Statutes and Ordinances in the form which followeth.

CAP. I.

No man ſhall go or ride armed. Launcegays ſhall be put out.

FIrſt, Whereas in a ſtatute made the ſeventh year of the reign of the King that now is, it is ordained and aſſented, that no man ſhall ride Armed within the Realm, againſt the form of the ſtatute of Northampton thereupon made, nor with Launcegays within the ſame Realm. And that the ſaid Launcegays ſhall be utterly put out within the ſaid Realm, as a thing prohibited by the King, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Launcegays, Armors, or any other harneys in the hands and poſſeſſion of them that bear them from henceforth within the ſame Realm againſt the ſame ſtatutes and ordinances without the Kings ſpecial licence: Our Lord the King conſidering the great clamour made to him in this preſent Parliament, becauſe that the ſaid ſtatute is not holden, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed in the ſame Parliament, that the ſaid ſtatutes ſhall be fully holden and kept, and duly executed, and that the ſaid Launegays ſhall be clear put out upon the pain contained in the ſaid ſtatute of Northampton, and alſo to make fine and ranſom to the King. And moreover that no Lord, Knight, nor other, little nor great, ſhall go nor ride by night nor by day Armed, nor bear ſallet nor ſkull of Iron, nor of other Armour, upon the pain aforeſaid: ſave and except the Kings officers and miniſters in doing their office. And moreover the King will and hath ordained, that the ſtatute made the firſt year of his reign of Liveries of Hats, ſhall be holden and kept upon the pain contained in the ſame ſtatute, and upon pain to be impriſoned, and make fine and ranſom to the King.

St. 7 R. 2. 13.
St. 2 Ed. 3. 3.

Launcegays ſhall be clearly put out.
No man ſhall go or ride armed.
The Statute of 1 R. 2. 7. touching giving of Liveries confirmed.

CAP. II.

Who onely may wear anothers Livery. Rep. 3 Car. 4.

CAP. III.

No man ſhall ſit upon the Bench with the Juſtices of Aſſiſe.

ITem, The King doth will and forbid, that no Lord, nor other of the Country, little nor great, ſhall ſit upon the Bench, with the Juſtices to take Aſſiſes in their Seſſions in the Counties of England, upon great forfeiture to the King: and hath charged his ſaid Juſtices, that they ſhall not ſuffer the contrary to be done.

No man ſhall ſit upon the Bench with the Juſtices of Aſſiſe.

CAP. IV.

A confirmation of part of the Statute of 28 Ed. 3. 13. touching Merchants-ſtrangers.

ITem, Whereas it is contained in a ſtatute of the late King Edward, grandfather to the King that now is, the xxviii. year of his reign, that no manner of ſhip, which is freighted toward England, or elſewhere, ſhall be compelled to come to any Port of England, nor there to tarry againſt the agreement of the Maſters and Mariners of the ſame, or of the Merchants to whom the goods be: and if ſuch ſhips come of their own good will, or be driven by tempeſt, caſualty, or other misfortune, to any Port of England, and the Maſters or Marinners, or Merchants of the ſame ſhips, will ſell or deliver part of their Merchandiſes with their good will, it ſhall be lawful to every perſon to buy ſuch Merchandiſes freely without impeachment in the Port where ſuch Ships ſhall come, albeit the merchandiſes be not put to ſale to the Land. And that the Maſters, Mariners, and Merchants, after that they have ſo ſold ſo much as pleaſeth them of their ſaid goods, and the cuſtom thereof paid, may freely depart and go with their ſhips, and all the remnant of their goods, where it ſhall pleaſe them, without paying thereof cuſtom. Our ſaid Lord the King for the quietneſs and eaſe of his people, willeth that the ſaid ſtatute ſhall be holden and kept in all points and duly executed, notwithſtanding any Ordinance or uſage to the contrary.

A confirmation of that part of the Statute of 28 Ed. 3. 13. which giveth liberty to ſtrangers to come and go where they will.

CAP. V.

The penalty of him who taketh anothers Horſe, or Beaſt, for the Kings ſervice, without ſufficient warrant.

ITem, Foraſmuch as the Commons have made complaint, that many great miſchiefs, extortions, and oppreſſions be done by divers people of evil condition, which of their authority take and cauſe to be taken Royally, Horſes and other things, and beaſts out of their wains, carts, and houſes, ſaying and deviſing that they be to ride on haſty meſſages and buſineſs, where of truth they be in no wiſe privy of any buſineſs or meſſage, but onely in deceit and ſubtilty by ſuch colour and device do take horſes, and the ſaid horſes too haſtily do ride and evil entreat, having no manner of conſcience or compaſſion in this behalf, ſo that the ſaid horſes become all ſpoiled and foundred, paying no manner of thing nor peny for the ſame, nor giving them any manner of ſuſtenance: And alſo that ſome ſuch manner of people changing and altering their names, do take and ride ſuch horſes, and carry them far from thence to another place, ſo that they to whom they belong, can never after by any mean ſee, have again, nor know their ſaid horſes where they be, to the great miſchief, loſs, impoveriſhment, and hinderance of the Kings poor people, their husbandry, and of their living: Our Lord the King willing for the quietneſs and eaſe of his people, to provide remedy thereof, will and hath ordained, That none from henceforth ſhall take any ſuch horſe or beaſt in ſuch manner againſt the conſent of them to whom they be. And if any that do, and have no ſufficient warrant nor authority of the King, he ſhall be taken and impriſoned till he hath made due agreement to the party. St. 28 H. 6. 2.

The penalty of him who doth take any perſons horſe, or &c. to ſerve the King without warrant.

CAP. VI.

Licenſe granted to Beeknap, Holte, and Burghe, to return into England, notwithſtanding the Statute of 11 R. 2. 1. Exp.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 21 R. 2. and Anno Domini 1397.

IT is to be underſtood, that our Lord the King, by the Grace of God, King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, at his Parliament ſummoned and begun at Weſtminſter the Munday next after the Feaſt of the Exaltation of the holy Croſs, and from thence adjourned to Shrewsbury until the fifteenth of Hillary then next enſuing, and there ended, to the honour of God and holy Church, and for the preſervation, ſalvation, and ſurety of his Realm, and good governance of his people, of the aſſent and accord of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and Commons of his Realm there aſſembled, hath made certain Statutes and Ordinances hereafter following.

Whoſoever ſhall purſue to repeal any of theſe Statutes, and that proved in Parliament, ſhall be adjudged a Traitor. Rep. 1 H. 4. 3.

Anno primo HENRICI Quarti.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the Reign of King Henry the Fourth, and in the year of our Lord 1399.

HENRY by the Grace of God, King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, To the Laud and Honour of God, and Reverence of Holy Church, for to nouriſh Unity, Peace, and Concord of all Parties within the Realm of England; and for the redreſs and recovery of the ſame Realm of England, which now of late hath been dangerouſly put to great ruine, miſchief, and deſolation: of the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and at the inſtance and ſpecial requeſt of the Commons of the ſame Realm aſſembled, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the Feaſt of St. Faith the Virgin, the firſt year of his Reign, hath made, ordained, and eſtabliſhed certain Ordinances and Statutes, in form as hereafter followeth.

CAP.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all Statutes not repealed. Juſtice ſhall be done, and peace ſhall be kept.

First, That holy Church have, and enjoy all her Rights, Liberties, and Franchiſes, entirely and without imblemiſhing. And that the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt, and other good Ordinances and Statutes made in the time of his Noble Progenitors, and not repealed, be firmly holden and kept in all points. And that the Peace within this Realm be holden and kept, ſo that all his lawful liege people and ſubjects may from henceforth ſafely and peaceably go, come and dwell, according to the lawful uſages of the ſame Realm. And that good Juſtice and even right be done to every perſon.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all ſtatutes not repealed. Peace ſhall be maintained and Juſtice ſhall be done to all. 1

CAP. II.

None ſhall be impeached that did aſſiſt K. H.4. or helped to purſue K. R.2. or his adherents. Exp.

CAP. III.

A Repeal of the whole Parliament holden Anno 21 R.2. and of the authority given thereby. Exp.

CAP. IV.

A Confirmation of the Parliament holden 11 R. 2.

Item, It is accorded, aſſented, and eſtabliſhed, that the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the eleventh year of the ſaid late King Richard, be firmly holden and kept according to the purport of the ſame, as a thing made for the great honour, and common profit of this Realm.

The Parliament holden Anno 11 R.2. confirmed.

CAP. V.

A Reſtitution of thoſe, or their Heirs, which were attainted at the Parliament holden 21 R.2.

CAP. VI.

In a petition to the King, of Lands, Offices, &c. the value ſhall be contained.

Item, to the intent that our ſaid Lord the King in time to come, ſhall not be deceived in his grants or gifts Annual, or in Fee, or in any offices, by him to be given, made, or granted, he will by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, be counſelled by the wiſe men of his Councel in things touching the eſtate of him and of his Realm (ſaving always his liberty.) Alſo he hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by the aſſent aforeſaid, that all they which from henceforth do demand of the King, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Offices, Annuities, or any other profits, ſhall make expreſs mention in their Petitions, of the value of the thing ſo to be demanded, and alſo of that which they have had of the Kings gift, or of other his Progenitors, or predeceſſors before. And in caſe they make not ſuch mention in their ſaid Petitions, and that duly proved, the Kings Letters Patents thereof made ſhall not be available, nor of any force nor effect, but wholly revoked, repealed, and adnulled for ever, to the puniſhment of them which ſo have done deceit to the King, as they that be not worthy to enjoy the effect and benefit of the Letters Patents to them granted in this behalf. CAP. VIII.

Aſſiſe maintainable by the Diſſeiſee againſt the Kings Patentee of Lands.

Item, At the grievous complaint of the ſaid Commons, made in the ſaid Parliament, how many of the Kings liege people which have been ſeiſed and poſſeſſed of Lands and Tenements, by their right and title, until the laſt coming of our Lord the King into England; that upon ſuggeſtion made to him, the ſaid Lands and Tenements have been granted to divers perſons, & Letters Patents thereof made, ſo that by colour of ſuch grants & Letters patents, the Tenants & true owners of the ſaid Tenements in divers Counties be diſſeiſed and put out of the ſame, to their great damage and againſt the courſe of ye Common Law: Our Lord the King conſidering the miſchiefs aforeſaid, and willing thereupon to provide due remedy, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords and Commons aforeſaid, hath ordained & eſtabliſhed, that in caſe any Lands or Tenements be granted by the Kings Patent, without title found by enqueſt or otherwiſe, where the Kings entry is not given by law; They that be put out or diſſeiſed of their Freehold, ſhall have a ſpecial Aſſiſe of the Chancellors grant, without other ſuit to be made to the King in that behalf; and if the parties or perſons having the Kings Letters Patents, do pray in aid, a Writ of Procedendo ſhall be granted by the ſaid Chancellor, without making other ſuit to the King. And in caſe that they which be put out or diſſeiſed, do recover againſt the perſons having ſuch Patents, they which be ſo put out or diſſeiſed, ſhall recover their treble damages. And that this Ordinance and Statute hold place as well after the Kings arrival into England, as in time to come.

Aſſiſe maintainable by the diſſeiſee for thoſe lands which be granted by the Kings Patent without title firſt found for the King.

by

A confirmation to the purchaſers of certain Lands ſold unto them by commiſſioners according to the ſtatute of 21 R.2.

by their good diſcretion, and that the gifts and grants to be made upon ſuch ſales ſhould be firm and ſtable: Our ſaid Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, conſidering how divers ſales have been made by force of the Ordinance and Statute aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the gifts and grants ſo made by vertue of the ſale aforeſaid only, ſhall ſtand in their force and vertue, notwithſtanding any gifts or grants made to the contrary; and that they which ſhall ſue for a confirmation of their purchaſe made in this behalf, ſhall thereto have a confirmation, paying the Fines and Fees thereof due.

CAP. X.

Nothing ſhall be accounted Treaſon, but what was made Treaſon in the time of King Ed. 3.

Nothing ſhall be adjudged treaſon but which was ſo ordained by the Statute of 25 Ed.3.2.

ITem, Whereas in the ſaid Parliament, holden the ſaid one and twentieth year of the ſaid late King Richard, divers pains of Treaſon were ordained by ſtatute, in as much that there was no man, which did know how he ought to behave himſelf, to do, ſpeak, or ſay, for doubt of ſuch pains: It is accorded and aſſented by the King, the Lords and Commons aforeſaid, that in no time to come any Treaſon be judged otherwiſe, then it was ordained by the ſtatute in the time of his noble Grandfather King Edward the third, whom God aſſoil.

St. 1 Ed.6.11. 1 M.1.

CAP. XI.

How far Sheriffs ſhall be charged with the ancient Ferms of the County.

Sheriffs ſhall not be charged with the ancient ferms of the counties where part of the profits be given to others.

ITem, Whereas the ſaid Commons by their petition have ſhewed in the ſame Parliament, how the Sheriffs of Counties within the Realm, be charged with the ancient Ferm of the ſame Counties, whereas a great parcel of the profits of the ſame is given ſeverally to Lords and other the Kings liege people, ſo that the ſame Sheriffs cannot pay their ferm without doing extortion in the ſaid Counties, in great oppreſſion and hindrance as well of the ſaid Sheriff, as of the inhabitants of the ſaid Counties: Our Lord the King conſidering the miſchiefs aforeſaid, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords and Commons aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that from henceforth the Sheriffs of the County of Eſſex, and Hertford in ſpecial, and the Sheriffs of other Counties aforeſaid, for the time being, ſhall accompt in the Eſchequer, and have allowance by their oath of the iſſues of the ſaid Counties, as well after the date of their Patents made to them by the ſaid late King Richard, as for all times to come. And if any Sheriff from heneceforth do any extortion to the people, and be thereof attainted, he ſhall be duly puniſhed for the ſame extortion at the Kings will.

Of Sheriffs puniſhment for extortion.

CAP. XII.

A confirmation of former Statutes touching pulling down of Wears.

St. 25 Ed. 3.4.

ITem, Whereas by Edward late King of England, Grandfather of our Lord the Kind that now is, the five and twentieth year of his reign, becauſe that the common paſſage of Ships and Boats in the great Rivers of England were oftentimes diſturbed, by the levying of Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, and Kidels, in great damage of the people, it was accorded, that all ſuch Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, & Kidels, which were levied and ſet up in the time of King Edward Son to King Henry, and after in ſuch Rivers, whereby the Ships and boats be diſturbed, ſo that they cannot paſs as they were wont, ſhall be wholly pulled down, and not be levyed again. And that Writs be thereupon ſent to the Sheriffs of places where need ſhall be, to ſurvey and inquire, and to make thereof execution. And alſo that Juſtices be thereupon aſſigned at all times when need ſhall require. And after at the grievous complaint of the great men and the Commons, made in the Parliament of the ſaid King Edward the Grandfather, the five and fortieth year of his reign, complaining by their Petition, that the ſaid ſtatute was not duly executed nor kept, after the effect of the ſame; it was accorded and ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid ſtatute in this point be holden and kept after the effect of the ſame; Added to the ſame, that if any ſuch noyſance be pulled down by due proceſs contained in the ſaid ſtatute, he that will cauſe the ſaid noyſance to be repaired, and thereof be duly attainted, ſhall incur the pain of an hundred marks to the King, to be levyed by the eſtreats of the Eſchequer. And like law to be holden of a noyſance made by the enhaunſing of ſuch Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes and Kidels, as by new levying, as in the ſame ſtatutes more fully doth appear. And now at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, ſhewing by their petition, that the common paſſages of Ships and Boats in the great Rivers of England, and alſo Medows and Paſtures, and Lands ſowed adjoining to the ſaid Rivers be greatly diſturbed, drowned, waſted, and deſtroyed by outragious enhaunſing and ſtraighting of Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, and Kidels, in old time made & levyed before the time of the ſaid King Edward, ſon of King Henry, whereof great damage and loſs hath come to the people of the Realm, & daily will come if remedy be not thereof provided: It is accorded and eſtabliſhed by the aſſent aforeſaid, that the ſaid ſtatutes be in all their Articles holden, and firmly kept, and duly executed, with all the pains, & after the effect of the ſame. Joyned thereto, that Commiſſions be made in due form to ſufficient perſons to be Juſtices in every County of England, where need ſhall be, to ſurvey and keep the waters and great Rivers there, & to correct and amend the defaults, and to make due execution of the ſaid ſtatutes, after the effect of the ſame, as well by their ſurvey, advice, & diſcretion, as by enqueſts thereof to be taken as well within Franchiſe as without, ſo often and when need ſhall be, and to hear and determine the things aforeſaid. And moreover to ſurvey the Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, & Kidels, in old times made and levyed before the ſaid time of King Edward ſon of King Henry. And them that they find too much enhanced or ſtraited, to correct, pull down, and amend in the manner and form aforeſaid: Saving always a reaſonable ſubſtance of Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, & Kidels aforeſaid, ſo in old times made & levyed. CAP. XIV.

Where all ſorts of Appeals ſhall be tryed and determined.

ITem, For many great inconveniencies and miſchiefs that often have hapned by many appeals made within the Realm of England before this time: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed from henceforth, that all the appeals to be made of things done within the Realm, ſhall be tryed and determined by the good Laws of the Realm, made and uſed in the time of the Kings noble Progenitors: and that all the appeals to be made of things done out of the Realm, ſhall be tryed and determined before the Conſtable and Marſhal of England, for the time being: And moreover it is accorded and aſſented, that no appeals be from henceforth made, or in any wiſe purſued in Parliament in any time to come.

Where all ſorts of Appeals ſhall be tryed and determined. No Appeal ſhall be purſued in Parliament.

CAP. XV.

The puniſhment of the Mayor, &c. of London, for defaults committed there:

ITem, Whereas by a Statute made in the time of King Edward, Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, the ſeven and twentieth year of his Reign, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, That becauſe the errours, defaults and miſpriſions, which were notoriouſly uſed in the City of London, for default of good governance of the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen, might not be inquired or found by people of the ſame City: That the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen, which had the governance of the City, ſhould redreſs and correct the defaults, errours, and miſpriſions aforeſaid, and the ſame duly to puniſh, from time to time, upon a certain pain, that is to ſay, at the firſt default a thouſand marks to the King, and at the ſecond default two thouſand marks, and at the third default that the Franchiſe be taken into the Kings hand, and be it begun to inquire of them at the Feaſt of Saint Michael next enſuing: ſo that if they make not due redreſs, as before is ſaid, It ſhall be inquired of their defaults by inqueſts of foreign Counties, that is to ſay, Kent, Eſſex, Suſſex, Hertford, Buckingham and Berks, as well at the Kings ſuit as of others that will complain. And if the Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen, be by ſuch inqueſts indicted, they ſhall be cauſed to come by due proceſs before the Juſtices, which ſhall be thereto aſſigned out of the City, before whom they ſhall have their anſwer, as well at the ſuit of the King, as of the party; and if they put themſelves in inqueſts, the ſame inqueſts ſhall be taken of foreign people, as afore is ſaid; and if they be attainted, the ſaid pain ſo incurred ſhall be levied of the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen, for default of their government. And nevertheleſs the Plaintiffs ſhall recover their treble damages againſt the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen. And becauſe that the Sheriffs of London be party to this buſineſs, the Conſtable of the Tower, or his Leiutenant, ſhall be officer in ſtead of the Sheriffs, to receive the Writs, as well originals of the Chancery as judicials, under the Seals of the Juſtices, to do thereof execution in the ſaid City, and proceſs ſhall be made by attachments, diſtreſs, & exigent if need be, ſo yͭ at the K. ſuit the exigent ſhall be awarded after the firſt Capias returned, and at the third Capias returned, at the ſuit of the party; and if the Mayor, Sheriffs, & Aldermen, have Lands & Tenements out of the ſaid City, proceſs ſhall be made againſt them by attachment and diſtreſſes in the ſame counties where the Lands and Tenements be, & that every of the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen, which cometh before the ſaid Juſtices, ſhall anſwer alone for himſelf, as well at the peril of other which is abſent as of himſelf. And that this ordinance be holden firm and ſtable, notwithſtanding any manner of Franchiſes, Priviledges or Cuſtoms, And that this ordinance ſhall extend to other Cities & Boroughs of the Realm, where ſuch defaults or miſpriſions be uſed, & not duly corrected nor redreſſed, ſaving that the enqueſts be taken by forain people of the ſame county, where ſuch Cities & boroughs be. And that the penalty of them of ſuch Cities, Boroughs, and Towns, which ſhall be thereof attainted, be judged by the diſcretion of the Juſtices, which ſhall be thereto aſſigned: Our Lord the King conſidering the good & lawful behaviour of the Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen, and all the Communalty of the ſame City of London towards him, and therefore willing to eaſe and mitigate the penalty aforeſaid, by the aſſent of the Lords St. 28 Ed. 3. 10. Co. Inſt. 4. p. 248. The Maior of London ſhall redreſs errors, defaults, and miſpriſions, notoriouſly uſed in the ſame City.

The Conſtable or Lieutenant of the Tower ſhall receive and execute the Kings Writs.

The penalties inflicted by the Statute of 28 Ed. 3. 10. upon the Maior of London ſhall be according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices.

Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the penalty aforeſaid, as well of the thouſand Marks, and of the two thouſand Marks, and of the ſeiſure of the Franchiſe, compriſed in the ſame ſtatute, ſhall not be limited in a certainty, but that the penalty in this caſe be by the advice and diſcretion of the Juſtices thereto aſſigned, as other Cities and Boroughs be within the Realm, and that the remnant of the ſame ſtatute, and the proceſs thereof ſtand in their force.

CAP. XVI.

Merchants of London ſhall be as free to pack their Clothes as other Merchants.

Merchants of London ſhall be as free to pack their Clothes as other Merchants.

ITem, It is accorded and aſſented, that the Merchants of London from henceforth ſhall be as free to pack their Clothes and quit of the ſame packing, as the other Merchants, or other ſtrangers within the ſame City, or within other Cities and Boroughs within the Realm be; and if any Letters Patents be made to the contrary, they ſhall be utterly repealed, annulled, and holden of no force nor vertue.

CAP. XVII.

Strangers may buy and ſell within the Realm Victuals in groſs, or by retail.

A confirmation of the ſtatute 11 R.2.7. authoriſing Merchants Strangers to buy and ſell within the Realm.

ITem, Whereas in the ſtatute made at Weſtminſter, in the eleventh year of the ſaid late K. Richard, amongſt other things it is ordained and accorded, that every Forrainer and Alien, being of the Kings amity and of the Realm, and coming within the City of London and other Cities, Boroughs, & Towns within the ſaid Realm, as well within Franchiſe as without, with Fiſh and all manner of other victuals there dwelling and returning, ſhall be from henceforth under the ſafeguard and ſpecial protection of the King. And that it ſhall be lawful to them, & every of them, to cut their Fiſh and Victuals aforeſaid, by pieces, and the ſame to tail and retail in part or in all, or in groſs, as to them ſhall beſt ſeem to ſell, and thereof to make their profit without impeachment or contradiction of any, notwithſtanding any ſtatutes Charters, Ordinances, Privilledges, or Cuſtoms made or had to the contrary. Our Lord the King conſidering the ſame ſtatute to be very profitable many ways, if it were put in execution, by the aſſent of his Lords and Commons aforeſaid hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid ſtatute be firmly holden, kept, and duly executed after the form and effect thereof, notwithſtanding the Letters Patents late granted to the contrary to the Fiſhmongers of London, by the ſaid late King Richard, upon his laſt voyage toward Ireland. CAP. XVIII.

Proceſs againſt one of the County of Cheſter which committeth an offence in another Shire.

What proceſs ſhall be awarded where one of the County of Cheſter doth commit felony in another County.

ITem, Upon the grievous clamour and complaint made to our Lord the King, in this preſent Parliament, of many Murders, man-ſlaughters, robberies, batteries, and other riots and offences, which before this time have been done by people of the County of Cheſter to divers of the Kings Liege people in divers parts and Counties of England: The ſame our Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of his Commons aforeſaid, hath ordained & ſtabliſhed, that if any perſon of the County of Cheſter reſident or dwelling within the ſame County, of what eſtate or conditin he be, do commit any murder or felony in any place out of the ſame County, proceſs ſhall be made againſt him by the Common Law, till the Exigent, in the County where ſuch murder or felony was done. And if he flee from thence into the County of Cheſter, and be outlawed and put in Exigent for ſuch murder or felony, the ſame Outlawry or Exigent ſhall be certified to the Officers and Miniſters of the ſame County of Cheſter, and the ſame Felon ſhall be taken by the ſame officers or miniſters, and his Lands and Tenements, Goods and Chattels, being within the ſame County of Cheſter, ſhall be ſeiſed as forfeit into the hands of the Prince, or of him that ſhall be Lord of the ſame County of Cheſter, for the time, and the King ſhall have the year, and day, and the waſte. And the other Lands and Tenements, Goods and Chattels of ſuch Felon, being out of the ſaid County of Cheſter, ſhall remain wholly to the King, and to other Lords having thereof Franchiſe, as forfeit. And if any perſon of the ſame County of Cheſter, reſident or dwelling in the ſame, make a battery, or other treſpaſs in any place out of the ſaid County of Cheſter, proceſs ſhall be made againſt him by the Common Law till the Exigent in the Counties where ſuch battery or treſpaſs is done. And if he flee from thence into the ſaid County of Cheſter, and be outlawed for ſuch battery or treſpaſs, the outlawry ſhall be certified to the Officers and Miniſters of the ſaid County of Cheſter. And the ſame perſon ſhall be taken by the ſame Officers or Miniſters. And his other goods and chattels being within the ſame County of Cheſter, ſhall be ſeiſed into the hands of the Prince, or of him which ſhall be Lord of the ſaid County of Cheſter for the time. And his other goods and chattels being out of the ſaid County of Cheſter, ſhall remain wholly to the King, and to other Lords aforeſaid, as forfeit in ſuch ſort as afore is ſaid. St. 9 H. 5. 2.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter Anno 2 Hen. 4. and Anno Dom. 1400.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the utas of S. Hillary, the ſecond year of the Reign of King Henry the fourth: The ſame our Lord the King by the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, and Barons, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons aſſembled at this preſent Parliament, hath cauſed to be ordained and ſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances in form following.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of Liberties. Each perſon may purſue the Law, or defend it.

FIrſt, That holy Church have her rights and liberties: and that all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all the cities, boroughs, and towns enfranchiſed, have and enjoy all their liberties and franchiſes, which they have lawfully uſed, and which they have of the grant of his noble progenitors and predeceſſors Kings of England. And that the great Charter and the Charter of the Foreſt, and all other good ordinances and ſtatutes made in his time, and in the time of his noble progenitors not repealed, be firmly holden and kept in all points: and that all his liege people and ſubjects may freely and peaceably in his ſure and quiet protection go and come to his courts to purſue the laws, or defend the ſame, without diſturbance or impediment of any. And that full juſtice and right be done as well to the poor as to the rich in his courts aforeſaid. St. 1 H. 4. 1. St. 7 H. 4. 1.

CAP. IV.

The penalties for purchaſing of Bulls to be diſcharged of Tithes.

ITem, For as much as our Lord the King, upon grievous complaint to him made in this Parliament, hath perceived that the religious men of the order of Ciſteaux in the Realm of England, have purchaſed certain bulls, to be quit and diſcharged to pay the tithes of their lands, tenements and poſſeſſions, let to ferm or manured or occupied by other perſons then by themſelves, in great prejudice and derogation of the liberty of holy Church, and of many liege people of the Realm: Our Lord the King willing thereupon to ordain remedy, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the inſtance and requeſt of the ſaid commons, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the religious perſons of the order of Ciſteaux ſhall ſtand in the eſtate that they were before the time of ſuch bulls purchaſed. And that as well they of the ſaid order, as all other religious and ſeculars, of what eſtate or condition they be, which do put the ſaid bulls in execution, or from henceforth do purchaſe other ſuch bulls of new, or by colour of the ſame bulls purchaſed or to be purchaſed, do take advantage, in any manner: That proceſs ſhall be made againſt them, and every of them by garniſhment of two moneths by Writ of Præmunire facias. And if they make default, or be attainted, then they ſhall incur the pains and forfeitures contained in the Statute of Proviſors, made the thirteenth year of the ſaid King Richard. St. 13 El. 2.

CAP. VIII.

The fee of Chirographer of the Common Pleas for a fine levied.

ITem, Upon the grievous complaint made to our Lord the King by the Commons in this preſent Parliament, how that the office of the Chirographer in the common bench of the King is let to ferm, to which office appertaineth for making and writing of every fine levied in the ſaid bench four ſhillings and no more, and notwithſtanding the ſame fee, the fermors of the ſame office will deliver no fine to any without giving to them other four ſhillings or more by extortion, to the great damage and impoveriſhment of all the Kings liege people: Our Lord the King willing in this behalf to provide remedy, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the ſupplication of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Chirographer, nor his fermor, deputy, or lieutenant for the time being, ſhall from henceforth take any more then four ſhillings for any fine levied in the Court. And if the ſaid fermors, lieutenant, or deputy, take any more then four ſhillings for a fine, as before is ſaid, he ſhall loſe his office, and be forejudged the Court, and have one years impriſonment, and pay to the party grieved his treble damages. And the party grieved ſhall have his ſuit before the Juſtices of the ſaid bench.

The fee of the Chirographer of the common place upon a fine levied, and the penalty if he take more.

No Lord ſhall give any Livery or ſign to any Knight, Eſquire, or Yeoman.

Item, Whereas in the laſt Parliament it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, That no Lord of what eſtate or condition he were, ſhould uſe nor give any livery or ſign of company to any Knight, Eſquire, nor Yeoman within the Realm aforeſaid, ſaving always that our Lord the King ſhould give onely his honourable Livery to the Lords Temporal, whom pleaſed him. And ſaving alſo that the ſame our Lord the King ſhould give only his honourable Livery to his menials Knights and Eſquires, and alſo to his Knights and Eſquires which be of his retinue, and take of him their annual fee for term of life: And moreover it was accorded and aſſented by the King, the Lords and the Commons aforeſaid, that the ſaid Knights and Eſquires ſhould in no wiſe uſe their ſaid Liveries in their Countrey or Counties where they ſhould be reſident and dwelling, nor elſewhere within the Realm out of the Kings preſence: and if any Lord did the contrary, and that duly proved, he ſhould make fine and ranſom at the Kings will: and if any Knight or Eſquire did the contrary, and thereof were duely attainted, he ſhould loſe his ſaid livery, and forfeit his fee for ever: and that no Yeoman ſhould take or uſe any livery of the King, or of any other Lord, upon pain of impriſonment, and to make fine and ranſom at the Kings will: Provided always, that the Conſtable and Marſhal of England for the time being in their retinue of Knights and Eſquires, may wear the ſaid Livery of the King upon the borders and marches of the Realm in the time of war.

No Lord ſhall give any livery or ſign to any Knight, Eſquire or Yeoman.

The ſeveral forfeitures of ſeveral offendors.

Provided alſo, that all thoſe that ſhall travel or paſs the ſea to the parts beyond the ſea, to acquire honour, may wear the ſame Livery in thoſe parts without being thereof in any wiſe grieved or appeached, as in the Statute thereof made more fully is contained: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the ſame Statute to be very expedient and neceſſary, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſame Statute ſhall be firmly holden and kept: joyned thereto, that the Juſtices of the one Bench and of the other, and the Juſtices of Aſſiſes and of the Peace, have power and authority to enquire, hear, and determine in this caſe, by record in their preſence, or by inquiry to be made from time to time, and that the Dukes, Earls, Barons, and Banerets of the Realm, may uſe the ſaid Livery in their Countrey and elſewhere; And alſo that the ſaid Knights and Eſquires may uſe the ſaid Livery in going from the Kings houſe and returning to the ſame. Provided always, That the ſame Knights and Eſquires uſe not the ſame Livery in their Counties or Countrey where they be reſiant or dwelling, upon the pain contained in the ſaid Statute. Moreover it is accorded, that the Prince may give his honourable Liveries or ſign to the ſaid Lords, and to his menial Gentlemen. And that the ſaid Lords may uſe the ſame as they uſe the Kings Livery, and that the menials of the Prince may alſo uſe the ſame as the Kings menials, and in the manner, and upon the pains aforeſaid. Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 4 Hen. 4. & Anno Dom. 1402.

TO the honour of God and holy Church, and for the common wealth and profit of all the Realm of England, our Lord the King, by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons aſſembled at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the morrow after the Feaſt of St. Michael, the fourth year of his Reign, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances by the manner as followeth.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all Corporations and perſons.

A confirmation of the liberties of the Church, and of all Corporations and perſons, and of all Statutes not repealed.

FIrſt, That holy Church have all her Liberties and Franchiſes. And that the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all the Cities, Boroughs and Towns franchiſed, have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchiſes, which they have had of the grant of the Progenitors of our ſaid Lord the King, Kings of England, and of the Confirmation of the ſame our Lord the King. And that the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt, and all the good Ordinances and Statutes, made in the time of our ſaid Lord the King, and in the time of his Progenitors, not repealed, be firmly holden and kept.

CAP. II.

The word Inſidiatores viarum, &c. ſhall not be put in any Indictments, &c.

A confirmation of the St. made 25 Ed. 3. de Clero.

ITem, Our ſaid Lord the King having in remembrance the faithful hearts, and the inward affection that the Clergy of England hath born to him, and alſo the great charges which the ſame Clergy hath had and ſuſtained for his honour and profit, after the time of his Coronation, and therefore willing to be a gracious Lord to them in their affairs, by the aſſent of the ſaid Lords, at the ſpecial ſuit and requeſt of the ſaid Commons, will and granteth, That the Statutes made the five and twentieth year of King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, touching the Clergy of England, be entirely holden and kept, and put in due execution.

The words Incidiatores viarum & depopulatores agrorum ſhall not be put in Indictments or appeals.

And moreover, the ſame our Lord the King, conſidering that the words and terms (that is to ſay) Inſidiatores viarum, & depopulatores agrorum, compriſed in the Petition delivered to him in this Parliament by the Clergy of England, have not been commonly uſed in indictments, arraignments, appeals, nor in other impeachments, in the time of his ſaid Grandfather, nor in the time of his other Progenitors, and willing therefore to avoid ſuch novelties, for the great quiet and ſurety of his people, by the aſſent of the Lords and Commons of the ſame Parliament will and granteth, and hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the ſaid words and terms ſhall not be from henceforth uſed, nor put in indictments, arraignments, appeals, or any other impeachments. For that by force of any ſuch word or term, any Clerk religious or ſecular, nor any other of the Kings liege people, ſhall be from henceforth arraigned, appealed, impeached or grieved before any ſecular Judge: but our Lord the King doth will, that the Juſtices may take and receive before them indictments, arraignments, and appeals of felonies, containing in them the effect of the ſaid words and terms, if any perſon of ſuch felonies ſhall hereafter be indicted, arraigned, or appealed: and if percaſe it chance in time to come, any Clerks religious or ſecular ſhall be indicted, arraigned, or appealed, and their indictments, arraignments, or appeals do comprehend the effect of the ſaid words, Inſidiatores viarum, and depopulatores agrorum, or other words purporting the like effect: yet neverthele ſs ſuch Clerks ſhall have and enjoy the priviledge of holy Church, and ſhall be delivered to the Ordinaries them demanding, or their Deputies, without any impeachment, or any delay.

Clerks ſhall be allowed their Clergy notwithſtanding an Indictment hath the words aforeſaid.

CAP. III.

A Confirmation of th[illegible]berties of the Church and Clergy. A Clerk convict for Treaſon, or being a common thief, ſhall not make his purgation.

ITem, By the ſame aſſent our Lord the King doth will and grant, and hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That all the Statutes, Ordinances, & Grants, made or granted by his noble progenitors or predeceſſors Kings of England to the Clergy of England, for the conſervation of their liberties and priviledges, and for the conſervation of the liberties and immunities of holy Church not revoked, be firmly holden, obſerved and kept, and put in due execution according to their form and effect. And thereupon the Archbiſhop of Canterbury for himſelf, and for all other Biſhops of his Province, hath promiſed to our ſaid Lord the King, That if from henceforth any Clerk ſecular or religious, that is convict of Treaſon that toucheth not the King himſelf, nor his Royal Majeſty, or that he be a common thief, and for ſuch notoriouſly holden and reputed, and for the ſame cauſe as Clerk convict ſhall be from henceforth delivered to any Ordinary: that the ſame Ordinary ſhall keep him ſafely and ſurely, and according to the effect of a Conſtitution Provincial to be made by the ſaid Archbiſhop and other Biſhops, according to the content, form, and effect of the Letters of Simon late Archbiſhop of Canterbury, bearing date the twelfth Kalends of March, the year of grace, one thouſand three hundred fifty one, ordaining and inſerting in the ſame conſtitution certain pains by them to be limited by their diſcretion. And that no ſuch Clerk convict of ſuch Treaſon, or that he be a common thief, as afore is ſaid, after he be delivered, ſhall make any purgation contrary to the purport of the ſaid Conſtitution: which Conſtitution ſhall be ſhewed to our ſaid Lord the King before this next Parliament, to the intent, that if it ſeemeth to his high diſcretion, that the ſaid Conſtitution ſhall not be a convenient remedy in this caſe, that then it may be treated and provided of other remedy in ſuch ſort as appertaineth. Stat. 23 H. 8. 1.

The liberties of the Church and Clergy confirmed.

A Clerk convict for Treaſon, or being a common thief, ſhall not make his purgation.

CAP. IV.

The King will grant no Lands, or other commodities, but to ſuch as ſhall deſerve them. And if any make demand without deſert, he ſhall be puniſhed by the King and his Councel, and not obtain his ſuit. Exp.

CAP. V.

Every Sheriff ſhall in perſon continue in his Bailiwick, and ſhall not let it.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, That every Sheriff of England ſhall * abide in proper perſon within his Bailiwick, for the time that he ſhall be ſuch Officer: and that he ſhall not let the ſaid Bailiwick to ferm to any man, for the time that he occupieth ſuch Office, and that the ſaid Sheriff be ſworn, from time to time, to do the ſame in ſpecial, amongſt other Articles compriſed in the oath of the Sheriff. CAP. VII.

The diſſeiſee ſhall have an Aſſiſe againſt the diſſeiſor taking the profits.

ITem, Whereas in the Statute made the firſt year of King Richard, it was ordained, That where ſeveral perſons did diſſeiſe other of their freehold, and made feoffments to divers people as well to have maintenance, as alſo to make the diſſeiſies to be ignorant, againſt whom they ought to take their Writ: That the diſſeiſies in ſuch caſe, might take their Writ againſt them which thereof ſhall take the profit, ſo that the diſſeiſies commence their ſuit within the year next after the diſſeiſin: and that the ſame Ordinance ſhould hold place in every other action or plea, where ſuch feoffments be made by fraud or colluſion, to have their recovery againſt ſuch feoffors, if they thereof take the profits: our ſaid Lord the King thinking the ſaid Statute to be very miſchievous and prejudicial to his people, becauſe of the ſhortneſs of the time, by the aſſent of the ſaid Lords, and at the requeſt of the Commons aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that ſuch diſſeiſies ſhall have their action againſt the firſt diſſeiſor, during the life of the ſame diſſeiſor, ſo that ſuch diſſeiſor thereof take the profits at time of the ſuit commenced. And as to other Writs in plea of land, the demandant, ſhall commence his ſuit within the year, againſt him which is Tenant of the freehold, at the time of the action accrued to him, ſo that ſuch Tenant thereof take the profits, at the time of ſuch ſuit commenced, notwithſtanding the ſaid Statute. CAP. IX.

A remedy to diſcharge Commiſſioners diſtrained to return Commiſſions.

A remedy to diſcharge Commiſſioners diſtrained to return Commiſſions which never came to their hands.

ITem, Becauſe that many Commiſſions be made in the Chancery, directed to divers perſons of the Realm, ſometime to inquire and certifie, ſometime to inquire, hear and determine, and ſometime to ſeiſe lands and tenements, goods and cattels, which Commiſſions never came to the hands of the ſaid Commiſſioners, whereupon Writs iſſued out of the Eſchequer of our Lord the King, to diſtrain ſuch Commiſſioners, their executors, heirs and land-tenants; ſometime to yield the eſtreats of the fines, iſſues and amerciaments, which pertain to our Lord the King, becauſe of the ſaid Commiſſions; ſometime to certifie that which is found before them by Inqueſt; and ſometime to account of certain things contained in the ſaid Commiſſions, to the great damage and diſquietneſs of many of the Kings liege people: The ſame our Lord the King, for the eaſe and quietneſs of his people, willing in this caſe to provide remedy, by the aſſent aforeſaid, doth will and hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That the Chancellor of England for the time being, ſhall uſe his power as he hath done before this time. In this caſe, and in other caſes, the ſame Chancellor ſhall have power by authority of Parliament, (calling to him ſuch Juſtices as ſhall pleaſe him, or the chief Baron of the Eſchequer if need be) to provide remedy from time to time, by their diſcretion. St. 7 H. 4. 11.

CAP. X.

The third part of the ſilver brought to the Bullion ſhall be coined in halfpence and farthings.

The third part of the ſilver which ſhal be brought to the Bullion, ſhall be coyned in halfpence and farthings. None ſhall melt halfpence or farthings.

ITem, For the great ſcarcity that is at this preſent within the Realm of England, of halfpence and farthings of ſilver: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That the third part of all the money of ſilver which ſhall be brought to the Bullion, ſhall be made in halfpence and farthings; and that of this third part, the one half be made in halfpence, and the other half in farthings, and the ſame to do and perform the coyner ſhall be ſworn in ſpecial. And that no goldſmith nor other perſon, whatſoever he be, cauſe to be molten any ſuch halfpence or farthings, upon pain to pay to the King the quatreble of that which ſo ſhall be molten, againſt the form of this Statute.

CAP. XI.

Commiſſions ſhall be awarded to Juſtices, &c. to inquire of Wears, Kidels, &c.

St. 25 Ed. 3. 4. 45 Ed. 3. 2. Commiſſions ſhall be awarded to Juſtices and others to inquire of Wears, &c. and to puniſh offendors. St. 1 H. 4. 12.

ITem, Becauſe that by Wears, Stakes, and Kidels, being in the River of Thames, and of other great Rivers through the Realm, the common paſſage of Ships and Boats is diſturbed, and much people periſhed, and alſo the young fry of Fiſh deſtroyed, and againſt reaſon waſted and given to ſwine to eat, contrary to the pleaſure of God, and to the great damage of the King and his people: The ſame our Lord the King intending to provide a due remedy for the ſame miſchiefs, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, doth will and grant, That the Statutes thereof made be holden and kept, and put in due execution: joyning to the ſame, That Commiſſions be awarded to certain Juſtices, and other in every County of the Realm where need ſhall be, to inquire of all that which is contained in the ſaid Statutes, and to puniſh the Offendors of the ſame Statutes, by Fine, according to their diſcretion: ſaved always and reſerved to the King our Lord, the Penalties compriſed in eſpecial in the ſaid Statutes, and that the Eſtreats of ſuch Fines be delivered by the ſaid Juſtices, to the Sheriff of every County by Indenture, and that the ſaid Sheriff pay of the Iſſues and Profits riſing of the ſaid Eſtreats, to every of the ſaid Juſtices, for every day that he ſhall travel to execute the ſaid Commiſſion, four ſhillings, and that the ſaid Sheriffs have thereof due allowance from time to time in the Eſchequer.

Every Juſtice ſhall have four ſhillings a day for every day that he doth travel.

CAP. XII.

In appropriations of Benefices there ſhall be proviſion made for the poor and the Vicar.

Cro.Jac. 516.

ITem, It is ordained, That the Statute of appropriation of Churches, and of the endowment of Vicars in the ſame, made the Fifteenth year of King Richard the ſecond, be firmly holden and kept, and put in due execution: and if any Church be appropriated, by licence of the ſaid King Richard, or of our Lord the King that now is, ſithence the ſaid fifteenth year, againſt the form of the ſaid Statute, the ſame ſhall be duly reformed according to the effect of the ſame Statute betwixt this and the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming. And if ſuch reformation be not made within the time aforeſaid, that the appropriation and licence thereof be made void, and utterly repealed and adnulled for ever, except the Church of Hadenham, in the Dioceſs of Ely; which for to eſchew divers damages, diſcords, and debates, that have been before this time betwixt the Biſhop of Ely, and the Archdeacon of Ely, upon the exerciſe of their Juriſdiction (as it was openly declared by the ſame Biſhop, in preſence of the King, and of the Lords in Parliament) was of late appropried by the licence of the King our Lord, to the Archdeacon and his ſucceſſors, to do Divine Service, keep hoſpitality, and to ſupport other charges as pertaineth. Moreover it it is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That all the Vicarages, united, annexed or appropried, and the licences thereof had, after the firſt year of the ſaid King Richard, how well ſoever that they which have united, annexed or appropried ſuch Vicarages, be in poſſeſſion of the ſame Vicarages, or by the vertue of ſuch licences may in any wiſe be in poſſeſſion of the ſame in any time to come, they ſhall be alſo utterly void, revoked, repealed, adnulled and diſappropried for ever: And that from henceforth in every Church ſo appropried, or to be appropried be a ſecular perſon be ordained Vicar perpetual, canonically inſtitute and induct in the ſame, and covenably endowed by the diſcretion of the Ordinary to do Divine Service, and to inform the people, and to keep hoſpitality there, (except the Church of Hadenham aforeſaid.) Cuſtomers, Controllers, &c. ſhall abide upon their Office, and make no Deputies: and every Cuſtomer ſhall be ſworn to anſwer the King all profits.

St.1 H.4.13. Cuſtomers & Controllers ſhall continue upon their offices and be be ſworn thereunto. St.13 H.4.5. The lieutenant of the Kings Butler and Searcher ſhall continue upon their offices. Every Cuſtomer ſhall be ſworn upon the yielding of his account. St. 3 H.6.3. Merchandiſe ſhall be charged and diſcharged in ports, and not crykes. St. 11 H.6.14.1. El.11.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Statute made in the firſt year of our Lord the King that now is, that Cuſtomers and Controllers in every Port of England, ſhall abide upon their Offices in their proper perſons, without making any Deputy or Lieutenant in their names, be firmly holden and kept in all points: joyned to the ſame, that they ſhall be ſworn to do the ſame from time to time, upon pain of impriſonment, and to pay the King C. li. if they do contrary. Alſo it is accorded and aſſented, That the Lieutenant of the Kings chief Butler, and the Searcher ſhall be reſident in the ſame manner, and upon the ſame pain of C. li. to pay the one half to our Lord the King, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame againſt ſuch Cuſtomer, Controller, Lieutenant, or Searcher not reſident; and that every Cuſtomer from henceforth, upon the yielding of his account in the Eſchequer, be ſworn by his oath to anſwer lawfully to the ſame Lord the King, without fraud or deceit, of all manner profits and commodities for the payment of any aſſignment, be it by tail or in any other manner whatſoever. And that all manner Merchandiſes entring in the Realm of England, or going out of the ſame ſhall be charged and diſcharged in the great Ports of the Sea, and not in Crykes and ſmall arrivals, upon pain to forfeit all the Merchandiſes ſo charged or diſcharged to our Lord the King, except veſſels or merchandiſes arriving in ſuch little Crykes and arrivals by cohertion of Tempeſt of the Sea.

CAP. XXI.

Searchers ſhall not let any their Offices to ferm, nor occupy the ſame by deputy.

Searchers ſhall not let their offices to ferm, nor occupy them by deputy. St. 13 H.4.5.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Searchers in every Port of England ſhall be charged and ſworn, that they ſhall not let to ferm their Offices of ſearching, nor occupy the ſame by a Deputy. And that from henceforth they take of no Maſters of Ships for their Office of ſearching any ſilver or money for their welcome and farewell, nor any other thing for the ſame, as it hath been taken and received before this time, otherwiſe then ſhall be aſſured to them for their Office by our Lord the King; and that no ſearcher be Hoſt to any Merchant or Mariner. And in caſe that any ſearcher do contrary to this Statute, and that duly proved, the ſame ſearcher ſhall be put out of his Office for ever, and make fine and ranſom at the Kings will.

CAP. XXII.

The remedy where by the Kings preſentation any incumbent is put forth.

St. 25 Ed.3.3.

St. 13 R.2.1.

The remedy that an incumbent put forth of his benefice by the Kings preſentation in anothers right, hath to recover the ſame.

ITem, Whereas it is ordained by the Statute made the xxv. year of King Edward, Grandfather to our Lord the King, that if the King make collation or preſentment to any Benefice in anothers right, that the title whereupon he groundeth him, ſhould be well examined, that it be true; and at what time before judgment given, the title be found by good information untrue and unjuſt, the collation or preſentment thereof made, ſhall be repealed and adnulled. And moreover in a Statute made after in the time of King Richard, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, That if the King preſent to any benefice that is full of an incumbent, that the Kings preſentee ſhall not be received by the Ordinary, till the King hath recovered his preſentment by proceſs of the Law in his own Court. And if any preſentee of the King be otherwiſe received, and the incumbent put out without due proceſs as afore is ſaid, the ſame incumbent ſhall commence his ſuit within a year after the induction of the preſentee: Our Lord the King conſidering the great miſchief of the incumbent in this behalf, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by the aſſent aforeſaid, That if any ſuch incumbent be put out of his benefice without due proceſs in the manner aforeſaid, That the ſaid incumbent ſo put out without proceſs may be at large, and ſue for his remedy by the ſaid Statute, and begin his ſuit in this caſe at what time ſhall pleaſe him, within the year, or after at his will, and that as well for the time paſt as for the time to come, notwithſtanding the term ſo limited by the ſaid Statute.

CAP. XXIII.

Judgments given ſhall continue until they ſhall be reverſed by attaint or errour.

ITem, Whereas as well in plea real as in plea perſonal, after Judgment given in the Courts of our Lord the King, the parties be made to come upon grievous pain, ſometime before the King himſelf, ſometime before the Kings Counſel, and ſometimes to the Parliament, to anſwer thereof of new, to the great impoveriſhing of the parties aforeſaid, and in the ſubverſion of the common Law of the land: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That after Judgment given in the Courts of our Lord the King, the parties and their heirs ſhall be thereof in peace, until the Judgment be undone by attaint or by errour, if there be errours, as hath been uſed by the Laws in the times of the Kings Progenitors. ITem, For the better keeping of gold and ſilver within the Realm of England, and for the increaſe of the commodities of the ſaid Realm: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Statutes thereof made at the laſt Parliament, ſhall be continued and kept, and put in due execution: joyned to the ſame, That the Cuſtomers and Controllers of our Lord the King, in all the Ports of England, ſhall take ſufficient ſureties for all manner of merchandiſes brought by the merchants, aliens and ſtrangers, coming and repairing to the ſaid Ports, to the intent that the money taken for the ſaid merchandiſe ſhall be imployed upon the commodities of the Realm: Saving their reaſonable coſts, as in the ſame Statute more fully is contained. And moreover it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid merchants aliens and ſtrangers ſhall ſell their ſaid merchandiſes ſo brought within the ſaid Realm, within a quarter of a year next after their coming into the ſame, and alſo the money which ſhall be delivered by exchange in England, be imployed upon the commodities of the Realm, within the ſame Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame money; and that no merchant alien nor ſtranger ſell any manner of merchandiſe to any other merchant alien or ſtranger, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame merchandiſe. And alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That in every City, Town, and Port of the Sea in England, where the ſaid merchants, aliens or ſtrangers, be or ſhall be repairing, ſufficient hoſts ſhall be aſſigned to the ſame merchants, by the Mayor, Sheriffs, or Bailiffs of the ſaid Cities, Towns and Ports of the Sea. And that the ſaid merchants aliens and ſtrangers ſhall dwell in no other place, but with their ſaid hoſts ſo to be aſſigned, and that the ſame hoſts ſo to be aſſigned, ſhall take for their travel in the manner as was accuſtomed in old time. St. 4 H. 5. 5. 4 E. 4. 6.

CAP. X.

Juſtices of peace ſhall impriſon none but in the common Gaol.

Coke l.9. f 119 Cro. El. 829.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall impriſon none but in the common gaol.

ITem, Becauſe that divers Conſtables of Caſtles within the Realm of England be aſſigned to be Juſtices of Peace by Commiſſion of our Lord the King, and by colour of the ſaid Commiſſions they take people to whom they bear evil will, and impriſon them within the ſaid Caſtles, till they have made fine and ranſom with the ſaid Conſtables for their deliverance: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that none be impriſoned by any Juſtice of the Peace, but only in the common Gaol: Saving to the Lords and other (which have Gaols) their Franchiſe in this caſe.

CAP. XI.

The Fermors of aliens ſhall pay their Tithes to the Parſon of the ſame Pariſhes.

The Fermors of aliens ſhall pay tithes to the parſons and vicars of the ſame Pariſhes.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Fermors, and all manner of occupiers of the manors, lands, tenements, and other poſſeſſions of aliens, ſhall pay and be bound to pay, all manner of Dimes thereof due to Parſons and Vicars of holy Church, in whoſe Pariſhes the ſame manors, lands, tenements, and poſſeſſions be ſo aſſigned and due, as the law of holy Church requireth, notwithſtanding that the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or other poſſeſſions be ſeiſed into the Kings hands, or notwithſtanding any prohibition made or to be made to the contrary. Regiſt. f. 179.

Execution may be awarded upon a Stat. once ſhewed in Court. Raſt. pla. f 542

37 H.6. f.6. Dyer f.180.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That when any Statute merchant is certified into the Chancery, and thereupon a Writ awarded to the Sheriff, and returned into the common place, and the Statute there once ſhewed, that howſoever the proceſs after the ſame ſhewing be diſcontinued, that at what time the party ſueth to have the proceſs recontinued, and to have execution of the Statute merchant aforeſaid: That the Juſtices of the Bench where the Statute was once ſhewed, may upon the ſame record make and award full execution of the Statute merchant aforeſaid, without having the ſight, or ſhewing thereof another time after, and that this Statute hold place of all Statutes merchant, not fully executed at this time.

CAP. XIII.

What things may be gilded and laid on with ſilver or gold, and what not.

What things may be gilded and laid on with gold or ſilver, & what not. St. 8 H. 5. 3.

ITem, Whereas many fraudulent artificers, imagining to deceive the common people, do daily make locks, rings, beads, condleſticks, harneis for girdles, hilts, chalices, and ſword-pomels, powder-boxes, and covers for cups, of copper and of latin, and the ſame over-gilt and ſilver, like to gold or ſilver, and the ſame ſell and put in gage to many men, not having full knowledge thereof, for whole gold and whole ſilver, to the great deceit, loſs and hinderance of the common people, and the waſting of gold and ſilver: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That no artificer, nor other man whatſoever he be, from henceforth ſhall gilt nor ſilver any ſuch locks, rings, beads, candleſticks, harneis for girdles, chalices, hilts, nor pomels of ſwords, powder-boxes, nor covers for cups made of copper or latin, upon pain to forfeit to the King C. s. at every time that he ſhall be found guilty, and to make ſatisfaction to the party grieved for his damages: but that (Chalices always excepted) the ſaid artificers may work or cauſe to be wrought ornaments for the Church of copper and latin, and the ſame gilt or ſilver, ſo that always in the foot, or in ſome other part of every ſuch ornament ſo to be made, the copper and the latin ſhall be plain, to the intent that a man may ſee whereof the thing is made, for to eſchew the deceit aforeſaid.

CAP. XIV.

Inrolling of Writs in the Common place whereupon Fines be levied.

What writs & notes ſhall be inrolled in the common place whereupon fines be levied.

Co.lib.5. 39.1.

ITem, Whereas many feet of fines of lands and tenements within the Realm of England remaining in the Kings treaſury, and the notes of ſuch fines remaining in the common Bench, have been before this time imbeſilled, and other feet and notes of fines falſly counterfeit and ſet in their places by deceit and falſhood of ſome, whereby many people of the Realm have been greatly endamaged before this time, and may be diſherited in the time to come: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all the writs of Covenant, and all other writs whereupon fines ſhall be levied in time to come, with the writs of Dedimus poteſtatem, if any be, with all knowledges and notes of the ſame, before that they be drawn out of the common Bench by the Chirographer, ſhall be inrolled in a roll, to be of record for ever, to remain in the ſafe cuſtody of the chief Clerk of the common Bench, and of his ſucceſſors, for the old fee of xxii. pence accuſtomed to be paid to the chief Clerk, for the entring of the concord of every fine, without paying any more; to the intent that if the notes in the cuſtody of the Chirographer, or the fines be imbeſilled, a man may have recourſe to the ſaid Roll to have execution thereof, as he ſhould have if the fines were not imbeſilled; and that all the writs of Covenant, and all other writs, whereupon all fines have been levied in times paſt, ſhall be alſo of record. And moreover all the fines that were now late imbeſilled in the treaſury of our Lord the King by perſons unknown, if the notes and the ſame writs of Covenant of ſuch fines imbeſilled remaining in the cuſtody of the Chirographer may be found, that then to the party ſhewing part of the fines imbeſilled, ſuch notes and writs of Covenant ſhall remain of record as far forth as the ſame fines ſhould have been, if no imbeſilling thereof had been made.

CAP. XV.

CAP. I.

The penalty of thoſe which pay to the Court of Rome more for the firſt fruits of any Biſhoprick, &c. then had wont to be paid, is to forfeit to the King as much as they may forfeit. OBS: St. 25 H. 8. 20.

CAP. II.

The Statute of 1 H. 4. 6. touching petitions to be made to the King for Lands, Offices, &c. ſhall not extend to the Queen or Prince. Exp.

CAP. III.

Commiſſions ſhall be ſent to enquire of the accompt of Sheriffs, Eſcheators, &c.

Commiſſions ſhall be ſent to inquire of the accompt of every Sheriff, Eſcheator, Accomptant.
Co.Inſt.4.p.117

ITem, Whereas divers of the Sheriffs, Eſcheators, Aulnagers, Cuſtomers, Comptrollers, and other the Kings officers, accomptable in many parts of the Realm, do fraud and deceive our ſaid Lord the King yearly in their unlawful and untrue accompt, concealing and receiving to their own uſe the greater part of that which rightfully ought to pertain to the King, to his great damage and loſs: Our ſaid Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, hath ordained, that preſently after every final accompt, given and made by the officers and cuſtomers aforeſaid, before the Barons of the Eſchequer of our Lord the King, the tenor of the accompt of every of the ſaid officers from time to time ſhall be ſent into the Counties where the ſame accomptants be officers, together with Commiſſions directed to the moſt lawful and diſcreet perſons to inquire and certifie the profits which the ſaid accomptants have received within the ſaid Counties, in the name and to the uſe of our Lord the King, by them in the manner aforeſaid, upon their ſaid accompts, or deceitfully concealed and received to their proper uſe and profit. And in caſe that the ſaid accomptants be attainted of their ſaid frauds and deceits, they ſhall incur to our Lord the King the penalty of the treble of the ſame whereof they ſhall be ſo convict, and their bodies to priſon, until they have made fine and ranſom to our ſaid Lord the King, according to the diſcretion of his Judges.

CAP. IV.

Aliens ſhall not carry forth of the Realm merchandiſes brought in by Aliens.

A repeal of ſo much of ÿ St. of 5 H. 4. 9. as doth aſſign Merchants aliens to ſell their merchandiſe within a quarter of a year.

ITem, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, amongſt other things it was ordained, That the Merchants aliens and ſtrangers ſhould ſell their merchandiſes within a quarter of a year next after the coming thereof into the Realm: Our Lord the King ſeeing the ſaid Ordinance hurtful and prejudicial, as well for himſelf and his Realm, as for the ſaid Merchants aliens and ſtrangers, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Ordinance be utterly void and adnulled for ever. And that the ſame Merchants aliens and ſtrangers be at their free diſpoſition to ſell their merchandiſes in the manner as they did before the making of the ſaid Ordinance. Saving always the Franchiſes and Liberties of the City of London. And further provided always, always that the ſaid Merchants aliens and ſtrangers, ſhall not carry or cauſe to be carried out of the Realm any merchandiſes brought within the Realm by the Merchants and aliens ſtrangers aforeſaid.

Aliens ſhall not carry forth of the Realm merchandiſe brought in by aliens.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 7 H. 4. and Anno Domini 1405.

OUr Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the firſt day of March, the ſeventh year of his Reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in the ſame Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Ordinances and Statutes in the form as followeth.

CAP. I.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all Cities and Perſons, &c. and of all Statutes not repealed. Peace ſhall be kept, &c.

FIrſt, That holy Church have all her liberties and franchiſes; and that all the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and all the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns franchiſed, have and enjoy all their liberties and franchiſes which they have of the grant of the Kings Progenitors, and of the confirmation and grant of our Lord the King that now is. And that the great Charter, and the Charter of the Forreſt, and all the Ordinances and Statutes made in the time of our Lord the King, and in the time of his Progenitors, not repealed, be firmly holden and kept, and duly executed in all points. And that the peace within the Realm be holden and kept, ſo that all the Kings liege people and ſubjects may from henceforth ſafely and peaceably go, come, and abide, according to the laws and uſages of the ſame Realm, and that good juſtice and even right be done to every perſon: ſaving to the ſame our Lord the King his Regalty and Prerogative. St. 1 H. 4. 1.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all ſtatutes not repealed.

Peace ſhall be maintained, and Juſtice ſhall be done to all.

CAP. II.

The Realms of England and France intailed to the King and his four Sons by name.

ITem, At the requeſt and of the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in the ſaid Parliament, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the inheritance of the Crown, and of the Realms of England and France, and of all the other Dominions of our Lord the King beyond the Sea, with all the appurtenances, ſhall be ſetled and remain in the Perſon of the ſame our Lord the King, and in the heirs of his body begotten: and eſpecially at the requeſt and of the aſſent aforeſaid, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, pronounced, decreed, and declared, that the Lord the Prince Henry, eldeſt Son to our Lord the King, be heir apparent to the ſame our Lord the King, to ſucceed him in the ſaid Crown, Realms, and Dominions, to have them with all the appurtenances, after the deceaſe of the ſame our Lord the King, to him and his heirs of his body begotten. And if he die without heirs of his body begotten, then all the ſaid Crown, Realms, and Dominions, with all the appurtenances, ſhall remain to the Lord Thomas ſecond Son of our ſaid Lord the King, and to the heirs of his body begotten. And if he die without iſſue of his body, that then all the ſaid Crowns, Realms, and Dominions, with all the appurtenances, ſhall remain to the Lord John, the third Son of our ſaid Lord the King, and to the heirs of his body begotten. And if he die without heirs of his body begotten, that then all the foreſaid Crown, Realms, and Dominions, with all the appurtenances, ſhall remain to the Lord Humfrey, the fourth Son of our ſaid Lord the King, and the heirs of his body begotten.

The Inheritance of the Crown of England, and of all the Kings Dominions, intailed to him and his ſons by name.

CAP. III.

The Rolls of Eſtreats ſhall be made certain.

ITem, Whereas divers people of the Realm do loſe Iſſues, Fines, and Amerciaments in the Court of our Lord the King, at the ſuit of any party, and alſo Iſſues and Amerciaments in Inqueſts and Juries, wherein they be impannelled betwixt party and party in the ſaid Court, whereupon the Bailiffs of Sheriffs and their Receivers, and the Bailiffs of Franchiſes and their Receivers, which gather the green Wax, do levy the ſame Iſſues, Fines, and Amerciaments, by Eſtreats ſent to them and delivered out of the place where they were forfeit, by obſcure and ambiguous words, containing the ſum ſo loſt, not making mention by expreſs words of the cauſe of the loſs, nor the day of the Term, nor betwixt what parties, nor the nature of the Writ, in which the ſame Iſſues, Fines, and Amerciaments were loſt; ſo that the ſaid Officers do levy the ſum two or three times, and ſometime the double ſum contained in their Eſtreats, to the great grief and impoveriſhing of all the people: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Juſtices and Judges before whom ſuch Iſſues or Amerciaments be or ſhall be forfeit in time to come, ſhall charge the Clerks of the Eſtreats, in the places where ſuch Iſſues and Amerciaments be, or ſhall be forfeit, by their Oath to be made, that they make the Rolls of the Eſtreats of ſuch Iſſues and Amerciaments diſtinctly by expreſs word of the cauſe of the loſs, of the term of the year, and the nature of the Writ, and betwixt what parties ſuch Iſſues and Amerciaments be, or ſhall be loſt, as well in the Kings ſuit, as in the ſuit of the party: And that the Statute made in the time of King Edward the third, the two and fourtieth year of his Reign, for gathering of green Wax, be holden and kept in all points.

The Rolls of Eſtreats ſhall be made certain.

A confirmation of the ſtatute of 42 Ed. 3. 9. touching gathering of green wax.

CAP. IV.

No protection allowable for a Gaoler which letteth a Priſoner eſcape.

ITem, Becauſe that when divers perſons being debtors be condemned to their creditors by due proceſs of the Law, and committed to priſon, that is to ſay, to the Gaols of the

St, 1 R. 2. 12.

In an action of debt brought againſt a Gaoler which ſetteth a priſoner to eſcape, a protection will not lie.

Marſhalſie, Kings Bench, Fleet, and other Priſons, in divers Cities, Boroughs, and Towns within the Realm, the Wardens of the Gaols and Priſons aforeſaid, of their own authority, do let the ſaid debtors to go at large at their will; and whereas by a ſtatute it was ordained, that if any Gaoler do let ſuch priſoner to go by mainpriſe or in bail, that then the perſon to whom the priſoner is condemned, ſhall have his action and recovery againſt the ſaid Gaoler: The ſame Wardens do purchaſe to them the Kings protection, whereby the ſaid creditors by the ſame protection be delayed and deferred from their duty and rightful recovery, as well againſt the ſaid Wardens of the ſaid Gaols, as againſt the ſaid priſoners, to the great damage and prejudice of the common people, and derogation of the common Law: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no protection be available, nor by any means allowed in ſuch caſe. V. N. B. fol. 22. Fitz. N. B. fol. 28. St. 13 Ed. 1. 11. Bro. Pat. 30.

CAP. VI.

The penalty of him which purchaſeth a Bull to be diſcharged of Tithes.

The penalty of purchaſing of Bulls from Rome to be diſcharged of Tithes. St. 13 R. 2. 2. & 3.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no perſon religious nor ſecular, of what eſtate or condition that he be, by colour of any Bulls containing ſuch priviledges, to be diſcharged of Diſmes pertaining to Pariſh Churches, Prebends, Hoſpitals, or Vicarages, purchaſed before the firſt year of King Richard the ſecond after the Conqueſt, or ſithence not executed, ſhall put in execution any ſuch Bulls ſo purchaſed, or any ſuch Bulls to be purchaſed in time to come. And if any ſuch religious or ſecular perſon, of what eſtate or condition he be, from henceforth by colour of ſuch Bulls do trouble any perſon of holy Church, Prebendaries, Wardens of Hoſpitals, or Vicars, ſo that they cannot take or enjoy the Diſmes due or pertaining to them of their ſaid Benefices, that then ſuch diſturbers ſhall incur like proceſs and pain as is ordained by the ſtatute made againſt them of the Order of Ciſteaux, in the ſecond year of the Reign of our ſaid Lord the King that now is.

St. 13. Ed. 2. St. H. 4. 4.

CAP. VII.

Arrow-heads ſhall be well boiled, braſed, and hardened.

Arrow-heads ſhall be well boiled, braſed, and hardened at the points.

ITem, Becauſe the Arrow-ſmiths do make many faulty heads for arrows and quarels, defective, not well, nor lawful, nor defenſible, to the great jeopardy and deceit of the people, and of the whole Realm: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all the heads for arrows and quarels after this time to be made, ſhall be well boiled or braſed, and hardened at the points with ſteel: and if any of the ſaid Smiths do make the contrary, they ſhall forfeit all ſuch heads and quarels to the King, and ſhall be alſo impriſoned, and make a fine at the Kings will, and that every arrow-head and quarel be marked with the mark of him that made the ſame. And the Juſtices of Peace, in every County of England, and alſo the Mayor and Sheriffs, and Bailiffs of Cities and Boroughs within the ſame Cities and Boroughs, ſhall have power to enquire of all ſuch deceitful makers of heads and quarels, and to puniſh them as afore is ſaid.

Juſtices of Peace and chief Officers of Cities, &c. may enquire of and puniſh offendors.

CAP. VIII.

No proviſion, licenſe, or pardon ſhall be granted of a Benefice full of an Incumbent.

No proviſion ſhall be made by the Pope, nor licenſe or pardon by the King, touching a Benefice then full of an Incumbent.

ITem, To eſchew many diſſentions, diſcords, and debates, and divers other miſchiefs very like to riſe and grow becauſe of many proviſions made and to be made by the Pope, and alſo in reſpect of licences granted upon the ſame by the King our Sovereign Lord: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no licenſe or pardon ſo granted before this time, nor to be granted in time to come, ſhall be available to any Benefice full of any Incumbent, at the day of the date of ſuch licence or pardon granted. St. 3 H. 5. 4.

CAP. IX.

All merchandiſes may be ſold in groſs, as well to all others, as to Citizens of London.

All merchandiſes may be ſold in groſs in London as well to all the Kings people as to the Citizens of London.

ITem, Whereas at the grievous complaint made by the Commons in the ſaid Parliament, it is ſhewed how that in old time it was uſed and accuſtomed, that as well the Cloth-makers and Drapers of whatſoever place of the Realm, repairing and having recourſe to the City of London, as other Merchants, with divers merchandiſes, as Wine, Iron, Oyl, and Wax, and other things pertaining to merchandiſe, exerciſing, repairing, and having recourſe to the ſaid City, have bought and ſold in groſs, as well with aliens as with denizens, of the clothes and other merchandiſes aforeſaid, at their will and pleaſure, paying in this behalf onely the cuſtoms and other devoires thereof reaſonably due, and never in all the ſaid time were diſturbed, or in any manner hindered to ſell or buy in groſs with Merchants, aliens or denizens, of ſuch clothes and merchandiſes, at their will and pleaſure, but onely to retail: And now of late as well the ſame Cloth-makers, as other the ſaid Merchants, by the Mayor, Sheriffs, Aldermen, Drapers, and Merchants of London, be daily diſturbed and let to ſell and buy in the manner aforeſaid, as well in groſs as in retail, and grievouſly and continually conſtrained to ſell their ſaid clothes and merchandiſes onely to the merchants and inhabitants of the ſaid City, to the ſingular profit and advantage of them of London, and alſo to the damage and loſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this Realm, as of the ſaid Cloth-makers and Merchants ſo grieved, and a plain enſample and occaſion to ſuch Cloth-makers and merchants ſo grieved, to withdraw themſelves from the ſaid City from henceforth, if remedy be not rather provided in this behalf: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that as well the Drapers and Cloth-ſellers, as other Merchants with their ſundry merchandiſes, as of Wine, Iron, Oyl, and Wax, Cok. l. 8. f. 128.

and other things pertaining to merchandiſes, ſhall be free to ſell in groſs their Clothes, Iron, Oyl, and Wax, and other their merchandiſes, as well to all the Kings liege people, as to the Citizens of London, notwithſtanding any franchiſe or liberty granted to the contrary. Co. Inſt. 4. p. 249.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 11 H. 4. and Anno Domini 1409.

BY the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt, inſtance, and ſuit of the Commons, being in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the fifteenth of St. Hillary, the eleventh year of the Reign of King Henry the Fourth; The ſame out Lord the King hath ordained divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form as followeth.

CAP. I.

A Sheriff maketh an untrue return of the election of the Knights of the Parliament.

FIrſt, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the ſeventh year of the Reign of our ſaid Lord the King, there was ordained and eſtabliſhed by a Statute for the preſervation of the Liberties and Franchiſes of the election of the Knights of the Shire uſed through the Realm, a certain form and manner of the Election of ſuch Knights, as in the ſaid Statute more fully is contained: And foraſmuch as in the ſame Statute no penalty was ordained or limited in ſpecial upon the Sheriffs of the Counties, if they make any returns to the contrary of the ſame Statute: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes, ſhall have power to enquire in their Seſſions of Aſſiſes of ſuch returns made: and if it be found by enqueſt, and due examination before the ſame Juſtices, that any ſuch Sheriff hath made, or hereafter make any return contrary to the tenour of the ſaid Statute, that then the ſame Sheriff ſhall incur the penalty of one hundred pounds to be paid to our Lord the King: and moreover that the Knights of the Counties ſo unduly returned, ſhall loſe their wages of the Parliament of old time accuſtomed. St. 1 H. 5. 1. 6 H. 6. 4. 23 H. 6. 15. Raſt. pla. 446.

St. 7 H. 4. 15.

The penalty of the Sheriff which maketh an untrue return of the election of the Knights of the Parliament. St. 8 H. 6. 7.

CAP. II.

No common Hoſtler ſhall be a Cuſtomer, Comptroller, or Searcher.

ITem, It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That no man which holdeth a Common Hoſtry in any City or Borough of England, ſhall be Cuſtomer, Comptroller, Finder, nor Searcher of the ſaid Lord the King: and that to eſchew the damage and loſs, which thereof may happen by the favour that ſuch common Hoſtlers may, or will do to Merchants and other gueſts in their ſaid Offices. St. 20 H. 6. 5.

CAP. III.

Records ſhall not be amended or impaired after judgment inrolled.

ITem, It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That the Juſtices aſſigned and to be aſſigned, to take Aſſiſes by Commiſſion of our Lord the King in the Counties of the Realm, from henceforth ſhall cauſe to be delivered fully in the Kings Treaſury, all the Records of Aſſiſes of Novel diſſeiſin, of Mortdanceſtor and of Certifications, with all the appurtenances and appendances before them determined every ſecond year, that the plea thereof be determined and judgment given without more delay; and that the Records and proceſs of Pleas, real and perſonal, and of Aſſiſes of Novel diſſeiſin, or Mortdanceſtor, and Certifications, and of other, whereof Judgment is given and enrolled, or things touching ſuch plea, ſhall in no wiſe be amended nor impaired by new entring of the Clerks, or by the Record or thing certified in witneſs or commandment of any Juſtice in no Term after that ſuch judgment in ſuch pleas is given and enrolled.

Fitz. Error. 91.

Juſtices of Aſſiſe ſhall deliver into the Treaſury the Records of Aſſiſe, &c. every ſecond year. St. 9 Ed. 3. 5. Records ſhall not be amended or impaired after judgment given and recorded.

CAP. IV.

He that playeth at unlawful games prohibited by the Statute of 12 R. 2. 6. ſhall be ſix days impriſoned. Rep. 33 H. 8. 9.

CAP. V.

Gally half-pence ſhall not be current in payment in this Realm.

Gally half-pence ſhall not be currant paiment.

ITem, Becauſe that Gally half-pence do commonly run in the Realm for payment, in derogation of the Kings Crown, and in great deceit of the common people: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Gally half-pence ſhall never be currant in payment, nor in other manner within the Realm of England upon pain of forfeiture thereof. And moreover that the Gally-half-pence, in whoſe hands ſoever they be found within the Realm, ſhall be forfeit to our Lord the King after two moneths next enſuing the Proclamation of this Statute. And alſo the ſame our Lord the King will, that all the Statutes and Ordinances made before this time by him or by his noble Progenitors not repealed, as well of money of Scotland, as of the money of other Realms and parts beyond the Sea, be holden, and kept, and put in due execution.

CAP. VI.

Clothes ſhall not be tacked and plated together before the Aulnager hath ſet his Seal to them.

St. 7 H. 4. 10.

No man ſhall tack and plait together clothes before the Aulnager hath ſet his Seal unto them. St. 13 R. 2. 11.

The penalty of an Aulnager not performing his duty.

ITem, Whereas by the Statute made the ſeventh year of the Reign of our ſaid Lord the King that now is, it was ordained, That every whole coloured Cloth made within the Re[illegible] ſhould contain by aſſiſe the length of eight and twenty yards by the creſt; and every dozen of Cloth of the length of fourteen yards by the creſt; and the Rays meaſured by the liſt ſhould contain the ſame length, that is to ſay, the whole Cloth eight and twenty yards, and the dozen fourteen yards: And certain Aulnagers thereto aſſigned, through the Realm, ſhould take their charge in the Exchequer, well and lawfully without fraud to ſearch and ſurvey ſuch Clothes, and dozens, that every of them in his nature do contain the length and breadth as the Statute aforeſaid requireth: The ſame Aulnagers having power and authority by our ſaid Lord the King, duely to execute their Office, and with the Seal of their Office thereto aſſigned to ſeal all the ſaid Clothes and Dozens, holding their length and breadth, after the form of the ſaid Aſſiſe, ſo that the people having whereof they may be ſure, that by the warrant of the ſame ſealing, their Clothes and Dozens aforeſaid ſhall hold their length and breadth, after the form of the ſaid Statute: notwithſtanding which Statute, certain perſons, namely, in the Weſt parts, making ſuch manner Clothes, which do not hold their ſaid aſſiſe as well in Rays as in full Cloth, and in eſpecial where the whole coloured Cloth ought to contain the length of eight and twenty yards, it holdeth not but three and twenty yards; and where the Dozen of Cloth ought to hold fourteen yards, it holdeth but eleven yards; and to conceal the deceit of the meaſure, the ſaid people ſo making ſuch Clothes and Dozens, cauſe the ſame to be plaited and tacked together preſently after they be made: And when the Aulnagers ſee the Clothes ſo tacked together, they do ſeal them without making any more ſearch or ſurveying of the ſame Clothes, to the great deceit and hinderance, as well of the Lords as the Commons of the Realm. Our Lord the King conſidering the miſchiefs aforeſaid, and willing thereof to provide remedy, by the advice and aſſent of the ſaid Lords, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that a new Seal having a ſign and a mark differing from the old Seal of the ſaid Office of Aulnager, ſhall be made and delivered to the ſaid Aulnagers, and after that the ſame Seal ſo newly to be made be delivered to the ſaid Aulnagers, Proclamation ſhall be made openly in the Weſt parts, and other places through the Realm, that no perſons making ſuch manner of Clothes and Dozens in the Weſt parts, nor elſewhere within the Realm of England, be ſo hardy to tack and plait together ſuch manner Clothes, before that the Aulnager have duely made his ſearch and ſurvey of the ſame Clothes, that they hold their length and breadth ordained in the ſaid Statute, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame: And that the ſaid Aulnager after that, ſhall ſet the ſaid new Seal of his Office to ſuch manner of Clothes and Dozens; ſaving always that the Clothes and Dozens of Colour and of Ray, which be enſealed with the ſaid old Seal, before the Proclamation made, may have their courſe to be ſold without any impediment, impeachment, or reſtraint, upon them to be made by the ſaid Aulnagers, or any other Officers, betwixt the date of the ſaid Proclamation, and the Feaſt of St. Peter ad vincula next coming. And in caſe that any Aulnager in doing his ſaid Office do contrary to this Statute, and thereof be duly attainted, that he at the firſt time that he ſhall be ſo attainted, ſhall loſe x li. and at the ſecond time xx li. to be levied and paid to the uſe of our ſaid Lord the King, of all his lands and tenements, goods and cattels, in whoſe hands ſoever they be; And at the third time his body ſhall be arreſted, and all his goods and cattels at the Kings will. And moreover the ſame our Lord the King doth will, that every perſon which will ſue for the King, or for himſelf, ſhall have the ſuit to attaint ſuch Aulnagers, ſo doing againſt this Statute. And the ſame party purſuing ſhall have for his labour the fourth part of the penalty of ten or twenty pound aforeſaid, according as the caſe ſhall happen: ſaving to Lords and other their Franchiſes, if they have any in this caſe. St. 11 H. 6. 9.

CAP. IX.

Jurors in Indictments ſhall be returned by the Sheriff, or, &c. without denomination of any.

Cok. l. 12. 98. Cro. Car. 194.

ITem, Becauſe that now of late Enqueſts were taken at Weſtminſter of perſons named to the Juſtices, without due return of the Sheriff, of which perſons ſome were outlawed before the ſaid Juſtices of Record, and ſome fled to Sanctuary for Treaſon, and ſome for felony, there to have refuge, by whom as well many offendors were indicted, as other lawful liege people of our Lord the King, not guilty, by conſpiracy, abatement, and falſe imagination of other perſons for their ſpecial advantage and ſingular lucre, againſt the courſe of the common Law uſed and accuſtomed before this time: Our ſaid Lord the King, for the greater eaſe and quietneſs of his people, will and granteth, that the ſame Indictment, ſo made, with all the dependance thereof, be revoked, adnulled, void, and holden for none for ever. And that from henceforth no Indictment be made by any ſuch perſons, but by enqueſts of the Kings lawful liege people, in the manner as was uſed in the time of his noble Progenitors, returned by the Sheriffs or Bailiffs of Franchiſes, without any denomination to the Sheriffs, or Bailiffs of Franchiſes before made by any perſon of the names, which by him ſhould be empanelled, except it be by the Officers of the ſaid Sheriffs, or Bailiffs of Franchiſes, ſworn and known, to make the ſame, and other Officers to whom it pertaineth to make the ſame, according to the Law of England. And if any Indictment be made hereafter in any point to the contrary, that the ſame Indictment be alſo void, revoked, and for ever holden for none.

Jurors in Indictments ſhall be returned by the Sheriffs, or Bailiffs, without denomination of any.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 13 H. 4. and Anno Domini 1411.

THe Tueſday, being on the morrow of All-ſouls, the thirteenth year of the Reign of our Lord King Henry the Fourth: The ſame our Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons being in the ſaid Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, hath cauſed to be ordained and ſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances, in form as followeth.

CAP. I.

A confirmation of all Liberties, ſaving a Franchiſe granted to the Scholars of Oxford.

FIrſt, That holy Church have all her Liberties and Franchiſes, and all the Cities and Boroughs of the Realm have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchiſes, which they have of the grant of our Lord the Kings Progenitors, or of his own grant or confirmation. Except the Franchiſe now late granted to the Scholars of the Univerſity of Oxenford. And that the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt, and all other good Statutes made before this time, and not repealed, ſtand in their force.

The Liberties of the Church, and of all Cities and Boroughs confirmed. The liberties granted to the Scholars of Oxford, excepted.
St. 9 H. 4. 1.

CAP. II.

A confirmation of Stat. of 8 R. 2. 2. touching Juſtices of Aſſiſe and Gaol-delivery; for ſo long as it ſhall pleaſe the King. Exp. St. 33 H. 8. 24.

CAP. III.

A confirmation of ſeveral Statutes of 1 H. 4. 7. 7 H. 4. 14. and 1 R. 1. 7. touching giving and taking of Liveries. Rep. 3 Car. 4.

CAP. IV.

A confirmation of the Statute of 7 H. 4. 10. and 11 H. 4. 6. &c. touching the length and breadth of Clothes of Ray, and coloured Clothes. Rep. 5 Ed. 6. 6. 43 El. 10. 4 Jac. 2. 9 H. 4. 6.

CAP. V.

All Cuſtomers, Comptrollers, &c. ſhall be reſident upon their Offices.

ITem, It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the Statutes made of Cuſtomers, Comptrollers, Lieutenants of the chief Butler, and of Searchers, the firſt and fourth years of our ſaid Lord the King that now is, be kept and holden. And moreover it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all manner of Cuſtomers, and Comptrollers, Gaugeors of Wine, and Searchers through the Realm, ſhall be continually reſident and abiding upon their Offices, and in ſpecial at the time of the charge and diſcharge of Ships and Veſſels entring in the Ports of England, and paſſing out of the ſame, ſo that no ſuch Officer, after the time above named, be abſent from his ſaid Office, by three weeks at the moſt, upon pain to loſe his ſaid Office, unleſs he be commanded and charged in ſpecial of Record to be in the Kings Courts, or otherwiſe in the Kings ſervice of Record, as afore is ſaid. St. 1 H. 4. 13. 4 H. 4. 20.

Cuſtomers, &c. ſhall be continually reſident upon their Offices.

CAP. VI.

No Gally half-pence or foreign money ſhall be currant within this Realm.

ITem, Whereas in the Statute made the eleventh year of our Lord the King that now is, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, that Gally half-pence from henceforth ſhould not run in paiment, nor in other manner within the Realm of England, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame, and moreover that the ſame Gally half-pence, in whoſe hands they might be found within the ſaid Realm, ſhould be forfeit to our ſaid Lord the King; and alſo that the Statutes and Ordinances made by our ſaid Lord the King, or his noble Progenitors, as well of the money of Scotland, as of other Realms and parts beyond the Sea, ſhould be holden and kept, and put in due execution: Our Lord the King, conſidering the great deceit, as well of the Gally half-pence, as of the money of other Realms beyond the Sea, will that the ſame Statutes be firmly holden and kept, and put in due execution in all points. St. 2 H. 4. 6. 11 H. 4. 5.

No foreign money ſhall be currant within this Realm.

CAP. VII.

The Juſtices of Peace and the Sheriffs ſhall arreſt thoſe which commit any Riot, &c. Inquire of them, and record their offences.

The Juſtices of Peace and the Sheriff ſhall arreſt thoſe which commit any riots, &c.

Bro. Riots 5.

7 Ed. 4. 1. 18.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That if any Riot, Aſſembly, or Rout of people againſt the Law, be made in parties of the Realm, that the Juſtices of Peace, three, or two of them at the leaſt, and the Sheriff or Under-ſheriff of the County where ſuch Riot, Aſſembly, or Rout ſhall be made hereafter, ſhall come with the power of the County (if need be) to arreſt them, and ſhall arreſt them, and the ſame Juſtices and Sheriff, or Under-ſheriff ſhall have power to record that which they ſhall find ſo done in their preſence againſt the Law. And that by the record of the ſame Juſtices and Sheriff, or Under-ſheriff, ſuch treſpaſſers and offenders ſhall be convict in the manner and form as is contained in the Statute of forcible entries. And if it happen that ſuch treſpaſſers and offenders be departed before the coming of the ſaid Juſtices and Sheriff, or Under-ſheriff, that the ſame Juſtices, three, or two of them, ſhall diligently inquire within a moneth, after ſuch Riot, Aſſembly, or Rout of people ſo made, and thereof ſhall hear and determine according to the Law of the Land.

St. 5 R. 2. 7.
St. 15 R. 2. 2.
Inquiry of the offendors.

Certificate of a riot and the puniſhment of offendors.

And if the truth cannot be found in the manner as is aforeſaid, then within a moneth then next following, the Juſtices, three or two of them, and the Sheriff or Under-ſheriff ſhall certifie before the King and his Council all the deed and circumſtances thereof: which Certificate ſhall be of like force, as the preſentment of twelve, upon which Certificate the ſaid treſpaſſers and offenders ſhall be put to anſwer, and they which ſhall be found guilty, ſhall be puniſhed according to the diſcretion of the King and his Council.

A Traverſe of a riot triable in the Kings Bench.

Condition of offendors, for default of appearance.

And if ſuch treſpaſſers and offenders do traverſe the matter ſo certified, the ſame Certificate and Traverſe ſhall be ſent into the Kings Bench, there to be tried and determined as the Law requireth. And if the ſame treſpaſſers do not appear before the King & his Council, or in the Kings Bench, at ỹ firſt Precept, then ſhall be another Precept directed to the Sheriff of the County, to take the ſaid treſpaſſers and offenders, if they may be found, & to bring them at a certain day before the King & his Council, or into the Kings Bench. And if they cannot be found, that the Sheriff, or Under-ſheriff ſhall make proclamation in his full County next enſuing the delivery of the ſecond Precept, that they ſhall appear before the King and his ſaid Council, or in the Kings Bench, or in the Chancery, in time of vacation, within three weeks next following. And in caſe the ſame offenders come not as afore is ſaid, and the Proclamation made and returned, they ſhall be convict and attainted of the Riot, Aſſembly, or Rout aforeſaid, notwithſtanding any article or ordinance made to the contrary.

The penalty of the next Juſtices omitting their office.

Dyer 210.

And moreover, That the Juſtices of Peace dwelling nigheſt in every County, where ſuch Riot, Aſſembly, or Rout of people ſhall be made hereafter, together with the Sheriff or Under-ſheriff of the ſame County, and alſo the Juſtices of Aſſiſes for the time that they ſhall be there in their Seſſion, in caſe that any ſuch Riot, aſſembly, or Rout be made in their preſence, ſhall do execution of this Statute, every one upon pain of an hundred pound, to be paid to the King as often as they ſhall be found in default of the execution of the ſame Statute. St. 17 R. 2. 8. 2 H. 5. 8. 11 H. 7. 7. 19 H. 7. 13. Raſt. pla. fo. 383.

Thus endeth the Statutes of King Henry the Fourth.

Anno primo HENRICI Quinti.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the Reign of King Henry the Fifth, and in the year of our Lord 1413.

OUr Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the third week of Eaſter, the firſt year of his Reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons of this Realm, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

What ſort of people ſhall be choſen, and who ſhall be chooſers of the Knights and Burgeſſes of the Parliament.

What perſons ſhall be choſen, and who ſhall be the chuſers of the Knights and Burgeſſes for the Parliament.
Raſt. pla. fo. 446.

FIrſt, That the Statutes of the elections of the Knights of the Shires to come to the Parliament, be holden and kept in all points: adjoyning to the ſame, that the Knights of the Shires, which from henceforth ſhall be choſen in every Shire, be not choſen unleſs they be reſident within the Shire where they ſhall be choſen, the day of the date of the Writ of the ſummons of the Parliament. And that the Knights and Eſquires, and other which ſhall be chuſers of thoſe Knights of the Shires, be alſo reſident within the ſame Shires, in manner and form as is aforeſaid. And moreover, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Citizens and Burgeſſes of the Cities and Boroughs be choſen men, Citizens and Burgeſſes reſiant dwelling and free in the ſame Cities and Boroughs, and no other in any wiſe. St. 7 H. 4. 15. 8 H. 6. 7. 10 H. 6. 2. 23 H. 6. 15.

CAP. II.

A confirmation of former Statutes touching Wears, Mills, Kidels, &c.

St. 25 Ed. 3. 4.
45 Ed. 3. 2.
4 H. 4. 12.

ITem, Becauſe that great complaint hath been made to our ſaid Lord the King in this preſent Parliament, for that the ſtatutes made in the time of his noble Progenitors Kings of England, of the levying and ſtraiting of Wears, Mills, Stanks, Stakes, and Kidels, be not kept according to the form and effect of the ſame Statutes, to the great damage of the people of the Realm of England: Our ſaid Lord the King that now is, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, will and grant that the ſaid Statutes and Ordinances be ſurely holden and kept, and put in due execution.

A confirmation of former Statutes made concerning the levying and ſtraitning of Wears, &c.

CAP. III.

The penalty that ſhall be inflicted upon him which doth forge or publiſh a falſe deed, ſhall be to ſatisfie the party grieved his damages, and to make fine and ranſome at the Kings will. Rep. 5 El. 14. Raſt. pla. fo. 353. Fitz. forger de faits. 1. 2. 3. &c.

CAP. IV.

Sheriffs Bailiffs ſhall not be in the ſame Office in three years after. Sheriffs Officers ſhall not be Atturnies.

Item, Foraſmuch as the Kings liege people dare not purſue or complain of the extortions and of the oppreſſions to them done by the Officers of Sheriffs, that is to ſay, by under-Sheriffs, Clerks of Sheriffs, Receivers and Bailiffs of Sheriffs, becauſe that the ſaid Under-ſheriffs, Clerks, Receivers, and Bailiffs, be continually, from year to year, abiding with the Sheriffs interchangeably out of one Office into another: Our Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that they which be Bailiffs of Sheriffs, by one year, ſhall be in no ſuch Office by three years next following, except Bailiffs of Sheriffs, which be inheritable in their Sheriffwicks. And that no Under-ſheriff, Sheriffs Clerk, Receiver, nor Sheriffs Bailiff, be Atturney in the Kings Courts, during the time that he is in Office with any ſuch Sheriff.

The Sheriffs Bailiffs ſhall not be in the ſame office three years after.

Sheriffs Officers ſhall not be Atturnies.

CAP. V.

In which Original Writs additions of the Defendants names ſhall be put.

4 Ed. 4. f. 10. Cok. l. 6. f. 67. Cro. El. 198. Cro. Jac. 610. Dyer f. 40. 79. 213. 224. Bro. Addition. 4. 5. 7. 8. 9. 10. 12. 14. 15. 19. Fitz. Brief. 30. 36. 40. 47. 49. 51. 61. 67. 72. 75. 109. 122. 124. 125. 129. 151. 163. 169. 201. 236. 940.

Item, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that in every original Writ of actions perſonals, appeals, and indictments, and in which the Exigent ſhall be awarded, in the names of the defendants in ſuch Writs original, appeals, and indictments, additions ſhall be made of their eſtate or degree, or myſtery, and of the towns, or hamlets, or places, and counties, of the which they were or be, or in which they be or were converſant. And if by proceſs upon the ſaid original Writs, Appeals, or Indictments, in the which the ſaid additions be omitted, any Utlagaries be pronounced, that they be void, fruſtrate, and holden for none. And that before the Utlagaries pronounced, the ſaid Writs and Indictments ſhall be abated by the exception of the party, where in the ſame the ſaid additions be omitted. Provided always, that though the ſaid Writs of additions perſonals be not according to the Records and Deeds, by the ſurpluſage of the additions aforeſaid, that for that cauſe they be not abated. And that the Clerks of the Chancery, under whoſe names ſuch Writs ſhall go forth written, ſhall not leave out, or make omiſſion of the ſaid additions as is aforeſaid, upon pain to be puniſhed, and to make a fine to the King by the diſcretion of the Chancellor. And this Ordinance ſhall begin to hold place at the ſuit of the party, from the feaſt of St. Michael next enſuing forward. Raſt. pla. fol. 107. 280. Stat. 8 H. 6. 12. 9 H. 6. 4. 5 El. 23.

In original Writs where in Exigent ſhall be awarded, additions of the defendants names ſhall be put. Co. Inſt. 2 p. 595.

Surpluſage of additions ſhall not prejudice.

CAP. IX.

The Revenues of Calice ſhall be employed to the maintenance of it. OB.

CAP. X.

By what meaſures Purveyors and others ſhall take and buy corn.

Item, Whereas in the time of the Kings noble Progenitors it was ordained, that one meaſure of corn ſhould be through all the Realm of England, that is to ſay, eight buſhels for the quarter, and that every buſhel ſhall contain eight gallons, by force of which Ordinances ſuch meaſure hath been uſed, with a buſhel of the ſaid quarter heaped: And notwithſtanding the ſaid good ordinances and uſages, the purveyors of corn as well for the houſe of the Father of our Lord the King, as for the houſe of our Lord the King which now is, have taken before this time for the ſaid houſes continually nine buſhels of Wheat, and of other corn, for the quarter, and that many times by meaſure not ſealed, and alſo not ſtricken, againſt the will of the ſellers of the ſame, and without due price ſet upon the ſame after the Law of the Land, and alſo cauſe the ſellers to carry the ſaid corn to what place that them pleaſeth, without paying for the carriage: and the Merchants and Citizens of London do uſe to take of every ſeller for the quarter of Wheat nine buſhels by the meaſure, uſed within the ſaid City called the Fate, with a buſhel ſet upon the ſaid Fate, and yet make the ſellers to pay a half-peny for the meaſuring of every quarter, and take for a quarter of Oats ten Buſhels, whereby the buyers of the corn in the Countrey will not buy nor take for the quarter of corn, but in the ſame manner, as the ſaid Purveyors, and they of the ſaid City uſe to take, to the great hinderance and perpetual undoing of the Commonalty aforeſaid:

London meaſure called the Fate.

By what meaſures Purveyors and others ſhall take and buy corn.

It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all the ſaid good Ordinances be firmly holden and kept, after the effect of the ſame. And that no Purveyor of our Lord the King, nor any other, ſhall uſe hereafter to buy nor to take any corn by other meaſure, but eight buſhels ſtriked for the quarter, and that none be otherwiſe bound to deliver for the quarter but eight buſhels, ſtriked as is aforeſaid, and alſo that the payment be made in hand for the carriage. And that if any Purveyor of our Lord the King, or any other perſon, buy or take any corn otherwiſe, or by other meaſure but eight buſhels ſtriked for the quarter, as in the ſaid Ordinances is contained, and thereof be attainted, he ſhall have one years impriſonment, and pay to the King a hundred ſhillings, and to the party that feeleth himſelf grieved another hundred ſhillings, and that as often as any of them be thereof attainted: and that the party which will ſue, have an action grounded upon the caſe, and that the Juſtices of the Peace have power to enquire and hold plea of all theſe things aforeſaid, and upon that make puniſhments as is aforeſaid, as well at the ſuit of the King, as of the party: and that from henceforth nothing be taken for the meaſuring of ſuch corn in any wiſe. Statutes made at Leiceſter, Anno ſecundo Henrici quinti, and An. Dom. 1414.

OUr Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Leiceſter the laſt day of April, the ſecond year of his Reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons of his Realm in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Ordinances, Declarations, and Statutes made in the form as followeth

CAP. I.

Ordinaries ſhall enquire of, and reform the eſtates of Hoſpitals.

The cauſes of the erection of Hoſpitals.

FIrſt, Foraſmuch as many Hoſpitals within the Realm of England, founded as well by the noble Kings of this Realm, and Lords and Ladies both ſpiritual and temporal, as by divers other eſtates, to the honour of God and of his glorious Mother, in aid and merit of the ſouls of the ſaid Founders, to the which Hoſpitals the ſame founders have given a great part of their moveable goods for the buildings of the ſame, and a great part of their lands and tenements, therewith to ſuſtain impotent men and women, lazers, men out of their wits, and poor women with child, and to nouriſh, relieve, and refreſh other poor people in the ſame, be now for the moſt part decayed, and the goods and profits of the ſame by divers perſons as well ſpiritual as temporal withdrawn and ſpent in other uſe, whereby many men and women have died in great miſery for default of aid, living, and ſuccour, to the diſpleaſure of God, and peril of the ſouls of ſuch manner of diſpoſers: The King our Sovereign Lord, conſidering the meritorious and devout intents of the founders aforeſaid, and the unaccuſtomed government in the ſame, hath by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, ordained and eſtabliſhed, That as to the Hoſpitals, which be of the patronage and foundation of the King, the Ordinaries by vertue of the Kings Commiſſions to them directed, ſhall inquire of the manner and foundation of the ſaid Hoſpitals, and of the governancs and eſtate of the ſame, and of all other matters neceſſary and requiſite in this behalf, and the inquiſitions thereof taken ſhall certifie in the Kings Chancery. And as to other Hoſpitals, which be of another foundation and patronage then of the King, the Ordinaries ſhall inquire of the manner of the foundation, eſtate and governance of the ſame, and of all other matters and things neceſſary in this behalf: and upon that make thereof correction and reformation, according to the Laws of holy Church, as to them belongeth.

Ordinaries ſhall enquire of, and reform the foundation, eſtate, and government of Hoſpitals. St. 14 El. 5.

CAP. II.

A Corpus cum cauſa, or Certiorari to remove him which is in execution at another mans ſuit.

ITem, Foraſmuch as many men have been condemned in the Courts of our Lord the King, and in the Courts of his Progenitors, as well within the City of London, as in other Cities and Boroughs within the Realm of England, and by the vertue of ſuch condemnations have been committed to the priſon of our Lord the King, there to remain until they have made agreement to the plaintiffs to whom they were condemned: After by their ſuggeſtion made in the Chancery of our Lord the King, they have had divers Writs called Certiorari, and Corpus cum cauſa, out of the Chancery of our ſaid Lord the King, directed to the Sheriff, or Keepers of the priſons, where ſuch perſons condemned be holden, to have their bodies with the cauſe of impriſonment of the condemned aforeſaid in the Chancery, at the days contained in the ſaid Writs: After which Writs, together with the body and the cauſe of the condemnation returned in the Chancery aforeſaid, the ſaid perſons ſo condemned have been delivered in the Chancery aforeſaid by bail or by mainpriſe, or enlarged without bail or mainpriſe againſt the aſſent and will of the ſaid plaintiffs, and without any agreement made to the ſaid plaintiffs of the ſums in the which they be condemned, againſt the law of the land: and ſo remain the ſaid plaintiffs without remedy, in hinderance of the ſtate of ſuch plaintiffs, and in defeating of the judgments given in the Courts aforeſaid: Our Lord the King, willing herein to provide remedy, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the foreſaid Commons, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that if any ſuch Writ of Certiorari, or Corpus cum cauſa, be granted, or ſhall be granted at any time hereafter, and upon the ſaid Writ if it be returned, that the priſoner which is ſo holden in priſon, is condemned by judgment given againſt him, that preſently he ſhall be remanded where he ſhall remain continually in priſon, according to the law and cuſtom of the land, without being

If a Corpus cum cauſa, or Certiorari be granted to remove him that is in priſon upon an execution at another mans ſuit, he ſhall be ſent back to priſon.

CAP. III.

A Libel grantable in the Spiritual Court ſhall be preſently delivered.

ITem, Foraſmuch as divers of the Kings liege people be daily cited to appear in the ſpiritual Court before ſpiritual Judges, there to anſwer to divers perſons, as well of things which touch Freehold, debt, treſpaſs, covenants, and other things whereof the conſance pertaineth to the Court of our Lord the King, as of Matrimony and Teſtament: and when ſuch perſons ſo cited appear and demand a libel of that which againſt them is ſurmiſed to be informed to give their anſwer thereunto, or otherwiſe to purchaſe a Writ of our Lord the King, of Prohibition, according to their caſe, which Libel to them is denied by the ſaid ſpiritual Judges, to the intent that ſuch perſons ſhould not be aided by any ſuch Writ againſt the Law, and to the great damage of ſuch perſons ſo impleaded: Our ſaid Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt and inſtance of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that at what time the Libel is grantable by the Law, that it may be granted and delivered to the party without any difficulty. CAP. IV.

Which Juſtices of the Peace muſt be reſident in the ſame Shire: And at what times they muſt hold their Quarter Seſſions.

ITem, Foraſmuch as the ſervants and labourers of the Shires of the Realm do flee from County to County, becauſe they would not be juſtified by the ordinances and ſtatutes by the Law for them made, to the great damage of Gentlemen and others, to whom they ſhould ſerve, becauſe that the ſaid ordinances and ſtatutes for them ordained, be not executed in every Shire: Our Lord the King, willing in this caſe to provide a remedy, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the ſtatute of labourers made at Canterbury, and all other good ſtatutes of labourers, made and not repealed, be firmly holden and kept, and put in due execution. And moreover, that the Juſtices of Peace have power to ſend their Writs for ſuch fugitive labourers to every Sheriff of the Realm of England, and to make ſuch proceſs as the ſtatute requireth, to bring them before them to anſwer to our Sovereign Lord the King, and to the parties, of the contempts and treſpaſſes made or done againſt the ordinances and ſtatutes aforeſaid, in like manner as the Juſtices have power to ſend to every Sheriff for the felons before them indicted. And alſo that all the ſtatutes and ordinances of labourers, ſervants, and artificers before this time made and not repealed, be exemplified under the great Seal, and ſent to every Sheriff of the Realm of England, thereof to make proclamation in full County, & after this proclamation ſo made, that every Sheriff ſhall cauſe the ſaid exemplification to him directed, to be delivered to the Juſtices of yͤ Peace in his County named of the Quorum, or to one of them, to remain with ſuch Juſtices which be, or ſhall be, for the better putting of the foreſaid ſtatutes & ordinances in due execution. And in Shires where divers Commiſſions of the Peace be made, there ſhall be ſo many exemplifications of the ſtatutes and ordinances aforeſaid made, as be Commiſſions of the Peace in the ſame Shires, and ſent to the Sheriff to make proclamation, and to deliver the ſame as is aforeſaid.

Juſtices of Peace may ſend their Writs for fugitive ſervants or labourers to every Sheriff of England. Rep. 5 El. 4.

And that the Juſtices of the Peace in every Shire named of the Quorum, be reſiant within the ſame Shire (except Lords named in the Commiſſion of the Peace: and alſo except Juſtices of the one Bench, and of the other, the chief Baron of the Exchequer, Serjeants at the Law, and the Kings Atturney, for the time that the ſaid Juſtices, chief Baron, Serjeants at the Law, and the Kings Atturney, be intending and occupied in the Kings Courts, or otherwiſe in ſome other place occupied in the Kings ſervice) and make their Seſſions four times by the year, that is to ſay, in the firſt week after the Feaſt of St. Michael, and in the firſt week after the Epiphany, and in the firſt week after the clauſe of Eaſter, and in the firſt week after the tranſlation of St. Thomas the Martyr, and more often, if need be. And that the ſame Juſtices hold their Seſſions throughout the Realm of England in the ſame weeks every year from henceforth. And alſo that the Juſtices of Peace from henceforth have power to examine as well all manner of labourers, ſervants, and their maſters, as artificers, by their oaths, of all things by them done contrary to their ſaid ordinances and ſtatutes, and upon that to puniſh them upon their confeſſion, after the effect of the ſtatutes and ordinances aforeſaid, as though they were convict by enqueſt. And that the Sheriff in every Shire of the Realm of England ſhall do well and duly his office in this behalf, upon pain to loſe and to forfeit to our Lord the King twenty pound.

Which Juſtices of Peace and Quorum muſt be reſiant in the ſame Shire, which not.

At what times Juſtices of Peace ſhall hold their Quarter Seſſions.

Juſtices of Peace may examine labourers, ſervants, and their maſters, and artificers by their oaths.

CAP. V.

Proceſs againſt felons dwelling in Tyndal or Examſhire in Northumberland.

ITem, Foraſmuch as by the Commons of the County of Northumberland, grievous complaints have been made to our Sovereign Lord the King in this preſent Parliament, for that many murders, treaſons, manſlaughters, robberies, and divers other offences, to many of the faithful liege people of the ſame County, by people dwelling in the ſame County within the Franchiſe of Tyndal and Examſhire, where the Kings Writs runneth not, now of late have been perpetrated, otherwiſe then have been done or known before this time, to ſo many perils of the ſaid liege people of our Lord the King, that without due remedy in this behalf provided, they dare no longer there dwell, becauſe that ſuch offendors be ſo favoured by ſuch Franchiſe: Our ſaid Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That if any perſon of the ſaid franchiſes of Tyndal and Examſhire, reſiant or dwelling in the ſame, of what eſtate or condition that he be, do any murders, treaſons, manſlaughters, or robberies, or conſent to do them out of the ſaid franchiſes of Tyndal and Examſhire, proceſs ſhall be made againſt him by the common Law, until he be outlawed. And that after ſuch outlawry pronounced and returned, the Juſtices before whom ſuch outlawry is returned, ſhall make thereof certificate to ſuch miniſter or miniſters of the ſaid franchiſes, as to them ſhall ſeem beſt in this behalf, according to their diſcretion. And ſuch felons ſhall be taken by ſuch miniſter or miniſters, and his lands and tenements, goods and chattels being within the ſame franchiſe ſeiſed into the hands of the Lords of the ſame franchiſes of Tyndal and Examſhire for the time being, as forfeit. And that the other lands and tenements, goods and chattels of ſuch felons, being out of the ſame franchiſes, ſhall wholly remain to the King, and to other Lords, having thereof franchiſe, as forfeit. Saving always to the King the forfeitures of ſuch murderers, traitors, man-ſlayers, robbers, and other offendors, and of other things which to him do belong, as of the right of his Crown. Some have broken truces and ſafe conducts, and others have received and maintained them.

Breaking of truce and ſafe conducts ſhall be high treaſon. Rep. 20 H. 6. 11. & 1 Ed. 6. 12. & 2 M. Seſſ. 1. St. 14. li. 6. 8.

A Conſervator of the truce ſhall be appointed in every Port of the Sea.

The authority of the Conſervator of the truce.

29 H. 6. 2.

ITem, Forasmuch as before this time divers people, compriſed within the Truces made as well by our Lord the King that now is, as by his noble Father, and alſo divers other people having ſafe conducts as well of our Lord the King that now is, as of his noble Father, have been ſome ſlain, robbed and ſpoiled, by the Kings liege people and ſubjects, as well upon main Sea, as within the Ports and Coaſts of the Sea of England, Ireland, and of Wales, whereby the ſaid truces and ſafe conducts have been broken and offended, to the great diſhonour and ſlander of the King, and againſt his dignity: And the ſaid man-ſlayers, robbers, ſpoilers, and offenders of the ſaid truces and the Kings ſafe conducts, as is afore declared, have been by divers of the Kings liege people and ſubjects within the coaſts of divers Counties, received, abetted, procured, concealed, hired, ſuſtained, and maintained: Our ſaid Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and declared, That ſuch man-ſlaughter, robbery, ſpoiling, breaking of truce and ſafe conducts, and voluntary receit, abetment, procurement, concealing, hiring, ſuſtaining, and maintaining of ſuch perſons, to be done in time to come by any of the Kings liege people and ſubjects within the Realm of England, Ireland, and Wales, or upon the main Sea, ſhall be adjudged and determined for high treaſon done againſt the Kings Crown and his Dignity. And in every Port of the Sea ſhall be made and aſſigned from henceforth by the King by his Letters Patents, one lawful man called a Conſervator of the Truce, and the Kings ſafe conducts, which ſhall have forty pound land by the year at the leaſt. And that the Conſervator have power and authority by the ſaid Letters Patents, and alſo by Commiſſion of the Admiral of England, to enquire of all ſuch treaſons and offences to be done againſt the truce and ſafe conducts upon the main Sea, out of the body of the Counties, and out of the franchiſes of the five Ports of the King, as the Admirals of the Kings of England before this time reaſonably, after the old Cuſtom and Law on the main Sea uſed, have done or uſed. And alſo that the like Conſervator have like and the ſame power, to puniſh all them which be or ſhall be indicted or accuſed before him as well at the Kings ſuit as at the parties, of any thing to be done againſt the truce and the Kings ſafe conducts upon the main Sea, out of the body of the Counties and Liberties of the Realm of England, and out of the franchiſe of the five Ports, by ſuch proceſs, examination, proofs, determination, judgment, and execution, as Admirals of the Kings of England before this time reaſonably, according to the old Cuſtom and Law upon the main Sea uſed, have done or uſed.

The determination of the death of a man excepted out of the Conſervators authority.

Proceſs to be awarded againſt thoſe that be indicted.

The additions of the parties indicted ſhall be inſerted.

Two men learned in the Law ſhall be aſſociate in the Conſervators Commiſſion. The authority of the Conſervator and the two aſſociates.

Saving the determination of the death of a man in this behalf, and the execution of the ſame, ſhall be always reſerved to the ſaid Admiral, or to his general Lieutenant out of the ſaid franchiſes of the five Ports. And that the ſaid Conſervator ſhall have power and authority to enquire as well within liberties and franchiſes as without, by men inhabiting within the body of the County and Liberty where the ſaid Port is, of all ſuch treaſons and offences to be done againſt the truces, and againſt the Kings ſafe conducts, within the body of the County and Liberty where the ſaid Port is, and to make againſt thoſe perſons before him ſo indicted, ſuch proceſs as here followeth, that is to ſay, by Capias and Exigent, which ſhall as well go into the Counties, of which ſuch men ſo indicted be ſuppoſed to be, as into the Counties where ſuch indictments be taken; which Capias & Exigent aforeſaid, in both Counties, ſhall be returned at one day, and that the firſt Capias in both Counties have day of return by a moneth at the leaſt. And in caſe that the Capias and Exigent be awarded in this behalf, that the names and ſurnames of ſuch perſons ſo indicted, and the Town and the County and the Myſtery whereof they be, ſhall be ſpecified & declared in the indictments and proceſſes of the ſame. And that the ſaid Conſervator have full power to hear, at every mans ſuit, which will complain before himſelf, or his Lieutenant, of any offence done to the party againſt the ſaid truces and ſafe conducts. And that two men learned in the Law be named and aſſociate in every Commiſſion of our Lord the King, to be made to ſuch Conſervator, and that the ſaid Conſervator, and the ſaid men learned in the Law, in the Commiſſion to him aſſociate and aſſigned, ſhall have full power and authority to make deliverance, according to the Law and uſage of the land, of ſuch men ſo indicted before the ſaid Conſervator, of things to be done within the body of the County, or liberty where the ſaid Port is, againſt the ſaid truce and the Kings ſafe conducts, and to determine ſuch ſuits commenced at any mans ſuit, which will complain before the ſaid conſervator, of any offence to him done againſt the ſaid truce and ſafe conducts, & thereof to make due redreſs and remedy: And that the ſaid two men to the ſaid conſervator ſo aſſociate, be aſſiſting & attending to the ſaid conſervator to make the deliverances & determination in the manner and form aforeſaid, when they be by the ſaid Conſervator reaſonably required. And that the ſaid Conſervator and the ſaid two men of Law, be ſworn that they nor any of them ſhall take fee, gift, hire, wages, reward or brocage of any other then of the King in any wiſe in this behalf, in hinderance of due execution and puniſhment of ſuch traitors and offendors aforeſaid. And that the ſaid Conſervator ſhall be reſiant in the Port and places where he ſhall be Conſervator aſſigned as aforeſaid. And every Conſervator ſhall take yearly for the ſaid office fourty pound of the King at the leaſt; and that they be ſworn, that if any perſon of what eſtate or condition ſoever he be, procure, excite, or abet them or any of them, to do any thing contrary to this Ordinance & oath aforeſaid, that every of them ſhall make due relation to our Soveraign Lord the King or to the Chancellor of England for the time being, as ſpeedily as he well may, without concealment, in any point, upon pain of impriſonment, and to make fine and ranſom at the Kings pleaſure. And that the ſaid Conſervator have a ſeal of our Lord the King ordained for the ſaid office. And that the Maſter of the ſhip, barge, or balinger, or other veſſels in the ſaid Port, be ſworn, & the poſſeſſor alſo (if he be preſent) before the ſaid Conſervator, before that he paſs out of the ſaid Port, that he ſhall not attempt to do any thing againſt the ſaid truce and the Kings ſafe conducts. And alſo that the ſaid Conſervator ſhall cauſe to be inrolled of record before him, as well the names of ſuch owners and maſters, as the names of their ſhip, barge, balinger, or other veſſel, together with the number of the mariners in the ſame being. And if they take any thing of ẏ Kings enemies, or of any other, they ſhall cauſe to be brought ſuch things taken into the Port, and thereof make full information to the ſaid Conſervator, before that they thereof make diſcharge or ſale. If it be not that by force of wind, tempeſt, or of enemies, or ſome other reaſonable cauſe, ſuch ſhip, barge, balinger or other veſſel, muſt enter into another Port for the preſervation of the ſame veſſel, or other cauſe reaſonable. And that then they ſhall make full information to the ſaid Conſervator, or to the Conſervator of the Port in which the ſaid veſſels arrive or enter, of the prize and of the quantity of the thing, receiving a letter teſtimonial under the ſaid ſeal of the aforeſaid Conſervator, by the which the Conſervator of the ſaid Port, whereof the veſſel or veſſels ſhall go out, may have notice of the quantity and alſo of the value of the goods and cattels ſo taken. And if any poſſeſſor or maſter of any ſhip or other veſſel, go out of any Port of the Realm of England, or diſcharge his ſhip or veſſel againſt the form of this Ordinance, that ſuch ſhip or veſſel, together with the prize taken in the ſame duly made, ſhall be forfeit to the King, and the body of the poſſeſſor or maſter of ſuch ſhip or veſſel committed to priſon, there to remain until he hath made a fine and ranſom to the King.

The oath of the conſervator and aſſociates.

The conſervator ſhall have a Seal.

The office of the maſter and poſſeſſor of a ſhip.

What ſhall be inrolled by the conſervator.

The conſervator ſhall be informed of all things taken from the Kings enemies by the mariners.

Provided always, that no poſſeſſors of ſhips going out of any port, ſhall make any fine nor ranſom, or have impriſonment of body, if the ſame poſſeſſors be not in the ſame ſhips at the time of the offence committed againſt this Ordinance. And the ſaid Admiral ſhall have the forfeitures in all caſes out of the ſame franchiſe of five Ports aforeſaid, as he hath had, and hath been accuſtomed of right to the office of the Admiral of England, before the making of this ordinance. And that all ſuch Conſervators to be made within the ſaid five Ports, have the ſame authority and power by the Kings Letters Patents, and Commiſſion of the Warden of the ſame Ports for the time being, to enquire of ſuch offences to be done upon the main ſea within the franchiſes of the five Ports out of the body of the Counties, and to puniſh all them which ſhall be before the ſaid Conſervator of the ſame offences indicted or accuſed by like proceſs, examination, proofs, determination, judgment and execution, as the ſaid Admirals reaſonably according to the old cuſtom and Law upon the Sea uſed, have done and uſed out of the ſaid franchiſe of the five Ports: Saving that the determination of the death of a man in this behalf, and the execution of the ſame, ſhall be within the ſame franchiſe of the five Ports reſerved to the ſaid Warden, or to his general lieutenant there. And that the ſame Warden ſhall have all the forfeitures there, in all ſuch caſes as he hath had, and have been accuſtomed of right to the office of the Warden of the five Ports aforeſaid before this time. And that the ſaid Conſervators and every of them, have power to make full execution of this Ordinance in the form aforeſaid. And this Ordinance ſhall hold place and force, for any thing to be done or attempted againſt this ſame Ordinance after the Proclamation of this Ordinance and Declaration made. Stat. 4 H. 5. 7. 14 H. 6. 8. 29 H. 6. 2.

What forfeitures the Admiral ſhall have.

The authority of the conſervators within the five Ports.

The Warden of the v. Ports ſhall have all the forfeitures there.

ſheriff ſhould have power to record that which they found ſo done in their preſence againſt the Law, and that by record of the ſame Juſtices, Sheriff or Under-ſheriff, ſuch treſpaſſers or offenders ſhould be convict in manner and form as is contained in the ſtatute of forcible entries. And if it happen that ſuch treſpaſſers or offenders were departed before the coming of the Juſtices, Sheriff or Under-ſheriff, that the ſame Juſtices, three or two of them ſhall diligently enquire within a moneth after ſuch Riot, Aſſembly or Rout of people ſo made, and the ſame hear and determine according to the Law of the Land. And if the truth could not be found in manner as afore is ſaid, within a moneth then next enſuing, the ſaid Juſtices three or two of them, and the Sheriff or Under-ſheriff ſhall certifie before the King and his Council all the deed and circumſtance of the ſame, which certificate ſhall be of like force as the preſentment of twelve men: upon which certificate the ſaid treſpaſſers and offenders ſhall be put to anſwer, and they which be found guilty, ſhould be puniſhed according to the diſcretion of the King and his Council. And moreover that the Juſtices of Peace dwelling neereſt in every County where ſuch Rout, Aſſembly, and Riot of people ſhould be made hereafter, together with the Sheriff or Under-ſheriff of the ſame Counties, and alſo the Juſtices of Aſſiſes for the time that they ſhall be in their Seſſions, in caſe that any ſuch Riot, Aſſembly or Rout be made in their preſence, ſhall make execution of this ſtatute every one of them upon pain of an C. li. to be paid to the King, as often as they ſhall be found in default of execution of the ſame ſtatute. And foraſmuch as many Riots, Routs and Aſſemblies, have been made in divers parts of the Realm, ſince the making and Proclamation of the ſame ſtatute, becauſe that the ſame ſtatute hath not been put in due execution, as our Soveraign Lord the King hath perceived by divers and grievous complaints to him made in this preſent Parliament: the ſame our Lord the King, willing hereof to provide a better remedy, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſuit of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that if default be found in the ſaid two Juſtices of the peace, or Juſtices of aſſiſes, and the Sheriff or Under-ſheriff of the County where ſuch Riot, Aſſembly, or Rout ſhall be made, touching the execution that they ought to make by vertue of the ſaid ſtatute, and whereof the ſaid ſtatute maketh mention, that then at the inſtance of the party grieved, the Kings commiſſion ſhall go out under his ſeal, to enquire as well of the truth of the caſe, and of the original matter for the party complainant, as of the default or defaults of the ſaid Juſtices, Sheriff or Under-ſheriff in this behalf ſuppoſed, to be directed to ſufficient and indifferent perſons at the nomination and by the direction of the Chancellor of the Realm of England. And that the ſaid commiſſioners preſently ſhall return into the Chancery the enqueſts and matters before them in this behalf taken and found. And moreover that the coroners of the ſame county for the time being, in which county ſuch Riot, Aſſembly or Rout ſhall be made, ſhall make the panel upon the ſaid commiſſion returnable for the time that the Sheriff ſo ſuppoſed in default ſhall continue in his office, which coroners ſhall return no perſons, but only ſuch which have lands, tenements, or rents to the value of x. l. by year at leaſt. And alſo that the ſame coroners ſhall return upon every of the ſaid perſons empanelled at the firſt day when iſſues be to be loſt, xx. s. at the leaſt, and at the ſecond day, xl. s. at the leaſt, and at the third day, C. s. at the leaſt, and at every day after, the double at the leaſt, which iſſues ſo returned in reſpect of non-appearance of ſuch perſons empanelled ſhall be adjudged as forfeit to the King, and leviable to his uſe. And if default be found in the ſaid Coroners touching the return of ſuch perſons to be empanelled, or touching the return of ſuch iſſues as afore is ſaid, that every of them ſhall forfeit to the Kings uſe, forty pound. And if it happen that the ſaid Sheriff ſo reputed in default, be diſcharged of his office at the time that ſuch Commiſſion ſhall be awarded out of the Chancery, that then the new Sheriff of the ſame County, his Succeſſor mediate or immediate for the time being, and not the Coroners of the ſame County, ſhall make the panel upon this Commiſſion, returnable in manner and form, as the ſaid Coroners ſhould do in time when the Sheriff ſo reputed in default, continued in his office. And that the ſame new Sheriff ſhall incur like pain of forty pound to the King, if any default in him be found touching the return of other perſons by him empanelled, which have not Lands, Tenements, or Rents to the value of ten pounds by year, or of returning ſuch iſſues which the ſaid Coroners be above charged to return, as the ſaid Coroners are to loſe to the King in this behalf. And that the Chancellor of England for the time being, as ſoon as he may have knowledge of ſuch Riot, Aſſembly or Rout, ſhall cauſe to be ſent the Kings Writ to the Juſtices of the Peace, and to the Sheriff or Under-ſheriff of the County where they be ſo made, that they ſhall put the ſtatute in execution, upon the pain contained in the ſame. And though that ſuch writ come not to the ſaid Juſtices, Sheriff or Under-ſheriff, they ſhall not be excuſed of the pain aforeſaid, if they make not execution of the ſaid ſtatute.

A Riot ſhall be repreſſed and enquired of at the Kings charges.

The puniſhment of Rioters.

Each able perſon ſhall be aſſiſtant to the Juſtices and Sheriff to repreſs Riots.

Provided always that the ſaid Juſtices and other officers aforeſaid, ſhall execute their offices aforeſaid at the Kings coſts, in going and continuing in doing their ſaid offices, by payment thereof to be made by the Sheriff of the ſame County for the time being, by indentures betwixt the Sheriff and the ſaid Juſtices and other officers aforeſaid to be made of the payment aforeſaid, whereof the ſaid Sheriff upon his account in the Exchequer, may have due allowance. And that ſuch Rioters attainted of great & heinous Riots, ſhall have one whole years impriſonment at the leaſt, without being let out of priſon by bail, mainpriſe, or in any other manner during the year aforeſaid. And that the Rioters attainted of petty Riots, ſhall have impriſonment as beſt ſhall ſeem to the King or to his Council. And that the fines of ſuch Rioters attainted, ſhall be by the ſaid Juſtices encreaſed and put to greater ſums then they were wont to be put in ſuch caſes before this time, in aid and ſupportation of the Juſtices and other officers aforeſaid in this behalf. And that the Kings liege people being ſufficient to travel in the County where ſuch Routs, Aſſemblies, or Riots be, ſhall be aſſiſtant to the Juſtices, Commiſſioners, Sheriff or Under-ſheriff of the ſame County, when they ſhall be reaſonably warned to ride with the ſaid Juſtices, Commiſſioners and Sheriff, or Underſheriff, in aid to reſiſt ſuch Riots, Routs and Aſſemblies, upon pain of impriſonment, and to make fine and ranſom to the King. And that the Bailiffs of franchiſes ſhall cauſe to be impanelled ſufficient perſons as before, upon pain to loſe to the King fourty pound, in caſe that ſuch ſufficient perſons may be found within the ſame franchiſes. And that like ordinances and pains ſhould hold place, and take effect in Cities, Boroughs, and other places and towns infranchiſed, which have Juſtices of the Peace within the cities, boroughs, towns, and other places aforeſaid. And that this ſtatute ſhall begin to hold place preſently after the Proclamation thereof made. St. 19 H. 7. 13.

Bailiffs of Franchiſes. Riots committed in Cities, Boroughs, and Towns corporate.

CAP. IX.

A remedy to puniſh him that doth commit felony and flie into an unknown place.

ITem, Foraſmuch as great and grievous complaints have been made to our Soveraign Lord the King, by the Commons in this preſent Parliament, of divers murders, manſlaughters, robberies, batteries, aſſemblies of people in great number, in manner of inſurrection, and of divers other rebellions and riots, and after ſuch offences the ſaid felons and offenders flee, and withdraw themſelves into divers woods and ſecret places and unknown, and elſewhere, to the intent and purpoſe to avoid the execution of the Common law, and that they might not be brought to anſwer: whereupon our ſoveraign Lord the King conſidering the aforeſaid complaint, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, that if any perſon hereafter come into the Chancery, and make complaint duly that any ſuch felon or offendor as afore is ſaid, flee or withdraw himſelf into any ſuch place, or elſewhere, to the intent aforeſaid, upon ſuch complaint a bill ſhall be ſufficiently made for the King. And the Chancellor of England for the time being, after ſuch a bill to him delivered, if he may be duly informed, that ſuch a bill containeth truth, ſhall have power to make according to his diſcretion a writ of Capias at the Kings ſuit, directed to the Sheriff of the County or Counties where the ſaid murders, manſlaughters, robberies, batteries and other offences be ſuppoſed by the ſaid bill to be done and perpetrate, returnable in the ſaid Chancery at a certain day. And if the perſons in the ſaid writ contained, be taken by the ſaid Sheriff, or yield themſelves in the ſame Chancery, that then ſuch perſons ſhall be put in ward or to mainpriſe, according to the diſcretion of the Chancellor. And moreover be it commanded to enquire of ſuch offences, and upon that ſhall be done as the law requireth. And if the Sheriff return at the day of the Capias returnable, that the perſons in the ſame compriſed for any of theſe cauſes aforeſaid, cannot be by him taken, neither the ſame perſons do yield themſelves in the ſaid Chancery, that then the ſaid Chancellor ſhall cauſe to be made a writ of Proclamation, directed to the ſaid Sheriff, returnable in the Kings Bench at a certain day, that he ſhall make Proclamation in two Counties, that the perſons named in the ſaid writ ſhall come at the ſaid day in the Bench aforeſaid, there to anſwer to the matter compriſed in the ſaid bill, upon pain to be convict of the matter compriſed in the ſaid bill. And that in every ſuch writ of Proclamation ſhall be contained the ſubſtance of the matter compriſed within the ſaid bill: and if they come not at the day of ſuch Proclamation returned, then ſhall they be holden and adjudged for convict, and attainted as aforeſaid. And if they come at the Proclamation, it ſhall be of them enquired and done in manner as above is ſaid.

A remedy to puniſh him which doth commit any murder or robbery, and then doth flee into a ſecret place. The party accuſed is taken by the Sheriff or yieldeth himſelf.

The Sheriff returneth that the party cannot be taken.

Provided always that the ſuggeſtions of ſuch riots be teſtified to the Chancellor of England by letters ſealed under the ſeals of two Juſtices of Peace at the leaſt, and the Sheriff of the County, where ſuch riots ſhall be made, before that the writ of Capias be granted, in which writ of Capias the matter which is compriſed within the ſame bill ſhall be as well expreſſed, as in the writ of Proclamation thereof to be made. And if ſuch caſe happen in the County Palatine of Lancaſter, or elſe in any franchiſe where there is a Chancellor, and a ſeal, that then the Chancellor of England ſhall cauſe to be written or ſent by the Kings writ to the Chancellor of ſuch County or franchiſe, all the ſuggeſtion in the ſaid bill compriſed, commanding him to make ſuch execution as in the ſaid article is compriſed, ſo always that the Kings writ ſhall not run out of the Chancery of England in ſuch a County or franchiſe, otherwiſe then hath been uſed in time paſt. And that this Ordinance ſhall ſtand in his full force until the end of the next Parliament. St. 8. 6. 14: made perpetual. O B.

The ſuggeſtions of ſuch riots ſhall be teſtified under ſeals of two Juſtices of Peace and the Sheriff. Riots committed in a County where there is a Chancellor and a Seal.

Other Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 2 H. 5. and An. Dom. 1414.

OUr Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Munday next after the Utas of St. Martin, the ſecond year of his reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons of his Realm then there aſſembled, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Ordinances and Statutes in the manner and form as followeth.

CAP. I.

What ſorts of men ſhall be Juſtices of the Peace.

FIrſt, That the Juſtices of the Peace from henceforth to be made within the Counties of England, ſhall be made of moſt ſufficient perſons dwelling in the ſame Counties, by the advice of the Chancellor and of the Kings Counſel, without taking other perſons dwelling in forain counties to execute ſuch office, except the Lords and the Juſtices of Aſſiſes now named, & to be named by the King & his Counſel. CAP. III.

Of what eſtate thoſe Jurors muſt be which are to paſs touching the life of man, plea real, or forty marks damages.

Cro. El. 451.

ITem, The King conſidering the great miſchiefs and diſheriſons, which daily happen through all the Realm of England, as well in caſe of death of a man, as in caſe of freehold, and in other caſes, by them which paſs in enqueſts in the ſaid caſes, which be common Jurors and other that have but little to live upon, but by ſuch enqueſts, and which have nothing to loſe, becauſe of their falſe oaths, whereby they offend their conſcience the more largely: and willing thereof to have correction and amendment, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed by aſſent of the Lords and Commons aforeſaid, that no perſon ſhall be admitted to paſs in any enqueſt upon trial of the death of a man, nor in any enqueſt betwixt party and party in plea real, nor in plea perſonal, whereof the debt or the damage declared amounts to forty marks, if the ſame perſon have not lands or Tenements of the yearly value of forty ſhillings, above all charges of the ſame; ſo that it be callenged by the party, that any ſuch perſon ſo impanelled in the ſame caſes, hath not lands or tenements of the yearly value of fourty ſhillings above the charges as afore is ſaid. There ſhall be no gilding of ſilver ware, but of the allay of Engliſh ſterling.

There ſhall be no gilding of ſilver wares but of the allay of Engliſh ſterling. The pound troy of ſilver gilt ſhall be ſold for 46. s. 8. d. Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

ITem, For that the Goldſmiths of England of their covin and ordinances will not ſell the wares of their Myſtery gilt, but at the double price of the weight of the ſilver of the ſame, which ſeemeth to the King very outragious and too exceſſive a price: The King for the eaſe of his people willing to remedy the ſame, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all the Goldſmiths of England ſhall gild no ſilver wares but of the allay of the Engliſh ſterling, and that they take for a pound of Troy gilt but fourty ſix ſhillings eight pence at the moſt, and of greater weight and leſs according to the quantity and rate of the ſame ſum, and that which ſhall be by them gilt from henceforth ſhall be of a reaſonable price and not exceſſive. And if any Goldſmith do contrary to this ſtatute, he ſhall forfeit to the King the value of the thing ſo ſold. St. 5 H. 4. 13.

CAP. V.

If a Welſhman that doth forcibly take and detain an Engliſhman until he be ranſomed, will not upon proceſs awarded againſt him by the Juſtices, appear and anſwer the ſame until he be outlawed, The Juſtices ſhall certifie the ſame under their ſeals to the Officers of the Seigniories where ſuch outlaw is, who ſhall apprehend and do execution of him according to the Law. Alt. 27 H. 8. 26.

CAP. VI.

Merchandiſes of the Staple, viz. Wools, Fell, Leather, Lead, or Tin whole and molten, ſhall not be carried to any part beyond the Sea, without the Kings Licence, until they be firſt brought to the Staple, upon pain of forfeiture of them. O B. St. 2 R. 2. 3. 2 H. 6. 4. 14 E. 4. 3.

CAP. I.

It ſhall be felony to bring and put in paiment any of the money forbidden, viz. Galley halfe-pence, Suskin, Dorkin, and all Scottiſh money of ſilver. O B.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 3 H. 5. and Anno Dom. 1415.

OUr Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Munday the ſixth day of March, the third year of his Reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons aſſembled in the ſame Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form as followeth.

CAP. I.

A Confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all perſons, Cities, Boroughs.

The liberties of the Church and of all Cities, boroughs and perſons confirmed.

FIrſt, that holy Church have all her Liberties and Franchiſes, and that all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and other the Kings liege people, having Liberties and Franchiſes, and all the Cities, and Boroughs of the Realm have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchiſes, which they have had of the grants of the Kings Progenitors, and of the Confirmation of the ſame our Lord the King, or his grant: Except always thoſe Franchiſes and Liberties which be repealed in this preſent Parliament, and thoſe that be repealed by the common Law.

CAP. IV.

All proviſions, licences and pardons of a benefice full of an incumbent ſhall be void.

St. 7 H.4.8.

All proviſions made by the Pope, and licences or pardons granted by the King touching any benefices full of an incumbent ſhall be void.

ITem, Whereas in the time of King Henry the fourth, father to our Soveraign Lord, whom God forgive, the ſeventh year of his reign, to eſchew many diſcords and debates, and divers other miſchiefs, which were likely to riſe and happen, becauſe of many proviſions then made or to be made by the Pope, and alſo of licences thereupon granted by the ſaid late King, amongſt other things it was ordained & ſtabliſhed, that no licence or pardon ſo granted before the ſame ordinance, nor after to be granted, ſhould be available to any benefice, full of an incumbent at the day of the date of ſuch licence, or pardon granted: Notwithſtanding ſeveral perſons, having proviſions of the Pope of divers benefices in England and elſewhere, and licences royal, to execute the ſaid proviſions, have by colour of the ſame proviſions, licences and acceptations of the ſaid benefices, ſubtilly excluded divers perſons of their benefices, in which they have been incumbents by a long ſeaſon, of the collations of the patrons ſpiritual, to them duly made to their intent, to the utter deſtruction and ſubverſion of the eſtates of the ſaid incumbents; the King willing to remove ſuch miſchiefs, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all the incumbents of every benefice of holy Church, of the patronage, collation or preſentation of ſpiritual patrons, may peaceably and quietly enjoy, and ſhall enjoy their ſaid benefices, without being enquieted, moleſted, or any wiſe grieved by any colour of ſuch proviſions, licences and acceptations whatſoever. And that all the licences and pardons upon, and by ſuch proviſions made, in any manner, ſhall be void and of no value. And if any feel himſelf grieved, moleſted, or inquieted, in any wiſe from henceforth by any, by any colour of ſuch proviſions, licences, pardons or acceptations, that the ſame moleſtors, grievors, and inquietors, and every of them, ſhall ſuffer and incur the pain and puniſhments contained in the ſtatutes of proviſors, before this time made, and that by proceſs of Præmunire facias formed upon the caſe. And that the party which ſhall ſue by the ſame writ, ſhall recover his treble damages, if the defendants named in the ſame writ or any of them be convict in that behalf.

CAP. V.

In which Courts an attaint may be brought upon a falſe verdict given in the City of Lincoln, and by whom it ſhall be tryed.

St. 13 R.2.18.

ITem, Whereas by the ſtatute made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the thirteenth year of King Richard the ſecond, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that in Aſſiſes, Juries, and all other enqueſts, which from thenceforth ſhould be taken betwixt party and party, before the Mayor and Bailiffs of the City of Lincoln, which for the time ſhould be, if any of the parties then did complain him of falſe oaths, made by ſuch Aſſiſes, Juries or enqueſt, that the attaint ſhould be granted to him, and the record ſhould be ſent by writ into the Kings Bench, or into the common bench. And that the Sheriff ſhould array the panel of the Jury of ſuch attaint, of forainers, without ſending to the franchiſe of the ſaid city; And the Juſtices ſhould take the ſame Jury of the ſame forainers, notwithſtanding any franchiſe granted to the ſaid city, or any other uſage to the contrary. Nevertheleſs, foraſmuch as the Lord Henry late King of England, father to our Soveraign the King aforeſaid, the xxi. day of November, the xiii. year of his Reign, by his Letters Patents, amongſt others, granted to the Mayor and comminalty of the ſaid City, that the name of Bailiffs of the ſame City, ſhould be tranſlate into the name of Sheriffs; and that the ſame city, ſuburbs, and precinct of the ſame (except the caſtle of Lincoln, and the walls and ditches of the ſame) ſhould for ever be called the County of the City of Lincoln: divers people be and have been in doubt, whether a man that will complain of a falſe oath, made in the County of the ſaid City, after by force of the ſaid ſtatute ſhould have a writ of attaint, directed to the Sheriff of the County of Lincoln, to be arrayed by the people of the ſame county, or not, and alſo of other Articles and points of the ſaid ſtatute: The King willing to remove all manner ambiguities and doubts in this behalf, hath ordained, granted, and eſtabliſhed, that in Aſſiſes, Juries, and all other Enqueſts, which be and ſhall be taken, betwixt party and party, before the Mayor and Bailiffs, and before the Sheriff of the County of the City of Lincoln, which for the time is, and ſhall be, or any of them, if any of the ſaid parties do complain of a falſe oath made by ſuch Aſſiſes, Juries, and Enqueſts, a writ of Attaint ſhall be granted to him, directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County of Lincoln, for the time being, and the ſame Record ſhall be ſent by Writ into the Kings Bench, or into the common Bench. And that the Sheriff of the County of Lincoln, which for the time ſhall be, ſhall array the panel of the Jury of ſuch Attaint, of people of the County of Lincoln. And that the Juſtices of the King and of his heirs, ſhall take the ſame Jury of people of the County of Lincoln, according to the intent and effect of the ſaid ſtatute, notwithſtanding the ſaid Letters Patents, or any thing therein contained, or any poſſeſſion or other thing by the force of the ſame Letters had or made, or any Franchiſe granted, or to be granted to the Citizens of the ſaid City, or to their ſucceſſors, or other uſage to the contrary, in that the ſaid City of Lincoln is ſo made incorporate.

The Mayor and Bailiffs of Lincoln tranſlated into the name of the Sheriffs of the County of the City of Lincoln.

Upon a falſe verdict given before the Mayor, &c. of the County of the City of Lincoln an attaint may be brought triable by forainers.

CAP. VI.

It ſhall be Treaſon to clip, waſh, and file Money;

Clipping, waſhing and filing of the money of this Realm ſhall be high treaſon.

ITem, Becauſe that before this time, great doubt and ambiguity hath been, whether that clipping, waſhing, and filing of the money of the land, ought to be judged treaſon or not, for as much as no mention thereof is made in the declaration of the Articles of treaſon, made in the Parliament holden the xxv. year of King Edward the third: The ſame our Lord the King willing to decide ſuch doubt, and to put the ſame in a certainty, hath declared in this preſent Parliament, that ſuch clipping, waſhing, and filing, ſhall be adjudged for Treaſon, and they which ſo do clip, waſh, and file the money of the land, ſhall be judged Traitors to the King, and to the Realm, and ſhall incur the pain of Treaſon. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12. & 1 M. & St. 5 El. 11.

CAP. VII.

Which Juſtices ſhall have authority to hear and determine the offences of falſifying of money.

Which Juſtices ſhall have authority to hear and determine the offences of falſifying of money.

ITem, Becauſe counterfeiting, clipping, waſhing, and other falſity of money of the land, is much more uſed, and daily doth more abound then it was wont, for that the puniſhment of the ſame pertaineth not to any Judges of the Realm, but to the Kings Juſtices before himſelf, or by ſpecial Commiſſioners thereto aſſigned, and it is very likely there will be deſtruction of the money, unleſs haſty execution and remedy be provided, as the King by the grievous complaint of the Commons hath perceived: Our ſaid Lord the King willing to remedy the ſame, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Kings Juſtices aſſigned to take Aſſiſes in all the counties of England, ſhall have power by the Kings Commiſſions, to hear and determine in their Seſſions, as well of the counterfeiting, and of the bringing of ſuch falſe money into the Realm, as of clipping, waſhing, and every other falſity of the ſaid money. And that the Juſtices of Peace through the Realm ſhall have power by the Kings commiſſions, to inquire of all ſuch matters, and thereupon to make proceſs by Capias only againſt thoſe, which before them ſhall be thereof indicted. St. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 1 M. 1. 5 El. 11.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the nineteenth day of October, the fourth year of the reign of King Henry the fifth after the Conqueſt: The ſame our Lord the King, with the aſſent of the Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons aſſembled in the ſame Parliament, hath cauſed to be ordained and ſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances, in the form as followeth.

CAP. I.

A confirmation of all former Statutes not repealed.

A confirmation of former Statutes not repealed.

FIrſt, That the great Charter, and the Charter of the Foreſt, and all other Statutes and ordinances made in his time, and in the time of his noble Progenitors Kings of England, and not repealed, ſhall be firmly holden and kept in all points.

CAP. II.

Sheriffs ſhall have allowance upon their accompts of things caſual.

Sheriffs ſhall have allowance upon their accompts of things caſual.

ITem, That all Sheriffs of England ſhall have allowance upon their accompts, by their oaths, of things caſual, as of eſtreats that be not in ferm, nor in demand; But all ſuch things that be or run in yearly ferms or yearly demands, they ſhall be charged to the King, as the Sheriffs have been charged in that caſe in times paſt.

CAP. V.

How Merchants ſtrangers ſhall be uſed, and Hoſts appointed for them.

A confirmation of the Stat. of 5 H. 4. 7. & 5 H. 4. 9. touching the uſing of Merchants ſtrangers.

ITem, Whereas in a ſtatute made in the time of King Henry the fourth after the Conqueſt, the fifth year of his reign, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that all the Merchants aliens, of what eſtate or condition they be, coming, abiding, or reſident within the Realm of England ſhould be entreated and demeaned within the ſame Realm in the ſame form, manner and condition, as the Merchants Denizens be or ſhall be entreated or demeaned in the parts beyond the Sea, and in no other manner, upon pain to forfeit to the King all the goods and catels of the ſaid Merchants aliens. And alſo it was ordained and ſtabliſhed in the time of the ſaid late King Henry, amongſt other things, by the ſtatute, that in every City, Town, and Port of the Sea of England, where the ſaid Merchants aliens, or ſtrangers, be or ſhall be repairing, ſufficient hoſts ſhall be aſſigned to the ſame Merchants by the Mayor, Sheriff, or Bailiffs of the ſaid Cities, Towns, & Port of the Sea. And that the Merchants aliens, and ſtrangers, ſhall not remain in other places, but with the ſaid Hoſts ſo to be aſſigned. And that the ſame Hoſts ſo to be aſſigned, ſhall take for their labour in the ſame manner as was accuſtomed of old time: and for that our Lord the King hath perceived, that the ſame ſtatutes have not been put in due execution, he willeth and granteth, that the ſame ſtatutes ſhall be firmly holden and kept in all points, and put in due execution from henceforth according to the purport of the ſame.

CAP. VI.

If any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, &c. of Ireland, Rebel to the King, ſhall make collation of a Benefice to any Iriſhman, or bring any Iriſhman to the Parliament to diſcover the Councel of Engliſhmen to Rebels, his Temporalties ſhall be ſeiſed until he hath made fine to the King. O B.

CAP. VII.

In what caſes Letters of Marque may be granted.

St. 2 H. 5. 6. Letters of Marque ſhall be granted to any of the Kings ſubjects with whom Truce is broken upon the Sea.

ITem, Becauſe our Soveraign Lord the King hath heard and conceived at the grievous complaint of the Commons of his Realm in this Parliament, for that in reſpect of a ſtatute made at his Parliament holden at Leiceſter, the laſt day of April, the ſecond year of his reign, in which ſtatute is contained, that the breaking of truce and ſafe conducts, and willing receit, abetment, procurement, councel, hiring, ſuſtaining and maintaining of breakers of truce, and of the ſafe conducts of the King our Lord to be made by his liege people from henceforth, within the Realm of England and Ireland, and the country of Wales, upon the main Sea, ſhall be judged and determined for high treaſon, done againſt the Crown, and the Kings dignity: By reaſon of which ſtatute, though the Kings ſubjects be ſo much grieved againſt the truce, that they dare not provide remedy by way of Act, for that the Kings enemies, as well in the parts beyond the Sea, as in the Realm of Scotland, have thereof taken great courage to grieve the Kings faithful liege people, in ſlaying ſome of them, and in taking ſome of them priſoners, and alſo taking their goods and cattels, againſt the tenour of the truce, as well upon the main Sea, as upon the Marches of Scotland, whereof the ſaid Commons have humbly beſeeched our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King to provide remedy: The King willing as well in this caſe as in other, to take order for the indemnity of his liege people and faithful ſubjects, hath declared in this preſent Parliament, that of all attempts made by his enemies upon any of his faithful liege people againſt the tenor of any truce, taken before this time, wherein is no expreſs mention made, that all marques and repriſals ſhall ceaſe, the ſame our Soveraign Lord the King will grant marque in due form to all them that feel themſelves in this caſe grieved. And our ſaid Lord the King will do the like to all his liege people that feel them grieved againſt the tenor of any truce, which betwixt him and any of his enemies ſhall be newly taken hereafter. And to the greater comfort of his faithful liege people, to the intent that they may the more readily, and without long delay, have remedy in this caſe: The ſame our Lord the King will, that if he or they that feel them grieved, againſt the tenor and form of ſuch truce within the Realm of England, out of the ſaid Marches of Scotland, or upon the Sea, or in the parts beyond the ſea, ſhall complain to the keeper of the privy Seal, which for the time ſhall be, who, after ſuch complaint heard and perceived, thereof ſhall make to the party complainant (if he the ſame require) letters of requeſt, under the privy Seal, in a due form; and if after ſuch requeſt made, the party required do not make within a convenient time due reſtitution or ſatisfaction to the party grieved, then the Chancellor of England for the time being, ſhall cauſe to be made to ſuch party grieved (if he that demand) Letters of Marque under the great Seal, in a due form. And as for remedy to be ordained for the Kings liege people and ſubjects, that feel them grieved in the Realm of Scotland, or in England at the Marches joyning to Scotland, againſt the form of ſuch truce, as afore is ſaid: our Lord the King ſhall give power by commiſſion to the Wardens, as well of the eaſt marches, as of the weſt marches, toward Scotland, and to every of them, to hear the complaints of all them his liege people and ſubjects which be or ſhall be grieved, and to cauſe thereupon to be made requeſt by Letters, to be delivered to him which hath done or ſhall do ſuch grievance, or to the Wardens of the Marches, or conſervator of the truce of the parties of Scotland, if he may well do it; or otherwiſe to make Proclamation in open places, upon the Marches, that he or they which have done ſuch grievances againſt the truce, ſhall make due reſtitution or ſatisfaction to the party grieved. And if they do it not within a convenient time, then at the inſtance of every of the Kings liege people and ſubjects which thereof feeleth, or ſhall feel himſelf grieved in ſuch caſe, letters of Marque be given in due form under the ſeals of the ſaid Wardens, or under his ſeal to whom the complaint ſhall be made in this caſe, without any difficulty.

and revenge have often cauſed to be indicted and appealed divers of our true liege people, of treaſons or felonies, in the County of Lancaſter, pretending by thoſe appeals and indictments, that the ſaid treaſons or felonies were committed in a certain place, where of truth no ſuch place is had in the ſaid county where the ſaid appeal and indictment is made, to the great damage and peril of ſuch our liege people, conſidering that ſome ſo appealed and indicted, dare not appear before the Juſtices in their proper perſons, to anſwer thereof, for fear of beating, maiming, or killing of them, by the conſpirators or procurors of the ſame appeals and indictments, as by the Commons of the Realm of England, in our laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, by their petition there exhibited, grievouſly complaining, was ſhewed: It is ordained in the ſame Parliament by the aſſent of the Prelates and great men of the ſame Realm, there being, at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, for the common profit and quietneſs of the people of the ſame Realm, that every Juſtice, which hath power to hear and determine ſuch treaſons and felonies, within the ſaid County, by the oath of twelve men, (of whom every one ſhall have freehold in the ſame County, to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings above all charges) before that the Exigent be awarded, without allegation of the party, as well in the parties abſence as his preſence, ſhall inquire of office, whether any ſuch place be in the county, where ſuch appeals or indictments be made or to be made, or not. And if it be found that there is no ſuch place within the ſame county, then ſuch appeals and indictments, and the proceſs thereupon made, or to be made, ſhall be void, and holden for none. And that in ſuch caſe the indictors aforeſaid be puniſhed by impriſonment, fine, and ranſom by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices. And that this preſent ordinance and remedy extend as well to appeals and indictments not determined before this time, as to appeals and indictments to be taken hereafter. And if any Exigent from henceforth be awarded, before that ſuch inquiſition of office (as afore is ſaid) be taken, that the ſame Exigent and the awarding thereof be likewiſe void and holden for none.

The like proceſs ſhall be awarded againſt him that maketh and publiſheth falſe Deeds by Capias and Exigent, as in Writs of treſpaſs. Rep. 5 El. 14.

Provided, that this preſent ordinance have ſtrength, and extend only until the next Parliament. And alſo know ye, that in the ſaid Parliament, of the aſſent and requeſt aforeſaid, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that in Writs to be purchaſed, againſt thoſe that forge or make untrue Charters, or miniments, and them proclaim or cauſe to be read, like proceſs ſhall be made by Capias and Exigent, as in Writs of treſpaſs. And therefore we command you, firmly enjoyning, that immediately after the ſight thereof, you cauſe this ſtatute and ordinance openly to be proclaimed in the places within the ſame county where ſhall be moſt expedient and neceſſary, as well within liberties as without: and that alſo you cauſe all and ſingular our Juſtices, having power to hear and determine felonies and treaſons within the ſaid county, fully to be inſtructed, and without delay to be certified of the ſaid ordinance and ſtatute by our Letters, containing the tenour of the ſame. What things only may be gilded, and what laid on with ſilver.

ITem, That none from henceforth ſhall gild any ſheathes nor metal but ſilver, and the ornaments of holy Church. Nor ſhall ſilver no metal but Knights Spurs, and all the apparel that pertaineth to a Baron, and above that eſtate, upon pain of forfeiture to the King ten times as much as the thing ſo gilt is of value, and ſhall have alſo one years impriſonment. And the Juſtices of Peace ſhall have power to enquire thereof, and that to determine. And he that will ſue for the King in this behalf ſhall have the third part of the ſaid pecuniary pain.

Provided that this laſt ordinance ſhall begin to hold place at the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming. St. 5 H. 4. 13.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno nono Henrici quinti, & Anno Domini 1421.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of May, the ninth year of the reign of King Henry the fifth after the Conqueſt: The ſame our Lord the King, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons aſſembled in the ſame Parliament, hath cauſed to be ordained and ſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

A Continuance of the Stat. of 7 H. 5. touching Indictments.

A confirmation of the Stat. of Anno 7 H. 5. St. 18 H. 6. 12.

FIrſt, that the ſtatute made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the ſeventh year of the reign of our ſaid Lord the King touching appeals and indictments, ſtand in his force and hold place till the next Parliament to be holden after the Kings return from beyond the Sea into England.

CAP. II.

CAP. III.

Protections granted to them that be in the Kings ſervice in Normandy or France, or which ſhall paſs with him into France. Exp. Stat. 4 H. 6. 2. 14 E. 4. 2.

CAP. IV.

The Juſtices may amend defaults in Records or Proceſs before judgment given.

Stat. 14 Ed. 3. 6.

Dyer f. 342. Co. l. 5. 45. l. 8. f. 157.

The Juſtices before whom default ſhall be found in any Records or Proceſs may amend them before judgment.

ITem, Whereas it was ordained and ſtabliſhed in the Statute made the fourteenth year of King Edward the third after the Conqueſt, that for miſpriſion of the Clerk in any place whereſoever it be, the proceſs of the plee ſhall not be avoided nor diſcontinued, by miſtaking in writing one letter or ſyllable too much, or too little, but aſſoon as the thing is perceived, by challenge of the party, or in other manner, it ſhould haſtily be amended in a due form, without giving advantage to the party that challengeth the ſame, becauſe of ſuch miſpriſion: The King our Sovereign Lord, conſidering the diverſity of opinions which have been upon the ſaid Statute, and to put the thing in more open knowledge, hath declared and ordained at this time by authority of this preſent Parliament, that the Juſtices before whom ſuch plee or record is made, or ſhall be depending, as well by adjournment, as by way of errour, or otherwiſe, ſhall have power and authority to amend ſuch record and proceſs, as afore is ſaid, according to the form of the ſame Statute, as well after judgment in any ſuch plee, record, or proceſs given, as before judgment given in any ſuch plee, record, or proceſs, as long as the ſame record and proceſs is before them, in the ſame manner as the Juſtices had power to amend ſuch record and proceſs, before judgment given by force of the ſaid Statute made in the time of the ſaid King Edward. And that this Ordinance endure till the Parliament that ſhall be firſt holden, after the return of our Sovereign Lord the King into England from beyond the Sea. Stat. 4 H. 6. 3. made perpetual. St. 8 H. 6. 12. 15.

CAP. VI.

The Mint ſhall be at Calice. Exp.

CAP. VII.

The Statute provided 2 H. 5. 5. for offendors in Tindal and Examſhire ſhall be extended againſt the like offendors in Rydeſdale.

ITem, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Leiceſter, the laſt day of April, the ſecond year of the reign of our ſoveraign Lord the King that now is, at the grievous complaint made to him there by certain of his Commons, for that many murders, treaſons, manſlaughters, robberies, and other offences were committed by divers of the Kings liege people dwelling within the franchiſes of Tindale and Examſhire, by favour of the franchiſe, where the Kings Writ doth not run, to the great miſchief and peril of the ſaid liege people: It was ordained and ſtabiſhed, that if any perſon of the ſame franchiſes, reſident and abiding within the ſame, of what eſtate or condition that he be, commit any murders, treaſons, manſlaughters, robberies, or conſent to do the ſame out of the ſaid franchiſes, proceſs ſhould be made againſt him by the common law, till he were outlawed, and that after ſuch outlawry pronounced & return made thereof, the Juſtices before whom ſuch outlawry ſhall be returned, ſhould thereof make certificate to ſuch Miniſter & Miniſters of the ſaid franchiſes, as to them beſt ſhould ſeem in this behalf, according to their diſcretion. And ſuch felon ſhall be taken by ſuch miniſter or miniſters, & his land & tenements, goods and chattels being within the ſame franchiſes, ſeiſed into the hands of the Lords of the ſame franchiſes, for the time being, as forfeit. And that the other lands and tenements, goods and chattels of ſuch felons out of the ſame franchiſes ſhall wholly remain to the King & to other Lords having thereof Franchiſes, as forfeit. Saving always to the King the forfeitures of ſuch murderers, traitors, Felons called Intakers and Outparters.

The Statute provided 2 H.5. for robbers, &c. in Tindale and Examſhire ſhall be extended againſt the like offendors in Rideſdale.

manſlayers, robbers, and all ſuch offenders, and of other things, which to him pertain as of the right of his Crown. And foraſmuch as like murders, treaſons, manſlaughters, robberies, conſents, and offences by divers perſons, thieves and felons called intakers and outparters dwelling within the franchiſe of Rideſdale, in which franchiſe the Kings Writ doth not run as it is ſaid, have been done now of late in divers places in the Counties of Northumberland, Cumberland, Weſtmerland, and elſewhere out of the ſame franchiſe of Rideſdale, by favour and ſuccour of the ſame franchiſe, whereof no redreſs towards them hath been had by the laws heretofore uſed, to the great miſchief, peril and damage of the people ſo grieved, as our ſoveraign Lord the King, by the grievous complaint to him made in this preſent Parliament, hath fully perceived: Our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, willing to remedy the ſame, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed in the ſame Parliament, that ſuch proceſs, certificate, and execution ſhall be made hereafter againſt ſuch murderers, manſlayers, robbers, conſenters, and offenders, abiding or reſident within the ſaid franchiſe of Ridesdale, for their offences done out of the ſaid franchiſe of Ridesdale. And alſo ſuch manner of forfeitures ſhall run in all points, as well to our Soveraign Lord the King, as to all other perſons, as it was ordained for the ſaid offendors of Tindal and Examſhire, by the ſaid ſtatute made at Leiceſter, and according to the form and equity of the ſame ſtatute. Saving always to the King that which pertaineth to him in this behalf, as of the right of his Crown. St 11 H.7.9. 14 El.13.

CAP. VIII.

Thoſe Scholars of Oxford ſhall be baniſhed the Vniverſity which do diſſeiſe men of their lands, or hunt diſorderly in Forreſts, or take Clerks con vict of felony out of the Priſons of Ordinaries. Exp.

CAP. IX.

No Abbot or Prior ſhall be appointed by any Biſhop to be Collector of Diſmes or Subſidies out of the County where he dwelleth. Exp. & Ob.

CAP. X.

Keeles that carry Sea-coals at Newcaſtle ſhall be meaſured and marked.

Keels that carry Sea-coals at Newcaſtle from the land to the ſhips ſhall be meaſured by Commiſſioners.

ITem, Whereas of every Chaldron of Sea-coals, which be or ſhall be ſold to people not franchiſed in the Port of the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tine, ii. d. be due to the King, of cuſtom, and in the ſame Port be certain veſſels called Keels, by which ſuch coals be carried from the land to the ſhips in the ſaid Port: And every of the ſaid Keels ought to be of portage of twenty Chaldron, and according to the ſame portage the cuſtom is thereof taken to the Kings uſe: There be now certain people, that of late have made ſuch Keels of the portage of xxii. or xxiii. Chaldron, whereof the cuſtom hath been taken according to the portage of xx. Chaldron only, in deceit of our Lord the King, as he hath perceived by complaint in this Parliament: It is therefore ordained and ſtabliſhed againſt ſuch deceits, that all the Keels, which now be, and hereafter ſhall be in the ſaid Port, ſhall be meaſured by certain Commiſſioners thereto aſſigned by the King, and marked, of what portage they be, before that any carriage be made by the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture to the King all the veſſels called Keels, by which any ſuch coals ſhall be carried, before that they be marked in the manner aforeſaid.

CAP. XI.

No Engliſh gold ſhall be received in payment but by the Kings weight.

No Engliſh gold ſhall be received in payment, but by the Kings weight.

ITem, To avoid the deceits and perils which long have continued within the Realm by Waſhers, Clippers, and counterfeitors of the money of the Realm of England, to the great loſs and damage of all the people of the ſame Realm: The King by the advice and aſſent of all the Lords and Commons aſſembled in this Parliament, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that from Chriſtmas even next coming, none of the Kings liege people ſhall receive any money of Engliſh gold in payment, but by the Kings weight thereupon ordained. And becauſe a great part of the gold now currant in payment, is not of rightful weight, nor of good allay, the ſame ſhall be to the great loſs and coſts of the Kings ſubjects, unleſs it pleaſe him to relieve them in this caſe: Our ſoveraign Lord the King of his ſpecial grace hath remiſed and pardoned to all his liege people, which betwixt this and the ſaid feaſt of Chriſtmas, ſhall cauſe to be coyned of new at the Kings coinage within the Tower of London their money of gold, that is not of juſt weight nor of good allay, that is to ſay, all that to him pertaineth for this new coinage of ſuch gold, as afore. Saving always to the Maſter of the Mint, and to other officers of the ſame, that which to them reaſonably pertaineth.

CAP. XII.

Writs purchaſed by the Wardens of Rocheſter Bridge or againſt them ſhall be good, though ſome of them dye or be removed.

Writs purchaſed by or againſt the Wardens of Rocheſter bridge ſhall be good though ſome of them dye, or, &c.

ITem, It is ordained, that all the Writs to be purchaſed by the Wardens of the new Bridge of Rocheſter and their ſucceſſors, or by other againſt them to be purchaſed, ſhall be maintained and continued by the law of England. And although that the ſaid Wardens or any of them be removed or expulſed from their ſaid office, or do dye, hanging the ſaid Writs, nevertheleſs the ſame Writs ſhall ſtand and be good and effectual in the law for ever. St. 18 El. 17. 27 El. 25.

Thus endeth the Statutes of King Henry the fifth.

Anno primo HENRICI Sexti.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the Reign of King Henry the Sixth, and in the year of our Lord, 1422.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Munday next before the feaſt of S. Martin, the firſt year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord King Henry the ſixth: The ſame King by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons of the Realm of England being aſſembled in this preſent Parliament, hath cauſed to be ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Ordinances and Statutes in the form following.

CAP. I.

The Kings Council may aſſign money to be coyned in as many places as they will.

FIrſt it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, for the profit of the King, and the eaſe of his people, that the Lords of the Kings Council for the time being, may aſſign by authority of the ſaid Parliament, maſters and workmen to make money of gold and ſilver, to hold the exchanges of money as well in the City of York, as in the town of Briſtol, and alſo in as many places as to the ſaid Lords ſhall ſeem neceſſary, according to their good advice and diſcretion, any Statute or Ordinance made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Kings Council may aſſign money to be coined, & exchanges to be holden in as many places as they will.

CAP. II.

All the Statutes of Purveyors ſhall be proclaimed in every County four times in the year.

ITem, That all the ſtatutes and ordinances made of Purveyors and buyers, and not repealed, be kept and executed in all points, and alſo proclaimed in all Counties through the Realm by the Kings commandment. And that every Sheriff of the Realm of England, after that he hath received the ſaid ſtatutes thereof to make Proclamation by ſuch commandment, ſhall cauſe them to be proclaimed every year four times through his bailiwick, upon pain to pay to the King at every time that he thereof fails, an hundred ſhillings. And that upon the ſame pain every of the ſaid Sheriffs ſhall deliver the ſaid commandment to his ſucceſſor immediately by Indenture to be made betwixt them, whereby he may make like proclamation for the time that he continueth in the ſaid office, for the eaſe and ſurety of the people. And that every ſuch ſucceſſor, after ſuch commandment by him received, ſhall make ſuch Proclamations four times in the year, and ſhall make ſuch deliverance of the ſaid commandment to his ſucceſſor, as above is ſaid, upon the pain aforeſaid. Stat. 20 H. 6. 8.

Every Sheriff ſhall proclaim the Statutes of Purveyors in his Bailiwick four times in the year.

CAP. III.

Which ſort of Iriſhmen only may come to dwell in England.

ITem, Foraſmuch as divers manſlaughters, murders, rapes, robberies, & other felonies, riots, conventicles, and divers other offences now late have been done in divers Counties of the Realm of England, by people born in the Country of Ireland, repairing to the Town of Oxenford,

All perſons born in Ireland ſhall depart out of the Realm, &c.

Oxenford, and there reſiant and dwelling under the juriſdiction of the Univerſity of Oxenford, to the great fear of all manner of people in the realm of England dwelling thereabout, as by all the Commons of the ſame Realm aſſembled in the ſaid Parliament it was grievouſly complained: Our ſaid Lord the King by the aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſame commons hath ordained & ſtabliſhed, that all people born in Ireland, ſhall depart out of the Realm within a moneth after Proclamation made of this ordinance, upon pain to loſe their goods, and to be impriſoned at the Kings will. Except Graduats in the Schools, and men having benefice of holy Church in England, and men of law in England, and thoſe which be inherit in England, and thoſe that have father and mother being Engliſh people, religious perſons profeſſed, Merchants, Burgeſſes, and other Inhabitants within Cities or Boroughs of good fame, which can find ſurety of their good bearing, and Iriſh women married to Engliſh men, and Iriſhmen married to Engliſh women, which be of good fame: and that all theſe Iriſh people, which have benefices or offices in the land of Ireland, ſhall abide there upon their benefices and offices, upon pain to loſe and forfeit the profits of their benefices and offices, for the defence of the land of Ireland aforeſaid, according to the ordinance made in the time of King Henry the fifth, the firſt year of his reign. And that the Graduats and Beneficed men ſhall find ſurety of their good bearing, and that they take not upon them the principality of any Hall or Hoſtel, but to remain amongſt the Engliſh Scholars under the principality of others. Moreover that theſe Scholars of Ireland, which be no Graduates, and be of the Kings obeiſance, ſhall find ſurety of their good bearing in the manner as the ſaid Graduats ſhould do, in ſuch ſort and form as is aforeſaid. And that all the Scholars of Ireland, being now in England, which will here dwell, every of them ſhall bring to the Chancellor of England for the time being, before the Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt next coming, letters under the ſeal of the Lieutenant or Juſtices of Ireland, teſtifying that they be of the Kings obeiſance. And of them that bring not ſuch letters betwixt this and the ſaid Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, it ſhall be done as of Rebels to our Lord the King. And that from and after the ſaid Feaſt of S. John, no perſons born in Ireland ſhall enter the Realm of England to dwell in the ſaid Univerſity of Oxenford or of Cambridge, or elſewhere within the Realm of England, unleſs he bring to the ſaid Chancellor of England ſuch letters teſtimonials, upon pain to be puniſhed as a Rebel to our Lord the King. Stat. 2 H. 6. 8.

Iriſh perſons excepted which may remain in England.

St. 1 H. 5. 8. Iriſhmen ſhall be no Principals of any Hall, &c.

An Iriſhman ſhall bring a teſtimonial that he is of the Kings obedience.

CAP. IV.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the twentieth day of October, the ſecond year of the reign of King Henry the ſixth after the Conqueſt, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons of England being in the ſame Parliament, certain Ordinances, Declarations, and Statutes were made and ſtabliſhed to the honour of God, and for the wealth of the King and of his Realm, in the form following.

CAP. I.

A confirmation of the Liberties of the Church, and of all perſons, Cities, &c.

The Liberties of the Church, and of all cities and boroughs confirmed.

FIrſt, that holy Church, and all the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and all other the Kings people, having Liberties and Franchiſes, and alſo all the Cities and Boroughs, ſhall have and enjoy all their Liberties and Franchiſes well uſed and not repealed, nor by the Common Law repealable.

CAP. II.

A remedy for the Maſter, &c. of the Hoſpital of Saint Leonard in York, to recover a Thrave of Corn due to them, &c.

The Hoſpital of S. Leonard in York was endowed of a Thrave of corn of every plough earing within the Counties of York, Cumberland, Weſtmerland, and Lancaſter.

ITem, Whereas the Hoſpital of S. Leonard of York, which is of the foundation of the late Progenitors of our ſaid Lord the King, late Kings of England, and of his patronage, in the firſt foundation of the ſame, was endowed by the ſaid Progenitors of the King of a Thrave of Corn to be taken yearly of every Plough earing within the Counties of York, Cumberland, Weſtmerland, and Lancaſter, within the County of York, of which Thraves the Maſter and brethren of the ſaid Hoſpital, and their predeceſſors have been ſeiſed the time whereof runneth no memory, as parcel of the firſt foundation of the ſaid Hoſpital, and the ſame they have levied and gathered at the Feaſt of S. Martin in Winter every year, till now late that divers people of the ſaid Counties, within the province aforeſaid, have withholden the ſame Thraves, whereof the ſaid Maſter and brethren have no ſufficient nor convenable remedy at the common law, to the great damage of the ſaid Hoſpital, and open ſubtraction of the ſuſtenance of the ſaid Maſter and Brethren, if remedy be not for them provided, as complaint was thereof made in the ſaid Parliament: The King conſidering the premiſſes, of the aſſent and requeſt aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid Maſter and Brethren, and their ſucceſſors for the time being, may levy, gather, and take the ſaid Thraves within within the Province aforeſaid in the places where they ought of right, and were wont, after the cuſtom and uſage had in the ſame places heretofore. And alſo that the ſame Maſters and ſucceſſors for the time being, ſhall from time to time have actions by Writs or Plaints of debt or detinue at their pleaſure, againſt all them and every of them that detain the ſame Thraves, ſo of right due to the ſaid Hoſpital, or any part of them, to recover the ſaid Thraves, againſt them and every of them with their damages in this behalf.

The remedy which the Maſters of S. Leonards Hoſpital ſhall have to recover their duties.

Provided always that the parties with whom the ſaid Maſter and brethren or their predeceſſors be accorded for ſuch Thraves by compoſitions made and ſealed betwixt them, ſhall of no more be charged then is compriſed within the ſame compoſitions, for the poſſeſſions that the ſaid parties had at the time of the making of the aforeſaid compoſitions.

A remedy for the proprietories which have compounded with the Maſter and brethren.

CAP. III.

John Duke of Bedford being in the Kings ſervice in France, ſhall be received to defend his right by Atturney. Exp.

CAP. IV.

All Merchandiſes of the Staple paſſing out of England, Wales, and Ireland, ſhall be carried to Calice ſo long as the Staple is at Calice. Exp.

CAP. V.

The penalty if any carry Wools or Fels not cuſtomed, out of the Realm to any place ſaving to Calice, ſhall be to forfeit them and to be impriſoned. Exp.

CAP. VI.

For what cauſes only gold or ſilver may be carried out of the Realm.

ITem, Whereas by King Henry the fifth, father to our Lord the King that now is, it was ordained that a Mint of gold and ſilver ſhould be holden within the Town of Calice, whereby great ſubſtance of money of gold and ſilver, hath been brought within the Realm, which money by divers perſons hath been and is daily carried out of the ſame to Burdeaux, Flanders, and other places, againſt the Statute in old times made and provided in this behalf, as hath been grievouſly complained in this Parliament: It is ordained and aſſented, That the ſame Statute be holden and kept, and put in due execution. And moreover it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That no gold nor ſilver ſhall be carried out of the Realm, contrary to the ſaid Statute, unleſs it be for payment of Wars, and the Kings ſouldiers beyond the ſea, upon pain of forfeiture of the value of the ſum of money ſo carried out of the Realm, to be levied of him that ſhall bring, carry, or ſend it out of the ſame Realm. And that he which eſpieth it, and thereof giveth knowledge to the Councel, or to the Treaſurer of England, ſhall have the fourth part of the forfeiture ſo due to the King. Except the ranſoms for fines of Engliſh priſoners, taken and to be taken beyond the ſea, and the money that the ſouldiers ſhall carry with them for their reaſonable coſts, and alſo for horſes, oxen, ſheep, and other things bought in Scotland, to be ſent and carried to the parties adjoyning; ſo that the money to be ſent for the fines of the ſaid priſoners, or to be carried by the ſaid ſouldiers to the parts beyond the ſea, be not done without the Kings ſpecial licence. And becauſe it is ſuppoſed, that the money of gold of the Realm, is carried out of the ſame by Merchants aliens: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That the Merchants aliens ſhall find ſurety in the Chancery, every Company for them of their Company, that none of them ſhall carry out of the Realm any gold or ſilver, or the value of the ſame. And if any of them do the contrary, and that duly proved, and he ſo doing be gone over the ſea, then the pledges of his Company ſhall pay to the King the ſaid forfeiture, whereof he that ſhall ſpy it, and thereof give notice to the Treaſurer, or to the Kings Councel, ſhall have the fourth part, as is aforeſaid.

A confirmation of the St. of 9 H. 5. 5. That the Mint ſhall be at Calice. EXP.

No gold or ſilver ſhall be carried out of the Realm but for the cauſes herein excepted. St. 9 Ed. 3. 1. 5 R. 2. 2. 2 H. 4. 5. 17 Ed. 4. 1.

Merchants aliens ſhall be bound to carry no gold out of the Realm.

CAP. VII.

The penalty of a Cordwainer uſing the myſtery of a Tanner. Rep. 5 El. 8. & 1 Jac. 22.

CAP. VIII.

Iriſhmen reſorting into the Realm, ſhall put in ſurety for their good abearing.

ITem, Whereas it is ordained in the laſt Parliament amongſt other things, that all people born in Ireland, ſhall depart out of the Realm within a moneth next after Proclamation made of the ſaid Ordinance, upon pain to loſe their goods, and to be impriſoned at the Kings will, except certain perſons in the ſame Ordinance excepted, and that the Graduats and Beneficed men ſhould find ſurety of their good abearing, and that they ſhould not take upon them the principality of any Hall or Hoſtel, but to remain amongſt other Engliſh Scholars under the principality of other, and alſo thoſe Scholars of Ireland that be not Graduats, and be of the Kings obeiſance, ſhall find ſurety of their good abearing in the manner as the ſaid Graduats ſhall do in the form aforeſaid. And that all the Scholars of Ireland being elſewhere in England, that will here abide, ſhall bring every of them by himſelf to the Chancellor of England for the time being, before the Feaſt of St. John Baptiſt laſt paſt, Letters under the ſeal of the Lieutenant or Juſtices of Ireland, witneſſing that they be of the Kings obeiſance. And that all of them that bring not thoſe Letters before the Feaſt of Saint John, it ſhall be done as of Rebels to the King. And from this Feaſt of St. John forward, no perſon born in Ireland, ſhall enter the Realm of England to abide in the Univerſity of Oxenford or Cambridge, or elſewhere within the Realm of England, unleſs he bring to the ſaid Chancellor ſuch Letters teſtimonial, upon pain to be puniſhed as Rebels to the King.

St. 1 H. 6. 3.

And foraſmuch as in the ſaid Ordinance no mention was made, before whom nor in what manner the ſurety of good abearing as before, ſhall be found: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Chancellors of the Univerſities of Oxenford and Cambridge for the time being, Who ſhall take ſureties of Iriſhmen that will reſort into the Realm, according to the St. of 1 H. 6. 3.

every of them within his juriſdiction, ſhall take the ſureties to be taken of Scholars within the ſame Univerſities, and certifie the ſame into the Kings Chancery. And that the Juſtices of Peace within the Counties, and Mayors and Bailiffs within Cities and Boroughs enfranchiſed, have power to take before them ſuch manner ſurety of good abearing, and to do execution upon them which ſhall abide, or do againſt the ſaid ordinance from henceforth.

CAP. IX.

The money called Blank ſhall be wholly put out.

The money called Blanks ſhall be wholly put out.

ITem, It is ordained, That Proclamation be made through all the Counties of England within Franchiſes and without, and within Cities, Towns, Boroughs, and elſewhere, that all the money called Blanks ſhall be wholly out and voided out of the Realm before the Feaſt of St. John Baptiſt next coming. And moreover that no man after the ſaid Feaſt pay or receive for payment in any manner within the ſaid Realm, the ſaid money called Blanks, upon the pain contained and ordained by a Statute made the third year of King Henry, father to our Lord the King, againſt all that pay or receive for payment the money called Gally halfpence, Suskin, and Dotkins within the Realm.

St. an. 3 H. 5.

CAP. X.

What manner of inferiour Officers ſhall be appointed in the Kings Court.

What manner inferior officers ſhall be appointed in the Kings Courts by ſuperior officers

ITem, To the intent that better and more ſure government be had within the Courts of our Lord the King, for his profit, and eaſe of his people, which have to purſue, and to do in the ſame: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That all the Officers made by the Kings Letters Patents Royal within the ſaid Courts, which have power and authority by vertue of their Offices of old times accuſtomed, to appoint Clerks and Miniſters within the ſame Courts, ſhall be charged and ſworn to appoint ſuch Clerks and Miniſters, for whom they will anſwer at their peril, which be ſufficient, faithful, and attending to that which pertaineth to them in performance of the buſineſs, as well of the King as of his people. Co. Inſt. 4. p. 114.

CAP. XI.

The ſeveral Meaſures of veſſels of Wine, Eels, Herrings, and Salmons.

ITem, Whereas in old time it was ordained and lawfully uſed, that Tuns, Pipes, Tertians, Hogſheads of Gaſcoin Wine, barrels of Herring and of Eels, and buts of Salmon coming by way of merchandiſe into this Land, out of ſtrange Countreys, and alſo made in the ſame Land, ſhould be of certain meaſure, that is to ſay, the Tun of Wine C C. iii. gallons, the Pipe C. xxvi. gallons, the Tertian lxxxiv. gallons, the Hogſhead lxiii. gallons, the barrel of Herring and Eels xxx. gallons fully packed, the but of Salmon, lxxxiv. gallons fully packed. Nevertheleſs by device and ſubtilty now late, ſuch veſſels have been of much leſs meaſure, to the great deceit and loſs of the King and of his people, whereof ſpecial remedy was prayed in the Parliament: It is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That no man after the end of twelve moneths from the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, ſhall bring into the Realm of England, from what Countrey ſoever it be, nor make within the ſame Realm a Tun of wine, except it contain of the Engliſh meaſure C C. iii. gallons, the Pipe C. xxvi. gallons, and ſo after the rate, the Tertian and the Hogſhead of Gaſcoin wine, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame wine; nor barrel of herring nor of Eels, unleſs they contain xxx. gallons fully packed, nor But of Salmon, unleſs it contain lxxxiv. gallons fully packed, nor kinderkins, tertians, and firkins of Herring, nor of Eels, nor of Salmon, but after the rate fully packed, after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John the Baptiſt next coming, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid Herring, Eels and Salmon, ſo brought or made contrary to this Ordinance, in what City, Borough and Town of the Realm, or in any part of England, that ſuch defaults be found to the Lord of the ſame Town. And that he which will ſue and prove the ſaid defaults, ſhall have the fourth part of the ſame forfeiture. And the Juſtices of Peace in all the Counties of England, and Mayors and Bailiffs, having power to inquire of the Peace, ſhall inquire, hear and determine all the ſame defaults. And that this Ordinance extend and have ſtrength, as well within the County of Cheſter, as elſewhere. St. 18 H. 6. 17. 1 R. 3. 13. 28 H. 8. 14.

The meaſure of a Tun, &c. of Wine, and of a barrel of Eels, Herrings and Salmons.

CAP. XII.

The office and duty of the Kings Aſſayer, Controller, and Maſter of the Mint.

The Maſter of the Mint ſhall keep his Allay in making of white money.

ITem, To the intent that the more bullion may be brought to the Mint, and the greater plenty of white money be made currant within the Realm, for the eaſe and profit of the Comminalty of the ſame, it is ordained and ſtabliſhed, That the Maſter of the Mint ſhall keep his allay in the making of white money, according to the form of his indenture. And that the ſame Maſter receive of every perſon that ſhall bring any ſilver to the Mint, the ſame money at the true value as it is worth, according to the ſame allay, upon pain to pay to the party his double damages: And alſo to the intent that this Ordinance may the better and more juſtly be obſerved, it is ordained that the Kings Aſſayer, which is a perſon indifferent betwixt the Maſter of the Mint and the Merchant, and alſo the Controller of the Mint ſhall be preſent, when any ſuch bullion of ſilver is brought to the Mint, to the intent that the ſaid Aſſayer may rightfully ſet the value of the ſame according to the Law, in caſe of variance betwixt the Maſter and the Merchant, and the Controller to controll as well ſilver that is brought to the ſaid Mint, as carried out of the ſame, every two days faithfully and indifferently to do their duty, without taking any reward other then the fee which they ſhall take of the King, upon the pain to yield double damages as afore is ſaid. And that the Aſſayer and Controller be credible, ſubſtantial, and expert men, having perfect know-knowledge in the myſtery of Goldſmiths and of the Mint. And alſo that neither the Maſter of the Mint, nor the exchanger for the time being, ſell nor cauſe to be ſold, nor alien to any other uſe but to the coin, no manner of gold nor of ſilver wrought or unwrought, coined or not coined, or bullion which is brought to the Mint, or to the Exchange, but apply the ſame only to the money, according to the form of the ſaid Indenture, upon the pain contained in the ſame indenture. And that the ſame Maſter of the Mint cauſe to be ſtriken from time to time, half nobles, farthings of gold, groats, half-groats, pence, half-pence and farthings, for the eaſe of the people, according to the tenour of the Indenture made betwixt the King and him, upon the pain contained in the ſame, ſo that the common people may have recourſe to the Exchange for ſmall gold and white money, as they reaſonably ſhall need.

The Maſter of the Mint ſhall convert into coin all the gold and ſilver which he ſhall receive.

The Maſter of the Mint ſhall make ſmall money.

CAP. XIII.

The price of a pound of ſilver in Plate, Piece, or Maſs. Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

CAP. XIV.

The fineneſs of Harneſs of ſilver. And it ſhall be marked with the Leopards head.

ITem, That no Goldſmith nor worker of ſilver within the City of London, ſell any workmanſhip of ſilver, unleſs it be as fine as the ſterling, except the ſame need ſowder in the making, which ſhall be allowed according as the ſowder is neceſſary to be wrought in the ſame. And that no goldſmith nor jeweller, nor any other that worketh harneſs of ſilver ſhall ſet any of the ſame to ſell within the City, before that it be touched with the touch, and alſo with a mark or ſign of the workman of the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of the double, as afore is ſaid. And that the mark and ſign of every goldſmith be known to the Wardens of the Craft. And if it may be found that the ſaid keeper of the touch, touch any ſuch harneſs with the Leopards head, except it be as fine in allay as the ſterling, that then the keeper of the touch for every thing ſo proved, not as good in allay as the ſaid ſterling, ſhall forfeit the double value to the King, and to the party as is above recited. And alſo it is likewiſe ordained in the City of York, Newcaſtle upon Tine, Lincoln, Norwich, Briſtow, Saliſbury, and Coventry, that every one ſhall have divers touches, according to the Ordinance of the Mayors, Bayliffs, or Governours of the ſame Towns. And that no Goldſmiths, nor other workers of ſilver, nor keepers of the ſaid touches within the ſame Towns, ſhall ſet to ſale or touch any ſilver in other manner then is ordained before, within the City of London, upon pain of the ſaid forfeiture; and moreover that no Goldſmith or other worker of ſilver within the Realm of England, where no touch is ordained, as afore is ſaid, ſhall work any ſilver, except it be as fine in allay as the ſterling, and that the Goldſmith or worker of the ſame ſilver, ſet upon the ſame his mark or ſign, before he ſet it to ſale. And if it be found that it is not as fine as the ſterling, that then the worker of the ſame ſhall forfeit the double value, in manner and form as before is recited, within the City of London. And the Juſtices of Peace, Mayors and Bayliffs, and all other having power as Juſtices of Peace, ſhall hear, inquire and determine, by bill, plaint, or in other manner, all that do contrary to the ſaid Ordinances, and thereof to make due execution by their diſcretions. Provided always, That if the Maſter of the Mint that now is, or which for the time ſhall be, offend or have offended in his Office of the ſaid Mint, that then he be puniſhed and juſtified according to the form of the ſaid Indentures. St. 28 Ed. 1. 20. 17 Ed. 4. 1. 18 Eliz. 15.

None ſhall ſell any work of ſilver unleſs it be as fine as the ſterling.

None ſhall ſet any work of ſilver until it be touched and marked with the Goldſmiths known mark.

The penalty of the keeper of the touch which toucheth any veſſel not ſufficient in allay.

Several Cities and Towns ſhall have ſeveral touches.

Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, &c. may inquire of, hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

CAP. XV.

No man ſhall faſten Nets to any thing over Rivers.

ITem, It is ordained, That the ſtanding of nets and engines called trinks, and all other nets, which be and were wont to be faſtned and hanged continually day and night by a certain time in the year, to great poſts, boats and ancres, overthwart the River of Thames, and other Rivers of the Realm, which ſtanding is a cauſe of as great and more deſtruction of the brood and fry of fiſh, and diſturbance of the common paſſage of veſſels, as be the wears, kydels, or any other engines, be wholly defended for ever. And that every perſon that ſetteth or faſtneth them hereafter to ſuch poſts, boats, and ancres, or like thing, continually to ſtand as before is ſaid, and be duly thereof by the courſe of the Law convict, ſhall forfeit to the King C. s. at every time that he is ſo proved in default. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful to the poſſeſſors of the ſaid trinks, if they be of aſſiſe, to fiſh with them in all ſeaſonable times, drawing and pulling them by hand, as other fiſhers do with other nets, and not faſtning or tacking the ſaid nets to poſts, boats and ancres, continually to ſtand as afore is ſaid. Saving always to every of the Kings liege people their right, title, and inheritance in their fiſhings in the ſaid water.

The penalty of thoſe which do faſten trinks or other nets over any river.

In what ſort owners of trinks may fiſh with them.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 3 H. 6. & An. Dom. 1424.

OUr Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons aſſembled in this Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the laſt day of April, the third year of his Reign, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Ordinances and Statutes, to the honour of God, and for the weal of his Realm, in the form following:

CAP. I.

Maſons ſhall not confederate themſelves in Chapiters and aſſemblies.

FIrſt, Whereas by the yearly Congregations and Confederacies made by the Maſons in their general Chapiters and Aſſemblies, the good courſe and effect of the Statutes of Labourers be openly violated and broken in ſubverſion of the Law, and to the great damage of all the Commons; Our ſaid Lord the King willing in this caſe to provide remedy, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That ſuch Chapiters and Congregations ſhall not be hereafter holden. And if any ſuch be made, they that cauſe ſuch Chapiters and Congregations to be aſſembled and holden, if they thereof be convict, ſhall be judged for Felons. And that all the other Maſons that come to ſuch Chapiters and Congregations, be puniſhed by impriſonment of their bodies, and make fine and ranſom at the Kings will. Co.Inſt.3.p.399.

CAP. II.

Sheep ſhall not be tranſported beyond Sea without the Kings Licence.

Whoſoever ſhall tranſport ſheep to any parts beyond the Sea ſhall forfeit them. St.8 El.3.

ITem, Becauſe that divers perſons do from time to time carry out of the Realm great number of ſheep with Fleeces into Flanders and other Countreys beyond the Sea, and there they ſhear them, and ſell as well the ſame ſheep as the wools of the ſame to men of the ſame Countrey, ſo that by ſuch perſons the ſheep within the ſaid Countrey of Flanders, and other parts in ſhort time be likely to be much increaſed, to the great deceit, loſs and damage of our Lord the King, of his cuſtoms and ſubſidies of the ſaid wools, and alſo to the great hinderance of all the Realm, and diminution and abatement of the price of wools, as well at the Staple of Calice, as here in England, unleſs remedy be provided in this behalf: Our ſaid Lord the King, conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice and aſſent, and at the requeſt aforeſaid, hath ordained and granted by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, That no manner perſon, of what eſtate or condition that he be, hereafter be ſuffered to ſhip within the Realm of England any ſheep, fleeced or ſhorn, into the ſaid Countrey of Flanders, or to any other parts beyond the Sea, except it be to victual the Town of Calice and the Marches thereof. And that every man that may be eſpied, which under the colour of victualling of the ſame Town and Marches of Calice, paſſeth into any other places then to the ſame Town and Marches with any ſheep fleeced or ſhorn, (except he have the Kings Licence) ſhall forfeit to the King the ſame ſheep, or the value thereof, as often times as he ſhall be found in default.

CAP. III.

The penalty of a Cuſtomer, &c. concealing the Kings Cuſtom.

The penalty of a Cuſtomer, Collector or Controller concealing the Kings cuſtom.

ITem, It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That if any Cuſtomer, Collector, or Controller of the Kings cuſtoms of Cockets of Clothes, of Subſidies, of Tunnage, or Poundage, in any Port or place of England, be duly attainted or convict at the Kings ſuit, of falſe concealing of the Kings cuſtom or ſubſidie, duly entred and paid by any Merchant, that then the ſaid Cuſtomer, Collector, or Controller, ſo duly attainted or convict by the Law, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the King the treble value of the Merchandiſes ſo duly cuſtomed, and make fine and ranſom. And he that will ſue, ſhall have the third part for his labour. St.4 H.4.20. Dyer f.38.

CAP. IV.

Licence may be granted to convey Butter and Cheeſe to any place.

The Lord Chancellor may grant licence to any to convey Butter and Cheeſe to any other place beſide the Staple.

ITem, Whereas by a Statute made in the time of the noble King Edward the third, it was ordained, That the Staple, and the Merchandiſes of the Staple ſhould be carried to Calice, amongſt which Merchandiſes it was ordained by the ſame Statute, That Butter and Cheeſe ſhould be Merchandiſes of the Staple, by which Ordinances, divers perſons of the Realm of England have had great damage, becauſe that the ſaid Butter and Cheeſe be ſo tender Merchandiſes, that they cannot tarry their Merchants, as our Lord the King hath perceived by the grievous complaint of his ſaid Commons: The ſame our Lord the King, willing to provide remedy in this behalf, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That he that will carry Butter and Cheeſe to any other parts then to the ſaid Staple, ſhall ſue to the Chancellor of England for the time being, to have Licence in this behalf. And that the ſame Chancellor have power to make to him ſuch Licences under the Kings great Seal, if it like him ſo to do by his diſcretion. St. 18 H.6.3. St.1. & 2.P.&M.5. 14 Car.2.c.26.

CAP. V.

Commiſſions may be awarded to certain perſons to reform the River of Ley running from Ware to Thamis. PR.St.9 H.6.9. 13 El.18.

Statutes made at Leiceſter, Anno 4 H. 6. & Anno Dom. 1425.

THeſe be the Ordinances and Statutes made by our Soveraign Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons of his Realm, in his Parliament holden at Leiceſter, the eighteenth day of February, the fourth year of his Reign, being to the honour of God, and for the weal, profit and eaſe of his Realm.

CAP. I.

Every Sheriff ſhall return ſuch Writs as be directed to him at ſuch days as they be returnable, and ſhall warn thoſe Jurors which be impanelled. Exp.

CAP. III.

Juſtices in certain caſes may amend their Records according to former Statutes.

St. 9 H. 5. 4. St. 14 Ed. 3. 6.

ITem, Whereas at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the ſecond day of May, the ninth year of the Reign of King Henry, father of our Lord the King that now is, it was rehearſed, how that at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xiv. year of King Edward the third, it was ordained by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, That for miſpriſion of a Clerk in whatſoever place it be, no proceſs or plea ſhould be undone nor diſcontinued by overſight in writing a letter or ſyllable too much or too little: but as ſoon as the thing were perceived by challenge of the parties, or in other manner, it ſhould be haſtily amended in due form, without giving advantage to the party that challengeth the ſame, becauſe of ſuch miſpriſion: the ſaid late King Henry, conſidering the diverſities of opinions, which men had upon the ſaid Statute, and to put the thing in more open knowledge, did declare and ordain by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, holden the ſaid ninth year, That the Juſtices before whom ſuch plea or record is made, or ſhall be depending, as well by adjournment, as by way of errour, or otherwiſe, ſhall have power and authority to amend ſuch record and proceſs, as well after judgment given, as before, by force of the ſaid Statute made in the time of the ſaid King Edward, which Ordinance ſhould endure till the next Parliament, which ſhould be firſt holden after the return of the ſaid King Henry the father into England from beyond the ſea, and which now is determined by the death of the late King Henry the father: Our Soveraign Lord, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That the ſaid Statute, and the effect of the ſame, made the ſaid ix. year, ſhall hold ſtrength, force and effect, in every record and proceſs of the ſame, as well after judgment given upon a verdict paſſed, as upon a matter in Law pleaded, as a Statute available and effectual in Law to endure for ever. Provided always, That this Statute do not extend to records and proceſſes in the parts of Wales, nor to records and proceſſes whereby any perſon is or ſhall be outlawed at any mans ſuit.

Coke l. 5. f. 45. l. 8. f. 157. Dyer f. 260. 342.

A confirmation of the St. of 14 Ed. 3. 6. & 9 H. 5. 4. authoriſing Juſtices to amend records.

CAP. IV.

The Writs, Suits and Proceſſes now depending of certain that were late made Knights, ſhall not abate for that cauſe. Exp.

CAP. V.

Licence given to all the Kings Subjects to Tranſport Corn.

ITem, Whereas the noble King Richard the ii. after the conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xv. day of S. Hillary, the xvii. year of his reign, at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons of the ſame Parliament, did grant licence to all his liege people of his Realm of England, to ſhip and carry Corn out of the ſame Realm, to what part them pleaſed, except to enemies, paying the ſubſidies and duties thereof, notwithſtanding any ordinance, proclamation, or reſtraint made before to the contrary: Nevertheleſs the ſame late King, willing that his Counſel might reſtrain the ſaid paſſage, when to them ſeemed needful for the profit of the Realm. Our Lord the King at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons of this preſent Parliament, and by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, will and granteth, that the ſaid Statute be holden and kept in all points, ſo that his Counſel may reſtrain the ſaid paſſage when they ſhall think it neceſſary for the profit of the Realm. St. 1 & 2 P. & M. 5. 1 Jac. 25: 21 Jac. 28. 3 Car. 4.

A confirmation of the St. of 17 R. 2. 7. giving licence to all the Kings ſubjects to carry corn forth of the Realm.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 6 H. 6. & An. Dom. 1427.

OUr Lord the King, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the fifteenth of Saint Michael, the ſixth year of his Reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons of his Realm in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, hath cauſed to be made certain Statutes and Ordinances to the honour of God, and for the weal and eaſe of his people, in the manner and form as following.

CAP. I.

Within what time a Capias awarded againſt any perſon indicted in the Kings Bench, ſhall be returnable.

FIrſt, For that divers of the Kings faithful ſubjects, by falſe practiſe, covin and conſpiracy of certain evil perſons be indicted before our Lord the King, in his Bench, of divers Felonies and Treaſons, by ſuſpect Jurors, hired and procured to the ſame by confederacy and covin of the ſaid conſpirators; by force of which Indictments a Capias is awarded to the Sheriffs of the County, where the ſaid Bench is, returnable within two or four days, at which day, if the party ſo indicted come not, an Exigent is awarded, whereby the goods and cattels of ſuch perſons indicted be forfeit to our Lord the King, to the utter undoing of divers of the Kings faithful ſubjects, as the ſame our Lord the King hath conceived by the grievous complaint of the ſaid Commons, made to him in the ſaid Parliament: Our ſaid Lord the King, willing in this caſe to provide remedy, hath ordained by the advice and aſſent of the Lords, that before any Exigent be awarded againſt ſuch perſons indicted before the King in his ſaid Bench, Writs of Capias ſhall be directed, as well to the Sheriff or Sheriffs of the County wherein they be indicted, as to the Sheriff or Sheriffs of the County whereof they be named in the Indictments, the ſame Capias having the ſpace of ſix weeks at the leaſt, or longer time by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices, if the caſe require it, before the return of the ſame; which Writs ſo returned, the Juſtices ſhall proceed in the manner as they have done before this time; and if the Exigent be award-

Upon an Indictment of any perſon in the Kings Bench a Capias ſhall be awarded againſt him returnable at the leaſt ſix weeks before any exigent ſhall be awarded.

awarded, or any outlawry pronounced hereafter againſt ſuch perſons indicted, before the return of the ſaid Writs, the ſame Exigent ſo awarded, with the outlawry thereof pronounced, ſhall be void and holden for none. And this Ordinance ſhall indure as long as ſhall pleaſe the King. St. 8 H. 6. 10.

CAP. II.

How long time the Copies of Pannels in Aſſiſe ſhall be delivered to the parties before the Seſſions of the Juſtices.

How long time the copies of Pannels in Aſſiſes ſhall be delivered to the parties before the Seſſions of Juſtices.

ITem, Becauſe that divers of the Kings liege people in times paſt have been diſherited, for that in ſpecial Aſſiſes the Tenants and Defendants could not have knowledge nor copy of the pannel of them that be impanelled to paſs in the ſaid Aſſiſes, to inform them of their right and titles before the day of the Seſſion that the Aſſiſes ſhould be demanded: Our Lord the King, willing thereof to provide remedy, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the pannels of the Aſſiſes ſhall be arraied, and a copy indented of the ſame by the Sheriff delivered to the Plaintiffs, Tenants and Defendants, ſix days at the leaſt before the Seſſion of the Juſtices, if they the ſame demand. And as to the return or anſwer of the Bailiffs of Franchiſes, they ſhall make their returns or anſwers to the Sheriffs of ſuch ſpecial Aſſiſes, ſix days before the Seſſions in the manner aforeſaid. And that upon pain of fourty pound, to be paid by the ſaid Sheriffs or Bailiffs to our Lord the King, as often as they or any of them do or cauſe to be done contrary to this Ordinance or Statute. Stat. 42 Ed. 3. 11.

CAP. III.

The Juſtices of Peace and chief Officers in Cities, &c. ſhall make Proclamations what every Artificer and Workman ſhall take for Wages. And the penalty of a ſervant, artificer, or labourer that taketh more. Exp. 5 Eliz. St. 8 H. 6. 8.

CAP. IV.

The Sheriffs traverſe to an Inqueſt found touching returning Knights of the Parliament.

A rehearſal of the St. of 7. H. 4. 15. touching the form of the chuſing of the Knights for the Parliament.

ITem, Where it is ordained and eſtabliſhed in the ſeventh year of King Henry the fourth, grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, that Knights of Shires for the Parliament, ſhould be choſen in the manner and form following, that is to ſay, at the next County to be holden after the delivery of the Writ of the Parliament, Proclamation ſhall be made in the full County, of the day and place of the Parliament, and that all they which be preſent there, as well ſutors duly ſummoned for this cauſe as other, ſhall attend to the election of their Knights for the Parliament. And then in full County they ſhall proceed to the election freely and indifferently, notwithſtanding any requeſt or commandment to the contrary. And that after they be choſen, whether ſuch perſons choſen be preſent or abſent, their names ſhall be written in Indentures, under the ſeals of all the chuſers, and annexed to the ſaid Writ of Parliament, which Indenture ſo ſealed and tacked, ſhall be holden for the return of the ſaid Writ, as to the Knights of the ſaid Shires. And alſo in the Writs of the Parliament hereafter to be made, this clauſe ſhall be put in the manner as followeth. Et electionem tuam in pleno Comitatu tuo factam, diſtincte & aperte ſub ſigillo tuo & ſigillis eorum qui electioni illi interfuerint, nobis in Cancellaria noſtra ad diem & locum in brevi contentos certifices indilate. And for that in the ſame Statute no pain was ordained, nor ſpecially ſet upon the Sheriffs of the County, if they make their return contrary to the ſaid Statute: It was ordained and eſtabliſhed the xi. year of the ſaid King Henry the fourth, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſes ſhould have power to enquire in their Seſſions of Aſſiſes of ſuch returns made; and if it be found by Inqueſt and due examination before the ſame Juſtices, that any ſuch Sheriff hath made, or hereafter ſhall make any return contrary to the tenor of the ſaid Statute, that the ſame Sheriff ſhould incur the pain of an hundred pound, to be paid to our ſaid Lord the King. And moreover, that the Knights ſo unduly returned, ſhall loſe their wages of the Parliament in old times accuſtomed, to the great miſchiefs of Sheriffs and Knights of the Shire, which be forbarred and put out of their anſwer, againſt ſuch inqueſts of office taken before the ſaid Judges, becauſe of the Statutes and Ordinances aforeſaid: Our Lord the King willing in this caſe to provide remedy, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all the Knights of the Shires choſen for this preſent Parliament, and the Sheriffs of the ſame Counties againſt whom any inqueſts or offices of undue election be found before the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, ſhall have their anſwer and traverſe to ſuch Inqueſts of office taken. And alſo all the Knights from henceforth ſo to be choſen, and the Sheriffs that ſhall make ſuch elections, ſhall have their anſwer and traverſe to ſuch inqueſts and offices before any Juſtices of Aſſiſes hereafter to be taken, and the ſaid Knights and Sheriffs ſhall not be endamaged unto our ſaid Lord the King, or his ſucceſſors, for any ſuch Inqueſt taken or to be taken, until they be duly convict according to the form of the Law. St. 8 H. 6. 7.

By the Stat. of 11 H. 4. 1. Juſtices of Aſſiſe ſhall inquire of undue returns of Knights of the Parliament.

The Knights choſen for the Parliament, & Sheriffs of Counties may have their traverſe to an office found againſt them.

CAP. V.

Several Commiſſions of Sewers ſhall be granted. The form of the Commiſſion.

Commiſſions of Sewers ſhall be granted during ten years.

ITem, Our Soveraign Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, conſidering the great damage and loſſes which now late be happened by the great inundation of waters in divers parts of the Realm, and that much greater damage is very like to enſue, if remedy be not ſpeedily provided, hath ordained and granted, That during ten years next enſuing, ſeveral Commiſſions of Sewers ſhall be made to divers perſons by the Chancellor of England for the time being, to be ſent into all parts of the Realm, where ſhall be needful, according to the form that followeth.

HENRY, By the grace of God King of England, &c. To his well beloved and faithful A.B.C. & D. greeting. Know ye, That whereas the Walls, Ditches, Gutters, Sewers, Bridges, Caulceis, and Wears by the Coaſts of the Sea, and Marſh, within yͤ coaſts and Limits of Lindſey, in the County of Lincoln, by yͤ rage of the Sea, flowing & reflowing, and Trenches of freſh waters by divers places deſcending to the Sea, be ſo decayed and broken, that many ineſtimable damages for default of reparation of the ſame Walls, Ditches, Gutters, Bridges, Caulceis, and Wears, in times paſt have happened there, and yet it is to be feared that much more hurt within ſhort time will happen, unleſs that ſome ſpeedy remedy be provided therefore: We for as much as by reaſon of our Regal dignity, we be bounden to have regard to the ſafety of our Realm of England in all places, willing in this behalf to provide convenient and ſpeedy remedy, have aſſigned you, &c. of which, &c. we will to be one, our Juſtices to ſurvey the ſaid walls, ditches, gutters, ſewers, bridges, caulceis, wears and trenches, and to enquire by the oath as well of Knights, as other good and lawful men of the ſaid County, as well within Liberties as without, by whom the truth of the matter may be beſt known, by whoſe default ſuch damages have there happened, and who doth hold lands and tenements, or hath any common of paſture or fiſhing in tho~~ſe parts~~, or elſe in any wiſe have, or may have the defence, profit, and ſafegard, as well in peril nigh, as from the ſame far off, by the ſaid walls, ditches, gutters, ſewers, bridges, caulceis, and wears, and alſo hurt or commodity by the ſame trenches, and there to diſtrain all them for the quantity of their lands and tenements, either by the number of acres, or by their plough-lands, for the rate of tye portion of their tenure, or for the quantity of their common of paſture or fiſhing, together with the Bailiffs of Liberties, and other places of the Counties and places aforeſaid, to repair the ſaid walls, ditches, gutters, ſewers, bridges, caulceis, and wears, in the places neceſſary, and the ſame or other, as often and where ſhall be needful to make of new, and to cleanſe the ſaid trenches in places neceſſary, and if need be to ſtop them up. So that no tenants of lands or tenements, nor any having common of paſture or fiſhing, rich or poor, nor other of what condition, ſtate or dignity, which have or may have defence, commodity and ſafegard by the ſaid walls, ditches, gutters, ſewers, bridges, caulceis, or wears, or elſe any hurt by the ſaid trenches, (whether they be within liberties or without) ſhall in any wiſe be ſpared in this: and for agiſtments upon the Sea-banks for preſervation of the ſaid parts, according to yͤ number of yͤ acres or perches by you, &c. of whom, &c. we will to be one, newly to number, and as often and where ſhall need of new to make. And to depute certain diligent and true keepers for the ſaid preſervation, and to hear the account of the Collectors of the money, which ſhall be levied for this cauſe, and to be ſpent in the reparation and amendment of the ſaid walls, ditches, gutters, ſewers, bridges, caulceis, and wears, and ſtopping of the ſaid trenches. And to diſtrain by you, &c. uf whom, &c. we will to be one, or by other whom ye ſhall thereto depute, for the arrearages of ſuch collection, as often as need ſhall be, and as ye ſhall think meet, and to make and ordain neceſſary and convenient ſtatutes and ordinances for the defence and ſafety of the ſaid ſea banks and marſhes, and the parts adjoyning, according to the laws and cuſtoms of Romney marſh, and to hear and determine according to the laws and cuſtoms of our Realm of England, and the cuſtom of Romney marſh, all, and ſingular the premiſes, aſwell at our ſuit, as the ſuit of any other that will complain before you in this behalf: And to take and put in the ſaid works and reparations, as many ditchers and other workmen and labourers for the ſaid workmanſhip and reparations, as may ſuffice for the great, ſpeedy and inſtant neceſſity, upon competent wages to them in this behalf to be paid. And therefore we command you, that at certain days and places which you, &c. of whom, &c. we will to be one, thereto ſhall appoint, ye ſhall ſurvey the ſaid walls, ditches, gutters, ſewers, bridges, caulſeis, wears and trenches, and all and ſingular the premiſes do and accompliſh, and hear and determine in form aforeſaid. So that for default of reparation of the ſaid walls, ditches, gutters, ſewers, bridges, caulceis and wears, and ſtopping of the ſaid trenches, no hurt nor peril ſhall in any wiſe happen. And that ye compel all them, ~~whom ye~~ ſhall find negligent or ſtubbornly denying to do reparation, or making of their portions, ſpeedily to reform and amend the ſame by diſtreſſes and amerciaments, and other ways and means which to you ſhall beſt ſeem for ſuch defaults: And that ye cauſe all things which by you ſhall be ordained in this behalf, as well within liberties as without, firmly to be obſerved, doing therein as to Juſtices pertaineth, according to the Law and cuſtom of our Realm of England: ſaving to us the amerciament and other things thereof to us pertaining. We have alſo commanded our Sheriff of the ſaid County, that at certain days and places which you, &c. of whom, &c. we will to be one, ſhall give him to know, he ſhall cauſe to come before you, &c. of whom, &c. we will to be one, ſo many and ſuch good and lawful men of his Bailiwick, as well within liberties as without, by whom the truth of the matter in the premiſes may beſt be known and enquired. CAP. VI.

All Merchants may ſhip merchandiſe in Melcomb haven, and carry them to Calice. OB.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno octavo Henrici ſexti, & Anno Domini 1429.

TO the laud and honour of Almighty God, and of the holy mother the Church, our moſt noble Chriſtian Lord Henry, by the grace of God King of England, and France, and Lord of Ireland, in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the morrow after S. Matthew the Apoſtle, the eighth year of his Reign, by the advice and aſſent of the Prelates, and great men of his Realm of England, & at the ſpecial requeſt & aſſent of the Commons of the ſame Realm being in the ſaid Parliament, hath made certain Statutes and Ordinances for the common profit of the ſaid Realm, and eſpecially for the good and wholſom government and due execution of the Law to be had in the ſame, in the form following.

CAP I.

The Clergy of the Convocation ſhall have ſuch Liberty as they which come to the Parliament.

The Clergy coming to the Convocation ſhall have ſuch liberties, as they which come to the Parliament.

FIrſt, Becauſe the Prelates and Clergy of the Realm of England called to the Convocation, and their ſervants and families that came with them to ſuch Convocation oftentimes, and commonly be arreſted, moleſted and inquieted: Our ſaid Lord the King, willing graciouſly in this behalf to provide for the ſecurity and quietneſs of the ſaid Prelates and Clergy, at the ſupplication of the ſame Prelates and Clergy, and by the aſſent of the great men and Commons aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all the Clergy hereafter to be called to the Convocation by the Kings Writ, and their ſervants and familiars, ſhall for ever hereafter fully uſe and enjoy ſuch liberty or defence in coming, tarrying and returning, as the great men and comminalty of the Realm of England, called or to be called to the Kings Parliament, do enjoy, and were wont to enjoy, or in time to come ought to enjoy. St. 5 H. 4.6. 11 H. 6. 11.

CAP. II.

No Merchants of England ſhall enter into the Dominion of the King of Denmark, but into Northbaram. Rep. 1 H. 8. 1.

CAP. III.

Commiſſioners of Sewers may execute their own Ordinance.

St. 6 H.6.5.

The Commiſſioners of Sewers ſhall have power to execute their ordinances.

ITem, Our Lord the King conſidering how at the laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the vi. year of his Reign, he did ordain and grant by authority of the ſaid Parliament, That ſeveral Commiſſioners of Sewers ſhould be made to divers perſons by the Chancellor of England for the time being, to be named in all parts of the Realm, where ſhall be needful, under a certain form, in the ſaid Ordinance and Grant contained; by which Ordinance and Grant the ſaid Commiſſioners had no power nor authority to do, perform, nor execute the things compriſed within the ſaid Commiſſions. And therefore he hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by authority of this Parliament, That all ſuch Commiſſioners ſhall have power to do, ordain, and execute the Statutes, Ordinances, and other affairs to be made according to the effect and purport of the ſaid Commiſſions.

CAP. IV.

None ſhall buy nor wear a Livery to have maintenance in any quarrel. Rep. 3 Car. 4.

CAP. V.

Every City and Borough ſhall have a common balance and weight: Who may buy Wool and Yarn.

St. 9 H.3.25.
14 Ed.3.12.

25 Ed. 3. 9.
13 R. 2.9.

ITem, Whereas by the great Charter of the Liberties of the Realm of England, and by a Statute made the xxv. year of King Edward the third, it was ordained, and by a Statute made in the xiii. year of King Richard the ſecond, confirmed, That one weight and one meaſure ſhould be through all the Realm of England, as well out of the Staple as within; And in the ſame Statute of the ſaid noble King Edward, it is contained, That the weight called Auncel, for the great hurt and ſubtile deceits done by the ſame meaſure to the common people, ſhall be utterly lett, and ſet apart, and the Wools and all other manner of Merchandiſes, and all other things weighable, bought or ſold, ſhall be weighed by the balance, ſo that the tongue of the balance do not incline more to the one party then the other, with weights ſealed, and according to the Standard of the Eſchequer. And he that doth contrary, to the damage of the ſeller, ſhall forfeit to our Lord the King, the value of the goods ſo weighed or meaſured; And that the party complainant ſhall have his quatreble damages. And by the ſaid Statute of the ſaid noble King Richard, it was added, That the offendor ſhall be impriſoned by two years, and make fine and ranſom at the will of our Lord the King: And that the Juſtices of Peace ſhould have power to enquire of the ſaid defaults, as well at the ſuit of our Lord the King, as the parties; Our Lord the King, by the authority of this Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Statutes and Ordinances aforeſaid ſhall be firmly kept and holden, and ſtraightly executed.

Regraters of Yarn, called Journe Choppers.

Every City, Borough, and Town ſhall have a common balance and weights.

No man ſhall buy woollen yarn unleſs he will make cloth thereof. Rep. 21 Jac.28.

And moreover, for to eſchew divers great miſchiefs which have happened within the Realm of England, by the ſaid Auncel, and ſpecially for to deſtroy the falſhood of the Regrators of Yarn, called Journe Choppers, It is ordained by our ſaid Lord the King, by authority aforeſaid, That in every City, Borough, and Town of the Realm of England, a common balance ſhall be, with common weights ſealed, and according to the Standard of the Eſchequer, upon the common Coſts of the ſaid City, Borough, or Town, in the keeping of the Mayor, or Conſtable of the ſame; at which balance and common weight, all the inhabitants of the ſame City, Borough or Town, that have not ſuch weights, and other that have, if they will, may freely weigh without any thing paying, taking nevertheleſs of forains for every draught within the weight of xl.li. a farthing, and for every draught betwixt forty pound and an hundred pound, an half-peny, & for every draught betwixt an hundred pound and a thouſand pound a peny at the moſt: whereof the weights ſhalbe maintained, and the officers lawfully weighing, rewarded by the diſcretion of the chief men of the City, Borough or Town, according to his attendance to his ſaid buſineſs, be it more or leſs. And that no man buy yarn of wool, called woollen yarn, unleſs he will make Cloth thereof, nor uſe weight nor meaſure, nor other thing in the place of weight or meaſure, that is not ſealed according to the ſaid Standard, nor ſet any thing to the ſame by the way of tacking or hiding, or in any other manner that may increaſe the meaſure or weight, or let the balance to have his natural courſe, upon the forfeiture and penalty aforeſaid. And that the Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, Bailiffs, and Stewards of Franchiſes, have power by authority aforeſaid, to examine the treſpaſſors in this caſe, and to enquire in eſpecial of offendors againſt this Ordinance, and to do execution of them that be found faulty, by enqueſts or by examination to be made by the ſaid Judges or Officers in this caſe, in the manner as afore is ſaid. And that this Ordinance be holden and obſerved, from the Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing, for ever. And that every City upon pain of ten pound, every Borough upon pain of an hundred ſhillings, and every Town where a Conſtable is, upon pain of fourty ſhillings, have a common balance with weights according to the ſaid Standard, within two moneths after Proclamation made of this Ordinance, which penalty ſhall be levied to the uſe of our Lord the King, as often as they ſhall be faulty, after the ſaid Proclamation. CAP. VI.

If any threaten by caſting of bills to burn a houſe, if money be not laid in a certain place, and after do burn the houſe, ſuch burning of houſes ſhall be adjudged high Treaſon. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 1 M. 1.

CAP. VII.

What ſort of men ſhall be chuſers, and who ſhall be choſen Knights of the Parliament.

Item, Whereas the elections of Knights of Shires, to come to the Parliaments of our Lord the King, in many Counties in the Realm of England, have now of late been made by very great, outragious and exceſſive number of people, dwelling within the ſame Counties of the Realm of England, of the which moſt part was of people of ſmall ſubſtance, and of no value, whereof every of them pretended a voice equivalent, as to ſuch elections to be made, with the moſt worthy Knights and Eſquires dwelling within the ſame Counties, whereby manſlaughter, riots, batteries, and diviſions among the Gentlemen, and other people of the ſame Counties ſhall very likely riſe and be, unleſs convenient and due remedy be provided in this behalf: Our Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, hath provided, ordained, and ſtabliſhed by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Knights of the Shires ~~to~~ be choſen within the ſame Realm of England, to come to the Parliaments of our Lord the King, hereafter to be holden, ſhall be choſen in every County of the Realm of England, by people dwelling and reſident in the ſame Counties, whereof every one of them ſhall have Land or Tenement, to the value of fourty ſhillings by the year at the leaſt, above all charges, and that they which ſhall be ſo choſen ſhall ~~be~~ dwelling and reſident within the ſame Counties. And ſuch as have the greateſt number of them, that may expend fourty ſhillings by year, and above, as afore is ſaid, ſhall be returned by the Sheriffs of every County Knights of Parliament, by Indentures ſealed betwixt the ſaid Sheriffs, and the ſaid chuſers ſo to be made. And every Sheriff of the Realm of England ſhall have power by the ſaid authority to examine upon the Evangeliſts every ſuch chuſer, how much he may expend by the year: And if any Sheriff return Knights, to come to the Parliament, contrary to the ſaid Ordinance, the Juſtices of Aſſiſes in their Seſſions of Aſſiſes ſhall have power by the authority aforeſaid, thereof to enquire. And if by enqueſt the ſame be found before the Juſtices, and the Sheriff thereof be duly attainted, that then the ſaid Sheriff ſhall incur the pain of an hundred pound, to be paid to our Lord the King, and alſo that he have impriſonment by a year, without being let to Mainpriſe or bail. And that the Knights for the Parliament returned contrary to the ſaid Ordinance, ſhall loſe their wages.

What ſort of people, and of what ſufficiency of eſtate ſhall be chuſers of the Knights for the Parliament. St. 1 H. 5. 1. 10 H. 6. 2.

Provided always, That he which cannot expend fourty ſhillings by year, as afore is ſaid, ſhall in no wiſe be chuſer of the Knights for the Parliament. And that in every Writ that ſhall hereafter go forth to the Sheriffs, to chuſe Knights for the Parliament, mention be made of the ſaid Ordinances.

CAP. VIII.

The Statute of 6 H. 6. 3. confirmed touching the wages of Labourers, Artificers, Servants, and Workmen. Rep. 5 Eliz. 4.

CAP. IX.

The duty of Juſtices of Peace, where Land is entred upon or detained with force.

Coke l. 4. f. 48

St. 15 R. 2. 2. touching forcible entries rehearſed and confirmed.

Item, Whereas by the noble King Richard, late King of England, after the Conqueſt the ſecond, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the morrow after All-Souls, the fifteenth year of his Reign, amongſt other things, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, That the Statutes and Ordinances made, and not repealed, of them that make Entries with ſtrong hand into Lands or Tenements, or other poſſeſſions whatſoever, and them hold with force, and of them that make Inſurrections, Riots, Routs, Ridings, and Aſſemblies in diſturbance of the Peace, or of the Common Law, or in affray of the people, ſhould be holden and fully executed. And moreover, it is ordained by the ſame Statute, That at all times that ſuch forcible Entries be made, and complaint thereof come to the Juſtices of Peace, or any of them, that the ſame Juſtices or Juſtice ſhall take the power of the County, and ſhall go, or one of them ſhall go to the place where ſuch force is made. And if they find, or he findeth any holding ſuch place forcibly, after ſuch entry made, they ſhould be taken and put in the next Gaol, there to remain convict by the record of the ſame Juſtices or Juſtice, until they have made fine and ranſom to the King. And that all the people of the County, as well Sheriffs as other, ſhall be attending to the ſaid Juſtices, and to aſſiſt them to arreſt ſuch malefactors, upon pain of impriſonment, and to make fine and ranſom to the King. And that in the ſame manner be done of them that make forcible entries into Benefices or Offices of holy Church, as in the ſame Statute is contained more at large.

And for that the ſaid Statute doth not extend to Entries in Tenements, in peaceable manner, and after holden with force, nor if the perſons which enter with force into Lands or Tenements, be removed and voided before the coming of the ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice, as before, nor any pain ordained, if the Sheriff do not obey the commandments and precepts of the ſaid Juſtices, for to execute the ſaid ordinance, many wrongful and forcible entries be daily made, in Lands and Tenements by ſuch as have no right, and alſo divers gifts, feoffments, and diſcontinuances ſometimes made to Lords, and other puiſſant perſons, and extortioners, within the ſaid Counties where they be converſant, to have maintenance, and ſometimes to ſuch perſons as be unknown to them ſo put out, to the intent to delay and defraud ſuch rightful poſſeſſors of their right, and recovery for ever, to the final diſheriſon of divers of the Kings faithful liege people, and likely daily to increaſe, if due remedy be not provided in this behalf: Our Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, hath ordained, That the ſaid Statute, and all other Statutes of ſuch entries or alienations made in times paſt, ſhall be holden and duly executed: Joyned to the ſame, That from henceforth where any doth make any forcible Entry in Lands and Tenements, or other poſſeſſions, or them hold forcibly, after complaint thereof made within the ſame County where ſuch Entry is made, to the Juſtices of Peace, or to one of them by the party grieved, that the Juſtices or Juſtice ſo warned within a convenient time, ſhall cauſe, or one of them ſhall cauſe the ſaid Statute duly to be executed, and that at the coſts of the party ſo grieved.

The office and duty of Juſtices of Peace when any forcible entry is made into Lands, or peaceable entry, and after detaining with force.

And moreover though that ſuch perſons making ſuch Entries be preſent, or elſe departed before the coming of the ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice, notwithſtanding the ſame Juſtices or Juſtice in ſome good Town next to the Tenements ſo entred, or in ſome other convenient place, according to their diſcretion, ſhall have, or either of them ſhall have authority and power to enquire by the people of ſame County, as well of them that make ſuch forcible Entries in Lands and Tenements, as of them which the ſame hold with force. And if it be found before any of them, that any doth contrary to this ſtatute, then the ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice ſhall cauſe to reſeiſe the Lands and Tenements ſo entred or holden as afore, and ſhall put the party ſo put out, in full poſſeſſion of the ſame Lands and Tenements, ſo entred or holden as before. And if any perſon after ſuch entry into Lands or Tenements holden with force, make a feoffment, or other diſcontinuance to any Lord or other perſon, to have maintenance, or to take away and defraud the poſſeſſor of his recovery in any wiſe, if after in Aſſiſe or other action thereof to be taken or purſued before Juſtices of Aſſiſes, or other the Kings Juſtices whatſoever, by due enquiry thereof to be taken, the ſame feoffments and diſcontinuances may be duly proved to be made for maintenance, as afore is ſaid, that then ſuch feoffments or other diſcontinuances, ſo as before made, ſhall be void, fruſtrate, and holden for none.

And alſo when the ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice make ſuch enquiries as before, they ſhall make, or one of them ſhall make their warrants and precepts to be directed to the Sheriff of the ſame County, commanding him of the Kings behalf, to cauſe to come before them and every of them, ſufficient and indifferent perſons, dwelling next about the Lands ſo entred, as before, to enquire of ſuch Entries, whereof every man which ſhall be impanelled to enquire in this behalf, ſhall have Land or Tenement of the yearly value of fourty ſhillings by year at the leaſt, above repriſes, and that the Sheriff return iſſues upon every of them at the day of the firſt precept returnable, twenty ſhillings, and at the ſecond day fourty ſhillings, and at the third time an hundred ſhillings, and at every day after, the double. And if any Sheriff or Bayliff within a Franchiſe having return of the Kings Writ, be ſlack, and make not execution duly of the ſaid precepts to him directed, to make ſuch enquiries, that he ſhall forfeit to the King twenty pound for every default, and moreover ſhall make fine and ranſom to the King.

And that as well the Juſtices or Juſtice aforeſaid, as the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, and every of them at their coming into the Countrey to take Aſſiſes, ſhall have, and every of them ſhall have power to hear and determine ſuch defaults and negligences of the ſaid Sheriffs and Bailiffs, and every of them, as well by bill at the ſuit of the party grieved for himſelf, as for the King, to ſue by endictment only to be taken for the King. And if the Sheriff or Bailiff be duly attainted in this behalf by indictment, or by bill, that he which ſueth for himſelf and for the King, have the one moyety of the forfeiture of twenty pound, together with his coſts and expences; and that the ſame proceſs be made againſt ſuch perſons indicted or ſued by bill in this behalf, as ſhould be againſt perſons indicted or ſued by writ of Treſpaſs done with force and arms againſt the peace of the King.

And moreover, if any perſon be put out or diſſeiſed of any Lands or Tenements in forcible manner, or put out peaceably, and after holden out with ſtrong hand, or after ſuch entry, any feoffment or diſcontinuance in any wiſe thereof be made, to defraud and take away the right of the Poſſeſſor, that the party grieved in this behalf ſhall have Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, or a writ of Treſpaſs againſt ſuch diſſeiſor. And if the party grieved recover by Aſſiſe, or by action of Treſpaſs, and it be found by verdict, or in other manner by due form in the Law, that the party defendant entred with force into the Lands and Tenements, or them after his entry did hold with force, that the plaintiff ſhall recover his treble damages againſt the defendant: And moreover that he make fine and ranſom to the King. And that Mayors, Juſtices, or Juſtice of Peace, Sheriffs and Bayliffs of Cities, Towns, and Boroughs, having Franchiſe, have in the ſaid Cities, Towns and Boroughs, like power to remove ſuch entries, and in other articles aforeſaid, ariſing within the ſame, as the Juſtices of Peace and Sheriffs in Counties and Countreys aforeſaid have.

CAP. X.

Proceſs awarded againſt thoſe which dwelling in foreign Counties be Indicted or Appealed.

The inconveniences enſuing by indicting or appealing of any perſon in one County that is converſant in another.

ITem, Our Lord the King conſidering how divers perſons for their private revenge, and not of right, maliciouſly by ſubtile imagination have cauſed and procured many of his faithful liege people falſly to be indicted, and appealed of ſeveral Treaſons, Felonies and Treſpaſſes, before Juſtices of the Peace, and other Commiſſioners and Juſtices, and other having power to take Indictments or Appeals in divers foreign Counties, Liberties, and Franchiſes of England, in which the ſaid Lieges be not, nor at any time were converſant nor dwelling: By force of which Indictments and Appeals, and the Proceſſes upon them made in the ſaid Counties, Franchiſes and Liberties, the ſaid perſons ſo indicted, have been, and daily be put in Exigent, and after outlawed, and thereupon their goods and chattels, lands and tenements forfeit, and they in great jeopardy of their lives, whereas the ſaid perſons ſo indicted, appealed, or put in Exigent, or outlawed, had never knowledge of ſuch indictments, Appeals, Exigents, or outlawries, which falſhood and malice daily doth abound and increaſe in divers Counties, Liberties and Franchiſes of England, in great hinderance, loſs, and perpetual deſtruction of many of his ſaid faithful and innocent Liege people, and very likely to increaſe hereafter, if convenient remedy be not ordained and provided in this behalf.

Provided always, That the Statute made in the laſt Parliament, of Proceſſes to be made in ſuch caſe before the King in his Bench, ſtand in his force. And moreover, the ſame our Lord the King hath granted by authority aforeſaid, That every perſon indicted or appealed in the form aforeſaid, from henceforth after he be duly acquit by verdict, that he ſhall have a writ and action upon his caſe, againſt every procuror of ſuch indictments or appeals, and like proceſs ſhall be upon and in the ſame writ, as in a writ of treſpaſs done with force and arms. And if ſuch procuror be attainted in this behalf, that the Plaintiff ſhall recover his treble damages.

Provided always, That this Ordinance ſhall not extend to indictments or appeals taken or to be taken within the County of Cheſter.

A man indicted or appealed in the County where he is converſant.

Provided alſo, That if any of the ſaid Lieges, or any of their heirs, be or ſhall be appealed or indicted of Felony or Treaſon, and at the time of the ſame Felony or Treaſon ſuppoſed, he is and was converſant within the County, whereof the indictment or appeal maketh mention, the like proceſs be made againſt ſuch indicted perſon ſo appealed, as hath been uſed always before this time.

CAP. XI.

The Citizens of London may take Apprentices according to their ancient cuſtoms.

The ancient liberty and cuſtom of the Citizens of London touching taking of Apprentices.

ITem, It is ſhewed to our Lord the King by the ſaid Commons for the Mayor and Aldermen and Commons of the City of London, that whereas among other Franchiſes, Liberties and Cuſtoms to them by the ſame our Lord the King and his noble Progenitors granted and confirmed, it is contained, That the manner and form of taking Apprentices within the ſaid City of old time uſed and continued, be kept and obſerved: And where it is alſo there uſed by the Cuſtoms of the ſame City of time out of mind continued and approved in the ſame, that every perſon which was not of villain eſtate or condition, but of free eſtate and condition, might put himſelf, his Son, or Daughter to be Apprentice to any Freeman of the ſame City, to learn his Craft or Myſtery, and that likewiſe every Freeman of the ſaid City may take every ſuch perſon, Son, or Daughter to be his Apprentice, without impeachment, until now of late the ſaid Maior, Aldermen and Commons, be and have been grievouſly vexed and inquieted by colour of an Article of the Statute made at Weſtminſter, the ſeventh year of the Reign of King Henry the fourth, rehearſing by general words, That no man nor woman put their ſon nor daughter to be apprentice within any City or Town of the Realm of England, except that he have Land or Rent to the value of twenty ſhillings by year, and that by teſtimony under the ſeals of the Juſtices of Peace, nor that any ſhall receive a Prentice to the contrary, upon a grievous penalty limited in the ſaid Statute.

The Citizens of London may take apprentices according to their old cuſtom, notwithſtanding the St. of 7 H. 4.17.
St. 11 H.7.11.

Our Lord the King, conſidering the great hinderance which by the ſaid Statute might redound to the inhabitants of the ſaid City, if they ſhould be thereby reſtrained of their ſaid Liberties and Cuſtoms, and how in the beginning of the ſame Statute it is contained, That the ſaid City of London have and enjoy all her Liberties, Franchiſes, and Cuſtoms that be not contrary to the ſaid article, and alſo reſpecting the entire affections, and great kindneſs done and ſhewed to our ſaid Lord the King in all his affairs by the Citizens of the ſaid City of London, and to encourage them the more to ſuch affections and kindneſs hereafter, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, hath ordained by the authority of this Parliament, that the ſaid ancient manner, form, and cuſtom of putting and taking of Apprentices, uſed and continued in the ſaid City of London, be from henceforth kept and obſerved, as long as it ſhall pleaſe our ſaid Lord the King, without being for that impeached, or to incur the pain contained in the ſaid Statute. And moreover, it is ordained, That if any record, or parcel of the ſame writ, return, panel, proceſs or warrant of Atturney, in the Kings Courts of Chancery, Eſchequer, the one Bench or the other, or in his Treaſury, be willingly ſtollen, taken away, withdrawn, or avoided by any Clerk, or by other perſon, becauſe whereof any judgment ſhall be reverſed: that ſuch ſtealer, taker away, withdrawer, or avoider, their procurators, counſellors and abettors, thereof indicted, and by proceſs thereupon made thereof duly convict, by their own confeſſion (or by Inqueſt to be taken of lawful men, whereof the one half ſhall be of the men of any Court of the ſame Courts, and the other half of other) ſhall be judged for Felons, and ſhall incur the pain of felony. And that the Judges of the ſaid Courts, of the one Bench or of the other, have power to hear and determine ſuch defaults before them, and thereof to make due puniſhment as afore is ſaid.

A record exemplified under the great ſeal, and enrolled in the Chancery.

Provided always, That if any ſuch record, proceſs, writ, or warrant of Atturney, panel, or return, or parcel of the ſame, be now, or hereafter ſhall be exemplified in the Kings Chancery under the great ſeal, and ſuch exemplification there of record enrolled without any raſing in the ſame place, in the exemplification, and the enrollment of the ſame, that another time for any errour aſſigned or to be aſſigned in the ſaid record, proceſs, writ, warrant of Atturney, panel or return, in any letter, word, clauſe or matter of the ſame varying, or contrary to the ſaid exemplification and the inrollment, there ſhall be no judgment of the ſaid records and proceſs reverſed nor adnulled.

CAP. XIV.

Riotous perſons committing of felonies, and then fleeing into ſecret places.

St. 2 H. 5. 5.

ITem, For that great and grievous complaint was made to King Henry, late King of England, father to our Lord the King that now is, at his Parliament holden at Leiceſter, the ſecond year of his Reign, by the Commons of his Parliament aforeſaid, of divers murders, man-ſlaughters, robberies, batteries, aſſemblies of people in great number, in manner of inſurrections, and of divers other rebellions and riots: and after ſuch offences the ſaid felons and offenders did flee and withdraw themſelves to divers woods and ſecret places unknown, and elſewhere, to the intent and purpoſe to avoid the execution of the Common Law, & that they might not be brought to anſwer according to the proceſs of the Common Law: whereupon the ſaid late King, conſidering the aforeſaid complaint, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, did ordain and ſtabliſh, at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, That if any after come into the Chancery, and make complaint duly that any ſuch felon or offender, as aforeſaid, hath fled or withdrawn him to any ſuch place or elſewhere, to the intent aforeſaid, upon ſuch complaint a bill ſhall be ſufficiently made for the King: and the Chancellor of England for the time being, after ſuch bill to him delivered, if he may be duly informed, that ſuch bill containeth truth, ſhall have power by his diſcretion to award a Writ of Capias at the ſuit of our Lord the King, directed to the Sheriff of the County or Counties where the ſaid murders, man-ſlaughters, robberies, batteries, and other offences be ſuppoſed by the ſaid bill to be done and committed, returnable in the ſaid Chancery at a certain day. And if the perſons ſpecified in the ſaid Writ be taken by the ſaid Sheriff, or yield themſelves in the ſame Chancery, that then ſuch perſons be put in priſon or to mainpriſe, according to the diſcretion of the Chancellor. And moreover it ſhall be commanded to inquire of ſuch offences, and upon that ſhall be done as the Law requireth. And if the Sheriff return at the day of the Capias returnable, that the perſons in the ſame compriſed, for any of the ſame cauſes aforeſaid, cannot be taken by him, nor the ſame perſons do yield themſelves in the ſaid Chancery; that then the ſaid Chancellor ſhall cauſe to be made a Writ of Proclamation directed to the Sheriff, returnable in the Kings Bench at a certain day, that he make proclamation in two Counties, that the perſons named in the ſaid Writ come at the ſaid day into the foreſaid Bench, there to anſwer to the matter compriſed in the ſaid bill, upon pain to be convict of the matter compriſed within the ſaid bill. And in every ſuch Writ of proclamation ſhall be contained the ſubſtance of the matter compriſed in the ſaid bill. And if they come not at the day of ſuch proclamation returned, then they ſhall be holden and adjudged for convict and attainted as afore is ſaid. And if they come at the proclamation, it ſhall be inquired of them, and done in the manner as afore is ſaid. Provided that the ſuggeſtions of ſuch riots be ſignified to the Chancellor of England by letters ſealed under the ſeals of two Juſtices of the Peace at the leaſt, and the Sheriff of the County where ſuch riots ſhall be, before that ſuch Writ of Capias be granted; In which Writ of Capias, the matter which is compriſed within the ſame bill, ſhall be as well expreſſed as in the Writ of proclamation thereof to be made. And if ſuch a caſe happen in the County Palatine of Lancaſter, or elſewhere in Franchiſes, where there is a Chancellor and a Seal, that then the ſaid Chancellor of England cauſe to be written or ſent by the Kings Writ to the Chancellor of ſuch County or Franchiſe, all the ſuggeſtion in the ſaid bill compriſed, commanding him to make ſuch execution as in the ſaid Article is compriſed. So always that the Kings Writ out of the Chancery of England ſhall not run in ſuch County or Franchiſe otherwiſe then hath been uſed in times paſſed, and that the ſaid Ordinance ſhall ſtand in his force till the end of the next Parliament: Our Lord the King conſidering that divers other murders, man-ſlaughters, robberies, batteries, aſſemblies of people in great number in manner of inſurrections, and divers other rebellions and riots, have been made in divers Counties of the Realm, ſince the making of the ſaid Statute, not puniſhed, becauſe that the ſaid Statute held no force, but until the end of the Parliament then next following, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Statute ſhall now be kept, and firmly holden for a Statute for ever, as well of murders, man-ſlaughters, robberies, batteries, aſſemblies of people in great number in manner of inſurrections, and divers other rebellions and riots made and committed before the beginning of this preſent Parliament, as in time to come.

Riotous perſons commit murders, man-ſlaughters, robberies, and then to flie into ſecret places.

Proceſs awarded againſt the offendors.

The Stat. of 2 H. 5. 9. of thoſe that do commit murder, &c. and after flie into woods, made perpetual.

Provided always, that it be teſtified by two Juſtices of the Peace of the Counties where ſuch riots ſhall be ſuppoſed, that the common fame and voice runneth in the ſame Counties of the ſame riots, before that the Writ of Capias ſhall be awarded. Provided alſo, that if any ſuch caſe happen in the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, or elſewhere in a place enfranchiſed, where there is a Chancellor and a Seal, that then the ſaid Chancellor of ſuch County or place enfranchiſed for the time being, after complaint to him duly made and teſtified by a Juſtice, or the Lieutenant of a Juſtice and Sheriff of ſuch County Palatine or place enfranchiſed, for the time being, in the form aforeſaid, ſhall have like power to award a Capias and a Writ of Proclamation aforeſaid, as the ſaid Chancellor of England hath.

ITem, To eſchew the dolours, grievances, and diſheriſons, which daily do happen to many of the Kings liege people, by the Eſcheators, for that they take Enqueſts, to inquire before them as well by vertue of the Kings writs, as of their offices, favourably and not duly, by people not empanelled nor returned to them by the Sheriffs of the Counties, and more often for their private gain, and for the diſheriſon of the Kings liege people, then for the profit of the ſame our Lord the King, and alſo for that the lands and tenements of many of the Kings liege people be ſeiſed into the Kings hands upon ſuch enqueſts, or let to ferm by the Chancellor or treaſurer, before ſuch enqueſts be returned in the Chancery: Our Lord the King hath ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that no Eſcheator or Commiſſioner take in any wiſe any enqueſt to enquire, but of people returned and impanelled by the Sheriffs in the county, within which he is Eſcheator or Commiſſioner. And if any Eſcheator or Commiſſioner take enqueſts of people which be not impanelled nor returned by the Sheriff as is aforeſaid, and thereof by examination, or otherwiſe at the ſuit of the party, which for himſelf or for the King, or any other perſon that will ſue, be duly convict, for every enqueſt ſo taken, that he incur the pain and forfeiture of xl. li. to be paid, that is to ſay, the one half to the King, and the other half to the party grieved at whoſe ſuit he ſhall be convict. And that no lands nor tenements ſeiſed into the hand of our Lord the King, upon ſuch enqueſts taken before the Eſcheators or Commiſſioners, be not in any wiſe let nor granted to ferm by the Chancellor or Treaſurer of England, or any other the Kings Officer, until the ſame enqueſts and verdicts be fully returned in the Chancery, or in the Eſchequer, but all ſuch lands and tenements ſhall intirely and continually remain in the hands of our Lord the King, until the ſaid enqueſts and verdicts be returned, and by a moneth after the ſame return, if it be not ſo that he or they which feel them grieved by the ſame enqueſts, or putting out of their lands and tenements, come into the Chancery, and proffer them to traverſe the ſaid enqueſts, and then offer to take the ſame lands or tenements to ferm. And if they ſo do, that then the ſame lands or tenements be committed to them, if they ſhew good evidence, proving their traverſe to be true, after the form of the Statute made the xxxvi. year of King Edward 3. after the Conqueſt, to hold until the iſſue taken upon the ſame traverſe be found and diſcuſſed for the King or for the party, finding ſufficient ſurety to purſue the ſaid traverſe with effect, and to render and pay to our Lord the King the yearly value of the lands, whereof the traverſe ſhall be ſo taken, if it be diſcuſſed for the King. And if any Letters Patents of any of the lands or tenements be made to the contrary to any other perſon, or let to ferm within the ſaid moneth, after the ſaid moneth of return, they ſhall be holden for none: And that the Eſcheators or Commiſſioners upon pain of the forfeiture of xx li. to be paid, that is to ſay, the one half to the King, and the other half to the party at whoſe ſuit he ſhall be convict, return the enqueſts before them taken into the Chancery of our Lord the King, or into the Exchequer, within a moneth next after the taking of the ſame, and every man which will ſue for the King ſhall have the ſuit in this behalf. ITem, For as much as great hinderance cometh to the King in his Cuſtoms and Subſidies by them that do clack and force the good Woolls of the Realm, to carry them out of the ſame into ſtrange Countries: It is ordained, that no ſtranger ſhall cauſe to be forced, clacked, nor bearded any manner of Woolls, to carry them out of the Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Woolls, with the double value of the ſame, and of impriſonment of his body. And that no Wooll-packer ſhall make within the Realm but good and due packing: and that no man make any inwinding within the fleece of Woolls at the rolling up of his Woolls, nor put in the ſame locks, pelt-wooll, tar, ſand, earth, glaſs, nor any dirt. And if any do, he that feeleth him grieved ſhall have his action at the Common Law, of treſpaſs and deceit. St. 3 Ed. 4. 1. 23 H. 8. 17.

CAP. XXIII.

No Thrums or woollen Yarn ſhall be carried out of the Realm.

Item, Becauſe the Weavers within this Realm be and heretofore have been accuſtomed, that when they wrought a Cloth neer the end, to cut away for their private profit the threed which is left unwoven, and call the ſame Thrums, and to the great deceit of the owners of the ſame Clothes, they ſell the ſame Thrums to ſuch perſons which carry them into Flanders and other places, though the King have thereof no profit of Cuſtom nor Subſidy: For under the colour of ſuch Thrums, divers perſons, as well ſtrangers as denizens, do ingroſs and gather in divers parts of the ſaid Realm, great quantity of woollen Threed, called woollen Yarn, and the ſame do carry to the ſtrange parts, and thereof make good Clothes, ſo that under this ſubtil colour the King is yearly greatly defrauded of his Cuſtoms and Subſidies, which ought to riſe to him, if they were fully wrought within the ſaid Realm, or elſe if they were not wrought, but in Woolls brought to the Staple of Calice: Wherefore it is ordained, that no man ſhall carry or convey out of the ſaid Realm any manner of Thrums or woollen Yarn, under colour of Thrums, upon pain to forfeit the double value of the ſame. St. 23 H. 6. 3.

Neither Thrums nor woollen Yarn ſhall be carried out of the Realm.

CAP. XXIV.

None ſhall pay Merchants aliens in gold, but in ſilver. Merchandiſe ſhall not be ſold to an Alien, but for preſent payment.

Item, For that Merchants aliens of late have taken in cuſtom, that when they ſell any of their merchandiſes to any perſon within the Realm, they will not demand nor receive for any payment for the ſame any manner of ſilver as they were wont, but onely gold nobles, half nobles, and farthings, which from time to time they do carry out of the Realm into other ſtrange Countries, where they be changed to their increaſe, and forged in other coins, ſo that they gain in the allay of every noble, twenty pence, againſt the tenour of the Statutes thereof made, and to the great prejudice of this whole Realm.

Our Lord the King, willing in this caſe to provide remedy, hath ordained, That no Merchant alien ſhall conſtrain nor bind any of the Kings liege people, by promiſe, covenant, or bond, to make him payment in gold for any manner of debt, which to him may be due, nor refuſe to receive payment in ſilver for any manner of ſuch duty or debt, upon the pain of the double value of the ſame. And alſo to eſchew the great loſſes, which divers perſons of this Realm of England have had, and alſo be likely to have for their loans made of their merchandiſes to Merchants aliens, which have fled with the ſame, and daily take Sanctuaries: It is ordained, that no Engliſhman ſhall ſell within this Realm, or cauſe to be ſold hereafter to any Merchant alien, any manner of merchandiſes, but onely for ready paiment in hand, or elſe in merchandiſes for merchandiſes to be paid and contented in hand, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame.

No man ſhall be compelled to pay gold to a Merchant Alien. St. 4 H. 7. 23.

An Inqueſt ſhall be De medietate linguæ, where an Alien is party.

ITem, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xxviij. year of King Edward the third, amongſt other things in favour and liberty of the Merchants ſtrangers, repairing into the Realm of England, it was ordained, That if a plea or debate be moved before the Mayor of the Staple, amongſt the Merchants or Miniſters of the ſame, and for to try the truth thereof, an enqueſt or proof is to be taken, if the one party and the other be ſtrange, it ſhould be tried by ſtrangers: And if the one party and the other be denizens, it ſhould be tried by denizens: and if the one party be denizen, and the other an alien, the one half ſhould be of denizens, and the other half aliens: And moreover, that in all inqueſts and proofs, which ſhall be taken and made betwixt aliens and denizens, be they Merchants or other, as well before the Mayor of the Staple, as before any other Judges or Miniſters, although our Lord the King be party, the one half of the enqueſt or proof ſhould be of denizens, and the other half of aliens, if there be ſo many aliens in the town or place where ſuch enqueſt or proof is to be taken, that be not parties, nor with the parties in contracts, pleas, or other quarrels, whereof ſuch enqueſts or proofs ought to be taken; and if there be not ſo many aliens, then ſo many aliens ſhall be put in ſuch enqueſts or proof as ſhall be found in the ſame places or towns, which be not parties thereunto, nor with the parties as before is ſaid, and the remnant of denizens, which be good men, and not ſuſpect of the one party nor of the other. Sithence which Ordinance the ſaid Merchants aliens have been always demeaned and ruled, as well in the Staples as in other of the Kings Courts, after the form of the ſaid Ordinance, until now of late they have been thereof reſtrained and impeached by colour of another Statute made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ij. year of King Henry, Father of our Lord the King that now is; by which Statute, for the great miſchiefs, damages, and diſheriſons which daily do happen through the Realm, as well in caſe of the death of a man, as in caſe of freehold and other caſes, by them that paſs in enqueſts in the ſaid caſe, which were common Jurors and other, which had but little or nothing to live upon, but by ſuch enqueſts, and which had nothing to loſe becauſe of their falſe oaths, whereby they do the more lightly offend their conſciences: And for amendment and correction thereof to be had, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that no perſon be admitted to paſs in any enqueſt, upon trial of the death of a man, nor in any enqueſt between party and party in plea real or perſonal, whereof the death and the damages declared do amount to fourty marks, except the ſame perſon have lands or tenements to the yearly value of fourty ſhillings above all charges: becauſe of which reſtraint and impeachment ſo made to divers Merchants aliens, many of the ſame Merchants aliens have withdrawn, and daily do withdraw them, and eſchew to come and be converſant on this ſide the Sea, and likely it is, that all the ſame Merchants aliens will depart out of the ſame Realm of England, if the ſaid laſt Statute be not more plainly declared, and the ſaid Merchants aliens ruled, governed, and demeaned in ſuch enqueſts according to the firſt Ordinance aforeſaid, to the great diminiſhing of the Kings Subſidies, and grievous loſs and damage of all his ſaid Realm of England: Our Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, and how that it was not the meaning of the ſaid late King, nor of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of the ſaid Parliament, to hinder or prejudice the ſaid firſt Ordinance by the ſaid laſt Statute, and that the ſaid laſt Statute was made in reſpect of the miſchiefs and diſheriſons that happened by the falſe Oaths of the common Jurors of the Realm of England, as it appeareth by expreſs words of the ſame Statute, and how that the ſaid Merchants aliens be not common Jurors, nor inhabiting within the ſaid Realm, nor may not purchaſe nor enjoy any lands or tenements in the ſame, without the Kings ſpecial licenſe: and the ſame our Lord the King willing therein to provide for the weal and profit of him and all his Realm, and to eſchew the damages and inconveniences which may eaſily happen in this behalf, and alſo to give to the ſaid Merchants aliens the greater courage and deſire to come with their wares and merchandiſes into this Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, being in this preſent Parliament, hath declared the ſaid laſt Statute made in the time of his Father to be in no wiſe prejudicial to the ſaid Ordinance, nor to extend it ſelf but onely to the enqueſts to be taken betwixt Denizen and Denizen, and not to other enqueſts and proofs aforeſaid: and the ſaid firſt Ordinance to be effectual and ſtand in force, and to be put in due execution according to the form of the ſame, notwithſtanding the ſaid laſt Statute, with that the aliens have no lands or tenements to the value of fourty ſhillings by the year, according to the purport of the ſame laſt Statute and Ordinance.

A confirmation of the Statute of 28 Ed. 3. 13. ordaining that an Enqueſt ſhall be De medietate linguæ, where an alien is party. And the Statute of 2 H. 5. 3. doth duly extend to enqueſts taken between Denizen and Denizen. Raſt. pla. fo. 30. 248.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 9 H. 6. and Anno Domini 1430.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Friday next before the Feaſt of St. Hillary, the ninth year of the Reign of our Lord the King that now is, divers Statutes and Ordinances were made and eſtabliſhed by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons of the Realm aſſembled in the ſaid [illegible]liament, in the form following.

CAP. I.

All Aſſiſes and Niſi prius ſhall be adjourned during this P[illegible]ment, until certain days. Exp.

CAP. II.

Engliſh Merchants may ſell their merchandiſes to Aliens, giving them onely ſix moneths day of payment, notwithſtanding the Statute of 8 H. 6. 24. Exp. 10 H. 7. fo. 7.

CAP. III.

All Indictments, Inquiſitions, Proceſs, Records and Judgments made or given againſt Owen Glendor, attainted of High Treaſon, ſhall ſtand good, notwithſtanding any error, miſpriſion, or defect: But this ſhall not be prejudicial to the heirs of Owen as to any lands intailed. Pr.

CAP. IV.

An Idemptitate nominis maintainable by executors, &c.

ITem, For that before this time many outlawries have been pronounced againſt divers of the Kings liege people, as well before the Statute of additions made at Weſtminſter the firſt year of King Henry the fifth, Father to our Lord the King that now is, as ſithence, in reſpect of which outlawries, the bodies of other perſons having ſuch and like names, as they had which were outlawed in deed, have been taken and impriſoned, and their goods and cattels for this cauſe ſeiſed by the Eſcheators of the King and of his noble Progenitors: And although that by the Common Law of the Realm, a Writ of Idemptitate nominis had been maintainable for the ſame perſon, which in the form aforeſaid was moleſted and grieved; nevertheleſs if any perſon of the ſaid Lieges, having like name, as any other perſon of the ſame liege people, which was outlawed in deed, had made his executors, and died, often it hapned, that by maliſe and ſubtil imaginations the goods and cattels of ſuch Teſtator, which had the ſame name as he had which was outlawed in deed, were ſeiſed and eſcheated to the hands of our Lord the King and of his Progenitors, in retardation of the execution of the teſtament of every ſuch Teſtator, for the doubt which hath been, whether any Executors may by the Common Law have a Writ of Indemptitate nominis or not. Wherefore to take away and remove all ſuch ambiguities and doubts in this caſe hereafter, of the aſſent and advice aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority of this Parliament, That a Writ of Indemptitate nominis be granted and made good and maintainable for the executors of every Teſtator, to the ſame effect that the ſame action of Indemptitate nominis was maintainable before this Parliament for any perſon himſelf which was or might have been moleſted or grieved becauſe or by colour of any ſuch outlawry. And that this Ordinance ſhall have relation and force by authority aforeſaid for the executors of every Teſtator, as well of every outlawry pronounced aga[illegible] any perſon at any time before this Parliament, as of all manner of outlawries to be [illegible]nounced againſt any perſon in time to come. Regiſt. f. 194. V. N. B. f. 162. Fitz. N. B. f. 267.

St. 1 H. 5. 5.

St. 37 Ed. 3. 2. Raſt. pla. fo. 407.

An Indemptitate nominis, maintainable by the executors of a teſtator wrongfully moleſted by colour of any outlawry.

CAP. V.

All men ſhall have free paſſage in Severn with goods, cattels, &c.

ITem, Becauſe the River of Severn is common to all the Kings liege people, to carry and recarry within the ſtream of the ſaid River, to Briſtol, Glouceſter, and Worceſter, and other places joyning to the ſaid River, all manner of merchandiſes and other goods and cattels, as well in trowes and boats, as in flotes commonly called Drags, in every part joyning to the ſaid River: within which River many Welſhmen and other perſons dwelling in divers places joyning to the ſaid River, have now late aſſembled in great number, arrayed in manner of war, and taken ſuch flotes otherwiſe called drags, and them have hewed in pieces, and with force and arms beaten the people, which were in ſuch drags, to the intent that they ſhould hire of the ſaid Welſhmen and other perſons for great ſums of mony, boats and other veſſels for carriage of ſuch merchandiſes, and other goods and cattels, to an evil example & great impoveriſhment of the ſaid liege people, if remedy be not haſtily provided: It is ordained by authority of this Parliament, that the ſaid liege people of the King may have and enjoy their free paſſage in the ſaid River, with flotes, and drags, and all manner of merchandiſes, and other goods and cattels at their will, without diſturbance of any: and if any be diſturbed of his free paſſage in the ſaid River, the party grieved ſhall have his action according to the courſe of the common Law. St. 19 H. 7. 18. 23 H. 8. 12.

A remedy for them which be hindred of their free paſſage with boats or goods upon the River of Severn.

CAP. VI.

The Burgeſſes of Dorcheſter ſhall have their weighing by xij. miles about, &c.

ITem, It is ordained and aſſented, that by force of the Statute made in the laſt Parliament, of weights, according to the ſtandard of the Eſchequer to be had in every City, Borough, and Town within the Realm, the Burgeſſes of the Borough of Dorcheſter ſhall not be diſturbed of their right, to uſe their weighing by xij. miles round about the ſame Borough, uſing always ſuch weights as in the ſaid Statute be expreſſed: and that no right nor title of weighing grow to any by force of the ſame laſt Statute in diſturbance of the right of the ſaid Burgeſſes of the ſaid Borough of Dorcheſter.

By the Statute of 8 H. 6. 5. the Burgeſſes of Dorcheſter ſhall not be diſturbed to uſe their weighing by xij. miles about the ſame.

CAP. VII.

No Sheriff or Under-ſheriff of the County of Hereford ſhall take money by extortion, or do any wrong in his Turn or other place by colour of his Office upon pain of forſeiture of x. li. Exp. St. 11 H. 6. 7.

CAP. VIII.

The weight of a Wey of Cheeſe.

St. 8 H. 6. 5. A Wey of Cheeſe ſhall contain xxxij. cloves.

ITem, Whereas it hath been of old times accuſtomed in all the Counties of England, that all the Cheeſes which ought to be ſold by the Wey ſhould be weighed by the Auncel, and becauſe that at the laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, it was ordained, that the ſaid Auncels in reſpect of the great deceit of the ſame ſhould be deſtroyed, and other weights touching ſhould be in this behalf ordained, and it is ſo, that the poor people of the Realm be greatly deceived by the ſaid weights touching, for that they know not how many pounds the Wey of Cheeſe doth contain, by the ſaid weights touching. And therefore to the intent that the ſaid poor people ſhall not be in this behalf deceived, as they have been ſithence the ſaid laſt Parliament: It is ordained by authority of this Parliament, that the weight of a Wey of Cheeſe may contain xxxij. cloves, that is to ſay, every clove vij l. by the ſaid weights touching.

CAP. IX.

A Commiſſion may be granted by the Chancellor of England for the time being to retain perſons to ſcour and amend the River of Ley, in the Counties of Eſſex, Hertford, and Middleſex. Pr. and Exp. St. 3 H. 6. 5. 13 El. 18.

CAP. X.

A rehearſal and confirmation of the Statute of 3 H. 5. 2. authoriſing certain Abbots and other Religious perſons to make their Atturnies. Exp.

CAP. XI.

Proclamations before a Writ be awarded to the Biſhop to certifie Baſtardy.

ITem, Whereas by a ſupplication delivered in this preſent Parliament by the Commons of the ſame, it was declared by Margaret Dutcheſs of Clarence, Johan Dutcheſs of York, ſiſters, and amongſt other heirs to Edmond Earl of Kent, Richard Duke of York, Richard Earl of Saliſbury, and Alice his wife, Ralph Earl of Weſtmerland, John Lord of Typtoſt, and of Powes, and Joyce his wife, and Henry Gray, couſins, and other of the heirs of the ſaid Edmond late Earl, as in the ſame ſupplication is ſuppoſed, that is to ſay, the ſaid Duke, ſon to Anne daughter of Alianour, another of the ſiſters of the ſaid Edmond. The ſaid Alice daughter to Alianour, another ſiſter of the ſaid Edmond. The ſaid Ralph ſon to Elizabeth, another ſiſter of the ſaid Edmond. The ſaid Joyce daughter to the ſaid Alianour, mother of Anne. And the ſaid Henry Gray, ſon to Johan daughter of the ſame Alianour, that whereas Alianour, wife to James Lord of Audely, pretending, calling, and affirming her ſelf daughter and heir to the ſaid Edmond late Earl of Kent, begotten and born in marriage pretenced, had betwixt him and Conſtance late wife of Thomas Lord Diſpenſer, where by the ſaid ſupplication it is ſuppoſed, that the ſaid Alianour, wife to the ſaid James, is baſtard, and never was any marriage made, had, nor ſolemnized betwixt the ſaid Edmond and Conſtance, but the ſaid Edmond (by the ordinance, will, and agreement of King Henry the Fourth, Grandfather to our Lord the King that now is, after great, notable, and long ambaſſage had and ſent to the Duke of Millain, for a marriage to be had betwixt the ſaid Edmond and Luce, ſiſter to the ſaid Duke of Millain) did take to wife, and openly and ſolemnly married the ſaid Luce at London. The ſaid Conſtance then living and being there preſent, not claiming the ſaid Edmond to her husband, nor any dower of his lands after his deceaſe, which marriage betwixt the ſaid Edmond and Luce ſo had and ſolemnized, continued without any interruption of the ſaid Conſtance or of any other, during the life of the ſaid Edmond, as divers Lords and other credible and notable perſons of the ſaid Realm do well remember. And how after the deceaſe of the ſaid Edmond, the ſaid Luce was endowed of his lands, as his lawful wife, continuing thereof her eſtate peaceably all her life.

A ſecret practiſe to prove one mulier in the Spiritual Court that is a Baſtard.

Neverthele ſs the ſaid Alianour, the wife of James, upon great ſubtilty, proceſs imagined, privy labour, and other means, and coloured ways, to the intent that ſhe ought to be certified mulier by ſome Ordinary, in caſe that Baſtardy ſhould be alledged in her perſon, hath brought (as it is ſaid) in examination before certain Judges in the Spiritual Court, not informed nor having knowledge of the ſaid ſubtilty, imagined proceſs, privy labour, and coloured ways, certain ſuborned proofs and perſons of her aſſent and covine, depoſing for her, that the ſaid Alianour the wife of James, was begotten within marriage had and ſolemnized betwixt the ſaid Edmond and Conſtance. The ſaid Dutcheſſes, the Duke of York, and Earl of Saliſbury, and Alice, Earl of Weſtmerland, John the Lord of Typtoſt, Joyce and Henry, nor any of them thereof warned, nor knowing until long time after the depoſition ſo made, whereof the ſaid ſuppliants do fear them to be grieved and impeached of their inheritance had by the ſaid Edmond, by another ſubtilty and labour in the Temporal Law, to be practiſed and wrought by the ſaid Lord of Audley and Alianour his wife. As if they will commence any action againſt any perſons of their own aſſent and covin, or otherwiſe, will cauſe ſuch perſons of ſuch aſſent and covin to purſue an action againſt them (as it is ſuppoſed that they intend to do.) In which action by the covin and aſſent aforeſaid, Baſtardy ought to be alledged in the perſon of the ſaid Alianour, wife of James, and thereupon by the aſſent and covin an iſſue is to be taken, and a Writ to be ſent to ſome Ordinary (where it pleaſe them, not advertiſed of the ſaid ſubtilty, aſſent, and covin) to certifie if the ſaid Alianour the wife of James be mulier or not, before which Ordinary the ſame Alianour, wife of James, will alledge and prove her ſelf mulier, by the ſaid depoſitions of the ſaid ſuborned witneſſes. And then the party reputed as adverſary againſt the Lord of Audely, and Alianour his wife, in the ſaid action taken or to be taken by aſſent and covin aforeſaid, will alledge no proof nor matter, nor make any defence before the ſaid Ordinary againſt the ſame Lord Audely, and Alianour his wife, but ſuffer the matter before the ſaid Ordinary to proceed according to the meaning of the ſaid Lord of Audely and Alianour his wife. So that it is very likely, that the ſame Ordinary will certifie the ſaid Alianour the wife of James, mulier, which certificate ſo had and made, ought by the Law of England to diſherit the ſaid Dutcheſſes, Duke of York, Earl of Saliſbury, Earl of Weſtmerland, John Lord of Typtoſt, Alice, Joyce, and Henry, and their iſſue for ever, of the whole inheritance aforeſaid: whereupon the premiſſes tenderly conſidered, and to eſchew ſuch ſubtil diſheriſons, as well in the ſaid caſe, as in other caſes like in time to come, by the advice and aſſent of all the Lords Spiritual, and alſo at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority of this Parliament, that if the ſaid Alianour the wife of James be certified mulier in any Court before this time, that no manner certificate heretofore made for the ſaid Alianour wife of James, ſhall in any wiſe put to prejudice, indamage, nor conclude any perſon or perſons but him or his heirs that was party to the plea. And that from henceforth all Juſtices of or in the Courts where any plea is or ſhall be depending, taken, or moved, in which pleas ſo depending, taken, or moved, Baſtardy is or ſhall be alledged againſt any perſon party to the ſame plea, and thereupon an iſſue joyned, which by the Law ought to be certified by the Ordinary, that the Judges or one Judge of or in the Courts, where the ſaid plea is or ſhall be depending, taken, or moved, before the time that any Writ of certificate paſs out of the ſame Court to the Ordinary, to certifie upon the iſſue ſo joyned or to be joyned, ſhall make a remembrance under their Seals or his Seal, at the ſuit of the demandant or tenant, plaintiff, or defendant in the plea, in which the Baſtardy is or ſhall be alledged, reciting the iſſue that is joyned in the ſame plea of Baſtardy, and certifying to the Chancellor of the King of England for the time being, to the intent that thereupon Proclamation be made in the ſaid Chancery by three moneths, once in every moneth, that all perſons pretending any intereſt to object againſt the party which pretendeth himſelf to be mulier, that they ſue to the Ordinary, to whom the Writ of Certificate is or ſhall be directed, to make their allegations and objections againſt the party which pretendeth him to be mulier, as the Law of holy Church requireth: and the ſaid Chancellor having notice of the ſaid remembrance and iſſue joyned, and being required by the ſaid demandant or tenant, plaintiff or defendant having the ſaid remembrance, to make the ſaid Proclamation as afore is ſaid, the ſame Chancellor for the time being ſhall cauſe to be made Proclamation in the form aforeſaid. And the Proclamation ſo made ſhall certifie in the Court where the ſaid plea, in which the Baſtardy is alledged, another time ſhall be depending. And that the Judges of or in the Court, where the ſame plea is, or ſhall be depending, taken, or moved, before any Proclamation ſo to be made in the Chancery, make one time ſuch Proclamation openly in the ſame Court, and alſo another time when the Proclamation ſhall be certified by the Chancellor of England, and made in the form above rehearſed: and then the ſaid Judge ſhall award the ſaid Writ of Certificate to the Ordinary, to certifie upon the iſſue ſo joyned or to be joyned: and if any Writ of Certificate be made or granted, before that all the Proclamations in the form aforeſaid be made and certified, that then the ſaid Writ of Certificate, and the Certificate of the Ordinary thereupon made or to be made, ſhall be void in Law, and of none effect: and if any Writ before this time be directed to any Ordinary, to certifie if the ſaid Alianour, wife of James, be Baſtard or not, and at this time not certified, if it be certified hereafter by vertue of the ſaid Writ, that the ſame Certificate of the ſaid Ordinary ſo made, be void and of none effect. Raſt. pla. fo. 29. 105. 261. 280. 577. 609.

A practiſe to prove one mulier by the Common Law, who is in deed a Baſtard.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 10 Hen. 6. and Anno Domini 1432.

OUr Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xii. day of May, the tenth year of his Reign, to the honour of God, and for the wealth of him and his Realm, and for the tranquillity and eaſe of his people, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, hath cauſed to be enacted and ſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

Recogniſances taken before the Mayor, &c. of Calice, ſhall be effectual in England.

FIrſt, Whereas it is granted to the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple of Calice, by the Charter of the Kings noble Progenitors, and by him confirmed, that they ſhall have power to take and record all recogniſances of debts before them made by any perſon, and therefore great doubts were, if the Recogniſances before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables made beyond the Sea, ſhould be effectual and executory in all points within the Realm of England, as the Recogniſances made before the Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple of Weſtminſter be: Our Lord the King willing in this caſe to take away all ſuch doubts, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that all the recogniſances of debts before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables of Calice, made or to be made by any perſons beyond the Sea, ſhall be as effectual and executory, and of ſuch force in all points within the Realm, and in the ſame form executory, as the ſaid recogniſances made before the ſaid Mayor and Conſtables of the Staple of Weſtminſter, or before any other Mayors or Conſtables of the Staple within the ſaid Realm be.

Recogniſances taken before the Mayor of the Staple of Calice ſhall be effectual within England.

CAP. II.

Certain things required in him which ſhall be a chuſer of the Knights of the Parliament.

A chuſer of the Knights of the Parliament muſt be reſiant within the ſame County, and have freehold. St. 8 H. 6. 7.

ITem, Whereas at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the morrow of St. Matthew the Apoſtle, the viij. year of the King that now is, it was ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that the Knights of all Counties within the Realm of England to be choſen to come to the Parliaments hereafter to be holden, ſhould be choſen in every County by people dwelling and reſiant in the ſame, whereof every one ſhall have freehold to the value of fourty ſhillings by year at the leaſt, above all charges, upon a certain pain contained in the ſame Statute: not making expreſs mention in the ſame, that every man that ſhall be chuſer of any ſuch Knights, ſhall have freehold to the value of fourty ſhillings at the leaſt, above all charges, within the ſame County, where ſuch chuſer with other like ſhall make ſuch election, or elſewhere. And therefore our Lord the King willing to make plain declaration of the ſaid Statute, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained, that the Knights of all Counties within the ſaid Realm to be choſen to come to Parliaments hereafter to be holden, ſhall be choſen in every County by people dwelling and reſiant in the ſame, whereof every man ſhall have freehold to the value of xl s. by the year at the leaſt, above all charges, within the ſame County where any ſuch chuſer will meddle of any ſuch election. St. 1 H. 5. 1.

A Letter of requeſt ſhall be granted by the Keeper of the Privy Seal to any of the Kings Subjects from whom goods be taken by the King of Denmark or any of his ſubjects. Exp.

CAP. IV.

The penalty of him that maketh a falſe entry, That the plaintiff doth offer himſelf in perſon where he doth not.

The penalty of him which maketh a falſe entry, that the plaintiff doth offer himſelf in perſon where he doth not.

ITem, For that divers of the Kings liege people before this time have been outlawed and greatly vexed and diſquieted in divers ſuits, as well before the King in his Bench, as in the Common Bench, in the records of which ſuits the entries have been made, that the plaintiffs in the ſame ſuits, Obtulerunt ſe in propria perſona ſua, where the ſame plaintiffs never appeared to ſuch ſuits, nor had knowledge of the ſame, in great miſchief of the ſaid liege people, if remedy be not provided in this behalf: Our Lord the King willing in this caſe to provide remedy, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority of this preſent Parliament, that no manner Fyliſer, Exigenter, nor any other Officer whatſoever from henceforth ſhall make ſuch entry in any manner ſuit, except that the plaintiff in the ſame ſuit, before that ſuch entry be made, do appear in his proper perſon before ſome of the ſaid Juſtices of the place, where the plea is or ſhall be depending. And there he ſhall be ſworn upon a book, that he is the ſame perſon, in whoſe name the ſaid ſuit is ſued, or that ſome other credible perſon of the Kings Council make ſuch Oath for him. And this Ordinance ſhall endure till the next Parliament. St. 18 H. 6. 9. made perpetual.

CAP. VI.

What proceſs ſhall be awarded upon an Indictment removed into the Kings Bench.

St. 8 H. 6. 10.

ITem, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the eighth year of the King that now is, it was ordained, that upon every indictment or appeal, by the which any of the Kings liege people, dwelling in other foreign and divers Counties then where ſuch indictment or appeal is or ſhall be taken of treaſon, felony, or treſpaſs, to be taken hereafter before Juſtices of Peace, or before any other Juſtice whatſoever, having power to take ſuch indictments or appeals, or other Commiſſioners or Juſtices in any County, Franchiſe, or Liberty of England, before any Exigent awarded upon any indictment or appeal in the form aforeſaid to be taken, that preſently after the firſt Writ of Capias upon every ſuch indictment or appeal awarded & returned, that another Writ of Capias ſhall be awarded, directed to the Sheriff of the County whereof he ẏ is ſo indicted or appealed is or was ſuppoſed to be converſant by the ſame indictment or appeal, returnable before the ſame Juſtices or Commiſſioners, before whom he is indicted or appealed, at a certain day containing the ſpace of three moneths, from the date of the ſame Writ and the return of the ſame, as by the ſame Statute plainly appeareth: by which clauſe of the ſame ſtatute, ẏ is to ſay, returnable before the ſame Juſtices or Commiſſioners, before whom he is indicted or appealed, ſome do think that the Writ of Capias ordained by the ſaid ſtatute, which ſhall be directed to the Sheriff, whereof he that is ſo indicted or appealed, is or was ſuppoſed to be converſant by the ſame indictment or appeal, ſhall be returned before ẏ ſame Juſtices or Commiſſioners, or other, before whom the indictment or appeal was taken, and not elſewhere. And imagining to defraud and make fruſtrate the ſaid ſtatute, do ſue to remove ſuch indictments and appeals out of the hands of the Juſtices or Commiſſioners aforeſaid into the Kings Bench and elſewhere, by Certiorari and otherwiſe, unknown to the party ſo indicted, & thereupon ſue the proceſs uſed at the Common Law, before the making of the ſaid ſtatute in the Kings Bench & elſewhere, after the removing, to the great impoveriſhing & vexation of the Kings faithful ſubjects: wherefore ẏ ſame our Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, by authority aforeſaid, hath ordained that the ſaid Statute be holden and kept, and put in due execution in all points. Joyned to the ſame, that if any ſuch indictments, taken or to be taken before any Juſtices of Peace, or before any other having power to take ſuch indictments or appeals, or other Juſtices or Commiſſioners in any County, Franchiſe, or Liberty of England, ſhall be removed before the King in his Bench or elſewhere, by Certiorari or otherwiſe, then after ſuch removing, before any Exigent awarded upon any ſuch endictment or appeal in the form aforeſaid taken, or to be taken, that preſently after the firſt Writ of Capias upon every ſuch endictment or appeal awarded and returned, that another Writ of Capias be awarded, directed to the Sheriff of the County, whereof he that is ſo endited or appealed, is or was ſuppoſed to be converſant by the ſame endictment or appeal returnable before the King in his Bench at a certain day, containing the ſpace of three moneths or four, from the date of the ſaid laſt Writ of Capias, according to the manner and form that the Juſtices of Peace, and other in the ſaid firſt Statute contained, ought to have done before ſuch removing after the making of the ſaid firſt Statute. And if any ſuch Exigent be hereafter awarded upon any ſuch endictment, or appeal after ſuch removing againſt the form aforeſaid, or any outlawry thereupon pronounced, as well the ſame Exigent ſo awarded as the Outlawry thereupon to be pronounced, and every of them ſhall be holden for none and void, according as in the ſaid firſt Statute is more fully contained.

Proceſs awarded againſt perſons endited or appealed in one County that do dwell in another after the ſame indictment, &c. is removed into the Kings Bench.

CAP. II.

The penalty where a Sheriff is named a diſſeiſor in an Aſſiſe.

ITem, Whereas ſeveral perſons [illegible] often ſue Aſſiſes of Novel diſſeiſin before Juſtices aſſigned againſt divers perſons, [illegible] by craft and colluſion, to have their Writs of their ſaid Aſſiſes directed to the Coroners of the Counties where the tenements be, to make execution of the ſaid Writs, do name in their ſaid Aſſiſes the Sheriff of the ſame County one of the diſſeiſors, where he is not, neither ever was diſſeiſor or tenant of the tenements in demand, whereby oftentimes the ſaid Aſſiſes be awarded by the default of the tenants which have no knowledge of thoſe Aſſiſes, for yͤ they found not any Aſſiſe againſt them in the file of the Sheriff, nor have any ſuſpection of any ſuch Aſſiſe taken againſt the Sheriff and them: Our Lord the King, willing in this caſe to provide remedy, of the aſſent and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained, yͭ in all ſuch Aſſiſes purchaſed, at this time depending, or hereafter to be purchaſed between any perſons whatſoever they be, before any ſuch Juſtices, in which Aſſiſes any ſuch Sheriff is named diſſeiſor, if the tenants in the ſaid Aſſiſes or any of them will averre, that the ſaid Sheriff is not nor ever was diſſeiſor nor tenant of the tenements in demand, but was named diſſeiſor by colluſion, the averment ſhall be received. And if it be found by the ſaid Aſſiſe, that the ſaid Sheriff is not nor ever was diſſeiſor nor tenant of the tenements in demand, but was named diſſeiſor by colluſion, then the ſaid Juſtices ſhall cauſe to be abated and quaſhed the ſaid Writ purchaſed or to be purchaſed in the form abovesaid: And that the plaintiffs or plaintiff be in the grievous mercy of the King.

CAP. III.

An Aſſiſe, &c. maintainable againſt the Pernor of the profits.

St.4 H.4.7.

ITem, Whereas by a Statute made the fourth year of the Reign of King Henry, Grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, amongſt other things it was ordained, that the diſſeiſees ſhall have their actions againſt the diſſeiſors during the lives of the diſſeiſors, ſo that ſuch diſſeiſors thereof take the profits at the times of the ſuit commenced, as in the ſame Statute is contained more at large; the which Statute according to the opinion of many hath been intended in Writs of Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin onely, & as great miſchief it is to the parties demandants in other Writs ſued and grounded upon Novel diſſeiſin, as in Aſſiſe: Wherefore our Lord the King, willing all manner of opinions and doubts in that behalf to ceaſe, hath ordained by the aſſent & authority aforeſaid, that in all manner of Writs grounded upon Novel diſſeiſin, the diſſeiſees ſhall have their recoveries, if they will, by ſuch Writs againſt yͤ diſſeiſors of their feoffees, as well as they ſhall have in Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, ſo that the ſame diſſeiſors or their feoffees, againſt whom the Writ ſhall be brought, thereof take the profits at the time of the Writ purchaſed, notwithſtanding any gifts or feoffments made to other perſons for to delay the demandants. CAP. IV.

The Plaintiffs in attaint ſhall recover their coſts and damages.

ITem, Our Lord the King, by the grievous complaint of his Commons, conſidering the miſchiefs had within the Realm, and yet not remedied, and alſo the great damage and diſheriſon that cometh by the uſual perjury of Jurors, empanelled upon enqueſts, as well in the Courts of our Lord the King, as of other, the which perjury doth abound and encreaſe daily more then it was wont, for the great gifts that ſuch Jurors take of the parties in pleas ſued in the ſaid Courts: wherefore the greater part of people that have to ſue in the ſaid Courts, leave their ſuits for the miſchiefs aforeſaid, and namely in reſpect of the delays that be in the Writs of Attaints: for that in times paſt in Writs of Attaints, when the grand Jury had appeared in Court, and were ready to paſs, one of the tenants or defendants, or of the pety Jurors named in ſuch Writs, ſometime have pleaded falſe and faint pleas, which were not triable by the grand Jury of the attaint, and by that means delayed the taking of ſuch grand Juries until ſuch pleas were tried: and after ſuch pleas tried and found for the plaintiff, another of the Jurors tenants or defendants might plead another ſuch falſe and faint plea after the laſt continuance in the ſame attaints, and ſo every of the defendants, Jurors or tenants, after other might plead ſuch falſe and faint plea, and delay the grand Jury when it was ready to paſs: and though that all ſuch falſe and faint pleas were found againſt them which pleaded, no pain was given them by the Common Law: In regard of which delays, the grand Juries in attaints have been often grievouſly vexed and travelled, and the plaintiffs in ſuch attaints put to ſo great coſts, and thereby impoveriſhed, that they could not proſecute their ſaid ſuits, wherefore the Jurors be the more encouraged to be perjured, and to make their falſe Oaths in ſuch caſes: Our ſaid Lord the King, willing thereof to provide remedy, at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons, and by the aſſent of the Lords abovesaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the parties plaintiffs in all ſuch attaints ſhall recover their damages and coſts againſt all ſuch tenants, Jurors, & defendants, which they have ſuſtained in that behalf, and that this Statute extend as well to Writs of Attaints now hanging, as to Writs of Attaints to be purchaſed hereafter.

CAP. V.

The remedy where a Tenant granteth over his eſtate, taketh the profits, and committeth waſte.

A remedy for him in reverſion where tenant for life or years granteth over his eſtate, taketh the profits and committeth waſte. A proviſo for him that holdeth his term without impeachment of waſte.

ITem, Becauſe that divers people in times paſt have let their lands and tenements to divers perſons, that is to ſay, ſome for term of life or of another mans life, and ſome for term of years, the ſaid tenants have oftentimes let and granted their eſtate, which they had in the ſame lands and tenements, to many perſons, to the intent that they in the reverſion, that is to ſay, their Leſſors, their heirs or their aſſigns, might not have knowledge of their names, and after the ſaid firſt tenants continually occupy the ſaid lands and tenements, and thereof take the profits to their proper uſe, and in the ſaid lands and tenements commit waſte and deſtruction, to the diſheritance of them in the reverſion: It is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that they in the reverſion in ſuch caſe may have and maintain a Writ of Waſte againſt the ſaid tenants for term of life, of anothers life, or for years, and ſo recover againſt them the place waſted, and their treble damages, for the waſte by them done, as they ought to have done for the waſte committed by them before the ſaid grant and leaſe of their eſtate. Provided always, that this Ordinance hold not place, but where the firſt tenants before the leaſe and grant of their ſaid eſtates, in the manner and form abovesaid, were puniſhable of waſte; and alſo where after the ſaid grant and leaſe, the ſaid firſt tenants of the ſaid lands and tenements take the profits at the time of the waſte done to their own proper uſe. And this Ordinance ſhall extend as well to waſte by ſuch tenants done before this Ordinance as after. Fitz. N. B. fo. 59. C.

No ſuit before any Juſtices, &c. ſhall be diſcontinued by a new Commiſſion.

No ſuit before any Juſtices or Commiſſioners ſhall be diſcontinued by a new Commiſſion. St. 1 Ed. 6. 7.

ITem, Our Lord the King conſidering the great loſſes and damages which oftentimes have come, and be likely to come hereafter, as well to himſelf as to many of his lieges, for that where as well divers indictments and ſuits for our Lord the King, as other ſuits between party and party have been taken before divers Juſtices of the Peace, aſſigned by ſeveral Commiſſions of our ſaid Lord the King in divers Counties of England, and divers pleas and proceſſes upon thoſe indictments have often been made, and hanging before the ſame Juſtices not determined, the which pleas and proceſſes have been often diſcontinued by making of new Commiſſions of the Peace in thoſe Counties, to the great loſs of our ſaid Lord the King, and of his ſubjects, in delay of the ſame pleas and ſuits, and of the deliverance of his ſaid ſubjects: And upon that, our Lord the King willing to provide remedy, of the aſſent and authority abovesaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that in all ſuch pleas, ſuits, and proceſſes, in them to be taken and to be made before Juſtices of the Peace in any County of England, the ſaid pleas and proceſſes in ſuch ſuits to be done ſhall not be diſcontinued by ſuch new Commiſſions of the Peace to be made: but thoſe pleas and proceſſes ſhall ſtand in their force. And the Juſtices in the ſame new Commiſſions ſo aſſigned, after that they ſhall have the records of the ſame pleas and proceſſes before them, ſhall have power and authority to continue the ſaid pleas and proceſſes; and the ſame pleas and proceſſes, and all that depend upon them, to hear and finally to determine, as the other Juſtices might and ought to have done, of and in the ſame, if no new Commiſſion had been made.

CAP. VIII.

A confirmation of all Statutes made touching weights and meaſures.

ITem, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the firſt year of King Henry, Father of our Lord the King that now is, it was ordained, that all the Statutes and Ordinances made of meaſures of Corn ſhould be firmly holden and kept, after the effect of the ſame, and that no Purveyors of the King, nor of other, ſhould not after that time forth, buy nor take any Corn or other meaſure, but by eight buſhels ſtriken for the quarter, and that none ſhould be bound otherwiſe to deliver for the quarter but eight buſhels ſtriken for the quarter, as before is ſaid, and alſo that payment ſhall be made preſently for the carriage of the ſame; and that if any Purveyor of our Lord the King, or of other perſon, from that time forward, do buy or purvey any corn otherwiſe or by other meaſure then by viij. buſhels ſtriken for the quarter, as before is ſaid, and of that be attainted, he ſhall have one years impriſonment, and ſhall pay to the King an hundred ſhillings, and to the party that feeleth him grieved an hundred ſhillings, and that as often as any of them ſhall be thereof attainted, and that the party that will ſue ſhall have thereof an Action grounded upon the Caſe. And that the Juſtices of Peace ſhall have power to inquire and to hold plea of all the things aforeſaid, and thereupon to aſſign puniſhment, as well at the ſuit of the King as of the party. And that from the ſame time forward, nothing ſhould be taken for the meaſuring of ſuch Corn in any manner: And notwithſtanding the ſaid Ordinances and Statutes, as well the Bakers and all other Merchants and buyers within the Franchiſe and City of London, as the Kings Purveyors of Corn, and all other Merchants and common buyers of Corn, in many other Cities, Towns, Boroughs, and Counties of England, continually from day to day, do buy and take nine buſhels for the quarter, that is to ſay, the Bakers, buyers, and Merchants within the City and Franchiſes of London, by a veſſel called the Fat, which containeth eight buſhels of Corn, with another buſhel of Corn put to that for a quarter, and make the ſellers of the ſame Corn againſt their will to pay one half-peny for the meaſuring of every quarter, and all the other Purveyors, Buyers, and Merchants of Corn, nine buſhels ſtriken for the quarter, againſt the form of the ſaid Ordinance and Statute, and in contempt of our Lord the King, for that the ſaid Ordinances and Statutes be not proclaimed nor put in execution, nor the ſaid penalties and forfeitures limited by the ſaid Statute, levied according to the effect of the ſame Statute: Our ſaid Lord the King, willing the ſame Statute and Ordinance to be duly holden and kept, by the aſſent and authority abovesaid, hath ordained, that as well the ſaid Statute, as the Statute of weights and meaſures made at the Parliament of our Lord the King that now is, the eight year of his Reign, be proclaimed, as well in the City of London, as in all other Cities, Boroughs, and Counties of England, and put in due execution after the form and effect of the ſame. Joyning to the ſaid Statute, made the ſaid eight year, that in every City, Borough, and Town of the Realm, there ſhall be a common Buſhel ſealed, and according to the Standard of the Exchequer, in the ſame manner and form, and upon the ſame pain, as in the ſame Statute is ſpecified, and a common Ballance to be in every ſuch City, Borough, and Town. And that the Mayor of the ſaid City of London, and all other Mayors of all other Cities and Boroughs of England where there is a Mayor, and all Bailiffs of Cities and Boroughs where there is no Mayor, and all Juſtices of Peace in every County of England for the time being, ſhall have full power to put all the Statutes and Ordinances aforeſaid in due execution, and to hear and determine all the defaults, miſpriſions, offences, and treſpaſſes againſt the form and effect of the ſaid Statutes and Ordinances, done or to be done, or committed, as well at the ſuit of the King, as of the party which in ſuch caſe feeleth himſelf grieved, and of any other of the Kings liege people, which in this behalf will ſue for the King, and that as well by examination of the parties, or any of them, according to the diſcretion of the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and Juſtices of Peace, as by Iſſues to be tried by Inquiſitions duly to be taken, and other Pleas and Proceſſes of the Law of the Land. And that as well the party grieved, as any other liege man of the King, that will ſue for the King, ſhall have the ſuit in that caſe at his will, and that he that is ſo attainted of any default, miſpriſion, offence or treſpaſs done againſt the ſaid Statute, made the ſaid firſt year, ſhall pay to him at whoſe ſuit he is thereof attainted, C s. and his reaſonable coſts of the ſaid ſuit, and to the King another C s. And that as well the Mayor of London for the time being, after that he is choſen Mayor and ſworn within the ſaid City, at his firſt coming to the Exchequer before the Treaſurer of England, and the Barons of the Kings Exchequer, as every of the ſaid other Mayors and Bailiffs in their Oaths to be made for their ſaid Offices, ſhall be charged and ſworn to do, keep and execute all the Statutes aboveſaid. And that all the Mayors and Bailiffs of Cities and Boroughs of the Realm, accomptable in the ſaid Exchequer, do yearly accompt in the ſaid Exchequer of the profits and forfeitures that may or ought to pertain to our Lord the King by the form of yͤ ſaid Statutes: Saving alway to Lords, Cities, and Boroughs, their Liberties and Franchiſes granted to them by our ſaid Lord the King, or any of his Progenitors, not revoked, repealed, or adnulled. CAP. IX.

Of what length and breadth Clothes called Streits ſhall be.

ITem, Whereas in a Statute made the ſeventeenth year of King Richard the ſecond after the Conqueſt, it was ordained, that every man of the Realm might make and ſet to ſale and ſell Clothes, as well Kerſies as other, of ſuch length and breadth as him pleaſed, paying the aulnage, ſubſidy, and other devoirs, that is to ſay, of every piece of Cloth after the rate, notwithſtanding any ſtatute, ordinance, proclamation, reſtraint or defence made to the contrary, & that none ſell or put to ſale any Clothes before they be meaſured by the Kings Aulnage, and enſealed with the Seal thereunto ordained, upon pain contained in the ſtatutes thereof made, and after in the ſtatute made in the ſeventh year of King Henry the fourth, grandfather of our Lord the King that now is, it was alſo ordained, that the Cloth of colour ſhould contain in length eight and twenty yards meaſured by the back, & in breadth ſix quarters and a half, & if the Cloth-makers ſhould make their Clothes of leſs length or breadth, they ſhould be forfeit to the King. through the Realm, that no perſon making ſuch manner of Clothes or Doſins within the Realm, ſhould be ſo hardy to tack and fold together ſuch manner of Clothes, before that the Aulnager hath made his ſearch and ſurveying duly to the ſame Clothes, that they hold their length and breadth, ordained by the ſaid laſt Statute, made the ſaid ſeventh year, as in the ſame Statute is more fully contained. Upon which Statutes made in the time of the ſaid King Henry the Fourth, divers opinions have been holden in the Kings Eſchequer, as the ſame our Lord the King hath conceived by the complaint of the Commons of his Realm: Our Lord the King willing to repreſs ſuch opinions, of the aſſent and authority abovesaid, hath declared, That this word (Cloth) in the ſaid Statutes before rehearſed, ſhall have relation, and ſhall be underſtood of whole Cloth called Broad Clothes and Broad Doſins, and not of other Clothes and pieces of Clothes called Streits, now made, or to be made. And moreover hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that every man may make, ſet to ſale, and ſell all manner of Clothes called Streits, containing in length fourteen yards, and in the breadth one yard, unwatered, or elſe twelve yards watered, without impeachment of any Officer of the Kings, paying to the King the Aulnage, ſubſidies, cuſtoms, and other devoirs, that is to ſay, of every Cloth, and of every piece of Cloth after the rate contained in the ſaid Statutes. And if the makers of the ſaid Clothes called Streits make any Clothes to ſell of leſs length and breadth then next above is declared, that then it ſhall be lawful to the Aulnager to cut off the liſt at the one end of all ſuch ſtreit Clothes, not containing the ſaid length, and the ſame to be ſold for a remnant or a piece, and not for a Cloth. And that no ſuch Clothes be put to ſale until the Aulnager hath meaſured them, made his ſearch, and put to them the Kings Seal thereto ordained, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame. And if any Aulnager enſeal any ſuch Clothes called Streits, not containing the length and breadth of the Streits aboveſaid, and cut not off the liſt of all ſuch Clothes that do not hold the ſaid length and breadth of the Streits, that then the ſaid Aulnager ſhall pay to the King for every piece of Cloth ſo found defective, ſix ſhillings eight pence; except always that all Clothes called Streits, made or to be made, until the day of the Nativity of St. John the Baptiſt next coming, ſhall have licenſe to be ſold and delivered until the Feaſt of Chriſtmas then next enſuing, of whatſoever length or breadth they be. CAP. X.

He ſhall find ſureties, &c. that ſueth to defeat an execution upon a Statute.

ITem, Becauſe divers perſons within this Realm in times paſt often have been taken and arreſted by divers Sheriffs and other Officers of the King, by Writs, as well going out of the Chancery of the King, as of his Progenitors, to have execution of divers Recogniſances made before the Mayors of the Staple, of divers ſums, of which ſums ſuch perſons to whom the duty belonged, had no convenient remedy, other then the ſaid executions; which perſons ſo taken and arreſted for execution of the ſame recogniſances, be oftentimes brought by divers Writs De corpus cum cauſa before the King in his Chancery out of priſons in the which they be ſo kept by force of ſuch executions, and there they do ſue ſhewing forth divers Indentures and other things in defeſance of ſuch recogniſances, deſiring Writs of Scire facias to warn the party or parties, at whoſe ſuit they be taken and arreſted, to anſwer thereunto; And thereupon by ſurety found to the King in the Chancery, have been delivered out of priſon, notwithſtanding their ſaid arreſt for the execution of ſuch recogniſances, as above is ſaid, ne ſurety found to the Recogniſees, to whom they be ſo bound to ſatisfie them of their duties, in caſe that the matters compriſed within the ſaid Writs of Scire facias, be not found nor adjudged for the Recogniſors thereby bound, whereby the ſaid Recogniſees have been ſometime greatly delayed of their execution, and ſometime their execution utterly loſt, and in time to come likely to be loſt, for that no advantage nor avail thereof might come, be, or accrue to the ſaid Recogniſees to whom ſuch perſons be ſo bound by the ſaid ſurety ſo bound to the King, ſeeing the ſame perſon ſo bound, may by the Kings pardon be acquit and diſcharged for ever. Our Lord the King conſidering that the ſaid Recogniſees to whom perſons be bound are oftentimes without remedy, if ſo be that the ſaid Recogniſors would not purſue forth their ſaid Writs of Scire facias, with effect, or otherwiſe, that the matters of their ſaid Writs of Scire facias be found or adjudged againſt them, and thereupon they withdraw them to places priviledged, or eloign them out of the Realm, or elſe they would not appear, ſo that their bodies might be put in execution, to the great hinderance and undoing of ſuch Recogniſees in time to come; and alſo becauſe that the King is inherited of the taking of ſuch ſureties to himſelf by the courſe of the Chancery: The King doth will that from henceforth ſuch ſureties be made as well to the King as to the party.

He ſhall find ſurety to the King and to the party that ſueth to defeat an execution upon a Statute ſtaple. Fitz.N.B.f.105.

CAP. XI.

The puniſhment of thoſe that m[illegible] aſſault upon any that come to the Parliament.

ITem, The King willing to provide for the eaſe and tranquillity of them that come to the Parliaments and Councils of the King by his commandment, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That if any aſſault or affray be made to any Lord, Spiritual or Temporal, Knight of the Shire, Citizen or Burgeſs, come to the Parliament, or to other Council of the King by his commandment, and there being and attending at the Parliament or Council, that then proclamation ſhall be made in the moſt open place in the Town by three ſeveral days, where the aſſault or affray ſhall be made, that the party that made ſuch affray or aſſault, yield himſelf before the King in his Bench, within a quarter of a year after the proclamation made, if it be in the time of the Term, or otherwiſe at the next day in the time of the Term following the ſaid quarter; and if he do not, that he be attainted of the ſaid deed, and pay to the party grieved his double damages, to be taxed by the diſcretion of the Juſtices of the ſame Bench for the time being, or by Inqueſt if it be needful, and make fine and ranſom at the Kings will. And if he come and be found guilty by Inqueſt, by examination, or otherwiſe, of ſuch affray or aſſault, then he ſhall pay to the party ſo grieved his double damages found by the inqueſt, or to be taxed by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices, and make fine and ranſom at the Kings will, as above is ſaid. CAP. XII.

What Wax-Chandlers ſhall take for their work of Wax.

ITem, Our ſaid Lord the King hath conceived by the complaint of the ſaid Commons, that the Wax-Chandlers in divers parts of England, ſell Candles, Images and Figures, and other works of Wax made for offerings, after the rate of a pound of Wax for ii. s. and more, where one pound of Wax is no more worth then vi. d. whereby they gain in every pound of Wax ſo wrought, xviii. d. and more, by which means divers of the people be defrauded of their good intent and devotion, ſuppoſing ſuch Candles, Images, and Figures, and other works to be of reaſonable value, according as they pay for the ſame, where they be of none or little value. And therefore our Lord the King, willing for ſuch deceit to provide remedy convenient, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that no perſon ſhall ſell, nor put to ſale any ſuch Candles, Images, Figures and other works of Wax, at more higher price, but only after the rate of the price of iii. d. more in the weight of a pound over that the common price of a pound of plain Wax is between Merchant and Merchant at the time of ſuch ſale or putting to ſale, upon pain to forfeit ſuch Candles, Images, Figures, and other works of Wax ſo put to ſale, and the value of them that ſhall be ſold againſt the form of this ſtatute, and to make a fine to the King, if they be thereof duly attainted, or that it be found by examination, or due ſearch by weights, or in other manner, that they have ſold or put to ſale any ſuch Candles, Images, Figures, or other works of Wax againſt the form of this ſtatute. And that the Juſtices of Peace in every County where they be Juſtices, ſhall have power to inquire, hear and determine all things done againſt this ſtatute. And that as well every Juſtice of Peace in the County where he is Juſtice, as Mayors and Bailiffs within Cities and Boroughs, Stewards of Lords within the Franchiſes of their Lords, ſhall have power and authority to examine and ſearch as well by weights of ſuch Candles, Images, Figures, and other works of Wax, as in other manner by their diſcretion, all them that any thing ſhall hereafter do againſt this ſtatute, and to puniſh them that by ſuch examination or ſearch ſhall be found guilty in the form abovesaid. Provided that this ſtatute do not extend to Hearſes to be made for Nobles that do die.

A Cuſtomer ſhall diſcharge the Merchant that hath payed his Cuſtom.

ITem, For that our Lord the King by a petition to him delivered in the ſame Parliament, by the Commons of the ſame, for the Merchants of the Realm, hath perceived, that ſeeing the cuſtomers and Controllers in the Kings Ports do not write any warrants in diſc[illegible] of the ſaid Merchants of their merchandiſes by them ſhewed & duly cuſtomed, ſome a[illegible] coming into the Realm, as paſſing out of the ſame, the ſame Cuſtomers and Controllers do imbeſil the Kings cuſtoms, and the Merchants be greatly hindred, becauſe that the warrants might plainly ſhew and declare their due cuſtom, when they be unduly impeached in the Kings Exchequer: The ſame our Lord the King conſidering the ſaid deceits, by the advice, aſſent, and authority abovesaid hath ordained, that the ſaid Cuſtomers and Controllers ſhall write and deliver ſufficient warrants, ſealed with the Seal of their office to that ordained, to the ſaid Merchants and to every of them, for all and every of their merchandiſes every time by them to the Cuſtomers and Controllers duly ſhewed. And that the ſaid Merchants, nor any of them, ſhall any thing pay for the ſaid warrants, but only their due cuſtom. And in caſe that any cuſtomer or Controller in any of the ſaid Ports, do the contrary, that then every Merchant ſo grieved may have an action by vertue of this Ordinance, to purſue againſt every cuſtomer or Controller that doth the contrary, in every Court of Record: And then every cuſtomer or controller ſo attainted ſhall forfeit to the King for every default ten pound, and to the Merchant thereby grieved that will ſue, a hundred ſhillings.

A cuſtomer or controller ſhall make a warant to diſcharge a Merchant that hath paid his cuſtom.

St. 6 R. 2. 5.

The Juſtices of Aſſiſe, &c. for the county of Cumberland ſhall hold their Seſſions at Carlile.

ITem, Whereas by a ſtatute made in the time of King Richard the ſecond, it was ordained that the Juſtices aſſigned and to be aſſigned to take Aſſiſes and deliver gaols, ſhall hold their Seſſions in the principal and chief towns of every County, that is to ſay, where the Shire-Courts of the Counties heretofore were, and hereafter ſhall be holden: Our Lord the King, willing the ſame ſtatute to be obſerved and kept in the County of Cumberland, conſidering that the City of Carlile is the principal and chief City and Town of the ſaid County, and in the which the Shire-Court of the ſame County hath been holden before this time, hath granted and ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that the Seſſion of the Juſtices to take Aſſiſes and to deliver Gaols in the County of Cumberland be holden in time of peace and of truce in the ſaid City of Carlile, and in none other place within the ſame County, as it hath been uſed and accuſtomed of old time.

CAP. IV.

The Juſtices of Peace of Middleſex ſhall keep their Seſſions but twice in the year.

St. 2 H. 5. 4.

ITem, Whereas it was ordained by a ſtatute, that the Juſtices of Peace of all the Counties of England for the time being ſhould ſit and hold their Seſſions four times by year, to inquire and execute all charges contained in their Commiſſion, which they be ſworn to do according to the form of the ſaid ſtatute upon a great pain, as by the ſame ſtatute more fully appeareth: Our Lord the King, conſidering that all the high Courts be ſet and holden in the county of Middleſex, continually during all the four times of the Term, by which time of term the Commons inhabiting in and of the ſame county, muſt attend from time to time to inquire of all the Articles to the ſaid courts belonging, as reaſon and Law requireth, and that preſently after every of the ſaid Terms ended, the ſaid Juſtices of the ſaid County do ſit and hold their ſeſſions in the ſame County, as they ought to do by force of the ſaid ſtatute, more to avoid the ſaid penalty then for any other neceſſary thing there to be inquired, at which Seſſions they cauſe to come before them a great part of the inhabitants and commons of the ſaid Conuty of Middleſex, to inquire of all manner of things as to them is given in charge; And by that means they be charged and vexed throughout all the year, as well out of the time of term, as in time of the term, ſo that they have no reſt nor time to do their husbandry and their labour to get their living in any wiſe, to their utter undoing if if they be not relieved in this behalf: Therefore the ſame our Lord the King willing in this caſe to provide for them a remedy, hath ordained by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons of the realm, that the Juſtices of Peace which now be, and all other hereafter for the time being, in the ſaid County of Middleſex, ſhall be clearly diſcharged of the ſaid penalty by authority of the ſame Parliament from henceforth, the Court of the Kings Bench being ſet in the ſaid County of Middleſex. Provided always, that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County of Middleſex for the time being, keep, obſerve and execute the Court of the Seſſions of the Peace, two times in the year at the leaſt, and more often if need be, for any riot or forcible entry made within the ſame County of Middleſex, and that upon the pain and forfeiture of ſuch ſums as be for that ordained by any Law made before this time, to the end and intent that the ſaid Commons and Inhabitants of the ſaid County of Middleſex be not inforced nor compelled to appear before the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County for the time being, but at ſuch time which ſhall ſeem by the diſcretions of the ſame Juſtices of Peace neceſſary and behooful.

The Juſtices of Peace in Middleſex ſhal keep their Seſſions but twice in the year, ſaving to inquire of riots or forcible entries.

CAP. V.

All merchandiſes ſhipped in Creeks ſhall be forfeited to the King, &c.

ITem, It was ſhewed to our Lord the King, by the Commons of the ſame Parliament, that as well becauſe of undue ſearch made in the Ports and Creeks within the Realm upon divers perſons, which by ſubtil imaginations and means do ſhip woolls & woolfels, and ſeveral other merchandiſes which ought to repair to the ſtaple of Calice, and them carry and convey to divers other parts beyond the Sea, without paying cuſtom, againſt the tenour of the ſtatutes thereof made and ordained, by the which means the Cuſtoms and ſubſidies granted to the King be greatly impaired and decayed; It was ordained by the King and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xi. year of our Lord the King that now is, that none, upon pain of felony, ſhould carry, nor ſhip any ſuch merchandiſes of ẏ Staple in any Creeks within ẏ ſaid Realm againſt the Ordinance aforeſaid: nevertheleſs divers perſons having no fear of the ſaid ſtatute, cuſtomably ſhip as well in the Ports as in the creeks aforeſaid, by undue means, great value of Wools, Woolfels, and of other merchandiſes of the Staple, and them carry into Flanders, Holland, Zealand, Brabant, and Normandy, without paying any cuſtom for the ſame; and moreover divers perſons do ſhip cuſtomably wools, and woolfels, in divers parts of the Realm of England, which be Cocketted and accuſtomed to go to Calice, and come not there, but the ſame Wools and Woolfels carry into other parts aforeſaid, contrary to the ſtatute thereof ordained, by the which untrue means the King is greatly endamaged, and defrauded of his cuſtoms and ſubſidies, and the ſaid Staple within ſhort time in point to be clearly deſtroyed, the Town of Calice impoveriſhed and decayed, and the Realm not encreaſed: Our Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, hath ordained by the ſtatute aforeſaid, that all the wools and woolfels, and all other Merchandiſes which by ſtatute ought to repair to the ſaid Staple, found in any Creeks, ſhipped contrary to the ſaid ſtatute and ordinance, ſhall be forfeit to our Lord the King. And moreover that every perſon whatſoever he be, which at any time ſhall ſhip or cauſe to be ſhipped any manner of wools, woolfels, and other merchandiſes to go to the ſtaple aforeſaid, and come not there, ſhall forfeit as mu[illegible]ds as the wools, woolfels, and other Merchandiſes, by them ſo ſhipped and carried to [illegible] places then to Calice do amount, by extent after the very value, (except the Merchandiſes, which be to be excepted to paſs by the Kings licence to other places.) Reſerved always to the King the whole moity of ſuch forfeitures, which be Cocketted and accuſtomed to go to Calice, and come not there, as afore is ſaid; and to them which find and ſeiſe the Merchandiſes, the other moity, without any diminution or abatement. And if any perſon take any wools, woolfels, or any other merchandiſe of the ſtaple, in any ſuſpicious place adjoyning to the water ſide, in whatſoever place that it be, and no Indenture thereof made betwixt him and the Mayor, Bailiff, or Conſtable of the Town, in the which ſuch Wools, Woolfels, and other merchandiſes of the Staple, be ſo layed, that then the ſame wools, woolfels, and merchandiſes be forfeit; And that the King have one moity of all ſuch forfeitures, and the Lords of the Town where ſuch merchandiſes be ſo layed, and he which them find and ſeiſe, the other moity to be equally divided betwixt them. And every man ſhall have power by authority aforeſaid to make ſearch in every place for ſuch goods of the ſtaple ſo carried or ſhipped or laid to be ſhipped, as afore is ſaid, without impediment or diſturbance of any perſon. St. 11 H. 6. 14.

All Merchandiſes of the Staple ſhipped in Creeks ſhall be forfeited to the King.

Merchandiſes laid in ſecret places by the water ſide to be tranſported.

CAP. VI.

None ſhall diſturb an Alien that bringeth in Victuals to ſell in groſs, or by retail.

ITem, Our Lord the King is informed by the ſaid Commons, how in the ſtatute made the vi. year of King Richard the ſecond, late king of England, it was ordained and accorded, that every forain and alien, being of the Amity of our Lord the King and of the Realm, and coming within the City of London, and other cities, boroughs, and towns within the ſaid Realm of England, as well within franchiſes as without, with fiſh and other victuals whatſoever, there abiding and returning, ſhould be from thenceforth under the ſafeguard and ſpecial protection of our Lord the King, and that it ſhould be lawful to them and to every of them, that they might cut fiſh and victuals aforeſaid by pieces, and to tail and retail them in part, and in whole, or in groſs, as they ſhall think beſt to ſell and make their profit, without impeachment or contradiction of any, notwithſtanding any ſtatutes, charters, ordinances, priviledges, or cuſtoms made or had to the contrary. And thereupon by a ſtatute made the firſt year of King Henry the fourth, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid ſtatute and ordinance, made the ſaid vi. year, ſhould be firmly holden and kept, and duly executed after the form and effect of the ſame, notwithſtanding any Letters Patents of late granted to the Fiſhmongers of the City of London, as in the ſaid ſtatute, made the firſt year, fully appeareth: by the ſupplication of the Commons aforeſaid, hath made, ordained, and ſtabliſhed by authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid ſtatutes ſhall be firmly holden and kept, any other ſtatutes or ordinances made to the contrary notwithſtanding. Joyned to the ſame, that if any man diſturb any forain or alien to ſell their fiſh in groſs or at retail, in part or in whole, contrary to the ſaid ordinances, & thereof be duly attainted at the ſuit of the King or of the party, that then he ſhall forfeit x. li. and he that will ſue for our Lord the King, or for himſelf, ſhall have the one half, and the King the other half, and ſuch ſuit ſhall be taken for any offence committed in the City of London againſt the ſaid ordinance, for him which will ſue for our Lord the King, or for himſelf, in what County that pleaſeth him, of the Counties of Middleſex, Hertford, Eſſex, Kent, Surrey, or in the City of London. The Statutes of 2 H. 5. touching breakers of truce ſuſpended. Exp. Stat. 20 H. 6. 11.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno decimo quinto Henrici ſexti, & Anno Domini 1436.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the one and twentieth day of January, the fifteenth year of the reign of King Henry the ſixth after the Conqueſt, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Commons of the Realm: The ſame our Lord the King hath cauſed to be ordained certain Statutes to the honour of God, and the profit of him and his Realm, in form following.

CAP. I.

Where in a ſuit before the Marſhal, the defendant may plead, that the Paintiff or he are not of the Kings houſe.

FIrſt, becauſe that the Stewards and Marſhals of the Kings houſe, and their deputies, before this time have holden before them pleas of Debt, detinue, and other pleas perſonal moved betwixt people which were not of the ſame houſe, making mention in their records that the plaintiffs and defendants of the ſame pleas were of the ſaid houſe, and do not allow to the parties defendants in the ſame pleas, their challenges and exceptions by them alledged, that they themſelves, or plaintiffs in the ſame ſuits be not of the ſame houſe, againſt the Laws and ſtatutes before this time had and made, whereby divers of the Kings liege people in his Court holden before the ſaid Stewards and Marſhals oftentimes, againſt the Law, be grievouſly vexed and troubled to their great damage and hindrance: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, hath ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that in every ſuit from henceforth againſt the ſaid defendants to be taken, they ſhall not be eſtopped by ſuch record, to ſay that themſelves, or the plaintiffs in the ſame record ſpecified, were not, at the time of the ſaid plea or ſuit thereof commenced, of the Kings houſe, as by the ſame record is ſuppoſed: But the defendants ſhall have their averment to ſay that they themſelves or the ſaid plaintiffs were not of the ſame houſe at the time of ſuch plea or ſuit commenced, The ſaid record or other matter within the ſame contained notwithſtanding.

In a ſuit commenced before the Marſhal of the Kings houſe, the defendant ſhall not be eſtopped to plead that the plaintiff or he are not of the Kings houſe.

CAP. II.

Corn being of ſmall price, viz. Wheat at vj. s. viij. d. and Barly at iij. s. iv. d. the quarter, may be carried forth of the Realm without licence. Alt. 1 Jac.25. 21 Jac.28. & 3 Car.4. St. 20 H.6.6.

CAP. III.

What things be requiſite to make a ſafe conduct effectual.

ITem, Whereas our ſaid Lord the King of late hath granted his letters of ſafe conduct to certain perſons to come and go in and out of the Realms and Seigniories of England, France, and Ireland, with certain number of ſhips charged with their Merchandiſes, and that faith and credit ſhould as well be given to the Copy called Vidimus, ſealed under the ſeales Authentique and approved, as to the original of the ſaid Letters; one John de Guntier one of the perſons aforeſaid, granted and delivered the Vidimus of the ſaid ſafe conduct to ſuch, and to as many as him pleaſeth, ſealed with the Seal of him that calleth himſelf King of France, under the colour of which Vidimus a great Navy of the adverſe part was aſſembled, and did take many ſhips, and the Kings liege people and victual, to the Towns and Fortreſſes of the Adverſaries, to the great damage of the King, and of the liege people aforeſaid, as our ſaid Lord the King, at the grievous complaint to him made by the ſaid Commons in the ſaid Parliament hath perceived. The ſame our Lord the King, conſidering the great inconveniences which might enſue by ſuch and other which do evil uſe his Letters of ſafe conduct, and that under colour of ſuch Vidimus a whole Navy of enemies may be coloured, and daily victual, ſtuffe, and refreſh their party, in great damage of his Realm of England, doth will, and hath commanded by the authority aforeſaid, to the keepers of his great & privy Seal, that they ſhall not ſuffer ſuch clauſe Vidimus to be put in any ſafe conduct from henceforth to be granted, unleſs it ſo be, that ſome great or ſome notable cauſe or matter move the ſame our Lord the King to grant the ſame in ſuch wiſe; and willeth alſo that in all ſafe conducts to be granted from henceforth to any perſon or perſons, the name of them, of the Ships, and of the Maſters, and the number of the Mariners, with the portage of the ſhips, ſhall be expreſſed.

The clauſe vidimus ſhall not be put in a ſafe conduct upon ſome ſpecial cauſe.

CAP. IV.

None ſhall ſue a Subpœna until he find ſurety to ſatisfie the defendant his damages, if he do not verifie his Bill.

ITem, For that divers perſons have before this time been greatly vexed & grieved by writs of Subpœna, purchaſed for matters determinable by the Common Law of this Land, to the great damage of ſuch perſons ſo vexed, in ſubverſion and impediment of the Common Law aforeſaid: Our Lord the King doth command, that the ſtatutes thereof made ſhall be duly obſerved according to the form and effect of the ſame, and that no Writ of Subpœna be granted from henceforth until ſurety be found to ſatisfie the party ſo grieved and vexed for his damages and expences, if ſo be that the matter cannot be made good which is contained in the Bill. St. 17 R.2.6. Co. Inſt. 4 p. 327.

No perſon ſhall ſue forth Subpena until he find ſurety to ſatisfie the defendant his damages and coſts, if he do not verifie his Bill.

CAP. V.

What ſort of perſons may be impanelled upon an Attaint.

ITem, Our Lord the King conſidering that the trial of life and death, of Lands and Tenements, goods and chattels of every perſon of his liege people of this Realm, touching matters in deed by the law of the ſame Realm, remain and ſtand, and daily is very likely to be had and made by the oaths of Enqueſts of twelve men duly ſummoned in his Courts; and alſo that the great perjury which horribly continueth, and daily increaſeth in the common Jurors of the ſaid Realm, is moſt likely to tend to the greateſt miſchief which may fall to the ſaid Realm; and that it is to be ſuppoſed by reaſon, that the more ſufficient that men be of Lands and Tenements, the more unlikely they are to be drawn or moved to perjury by brocage, power, or corruption, and that in every action and writ of attaint, at the leaſt there muſt be xiij. defendants, unleſs that the death of any cauſe the contrary, of which xiij. defendants every perſon by the Law may have a ſeveral plea and anſwer, triable in whatſoever County that him pleaſeth of the ſaid Realm, and every of the ſame xiij.

pleas and anſwers triable out of the County in which the Action and Writ of Attaint is ſued, doth cauſe the delay of the taking of the grand Jury of Attaint, until the time that every of the ſaid forreign ſeveral anſwers be tried: And though that all theſe xiii. ſeveral anſwers and pleas, every one after other, to cauſe more delays be pleaded, tried, and found, againſt theſe xiii. defendants, they themſelves have no prejudice by the ſame, nor the plaintiffs in the ſaid Actions and Writs of Attaint no other advantage, but that the Kings Court then ſhall proceed to the taking of the ſaid grand Jury, which by ſubtilty that daily increaſeth, may cauſe the delay of the plaintiffs in the ſaid actions and writs of Attaint by ten years or more, by common eſtimation: hath ordained by authority aforeſaid, for part of the remedy of ẏ ſaid miſchief, that no Sheriff, Bailiff of franchiſe, nor Coroner in Actions, or Writs of Attaint of plea of Land, of ẏ yearly value of xl.s. or more, nor Action of Attaint of deeds concerning Lands or Tenements of like value or more, nor perſonal, whereof the Judgment of the recovery ſhall extend to the ſum of fourty pounds, or more, ſhall return nor impanel in any inquiſition nor enqueſt any perſons, but ſuch as be inhabiting within his Bailiwick, which have eſtate to their own uſe, or they to whoſe uſe other perſons have eſtate of Fee ſimple, Fee taile, or Freehold, in Lands and Tenements of the yearly value of xx.li. or more in his Bailiwick, out of ancient demean, the five Ports, and the tenure of Gavelkind, nor ſhall return in the Kings Court leſs iſſues in the ſaid Actions of Attaint, then xl. s. at the firſt Writ of Diſtreſs, and C. s. at the ſecond Writ of Diſtreſs, and the double of every other Writ of Diſtreſs againſt the perſons impanelled and returned to be ſworn in the ſame actions. And that no perſon of leſs ſufficiency of Freehold then of the yearly value of xx. li. in the form aforeſaid, ſhall be ſworn in the Kings Court upon any iſſue in the ſaid Actions of Attaint, if he be for the ſame by the plaintiffs in due form challenged. And that alſo as often as any Sheriff, Bailiff of Franchiſe, or Coroner, do contrary to this Ordinance, he ſhall pay, and by this Statute be bound to pay to the King x. li. and to the Plaintiffs in the ſaid Actions and Writs of Attaint for their delay other x. li. And if any of the foreign anſwers and pleas be tried and found againſt any of the ſaid defendants, that then the ſame Judgment againſt the ſame defendants, and for the ſaid plaintiffs, ſhall be given by the Kings Juſtices, and conſideration of his Courts, as by the law ſhould be given againſt the ſame defendants, in caſe that the grand Jury in the ſaid actions and Writs of Attaint upon the points and Articles of the ſame writs had paſſed againſt the ſame defendants, and with the ſaid plaintiffs. And that by the ſame judgments no other of the ſaid defendants, but they againſt whom the aforeſaid forrain anſwers and pleas be found and tryed, ſhall be prejudiced or endamaged. And that this ſtatute touching the office of Sheriff, Bailiff of Franchiſe, and Coroner, in returning of the ſaid perſons of the ſufficiency of Freehold of the yearly value of xx. li. and that no perſon of leſs ſufficiency of Freehold be ſworn in the ſaid actions and writs of Attaint, ſhall not extend to Cities and Boroughs within the ſaid realm, nor to the inhabitants in the ſame.

This ſtatute doth not extend to cities or boroughs.

Provided always, ẏ if in any of the ſaid Counties there be not perſons inhabiting (under the eſtate of a Baron) of poſſeſſion of Lands and Tenements of the yearly value of twenty pound, in the ſame County, in the form aforeſaid, to ſuffice the number to be impanelled and returned into the ſaid Actions and Writs of Attaint, that then the ſheriffs and bailiffs of Franchiſes, and Coroners of the ſame County, ſhall impanel and return in the ſame actions and writs, perſons there inhabiting, of the moſt ſufficient of poſſeſſion of yearly value of lands and tenements within the value of xx. li. in the ſame County, in the form aforeſaid. And that to ſuch perſons the ſaid challenge extend not, that he is not of poſſeſſion of lands and tenements of the yearly value of xx. li. in the ſame County. And that as often as any of the ſame Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or Coroners do contrary to this preſent article, he ſhall pay to the King x. li. and to the plaintiffs x. li. in the form aforeſaid. St.23 H.8.3.

A remedy if there be not ſufficient men in the ſame County which have Lands of the yearly value of xx.li.

CAP. VIII.

No Merchant ſhall ſhip any Merchandiſes of the Staple, but at Wharfs aſſigned, &c.

ITem, our Lord the King to avoid and eſchew the great diſloyalty and damage which daily is done to him, in with-holding the cuſtoms and ſubſidies, and the hindrance to the ſtaple of Calice, in the ſale of Wolls and Woolfels, by ſuch which do ſhip their Wolls and Woolfels in divers ſecret parts and creeks, and other ſuſpect places within this Realm, ſtealing, conveying, and carying the ſame not cuſtomed to divers parts beyond the Sea, and not to Calice, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that hereafter no manner of perſon ſhall ſhip or cauſe to be ſhipped Wolls, Woolfels, nor other Merchandiſes pertaining to the ſtaple, in any place within this Realm, but only at the Keys and Wharfs, being in the Ports aſſigned by the ſtatute, where the Kings weights and his Woolls be ſet. And that every Maſter of ſhips and Veſſels in the which ſuch Woolls and Woolfels, and Merchandiſes be put, ſhall find ſufficient ſurety to the Cuſtomers of the Ports where they do ſhip, to carry the ſaid Woolls and Woolfels to the ſtaple of Calice, and to bring a Certificate from thence that he hath ſo done. Saving always to the Merchants of Jean, Venice, Tuſcain, Lumbardy, Florence, and Cateloine, and to the Burgeſſes of Berwick, the Liberties to them granted by ſtatute heretofore.

No perſon ſhall ſhip any Merchandiſe of the Staple but at the keys aſſigned where the Kings weights be. 14 H.6.2.5. 4 Ed 4.2. St 8 H.6.17.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno decimo octavo Henrici ſexti, & Anno Domini 1439.

OUr Lord King Henry the ſixth after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the morrow after S. Martin in Winter, the twelfth day of November, the eighteenth year of his reign, to the honour of God, and for the weal of him and of his Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, hath made, ordained, and ſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

Letters Patents ſhall bear the date of the Kings warrant delivered into the Chancery.

The Kings Letters Patents ſhall bear date the day of the Kings warrant into the Chancery delivered.

Plow. f. 491. 20 H. 7. f. 8. Dyer f. 133.

FIrſt, Whereas by ſuit made to the King by divers perſons it hath been deſired by their petitions, to have offices, ferms, and other things of the gift and grant of the King by his gracious Letters Patents, thereof to them to be made, deſiring by the ſame petitions the ſame Letters Patents of the King, to bear date at a certain day limited in the ſame, the which day is often long before the Kings grant to them thereupon made, have born the ſame date; by reaſon whereof, divers of the Kings liege people having ſuch Offices, Ferms, and other things of the gift or grant of the King, by his gracious Letters Patents thereof to them long time before duly made, by ſuch ſubtil imagination of ſuch antedates deſired by ſuch petition, of ſuch Offices, Ferms, and other things, often have been put out, amoved and expelled, againſt right, good conſcience, and reaſon: Our ſaid Lord the King, willing to put out ſuch imaginations, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and T[illegible]poral aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, hath ordained by au[illegible] of the ſame Parliament, that of every warrant hereafter ſent by the ſame our Lord the King or his heirs, to the Chancellor of England, for the time being, the day of the delivery of the ſame to the Chancellor ſhall be entred of record in the Chancery. And that the Chancellor do cauſe Letters Patents to be made upon the ſame warrant, bearing date the day of the ſaid delivery in the Chancery, and not before in any wiſe. And if any Letters Patents be from henceforth made to the contrary, they ſhall be void, fruſtrate, and holden for none.

CAP. II.

They which have Gavelkind Lands to the yearly value of twenty pound may be returned in Attaints.

They which have Gavelkind lands to the yearly value of xx. li. may be impanelled upon attaints notwithſtanding the Statute of 15 H. 6. 5.
St. 23 H. 8. 3.

ITem, Where in the Parliament of our Lord the King, holden at Weſtminſter the fifteenth year of his reign, among other Articles it was ordained, that no Sheriff, Bailiff of Franchiſe, nor Coroner, in Action or writs of Attaint, of Plea of Land of the yearly value of xl. s. or more, nor in action of Attaint of Deeds concerning Lands and Tenements, of the yearly value of xl. s. and more, nor in perſonal action, whereof the Judgment of the recovery extends to xl. li. or more, ſhould return or impanel in any inquiſition or enqueſt any perſons, but them that be inhabiting within his Bailiwick, which have eſtate to their uſe, or they to whom other perſons have eſtate of Fee ſimple, Fee tail, or Freehold, in Lands and Tenements of the yearly value of xx. li. or more, within his bailiwick, out of ancient demean, five Ports, and the tenure of Gavelkind: In reſpect of which Ordinance, ſeeing within the County of Kent there be but xxx. or xl. perſons at the moſt, which have any lands or tenements out of the tenure of Gavelkind, becauſe the greater part of the ſaid county or well nigh all, is of the tenure of Gavelkind, which perſons be continually impanelled and returned in the ſaid actions, to the great hindrance and impoveriſhment of the ſame perſons: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, hath granted, ordained and ſtabliſhed by authority aforeſaid, that thoſe men which have eſtate to their uſe, and alſo they to whoſe uſe other men have eſtate of Feeſimple, Feetail, or Freehold in Lands and Tenements, of the yearly value of xx. li. of the tenure of Gavelkind, ſhall be returned and impanelled, in all ſuch attaints as be above recited, which attaints be not now depending, but may depend in time to come, in the ſame manner and form as any other perſon may be returned and impanelled, by force of the ſaid ſtatute made the ſaid xv. year.

The Kings people may carry butter and cheeſe to any place out of the Realm being in amity with the King without licence.

ITem, whereas in the ſtatute made the xxi. year of King Richard the ſecond, at the grievous complaint of his Commons, ſhewing how the Staple was limited to reſt at Calice, and that all manner of Wolls, Wolfels, Leather, Lead, Tin, Cheeſe, Butter, and Hony, going out of the Realm of England, ought to have recourſe to the ſaid place of Calice, and to no place elſewhere: certain perſons by their ſuggeſtions had before that time purchaſed licences to carry out Wolls, and other Merchandiſes aforeſaid to what parts beyond the ſea that pleaſed them, of the Kings amity, to the which their Licences do extend, without coming to the ſaid place of Calice, to the great advantage of the perſons ſo having Licences, and great damage of them which have no Licence: wherefore the ſaid King by authority of his Parliament holden the year aforeſaid, ordained & ſtabliſhed, that the ſaid ſtatute ſhould be holden and obſerved, as to the great Merchandiſes aforeſaid, that is to ſay, Wolls, Wolfels, Tin, and Lead only, without Licence thereof to be granted but by the King himſelf. In reſpect of which ſtatute ſo made, the Chancellor for the time being often hath denied to grant Licences for Cheeſe and Butter, to be carried to any other place, but only to the ſame Calice, to the great damage of the people of this Realm: Our ſaid Lord the King, conſidering that Cheeſe and Butter is a Merchandiſe which cannot be well kept, nor tarry his Merchant, and will be greatly impaired by vermine and worms, and is alſo tender and of ſo ſimple price, that it cannot well bear the coſts of the Staple, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that the Kings liege people may convey and carry out of his Realm, whither it ſhall pleaſe them, of the Kings amity, Cheeſe and Butter, without any Licence to be purſued in any wiſe, paying for the ſame the Cuſtoms and Subſidies thereof due from time to time, any ſtatute made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Provided that the King may reſtrain the ſame when it ſhall pleaſe him. St. 1 & 2 P & M. 5. St. 3 H. 6. 4.

CAP. IV.

No Merchant Alien ſhall ſell any Merchandiſes in England to another Merchant Alien upon pain of forfeiture thereof. The Mayor, Bailiff, or chief Officer of the City, Borough, or Town where any Merchant Alien ſhall repair, ſhall aſſign to every ſuch Alien an Hoſt or Surveyor, who ſhall ſurvey all his buyings and ſellings, and regiſter them in a Book, and certifie them into the Exchequer, and ſhall have two pence in the pound for all Merchandiſe by him bought or ſold: The ſame Alien ſhall ſell all his Merchandiſe for other Merchandiſe or for money, and therewith buy Engliſh Merchandiſe within eight moneths after his arrival, upon pain of forfeiture thereof: The Merchants of Almain ſhall not be compriſed in this Act. CAP. V.

None appointed to be a Collector of a Fiſteen in a City, ſhall be alſo Collector in the ſame County: Except he hath Lands, &c.

Item, Whereas heretofore at the time of every quinzime and diſme, granted to the King or to his Progenitors, the Collectors of the ſame diſmes, within the Cities and Boroughs of his Realm, having Citizens, or Burgeſſes of them coming to the Parliament, have often been deputed and aſſigned of perſons dwelling within the ſame Cities and Boroughs, which and other perſons dwelling in the ſame, have been often now of late made Collectors of the ſame Quinzime and Diſmes granted to the King, as well in the Counties within which the ſame Cities and Boroughs be, as within the ſame Cities and Boroughs, to their great loſs and damage, and likely more to be hereafter if remedy be not provided: The ſame our Lord the King willing againſt ſuch loſs and damage to provide a remedy in this behalf, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that no man dwelling within any City or Borough in the ſaid Realm, of which City or Borough it hath been uſed before this time, and yet is, the names of certain men by the perſons for the ſaid City or Borough coming to the Parliament to be delivered in the Kings Chancery to be Collectors of Diſmes, in the ſame City or Borough, and whereupon the King hath ſent his Letters Patents to the ſame perſons ſo named and delivered in his Chancery to be Collectors of the Diſmes, or parcel of the ſame within the ſaid City or Borough, and the which Collectors have uſed and been bound to accompt of their receit in this behalf immediatly in the Kings Eſchequer, ſhall in any wiſe be deputed nor aſſigned to be Collector of any Quinzime, or any parcel of the ſame, granted or to be granted to the King or his heirs within any County of this Realm, except that he may diſpend in the County out of the ſaid City or Borough in lands or tenements to the value of an hundred ſhillings by the year over the charges and repriſes.

No man dwelling in any city or &c. appointed to be collector for the fifteen there, ſhall be ſo in the ſame County.

CAP. VI.

No lands ſhall be granted by Letters Patents, until the Kings title be found by Inquiſition.

St. 8 H. 6. 16.

Item, Whereas in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the morrow after S. Matthew the Apoſtle, the eighth year of the reign of our Lord the King that now is, among other things it was ordained, that no Lands or Tenements ſeiſed into the Kings hands upon Enqueſts taken before the Eſcheators or Commiſſioners ſhall not be granted nor let in any wiſe to ferm by the Chancellor, or Treaſurer of England, or any other the Kings Officer, until the ſame Enqueſts and Verdicts be fully returned into the Chancery or into the Eſchequer, but all ſuch lands and tenements ſhall wholly and continually remain in the Kings hands, until the ſaid Enqueſts and Verdicts be returned; and by a moneth after the ſame return, if it be not ſo that he or they which feel themſelves grieved by the ſame enqueſts, or put out of their lands or tenements, come into the Chancery, and offer themſelves to traverſe the ſaid Enqueſts, and offer themſelves to take the ſame lands or tenements to ferm. And if they ſo do, that then the ſame lands and tenements ſhall be committed to them if they ſhew good evidences proving their traverſe to be true, according to the form of the ſtatute made the ſix and thirtieth year of Edward the third, to hold until the iſſue taken upon the ſame traverſe be found and diſcuſſed for the King or for the party, finding ſufficient ſurety to purſue the ſaid traverſe with effect, and to yield and pay to the King the yearly value of the lands or tenements, whereof the traverſe ſhall be ſo taken, if it be adjudged for the King. And if any Letters Patents of any lands or tenements be made to any other perſon to the contrary, or let to ferm within the ſaid moneth of the return, they ſhall be void and holden for none. The which good ſtatute and ordinance divers perſons deviſing to ſubvert, and by their ſubtilty to ſerve as for no purpoſe, have ſued to obtain ſuch gifts, and grants, and ferms by the Kings Letters Patents, before any inquiſition or title found for the King of the ſame, pretending ſuch gifts and grants not compriſed nor remedied by the ſaid ſtatute, notwithſtanding that it is in like miſchief of the ſaid ſtatute: Our ſaid Lord the King, conſidering the premiſſes, and willing to provide due remedy in this behalf, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that no Letters Patents ſhall be made to any perſon or perſons of any lands or tenements, before inquiſition of the Kings title in the ſame be found in the Chancery or in his Eſchequer returned, if the Kings title in the ſame be not found of record, nor within the moneth after the

CAP. VII.

In what time an Eſcheator ſhall return an Office found before him.

An Eſcheator ſhall return an office found before him into the Chancery or Eſchequer within a moneth.

ITem, it is ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that in caſe that any Eſcheator take any office before him, and return not the ſame office in the Chancery, or in the Kings Eſchequer in the moneth after the taking of the ſame, he ſhall incur the pain of xl. li. which he hath forfeit by the ſtatute made the eighth year of our ſaid Lord the King; and alſo he ſhall be charged to pay to the ſame our Lord the King as much as he is indamaged in reſpect of not returning of ſuch office. And that the Chancellor of England call to him the Treaſurer of England in letting ſuch ferms, to make due execution of the ſaid ſtatute made the ſaid eighth year. Stat. 8 H.6.16. 1 H.8.8.

CAP. VIII.

What things be requiſite to make the Kings ſafe conduct good.

What things be requiſite to be performed by them which will take advantage of the Kings ſafe conduct.

ITem, Whereas many people of the Commons aforeſaid, owners of ſhips and veſſels of this Realm, and the Maſters and Mariners of ſuch ſhips, taking ſhips and veſſels of Spain and of other parts adverſaries and enemies to our ſaid Lord the King, by the ſuit of Merchants aliens of the Kings amity, made before the King and his Council, and ſometime before the Chancellor of England, have been greatly vexed, and be daily, for that the ſaid takers do take their goods and Merchandiſes charged in the ſaid Ships and veſſels of Spain, and other parts enemies aforſaid, and ſometime by falſe witneſs, marks, and letters teſtimonials contrived, the ſaid aliens be reſtored to the ſaid goods and merchandiſes with their damages and expences, to the great and grievous loſs of the ſaid owners, maſters, and mariners, takers aforeſaid, and diſcouragement to the Kings leige people, to make ſuch ſhips and veſſels, and in hindrance of the Navy of the Realm aforeſaid: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the matter aforeſaid, & how the goods & merchandiſes of the K. liege people in like caſe charged and taken be forfeit to the King, hath ordained & granted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid Merchants aliens at their pleaſure may charge ſuch ſhips and veſſels of Spain and of other parts adverſaries and enemies of the King, if the Maſters, Owners, or Merchants of ſuch veſſels and ſhips, having Letters Patents of the King of his ſafe conduct, ſurety, or ſafegard for ſuch ſhips or veſſels and merchandiſes, making mention of the name of the Ships or veſſels, and of the name of the Maſter of the ſhips and Veſſels, as the manner is: And if any ſuch Ships or veſſels charged with any merchandiſes of ſuch Merchants aforeſaid be taken upon the Sea by the Kings liege people not having the Kings Letters Patents as afore is ſaid, within the board of ſuch ſhips or veſſels, at the day of the taking, nor that ſuch Letters Patents at the day of the taking be in the Kings Chancery enrolled of Record, that then the takers and poſſeſſors of the goods and merchandiſes ſo taken, may enjoy and hold the ſame, any ſtatute or ordinance made to the contrary notwithſtanding. And that this Statute and Ordinance ſhall begin to take his force at the Feaſt of S. Michael next coming. And that Proclamation be thereof made upon the Sea-Coaſts, incontinently after this Ordinance, to the intent that the ſaid Merchants aliens may have knowledge of the ſame Ordinance. CAP. IX.

The warrant of Atturney ſhall be recorded the ſame Term that the Exigent is awarded.

St. 10 H.5.4.

A falſe entry that the plaintiff in a ſuit doth offer himſelf in proper perſon, where he doth not.

The St. of 10 H.6.4. rehearſed and made perpetual.

The penalty of an Atturney that doth not enter of record his warrant the ſame term that the Exigent is awarded.

ITem, Whereas in a ſtatute expired, made the tenth year of the reign of our Lord the King that now is, it was contained, that ſeeing divers of the Kings liege people before that time had been outlawed, vexed, and greatly diſquietd in divers ſuits as well before the King himſelf in his Bench, as in the common Bench, in the Records of which ſuits the entries have been made, that the plaintiffs in the ſame ſuits Obtulerunt ſe in propria perſona ſua, where the ſame plaintiffs in the ſame ſuits did not appear to ſuch ſuits, nor had any knowledge of the ſame, to the great miſchief of the liege people, if remedy ſhould not be provided: Our Lord the King willing in this caſe to provide a remedy, did ordain by authority of the ſame Parliament, holden in the ſame year, That no Filizer, Exigenter, nor any other officer from ẏ ſame time ſhould make any ſuch entry in any ſuch ſuit, except ẏ the ſame plaintiffs in the ſame ſuit, before any ſuch Entry ſhall be made, do appear in his proper perſon before ſome of the Juſtices of the place where the plea was or ſhall be hanging, & they ſhall be ſworn upon a book, that he was the ſame perſon in whoſe name the ſaid ſuit was ſued, or that ſome other credible perſon of of his Council ſhall make ſuch oath for him: And that this ordinance ſhall endure until the next Parliament following. Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering moreover like damages, which happen as well to him as to his poor liege people and ſubjects, for that in the Records of divers and many outlawries, the entry is, that the parties do appear by their Atturnies, where the Atturnies have no warrant of Record, by reaſon whereof the ſaid outlawries be reverſible, and for the moſt part reverſed, hath ordained by authority of this Parliament, that the ſaid ſtatute be affirmed, holden and kept to endure for ever. And that no officer contained in the ſaid ſtatute ſhall do to the contrary of the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of fourty ſhillings to the King every time that he of that ſhall be attainted by due examination made by any of the Juſtices of the ſame place, before whom any Entry or Record is. And that every Atturney which hath not his Warrant entred of Record in all his ſuits, wherein Proceſs of Capias and Exigent be awardable, the ſame Term in the which the Exigent is awarded, or before, and upon that be attainted by like examination, for every time that he ſo offendeth, he ſhall incur the pain aforeſaid. Of what yearly value in lands a Juſtice of Peace ought to be.

St. 1 Ed. 3.16. 18 Ed 3.2. 13 R.2.7. 17 R 2.10.

ITem, Whereas by ſtatutes made in the time of the Kings noble Progenitors, it was ordained, that in every County of England Juſtices ſhould be aſſigned of the moſt worthy of the ſame counties, to keep the Peace, and to do other things, as in the ſame ſtatutes fully is contained; which ſtatutes notwithſtanding, now of late in many counties of England the greateſt number have been deputed and aſſigned, which before this were not wont to be, whereof ſome be of ſmall behaviour, by whom the people will not be governed nor ruled, and ſome for their neceſity do great extortion and oppreſſion upon the people, whereof great inconveniences be likely to riſe daily if the King thereof do not provide remedy: The King willing againſt ſuch inconveniences to provide remedy, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by authority aforeſaid, That no Juſtice of Peace within the Realm of England, in any County, ſhall be aſſigned or deputed, if he have not Lands or Tenements to the value of xx. li. by year; and if any be ordained hereafter to be Juſtices of Peace in any county which hath not lands or Tenements to the value aforeſaid, that he thereof ſhall give knowledge to the Chancellor of England for the time being, which ſhall put another ſufficient in his place; and if he give not the ſaid knowledge (as before) within a moneth after that he hath notice of ſuch Commiſſion, or if he ſit or make any warrant or precept by force of ſuch Commiſſion, he ſhall incur the penalty of xx. li. and nevertheleſs be put out of the Comiſſion as before, and the King ſhall have the one half of the ſaid penalty, and he that will ſue for the King the other half; and he that will ſue for the King and for himſelf, ſhall have an action to demand the ſame penalty by writ of debt at the common law.

No man ſhall be Juſtice of Peace, unleſs he hath lands to the yearly value of xx. li.

Co.Jur.643.

Provided always, that this Ordinance ſhall not extend to Cities, Towns or Boroughs, which be counties incorporate of themſelves, nor to Cities, Towns, or Boroughs, which have Juſtices of Peace of perſons dwelling in the ſame by commiſſion or warrant of the King, or of his progenitors. Provided alſo that if there be not ſufficient perſons having Lands and Tenements to the value aforeſaid, learned in the law, and of good governance, within any ſuch County, that the Chancellor of England for the time being ſhall have power to put other diſcreet perſons learned in the Law in ſuch Commiſſions, though they have not Lands or Tenements to the value aforeſaid, by his diſcretion.

Certain perſons excepted to whom this ſtatute doth not extend.

CAP. XVIII.

How much a Captain ſhall forfeit that doth detain any part of his Soldiers wages.

ITem, for that the King is and hath been well certified of many great deceits and falſities, which have been done to him and to his Realm by ſome of the Captains, which have before this time indented with the King to ſerve him in the feat of War, ſome beyond the ſea, and in divers parts, as they be appointed and bound by their Indentures, and ſome in his Marches on this ſide the Sea, and their wages have been truly paid, and contented by the King, according to their Indentures, for them and for all their retinue, according to their degrees, which wages many of the ſaid Captains have abuſed, and taken upon them to deduce from their Souldiers, of ſome more, and ſome leſs; ſo that, ſuch from whom they have abated have not been able to continue their ſervice, nor perform the ſame as of right and reaſon they ought to have done, and peradventure were willing to have done, if they had been fully paid; which hath cauſed them to fall to robbery and pillage, as well on this ſide the Sea before their going, as beyond the ſea, when they came thither, amongſt other things it hath been a great cauſe of the long continuance of the war, and great damage and loſs which hath faln to the Signiories and Countries of the King in his obeiſance beyond the Sea, and not only that, but loſs alſo of great treaſure which hath been granted to the King, and paid in the form aforeſaid for the defence of his land;

The inconveniences inſuing by captains not paying their ſoldiers.

The forfeit of a captain that doth detain any part of his ſouldiers wages. For what cauſe a Captain may abate his ſoldiers wages and how much.

The King willing againſt ſuch damages and loſſes to provide a remedy in this behalf, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that no Captain which hereafter ſhall have the conduct of ſuch retinues, and ſhall receive the Kings wages for the ſame, ſhall abate of his Soldiers, nor any of them, any part of their wages, except it be for their clothing, that is to ſay, if they ſhall be waged for half a year, ten ſhillings a gown for a Gentleman, and ſix ſhillings eight pence for a yeoman, upon pain of twenty pound for every Spear, and ten pound for a Bow, to the King, from whom he did abate upon the tenour of the ſame. CAP. XIX.

The penalty of a Souldier not going with or departing from his Captain without licence.

ITem, ſeeing divers and many Souldiers before this time, which have taken parcel or half their wages of their Captains, and ſo have muſtred and been entred of record the Kings ſoldiers before his Commiſſioners, for ſuch terms for which their maſters have indented, have ſometime preſently after their muſter, and the receit of part or of the whole of their wages, departed and gone where they would, and have not paſſed the ſea with their ſaid Captains, and ſome paſſed the Sea, and long within their terms departed from their Captains and the Kings ſervice, without apparant Licence to them granted by their ſaid Captains, whereof hath grown ſo great damage to the King and to his Realm, and ſo many inconveniences, which cannot eaſily be expreſſed, as of long time the experience hath ſhewed, and the which ſoldiers ſo doing, as much as in them was, decayed the honour and reverence of the King, and have been many waies great cauſers of the loſſes which have enſued in his Lands and Seigniories beyond the Sea, and the adventure alſo of the perſons of the Lords and Captains which did conduct them:

It is felony for a ſouldier retained to ſerve the King in his wars, which goeth not with, or departeth from his Captain without licence.

St. 7 H. 7. ca. 1.

The ſame King conſidering the premiſſes, and willing againſt ſuch inconveniences and damages to provide a remedy, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that every man ſo muſtring and receiving the Kings wages, which departeth from his Captain within his term, in any manner aforeſaid, except that notorious ſickneſs or impediment, by the viſitation of God, (which may reaſonably be known) ſuffer him not to go, and which he ſhall certifie preſently to his Captain, and ſhall repay his money, ſo that he may provide him for another Souldier in his place, he ſhall be puniſhed as a Felon: And that the Juſtices of Peace ſhall have power to enquire thereof, and to hear and determine the ſame. And likewiſe hath ordained by the ſame authority, that no ſouldier, man of Arms, or Archer, ſo muſtred of Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno viceſimo Henrici ſexti, & Anno Domini 1442.

OUr Lord the King at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the day of the Converſion of S.Paul, the five and twentieth day of Jaunary, the twentieth year of his Reign, to the honour of God, and for the weale of him and of his Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the Commons in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, hath made, ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

All Letters of Safe conducts ſhall be enrolled in the Chancery.

FIrſt, Whereas poor Merchants of the King of this Realm daily be robbed by the Kings enemies upon the Sea, and in divers Rivers and Ports within the ſame Realm, of their Ships, Goods, and Merchandiſes, of great riches, and their bodies taken and impriſoned, with dureſs, and put to great fines and ranſoms, and the Kings poor Subjects dwelling nigh the Sea-coaſt taken out of their own houſes with their Cattels and Infants upon Land, and carried by the ſaid enemies where it pleaſe them: which miſchiefs come by reaſon that the ſaid Merchants be diſcouraged with force and puiſſance of Ships, and of people defenſible to keep the Sea and the coaſts of the ſame, for that the Ships, Goods, and Merchandiſes, by them taken from the ſaid Kings enemies, be ſometimes claimed by the Kings enemies, by colour of ſafe conducts, not duly purchaſed, nor of Record inrolled, ſo that the Kings ſubjects may have notice of them, and ſometime be claimed by Merchants ſtrangers of the Kings amity, to be due to them, by colour of falſe witneſſes of their nation, and by Letters of Marque and Charters partly by them counterfeited, and by ſuch proofs upon ſuch claims, be reſtored to the ſame Goods and Merchandiſes, often taken in ſhips and veſſels belonging to the Kings enemies, and the ſaid Kings ſubjects put to great vexation and loſs of their own goods, whereby the ſaid Kings enemies be greatly inriched, and their Navy ſtrongly encreaſed, and the Navy, and Merchandiſe of the ſaid Realm of our Lord the King greatly diminiſhed, and ſuch damages and inconveniences daily be likely to increaſe and come to the ſaid Realm of our ſaid Lord the King, if ſpeedy remedy in this caſe be not provided:

Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, and that if people of the Kings amity be feared and diſcouraged to freight the ſhips and veſſels of the Kings enemies and adverſaries, their Navy in time to come will be decreaſed, and diminiſhed, and the Navy of the Kings ſubjects and friends increaſed, and enlarged: by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, and at the ſpecial requeſt of the ſaid Commons, to eſchew the miſchiefs aforeſaid, hath ordained by authority of ÿ ſaid Parliament, ÿ all Letters of ſafe conduct to be granted to the Kings enemies and adverſaries, or any other people whatſoever, ſhall be enrolled in the Chancery of our ſaid Lord the King of Record, before that any ſuch letters ſhall be in any wiſe delivered to them to whom the ſame Letters ſhall be granted: and that all ſuch Letters of ſafe conduct hereafter to be granted, not inrolled of Record in the ſaid Chancery, before the delivery to them to be made, in the manner as is ſaid, ſhall be void and of no force nor effect.

All letters of ſafe conducts which be not enrolled in the Chancery before the delivery of them, ſhal be void. St.18 H.6.8.

And moreover, if hereafter any goods or merchandiſes be taken by the ſaid ſubjects of our Lord the King upon the Sea, or the coaſts of the ſame, charged in any ſhip or other Veſſel, which is belonging to the enemies or adverſaries of our Lord the King for the time being, not having ſufficient Letters of ſafe conducts, inrolled in the form aforeſaid, that they which ſo ſhall take the ſame goods and merchandiſes ſhall them enjoy without any reſtitution thereof to be made in any wiſe, to whatſoever perſon the ſame goods and merchandiſes ſo taken, at the time of the taking of the ſame or before, were belonging.

They which will take benefit by the kings ſafe conduct, muſt have it ready inrolled at the time of their apprehenſion.

Provided always, that the ſubjects of our Lord the King, taking ſuch Ships charged with Merchandiſes, not having nor ſhewing ſuch Letters of ſafe conduct within the ſame ſhips at the time of the ſaid taking, and bringing them by force to a certain Port or place within the ſaid Realm, ſhall not be endamaged in their perſon nor goods for ſuch taking, if they be ready to make full reſtitution of the ſame ſhips and merchandiſes, within reaſonable time after that full knowledge is made to them of ſufficient Letters of ſafe conduct for the ſame ſhips and merchandiſes, enrolled in the ſaid Chancery of Record before the taking of them. Provided alſo that this Ordinance ſhall begin to hold his force at the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming.

Though the ſafe conduct be not preſently ſhewed, yet it doth ſuffice if it be after proved to be inrolled.

CAP. IV.

What duties they ſhall pay to the King, which carry Woolls to any other place then to the Staples.

Those denizens which ſhall have the Kings licence to carry wools, &c. to any other place then to the ſtaple, ſhall pay ſuch duties as Merchants aliens do.

ITem, Our ſaid Lord the King hath granted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that every Merchant denizen for Wolls, Wolfels, and Tyn, which ſhall be charged and ſhipped in any Galley, Carack, or other veſſel, to be conveyed and carried by the ſea by the Kings licence, or otherwiſe, to other places and Ports then to the Kings ſtaple, ſhall pay to the King ſuch Cuſtoms and Subſidies, and other duties, as Merchants aliens pay to the King for their merchandiſes. Provided always, that this grant and ordinance ſhall not extend to any perſons which have licences by the Kings Letters Patents to them before this time, to ſhip, carry, or convey any wolls, wolfels, or tyn to other places or ports beyond the ſea then to the ſtaple of Calice, but that they ſhall be of this ordinance clearly diſcharged and excepted.

CAP. V.

No Cuſtomer, &c. ſhall have a Ship of his own, uſe Merchandiſe, keep a Wharf, or Inne, or be a Factor.

St. 11 H.4.2.

The cauſe why a common Hoſtler ſhall not be a Cuſtomer, Controller, or Searcher.

ITem, Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the xi. year of the reign of King Henry the fourth, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that no man that had a common hoſtry in any City or Borough of this Realm, ſhall be cuſtomer, controller, nor ſearcher, and that to eſchew the damages and prejudices which thereof may grow by the favour that ſuch common Hoſtlers may and will make to Merchants, and to other their gueſts in their offices: and now of late divers Cuſtomers, controllers, and alſo ſearchers, controllers, and ſurveyors of ſearches, have divers perſons to be their clerks, deputies, and miniſters in their ſaid offices; of which clerks, deputies, and miniſters, ſome have ſhips of their own, and ſome of them meddle with the fraighting of ſhips, and alſo buy and ſell divers Merchandiſes, and thereof occupy to their own uſe divers wharfs and keys, being by the waters ſide, where common diſcharge of divers merchandiſes is had in divers Ports of this Realm, by the which as well great deceit and damages daily do grow to the King of his Cuſtoms and Subſidies, as a great loſs to Merchants repairing to the Ports where the ſaid clerks, deputies, and miniſters be: Alſo many hold Hoſteries and Taverns, and alſo keep wharfs, and they and their ſervants be factors and atturnies for Merchants, denizens, and aliens, by which great damage and loſs daily doth grow to the King in his cuſtoms and ſubſidies, by favour that ſuch clerks, deputies, and miniſters, holding ſuch hoſteries, taverns and wharfs, do to Merchants and to other their gueſts in the ſaid offices: And greater damage is like thereof to grow in time to come, if ſpeedy remedy be not provided: Our ſaid Lord the King, willing againſt ſuch damages and loſſes to provide a remedy in this behalf, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority aforeſaid, that no cuſtomer, controller of the cuſtom, clerks, deputies, miniſters, nor their ſervants, factors nor ſearchers, controllers or ſurveyors of ſearches, nor their clerks, deputies, miniſters or factors ſhall have any ſhips of their own, or ſhall buy or ſell by way or by colour of Merchandiſe, nor they ſhall not meddle with fraighting of ſhips, or have or occupy any ſuch wharfs or Keys, or ſhall hold any hoſtereis or taverns, or ſhall be any factors or atturnies for any Merchant, denizen or alien, nor ſhall be hoſt to any Merchant alien, upon the pain of xl. li. to be forfeit as often as they do the contrary, that is to ſay, the one half to the King, and the other half to him that will ſue in this caſe againſt any ſuch perſon doing the contrary; this Ordinance to begin at the Feaſt of Saint Michael next coming.

No Cuſtomer, Controller, &c. ſhall have any ſhip of his own, uſe Merchandiſe, keep a Wharf, an Inne, or be a Factor to another.

At the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xxv. day of February, the xxiii. year of the Reign of King Henry the ſixth after the Conqueſt; The ſame our Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons being in the ſaid Parliament, by the Authority of the ſame Parliament, made to be ordained and ſtabliſhed divers Ordinances and Statutes in the manner and form following.

CAP. I.

The name of Purveyors turned into Buyers.

Firſt, Whereas in the Parliament holden the xxxvi. year of King Edward the third, for the grievous complaints made againſt Purveyors of victuals, it was ordained and ſtabliſhed, that no man of the Realm ſhould have any takings but only the King and the Queen his companion: and that upon ſuch purveyance to be made for the houſes of the King and the Queen, ready payment ſhould be made in hand, that is to ſay, the price for which ſuch victuals ſhould be commonly in Markets near about: and that the hainous name of Purveyors ſhould be changed, and named Buyers: and if the Buyers cannot well agree with the ſeller, for that which ſhall be needful, then the prices that ſhall be made for the ſaid two houſes, ſhall be made by the view, witneſſing and appraiſment of the Lords, or their Bailiffs, and Conſtables, and four good men of every Town, and that by Indenture to be made betwixt the buyers and the ſaid Lords or Bailiffs, Conſtables, or four men, containing the quantity of the thing by them taken, and the price: and of what perſons, and that the prices ſhall be made in a convenient and eaſie manner, without dureſs, menace, rebuke, or otherwiſe: and that the prices and buyings ſhall be made in places where there is greateſt plenty, and that in convenient time: and that there be no more taken then ſhall need for the ſeaſon for the ſaid two houſes: And that the number of the ſaid buyers ſhall be abated, in as much as a man may well: and ẏ ſuch be buyers which ſhall be ſufficient to anſwer to the King and to his people, and that none of them ſhall have a deputy: and that the Commiſſions ſhall be ſealed with the great Seal, and every half year returned into the Chancery, and other to be made of new: and that in the ſaid Commiſſions ſhall be compriſed all the manner and matter of their prices and buyings: and that no man ſhall be bound to obey the buyers of other Lords againſt their will, nor to the buyers of the ſaid houſes, if they make not ready payment in hand, as afore is ſaid, and that no man ſhall be charged for a contempt becauſe of diſobedience done in this behalf: and that the prices of all manner of Corn and Malt, for the ſaid two houſes, ſhall be meaſured by the meaſure according to the Standard ſtriken and not heaped: and for the carriage of the Corn and Malt, and for all other manner of prices and buyings to be made for theſe two houſes, ready payment ſhall be made in hand in the ſame manner as for the prices and buyings aforeſaid: and that no more carriage be taken then ſhall be needful in this behalf: and if any buyer make any prices and buyings, or be taker of carriage in any other manner then is compriſed in their Commiſſions, they ſhall have puniſhment of life and of member, as is ordained of Purveyors.

CAP. II.

In what caſe the Kings Purveyors may be reſiſted.

No Purveyor ſhall take or forbear for favour or malice.
A Taker ſhall make a particular account of each thing taken.

ITem, That no buyer of victual, or taker of Carriage, ſhall take or receive of any man any gift or other pleaſure, to ſhew any favour, or ſhall charge or grieve any man in reſpect of ſuch takings, buyings and carriages, for hatred, envy, evil will, or procurement: and if he do, and thereof be attainted at the ſuit of the party, he ſhall yield to the party his treble damages, and ſhall have impriſonment of two years, and ſhall be ranſomed at the Kings will, and after ſhall forſwear the Court: And if the party will not ſue, he that will ſue for the King ſhall have the third peny of that which ſhall be recovered for his labour, and nevertheleſs the buyer and taker ſhall have the puniſhment as afore is ſaid in the ſame Article: And that every buyer upon his account ſhall cauſe to be declared, and ſeverally diſtinguiſhed the takings and buyings of every County, Town or perſon. Our ſaid Lord the King that now is, conſidering the premiſes, hath ordained and commanded by authority of this ſaid Parliament, that the ſaid Statutes from henceforth ſhall be duly kept and put in execution; and alſo hath ordained by the ſame authority, that every Purveyor and buyer before they ſhall have any Commiſſion, ſhall be ſworn in the Chancery, that he ſhall take nothing of the people contrary to the ſaid Ordinances.

The gathering of Head-pence by the Sheriff of Northumberland ſhall ceaſe.

Item, Whereas the poor Commons and the Kings faithful liege people of his County of Northumberland have been of long time oppreſſed and ſurcharged by the Sheriffs of the ſaid County for the time being, levying or cauſing to be levied of their goods and cattels, to the ſum of xl. li. and more, called headpence, two times in ſeven years, that is to ſay, every third year, and every fourth year, to their own avail, without any account, profit or advantage to the King, and without any lawful cauſe or ground, but of their great extortion, which cauſeth divers men to labour and expend great goods to be Sheriff, when the ſaid years come, to the great oppreſſion of the ſaid Commons: Our Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, hath ordained and granted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid gathering of the ſaid headpence ſhall be clearly put out for ever, any uſe or cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding, upon pain of an C. li. to be paid, the one half of the ſame to the King, and the other half to the party which will ſue for the forfeiture againſt the Sheriff. This Ordinance to begin at the Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord M. CCCC. xlvi.

The gathering of headpence by the Sheriff of Northumberland ſhall ceaſe.

CAP. VIII.

No man ſhall be Sheriff, Underſheriff, &c. above a year.

Item, Whereas King Edward the third, for divers and ſpecial cauſes, in his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Wedneſday next after Midlent, the xiv. year of his Reign, for that ſeveral Sheriffs in divers Counties in England then being, had their offices ſome for term of years of the Kings grant, and ſome truſting of longer continuance in their offices, by procurement, &c. were greatly encouraged, and did take upon them to do many and divers oppreſſions to the Kings liege people, unduly, and evil and falſly to ſerve the King and his people, did ordain and eſtabliſh that no Sheriff ſhould tarry and abide in his office above a year, and that then another meet and ſufficient man ſhould be aſſigned in his place by the Chancellor and Treaſurer of England, and the chief Baron of the Eſchequer, and other, every year in the morrow of All-Souls, as it appeareth in the ſaid Statute: and after the ſaid Statute ſo made, by another Statute made at Weſtminſter in the Parliament of the ſaid King, holden the firſt day of May, the xlii. year of his Reign, he ordained and made, that no Sheriff nor Underſheriff, nor Sheriffs Clerk, ſhould tarry and abide in his office over one year, as it is ordained by other Statutes before this time, as it appeareth more plainly by the ſaid Statute of the ſame xlii. year: and moreover by another Statute made at Weſtminſter, the xv. of S. Michael, the firſt year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond, it was ordained and made, that no man which hath been Sheriff of any County by one whole year, ſhall be another time choſen nor put in the ſaid office within three years next enſuing, except that there be not other ſufficient within the ſaid County, as it appeareth more plainly by the ſaid Statute of K. Richard: And whereas in divers Counties in England after the making of the ſaid Statutes, many and ſeveral Sheriffs have been made, and have occupied within the ſaid Counties, ſome ten years, and ſome twelve years and more, to the great damage of the King that now is, his progenitors, and their people within the ſaid Counties, contrary to the ſaid Statutes, and all other good rule, and very like in time to come to be to their importable damage, and open diſheriſon, and upholding of manſlaughter, perjury, and great oppreſſion to many of the Kings liege people, conſidering the great conſanguinity, alliance and familiars of the Sheriff, as well of them as have been before this time, as of them which now be in the ſaid Counties: Our ſaid Lord the King, conſidering the premiſes, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that the Statutes before recited, and every of them, ſhall be duly obſerved in every County of England. (The Underſheriffs and all other officers within the City of London, which now be or ſhall be, at all times excepted; And ſuch Counties only, except in which divers of the Kings liege people be inheritable to the office of Sheriffs at this day, and alſo ſuch perſons as have eſtate of freehold in the office of Sheriffs at this day, and except the Letters Patents made to them of the office of Sheriffs, and their Underſheriff and Clerks.) And if any Sheriff or Underſheriff, or Sheriffs Clerk, occupy the office of Sheriff, Underſheriff, or Sheriffs Clerk, contrary to any of the Statutes afore recited, or againſt the effect or intent of any of them (except before excepted) that then he which doth ſo occupy, ſhall forfeit the ſum of CC. li. yearly as long as he occupieth contrary to the effect of the ſaid Statutes. And that every pardon hereafter to be made for ſuch offence or occupation, or forfeiture of ſums before recited, ſhall be void and not available, and all Patents made or to be made of any of the ſaid offices for term of years, for term of life, or in fee ſimple, or in fee tail, to any of the Kings liege people (except before excepted) ſhall be void and of no value by the ſame authority, any clauſe or word of Non obſtante in any wiſe put or to be put in ſuch patents to be made notwithſtanding. And moreover, whoſoever will take upon him or them to have or occupy the ſaid office of Sheriff, by vertue of ſuch Grants or Patents now to be made for term of years, for term of life, fee ſimple, or fee tail, ſhall ſtand for ever and at all times diſabled to be or bear the office of Sheriff within any County in England by the ſame authority. Item, The King conſidering the great perjury, extortion and oppreſſion which be and have been in this Realm by his Sheriffs, Underſhetiffs and their Clerks, Coroners, Stewards of Franchiſes, bailiffs and keepers of priſons, and other officers in divers Counties of this Realm, hath ordained by authority aforeſaid, in eſchewing of all ſuch extortion, perjury and oppreſſion, that no Sheriff ſhall let to ferm in any manner his County, nor any of his Bailiwicks, Hundreds or Wapentakes; nor that the ſaid Sheriffs, Underſheriffs, Bailiffs of Franchiſes, nor any other Bailiff, ſhall return upon any writ or precept to them directed to be returned, any inqueſts in any panel thereupon to be made, any Bailiffs, Officers, or ſervants to any of the Officers aforeſaid, in any panel by them ſo to be made; nor that any of the ſaid Officers and Miniſters, by occaſion or under colour of their Office, ſhall take any other thing by them, nor by any other perſon to their uſe, profit, or avail, of any perſon by them or any of them to be arreſted or attached, nor of any other of them, for ỹ omitting of any arreſt or attachment to be made by their body, or of any perſon by them or any of them by force or colour of their office arreſted or attached for fine, fee, ſuit of priſon, mainpriſe, letting to bail, or ſhewing any eaſe or favour to any ſuch perſon ſo arreſted or to be arreſted for their reward or profit, but ſuch as follow; that is to ſay, For the Sheriff xx. d. the Bailiff which maketh the arreſt or attachment four pence, and the Gaoler, if the priſoner be committed to his Ward, four pence. And that the Sheriff, Underſheriff, Sheriffs Clerk, Steward, or Bailiff of Franchiſe, ſervant or Bailiff, or Coroner ſhall not take any thing by colour of his office, by him nor by any other perſon to his uſe, of any perſon for the making of any return or panel, and for the copy of any panel, but iv. d. And that the ſaid Sheriffs and all other Officers and Miniſters aforeſaid, ſhall let out of priſon all manner of perſons by them or any of them arreſted, or being in their cuſtody by force of any writ, bill, or warrant, in an action perſonal, or by cauſe of indictment by treſpaſs, upon reaſonable ſureties of ſufficient perſons, having ſufficient within the Counties where ſuch perſons be ſo let to bail or mainpriſe, to keep their days in ſuch places as the ſaid writs, bills or warrants ſhall require. (Such perſon or perſons which be or ſhall be in their Ward by condemnation, execution, Capias utlagatum or excommunicatum, ſurety of the peace, and all ſuch perſons, which be or ſhall be committed to ward by ſpecial commandment of any Juſtices, and vagabonds refuſing to ſerve according to the form of the Statute of Labourers only except.) And that no Sheriff, nor any of his Officers or Miniſters aforeſaid, ſhall take or cauſe to be taken, or make any obligation for any cauſe aforeſaid, or by colour of their Office, but only to themſelves, of any perſon, nor by any perſon which ſhall be in their Ward by the courſe of the Law, but by the name of their Office, and upon condition written, that the ſaid priſoners ſhall appear at the day contained in the ſaid writ, bill, or warrant, and in ſuch places, as the ſaid writs, bills, or warrants ſhall require. And if any of the ſaid Sheriffs or other Officers or Miniſters aforeſaid take any obligation in other form by colour of their Offices, that it ſhall be void. And that he ſhall take no more for the making of any ſuch obligation, warrant, or precept by them to be made, but four pence. And alſo that every of the ſaid Sheriffs ſhall make yearly a deputy in the Kings Courts of his Chancery, the Kings Bench, the Common Place, and in the Eſchequer of Record, before that they ſhall return any writs, to receive all manner of writs and warrants to be delivered to them: And that all Sheriffs, Underſheriffs, Clerks, Bailiffs, Gaolers, Coroners, Stewards, Bailiffs of Franchiſes, or any other officers or miniſters which do contrary to this Ordinance in any point of the ſame, ſhall loſe to the party in this behalf indamaged or grieved, his treble damages, and ſhall forfeit the ſum of xl. li. at every time that they or any of them do the contrary thereof in any point of the ſame; whereof the King ſhall have the one half to be imployed to the uſe of his houſe, and not otherwiſe, and the party that will ſue the other half. And that the Juſtices of Aſſiſes in their Seſſions, Juſtices of the one Bench and of the other, and Juſtices of Peace in their County ſhall have power to enquire, hear and determine of office without ſpecial Commiſſion, of and upon all them that do contrary to theſe Ordinances in any article or point of the ſame. And if the ſaid Sheriffs return upon any perſon, Cepi corpus, or Reddidit ſe; that they ſhall be chargeable to have the bodies of the ſaid perſons at the days of the returns of the ſaid writs, bills, or warrants, in ſuch form as they were before the making of this Act.

CAP. XI.

The order of levying the wages of the Knights of the Parliament.

The order of the levying of the wages of the Knights of the Shire for the Parliament.

Item, Whereas before this time divers Sheriffs in divers Counties of England, by colour of writs to them directed, to levy the wages of the Knights of the Shires for the time being, of the Parliament of the King that now is, and of his noble progenitors, have levied more money then hath been due to the ſaid Knights, and more then they have delivered, keeping and retaining great part of the money to their own uſe & profit, to their officers and ſervants, to the great loſs of the common people of the ſaid Counties: The King conſidering the premiſes, hath ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That the Sheriff of every County for the time being, in the next County Court holden in their Counties, after the delivery of the ſaid writs directed to them, ſhall make open proclamation, that the Coroners and every chief Conſtable of the Peace of the ſaid Counties, and the Bailiffs of every Hundred or Wapentake of the ſame County, and alſo other which will be at the aſſeſſing of the wages of the Knights of the Shires, ſhall be at the next County there to be holden to aſſeſs the ſaid wages of the ſaid Knights. And that the Sheriff, Underſheriff, Coroners, or Bailiffs for the time being, be there at the ſame time in their proper perſon, upon pain of forfeiture to the King of every of them that maketh default, fourty ſhillings. At which time the ſaid Sheriff or Underſheriff in the preſence of them that ſhall come to the ſame, and of the ſuitors of the ſame Counties then being there in the full County, well and duly ſhall aſſeſs every Hundred to that aſſeſſable by it ſelf, to pay a certain ſum for the wages of the Knights of the Shire, ſo that the whole ſum of all the Hundreds do not exceed the ſum which ſhall be due to the ſaid Knights. And after that in the ſame County they ſhall aſſeſs, well and lawfully, every Village within the ſaid Hundreds, which ſhould be there aſſeſſable to a certain ſum for the payment of the ſaid wages; ſo that the whole ſum of all the Towns within any of the ſaid Hundreds do not exceed the ſum aſſeſſed upon the Hundred of which they be. And that the ſaid Sheriffs, Underſheriffs, Bailiffs, nor any other officer, for the cauſe aforeſaid, ſhall levy more money of any Village then that whereunto they were aſſeſſed: and if any do, or will aſſeſs any Hundred or Village, otherwiſe then is aforeſaid, that they ſhall forfeit for every default to the King twenty pound, and to any man which will ſue in this caſe, ten pound.

The penalty of the Sheriff or his officers which do levy more money then is aſſeſſed.

7 H.6.c.35. Fitz. Avowry 260.

And that the ſaid Sheriffs well and duly ſhall levy the money ſo aſſeſſed upon the aforeſaid Villages, as ſpeedily as they well may after the ſaid aſſeſſing, and the ſame ſhall deliver to the ſaid Knights, according to the writs thereof to be made upon the ſaid penalties. And he that will ſue in this caſe, ſhall be thereunto admitted, and ſhall have for his action in this caſe a Scire facias againſt him that offendeth contrary to this Ordinance; and if the defendant duly warned in the ſame make default, or elſe appear and be in the ſame convict, that then the Plaintiffs ſhall recover againſt them which be ſo convict, ten pound to their own uſe, over the ſaid Twenty pound, with their treble damages for the coſts of their ſuits.

11 H.4.c.9.

Who may proſecute ſuit againſt the offenders, and by what writ: Who may enquire of, hear, and puniſh the offenders aforeſaid.

And the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, and of the Common place, Juſtices of Aſſiſes, and Gaol-delivery, and Juſtices of Peace in their Countrey, ſhall have power to enquire, hear, and determine of all the ſaid defaults, as well by enquiry at the Kings ſuit, as by action at the ſuit of the parties. And that all ſuch expences of Knights ſhall not be levied of any other Villages, ſeigniories or places, but of ſuch, whereof it hath been levied before this time.

The Knights wages ſhall be levied but in ſuch places where they have been.

And that in every ſuch Writ from henceforth to be made to levy the wages of the ſaid Knights, this Act ſhall be comprehended in the ſame. Regiſt. f. 192. Raſt. pl. f. 595. Fitz. Avowry 260. St. 35 H. 8. 11.

CAP. XIV.

The penalty of a Subjects Taker, taking any thing without the owners conſent.

ITem, The King hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That if any buyer or other Officer of the Duke of Glouceſter, or of any other Lord or perſon, of what eſtate, degree or condition that he be, preſume upon him to take, or elſe do take any victuals, corn, hay, carriages, or any other thing whatſoever, of any of the Kings liege people in any wiſe againſt their will, without lawful bargain betwixt the ſaid buyers or officers, and the ſaid liege people thereof to be made, to the uſe of the ſaid Duke or other Lord for their houſes, but only for the King and the Queen, and their houſes, that then if notice or requeſt be made to the Mayor, Sheriff, Bailiff, Conſtable, Officers, or other of the Kings Miniſters of Cities and Boroughs, or other Counties or places where ſuch takings ſhall happen to be, that then the ſaid Mayor, Sheriff, Conſtable, Officer and Miniſter, to whom ſuch notice and requeſt ſhall be made, preſently ſhall take and arreſt all ſuch buyers and officers ſo doing or offending, and them ſhall ſend to the Kings next priſon, there to remain, and not to be let to bail nor mainpriſe, until they have redelivered the ſaid victuals, carriages, and other things ſo taken, or the very value of the ſame. And if the ſaid Mayor, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Conſtables, and Officers aforeſaid do contrary to this, that then they ſhall forfeit twenty pound, whereof the King ſhall have the one half, and the party from whom ſuch things be taken, the other half, if he will ſue by an action of debt, in the which the defendant ſhall not wage his Law: and if he will not ſue, whoſoever will ſue for the King and himſelf, ſhall have the ſuit to recover to himſelf the one half thereof, and the King the other half: And if any of the ſaid buyers, other then of the King and the Queen, be duly convict of ſuch unlawful taking (as afore is recited) at the ſuit of ſuch parties as ſhall ſue them in this behalf, that then they ſhall yield to the party which ſo ſueth the treble value of the victuals, or other thing ſo taken, and the double coſts of their ſuits, and for the ſaid treſpaſs to make fine and ranſom to the King. And that in all ſuch actions or ſuits aforeſaid, the Kings protection ſhall not be allowed nor available for the Defendant. And this Ordinance

The penalty if a ſubjects cator, or other, do take any thing againſt the owners will.

The forfeiture of Officers which will not aſſiſt the oppreſſed in this caſe.

ſhall begin to take effect at the Feaſt of Eaſter, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, one thouſand four hundred fourty and ſix. Provided always, that by this Act the puniſhment ordained againſt the Kings Purveyors in no wiſe ſhall be reſtrained. Stat. 36 Ed. 3.6. 7 R. 2.8.

CAP. XV.

Who ſhall be Knights for the Parliament. The manner of their election. The remedy where one is choſen and another returned.

Item, Whereas by authority of a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the firſt year of the Reign of King Henry, father to the King that now is, amongſt other things it was ordained, That the Citizens and Burgeſſes of Cities, and Boroughs, coming to the Parliament, ſhould be choſen men, Citizens and Burgeſſes reſiant, abiding and free in the ſame Cities and Boroughs, and none other, as in the ſame Statute more fully is contained; which Citizens and Burgeſſes have always in Cities and Boroughs been choſen by Citizens and Burgeſſes, and no other, and to the Sheriff of the Counties returned, and upon their returns received and accepted by the Parliament before this holden. And alſo whereas by authority of a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the eighth year of the Reign of the King that now is, it was ordained in what manner and form the Knights of the Shires coming to the Parliaments from thenceforth to be holden ſhould be choſen, and how the Sheriffs of the ſame Counties thereupon ſhould make their returns, as in the ſame Statute more fully appeareth: by force of which Statute elections of Knights to come to the Parliaments ſometime have been duly made, and lawfully returned, until now of late that divers Sheriffs of the Counties of the Realm of England, for their ſingular avail and lucre, have not made due elections of the Knights, nor in convenient time, nor good men and true returned, and ſometime no return of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes lawfully choſen to come to the Parliaments, but ſuch Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes have been returned, which were never duly choſen, and other Citizens and Burgeſſes then thoſe which by the Mayors and Bailiffs were to the ſaid Sheriffs returned: and ſometime the Sheriffs have not returned the writs, which they had to make election of Knights to come to the Parliaments, but the ſaid writs have imbeſiled, and moreover made no precept to the Mayor and Bailiff, or to the Bailiffs or Bailiff, where no Mayor is of Cities and Boroughs, for the election of Citizens and Burgeſſes to come to the Parliament, by the colour of theſe words contained in the ſame writs: Quod in pleno comitatu tuo eligi facias pro comitatu tuo duos milites, & pro qualibet civitate in comitatu tuo duos cives, & pro quolibet burgo in comitatu tuo duos burgenſes; and alſo becauſe ſufficient penalty and convenient remedy for the party in ſuch caſe grieved, is not ordained in the ſaid Statutes againſt the Sheriff, Mayors and Bailiffs, which do contrary to the form of the ſaid Statutes: The King conſidering the premiſſs, hath ordained by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Statutes ſhall be duly kept in all points: and moreover, that every Sheriff, after the delivery of any ſuch writ to him made, ſhall make and deliver without fraud, a ſufficient precept under his ſeal, to every Mayor and Bailiff, or to Bailiffs or Bailiff where no Mayor is of the Cities and Boroughs, within his County, reciting the ſaid writ, commanding them by the ſame precept, if it be a City, to chuſe by Citizens of the ſame City, Citizens, and in the ſame manner and form, if it be a Borough, by the Burgeſſes of the ſame, to come to the Parliament. And that the ſame Mayor and Bailiffs, or Bailiffs or Bailiff where no Mayor is, ſhall return lawfully the precept to the ſame Sheriffs, by Indentures betwixt the ſame Sheriff and them to be made of the ſaid elections, and of the names of the ſaid Citizens and Burgeſſes by them ſo choſen, and thereupon every Sheriff ſhall make a good and rightful return of every ſuch writ, and of every return by the Mayors and Bailiffs, or Bailiffs or Bailiff, where no Mayor is, to him made. And that every Sheriff at every time that he doth contrary to this Statute, or any other Statutes for the election of Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes, to come to the Parliament, before this time made, ſhall incur the pain contained in the ſaid Statute made the ſaid eighth year, and moreover ſhall forfeit and pay to every perſon hereafter choſen Knight, Citizen or Burgeſs in his County, to come to any Parliament, and not duly returned, or to any other perſon, which in default of ſuch Knight, Citizen or Burgeſs will ſue, an hundred pound, whereof every Knight, Citizen and Burgeſs ſo grieved, ſeverally, or any other perſon which in their default will ſue, ſhall have his action of debt againſt the ſaid Sheriff, or his Executors or Adminiſtrators, to demand and have the ſaid hundred pound, with his coſts ſpent in that caſe. And that in ſuch action taken by vertue of this Statute, the defendant ſhall not wage his Law of the demand aforeſaid in any wiſe, and that no defendant in ſuch action ſhal have any eſſoin. And in the ſame manner at every time that any Mayor and Bailiffs, or Bailiffs or Bailiff, where no Mayor is, ſhall return other then thoſe which be choſen by the Citizens and Burgeſſes of the Cities or Boroughs, where ſuch elections be, or ſhall be made, ſhall incur and forfeit to the King fourty pound: and moreover ſhall forfeit and pay to every perſon hereafter choſen Citizen or Burgeſs to come to the Parliament, and not by the ſame Mayor and Bailiffs, or Bailiffs or Bailiff, where no Mayor is, returned, or to any other perſon, which in default of ſuch Citizen or Burgeſs ſo choſen will ſue, fourty pound, whereof every of the Citizens and Burgeſſes ſo grieved ſeverally, or any other perſon which in their default will ſue, ſhall have his action of debt againſt every of the ſaid Mayor and Bailiffs, or Bailiffs or Bailiff, where no Mayor is, againſt their Executors or Adminiſtrators, to demand and have of every of the ſaid Mayors and Bailiffs, or Bailiffs or Bailiff, where no Mayor is, fourty pound, with his coſts in this caſe expended. And that in ſuch action of debt taken by force of this Statute, no defendant in any wiſe ſhall wage his law of the ſaid demand, nor have any eſſoin.

The penalty of Mayors or Bailiffs making untrue returns touching the election of their Citizens or Burgeſſes.

And that every Sheriff that maketh not due election of Knights to come to the Parliament in convenient time, that is to ſay, every Sheriff in his full County betwixt the hour of eight and the hour of eleven before noon, without colluſion in this behalf: And that every Sheriff that maketh not good and true return of ſuch elections of Knights to come to the Parliament in time to come, as to them pertaineth in manner and form aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit to the King an hundred pound, and alſo ſhall incur the pain of a C. li. to be paid to him that will ſue againſt him, his executors or adminiſtrators for this cauſe by way of action of debt, with his coſts in this behalf expended, without waging of law of his demand, or having eſſoin as afore is ſaid.

At what time of the day the Knights for the Shire ſhal be choſen.

Provided always, that every Knight, Citizen and Burgeſs to come to any Parliament hereafter to be holden in due form choſen and not returned, as afore is ſaid, ſhall begin his action of debt aforeſaid, within three moneths after the ſame Parliament commenced, to proceed in the ſame ſuit effectually without fraud, and if he ſo do not, another that will ſue ſhall have the ſaid action of debt (as it is before ſaid) and ſhall recover the ſame ſum with his coſts ſpent in this behalf, in manner and form aforeſaid: ſo that no defendant in ſuch action ſhall wage his law, nor be eſſoined in any wiſe as afore is ſaid. And if any Knight, Citizen or Burgeſs hereafter returned by the Sheriff to come to the Parliament, in the manner aforeſaid, after ſuch return be by any perſon put out, and another put in his place, that ſuch perſon ſo put in the place of him which is out, if he take upon him to be Knight, Citizen or Burgeſs, at any Parliament in time to come, ſhall forfeit to the King an hundred pound, and an hundred pound to the Knight, Citizen or Burgeſs ſo returned by the Sheriff, and after, as afore is ſaid, put out. And that the Knight, Citizen or Burgeſs which is ſo put out ſhall have an action of debt of the ſame C. li. againſt ſuch perſon put in his place, his executors or adminiſtrators. Provided always that he ſhall begin his ſuit within three moneths after the Parliament commenced. And if he do not, then he that will ſue ſhall have an action of debt of the ſame C. li. againſt him which is put in place of him that is ſo put out after ſuch return, his executors or adminiſtrators, and that no defendant in ſuch action ſhall wage his law, nor be eſſoined: and that ſuch proceſs ſhall be in the actions aforeſaid, as in a writ of treſpaſs done againſt the peace at the common Law. So that the Knights of the Shires for the Parliament hereafter to be choſen, ſhall be notable Knights of the ſame Counties for the which they ſhall be choſen, or otherwiſe ſuch notable Eſquires, or Gentlemen born of the ſame Counties, as ſhall be able to be Knights: and no man to be ſuch Knight, which ſtandeth in the degree of a Yeoman, and under.

The party grieved ſhall begin his ſuit within three moneths after the Parliament begun.

The penalty if any choſen to be Knight, Citizen or Burgeſs, be put out, and another put in his place.

CAP. V.

Certain days wherein Fairs and Markets ought not to be kept.

ITem, Conſidering the abomination, injuries and offences done to Almighty God, and to his Saints, always aiders and ſingular aſſiſters in our neceſſities; becauſe of Fairs and Markets upon their high and principal Feaſts, as in the Feaſt of the Aſcenſion of our Lord, in the day of Corpus Chriſti, in the day of Whitſunday, in Trinity Sunday, with other Sundaies, and alſo in the high Feaſt of the Aſſumption of our bleſſed Lady, the day of All Saints, and on good Friday, accuſtomably and miſerably holden and uſed in the Realm of England: In which principal and feſtival days, for great earthly covetiſe, the people is more willingly vexed & in bodily labour ſoiled, then in other ferial days, as in faſtening & making their booths and ſtalls, bearing and carrying, lifting and placing their wares outward and homeward; as though they did nothing remember the horrible defiling of their ſouls in buying and ſelling, with many deceitful lies and falſe perjury, with drunkenneſs and ſtrifes, and ſo ſpecially withdrawing themſelves and their ſervants from divine Service. The foreſaid Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this Realm of England, being in the ſaid Parliament, and by authority of the ſame Parliament, hath ordained that all manner of Fairs and Markets in the ſaid principal Feaſts and Sundays, and Good Friday, ſhall clearly ceaſe from all ſhewing of any goods or merchandiſes (neceſſary victual only except) upon pain of forfeiture of all the goods aforeſaid ſo ſhewed, to the Lord of the Franchiſe or Liberty, where ſuch goods, contrary to this Ordinance, be, or ſhall be ſhewed (the four Sundays in Harveſt except.) Nevertheleſs of his ſpecial grace, by authority aforeſaid, granteth to them power, which of old time had no day to hold their Fair or Market, but only upon the feſtival days aforeſaid, to hold by the ſame authority and ſtrength of his old grant, within three days next before the ſaid Feaſts, or next after, Proclamation firſt made to the ſimple common people, upon which day the aforeſaid Fair ſhall be holden, always to be certified without any fine or fee to be taken to the Kings uſe. And they which of old time have by ſpecial grant ſufficient days before the Feaſts aforeſaid, or after, ſhall in like manner as is aforeſaid, hold their Fairs and Markets the full number of their days. The ſaid Feſtival days and Sundays, and Good Fridays except.

A penalty inflicted upon thoſe that ſhall keep Fairs or Markets upon Sundays.

Provided always, That this preſent Ordinance ſhall begin to take effect at the Feaſt of S. Michael next coming, and not before, and ſhall endure until the next Parliament, and ſo forth, except in the ſaid Parliament a reaſonable cauſe be alledged, ſhewed and proved, for the which it ſhall ſeem not expedient that the foreſaid Ordinance ſo ſhall endure.

CAP.

CAP. II.

The penalty for taking any perſons Horſes or Cart without the delivery of the Owner, or ſome Officer, or for taking money to ſpare them.

ITem, Whereas divers Hoſtlers, Brewers, and other Victuallers, keeping hoſteries and other houſes of retailing of victuals in divers places in this Realm, have purchaſed the Kings Letters Patents, ſome to them for term of life, and ſome to them and to other joyntly for term of their lives, to take horſes and carts for the carriage of the King and Queen, more for their private and ſingular lucre and profit, then for any faithful ſervice of the King, or of the Queen: by colour of which Letters Patents they daily take horſes and carts where that no need is, and bring them to their hoſteries and other places of their affinity, and there keep them ſecretly, ſometime until they have ſpent xx. d. or xl. d. of their ſtuff, and ſometime more, and then they make the owners of the ſaid horſes and carts to pay for the ſame before that they can get delivery of their horſes and carts, and ſome till they have made a fine with them for ſuch horſes and carts at their will: And of ſome of the Kings people they take fines to ſhew favour, and not to take their horſes and carts; ſo that divers perſons of the Kings liege people in this noble Realm, be greatly indamaged by the ſaid takers, as well for the non-payment of the hire of the ſaid horſes and carts, as for the great charge they have for their meat, and fines made for their delivery after they be ſo taken: Our ſaid Lord the King by the advice and aſſent aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all ſuch Letters Patents, granted to any perſon or perſons holding any Hoſteries, Brewhouſes, or houſe of retailing of victual, ſhall be void, and of no value nor effect; and if any ſuch grant be made to any ſuch perſon or perſons from henceforth, that all ſuch Patents ſo granted ſhall be void and of none effect. And that no [illegible]ſon or perſons ſhall take horſe nor cart in any place within this Realm, but by the delivery of the Mayor, Sheriff, Bailiffs, or Conſtable, where ſuch taking ſhall be had. And if any ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall take any horſe or cart, of any perſon or perſons, without agreement made to the poſſeſſor for the ſame, and by the delivery of the Mayor, Sheriff, Bailiff, or Conſtable where ſuch takings [illegible] had, that then he or they, from whom ſuch horſe or cart is taken, and he or they of wh[illegible] ſuch fines or payments be taken, as is afore rehearſed, ſhall have an action of treſpa[illegible] at the common Law for ſuch takings. And that he or they that feeleth himſelf grieved in ſuch action, ſhall recover treble damages againſt him or them which ſo take any horſe or cart, fines or payment, contrary to this Ordinance; Saving always to the King his prerogative and his preheminence of and in the premiſes. St. 3 Ed. 31. 20 R. 2. 5.

The penalty for taking any horſe or cart without the delivery of the owner and ſome officer.

CAP. V.

The penalty for the Officers of the Cuſtom, which by colour of their Offices ſhall diſtrain any mans ſhips or goods.

ITem, Whereas divers Waterbailiffs, ſearchers, comptrollers of ſearches, and other their deputies and ſervants within the Ports of this Realm, and ſpecially within the Ports of Fowey, Plimouth, Dertmouth, and Pool, by colour of their offices daily do wrongfully take by conſtraint of diſtreſſes and arreſt upon the ſhips, barges, balengers, and other veſſels, goods and merchandiſes of the Kings liege merchants of this ſaid Realm, and among all other upon the Kings liege merchants of Gaſcoin, Guien, Ireland, Guernſey, and Garnſey, in their coming and going in the ſaid Ports, great charges and impoſitions, that is to ſay, for every piece of Creſcloth, iv. d. for every hundred of Canvas, vi. d. for the weight of every tun of Iron, xii. d. and ſometime more, and likewiſe of all other goods and merchandiſes of the ſaid liege people and other merchants of the Kings amity: And by ſuch wrongful diſtreſſes, arreſts, charges and impoſitions, they do diſcourage the ſaid merchants freely to come into this ſaid Realm, and to return, contrary to all law and conſcience, to the great prejudice of our ſaid Lord the King, in loſs of his Cuſtoms and Subſidies, and to the great damage of the ſaid merchants and their ſucceſſors, unleſs due remedy thereof be had in the ſame: By advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid merchants, their ſucceſſors and every of them, of all ſuch injuries, diſtreſſes, arreſts, charges and impoſitions, afore recited, to be made to them or any of them, as well by waterbailiffs, ſearchers, and comptroller of the ſearch, as by collectors of the ſaid cuſtoms and ſubſidies, comptrollers of the ſame, ſurveyors of the cuſtoms and ſubſidies, and of the ſearch-packers, or any other officers, or their deputies or ſervants, by their commandment, or any of them hereafter, may have thereupon a general Writ of treſpaſs againſt ſuch offendors and every of them, according to the form of the Law, and to recover againſt them and every of them, thereof ſo convicted, fourty pound. And that the ſaid merchants, their ſucceſſors and every of them ſo grieved (as before is ſaid) ſhall purſue the ſaid Writ of treſpaſs, againſt the ſaid offendors and every of them, for ſuch injuries, diſtreſſes, arreſts, charges and impoſitions ſo to be made, as afore is ſaid, within two moneths next after ſuch injuries, diſtreſſes, arreſts, charges, and impoſitions, to be made by them or any of them, as before is ſaid. And in caſe that the ſaid merchants, their ſucceſſors, or ſome of them, do not purſue the ſaid Writ of Treſpaſs, of ſuch Injuries, Diſtreſſes, Arreſts, Charges and Impoſitions aforeſaid, againſt the ſaid Offendors, nor any of them, within the ſaid two Moneths, That then it ſhall be lawful to every other perſon of the Kings liege people, to purſue the ſaid Writ of

CAP IX.

A remedy for a woman inforced to be bound by Statute or Obligation.

ITem, Whereas in all parts of this Realm divers people of great power, moved with unſatiable covetouſneſs, againſt all right, humanity, integrity and good conſcience, have ſought and found new inventions, and them continually do execute, to the danger, trouble, and great abuſing of all Ladies, Gentlewomen, and other women ſole, having any ſubſtance of lands, tenements, or other moveable goods within this Realm, perceiving their great weakneſs and ſimplicity, will take them by force, or otherwiſe come to them, ſeeming to be their great friends, promiſing them their faithful friendſhip, and ſo by great diſſimulation, or otherwiſe, get them into their poſſeſſion, conveying them into ſuch places where the ſaid offendors be of moſt power: and when any woman by ſuch means, or by any other means be in their government, the ſaid evil diſpoſed perſon or perſons will not ſuffer them to go at large, and be at their liberty, until that they will bind themſelves to the ſaid offendors, or other perſon or perſons, to their uſe, in great ſums, by obligation or obligations, as well ſimple as conditional, or by obligation or obligations of Statute-merchant, made before a Mayor or Bayliffs, having power to take ſuch Recogniſances:

Alſo they will many times compel them to be married by them, contrary to their own likeings, or otherwiſe they will levy the ſaid ſum or ſums on their lands and goods, and put their perſon or perſons in danger, to their great damage; which hath been and is like to be an univerſal prejudice to the law of holy Church, and the law of this Realm, unleſs due remedy thereupon be provided: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed by authority of this preſent Parliament, that in all ſuch caſes aforeſaid, the party bound may have a writ out of the Chancery, containing all the matter of their unreaſonable entreaty, directed to the Sheriff of the County where any ſuch offences were ſo done, or after ſhall be done, commanding him, That he by force of this Writ make Proclamation, in the full County, and in the next County-Court after the receit of the ſaid Writ, that the perſon or perſons contained in the ſaid Writ, ſhall appear of a certain day and place prefixed in the ſaid Writ, before the Chancellor of England for the time being, or otherwiſe before the Juſtices of Aſſiſes in the Counties where the ſaid offences were done, or elſe before ſome other notable perſon to be aſſigned by the Chancellor of England for the time being; at the which day and place if the ſaid parties appear, that then the ſaid Chancellor of England, Juſtice, or other perſon ſo to be aſſigned by the Chancellor for the time being, by vertue of this Ordinance, ſhall duely examine the ſaid parties upon the premiſes. By which examination, if they can find the ſaid obligation or obligations, or any of them ſo to be made, as is aforeſaid, that then the ſaid obligation or obligations, and all proceſs and execution ſued, or to be purſued thereupon, ſhall be void, and of no force nor effect. And if it be found by examination before them, that the ſaid obligation or obligations, or any of them were made, or ſhall be found to be made for a true duty, and by no ſuch means as afore is ſaid, that then the ſaid obligation or obligations, and all the proceſs and execution ſued or to be purſued thereupon, ſhall ſtand good and effectual. And if it be ſo that the perſon or perſons in ſuch Writs named or to be named, againſt whom any ſuch Letters or Writs hereafter ſhall be ſued, make default at the day and place limited in the ſame Writ or Writs, that then all ſuch obligation or obligations, as be before ſpecified, and declared, and in the ſaid Writ or Writs expreſſed, declared and ſpecified, and all manner of proceſs and execution ſued or to be ſued thereupon, ſhall be void, and of no force nor effect. And that the ſaid Sheriff or Sheriffs, to whom ſuch Writ or Writs upon this Ordinance hereafter commenced, ſhall be directed, ſhall execute the ſaid Writs according to the tenour of the ſame, upon pain of three hundred pound, whereof our Soveragin Lord the King to have the one half, and the other half to the party which ſhall ſue the ſaid Writ of Proclamation. And that the ſaid party ſo grieved may have an action of debt in every ſuch caſe againſt the ſaid Sheriff for the half of the ſaid three hundred pound ſo forfeit, with proceſs of Outlawry. And that the party or parties defendants in any ſuch action hereafter to be purſued againſt any Sheriff or Sheriffs, ſhall alledge no protection, nor ſhall wage his Law, nor ſhall be received to make or plead any foreign plea, to be tried in any other place then there where the ſaid writ grounded upon this Statute is ſued.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno triceſimo tertio Henrici ſexti, & Anno Domini 1455.

HEnry by the grace of God King of England and France, and Lord of Ireland, the ſixth after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the ninth day of July, the three and thirtieth year of his Reign: by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of his Realm of England, being in the ſame Parliament, and by authority of the ſame Parliament, made and ordained certain Ordinances and Statutes for the Common wealth of the ſame Realm, in the form following.

CAP. I.

A remedy for Executors againſt ſervants that imbeſil their Maſters goods after his death.

FIrſt, our foreſaid Lord the King conſidering how that of late time divers houſhold-ſervants, as well of Lords, as of other perſons of good degree, ſhortly after the death of their ſaid Lords and Maſters, violently and riotouſly have taken and ſpoiled the goods which were of their ſaid Lords and Maſters at the time of their death, and the ſame diſtributed amongſt them, to the impediment of the execution of the will of their ſaid Lords and Maſters, and to the great diſpleaſure of God, and alſo contrary to the duty and truth which they ought to have had towards their ſaid Lords and Maſters, and to a perilous example in time to come, unleſs due remedy in this behalf be provided: Wherefore the ſame Lord the King, by the advice, aſſent and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That after full information made to the Chancellor of England for the time being, by the executors of any ſuch Lord or perſon, or two of the ſame executors, of ſuch riot, taking, and ſpoil made, or hereafter to be made, by the houſhold ſervants of their or his ſaid teſtator after his death, the ſame Chancellor by the advice of the chief Juſtices of the Kings Bench, and of the Common Bench, and chief Baron of the Eſchequer for the time being, or two of them, ſhall have power to make ſo many, and ſuch Writs to be directed to ſuch Sheriffs by their diſcretion, as to them in this behalf ſhall ſeem neceſſary, to make open proclamation in ſuch Cities, Borougs, Towns, or place, two market days, within twelve days next after the delivery of the ſame Writs, as to the ſame Chancellor by the advice aforeſaid ſhall ſeem reaſonable, that the ſaid offendors ſhall appear before the ſame our Lord the King, or his heirs, in his Bench, at ſuch a day as by the ſaid Writ ſhall be limited, ſo that the ſaid laſt proclamation be made by fifteen days before the ſame day of appearance. And if any ſuch Writ be returned at the day contained in the ſaid Writ, and the Writ be executed, that proclamation is thereupon had and made according to the ſaid Ordinance; and then if the ſaid perſon or perſons which ſhould appear by reaſon of the ſaid Proclamation, make default at the day ſpecified in the ſaid Writ, and do not appear, then he or they ſo making default, ſhall be attainted of felony.

A remedy for the executors againſt a ſervant of their Teſtators, which imbeſiled his Maſters goods after his death. Raſt.pl.f.592.

And if any ſuch perſon or perſons do appear at the ſame day, then the Juſtices of the ſaid Kings Bench, ſhall have power by the ſaid Ordinance, to commit ſuch perſon or perſons, ſo appearing, to priſon, there to remain according to the ſaid Juſtices diſcretion, until the ſaid offenders, in the ſaid Bench, do anſwer to the ſaid executors in ſuch actions, which the ſaid executors will declare againſt them or any of them, by Bill or by Writ, for the riot, taking and ſpoiling aforeſaid, and that the ſame actions be determined. So that the ſame actions be purſued with effect, and not ſlackly, to the intent to keep the ſame perſon or perſons in priſon.

And if ſuch perſon or perſons be ſet at liberty out of priſon by the ſaid Juſtices, that then the ſame perſon or perſons ſhall find ſufficient perſons to be bounden with them to the ſaid executors by way of Recogniſance in the ſaid Bench, by diſcretion of the Juſtices, to keep ſuch days as he or they ſhall have by the ſame Court. And if the keepers of the priſon, whereunto the ſaid perſon or perſons be committed, do let them go at large out of the priſon, of his own authority, without the conſideration and order of the ſaid Juſtices, then the ſaid Keeper ſhall forfeit and loſe fourty pound to the ſaid Executors. And that no protection be allowed in any action to be taken upon the ſaid Ordinance,

A Gaolers forfeiture for letting at liberty a priſoner committed to his cuſtody by force of this Statute.

CAP. II.

Jurors in an Indictment in the County Palatine of Lancaſter. Of a Forreign dwelling in another County.

ITem, Becauſe that the humble and faithful liege people of the King, his ſubjects inhabiting within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, to do the King ſervice, be, and at all times were ready, and have done to him and his Progenitors, as well in the Realm of England, as in the Realm of Scotland, France, and other parts, and have been governed by the Kings Laws, and not damnified by the ſame, otherwiſe then other of the Kings liege people inhabiting in the Realm of England out of the ſame County, until now of late by a certain Statute at the laſt Parliament holden at Reading, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, that none of the Kings liege people againſt whom any exigent ſhould be awarded or outlagary pronounced at the ſuit of the King, or of the party in the ſaid County, ſhould forfeit any goods or chattels, lands or tenements in any County, but onely the goods and chattels, lands and tenements, which the perſons ſo outlawed, or they againſt whom any ſuch exigent in the ſaid County ſhould be awarded, have in the ſame County of Lancaſter, and by reaſon of any ſuch outlagary, at the ſuit of the King, or at the ſuit of the party pronounced within the ſame County, ſhould not be barred or diſabled of any manner of action, nor to claim any manner of inheritance out of the ſame County, notwithſtanding any outlawry againſt them pronounced, as in the ſame act doth more plainly appear.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 20 H. 6. 2. and 31 H. 6. 6. That they which be outlawed in the County of Lancaſter ſhall forfeit no lands nor goods that they have in other Counties.

And by reaſon of the ſame act, if any forreigner ſhould come into the ſaid County Palatine, and ſhould ſlay any of the liege people of our Lord the King, or ſhould commit any treaſon, murder, rape, robbery, or other felony or treſpaſs, or make any contract, or do any other offence within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, that then he ſhould have no other puniſhment nor forfeiture in this behalf, but onely of ſuch goods, which ſuch forreigns doing and committing ſuch horrible offences, have within the ſaid County Palatine, which for the moſt part have nothing within the ſame County: For which cauſe the ſaid forreigners, knowing no peril, puniſhment, nor loſs of goods in the Law, to refrain or reſtrain them of ſuch treaſons, murders, and felonies, be the more encouraged daily to commit the ſame within the ſaid County, and giveth them audacity daily to offend againſt the Laws of the King, his Crown, and Dignity, and alſo in reſtraint of the Kings Laws, to the great loſs and final deſtruction of the ſaid liege people and ſubjects in the ſaid County Palatine: whereof the foreſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, hath willed, granted, and eſtabliſhed, that the act before rehearſed and made at the ſaid laſt Parliament holden at Reading ſhall be adnulled, void, and ſtand in no force. And further for the conſervation, tranquility, quietneſs, and peace of all his liege people, as well within the ſaid County Palatine, as of other his liege people out of the ſaid County, within the Realm of England, the ſame Lord the King by authority aforeſaid, hath granted, ordained, and ſtabliſhed, that every indictment hereafter to be taken before any of the Kings Juſtices in the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, or before any Sheriff in his tourn, in the ſaid County, whereby any perſon or perſons be ſuppoſed by the ſame endictment to be or to have been inhabiting or converſant out of the ſaid County of Lancaſter, and within any other County within the Realm of England, ſhall be taken and had by the verdict of twelve men, whereof every of them or ſome other perſon or perſons to their uſe within the ſame County of Lancaſter, ſhall have to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings. And no proceſs ſhall be made out of any ſuch endictment, before it be duly enquired and examined before the Kings Juſtices within the ſaid County of Lancaſter for the time being, whether the ſaid endictors, and every of them, at the time of ſuch endictment ſo taken, had lands and tenements within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings above all charges. And if it be found by examination of the ſaid Juſtices for the time being, within the ſaid County, that the ſaid endictors and every of them at the time of ſuch endictment ſo taken, had not lands and tenements to the yearly value aforeſaid, that then the ſame endictment, as to ſuch perſons ſo endicted, ſuppoſed by the ſaid indictments to be inhabiting and converſant out of the ſaid County of Lancaſter, ſhall be void and of no effect. And alſo the ſame Lord the King, of the advice and authority aforeſaid, hath granted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed, that every endictment from henceforth to be taken within any County of the ſaid Realm, and out of the ſaid County of Lancaſter, before any Juſtice, or the Sheriff in his tourn, whereby any perſon or perſons ſuppoſed by the ſame endictment to be, or to have been converſant or inhabiting within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, and without ſuch County where ſuch endictment ſhall happen to be taken, ſhall be taken by verdict of twelve men, whereof every of them, or ſome other perſon or perſons to their uſe, ſhall have lands and tenements within the ſame County where the ſaid endictments ſhall be taken, to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings. And that no proceſs be made out of any ſuch endictments, before it be duly examined and inquired before the Kings Juſtices, having power to award any proceſs upon ſuch endictments, whether the ſaid endictors and every of them, at the time of ſuch endictments taken, or any other perſon or perſons to their uſe, had any lands or tenements to the yearly value of an hundred ſhillings within the ſame County above all charges, where ſuch endictments happen to be taken. And if it be found before our Lord the King, or any of his Juſtices, that the ſaid endictors, or any of them, had not at that time of ſuch endictments taken, nor that none other to their uſe had lands and tenements to the value of an hundred ſhillings by the year, that then the ſaid endictment, as to any ſuch perſon or perſons ſuppoſed by the ſaid endictment to be,

CAP. VII.

How many Atturnies may be in Norfolk, how many in Suffolk, and in Norwich.

Co. Inſt. 4 p. 76.

A practiſe of contentious Atturnies, to ſtir up ſuits for their private profits.

ITem, Whereas of time not long paſt within the City of Norwich, and the Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, there were no more but ſix or eight Atturnies at the moſt, coming to the Kings Courts, in which time great tranquillity reigned in the ſaid City and Counties, little trouble or vexation was made by untrue and foreign ſuits: And now ſo it is, that in the ſaid City and Counties there be fourſcore Atturnies or more, the more part of them having no other thing to live upon, but onely his gain by the practiſe of Atturnyſhip: and alſo the more part of them not being of ſufficient knowledge to be an Atturney, which come to every Fair, Market, and other places, where is any aſſembly of people, exhorting, procuring, moving and inciting the people to attempt untrue and foreign ſuits for ſmall treſpaſſes, little offences, and ſmall ſums of debt, whoſe actions be triable and determinable in Court Barons, whereby proceed many ſuits more of evil will and malice, then of truth of the thing, to the manifold vexations and no little damage of the Inhabitants of the ſaid City and Counties, and all to the perpetual diminution of all the Court Barons in the ſaid Counties, unleſs convenient remedy be provided in this behalf: The foreſaid Lord the King, conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, That at all times from henceforth there ſhall be but ſix common Atturnies in the ſaid County of Norfolk, and ſix common Atturnies in the ſaid County of Suffolk, and two common Atturnies in the ſaid City of Norwich, to be Atturnies in Courts of Record, and that all the ſaid fourteen Atturnies ſhall be elect and admitted by the two Chief Juſtices of our Lord the King, for the time being, of the moſt ſufficient and beſt inſtructed by their diſcretions. And that the election and admiſſion of all Atturnies, which ſhall be elected and admitted by the ſaid Juſtices for the time being, above the ſaid number in the ſaid Counties, ſhall be void and of no authority nor record. And if any perſon or perſons uſurp or preſume to be Atturney in Courts of Record in the ſaid Counties or City, otherwiſe then before is ſpecified, and that found by inquiſition taken before the Juſtices of Peace in the ſaid City or Counties (which ſhall have power by vertue of this Ordinance to enquire thereof in their Seſſions) or in any other manner lawfully proved, that then he or they that ſo preſume, if they be thereof lawfully convict, ſhall forfeit twenty pound, as often as he or they be ſo convict, the one half thereof to be taken to the Kings uſe, and the other half to his uſe which for the ſame will ſue. And he that thereof will ſue, ſhall have an action of debt againſt any ſuch perſon which ſo preſumeth to be Atturney, and ſuch proceſs for recovery of the ſame, as lyeth in an action of debt at the Common Law upon an Obligation. Provided always, that the ſaid Ordinance begin and firſt take effect at the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, and not before, if the ſame Ordinance ſeem reaſonable to the Juſtices.

There ſhall be but ſix common Atturnies in Norfolk, ſix in Suffolk, and two in Norwich.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall have authority to enquire of offendors.

The forfeiture of offendors.

Provided always, that this Act extend not to any lands, tenements, rents, poſſeſſions, advowſons, hereditaments, or other things ẏ were given to any of ẏ ſaid late pretenſed Kings, by way of recompence or exchange for any lands, tenements, rents, poſſeſſions, advowſons, hereditaments, or other things which in any wiſe pertained to the Crown, although no mention were made in any Letters Patents or other writings of any recompence or exchange.

Lands aſſured to the King by way of recompence or exchange,

And that all Grants, Collations, Gifts or Preſentations, made by any of the ſaid late pretenſed Kings, to any perſon or perſons not corporate, nor having perpetual ſucceſſion of any Benefice, Dignity, Church, Prebend, Hoſpital or Chappel, ſhall be of like force, vertue and effect, as if the ſame Grants, Collations, Gifts and Preſentations were made by any King lawfully reigning in this Realm, and obtaining the Crown of the ſame by juſt title, during the life or lives of the ſaid perſon or perſons being Incumbents, poſſeſſors or occupiers of the ſame, or any of them.

Collations, Gifts, and Preſentations to Benefices during the Incumbents lives.

Provided always, that thoſe perſons which be attainted in this preſent Parliament, and ſuch that be out with the Kings enemies, ſhall take no benefit nor advantage by this Act.

The Kings open enemies and perſons attainted excepted.

And that all Grants made by any of the ſaid late pretenſed Kings, by any their Letters patents, by any perſon or perſons of any wards and marriages, ſhall be of like force, vertue, and effect, as if the ſame Grants were made by any King lawfully reigning in this Realm, and obtaining the Crown of the ſame by juſt title.

Grants of wards and marriages.

And all Grants and Letters Patents made by any of the ſaid late pretenſed Kings, to any perſon or perſons, to have any Fair or Fairs, Market or Markets, in any Town or Towns, place or places, all ſuch Grants, and Letters Patents, as to ſuch Fairs and Markets, and every of them, ſhall be of like force, vertue, and effect, as if the ſame Grants and Letters Patents were made by any King lawfully reigning in this Realm, and obtaining the Crown of the ſame by juſt title.

Grants of fairs and markets.

And alſo if any perſon or perſons hath ſued, obtained, and had any Livery by the courſe of the Common Law of this Realm, or otherwiſe, of any lands, tenements, rents, poſſeſſions, advowſons, or other hereditaments, which ſhould deſcend, revert, remain, or in any other manner come to them or any of them, by any Livery purſued after or by the death of any of their anceſtors, or any other perſon or perſons, after the fourth day of March laſt paſt, that all ſuch Liveries ſhall be of like force, vertue, and effect, as they were at the time of the ſaid Liveries purſued. So that the ſaid lands, tenements, rents, poſſeſſions, advowſons, and other hereditaments, or any parcel thereof, were not pertaining to the King in the right of his Crown.

Grants to heirs of liveries of their anceſtors lands.

Provided always, that this Article extend not to any lands, tenements, or other things which do pertain or ought to come into the Kings hands, by reaſon of any attainder in this preſent Parliament. And alſo that all Grants, and Letters Patents made by our Lord the King to any perſon or perſons, after the fourth day of March laſt paſt, of any wards or marriages, of any perſon or perſons being within age, ſhall be of like force and effect to them and every of them, as they were at the times of the Grants and Letters Patents thereof made to them or any of them: Any Act or Ordinance in this preſent Parliament made or to be made notwithſtanding.

Wards or marriages granted by King Ed. 4.

Provided alwaies, that this Article extend not to any wards or marriages of any perſons which do pertain or ought to come to ẏ Kings hands, by reaſon of any attainder in this preſent Parliament; & that all Grants made by our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King by his Letters Patents, after ẏ fourth day of March laſt paſt, to any of his faithful liege men that were not againſt him in any Field after the firſt day of his Reign, nor againſt the high and mighty Prince, Father to the ſaid King, in the Field and evil journey of Wakefield, of any Office or Offices, which ſuch perſon or perſons by ẏ Kings diſcreet conſideration hath deſerved, the effect of ſuch Grant or Grants ſhall be of like ſtrength and force, as they, or any of them were at the time of ſuch Grant or Grants, Letters Patents, and every of them made: Any Statute, Act or Ordinance, made or to be made in this preſent Parliament notwithſtanding.

King Ed. 4. Letters Patents made to ſeveral perſons of Offices.

Provided always, that this Act be not prejudicial nor hurtful to any perſon or perſons, for any Grant or Grants made to them or any of them of any annuity, fee, or penſion, or of any Deanry, Hoſpital, or Benefice, or of any Office or Offices, in the time of the Kings Progenitors, with the fees and wages thereto due and accuſtomed, made by the King by his Letters Patents ſithence the fourth day of March laſt paſt. (His Letters Patents made of all the Offices of Serjeants at Arms, and of the Offices of Juſtices of the one Bench, and of the other, Barons of his Eſchequer, Warden of the Rolls of his Chancery of England, Warden of the Rolls of his Chancery of his Land of Ireland, Clerk of his Councel, Secondary in the Office of his Privy Seal, Clerk or Warden of his Hamper of his ſaid

And alſo that all grants and licenſes made by Letters Patents of any of the ſaid late pretenſed Kings, to any Abbot and Covent, Prior and Covent, or to any other perſon or perſons, to have and make by free election within themſelves at any voidance, Abbot or Prior, and to be conventual, perpetual, and elective, where before they were dative and removable, ſhall be of like ſtrength, vertue, and effect, as if the ſame grants and licences, or any of them, were made by any King lawfully reigning in this Realm, and obtaining the Crown of the ſame by juſt title.

Grants to Abbots, Priors, &c. to make free election.

Alſo that all Records of Recogniſances and deeds inrolled, had and made in any Court or Courts of Record, or before any Juſtice of Record, in the time of the Reigns of any of the ſaid late pretenſed Kings, ſhall be of like force, vertue, and effect, as if the ſame Records were had or made in the time of any King lawfully reigning in this Realm, and obtaining the Crown of the ſame by juſt title.

Recogniſances and deeds inrolled.

And alſo that all licenſes and grants made by any of the ſaid late pretenſed Kings to any perſon or perſons, to make, have, incloſe, and enjoy any Park or Parks, Warren, or free Chaſe, or to embattel, to carnel, to maſtol, or to make any Tower, Caſtel, or Fortreſs, within this Realm, ſhall be of like force, vertue, and effect, as if the ſaid grants and licences were made by any King lawfully reigning in this Realm, and obtaining the Crown of the ſame by juſt title.

Licences to make Parks, Chaſes, free Warrens, or to make Caſtles, Towers, or to imbattel a houſe.

Provided always, that this act do not extend nor be prejudicial to the right noble, high and mighty Princeſs, Cicily Dutcheſs of York, mother unto our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, of any grant or grants made to her by the King, by his Letters Patents, before the firſt day of this Parliament, by whatſoever name or names ſhe ſhall be called in the ſame Letters Patents; but that the ſame Letters Patents, and every grant therein contained, be of like force and effect, as they were before the firſt day of this Parliament: This Act, or any other, made or to be made in this preſent Parliament notwithſtanding.

Cicily Dutcheſs of York, mother to the King.

Provided always, that this Act, nor any Article of the ſame, do not extend to any lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, hereditaments, or other things, which the King ought in any wiſe to have by force of any Act of attainder of any perſon or perſons made in this preſent Parliament.

Lands devolved to the King by attainder, or, &c.

Provided alſo, that no perſon or perſons attainted in this preſent Parliament, or being out with the Kings enemies, take any benefit or advantage by this Act, nor any other Act made or to be made in the ſaid Parliament.

CAP. II.

Juſtices of Peace may award Proceſs upon Indictments taken in Sheriffs Tourns.

Alſo whereas many of the Kings faithful liege people, as well Spiritual as Temporal, by the inordinate and infinite indictments and preſentments, as well of felony, treſpaſſes, & offences, as of other things, which of long time have been had and uſed within the Counties of this Realm, and taken before Sheriffs for the time being in their County ſeverally, Under-ſheriffs, their Clerks, Bailiffs, & Miniſters, at their tourns or lawdays, holden before them ſeverally in the Counties, which indictments & preſentments be oftentimes affirmed by Jurors having no conſcience, nor any freehold, & little goods,, and often by the ſaid Sheriffs menial ſervants and Bailiffs, & their Under-ſheriffs, by which indictments & preſentments, the ſaid lawful liege people be attached & arreſted by their bodies, and put in priſon by the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, their Clerks, Bailiffs,, and Miniſters, to the great loſs of their goods; & they ſo being in priſon by yͤ ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, their Clerks, Bailiffs, and their Miniſters, are conſtrained to make grievous fines and ranſoms, and levy of them great fines and amerciaments for the ſaid indictments and preſentments, in great hinderance and utter undoing of the ſaid liege people. After which fines, ranſoms, and amerciaments ſo rated and levied by the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Clerks, Bailiffs and their miniſters, the people aforeſaid be inlarged out of priſon, and the ſaid indictments and preſentments be imbezzled and withdrawn: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained and ſtabliſhed, that all manner indictments and preſentments that ſhall be taken hereafter before any of his ſaid Sheriffs of his Counties for the time being, their Under-ſheriffs, Clerks, Bailiffs, or Miniſters, at their tourns or lawdays before mentioned, they nor any of them ſhall have power or authority to attach, arreſt, or put in priſon, or to levy any fines or amerciaments of any perſon or perſons ſo indicted or preſented, by reaſon or colour of any ſuch indictment or preſentment taken or to be taken before them or any of them, nor to make, or take of any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo indicted or preſented any fine or ranſome, but that the ſaid Sheriffs, and their Under-ſheriffs, Clerks or Bailiffs, and their Miniſters, ſhall bring, preſent, and deliver all ſuch endictments and preſentments taken before them or any of them in their tourns or lawdays aforeſaid, to the Juſtices of Peace at their next Seſſions of the Peace, that ſhall be holden in the County or Counties where ſuch indictments and preſentments ſhall be taken, before the ſaid Juſtices of ſuch County or Counties for the time being: And if any of the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Clerks, Bailiffs, and their Miniſters, do not bring, deliver, and preſent all ſuch endictments or preſentments ſo taken before them and every of them in their tourns or lawdays, as before is recited, at ſuch Seſſions of the Peace, before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, that then all ſuch Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, Clerks, Bailiffs, and their Miniſters, and every of them that ſo ſhall fail in bringing, delivering, and preſenting of ſuch indictments or preſentments, ſhall forfeit to the King fourty pounds, at every time that they or any of them doth the contrary: And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace ſhall have power and authority to award proceſs upon all ſuch endictments and preſentments, as the Law doth require; and in like form as if the ſaid endictments and preſentments were taken before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in the ſaid County or Counties, and alſo to arraign and deliver all ſuch perſon or perſons ſo endicted and preſented before the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, their Clerks, Bailiffs, and their Miniſters, or any of them in their tourns or lawdays. And all ſuch perſon or perſons, which be indicted or preſented of treſpaſs, ſhall make ſuch a fine as ſhall ſeem lawful by their diſcretions. And the eſtreats of the ſaid fines and amerciaments ſhall be enrolled, and by indenture be delivered to the ſaid Sheriffs, Under-ſheriffs, their Clerks, Bailiffs or Miniſters, or ſome of them, to the uſe and profit of him that was Sheriff in the ſaid Counties or County at the time of ſuch indictments or preſentments taken: And if any of the ſaid Sheriffs, their Under-ſheriffs, Clerks, Bailiffs, or their Miniſters, do arreſt, attach, or put in priſon, or cauſe any fine or ranſom to be taken, or levy any amerciament of any perſon or perſons ſo indicted or preſented, by reaſon or colour of any ſuch indictment or preſentment taken before them at their tourns or lawdays, above rehearſed, before that they have proceſs from the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or eſtreats delivered out of the ſaid indictments or preſentments ſo brought, delivered, and preſented to them, that then the ſaid Sheriffs which ſo do, ſhall forfeit an hundred pound. The one half thereof to be employed to the expences of the Kings houſe, and the other half to the party or parties which be or is indamaged, and he or they ſhall have therefore an Action of debt at the Common Law, and like proceſs as in an Action of debt at the Common Law, and that the defendant or defendants in ſuch ſuits or actions of debt ſhall not be eſſoined, nor wage their Law: and if he or they or any of them againſt whom this action ſhall be taken, do offer or caſt any protection or other impediment, in retardation of the ſaid ſuits or actions, that ſhall not be allowed unto him.

This Statute doth not extend to the Sheriffs of London.

Provided always, that this preſent Ordinance do not extend, nor in any wiſe be prejudicial to the Sheriffs of the City of London now being, or which at any time hereafter ſhall be, concerning any indictments or preſentments to be taken within the ſaid City of London.

Grants of fines made by the King.

Provided alſo, that this Act extend not, nor be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, which hath grants of any fines of amerciaments by any Letters Patents of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, or of any of his Progenitors or Predeceſſors, bearing date before the tenth day of December, next after the beginning of this Parliament, and that this Act and Ordinance do not extend nor be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, having any liberties or franchiſes by any of the ſaid Letters Patents, or in any other manner by preſcription. And that this Ordinance be in his force, and begin to take effect at the fortieth day next after the ſixth day of May next after the beginning of this preſent Parliament, upon the which ſixth day the ſaid Parliament was diſſolved.

Certain merchandiſes not lawful to be brought ready wrought into this Realm.

The inconveniences enſuing of bringing of wares ready wrought into this Realm.

Item, Whereas in the ſaid Parliament, by the Artificers of manual occupations men and women, inhabiting and reſident in the City of London, and other Cities, Towns, Boroughs, & Villages within the ſame Realm of England and Wales, it hath been piteouſly ſhewed and complained, how that all they in general, and every of them, be greatly impoveriſhed, and much hindred and prejudiced of their worldly increaſe and daily living, by the great multitude of divers commodities and wares pertaining to their myſteries and occupations, being fully wrought and ready made to ſale, as well by the hands of ſtrangers being the Kings enemies, as other in this Realm, and Wales, fetched and brought from beyond the Sea, as well by Merchants ſtrangers, as denizens and other perſons, whereof the greateſt part in ſubſtance is deceitful and nothing worth in regard of any mans occupation or profit; by which occaſion the ſaid Artificers cannot live by their myſteries and occupations as they have done in times paſt, but divers of them, as well houſholders as hirelings, and other ſervants and apprentices in great number, be at this day unoccupied, and do hardly live, in great miſery, poverty, and need, whereby many inconveniences have grown before this time, and hereafter more be like to come (which God defend) if due remedy be not in this behalf provided: Our redoubted Sovereign Lord the King, conſidering the premiſſes, and willing in this caſe to provide remedy, by the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, That no Merchant born ſubject of our ſaid Lord the King, denizen nor ſtranger, nor other perſon after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall bring, ſend, nor convey, nor cauſe to be brought, ſent, nor conveyed into this Realm of England, and Seigniory of Wales, any of the chaffers, wares, or things underwritten, that is to ſay, Any woollen caps, woollen clothes, laces, corſes, ribbands, fringes of ſilk and of threed, laces of threed, ſilk twined, ſilk in any wiſe embroidered, laces of gold, of ſilk or gold, ſaddles, ſtirops, or any harneſs pertaining to ſaddles, ſpars, boſſes for bridles, aundirons, gredirons, any manner of locks, hammers, pinſons, firetongs, dripping-pans, dice, tenis balls, points, purſes, gloves, girdles, harneſs for girdles, of iron, latten, ſteel, tin, or of alkmine, any thing wrought of any tawed leather, any tawed furres, buſcans, ſhoes, galoches or corks, knives, daggers, woodknives, bodkins, ſheers for tailors, ciſors, raſers, cheſſmen, playing cards, combs, pattins, packneedles, any painted ware, forcers, caskets, rings of copper, or of latten gilt, chafing-diſhes, hanging candleſticks, caſting balls, ſacring bells, rings for curtains, ladles, ſcummers, counterfeit baſons, ewers, hats, bruſhes, cards for wooll, black iron threed commonly called and named white wire, or any of thoſe wares or chaffers to be uttered and ſold within the ſame Realm of England, or in the country of Wales, by way of merchandiſe, upon pain to forfeit the ſame merchandiſes, at every time, and as often as they may be found in the hands of any perſon or perſons to be ſold. The one half of the ſame forfeiture to be payed to the uſe of our Lord the King, and the other half to him that will firſt ſeiſe the ſame for the King. The ſame half by him ſo ſeiſed for our Lord the King to be delivered by the ſaid ſeiſor thereof to the Eſcheator of the countrey or place where the ſame ſeiſin ſhall be, by indenture betwixt them made, duly to anſwer thereunto in his accompt.

Certain merchandiſes which it is not lawful to bring into this Realm wrought. St. 1 R. 3. 12.

A proviſo for ſuch wares as be taken upon the Sea or by wreck.

Provided always, that if any of the ſaid wares or chaffers made out of this land, be taken upon the Sea without fraud and colluſion, or come in this Realm of England, or the countrey of Wales, by way of wreck, that thoſe be in no wiſe taken within this Act or Statute, but that they may be ſold within this Realm of England or Wales, this Act or Statute notwithſtanding.

Wares made in Ireland or Wales.

Provided alſo, That all wares and chaffers made and wrought in the land of Ireland or Wales may be brought and ſold in this Realm of England, as they were wont before the making of this Statute, this Act or Statute notwithſtanding.

The chief Officers of Cities, or &c. ſhall have authority to ſearch for defective wares.

Alſo our Lord the King hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, by the aſſent and authority aforeſaid, that the Maſters and Wardens for the time being, of every craft and myſtery in every City, Borough, Town, and Village, where any ſuch craft or myſtery is uſed or occupied, ſhall have ſufficient power and authority in every ſuch City, Town, Borough, and Village, where they for the time being ſhall be Wardens, or Maſters of any ſuch craft or myſtery, and the Mayor of ſuch City, Borough, Town, or Village, for the time being, if any Mayor be, or the Bailiffs, or Bailiff of any ſuch City, Borough, Town, or Village, for ỹ time being, if any Bailiffs or Bailiff there be, & no Mayor, or Serjeant, or any other Officer to them aſſigned by ỹ ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs or Bailiff, in every ſuch City, Borough, Town, & Village, where any ſuch craft or myſtery is uſed or occupied, where no ſuch Maſters nor Wardens of any ſuch craft or myſtery be, that the Maſters or Wardens of the crafts and myſteries of the City, Town, Borough, or Village next adjoyning to the ſame, and the Conſtable of ſuch

City, Borough, Town, or Village, ſhall have power and authority to ſearch in their own crafts and myſteries, and in all other crafts and myſteries, uttering by way of ſale any of the aforeſaid wares, as well within Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and Villages of the ſame Realm of England, and of the Countrey of Wales, as within the Liberties and Franchiſe of the ſame Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and Villages at all times reaſonable by the day, at Faires and Markets, ſhops open, and ware-houſes, all ſuch manner wares, chaffers, and merchandiſes pertaining to every of their proper crafts and myſteries, which ſhall be made by any alien artificer, man or woman, or any other perſon or perſons within the ſame Realm of England or Wales, or which at any time ſhall be occupied by any of the ſaid crafts or myſteries, in whoſe hands ſoever they may be found.

Wares and merchandiſes that be not lawful ſhall be forfeit.

Provided alſo, that the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, and other named in the ſaid Ordinance to be ſearchers, ſhall not enter in any place exempted by priviledge, franchiſe, or cuſtom, to make in the ſame any ſearch as is aforeſaid, but by the overſight of ſome Officer of every ſuch place ſo exempt where any ſuch ſearch ſhall happen to be made; and if the ſaid Searchers by the ſame ſearch do find that ſuch chaffers, wares, or merchandiſes, or any part thereof be not pure, lawful, and able chaffers, wares, or merchandiſes, and duly wrought and made, as they ought to be, and that ſufficiently proved, that then it ſhall be lawful to ſuch Searchers to take and ſeiſe all ſuch chaffers, wares, and merchandiſes, which ſhall ſo be found not good, pure, lawful, or able, nor well wrought, as a thing forfeit. The one half of the ſame forfeiture to be paid to the uſe of our Lord the King, and the other half thereof to ſuch Maſters or Wardens, which ſo ſhall make ſearch and find the ſame. And that this preſent Ordinance or Statute concerning the ſaid Artificers ſtand and be in force as long as ſhall pleaſe our Sovereign Lord the King.

The Liberties of Great St. Martins in London reſerved.

Provided always, that this Ordinance and Act, nor any other Ordinance or Act, made or to be made in this preſent Parliament, ſhall extend or in any wiſe be prejudicial or hurtful to Robert Stillington Clerk, Dean of the free Chappel of our Lord the King, of St. Martin le grand of London, nor to his ſucceſſors of the ſaid Chappel hereafter for the time being in any manner; nor to the ſaid Robert, Dean and Chapiter of the ſame Chappel, as in and for all manner privileges, liberties, franchiſes, rights, and cuſtoms, in any manner pertaining to them before this Parliament. Nor to any perſon or perſons dwelling or inhabiting, or which ſhall hereafter inhabit and dwell within the Sanctuary and precinct of the ſame Chappel, and eſpecially within the Lane, commonly called St. Martins Lane. Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 4 Edw. 4. and Anno Domini 1464.

OUr Lord King EDWARD the Fourth after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament ſummoned at Weſtminſter, the nine and twentieth day of April, in the third year of his Reign, and by divers Prorogations and Adjournments, continued till the one and twentieth day of January, in the fourth year of his ſaid Reign, on the ſame one and twentieth day of January, to the reverence of God, and for the wealth of him and his people, by the advice and aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of his Commons being in the ſaid Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

The length and breadth of clothes made to be ſold. No clothes wrought beyond Sea ſhall be brought into England.

The inconveniences which have enſued to this Realm by the deceitful making of cloth.

The length and breadth of woollen cloth called Broad cloth.

Rep. 5 Ed. 6. 6.

FIrſt, Whereas many years paſt, and now at this day, the workmanſhip of Clothes and things requiſite to the ſame, is and hath been of ſuch fraud, deceit, and falſity, that the ſaid Clothes in other Lands and Countries be had in ſmall reputation, to the great ſhame of this Land: And by reaſon thereof a great quantity of Clothes of other ſtrange Lands be brought into this Realm, and here ſold at an high and exceſſive price, evidently ſhewing the offence, default, and falſhood of the making of woollen Clothes of this Land: Our ſaid Lord the King, for the remedy of the premiſſes, and to the preferment of ſuch labours and occupations, which have been uſed by the making of the ſaid Clothes, by the advice, aſſent, and requeſt, and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form enſuing: Firſt, That every whole woollen Cloth, called Broad Cloth, which ſhall be made and ſet to ſale after the Feaſt called St. Peter ad vincula, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord M.CCCC.LXV. after the full watering & racking, ſtraining, or tenturing of the ſame ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain in length xxiiij. yards, and to every yard an inch, containing the breadth of a mans inch, to be meaſured by the creſt of the ſame Cloth. And in breadth ij. yards, or vij quarters at the leaſt with the liſts. And if the ſaid cloth be longer in meaſure then the ſaid xxiiij. yards and the inches, then the buyer thereof ſhall pay to the ſeller for as much as doth exceed ſuch meaſure of xxiiij. yards, according to the rate of the meaſure above ordained.

The length and breadth of Streits.

And it is enacted and eſtabliſhed, by authority of the ſaid Lords, that all manner Clothes called Streits, to be made and put to ſale, after the ſaid Feaſt, after the full watering, and racking, ſtraining, or tenturing thereof ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain in length xij. yards and iij. inches, according to the meaſure aforeſaid, and in breadth one yard within the liſts.

Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That every Cloth called Kerſey, to be made and put to ſale, after the ſaid Feaſt, after the full watering, racking, ſtraining, or tenturing of the ſame ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain in length xviij. yards and iij. inches, as is aforeſaid, and in breadth one yard and a nail, or at leaſt one yard within the liſt.

The length and breadth of Kerſey.

Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, that every half Cloth of every of the ſaid whole Clothes, Streits, and Kerſeys, ſhall keep his meaſure in length and breadth according to the rate, form, and nature of his whole Cloth aforeſaid. And that no perſon which ſhall make or cauſe to be made any woollen cloth to ſell after the ſaid Feaſts, ſhall mingle or put in or upon the ſame cloth nor the wooll whereof the ſaid cloth ſhall be made, any Lambs wooll, flocks, or cork in any manner, upon pain to forfeit xx. s. for every cloth or half cloth, wherein, or whereupon any ſuch Lambs wooll, flocks, or cork ſhall be put or mingled. The one half thereof to be to the King, and the other half to him that will ſeiſe the ſame cloth, and duly prove the ſame to be made contrary to this Ordinance. But it ſhall be lawful for him to make cloth of Lambs wool by it ſelf, without mingling with any other wool. Except alſo that cork may be uſed in dying upon woaded wooll, and alſo in dying of all ſuch cloth that is onely made of woaded wooll, ſo that the ſame wooll and cloth be perfectly boiled and madered. Except alſo that cork may be put upon cloth which is perfectly boiled and madered.

Half Clothes.

Lambs wooll, Flocks, or Cork, ſhall not be put into cloth but for certain cauſes. St. 7 Ed. 4. 2.

Alſo it is ordained and enacted, that every of the ſaid clothes and half clothes ſhall perfectly and rightly purſue & follow one order of workmanſhip, from one end to the other, without difference in the weaving, fulling, knotting, or burling. And in caſe any ſuch difference, or raw or skaw cokel, or fagge, happen to be in any part of the ſaid Clothes, Streits, or Kerſeis, that then a Seal of Lead therefore ordained, and by the Treaſurer of England for the time being provided, ſhall be ſet and hanged in the loweſt part of the edge of the ſame Cloth, Streit, or Kerſey, for perfect knowledge to be had to the buyer thereof. And that every of the ſaid Clothes, Streit, and Kerſey of the length and breadth aforeſaid, and alſo of the ſaid perfection, ſhall be from the Feaſt of S. Peter ad vincula, ſealed at the end of the ſame, with a double print in Lead, deviſed & ordained by the ſaid Treaſurer, in teſtimony and witneſs of the foreſaid true length, breadth, & making. And if any of the foreſaid Clothes, Streits, or Kerſeis, do not contain the aforeſaid length & breadth, or be not of the perfect workmanſhip aforeſaid, & the ij. parts of the ſame Clothes, Streits, or Kerſeys be of the true and perfect workmanſhip aforeſaid, keeping their ſaid length & breadth, that then every ſuch Cloth, Streit & Kerſey ſhall be ſealed with yͤ ſaid ſeals, in the form aforeſaid; & that every half cloth containing greater length then the half cloth, and leſs length then the whole cloth, of the ſorts of the cloths aforeſaid, being of the ſame perfect workmanſhip and breadth, ſhall be ſealed with a ſeal printed in Lead, having a mark differing from both the ſeals aforeſaid, in teſtimony and witneſs of the true length, breadth, and making of the half cloth. And if any woollen cloth of any ſort of the clothes before recited, perfectly made, and having breadth after the ſort before limited, containing iij. yards and an half, or more, or leſs then the half cloth, be put to ſale, after the ſaid Feaſt, the ſame cloth ſhall be ſealed with a ſeal printed in Lead, having a mark differing from any of the ſaid ſeals, for a knowledge to be had of the default of the half cloth, the ſaid ſeals to be deviſed and ordained by the ſaid Treaſurer, and to be put at the end of every of the half clothes, and clothes leſs then half clothes. Alſo by the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the Treaſurer of England for the time being ſhall have power and authority to make ſuch and as many keepers of the ſaid ſeals as he ſhall think neceſſary; So that no ſtranger born be made any of the ſaid keepers. And that every of the ſaid keepers ſo to be made, ſhall accompt yearly of the revenues of their ſaid Offices in the ſaid Exchequer before the Treaſurer of England, and the Barons there for the time being, duly ſhewing in the ſame accompts the number of the clothes, half clothes, Streits, and Kerſeis ſealed by them, with the names of the owners of the ſame: Every of yͤ ſame keepers to be rewarded yearly at his ſaid accompt for his labour and diligence had in this behalf at the receit of the ſaid Eſchequer, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Treaſurer & Barons, without paiment of any thing in the ſaid Eſchequer, in or for the making of his ſaid accompt. And in caſe any of the ſaid keepers do ſeal any of the aforeſaid clothes with any other ſeal, or any of the ſame clothes otherwiſe made then according to the manner and ordinance above ſpecified, and that by ſufficient proof and examination ſhewed and approved before the ſaid Treaſurer and Barons, by the ſaid depoſition, teſtimony, and witneſs of ſuch ſufficient perſons, of good and due reputation, which have had prompt experience in weaving, fulling, and making of clothes: or if the ſame keeper do refuſe to ſeal any of theſe clothes, made according to the ſaid manner and ordinance: or if any ſuch Keeper or Aulnager do take after the ſaid Feaſt for the King, of any perſon for the ſealing or meaſuring of any ſorts of cloth, any other ſum of mony then is contained in the Statutes and Ordinances made before this time, and not repealed; or if any ſuch Keeper or Aulnager, after the ſaid Feaſt, do refuſe to ſhew his Commiſſion of his Office to any perſon deſiring the ſame upon the ſealing or meaſuring of any ſuch clothes before rehearſed, and that examined and duly proved, that then he, as often as he ſhall offend in any of the premiſſes, ſhall forfeit the ſum of xx. s. the one half thereof to the King, and the other half to the party proving the ſaid offences therein by ſuit to be made before the ſaid Treaſurer and Barons, by bill of debt in the ſaid Eſchequer, in which bill like judgment and execution ſhall be had, as is accuſtomably had and uſed againſt other accomptants in the ſame Eſchequer. And that theſe Statutes and Ordinances, and other Statutes and Ordinances made before this time and not repealed, concerning any of the premiſſes, ſhall be contained and ſpecified in every Commiſſion to be made, to every ſuch Keeper or Aulnager, after the ſaid Feaſt. Alſo whereas before this time in the occupations of Cloth-making, the Labourers thereof have been driven to take a great part of their wages in pins, girdles, and other unprofitable wares, Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno ſeptimo Edwardi quarti, & Anno Domini 1467.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the third day of June, the ſeventh year of the Reign of King Edward the fourth after the Conqueſt: Our ſaid Lord the King, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt of his Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

The Election, Oath, Authority, Searching and Sealing of the Wardens of Worſted-Weavers in Norwich and Norfolk.

FIrſt, For that there be aſwell within the City of Norwich, as elſewhere within the County of Norfolk, divers perſons, which do make untrue wares of all manner of Worſteds, not being of the aſſiſe in length nor in breadth, nor of good ſtuff, and right making, as they ought to be, and of old time were accuſtomed, and the ſleyes and yarn pertaining to the ſame not well made and wrought, in great deceit aſwell of denizens, as of ſtrangers inhabiting or repairing to this Realm, which have uſed and do uſe to buy ſuch merchandiſes, truſting that they were within as they ſeemed without, where indeed it is contrary. And for that the Worſteds in times paſt were lawfully wrought, and merchandiſe were liked, and greatly deſired and eſteemed in the parts beyond the Sea: Now becauſe they be of no right making, nor good ſtuff, they be reported and eſteemed deceitful and unlawful merchandiſe, and of little regard, to the great damage of our Lord the King, and great prejudice of his loyal ſubjects: Our ſaid Lord the King, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of his Commons, being in the ſaid Parliament, and by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, for the wealth of his people, and the perpetual amendment of the ſaid Worſteds, and eſchewing and avoiding all manner deceits to be done and wrought in Worſteds, by them that work the ſame, and are the means thereof: hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that men of the ſaid craft within the ſaid City, ſhall have power every year, the Munday next after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, to chooſe four Wardens within the ſaid City of the ſame Craft. And alſo that Artificers of the ſame Craft likewiſe out of the City, that is to ſay, within the county of Norfolk, ſhall have power every year at the ſame day to chooſe four Wardens within and of the ſaid County, of the ſame Craft. And the aforeſaid Wardens in the ſaid county and City, to come before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, upon the Munday next after the Feaſt of Corpus Chriſti then next following, and then to be ſworn before the Mayor of the ſaid City, and the Steward of the Dutchy of Lancaſter within the ſaid county for the time being, if it happen him within the ſaid county then to be preſent, or elſe before the ſaid Maior only, the ſaid Steward then being abſent. And that all the ſaid Wardens, as well within the ſaid City as without, or elſe the greateſt part of them, under this form before recited, choſen and ſworn, ſhall have full power for the year then next following, to ſurvey the workmanſhip of the ſaid Artificers, and that they make and work rightfully and well and of good ſtuff, and to ordain ſuch rules and ordinances within the ſaid craft, as often as it ſhall ſeem needful or neceſſary for the amendment of the ſaid Worſteds and craft: and that all ſuch rules and ordinances ſo made and ordained by them, ſhall be obeyed and kept by the ſaid Artificers.

Four Wardens of Worſted weavers in Norwich, and other four in Norfolk.

Four Wardens ſhall take their oath before the Mayor, &c. 26 H. 8. 16.

The Wardens power.

Puniſhment of the offenders.

The length and bredth of pieces of Worſted.

Wardens may ſeiſe defective ſtuff.

Or otherwiſe four of the ſaid Wardens, calling to them ſix of the moſt diſcreet of the ſaid artificers within the ſaid city, and ſix of the ſame artificers within the ſaid county, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Mayor and Steward, or one of them, ſhall puniſh ſuch of the ſaid artificers, which breaketh or doth contrary to any of their ſaid rules and ordinances. And that every piece of Worſted ſhall be purſuing through the piece of lawful making, good and convenient ſtuff: And that they ſhall hold the length and bredth as the aſſiſe was wont to be of old time rightfully accuſtomed, that is to ſay, beds of the greateſt aſſiſe, fourteen yards largely in length, & four yards largely in bredth: and beds of the mean aſſiſe, twelve yards in length, and three yards in bredth: and beds of the leaſt aſſiſe, ten yards in length, and five quarters in bredth: and clothes called Monks clothes, twelve yards in length at the leaſt, and five quartes in bredth: and clothes called Chanon clothes, of the one aſſiſe ſix yards in length, and two yards in bredth, and of the other aſſiſe five yards in length, and ſeven quarters in bredth: and double Motleyes ſeven yards in length, and five quarters in bredth: and ſingle Motleyes ſix yards in length, and five quarters in bredth: and double Worſted ten yards in length, and five quarters in bredth: and the half double Worſted ſix yards in length, and five quarters in bredth: and the roll of Worſted thirty yards in length, and half a yard in bredth. And that no lambs wooll be put in any of the ſaid Worſteds: and that the Wardens of the ſaid craft, and every of them, for the time being, ſhall have power and authority to ſeiſe all ſuch clothes and ſtuff ſo being defective.

The Mayor and ſteward, &c. may enquire of, hear and determine all offences.

Twelve artificers ſhall enquire of the viij. Wardens.

And that the Mayor and Steward, and every of them, by twelve of the diſcreet Artificers of the ſaid city and county, ſhall have power at all times to enquire, hear, and determine of all ſuch as do againſt the ſaid ordinances within the ſaid city or county: And moreover, in eſchewing all ſuch deceits and falſhoods which might happen to be wrought and done in the ſaid craft by the eight Wardens aforeſaid or betwixt themſelves only, or in concealing of the falſe workmanſhip of other of the ſaid Artificers in the ſaid city and county, that the Mayor of the ſaid city for the time being, and the ſaid Steward, or one of them, at ſuch time as he ſhall think convenient, ſhall call before him the ſaid twelve Artificers, or the greateſt part of them, and charge them to be ſworn to make rightful ſearch as well in the ſtuff, as in all the working of the Worſted by the ſaid eight Wardens hereafter to be wrought and made.

The puniſhment of the Wardens defective.

Where the Wardens may ſearch.

And that the ſaid Wardens ſo found defective either in execution of their office in ſearch of all other of the ſame Artifices within the ſaid City and County, or elſe in their own ſtuff or workmanſhip, ſhall be corrected by the ſaid Mayor or Steward in ſuch form as other offenders of the ſame craft ought of right to be corrected. And that the ſaid wardens and every of them in every part of the ſaid City of Norwich, and elſewhere in the counties of Norfolk, Suffolk, and Cambridge, at all times convenient ſhall have power to ſearch all manner of Worſteds, and the ſtuff of them, as well within the Loomes, as out of the Loomes, wrought within the ſaid City of Norwich, or County of Norfolk.

Defective ſtuff ſhall be forfeit.

Every man ſhall ſet his proper mark upon his worſted.

And if any man before the ſaid Mayor and Steward, or either of them, be thereof found defective, by their diſcretion he ſhall be corrected, and the Worſted and ſtuff found in manner and form aforeſaid defective, ſhall be forfeit. The one half of ſuch forfeiture found in the ſaid City of Norwich to be to the Mayor of the ſame City, and found in any other place, to the Mayor, or Bailiffs of the Cities, Boroughs and Towns, or to the chief Lords of the Fee, of and in ſuch place as ſhall happen any ſuch Worſteds and ſtuff by the ſaid Wardens, or by any of them by any cauſe aforeſaid to be found defective or forfeitable: and the other half to the Wardens of the ſaid craft for the time being. And that no man of the ſaid craft make any Worſted, unleſs he put his proper mark fixed or woven upon the ſame by the ordinance of the ſaid Wardens, or elſe the ſame Worſted ſhall be forfeit to our ſaid Lord the King.

Places of ſearch ſhall be appointed and alſo days.

Wardens ſhall ſet their mark.

Moreover, for the full reformation of the deceits and falſhood above rehearſed, by authority aforeſaid, it is ordained and enacted, that the ſaid eight wardens, the ſaid Munday next after Corpus Christi, yearly incontinently after their charge recited before the ſaid Mayor and Steward, or one of them, ſhall aſſign incontinently a certain place or two within the ſaid City, and certain days by the week, and another certain place, or two, or more, if they think it neceſſary, in the ſaid County of Norfolk, and certain days by the week for the year then next following, to the intent that every piece of worſted, which in the ſame year ſhall be ſet to ſale, ſhall be brought before the Wardens of the ſaid craft for the time being, to one of the ſaid places ſo by them aſſigned, to the intent that aſwell the Artificers of Worſteds, and the ſaid Wardens may certainly know the place where the ſaid Worſteds may duly and rightfully be ſearched; and if the ſaid Wardens find the ſaid Worſteds by their ſearch well and lawfully made, that then ſuch a mark or token ſhall be ſet by the ſaid Wardens or by one of them, without fine or fee, upon the ſame, ſo that all buyers may well know, which piece is ſufficiently and rightfully ſearched and wrought; and that the ſaid ſearch ſhall as well extend to the ſtuff of the ſame, as to the ſufficient making. And ſuch as they ſhall find defective, that the Mayor of the ſaid City and Steward of the ſaid Dutchy, or one of them for the time being, by the aſſent of the ſaid Wardens and twelve Artificers, ſhall have power by this Act to ſet therein ſuch correction as to them ſhall ſeem reaſonable; and for every piece of Worſted, ſold not marked after the form aforeſaid, that the firſt ſeller thereof ſhall forfeit the price of the piece ſo by him ſold to our Lord the King. And that all Ordinances, Acts, and Grants made or to be made in prejudice, or contrary to the premiſſes concerning Worſteds, be void, and of none effect.

All officers ſhall be attendant upon the ſearchers.

And that all Mayors, Sheriffs, and Bailiffs, and all other officers ſhall be attending, aiding and ſupporting to the ſaid Wardens in their ſearch, as often as they or any of them ſhall be by the ſaid wardens or any of them reaſonably required. St. 20 H.6.10. 23 H.6.4. 14 H.8.3. 14 Car. 2. ca. 5.

CAP. I.

The inhabitants of certain Hundreds in the County of Devon may put flocks in the Cloth made of the Wooll growing in the ſame Hundreds.

ITem, It was ſhewed to our ſaid Lord the King in the ſaid Parliament, by the inhabitants and reſidents of the Hundreds of Liſton, Taveſtock, and Rowburgh within the County of Devonſhire, that whereas in the laſt Parliament begun at Weſtminſter the nine and twentieth day of April, the third year of his reign, and by divers prorogations and adjournments continued till the xxi. of January, in the iv. year of his reign, amongſt other things it was ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, that no perſon which ſhould make any woollen Cloth to ſell, from the Feaſt called S. Peter ad vincula then next following, ſhould put in or upon the ſame Cloth, nor in the wooll whereof the ſaid Cloth ſhall be made, any flocks in any wiſe, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Cloth, wherein any flocks ſhould be put or mixt, as by the ſaid ordinance more plainly appeareth: By which ordinance the ſaid inhabitants being within the ſaid Hundreds were likely to be undone, for that they have continually uſed from the time whereof is no memory, to mix and put flocks in the Cloth made there of the wooll growing within the ſame Hundreds, without which flocks they might nor could make any Cloth there to ſell, by reaſon of the groſneſs and ſtubborneſs of the ſaid wooll: For the ſame wooll is not put in Clothing, nor in Cloth in any part of this Realm; ſo that our ſaid Lord the King by the ſaid ordinance ſhall loſe his Cuſtoms, Aulnages, and all other profits pertaining and belonging to him of the ſaid Cloth made in the ſaid Hundreds, and the inhabitants aforeſaid for ever ſhall be utterly impoveriſhed, and like to be undone, unleſs a reformation be had in the premiſſes.

St. 4 Ed. 4. 1.

Our ſaid Lord the King (the premiſſes conſidered) by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, hath ordained, that all the ſaid inhabitants and reſidents in any places within the ſame three hundreds, may make and cauſe to be made all manner woollen Cloth of the ſaid wooll, and to the ſame lawfully put and cauſe to be put ſuch quantity of flocks as ſhall be needful, and profitable to the maker and owner of the ſame Cloth. And that all the Cloths after ſuch form to be made with flocks within the ſaid three Hundreds, and every of them, may be bought and ſold at all times, without any impeaching or damage of any perſon, and without forfeiting any of the ſaid Clothes, notwithſtanding the ſaid ordinance above rehearſed. St. 5 Ed. 6. 6. 27 El. 17.

The inhabitants of Liſton, Taveſtock, and Rowburgh, may put flocks into their clothes, notwithſtanding the Stat. of 4 Ed. 4. 1.

CAP. III.

No Woollen yarn or Cloth ſhall be carried beyond Sea unfulled.

ITem, it was ſhewed in the ſaid Parliament by the Commons, that whereas in divers parts within this Realm, Merchants, as well Strangers as Denizens, have daily uſed to buy woollen yarn by the pound, and other weights, in divers Markets and Fairs, whereof Cloth ſhould be made: and likewiſe to buy raw Cloths not fulled, and the ſame yarn and raw Cloths ſo not fulled, did carry beyond the ſea, for all which yarn and Cloths unfulled our Lord the King did take no manner Cuſtom, Aulnage, nor any other profit or avail; where if the ſaid yarn were woven, and the ſaid Cloths fulled within this Realm, the King ſhould have the Cuſtom and advantage for the ſame, and Weavers and Fullers of the ſaid Realm ſhould be well occupied, for default whereof the Kings liege people be greatly hurt and impoveriſhed, and ſtrangers thereby the better occupied and enriched: Wherefore our ſaid Lord the King by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt of his Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That no perſon, denizen or ſtranger, from the Feaſt day of the Aſſumption, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God 1468. ſhall carry or cauſe to be carried into any parts beyond the ſea any woollen yarn or cloth not fulled, but that the woollen yarn which ſhall be made after the ſame Feaſt day in this Realm, ſhall be woven in the ſame Realm. And alſo all cloth therein made, after the ſaid Feaſt day, ſhall be fulled, and fully wrought within the ſaid Realm, before that it be had and carried out of this Realm, upon pain of forfeiture of the very value of all ſuch yarn unwoven, and cloth not fulled, had or carried out of this Realm. The one half of the ſame forfeiture to be levied to the Kings uſe, and the other half thereof to him or them that eſpieth or maketh proof of any ſuch unwoven yarn, or cloth not fulled after the ſaid Feaſt day to be carried to any place beyond the ſea. St. 50 Ed. 3. 7.

No perſon ſhall carry beyond the ſea any woollen yarn, or cloth not fulled. St. 3 H. 7. 11. 8 El. 6. 3 H. 8. 7.

CAP. IV.

The effect of the Kings grant of Lands to them which before had right in them.

ITem, By the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid it is ordained, That every grant, releaſe, confirmation, and reſtitution made and granted by the King in Fee ſimple, or Fee tail, to any perſon or perſons after the fourth day of March, the firſt year of his Reign, of any manor or manors, lands, or tenements with their appurtenances, whereunto the ſaid perſon or perſons before the time of every ſuch grant, releaſe, confirmation, or reſtitution to him or them ſo made, had in or to the ſame right or title, ſhall be of ſuch force and effect as they were before the beginning of the ſaid Parliament: Any Act made or to be made in the ſame Parliament notwithſtanding.

The force of the Kings grants, releaſes, &c. of lands to them which before had right to them.

CAP.

CAP. V.

How lands coming to the Kings hands by attainder, and after granted to another, ſhall be holden.

Lands holden of a common perſon by fealty, &c. coming to the Kings hands by attainder of treaſon, being after granted to another, ſhall be holden as if the ſame attainder had not been.

ITem, By the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid it is ordained, that all lands, tenements, hereditaments, and other poſſeſſions, which the firſt day of March, next before the fourth day of March, the firſt year of the Kings reign, were holden by fealty and rent, or other ſervices, of any perſon or perſons not attainted, which lands, tenements, hereditaments, or other poſſeſſions the iv. day of March, in the firſt year of the Kings reign, or any time after came into the Kings hands or poſſeſſion, by reaſon of any attainder of treaſon, and after paſſed from the King by any of his Letters Patents, to any perſon or perſons, or hereafter ſhall paſs from the King by any of his Letters Patents, to any perſon or perſons, that the ſame perſon or perſons, and every of them, and every their heir and heirs, aſſignee and aſſignees, ſucceſſor and ſucceſſors, ſhall have, perceive, and take ſuch rent and rents, as to any of them were due, and ought to be due of the ſame lands, tenements, hereditaments, or other poſſeſſions, or any of them being in the hands of any other perſon or perſons then the King, as if the ſaid attainders had not been had: And that it ſhall be lawful to every perſon or perſons not attainted, and to every of them, and to every of their heir or heirs, aſſignee, and aſſignees, ſucceſſor, and ſucceſſors, in the ſame lands, tenements, hereditaments or other poſſeſſions, being in the hands of any other perſon or perſons then of the King, for the ſaid rent or rents to diſtrain, after ſuch manner and form as they and every of them might have done, if the ſame attainders had not been had. This Act to be in his force the firſt day of this ſaid Parliament.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno octavo Edwardi quarti, & Anno Domini 1468.

OUr Lord the King, Edward the fourth after the Conqueſt, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the third day of June, the ſeventh year of his Reign, and by divers Prorogations and Adjournments continued till the twelfth day of May, the eighth year of his reign: The ſame xij. day, by the advice and aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial requeſt of his Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, hath made, ordained and eſtabliſhed divers Statutes and Ordinances in the form following.

CAP. I.

The length, breadth, and weight of broad ſet Cloths, and ſtrait ſet Cloths made in Norfolk, Suffolk, and Eſſex. And they ſhall be ſealed by the Aulnager. Rep. 5 Ed. 6. 6.

CAP. II.

The penalty for giving or taking of Liveries, or for retaining. Rep. 3 Car. 4.

Cro. El. 314

CAP. III.

In actions triable by Jurors of Middleſex, the Jurors ſhall be called the fourth day.

The ſeveral charges and troubles which the freeholders of Middleſex being Jurors do endure.

ITem, It was ſhewed by the Commons in the ſaid Parliament, on the behalf of the freeholders dwelling within the County of Middleſex, within which County there be yearly many actions ſued and trials had by twelve men, which be within many other Counties of this Realm, in regard of the reſiance of all the Kings Courts holden and remaining at Weſtminſter within the ſaid County, ſo that in every action brought to an iſſue in the ſaid County, ſome of the ſaid freeholders be impanelled, to their great vexation: and further, the Seſſions of Peace holden within the ſaid County, by inquiſitions in the Kings Bench, and upon the deliverance of priſoners there, and by actions upon Patents and Tailes ſued in the Kings Eſchequer, and to Sheriffs and other accountants, their Deputies and Atturnies, ſurmiſes be ſhewed and iſſues thereupon joyned and taken, the ſame tenants always impanelled thereupon be importunately vexed, grieved and impoveriſhed, and (which more hurt is) when they be impanelled upon divers actions perſonal, and the Venire facias, and Habeas Corpora returned, a delay by eſſoin or default is by the Law allowed to the party plaintiff, or defendant: and though ſome of them which be impanelled ſhould appear, yet the Jury ſhould not be demanded, but all their defaults without demanding (be it amerciaments or iſſues ſo upon them returned) ſhall be entred, no fault being in them, which is againſt reaſon: Our Lord the King (the premiſſes conſidered) by the advice of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, that every Juror, from the Feaſt of the bleſſed Trinity next coming, that ſhall be impanelled and returned within the ſaid County of Middleſex, in any of the ſaid Courts, in any of the ſaid actions, at every fourth day of the return thereof ſhall be demanded and called; and that all perſons impanelled in any of thoſe Courts that do appear at the ſame day, their appearance ſhall be recorded and there entred by the Court, and they ſhall not be amerced, nor loſe any Iſſues the ſame day in that ſuit. And it is ordained by the ſame authority, that every default, eſſoin, and every other delay of any perſon, plaintiff or defendant, in any ſuch perſonal action by the Law heretofore uſed, by this ordinance ſhall not be prejudiced, nor taken away in any manner, but be adjudged, adjourned, and allowed, in as ample and large form, as they were before the making of this Statute; This ordinance notwithſtanding.

In actions triable in any court at Weſtminſter by Jurors of Middleſex, at the fourth day after the return, the Jurors ſhall be called. Delays in perſonal actions not prejudiced by this ſtatute.

CAP. IV.

A Pardon to all thoſe that occupied the Sheriffwick above one year, Anno 1. 2. 3 Ed. 4. And yet the Statutes made 14 Ed. 3. 7. 42 Ed. 3. & 23 H. 6. 8. for all the other years ſhall continue. Exp.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno 12 *Ed.*4. & Anno Dom. 1472.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the vi. day of October, in the xij. year of the Reign of King Edward the fourth, after the Conqueſt: Our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, to the honour of God, and the weal of him and of his Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of his Commons in the ſame Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament, hath ordained, made and eſtabliſhed, certain Statutes and Ordinances in form following.

CAP. I.

How long a Sheriff being not diſcharged may occupy his office.

St. 23 H 6.8.

FIrſt, Whereas by a Statute made at Weſtminſter, in the xxiij. year of the reign of King Henry late in deed and not of right King of England, called King Henry the ſixth, it was ordained, that no Sheriff ſhould occupy his office of Sheriff above a year, upon pain of two hundred pounds, except certain perſons in the ſaid Statute excepted, as in the ſame is more plainly ſpecified: Divers and many of the Kings liege people have been grievouſly endamaged and greatly delayed of their ſuits and proceſſes every year, in the Term called Michaelmas Term, as for their actions, writs and precepts to be returned within the ſame Term, after the ſixth day of the moneth of November, becauſe that the Kings Letters Patents whereby any Sheriff is made, do moſt commonly bear date the ſixth day of November. And though it ſo be, that the new Sheriffs be yearly choſen the morrow after the Feaſt-day of All ſouls, of which new Sheriffs ſo choſen and appointed, divers of them have refuſed, and divers of them have not had their patents, nor taken their oath, until long time after the end of the ſaid Michaelmas Term; by reaſon whereof divers of the Kings liege people and ſubjects be greatly endamaged and delayed of their ſuits, proceſſes, and precepts, which ſhould be returnable in the Kings Courts at the days of the return within the ſame Term after the ſixth day of November, that is to ſay, at the days of return, called Craſtino Martini, Octabis Martini, and Quindena Martini, becauſe that the old Sheriffs durſt not, nor would not take upon them to return any Writ or precept after the year that his patent did bear date, for fear of the penalty contained in the aforeſaid Statute, to the great loſs as well to the King of that which ſhould grow to him by reaſon of the ſaid proceſs, as to his liege people, by delays which they thereby ſuſtain: It is ordained by authority of the foreſaid Parliament, that if any Sheriff of any County do execute or return any writ, precept, or Warrant in any of the ſaid Courts of the King within the ſaid Term called Michaelmas Term, after the ſixth day of November, and before any Writ of diſcharge delivered to him of his occupying of Sheriffwick, he ſhall not be damnified by force of the ſaid Statute, nor charged of the penalty aforeſaid, although that he hath occupied the office of Sheriff after any of the ſaid days of return called Craſtino Martini, Octabis Martini, or Quindena Martini. St. 17 Ed. 4. 6.

A Sheriff being not diſcharged may occupy his office during Michaelmas Term, notwithſtanding the St. of 23 H.6.8.

CAP. II.

Four Bow-ſtaves ſhall be brought into this Realm, for every Tun of Merchandiſe.

Co.Inſt.4.p.254.

ITem, Becauſe that our Soveraign Lord the King by a petition delivered to him in the ſaid Parliament by the Commons of the ſame, hath perceived, that great ſcarcity of Bowſtaves is now in this Realm, and the Bowſtaves that be in the Realm be ſold at an exceſſive price, whereby the exerciſe of Archery is greatly diſcontinued, and almoſt loſt: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice, aſſent and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that every Merchant ſtranger, and every, or any of their factors, atturnies, or ſervants, which at any time after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall bring, ſend, or convey into this land any merchandiſe in Carrack, galley, or ſhip, of the City or country of Venice, or of other city, town, or countrey, from whence any ſuch Bowſtaves have been before this time brought, ſent, or conveyed into this land, at every time of their bringing, ſending, or conveying of any ſuch merchandiſes into this Realm, ſhall bring, ſend, or convey into this Realm, with the ſaid merchandiſes, in the ſame Carrack, galley, or ſhip, wherein any ſuch merchandiſes ſhall be hereafter brought, ſent, or conveyed, for every tun weight of ſuch merchandiſes, which hereafter ſhall be contained in every Carrack, galley, or ſhip, four Bowſtaves, upon pain of forfeiture to the King for every default of bringing of every ſuch Bowſtaff vi. s. viij. d. And alſo the ſaid Bowſtaves ſo brought, ſent, or conveyed by the ſaid Merchants, their factors, atturnies, or ſervants, into this Realm, ſhall be ſearched and ſurveyed by the Major, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or chief governors of ſuch cities, or towns within this Realm, where any ſuch Carrack, galley, or ſhip ſhall hereafter come to ſafe port: And the ſaid Majors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or chief governours ſhall aſſign two men moſt expert, to ſearch the ſaid Staves, and the ſaid two men to be ſworn by the ſaid Major, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or chief governors, that they ſhall truly and indifferently mark the ſtaves that be not good and ſufficient, according to the manner as ſuch ſtaves in times paſt were wont to be marked, to the intent that all the Kings liege people may have knowledge of them without fraud. St. 13 El. 14.

Four Bowſtaves ſhall be brought unto this Realm for every Tun of Merchandiſes.

Bowſtaves brought into this Realm ſhall be ſurveyed, ſearched and marked.

St. 47 Ed.3.2.

ITem; Whereas by the laudable ſtatute of Magna Charta, amongſt other things, it is contained, that all Kedels by Thamiſe and Medway, and throughout the Realm of England, ſhould be taken away, ſaving by the Seabanks, which ſtatute was made for the great wealth of all this land, in avoiding the ſtraitneſs of all Rivers, ſo that ſhips and boats might have in them their large and free paſſage, and alſo in ſafegard of all the fry of Fiſh ſpawned within the ſame; upon which Magna Charta the great ſentence and Apoſtolike curſe by a great number of Biſhops was pronounced againſt the breakers of the ſame, and the ſame ſentence is four times in the year openly declared according to the law of the holy Church: and in affirmance of the ſaid ſtatute of the great Charter divers ſtatutes have been after made and ordained, amongſt which in a Parliament holden in the firſt year of the uſurped reign of King Henry the fourth it was recited that in the xxv. year of King Edward the third, progenitor of our Lord the King that now is, becauſe that the common paſſages of ſhips and boats in the great Rivers of England were oftentimes diſturbed by levying of Weares, Mils, Milſtanks, Stakes and Kedles, to the great damage of the people, it was ordained and eſtabliſhed that all ſuch Weares, Mils, Milſtanks, Stakes, Kedles, which were levied and ſet up in the time of King Edward, ſon of King Henry, and after in ſuch Rivers (whereby the ſhips and boats were diſturbed that they could not paſs as they were wont) ſhould be taken away and broken down, never to be ſet up again: and that Writs ſhould be thereupon ſent to the Sheriff of ſuch places where need ſhould be, to ſurvey and enquire and the ſame to execute; and that Juſtices ſhould be thereto aſſigned at all times when need required. And after grievous complaint both of great men and of the Commons thereupon made in the Parliament of the ſaid King Edward the third, in the five and fortieth year of his reign, ſhewing by their petition, that the ſaid ſtatute was not duely executed nor obſerved according to the form and the effect thereof: It was accorded and eſtabliſhed, that the ſame ſtatute in that point ſhould be holden and kept, according to the tenor of the ſame: adjoyned thereto, that if any ſuch annoyance be done, that the ſame be broken down by due proceſs contained in the ſaid ſtatute, and that he which again doth levy ſuch annoyances, and be thereof duly attainted, ſhall run in the pain of an C. marks to our Lord the King, to be levied by the eſtreats of the Eſchequer. The ſame Law ſhall be holden of annoyance made by the enhanſing of the ſaid Wears, Mils, Milſtanks, Stakes and Kedles, as by new levying, as in the ſaid ſtatutes more plainly appeareth. And then at the requeſt of the ſaid commons, ſhewing by their petition, that the common paſſages of ſhips and boats in the great Rivers of England, and alſo medowes and paſtures, and arable lands adjoyning to the ſaid Rivers, were greatly diſturbed, drowned, waſted, and deſtroyed by the outragious enhanſing and ſtreiting of Wears, Mils, Milſtanks, Stakes, and Kedles, made in old time and levied before the time of the ſaid King Edward, ſon to the ſaid King Henry; whereby great loſs and damage often enſued to the people of the Realm, and daily would enſue if remedy were not provided:

Wherefore it was ordained and enacted by the aſſent of the ſaid Parliament, holden the firſt year of the ſaid pretenſed King Henry the iv. that the ſaid ſtatutes in all their articles ſhould be obſerved, firmly kept, and duely executed: adjoyning thereto that Commiſſions ſhould be made in due form to ſufficient perſons to be Juſtices in every county of England, where need ſhould be, to ſurvey and keep the waters and great rivers there, and to correct and amend the faults, and to make due execution by the ſaid ſtatutes, according to the effect of the ſame, as well by their ſurvey, advice and diſcretion, as by enqueſts to be taken thereof within franchiſe and without, when need ſhall be, and to hear and determine all thoſe things aforeſaid, and moreover to ſurvey the wears, mils, milſtanks, ſtakes, and kedles, made in old time and levied before the ſaid time of King Edward, ſon to King Henry: and ſuch as they find too much enhanſed or ſtreited, to correct, break down, and amend in the manner and form aforeſaid.

Saving always a reaſonable ſubſtance of the ſame weares, mils, milſtanks, ſtakes, and kedles, ſo made in old time and levied. And if any ſuch annoyances of weares, mils, milſtanks, ſtakes and kedles, in letting of the paſſages and ſtreiting made in old time and levied, be judged or conſidered by the ſaid Juſtices to be broken down or amended, he that hath the freehold of the ſame ſhall do execution thereof at his own coſt, within half a year after knowledge given to him, upon pain of forfeiture of an C. mark, to be paid to our Lord the King by eſtreats in the Exchequer: and he that doth levy them again, enhanſe, or ſtreit them contrary to the ſaid judgment, and thereof be duely convict, ſhall run in pain of an C. marks to be paid to our Lord the King by eſtreats into the Exchequer aforeſaid, as in the ſame ſtatutes more fully appeareth: Contrary to which great Charter, and all the ſtatutes aforeſaid, in divers parts of this Realm of England, both in the deſtroying of the fiſh as afore is ſaid, and in diſturbance of the paſſages of ſhips, barges, boats, and other veſſels, by divers and many people, divers fiſhgarths, mils, mildams, milſtanks, locks, ebbing wears, ſtakes, kedles, hecks, or flodgates, and divers other diſturbances be daily enhaunſed, levied and enlarged, to the great damage of our Lord the King, and of his faithful lieges. Our ſaid Lord the King graciouſly conſidering the premiſſes, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons in this Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that the ſaid ſtatute of the great Charter, and all other ſtatutes concerning the premiſſes, ſhall be duly obſerved and kept: Adjoyned thereto, that if after the feaſt of S. Michael, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1475. by award, rule, or judgment of any of the ſaid Commiſſioners aſſigned, according to the ſaid ſtatute made in the ſaid firſt year of Henry the fourth, it be found that any ſuch weares, fiſhgarthes, mils, mildams, milſtanks, locks, ebbing weares, ſtakes, kedles, hecks, or flodgates, be made, levied, enhaunſed, ſtraited or enlarged, againſt the ſame ſtatute, the offenders in this behalf, contrary to the aforeſaid award, rule and judgment, being duly warned by the Sheriff or Sheriffs by Scire facias, directed to the Sheriff or Sheriffs of ſuch County or Counties where ſuch wears, fiſhgarthes, mils, mildams, milſtanks, and other noyances, diſturbances, or impediments be, and within three moneths next after the ſaid garniſhment made they do not duly and wholly amend, break down, and avoid the ſaid making, levying, enhaunſing, ſtreiting or enlarging, being defective as afore is ſaid in the ſaid ſtatute made in the ſaid firſt year, that then he or they being defective in this behalf, ſhall forfeit to our Lord the King an C. marks, to be paid by eſtreats in the Eſchequer, in manner and form as in the ſame ſtatute more fully is contained.

A confirmation of all Statutes made for the pulling down of wears.

Co.10.f.138.

The penalty of an offendor that doth not perform the award of Commiſſioners authorized by the Stat. of. 1 H.4.12.

Moreover, if the ſaid offendor or his heir or heirs, aſſignee, or aſſignees, or any of them do defer or continue the ſame default, contrary to the award, rule or judgment of the Commiſſioners aforeſaid, that he or they ſo doing, deferring or continuing the ſaid default, ſhall forfeit for every moneth after the ſaid three moneths ended, that the ſame default ſhall remain and be not corrected, amended, nor reformed, an C. marks, the one half thereof to our Lord the King, and the other half to any of his liege people which in this behalf will ſue for the ſame by action of debt to be conceived by original Writ, without fine to be made or taken for the ſame in the Chancery.

The penalty of him which doth continue in his offence, or doth both delay to reform it.

In which action, like proceſs, rule, judgment and execution ſhall be allowed, had and made, as is uſed in other actions of debt purſued at the common Law by writ; and that the defendant in any ſuch action be not admitted to do or wage his Law, nor that any protection, or eſſoin of the Kings ſervice be allowed for the defendant in the ſame Writ.

Moreover it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the ſame authority, that if any perſon or perſons, other then ſuch againſt whom ſuch award, rule or judgment were made and had, being heir or aſſignee to them or any of them, do preſume to occupy or continue any ſuch weares, fiſhgarths, mils, mildams, milſtanks, locks, ebbing weares, ſtakes, kedles, hecks, flodgates or other diſturbances, or impediments as afore is ſaid, he or they ſo preſuming to occupy or continue, ſhall forfeit at every default, for every moneth, as is aforeſaid, an C. marks, the one half to our Lord the King, and the other half to him of the Kings liege people that will in this behalf ſue by action of debt, thereupon to be conceived, without paying any fine for the ſame as is aforeſaid: In which action like proceſs, rule, judgment, and execution ſhall be uſed and made as in all other actions of debt purſued at the common Law by Writ is uſed: and that the defendant in any ſuch action ſhall not be admitted, nor in any wiſe received to wage or do his Law: Nor any manner protection or eſſoin of the Kings ſervice be for ſuch defendant in any wiſe allowed.

The penalty of the heir or aſſignee of the offender that continueth the ſame offence.

CAP. VIII.

All Majors, Bailiffs, &c. ſhall have the ſearching and ſurveying of victual.

Co.Inſt.4 p.262.

ITem, Whereas the governours, that is to ſay, Majors, Bailiffs, and other like governours of every City, Borough and Town of ſubſtance within this Realm of England for the moſt part have Courts of Leets and viewes of frankpledge, holden yearly within the ſame Cities, Boroughs and Towns, and ſurveying of all victualers there, and correction and puniſhment of the offenders and breakers of the aſſiſe of the ſame, to be preſented and amerced if any default be found in the ſaid Courts, or by their ſurveying, which by reaſon ought not to be contraried, nor the victualers there by the Law ought to be ſurcharged, or oppreſſed as now of late divers perſons daily intending their ſingular availe and profit to oppreſs the ſaid Victualers, and to enter and break the liberty of divers places in this Realm, having franchiſes, and ſurveying of all victualers and correction of the ſame, have purchaſed Letters Patents of our Soveraign Lord the King, to be ſurveyors and correctors of all ſuch victualers within divers Cities, Boroughs, and other places of this Realm of England, as of Ale, Beer, Wine, and other ſuch victuals, by which pretence and unlawful office they do commit divers and many extortions and oppreſſions amongſt the Kings liege people, taking of them unlawfully divers great fines and ranſoms, to the great damage of the Kings liege people, and alſo wrongful derogation of the liberties and franchiſes of divers of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns: Our ſaid Lord the King (the premiſſes conſidering) by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the ſaid Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, that all Letters Patents granted by him to any perſon or perſons of any office of ſearching or ſurveying of Wine, Ale, Beer or any other victual, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect: And that no perſon other then ſuch Governors before rehearſed or other intitled by point of Charter, from the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, by colour of ſuch Letters Patents ſo obtained, or after to be obtained, as

All Letters Patents granted to any perſons for ſearching or ſurveying of victuals ſhall be void.

Chief Governours of Cities, Boroughs and Corporate Towns only ſhall be ſearchers and ſurveyors of victuals.

as before is ſaid, ſhall uſe or exerciſe any ſuch office, upon pain of forfeiture for every default xl. li. The one half thereof to our Lord the King, to be imployed only to the uſe of his houſe; the other half to him that in this behalf will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, wherein like proceſs, ruſe and proceeding ſhall be had as is commonly uſed in other actions of debt at the Common Law: and that the defendant in any ſuch action ſhall not be received nor admitted to his Law: Nor that any protection or eſſoin of the Kings ſervice be to him in any wiſe allowed.

CAP. IX.

What lands an Eſcheator muſt have, who he may make his deputy, he ſhall not let his office to ferm.

St. 14 Ed.3.5.

ITem, Whereas by an Ordinance made at Weſtminſter the xlii. year of the reign of King Edward the third, Progenitor of our Lord the King that now is, amongſt other things it was ordained, that none ſhould be made Eſcheator, unleſs he had xx. li. of land at the leaſt, or more in fee, and that they ſhould do their offices in their proper perſons, and if any other be, he ſhall be out: which ordinance according to the true meaning thereof is not obſerved, to the great damage of divers people of this Realm of England, becauſe that many perſons inſufficient and of evil conſcience, be yearly made Eſcheators in divers parts of this Realm of England, which often do ſet their office of Eſcheatorſhip to ferm to other great men extortioners and oppreſſors of the people, the ſame Eſcheators taking of the ſaid perſons ſuch ſum of money as betwixt them may be agreed, and ſurely to be diſcharged upon their account, and to be ſaved harmleſs againſt our Soveraign Lord the King and all other perſons: which perſons ſo unlawfully taking the ſaid office of Eſcheatorſhip, by an undue manner to ferm, do enforce themſelves to be extortioners and offenders to the people; where of old time by the government of the Realm of England, Eſcheators and their deputies ſhould be, and ought to be good, ſufficient, and well diſpoſed perſons and rightful, as well to our Lord the King, as to his people: where at this day few ſuch perſons be made Eſcheators or their deputies: It is therefore ordained by authority of this preſent Parliament, that no Eſcheator to be made after the feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1473. ſhall take upon him the office of Eſcheator, nor occupy the ſame office by himſelf, nor by any other, unleſs the ſaid Eſcheator, or other perſon or perſons to his uſe, have at the time that he ſhall be choſen Eſcheator, Lands, Tenements, or rents in fee ſimple, fee taile, or for term of life, of the yearly value of xx. li. lying and being within the ſame County or Counties whereof he ſhall be made Eſcheator. Nor that any ſuch Eſcheator to be choſen after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall in any wiſe ſell nor ſet to ferm the ſaid office of Eſcheatorſhip, nor make any deputy or deputies, but ſuch for whom he will anſwer, at his peril; the name or names of the ſaid deputy or deputies to be certified by the ſame Eſcheator by his Letters Pattents to the Treaſurer, and Barons of the Kings Eſcheator for the time being, within twenty days after ſuch deputation. And that no ſuch deputy or deputies, take upon him or them to occupy in the office of Eſcheatorſhip, unleſs ſuch Eſcheator have lands, tenements or rents, to the aforeſaid yearly value, in manner and form as is aforeſaid: and if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid feaſt do contrary to the premiſſes or any of them, he ſhall forfeit for every default xl. li. the one half thereof to our Soveraign Lord the King, to be imployed to the uſe of his honourable houſe: the other half to every of the Kings liege people, which will therefore ſue by action of debt, wherein like proceſs, rule, judgment, coſts and damage, ſhall be had and awarded, as is uſed in other actions of debt uſually purſued by writ at the common Law; And that no wageing of Law, protection, nor eſſoin be in any wiſe allowed in the ſame to the defendant: And the Juſtices of Peace in every place corporate, and the Juſtices of Peace in every other place having Juſtices of Peace within them, ſhall have power to hear and determine every ſuch forfeiture upon preſentment thereof had before them in their Seſſions; in which preſentment, like proceſs ſhall be had, as is uſed upon indictments of treſpaſs done with force and arms againſt the Kings peace. Provided always, that this Act do not extend to any perſon or perſons made or to be made Eſcheator of any City, Borough, or Town of this Realm of England, having authority to make or to be Eſcheators within themſelves by the Letters Patents of the grant of our Soveraign Lord the King, or any of his noble progenitors or predeceſſors.

No man ſhall be Eſcheator unleſs he hath xx.li. land or rent in the ſame county: No Eſcheator ſhall let his office to ferm, or make any deputy but for whom he will anſwer.

Juſtices of Peace may enquire of and puniſh the offences aforeſaid, Eſcheators made in Cities or Boroughs, &c. having authority to make Eſcheators.

CAP. II.

In a Court of Pipowders the plaintiff ſhall be ſworn that the contract was made in the time and juriſdiction of the ſame Faire.

ITem, Whereas divers Faires be holden and kept in this Realm, ſome by preſcription allowed before Juſtices in Eyre, and ſome by the grant of our Lord the King that now is, and ſome by the grant of his Progenitors and Predeceſſors: And to every of the ſame Faires is of right pertaining a Court of Pipowders to miniſter in the ſame due juſtice in this behalf; in which Court it hath been all times accuſtomed, that every perſon coming to the ſaid Faires ſhould have lawful remedy of all manner of contracts, treſpaſſes, covenants, debts, and other deeds made or done within any of the ſame Faires during the time of the ſame Faire and within the juriſdiction of the ſame, and to be tryed by Merchants being of the ſame Faire: which Courts at this day be miſuſed by Stewards, Underſtewards, Bailiffs, Commiſſioners, and other miniſters holding and governing the ſaid Courts of the ſaid Faires, for their private profit, holding pleas by plants as well of contracts, debts, treſpaſſes, and other feats done and committed out of the time of the ſaid Faires, or the juriſdiction of the ſame, whereof of truth they have no juriſdictin, ſurmiſing the ſame debts, treſpaſſes, covenants, or other deeds, to be done within the time of the Faires, or within the juriſdiction of the ſame Fairs, where of truth they were not ſo; And ſometime by the deviſe of evil diſpoſed people ſeveral ſuits be feigned, and trouble them to whom they bear evil will, to the intent that they for lucre may have favourable inqueſts of thoſe that come to the ſaid Faires, where they take their actions; And whereby divers perſons coming to the ſame Faires be grievouſly vexed and troubled by feigned actions, and alſo by actions of debts, treſpaſſes, deeds and contracts, made and committed out of the time of the ſaid Fair, or the juriſdiction of the ſame, contrary to equity and good conſcience, whereby the Lords of the ſame Fairs do loſe great profit by the not coming of divers Merchants to their Fairs, which by this occaſion do abſtain, and alſo the Commons be unſerved of ſuch ſtuff and merchandiſe which otherwiſe would come to the ſame Fairs: Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering the premiſes, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That from the firſt day of May next enſuing, no Steward, Underſteward, Bailiff, nor Commiſſary, nor other Miniſter of any ſuch Courts of Pipowders ſhall hold plea upon any action of the ſuit of any perſon or perſons, unleſs the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or his or their Atturney, in the preſence of the defendant or defendants, do ſwear upon the holy Evangeliſt upon the declaration, that the contract or other deed contained in the ſaid declaration, was made or committed within the Fair, and within the time of the ſame Fair, where he taketh his action, and within the juriſdiction and bounds of the ſame Fair. And although that the plaintiff or plaintiffs by their oath do affirm the ſame, yet nevertheleſs the ſaid defendant or defendants ſhall not be concluded by the ſame, but may anſwer and plead to the action, or in abatement of the plaints, and to proffer an iſſue that the ſame contract, treſpaſs, or other deed contained in ſuch declaration, whereupon the plaintiff or plaintiffs do declare, was not committed nor done within the time of the Fair and juriſdiction of the ſame, but out of the time of the Fair, or at other places out of the juriſdiction of the ſame Fair, according to the truth in this behalf. And if it be ſo tryed, or that the plaintiff or plaintiffs or their Atturneys, do refuſe to take the oaths in the form aforeſaid, that then the defendant or defendants ſhall be quite diſmiſſed and diſcharged in that behalf, out of the ſame Court, the party plaintiff to take his remedy at the Common Law, or other place convenient, as ſhall to him ſeem good, notwithſtanding this Ordinance. And that every Steward, Underſteward, Bailiff, and Commiſſary, or other Miniſter, holding, ruling, or governing any of the ſaid Courts, that doth the contrary of this Ordinance, ſhall forfeit for every default in this behalf C. s. The one half to be to our Lord the King, and the other half to him that will in this behalf purſue his action upon this Ordinance, by action of debt in his own name. And that Writs of Proclamation be in all good haſte directed to every Sheriff of every County of England to cauſe this Ordinance to be proclaimed in every Fair within his County, as well within Franchiſe as without. This Act to endure from the ſaid firſt day of May until the firſt day of the next Parliament. Provided always, That this Act nor any thing compriſed in the ſame Act be hurtful or prejudicial to William now Biſhop of Durham, or to his ſucceſſors within the liberty and Franchiſe of the Biſhoprick of Durham. CAP. IV.

The preparation of Earth for making of Tile.

Item, Whereas in divers parts of this Realm great damage hath been and daily is, and by likelihood in time to come will much increaſe, for default of true, ſeaſonable and ſufficient making, whiting, and anealing of Tile, called plain Tile, otherwiſe called Thaktile, Rooftile, or Creſtile, Cornertile, and Guttertile, made and to be made within this Realm: Our Lord the King (the premiſes conſidered) for the general profit of this Realm, by the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all and every perſon or perſons, which hereafter ſhall uſe the occupation of making of any ſuch Tile, as before is ſaid, ſhall make it good, ſeaſonable, able and ſufficient, and well whited and anealed. And that the earth whereof any ſuch Tile ſhall be made, ſhall be digged and caſt up before the firſt day of November next before that they ſhall be made, and that the ſame earth be ſtirred and turned before the firſt day of February then next following the ſame digging and caſting up, and not wrought before the firſt day of March next following, and that the ſame earth before it be put to making of Tile, be truly wrought and tryed from ſtones. And alſo that the veins called Malin or Marle, and Chalk lying commonly in the ground near to the land convenient to make Tile, after the digging of the ſaid earth, whereof any ſuch Tile ſhall be made, ſhall be well, lawfully, and truly ſevered and caſt from the earth whereof any ſuch Tile ſhall be made. And that every ſuch plain Tile ſo to be made, ſhall contain in length ten inches and an half, and in breadth ſix inches and a quarter of an inch, and in thickneſs half an inch and half a quarter at the leaſt. And that every ſuch Rooftile or Creſtile ſo to be made, ſhall contain in length thirteen inches, and the thickneſs of half an inch and half a quarter at the leaſt, with convenient deepneſs according. And that every Guttertile and Covertile to be made, ſhall contain in length ten inches and an half, with convenient thickneſs, breadth and deepneſs according. And if any perſon or perſons ſet to ſale to any perſon or perſons any ſuch Tile above ſpecified, made or to be made contrary to the ſaid Ordinance, then the ſeller thereof ſhall forfeit to the buyer of the ſame, the double value of the ſame Tile, and beſides that, ſhall make fine and ranſom to the King at his will. And that every perſon that feeleth himſelf grieved, and will ſue in this behalf, ſhall have an action of debt againſt the offenders, wherein ſhall be made and had like proceſs, recovery & execution, as is or may be at this day in any other actions of debt, purſued at the Common Law. And that the plaintiff in every ſuch action (if it be found with him) may may recover againſt the defendant in the ſame action his reaſonable coſts and expences of his ſuit. And that any defendant in any ſuch action ſhall not be admitted to wage his law, or to have any eſſoin or protection allowed, nor any advantage by fourching of eſſoin or diſtreſs. And alſo that the Juſtices of Peace for the time being, within any County of this Realm, and every of them, ſhall have full power to enquire, hear and determine by their diſcretions, as well by examination or otherwiſe, the defaults, offences, and treſpaſſes, which ſhall happen to be committed contrary to this Ordinance, as well at the Kings ſuit, as at the parties which ſhall feel himſelf grieved in that behalf. And if he be found, or may appear to the Juſtices of Peace, or any of them, by examination, or otherwiſe by their diſcretion, that any perſon or perſons hath offended contrary to this ordinance, that then the ſame Juſtices, before whom it ſhall be found or appear, ſhall aſſeſs upon the offender in this behalf no leſs fine, then for every M. of plain tile ſet to ſale contrary to this ordinance, v. s. And for every C. roof-tile vi. s. viii. d. And for every C. corner-tile or gutter-tile ii. s. ſold contrary to this ordinance. And that leſs fine be made after the rate of the ſame by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices or any of them. And that the ſame Juſtices ſhall have full power to call before them or any of them, at any time and place requiſite, ſuch and ſo many perſons as by their diſcretion have or ſhall have beſt experience or knowledge in the occupation of making of tile, to ſearch and examine the digging, caſting, turning, parting, making, whiting, and anealing aforeſaid. And that the ſame perſon or perſons which ſo ſhall be aſſigned ſearchers, ſhall have full power to make ſearch. And that no perſon put no ſuch tile to ſale, before that it be ſearched by the ſaid ſearchers, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame tile. And if the ſame ſearchers or any of them do find, that any perſon or perſons, exerciſing the occupation of tile-making doth offend contrary to this ordinance, that then the ſame ſearchers ſhall preſent ſuch defaults before the Juſtices of Peace at their next ſeſſions: And that every ſuch preſentment be as ſtrong and effectual in the law, as the preſentment of xii. men. And that ſuch ſearchers ſo to be ordained, aſſigned and deputed, ſhall have of every ſuch tilemaker for his labour of the ſaid ſearch for every M. plain tile ſearched one peny, for every C. roof tile ob. and for every C, corner tile and gutter tile a q. And that the ſame ſearchers ſhall do and execute their effectual induſtry and diligence in this behalf according to this ordinance, upon pain of forfeiture to our Lord the King for every default in this behalf x. s. And that the Juſtices of Peace ſhall have power to examine, enquire and determine the faults of ſuch ſearchers in the premiſſes, in like form as above is ordained for the defaults of Tilemakers. This ordinance to begin to take effect at the Feaſt of S. Michael next coming, and not before.

Juſtices of Peace may inquire of, hear and determine theſe offences.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall have authority to appoint ſearchers of tiles.

The ſearchers authority, and fee for their pains.

The Juſtices of Peace ſhall inquire of the defaults of ſearchers.

CAP. V.

An alteration of part of the Statute of 4 Ed. 1.

ITem, Whereas by an Act made in the Parliament of our ſaid Lord the King, holden at Weſtminſter in the fourth year of his reign, it was ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted amongſt other things, that all Woollen Cloths, half Cloths, Streits, and Kerſies, of a certain length and breadth ſpecified in the ſame Act, and being of all perfectneſs of making, alſo compriſed in the ſame Act, ſhould be, from the Feaſt called S. Peter ad vincula, which was in the year our Lord God 1465. ſealed with a double print in Lead, to be deviſed and ordained by the Treaſurer of England for the time being, teſtifying the true length and breadth, and lawful making: Alſo by the ſame Act it was ordained, amongſt other things, that the Treaſurer of England for the time being, ſhould have power and authority to make ſuch and as many keepers of the ſame Seals, as he ſhall think neceſſary; So that no ſtrangers born ſhould be made any of the ſame keepers: And that every of the ſaid keepers ſo to be made ſhall yearly accompt of the revenues of their ſaid offices in the Kings Eſchequer before the Treaſurer of England and the Barons there for the time being, ſhewing in the ſame accompts the number of all the Cloths, half Cloths, Streits and Kerſies ſealed by them, with the names of the owners thereof; Every of the ſaid keepers to be rewarded yearly at his ſaid accompt for his labour and diligence had in this behalf, at the receipt of the ſaid Eſchequer, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Treaſurer and Barons, without payment of any thing in the ſaid Eſchequer for the making of his ſaid accompt, as in the ſaid Act thereof made is more largely contained: The King certainly perceiving, that ſithence the making of the ſame Act, he hath had yearly greater loſs by the approvement of the Subſidy and aulnage of Cloths, then he had at any time before the ſaid Act of approvement made; For the ſame and for divers other great cauſes moving him, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual & Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament hath ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, that from the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, all the Woollen Cloths, half Cloths, Streits, and Kerſies, being of good and perfect making, of length and breadth according to the form of the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid fourth year, ſhall be ſealed with Wax at both ends, taking no more for the ſame both ſeals, then before was taken for the ſealing of an whole Cloth, half Cloth, Streit, or Kerſie. Except only, that in the City of London and in the Town of Briſtol, all the Cloths that ought to be ſealed, ſhall be ſealed with Lead, as hath been accuſtomed. Moreover, it is ordained, enacted, & eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid Treaſurer of England for the time being, ſhall have power and authority, to let to ferm the ſubſidy & aulange of Clothes which ought to be ſealed, unto perſons willing to have the ſame to ferm, by ſufficent ſurety in the form as was uſed & done before the ſaid ſtatute made in the ſaid fourth year. The fermors to have the one half of the forfeiture of all the Clothes and pieces of Clothes to be ſet to ſale, not ſealed with the ſaid Seals, to their own uſe, paying therefore and for the ſaid ſubſidy and aulnage to our Lord the King at his Eſchequer, ſuch yearly ſums of money as ſhall be agreed betwixt

CAP. VI.

How long the old Sheriff may execute his Office, if he have not before his Writ of Diſcharge.

St. 12 Ed.4.1.

Item, Whereas by a Statute in the laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter it was ordained, that the old Sheriff of every County might execute and return every Writ, Precept or Warrant, in any of the Kings Courts within the Term called Michael Term, after the vi. day of November, and before any Writ of diſcharge to him delivered of his occupying of Sheriff, without hurt, loſs, or penalty, by the ſame ſtatute remembred, as in the ſame doth more largely appear. And becauſe that the words of the authority given by the ſaid Act to the ſaid old Sheriff, be very eſpecial, and not general enough for the Common wealth, purpoſed or intended by the ſame Act: It is therefore ordained by authority of this Parliament, that every old Sheriff of every County, remembred in the ſaid laſt Act, from the ſixth day of November next to come, ſhall have full authority and power, as well lawfully to execute and return every Writ, Precept, or Warraut, from every of the ſaid Courts of the King, delivered to him, as to do and execute every other thing, which to the office of Sheriff lawfully pertaineth, at all times during the Terms of S. Michael, and of S. Hillary, unleſs before the ſame time he be lawfully diſcharged of his accupation of Sheriff, without ſuſtaining any damage, forfeiture, or pain in reſpect thereof: Any Act, Ordinance, or Proviſion before made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. CAP. VII.

A repeal of a Parliament holden Anno 9 Ed. 4. & Anno 49 H. 6. and of all the Acts therein made, and of their exemplifications. Exp.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter, Anno viceſimo ſecundo Edw. quarti, & Anno Domini 1482.

OUr Lord the King, Edward the fourth, at his Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the twentieth day of January, in the two and twentieth year of his Reign, to the houour of God, and for the wealth of his people of this his Realm, by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of his Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed certain Statutes and Ordinances, in manner and form following.

CAP. I.

Apparel.

A repeal of all former Statutes made touching the exceſs of Apparel. What kind of Apparel Temporal men of every degree and eſtate are allowed, and what prohibited to wear. None under the eſtate of a Lord (except certain perſons particularly named) ſhall wear any gown or mantle, unleſs it be of ſuch length, that (he being upright) it ſhall cover his privy members, and buttocks. The forfeitures of the offenders, and who ſhall have them. Rep. 1 H.8.14. & 1 Jac.25.

CAP. II.

The contents of veſſels of Salmons, Herrings, and Eeles. And how Fiſh ſhall be packed.

Item, Whereas divers deceits have been uſed and done as well in the meaſures of veſſels called Butts, Barrels, and half Barrels, ordained for Salmon, and Barrels, half Barrels and Firkins, ordained for Herring, Eeles, and other barrelled Fiſh, as in the packing in the ſame veſſels of every of the ſaid Fiſhes before named, to the great damage of the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and other of the Kings faithful ſubjects. For reformation whereof, our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, by the advice, aſſent, and authority aforeſaid, hath ordained and enacted, that no Merchant ſtranger nor denizen, after the Feaſt of S. Michael next coming, ſhall ſell nor ſet to ſale any Salmon by Butt, Barrel, half Barrel, or any other veſſel, before it be ſeen, except the ſame Butt do hold and contain fourſcore and four gallons, the Barrel two and fourty gallons, the half Barrel one and twenty gallons, well and truly packed, upon pain of forfeiture for every Butt, Barrel, and half Barrel, ſo failing their ſaid meaſure, ſix ſhillings and eight pence: Alſo that no ſuch Merchant being under the Kings obeiſance, after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael, ſhall ſell or put to ſale any manner Salmon, by Butt, or other veſſel, except it be well and faithfully packed, that is to ſay, the great Salmon by it ſelf, without mingling with them any grills or broken bellied Salmon.

Packing of ſalmons, and the content of the veſſel thereof. St. 11 H.7.23.

And that all ſmall fiſh called grills, ſhall be packed by themſelves only, without any mingling, upon pain of forfeiture and loſs of ſix ſhillings and eight pence for every Butt, Barrel, and half Barrel mingled, packed and ſet to ſale contrary to this Act.

Packing of Grills.

Alſo that no Merchants, nor other perſon ſet any Herring to ſale by Barrel, half Barrel, or Firkin, except the ſame Barrel contain two and thirty gallons, the half Barrel and Firkin after the ſame rate; And that the ſame Herring be well, truly and juſtly couched and packed; And that it be of one times taking and ſalting: And that the ſame Herring be as good and as well packed in the middeſt, and in every part of the ſame barrel or other veſſel, as it ſhall be in the ends of the ſame Barrels and other veſſels, upon pain to forfeit three ſhillings and four pence for every Barrel, half Barrel and Firkin ſo failing their ſaid meaſure, and alſo upon pain of forfeiture and loſs of three ſhillings and four pence for every Barrel, half Barrel and Firkin of Herring ſorted, laid or packed contrary to this Act.

The content of a barrel, &c. of Herring, and it ſhall be well packed.

Alſo that no ſuch merchant or palingman ſell or ſet to ſale any Eels by barrel, half barrel or firkin, except the ſame barrel contain two and fourty gallons, the half barrel and firkin after the ſame rate. Nor that any ſuch merchant nor palingman do mingle any Gallebetten, ſtarved, or pulled Eels with the good Eels, but that the good Eels be well and juſtly packed and ſold by themſelves: Nor that they mingle with the good Eels, or put to ſale any red Eels, upon pain of forfeiture and loſs of ten ſhillings for every barrel, half barrel and firkin, ſo failing their meaſure; And alſo upon pain of forfeiture and loſs of ten ſhillings for every barrel, half barrel and firkin ſo mixt, packed and ſet to ſale, as afore is ſaid, contrary to this Act. Alſo that no ſuch Merchant after the ſaid Feaſt ſell or ſet to ſale any barrelled fiſh, except the ſame fiſh be well and faithfully packed, that is to ſay, any countable fiſh, commonly called tale-fiſh, by it ſelf, and the ſame fiſh, called Grilles, by themſelves, without any mixture of the ſaid fiſhes with the great fiſh, and without mixture or packing of thokes, or fiſh with broken bellies, with the ſaid tale-fiſh, or ſmall fiſh; And that the ſaid tale-fiſh or ſmall fiſh be not laid double in the packing: And that every tale-fiſh contain in length, from the bone in the fin, to the third joynt in the tail, ſix and twenty inches at the leaſt, and that the napes of all ſuch barrelled fiſh ſhall be no longer then the little bone that reſteth upon the great fin. And that the bone of every ſuch ſalt fiſh ſhall be taken away to the navel of the fiſh.

The content of a barrel of Eels, and they ſhall not be mingled.

How fiſh ſhall be packed.

And that every ſuch fiſh be ſplatted or opened down to an handful of the tail, upon pain of forfeiting and loſing of three ſhillings and four pence for every barrel of fiſh which hereafter ſhall be found packed, ſorted, mixt, naped, laid double, or not boned, or ſplatted or open, according to this Act.

Alſo in eſchewing the common loſſes and deceits aforeſaid, Our ſaid Lord the King hath ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Mayors, Bailiffs, and Governours of Cities, Boroughs, Market-Towns, and all other places of this his Realm for the time being, where there be mayors, bailiffs, or governours, ſhall have power and authority to name and chooſe diſcreet and expert perſon or perſons daily to ſearch and gauge all ſuch veſſels as above be rehearſed, that they be faithfully packed, and keep their lawful meaſure and aſſiſe according to the Ordinances aforeſaid. The one half of all the ſaid fines, forfeitures and penalties, and every of them, to be to our Lord the King, and the other half to him or them of his ſubjects that ſhall ſeiſe or purſue for the ſame by action of debt, by writ at the common Law, by bill or plaint, according to the cuſtom of the City or Town where any ſuch fines, forfeitures, and penalties ſhall hereafter happen to be or fall. And that the defendant in any ſuch action be not admitted to wage, nor to do his Law, nor that any protection or eſſoin of the Kings ſervices for any ſuch defendants be allowed. Provided always that this Act be not prejudicial to any perſon or perſons having the forfeiture of the goods of felons, fugitives, and condemned perſons.

Chief Officers of Cities and Boroughs, &c. ſhall appoint ſearchers to ſearch and gauge veſſels of fiſh.

Moreover, it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch perſon and perſons ſhall have and enjoy like forfeitures of and in every of the premiſes within their Franchiſes, as the King now hath in other places without.

CAP. III.

No Ribands, Laces, Corſes, Girdles, Calli ſilk, or Colleinſilk twined, ſhall be brought into England to be ſold, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame, or the value thereof. Exp. St. 33 H. 6. 5. 3 Ed. 4. 3. 19 H. 7. 21.

CAP. IV.

Whoſoever ſhall ſell a long Bow of Yew above the price of three ſhillings and four pence, ſhall forfeit twenty ſhillings. Rep. 8 El. 10. St. 3 H. 7. 13. 33 H. 8. 9.

CAP. V.

No perſon ſhall full or thick any Hats, Bonets, or Caps, at any fulling Mill, or ſet to ſale any ſo fulled, upon pain to forfeit fourty ſhillings. Exp. Rep. 1 Jac. 25. St. 7 Ed. 6: 8.

CAP. VI.

How much Land he muſt have which ſhall have a mark or game of Swans.

ITem, Where aſwell our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, as other Lords, Knights, Eſquires, and other noble men of this noble Realm of England, have been heretofore greatly ſtored of marks and games of Swans in divers parts of this Realm of England, until of late that divers keepers of Swans have bought and made to them marks and games in the Fens and Marſhes, and other places, and under colour of the ſame, and of ſurveying and ſearch for Swans and Cygnets for their Lords and Maſters, have ſtollen Cygnets, and put upon them their own mark, by which unlawful means the ſubſtance of the Swans be in the hands and poſſeſſion of Yeomen and Husbandmen, and other perſons of little reputation: Wherefore it is ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the ſpecial petition and requeſt of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſaid Parliament, that no perſon, of what eſtate, degree or condition he be (other then the ſon of our Soveraign Lord the King) from the Feaſt of Saint Michael next coming, ſhall have or poſſeſs any ſuch mark or game, of his own, or any other to his uſe, ſhall have or poſſeſs any ſuch mark or game, except he have Lands and Tenements of the eſtate of Freehold to the yearly value of five marks above all yearly charges. And moreover, that every perſon or perſons, now having any ſuch mark or game, ſhall ſell or give the ſame betwixt this and the Feaſt of S. Michael next coming, to the uſe of them to whom they ſhall be ſo ſold or given: and if it happen any perſon or perſons, not having any poſſeſſion of Lands or Tenements to the ſaid yearly value, or any other to have or poſſeſs Lands to his or their uſe, to have or poſſeſs any ſuch mark or game after the ſaid Feaſt, that then it ſhall be lawful to any of the Kings ſubjects, having Lands or Tenements to the ſaid value, to ſeiſe the ſaid Swans as forfeit: Whereof the King ſhall have one half, and he that ſhall ſo ſeiſe, the other half.

No perſon ſhall have a mark or game of ſwans, unleſs he have 5 mark lands.

Any perſon having five marks of freehold may ſeiſe the ſwans forfeited.

CAP. VII.

How long any Woods felled in any Forreſt or Purlew may be incloſed and kept ſeveral.

Woods felled in any Forreſt or Purlew, may be incloſed and kept ſeveral ſeven years. St. 35 H. 8. 17. 13 El. 25.

Coke l.8 f.131

ITem, Our ſaid Lord the King conſidering that divers ſubjects having Woods growing in their own ground, within the Forreſt of Rokingham, and other Forreſts and Chaſes within his Realm of England, or Purlews of the ſame, which have cut their ſaid Wood, becauſe the ſame ſubjects might not before time cut nor incloſe their ſaid ground, to ſave the young ſpring of their wood ſo cut, any longer time then for three years; the ſame young ſpring hath been in times paſt, and daily is deſtroyed with beaſts and cattel of the ſame Forreſts, Chaſes, and Purlews, to the great hinderance, as well of his ſaid ſubjects, as of his deer, vert, and veniſon in their covert, and othewiſe likely to be the deſtruction of the ſame Forreſts, Chaſes and Purlews: By the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, doth ordain, eſtabliſh and enact, that if any of his ſubjects, having woods of his own growing in his own ground, within any Forreſt, Chaſe, or Purlew of the ſame, within this Realm of England, from the firſt day of this Parliament, ſhall cut or cauſe to be cut the ſame wood, or part thereof, by licence of the King or of his heirs, in his Forreſts, Chaſes, or Purlews, or without licence in the Forreſt, Chaſe, or Purlew of any other perſon, or make any ſale of the ſame wood: it ſhall be lawful to the ſame ſubjects, owners of the ſame ground whereupon the wood ſo cut did grow, and to other ſuch perſons to whom ſuch wood ſhall happen to be ſold, immediately after the wood ſo cut, to coppy and incloſe the ſame ground with ſufficient hedges, able to keep out all manner beaſts and cattel forth of the ſame ground, for the preſerving of their young ſpring; and the ſame hedges ſo made, the ſaid ſubjects may keep them continually by the ſpace of ſeven years next after the ſame incloſing, and repair and ſuſtain the ſame as often as ſhall need within the ſame ſeven years, without ſuing of any other licence of him or of his heirs, or other perſons, or any of their officers of the ſame Forreſt, Chaſes, and Purlews.

CAP. VIII.

Merchandiſes carried into or fetched out of Scotland, ſhall be firſt brought to Berwick. The Freemen of Berwick ſhall have to farm the fiſhing there.

Merchandiſes carried into, or brought out of Scotland or the Iſles, ſhall be firſt brought to Berwick.

ITem, Our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, for the ſurety of the Town of Berwick, and the Marches of the ſame, and to have the ſame Town to be inhabited with great number of his faithful liege people, which would there abound and increaſe by the repair of Merchants and merchandiſe, and exerciſe of the ſame, hath by the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame Parliament ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed, that from the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, all Merchants which ſhall carry or bring any Merchandiſe out of Scotland, or the Iſles of the ſame, into this Realm of England, or into Ireland, or Wales, firſt ſhall bring the ſame Merchandiſe to the ſaid Town of Berwick: and that none of the Kings liege people, nor any other perſon under the Kings obeyſance, ſhall buy any Merchandiſe brought out of Scotland, and carry the ſame, or cauſe to be carried into this Realm of England, or any other place under the Kings obeyſance, but that the ſame merchandiſe be bought, ſold and cuſtomed at his ſaid Town of Berwick, except to the City of Carlile, and the Ports or Creeks pertaining to the Weſt Marches. And that no manner Merchant, denizen nor ſtranger, under the Kings obeyſance, ſhall carry or convey to ſell any manner Merchandiſe of England, Ireland, or Wales, into Scotland, or the Iſles of the ſame, which be not under the Kings obeyſance; and that none under the Kings liegeance and obeyſance, ſell any manner merchandiſe of England, Ireland, or Wales, to any of the inhabitants of Scotland, or the Iſles of the ſame, in any place within England, Ireland, or Wales, ſaving only at the ſaid Town of Berwick and Carlile aforeſaid. And that no Merchandiſe ſhall be ſhipped in any Creek or other place betwixt Tinmouth and the ſaid Town of Berwick, but only in the Port or Haven of the ſaid Town of Berwick: and that no perſon or perſons ſaving the Burgeſſes and Freemen of the ſaid Town of Berwick, ſhall cauſe any Salmon to be ſold, which ſhall be taken in the water of Tweed. And if any perſon or perſons offend or do with any Merchandiſe aforeſaid, contrary to any of the ſaid Ordinances, the ſame perſon or perſons ſhall forfeit all the ſaid Merchandiſe; and that it ſhall be lawful to any of the Kings liege ſubjects to ſeiſe all ſuch Merchandiſe ſo forfeit, or elſe to purſue in his own name an action of debt againſt the ſame perſon or perſons, which ſo ſhall forfeit, containing the ſum of the value of the ſaid goods: and in the ſame action to have like proceſs, judgment and execution, as is uſed in other actions of debt by the courſe of the Kings Laws: and that in none of the ſame ſuits and actions any protection or eſſoin of the Kings ſervice be allowed, nor any defendant admitted to do his Law, and our Lord the King to have as well the one half of all ſuch merchandiſe forfeit and ſeiſed, as the one half of all ſuch ſums of money which ſhall be recovered by action in the form aforeſaid, to purſue for the value of any ſuch goods ſo forfeit: and the perſon or perſons which ſhall ſeiſe and purſue in the form aforeſaid, to have the other half of the ſame.

The Merchants and freemen of Berwick ſhall have to ferm the waters Royal, and fiſhings there. St. 1 Jac. 28.

And by the ſaid authority it is ordained and enacted, That the merchants and freemen of the ſaid Town, may of the grace of our ſaid Lord the King, have to ferm all the waters Royal, and fiſhing places within the ſaid Town of Berwick and Seigniory of the ſame, paying for the ſame as much as any other perſon will do; and that the ſame merchants and freemen, and every of them, may from henceforth have, occupy and enjoy to them, their heirs and ſucceſſors for ever, all liberties, franchiſes and cuſtoms, which at any time before pertained to the ſaid Town, and that they may ſhip all manner goods and merchandiſes there, and carry them to what place or places, Port or Ports, that they will, and there diſcharge, and the ſame recharge with corn or any other victual, or merchandiſes, and bring the ſame to the ſaid Town of Berwick for victualling thereof.

Provided always, that this Act nor any other Act, made or to be made in the ſaid Parliament, do not extend, nor be prejudicial to William Biſhop of Durham, nor to his ſucceſſors, in or for any manner of thing pertaining or in any wiſe belonging to him.

Thus endeth the Statutes made in the time of the noble King Edward the fourth.

Anno primo Richardi tertii.

Statutes made at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the Reign of King Richard the third, and in the year of our Lord, 1483.

Richard by the grace of God King of England, and of France, and Lord of Ireland, the third after the Conqueſt; To the honour of God, and of holy Church, and for the Commonwealth of his Realm of England, at his firſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the three and twentieth day of January, in the firſt year of his Reign: by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons of the ſaid Realm of England ſummoned to the ſaid Parliament, by the authority of the ſame Parliament, hath ordained and eſtabliſhed for the quietneſs of his people, certain Statutes, Ordinances, in manner following.

CAP. II.

The Subjects of this Realm ſhall not be charged by any benevolence, &c.

Co. l. 12. 119.

The King remembring how the Commons of this his Realm by new and unlawful inventions and inordinate covetiſe againſt the Law of his Realm, have been put to great thraldom and importable charges and exactions, and eſpecial by a new impoſition called a benevolence, whereby divers years the ſubjects and Commons of this Land, againſt their wills and freedoms, have payed great ſums of money to their almoſt utter deſtruction: For divers and many worſhipful men of this Realm by occaſion thereof were compelled of neceſſity to break up their houſholds, and to live in great penury and wretchedneſs, their debts unpaid, and their children unpreferred, and ſuch memorials as they had ordained to be done for the wealth of their ſouls anentized and annulled, to the great diſpleaſure of God, and the deſtruction of his Realm: Therefore the King will it be ordained by the advice and aſſent of the ſaid Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That his Subjects and the Comminalty of this his Realm from henceforth in no wiſe be charged by any ſuch charge, exaction, or impoſition, called a Benevolence, nor by ſuch like charge: And that ſuch exactions, called Benevolences, before this time taken, be taken for no example, to make ſuch, or any like charge of any his ſaid Subjects of this Realm hereafter, but it ſhall be damned, and annulled for ever.

The Subjects of this Realm ſhall not be charged with any benevolences or, &c.

CAP. III.

Every Iuſtice of Peace may let a Priſoner to mainpriſe. No Officer ſhall ſeiſe the goods of a Priſoner until he be attainted.

Every Juſtice of Peace ſhall have authority to let a priſoner to mainpriſe.
Rep. 3 H. 7. 3.
St. 1 & 2 P. & M. 13.

Eſcape of Felons inquirable by Juſtices of Peace.

No officer ſhall ſeiſe the goods of a priſoner until he be attainted, or the goods forfeited.

Forasmuch as divers perſons have been daily arreſted and impriſoned for ſuſpection of Felony, ſometime of malice, and ſometime of a light ſuſpection, and ſo kept in priſon without bail or mainpriſe to their great vexation and trouble: Be it ordained and eſtabliſhed by authority of this preſent Parliament, that every Juſtice of Peace in every Shire, City, or Town, ſhall have authority and power by his or their diſcretion, to let ſuch priſoners and perſons ſo arreſted to bail or mainpriſe, in like form as though the ſame priſoners or perſons were indicted thereof of record before the ſame Juſtices in their Seſſions: and that Juſtices of Peace have authority to enquire in their Seſſions of all manner eſcapes of every perſon arreſted and impriſoned for felony. And that no Sheriff, Underſheriff nor Eſcheator, Bailiff of Franchiſe, nor any other perſon, take or ſeiſe the goods of any perſon arreſted or impriſoned for ſuſpition of felony, before that the ſame perſon ſo arreſted and impriſoned be convicted or attainted of ſuch felony according to the Law, or elſe the ſame goods otherwiſe lawfully forfeited, upon pain to forfeit the double value of the goods ſo taken, to him that is ſo hurt in that behalf, by action of debt to be purſued by like proceſs, judgment and execution, as is commonly uſed in other actions of debt uſed at the common Law. And that no eſſoin, or protection be allowed in any ſuch action: Nor that the defendant in any ſuch action be admitted to wage or do his Law. Co. Inſt. 3. p. 48.

CAP. IV.

Of what credit and eſtate thoſe Iurors muſt be which ſhall be impanelled in the Sheriffs Turn.

Of what credit and eſtate thoſe Jurors muſt be, which ſhall be impanelled in the Sheriffs Court.
St. 11 H. 7. 26.

Forasmuch as divers great inconveniences and perjuries do daily happen in divers Shires of England by untrue verdicts given in inquiſitions and inquiries before Sheriffs in their Turns, by perſons of no ſubſtance nor behaviour, nor dreading God nor the worlds ſhame, by reaſon whereof divers and many of the Kings lieges of divers parts of England, by exciting and procuring of their evil willers, be wrongfully indicted, and other that ought of right to be indicted by ſuch excitation and procuring, oftentimes be ſpared, contrary to common right and good conſcience: In eſchewing whereof, be it ordained by the King our Soveraign Lord, by the advice of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, that no Bailiff nor other Officer from henceforth return or impanel any ſuch perſon in any Shire of England, to be taken or put in or upon any ſuch inquiry in any of the ſaid Turns, but ſuch as be of good name and fame, and having lands and tenements of freehold within the ſame Shires, to the yearly value of xx. s. at the leaſt, or elſe lands and tenements holden by cuſtom of Manor, commonly called Copyhold, within the ſaid Shires, to the yearly value of xxvi. s. ix. d. over all charges at the leaſt. And if any Bailiff or other Officer within the ſaid Counties hereafter return or impanel any perſon contrary hereunto, he to loſe for every perſon that he ſo impanelleth and returneth not being of the ſufficiency, as is aforeſaid, as often as he ſo offendeth, xl. s.

And the ſaid Sheriff other xl. s. the one half thereof to the King our Soveraign Lord, and the other half thereof to ſuch as will ſue in that behalf. And every man that will ſue for the ſame, to have their ſeveral actions of debt therefore at the common Law, as well againſt the Sheriff, as the ſaid Bailiff: and that ſuch and like proceſſe be had and uſed in every of the ſame action or actions, as be had and uſed in other actions of debt at the common Law: and that no protection, ne eſſoin be allowed in the ſame: and that every ſuch indictment before any Sheriff in his Turn otherwiſe taken be void and of none effect. This Act to take effect from the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, and not before.

The indictment taken by other perſons ſhall be void.

Thoſe Lands whereof the King was enfeoffed joyntly with others, to the uſe of the Feoffor, ſhall be in his co-feoffors. Pr.

CAP. VI.

The St. of 17 Ed. 4. 2. rehearſed and made perpetual, viz. That in every Court of Pypowders the Plaintiff or his Atturney ſhall be ſworn, &c.

17 Ed. 4. 2.

Prayen the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that where in a Statute made in the xvii. year of the Reign of King Edward the fourth, It was ordained amongſt other, that where divers Fairs have been holden and kept in divers places within this Realm, ſome by preſcription allowed afore Juſtices in Eyre, and ſome by the grant of your noble progenitors and predeceſſors, and to every of the ſame Fairs is of right pertaining a Court of Pypowders, to miniſter therein due Juſtice in that party: in which Court it hath ever been accuſtomed, that every perſon coming to ſuch Fairs, ſhould have lawful remedy of all manner contracts, treſpaſſes, covenants, debts, and other deeds made or done within any of the ſaid Fairs during the time of the ſaid Fairs, within the juriſdiction of the ſame, & to be tryed by merchants being at the ſame Fairs: which Courts in theſe days have been miſuſed by Stewards, Bailiffs, Commiſſaries and other Miniſters, holding and ruling the ſaid Courts of the ſaid Fairs for their ſingular profit, holding plea by plaints, as well contracts, debts, treſpaſſes, as other deeds done and made out of the time of the ſaid Fairs or Fair and juriſdiction of the ſame, whereof in troth they have no juriſdiction, ſurmiſing the contracts, debts, treſpaſſes, covenants, or other deeds to be done within the time of the Fairs, and within the juriſdiction of the ſame Fairs, where in troth they were not ſo. And ſometime upon fained plaints, by imagination by evil diſpoſed people, to trouble them to whom they owe evil will, ſome to the intent to make them loſe their Fair, and ſome to the intent that they ſhould have for lucre, favourable inqueſts of comers of ẏ ſame Fairs where they take their actions, whereby much people coming to the ſaid Fairs, be grievouſly vexed & troubled by fained actions, & alſo by actions of debts, treſpaſſes, deeds, & contracts made and done out of the time of the ſaid Fairs or juriſdiction of the ſame, contrary to equity and good conſcience, whereby the Lords of the ſaid Fairs loſe great profits by the not coming of divers merchants to their Fairs, which for that caſe abſtain them, and alſo the Commons for that caſe be worſe ſerved of ſuch ſtuff and merchandiſes, as elſe ſhould come to the ſaid Fairs: Pleaſe it therefore your Highneſs, the premiſes conſidered, by the advice & aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, to ordain and to eſtabliſh, that from the firſt day of May next coming, no Steward, Underſteward, Bailiff, Commiſſary, nor other Miniſter of ſuch Courts of Pipowders, hold plea upon any action at the ſuit of any perſon or perſons, without the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or his or their Atturnies, in preſence of the defendant or defendants, (if he or they, or his or their Atturnies deſire it) make oath upon the holy Evangeliſts, upon the declaration, that the contract, treſpaſs, or other deed compriſed in the ſame declaration, were made or done within the Fair time of the ſaid Fair, where he taketh his action, and within the bounds & juriſdiction of the ſame Fair. And although the ſaid plaintiff or plaintiffs by their oath affirm the ſame, that the ſaid defendant or defendants be not concluded thereby, but that they may anſwer and plead to the action, or in abatement of the plaints and to tender an iſſue, that the ſame contract, treſpaſs, or other deed compriſed within ſuch declaration, whereupon the plaintiff or plaintiffs do declare, was not done nor made within the Fair time and juriſdiction of the ſaid Fair, but out of time of the Fair, or at other places out of the juriſdiction of the ſame Fair, after the troth in that party.

And if it be ſo tryed, or that the plaintiff or plaintiffs or their Atturnies, refuſe to be ſworn in the form aforeſaid, That then the defendant or defendants be quite diſmiſſed & diſcharged in that behalf out of that Court. The party plaintiff to take his advantage at the common Law, or other place convenient, as him ſeemeth good. This Ordinance notwithſtanding.

And that every Steward, Under-ſteward, Bailiff, Commiſſary, or other Miniſter, holding and ruling any of the ſaid Courts, that doth the contrary of this Ordinance, ſhall for every default in that behalf forfeit an C. s. the one half thereof to your Highneſs, and the other half thereof to him that will ſue in that party his action upon this Ordinance by action of debt in his own name. And that writs of proclamation in all goodly haſte be directed to every Sheriff of every Shire of England, to make this Ordinance to be proclaimed in every part within his Shire, as well within Franchiſe as without:

And that the ordinance touching Fairs, as is aforeſaid, ſhould endure to the next Parliament, which ordinance is now expired: And for certain the ſaid ordinance is full neceſſary and requiſite to endure for ever, and full profitable to all the Commons of this Realm: Be it therefore ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the aforeſaid Ordinance be and ſtand in vertue and ſtrength: And to be executory from the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady next coming, perpetually after to endure.

CAP. VII.

Who ſhall be bound by a fine levied before the Juſtices of the Common Pleas. And Proclamation made thereof.

Anno 18 Ed. 1. Modus levandi Fines.

ITem, Whereas it was ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted in a Parliament holden in the time of the Reign of the noble King Edward the firſt, by the Statute De finibus, that notes and fines levied in the Kings Court before his Juſtices ſhould be openly and ſolemnly read, and that the pleas in the mean time ſhould ceaſe, and that to be done two days in the week after the diſcretion of the Juſtices, as in the ſame Statute more plainly appeareth: Our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King conſidering that fines ought to be of the greateſt force and effect to avoid ſtrife and debate, and be a final end and concluſion, willeth, ordaineth, and eſtabliſheth by the advice and aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That after the engroſſing of every fine to be levied after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, in the Kings Court before the Juſtices of the common place, of any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, the ſame fine ſhall be openly & ſolemnly read and proclaimed in the ſame Court the ſame Term, and in the three Terms of the year next enſuing, after the ſame engroſſing in the ſame Court at four ſeveral days in every Term, and in the ſame time that it is ſo read and proclaimed, all Pleas ſhall ceaſe, and moreover a tranſcript of the ſame fine ſhall be ſent by the ſaid Juſtices of the common place to the Juſtices of Aſſiſes of the County where the ſaid lands and tenements be. They to cauſe the ſaid fine to be read and proclaimed openly and ſolemnly in every their Seſſions of Aſſiſes to be holden the ſame year, if Aſſiſes do then hold, and all the Pleas in the mean time to ceaſe.

A fine ſhall be openly read and proclaimed the ſame Term, and three Terms after at four ſeveral days. St. 31 El. 2

A tranſcript of the fine ſhall be ſent to the Juſt. of Aſſiſe of the County where the Land lieth, to be there proclaimed.

Alſo it is ordained and eſtabliſhed by the ſaid authority of Parliament, That a like tranſcript of the ſame fine ſhall be ſent to the Juſtices of Peace of the County where the ſaid lands and tenements be, they to cauſe open and ſolemn proclamation of the ſaid fine to be made at four general Seſſions of the Peace to be holden in the ſame year.

A tranſcript ſent to the Juſtices of Peace

The ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſes, and alſo Juſtices of Peace to certifie the ſame proclamation to the Kings Juſtices of the common place at the ſecond day of return of the Term then next following; after which Proclamation had, made and certified, the ſaid fine to be a final end, and to conclude, as well privies as ſtrangers to the ſame, except women covert, other then be parties to the ſaid fine, and every perſon or perſons then being within age, in priſon, or out of this Realm of England, or not of whole memory at the time of ſuch fine levied.

Who ſhall be concluded by a fine, who not.

Alſo ſaving to every perſon or perſons ſuch right, title, claim, and intereſt, which they have to or in the ſaid lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, at the time of ſuch fine ingroſſed, ſo that they do purſue their ſaid right, title, claim or intereſt, by way of action or lawful entry, within five years next after the ſaid Proclamation made, had or certified.

Every ſtrangers right ſaved which he preſently hath, ſo he purſue it in time.

The right of ſtrangers ſaved which ſhal come to them.

And alſo ſaving to all other perſons of ſuch action, right, title, claim, and intereſt, in and to all the ſaid lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, which ſhall grow, remain, deſcend, or come to them after the ſaid fine engroſſed, by force of any gift in tail, or by any other cauſe of matter, had or made before the ſaid fine levied, ſo that thoſe perſons take their ſaid Actions, or purſue their ſaid right and title according to the Law, within five years next after ſuch actions, title, claim, or intereſt, grown, deſcended, remained, or come to them. And alſo that the ſaid perſons and their heirs may have their ſaid action againſt the taker of the ſame profits of the ſaid lands, tenements, and other hereditaments at the time of ſuch action to be taken.

Actions maintainable againſt the pernor of the profits.

The right of infants, women covert, perſons impriſoned, out of this Land, or not of whole memory ſaved

And if the ſame perſons at the time of ſuch action, right and title, grown, deſcended, remained or come to them, be covert baron, or within age, or in priſon, or out of their land, or not of whole memory: It is ordained, eſtabliſhed, and Enacted by authority aforeſaid, That their actions, right and title ſhall be reſerved, and ſaved to them and their heirs till the time they come, and be at their full age, out of priſon, within this land, unmarried, and of whole memory, ſo that they or their heirs take their ſaid actions or lawful entry according to their right and title within five years next after they come and be at their full age, out of priſon, within this Land, unmarried, and of whole memory, and purſue the ſame actions, or take their lawful entry with effect according to the Law of England.

An entry muſt be made, or an action taken within five years after the defects removed.

Alſo by authority of the ſaid Parliament it is ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted, That all ſuch perſons which be covert, not parties to the fine, and every perſon being within age, in priſon, or out of this Realm, or not of whole memory at the time of the ſaid fines levied and ingroſſed, by this Act of Parliament before excepted, having any right or title, or cauſe of action to any of the ſaid lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, that they or their heirs take their ſaid actions or lawful entry according to their right and title, within five years next after that the ſaid perſons come to be of full age, out of priſon, unmarried, within this Land, and alſo become of whole memory. And alſo ſue the ſame actions and take their lawful entry, and ſo purſue with effect, according to the Law of the Realm of England. And moreover if they do not take their ſaid actions, and alſo their ſaid lawful entry in the manner as is aforeſaid, that then they ſhall be concluded by the ſaid fines for ever, in like form as they be that be parties and privies to the ſaid fines levied and ingroſſed.

Fines at the common Law be of the ſame force they were before. Any perſon may levy a fine according to this Stat. or the common Law.

Alſo by the ſaid authority it is ordained and eſtabliſhed, That every fine which ſhall be from henceforth levied in any of the Kings Courts, of any manors, lands, tenements, or other poſſeſſions, after the manner, uſage, and form that fines have been levied before the making of this Act before rehearſed, ſhall be of like ſtrength, effect and authority, as fines ſo levied be or were before the making of this Act, this Act or any other Act in this Parliament made or to be made notwithſtanding. And that every perſon ſhall be at his liberty to levy any fine hereafter, as he will himſelf at his pleaſure, after the manner contained and ordained in any by this Act, after the manner and form before uſed. St. 4 H. 7. 24.

CAP. VIII.

The length and breadth of Clothes. Of what ability an Aulnager muſt be, and what Clothes he may ſeal.

Broad cloth ſhall be fully watered before it be put to ſale.

ITem, In the ſaid Parliament were ſhewed divers inconveniences & deceits, had, made, and uſed in the ſaid Realm of England, in making of clothes: for the avoiding whereof our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King by the advice and aſſent of the ſaid Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the requeſt of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted, That no perſon whatſoever he be, Clothmaker, or other, ſhall ſell, nor put to ſale after the Feaſt S. Michael the Archangel next enſuing, any manner woollen Clothes, called broad Clothes, unleſs the ſame Cloth be before fully watered.

And that every whole cloth, and alſo broad cloth, which ſhall be made in this Realm of England, after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, after that it be fully watered ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain in length xxiv. yards, and to every yard an inch, containing the breadth of a mans inch, to be meaſured by the creſt of the ſame cloth, and alſo it ſhall hold and contain in breadth two yards within the liſts, by the whole length of the ſame.

Of what length and breadth whole clothes and half clothes ſhall be made. Rep. 5 Ed. 6. 6. The penalty of the offendor.

And that every half cloth of the ſaid whole clothes to be made after the ſaid Feaſt, after his full watering ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain xii. yards in length at the leaſt, with the inches aforeſaid, to be meaſured by the creſt, and two yards in breadth within the liſts. So that always the ſame half cloth do not exceed the length of ſixteen yards, upon pain of cutting the whole cloth in three pieces, and of cutting the half cloth in two pieces. And alſo to loſe for every whole cloth vi.s.viii. pence and for every half cloth iii.s. iv. pence, made, ſold, or put to ſale after the ſaid Feaſt, not fully watered, or made after the ſaid Feaſt, not keeping their meaſure above ordained; and if the whole cloth be longer in meaſure then the ſaid xxiv. yards, and the inches aforeſaid, and the half cloth of the ſame be longer then xii. yards with the ſaid inches, that then the buyer of the ſame whole cloth ſhall pay for as much as it doth exceed in the meaſure of xxiv. yards, and the buyer of the ſame half cloth to pay for as much as it doth exceed xii. yards. So that always the ſaid half cloth do not paſs the length of ſixteen yards as above is ſaid.

The length and breadth of Streits.

Alſo that all manner clothes called Streits to be made after the ſaid Feaſt, after their full watering ready to ſale, ſhall hold and contain xii. yards in length, and the inches after the meaſure aforeſaid; and in breadth one yard within the Liſts, and throughout the length of the ſame, upon pain of cutting of the ſaid Streit in two pieces, and alſo to loſe for the ſame Streit xx. pence.

Alſo that every cloth called Kerſey, to be made or put to ſale after the ſaid Feaſt, after the full watering ready to ſale, ſhall hold and continue in length xviii. yards and the inches as is aforeſaid, and in breadth one yard and a nail at the leaſt, within the liſts, upon pain of cutting of the ſaid Kerſey in two pieces, and to loſe for the ſame Kerſey iii. s. iv. d. All the ſaid pains, forfeitures and loſſes to run upon the ſellers of the ſaid clothes, which ſhall be made contrary to this Act: and that every of the ſaid whole clothes, half clothes, Streits, and Kerſeys be perfectly and duly made throughout from one end to the other.

The length & breadth of Kerſies.

Alſo before the ſaid Feaſt, ſeals ſhall be provided and ordained by the Treaſurer of England to be printed in Lead, having the Kings arms of England on the one ſide, and on the other ſide the arms ſign or token of every City, Borough, or Town within the Realm of England, where the cloth is made having ſuch arms, ſign, or token for a mark or an evident token and knowledge of the cloth made within every ſuch City, Borough, and Town of this Realm, and beſides that ſeals for every County of this Realm for the ſealing of all manner of cloth made within every County, out of City, Borough or Town of the ſame County, ſhall have on the one ſide the Kings arms, and on the other ſide the name of the County printed in the ſame: and that the Treaſurer of England for the time being, or his deputy, after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall make no perſon or perſons to be Aulnager, Sealer, or Keeper of the Seal in any part of this Realm, but ſuch as be expert in making of cloth, of the ſufficiency of an hundred pound at the leaſt, at the time of the ſaid deputation, and that no Aulnager, Sealer, or Keeper of any Seal to be provided as is aforeſaid after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall ſeal any of the ſaid whole clothes, half clothes, Streits, or Kerſies, but ſuch as ſhall be onely made after the ſame Feaſt, within the County, City, Borough or Town where they ſhall be deputed Aulnager, Sealer, or Keeper, upon pain to forfeit to our Soveraign Lord the King for every ſuch whole cloth contrary ſealed, five marks for every half cloth xxx. s. iv. d for every Streit xx. s. and for every Kerſey x. s.

Seals of lead to ſeal cloth for every City, Town and County where cloth is made.

Of what skill and ſufficiency an Aulnager muſt be.

The Aulnagers penalty for ſealing ſuch clothes as he ought not to do.

Alſo that no perſon whatſoever he be, after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall ſet, nor draw, nor cauſe to be ſet nor drawn in length nor breadth within this Realm of England, any manner woollen clothes after that it be fully watered, by tentoring or otherwiſe, upon pain to forfeit the ſame cloth.

There ſhall be no tentoring nor drawing of cloth.

Alſo that no man of what condition ſoever he be, within the Realm, after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall ſet, caſt, or put upon any manner of cloth any flocks or any other like deceitful thing, upon pain of fourty ſhillings for every cloth, whereupon any ſuch perſon ſhall caſt any flocks or ſuch other thing.

No deceitful thing ſhall be caſt upon cloth.

Alſo that no cloth-maker nor other perſon whatſoever he be within the ſaid Realm, after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall ſet or caſt upon any white cloth or Kerſey any chalk upon like pain.

No chalk ſhall be caſt upon cloth.

Alſo that no Sherman or other perſon, after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall ſhear nor cancell any clothes within this Realm, except ſuch cloth be before fully watered, upon pain to forfeit xl. s. for every cloth as often as he ſhall ſo do.

No ſhearing of cloth not fully watered.

And that no perſon, ſtranger, nor other, ſhall ſend nor convey any woollen cloth over the ſea, after the ſaid Feaſt, unleſs the ſame cloth be before fully watered, and after that the ſame cloth be ſo fully watered, that then it ſhall in no wiſe be ſet nor drawn in length nor breadth, upon pain of fourty ſhillings for every cloth conveyed or ſent over the Sea, contrary to this Act.

No cloth ſhall be tranſported but which is fully watered.

Alſo that no manner perſon within this Realm, after the ſaid Feaſt retail any woollen cloth or clothes, lining nor other, except it be fully watered before, and after that it be fully watered, it ſhall in no wiſe be ſet or drawn in length or breadth upon pain to forfeit the ſame cloth, or the value thereof: The ſame pain to run upon the ſeller of all ſuch clothes.

No cloth ſhall be retailed but which is fully watered.

Alſo our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, in eſchewing of great falſity and deceit, which hath grown, and daily doth grow by means of Tentors: by the aſſent and authority aforeſaid hath ordained and enacted, That no perſon whatſoever he be, ſhall keep, have, or occupy any Tentor, or any other thing in his own houſe or place of his inhabiting, whereby woollen clothes may be in any wiſe drawn out in length or breadth, upon pain to forfeit twenty pound as often as he ſhall do contrary to this Act: but that all Tentors hereafter ſhall be uſed or occupied for due ſtretching of cloth, only after that it cometh from the mill, and before it be rowen, and for none other cauſe, as well within the City of London, as other Cities, Boroughs and Towns of this Realm, ſhall be ſet in open places: and that every Mayor of London for the time being, and other Mayors and Bailiffs, and all other Governours of Cities, Boroughs, Towns, and Villages of this ſaid Realm, ſhall diligently ſurvey and overſee that all clothes which ſhall be put upon Tentors, ſhall not be drawn out in length and breadth otherwiſe then is before rehearſed.

None ſhall keep a tentor in his houſe.

Tentors ſhall be ſet in open places.

Alſo that after the ſaid Feaſt, no ſtranger ſhall buy any wool, which ſhall be ſent, or ſhall paſs through the Streits of Marrock by Galleis, Carracks or Ships, or other veſſels ſorted, clacked or barked: nor no wool whereof any locks or refuſe ſhall be made, but that the ſame wool be as it is clipped and purely woond without deceit, and merchandiſable after the growing of the Countrey, without any ſorting, bearding, clacking of locks, or refuſe thereof to be made, as afore is ſaid, upon pain to forfeit the ſame wool, and the double value thereof.

What ſort of wool ſtrangers may buy.

Moreover, our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King hath ordained and enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no Dyer, nor any other perſon, ſhall dye or cauſe to be dyed within this Realm after the ſaid Feaſt, any woollen cloth with Orchel, or Cork called Jarrock, upon pain to forfeit and loſe fourty ſhillings for every cloth that he or any other for him or to his uſe ſhall die, or cauſe to be died. Nor that any perſon after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall ſell or put to ſale within this ſaid Realm, any ſuch cloth which after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall be died with Orchel or Cork, called Jarrock, upon pain of forfeiture of ſuch cloth ſo died, or put to ſale contrary to this Act. This pain and loſs always to run upon the Seller, except that Cork made within this Realm of England may be uſed in dying upon

No cloth ſhall be died with cork.

Woolwards, and alſo in dying all ſuch cloth which is made only of Woolwards, ſo that the ſame wool and cloth be perfectly boyled and maddered.

The cloth and the liſt ſhall be died with one colour.

Alſo that Cork made in this Realm may be put upon cloth that is perfectly boyled and maddered. Alſo that no Dyer after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall die any cloth within this ſaid Realm, except the ſame Dyer do dye the ſaid cloth and the liſt of the ſame with one colour, without tacking or ſowing of any Bulruſhes, or ſuch like thing upon the liſts of the ſame, upon pain to forfeit xl. s. for every cloth that they ſhall ſo die contrary to this Act. And that no perſon whatſoever he be, ſhall put to ſale within this ſaid Realm after the ſaid Feaſt, any manner of cloth, which after the ſame Feaſt ſhall be deceitfully dyed, upon pain to forfeit the ſame cloth, or the value thereof. The ſame forfeitures and pains always to run upon the ſeller.

Faulty cloth ſhall be brought to the chief officer.

Alſo if any of the Kings ſubjects, or any other hereafter happen to ſeiſe any woollen cloth otherwiſe made or dyed then afore is ſaid, then the ſame ſubject or other ſhall bring all the ſame cloth or clothes ſo by him ſeiſed, before the Mayor, Bailiffs, or other Governour of the Cities, Boroughs, Towns, or Villages where any ſuch ſeiſing ſhall happen to be made of the ſame cloth or clothes, there to judge by the diſcretion of the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, or other Governour, calling to him or them ſuch perſons as by his or their diſcretions ſhall ſeem convenient, whether the ſame cloth be otherwiſe made, wrought or died, then is according with the Acts before recited. And if it be judged by the ſaid Mayor, Bailiff, or other Governour, or other perſon called to them or any of them, as afore is ſaid, that the ſame cloth is made or died, and put to ſale contrary to the aforeſaid Acts, then the ſame clothes ſo ſeiſed, and by them judged as is aforeſaid, ſhall be cut in three pieces in the preſence of the ſaid Mayor, Bailiff, or other Governour. The one part thereof to be delivered in the Eſchequer by him or them that ſo ſhall ſeiſe the ſame cloth or clothes to the Kings uſe, and the ſecond part thereof to be delivered to the ſeiſor of the ſame cloth or clothes, and the third part thereof to be delivered to the Mayor, Bailiff, or Governour, to the uſe of the Cominalty where they or any of them be Mayor, Bailiff or Governour: The one half of all the other fines, forfeitures and penalties aforeſaid, and of every of them, to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to him or them of the Kings ſubjects that ſhall ſeiſe the ſame, or ſue for the ſame by action of debt, by writ at the common Law, or by bill or plaint after the cuſtom of the City, Town or Port where ſuch fines, forfeitures and penalties ſhall happen to fall or be. And that the defendant in any ſuch action be not admitted to wage or do his Law. Nor that any protection or eſſoin of the Kings ſervice be allowed for any ſuch defendant.

The offenders forfeitures, and who ſhall have them. St. 12 H. 7. 4.

Clothes whereunto this Statute extendeth not.

Provided always, that this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be prejudicial to the making of any woollen cloth called Ray, nor to any cloth made in Wincheſter or Saliſbury, uſed to be put and joyned with Ray: The cloth thereof commonly uſed to be ſold at fourty ſhillings, or within, nor to the making of any cloth called Verdiſe, otherwiſe called Plonkets, Turkins, or Celeſtrines with laiſed liſts; nor any clothes called packing Whites, nor to the making of any clothes called Veſſes, Cogware, or Worſteds, nor to the making of any clothes called Florences, with Cremil liſts, nor to the making of any woollen clothes called Baſtards, nor of any clothes called Kendals, nor to clothes called Sailing ware with Cremil liſts, laiſed liſts, or ſmall liſts, nor to any cloth called Friſeware, nor to any of them, nor to the maker or ſeller of them.

So that the ſame clothes, and every of them, for the Kings honour, and profit of this Realm, be truly, duly and perfectly made according to the nature and making of every of the ſaid clothes. Stat. 12 H. 7. 4. 1. H. 8. 2. 3 H. 8. 6.

CAP. IX.

In what ſort Italian Merchants may ſell their merchandiſes. Several reſtraints of Aliens.

ITem, Becauſe our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, upon petition made to him in his ſaid Parliament, by the Commons of England, hath conceived and underſtood, that whereas merchants ſtrangers of the nation of Italy, as Venetians, Florentines, Apulians, Cicilians, Lucaners, Catelions, and other of the ſame nation in great number do inhabit and keep houſes as well in the City of London, as in other Cities and Boroughs within this his Realm, and do take warehouſes and cellars, and therein put their wares and merchandiſes, which they bring into this ſaid Realm, and in the ſaid cellars and warehouſes deceitfully do pack, mingle and keep the ſame, till ſuch time the prices thereof be greatly enhanſed for their great lucre, and the ſame merchandiſes and wares they then ſell to all manner people, as well within the Ports where they bring the ſaid wares and merchandiſes, as to other divers and many places within this Realm, as well by retail as otherwiſe: And alſo do buy in the ſaid Ports and other places, at their own liberty, the commodities of this Realm, and ſell the ſame again at their pleaſure within the ſame, as commonly & freely as any of the Kings liege people doth, and do not employ a great part of the money coming thereof upon the commodities of this Realm, but make it over ẏ ſea by exchange to divers other Countries, to the Kings great damage in loſs of his Cuſtoms, and to the great impoveriſhing of his ſaid ſubjects, of whom they ſhould buy the commodities of this Realm:

The grievances done by merchants ſtrangers to the King and the Realm.

And the ſame merchants of Italy and other merchants ſtrangers be hoſts, and take to them people of other Nations, and be with them daily, and do buy, ſell and make privy and ſecret contracts and bargains with the ſame people, to their great increaſe and profit, and to the importune damage of the Kings ſaid Subjects, and contrary to divers Statutes in this caſe provided and ordained:

Alſo the ſaid merchants of Italy do buy in divers places within this Realm a great quantity of wooll and woollen cloth, and other merchandiſes of the Kings ſubjects, and part thereof they ſell again to the ſame ſubjects and other within this Realm, to their greater advantage, and much of the ſaid wools they do deliver to clothmakers, thereof to make cloth at their pleaſure.

Moreover a great number of artificers and other ſtrangers not born under the Kings obeyſance, do daily reſort and repair to the City of London, and to other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns of the ſaid Realm, and much more then they were wont to do in times paſt, and inhabit by themſelves in the ſaid Realm with their wives, children & houſhold, and will not take upon them any laborious occupation, as going to plough, or cart, and other like buſineſs, but uſe the making of cloth, and other handicrafts and eaſie occupations, & bring and convey from the parts beyond the ſea, great ſubſtance of wares and merchandiſes to Fairs and Markets, and all other places of this Realm at their pleaſure, and there ſell the ſame as well by retail, as otherwiſe, as freely as any of the Kings ſubjects uſe to do, to the great damage and impoveriſhment of the Kings ſaid ſubjects, and will in no wiſe ſuffer nor take any of the Kings ſaid ſubjects to work with them, but they take only into their ſervice people born in their own Countrey, whereby the Kings ſaid ſubjects for lack of occupation fall into idleneſs, and be thieves, beggars, vagabonds, and people of vicious living, to the great perturbance both of the King and of all his Realm; and when the merchants, artificers and ſtrangers before rehearſed, have gained within this Realm, by buying and ſelling, or by ſuch eaſie occupations and handicrafts, great ſubſtance of goods, with the ſame ſubſtance they go out of this ſaid Realm, to ſuch parts beyond the ſea as them liketh beſt, and there ſpend the ſame goods oftentimes amongſt the Kings adverſaries and enemies, to the great damage of our Soveraign Lord the King, and his ſubjects, and impoveriſhment of this Realm, and the Commons of the ſame: And ſo by the occaſion of the premiſes, the ſubſtance of the inhabitants in the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns now late hath fallen, and daily doth fall into great poverty and decay, to their great undoing, unleſs the Kings gracious aid be to them in this behalf ſhewed.

Our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, of his abundant grace, willing againſt the premiſes to provide remedy in this behalf, by the advice and aſſent of his Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and at the prayer of the Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted, That all merchants of the Nation of Italy before recited, not made denizens, which have now within this Realm wares and merchandiſes brought from beyond the ſea, and before the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming ſhall have, ſhall cauſe the ſame to be ſold or bartred in groſs, and not by retail to the Kings ſubjects before the firſt day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, one thouſand four hundred fourſcore and five, and ſhall imploy the money coming of that ſale before the firſt day of May within the ſame Port or Ports, where they do arrive, upon the commodities and merchandiſes of this Realm, their reaſonable coſts and expences always except and deducted, upon pain of forfeiture of the value as well of all the ſaid wares and merchandiſes kept and not ſold before the ſaid firſt day of May, or otherwiſe ſold then is above rehearſed, as of as much money as ſhall be made over by exchange contrary to this Act. And alſo that all the merchants of Italy, which after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming ſhall bring any merchandiſes or wares into this Realm, to be ſold, ſhall ſell or barter the ſaid wares and merchandiſes in groſs, and not by retail to the Kings ſubjects, upon pain of forfeiture of the value of the ſame wares and merchandiſes, which they (as afore is ſaid) ſhall bring after the ſaid feaſt of Eaſter. And yͤ ſaid merchants which ſhall bring in ſuch wares and merchandiſes after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter to ſell or barter, ſhall ſell or elſe barter the ſame within eight moneths next after their firſt arrival in this Realm, in the form aforeſaid, and ſhall imploy the money coming of or by the ſaid ſale or bartering, and every of them, and with the ſame buy the commodities or merchandiſes of this Realm, within the ſaid eight moneths, in the ſaid Port or Ports where they do firſt arrive, their reaſonable coſts and expences always excepted and deducted, and in no wiſe to make over ſuch money by exchange.

Italian Merchants ſhall ſell their merchandiſes in groſs, and imploy their money in the commodities of this Realm.

Strangers ſhall ſell their wares within eight moneths after their arrival, and imploy their money, &c.

And that the ſaid merchants do in no wiſe ſell nor barter within the ſaid Realm their ſaid wares and merchandiſes, which remain unſold after the end of the ſaid eight moneths, but carry and convey the ſame out of this Realm within two moneths next enſuing after the ſaid eight moneths, if wind and time will that ſuffer, or otherwiſe, aſſoon as wind and time will ſuffer them after the ſaid two moneths, upon pain of forfeiture as well of as much money as ſhall be made over by exchange, as of the ſaid wares and merchandiſes, ſo ſold or bartered after the end of the ſaid eight moneths, not carried nor conveyed out of this ſaid Realm in the form aforeſaid, or the value thereof. The penalties, forfeitures, and loſſes of all the premiſes always to run and be upon the ſaid merchants of the Nation of Italy, doing contrary to this Act.

Strangers ſhall carry away ſo much as they cannot ſell within eight monethes.

Provided always, That it be lawful to the ſaid merchants of the Nation of Italy, all ſuch wares and merchandiſes, and every parcel thereof, which after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming ſhall be brought to any other Port or Ports of this Realm of England, to be ſold, to convey the ſame wares and merchandiſes at their liberties to any Port or Ports, or other place within this Realm, and there to ſell the ſame as afore is ſaid, ſo that they ſell or barter the ſame merchandiſes or wares in the Realm within eight moneths next after their firſt arrival in any of the ſaid Ports of this Realm. And alſo that no merchant ſtranger of what Countrey ſoever he be, ſhall be Hoſt, or take to ſojourn with him in the ſaid Realm any merchant ſtranger, not being of his Nation or Countrey, upon pain of fourty pound.

Strangers may remove their goods from one port to another.

A ſtranger ſhall not be hoſt to a ſtranger, unleſs he be of his own Countrey.

Alſo that none of the ſaid merchants of Italy, not made Denizen, ſhall ſell or barter any woollen clothes, wools, or other merchandiſes in this ſaid Realm, which the ſame merchants of Italy ſhall buy within this ſaid Realm. Nor that the ſame merchants nor any other for them ſhall deliver any wool to any perſon, thereof to make cloth in this Realm, Aliens ſhall not buy and ſell wool or woollen cloth within this Realm.

Aliens ſhall make no woollen cloth, nor deliver wool to that end.

Realm, but ſhall have and convey the ſame woollen cloth, wools and other merchandiſes, over the Sea by the Streits of Marrock, upon pain to forfeit the value of all the woollen cloth, wools, & other merchandiſes which by them ſhall be ſo ſold or delivered, in whoſe hands they ſhall be found. The forfeiture of the ſame to run and be upon the merchant ſtranger.

An alien ſhall not be an handicraftſman.

Moreover, That no perſon not born under the Kings obeyſance, as afore is ſaid, ſhall exerciſe or occupy any handicraft, or the occupation of any handycraftſman in this Realm of England, but that all ſuch perſons, which after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter ſhall come into this Realm, every of them ſhall depart into their own Countrey again, or elſe be ſervants to ſuch of the Kings ſubjects only as be expert and cunning in ſuch feits, arts and crafts, which the ſaid ſtrangers can occupy, upon pain of forfeiture of all their goods, which ſhall come and dwell in this Realm contrary to this Act, in whoſe hands ſoever they ſhall be found.

Aliens ſhall make no cloth within this Realm.

Alſo that no perſon not born under the Kings obeyſance, nor made denizens, being Artificer or handicraftſman, after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, nor yet any other for him or to his uſe ſhall make any cloth, or put any wool to work to make cloth in this Realm, upon pain to forfeit the ſame cloth or clothes made contrary to this Act.

Aliens ſhall ſell their wares in groſs, and not by retail.

Aliens ſhall take no ſervant but the Kings ſubject. St. 5 Eliz. 4. Who ſhall have the forfeitures.

Alſo that all perſons not born under the Kings obeyſance, being artificers, or handicraftſmen at the day of the making of this Act, dwelling in this ſaid Realm, nor none other ſuch artificers or handicraftſmen, which hereafter ſhall inhabit and dwell in the ſame, which after the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady next coming, ſhall uſe, exerciſe, or occupy the ſeat of merchandiſe of any manner wares within this Realm, ſhall ſell or barter the ſame wares or Merchandiſes in groſs, and not by retail, in the Port, Town, or place where the ſame artificers be or ſhall be dwelling, and in none other place, upon pain of forfeiture of the value of all the wares ond merchandiſes ſold contrary to this Act. Alſo that no perſon not born under the Kings obeyſance, inhabiting, dwelling, or holding any great houſe or chamber in this Realm, and occupying any handicraft, or being artificer or handicraftſman, after the ſaid Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady next coming, ſhall take any apprentice, ſervant or other perſon to work with him, or to his uſe, unleſs it be his ſon or his daughter, other then at the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall be apprentices or ſervants with him, except that the ſame apprentice or ſervants ſo to be taken, be the Kings ſubjects born, upon pain to forfeit and to loſe for every apprentice or ſervant taken contrary xx. l. The one half of all the ſaid fines, forfeitures and penalties, and of every of them to be to the King, and the other half to be to him or them that will ſeiſe the ſame, or purſue for the ſame by action of debt, by bill at the common Law, by bill or plaint after the cuſtom of the City or Town where ſuch fines, forfeitures, or penalties hereafter ſhall fall and be. And that the defendant in any ſuch action, ſhall not be admitted to wage or do his Law, nor no protection, nor eſſoin of the Kings ſervice ſhall be allowed for any ſuch defendant in the ſame.

Aliens may bring in books to be ſold. Rep. 25 H. 8. 15.

Provided always, That this Act, or any parcel thereof, or any other Act made or to be made in this ſaid Parliament, ſhall not extend or be in prejudice, diſturbance, damage, or impediment to any artificer, or merchant ſtranger, of what Nation or Countrey he be, or ſhall be of, for bringing into this Realm, or ſelling by retail or otherwiſe, any books written or printed, or for inhabiting within this ſaid Realm for the ſame intent, or any Scrivener, Alluminor, Reader, or Printer of ſuch books, which he hath or ſhall have to ſell by way of merchandiſe, or for their dwelling within this ſaid Realm for the exerciſe of the ſaid occupations. This Act or any part thereof notwithſtanding. St. 1 H. 7. 10. 21 H. 8. 16. 22 H. 8. 13. 32 H. 8. 16.

CAP. X.

The Statute of 22 Ed. 4. 3. prohibiting wrought laces of ſilk to be brought into this Realm, continued for ten years. Exp. St. 1 H. 7. 9.

CAP. XI.

Ten Bowſtaves ſhall be brought into this Realm for every Butt of Malmſey.

Co. Inſt. 4. p. 265.

Item, It was ſhewed in the ſaid Parliament by the Bowyers inhabiting within the Cities, Towns, and Boroughs of this Realm occupying Artillery pertaining to the ſame for the defence of this Realm, that whereas in times paſt good and able ſtuff of Bowſtaves hath been brought into this Realm, as well by Engliſh merchants as ſtrangers, whereby the inhabitants Bowyers might competently live upon ſuch ſtuff, which they bought at fourty ſhillings the hundred, or fourty ſix ſhillings eight pence at the moſt: now it is ſo, that by the ſeditious confederacy of Lombards uſing to divers Ports of this Realm, the Bowſtaves be now at ſuch an outragious price, that is to ſay, at eight pound the hundred, where they were wont to be ſold at fourty ſhillings; and alſo they will not ſuffer any garbling to be made of them, but ſell good and evil at ſuch an exceſſive price together ungarbled, that by likelihood in ſhort time this Realm is like to fail as well of ſtuff of Artillery, as of workmen thereof, unleſs due remedy be in this behalf ſhortly found and had: Wherefore our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King by the aſſent of the ſaid Lords ſpiritual and temporal, at the prayer of the ſaid Commons in the ſaid Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, hath ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted, that no merchant of Venice, nor other which uſeth to repair into this Realm with merchandiſes of thoſe parts, ſhall bring nor convey into this Ream, any Merchandiſes, unleſs the ſame Merchants do bring with every Butt of Malmſey, and with every Butt of Tyre, ten Bowſtaves good and able ſtuff, upon pain of forfeiture of xiii. s. iv. d. for every Butt of the ſaid Wines ſo brought and conveyed, and not of the ſaid number of Bowſtaves with the ſame Butt. The one half of the ſame forfeiture to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to the party which will therefore ſue. And that no ſuch Bowſtaves be ſold ungarbled, and but only to ſuch perſon or perſons which is or ſhall be born under the Kings obeyſance. This Act to begin and take effect at the Feaſt of S. Michael next coming. St. 6 H. 8. 11.

Ten Bowſtaves ſhall be brought into this Realm for every Butt of Malmſey or Tyre.

Bowſtaves ſhall not be ſold ungarbled.

CAP. XII.

Certain Merchandiſes prohibited to be brought into this Realm ready wrought.

St. 3 Ed. 4. 4.

ITem, It was ſhewed in the ſame Parliament by the artificers of the ſaid Realm of England, as well of the City of London as of other Cities, Towns, Boroughs and Villages of the ſame Realm, that is to ſay, Girdlers, Pointmakers, Pinners, Purſers, Glovers, Joyners, Painters, Cardmakers, Wyremongers, Weavers, Horners, Bottlemakers, and Copperſmiths, that whereas they were wont in times paſt to be greatly ſet awork and occupied in the ſaid crafts for the ſuſtenance of themſelves, their wives, children, apprentices, and ſervants, and many other of the Kings Subjects: Now ſo it is, that by merchant ſtrangers, denizens and other, there is brought into theſe parts from beyond the Seas to be ſold within this Realm of England, as much wares as may be wrought and made by the Artificers above rehearſed, that by reaſon thereof the people of ſtrange Countries where the ſaid wares be made, be greatly occupied and increaſed, and the ſaid artificers in this Realm greatly impoveriſhed, and without the Kings grace ſhewed to them in this behalf, are like to be undone for lack of occupation:

Certain Merchandiſes prohibited to be brought ready wrought into this Realm to be ſold.
